WAR TALK IN ORIENT

Far East is Seething With Reports Of What May Come Next

TOKYO, July 22.—Not for many weeks have there been so many reports of possible action in the Orient.

While European observers in Hong Kong reported yesterday that a fleet of fifteen Japanese military transport vessels had left the mouth of the Canton River, south China, Sunday for an unknown destination, statements were made in Tokyo that Chinese and British forces were about to move on Indo-China.

Meanwhile Japan officially informed its Axis partners yesterday of its intention to uphold the spirit and aims of the tripartite pact, no mention being made of the treaty between Japan and Russia.

GAS SALE NO LOWER

Little Change in Consumption Seen Yesterday on Opening Day of Restriction Campaign

OTTAWA, July 22.—A canvass of gasoline selling stations throughout Canada indicated that on the first day of the new regulations designed to curtail the consumption of gasoline in the Dominion no more and no less gasoline, generally speaking, was sold than usual.

No provision is made for prosecution of those who sell gasoline between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. and on Sundays but those who do so will likely find themselves cut off from supplies.

No One Lost In Sinking Of Lady Somers Recently

LONDON, July 22: (CP)—The announcement of the Admiralty yesterday that the entire crew of 175 officers and men of the auxiliary naval vessel Lady Somers, former Atlantic coast Canadian National cruise ship, reported lost July 17, had been saved came after previous reports that there had been only 138 survivors.

TENNIS IS ORGANIZED

Annual Meeting of Prince Rupert Tennis Association Held Last Night

The annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Tennis Association was held last evening. Officers were elected and arrangements made for the annual city tournament which will commence August 17 with entries closing August 14.

The officers are as follows: President, A. M. Borland. Secretary, Miss Evy Rivett. Delegates—Lieut. Kensington, representing the Prince Rupert Tennis Club, and Miss Edna Venables, representing Canadian National Recreation Association Tennis Club. The annual report was presented and there was a general discussion of finances and other matters.

Viscount Bennett Is Simple Title

No Other Frills for Former Prime Minister of Canada Now in House of Lords

LONDON, July 22.—Former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada, who was recently elevated to the peerage, will be known simply as "Viscount Bennett."

War News

NEW AGGRESSION COMING

WASHINGTON—Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, says the United States has information that Germany is planning new steps of aggression against the remaining independent countries of Europe. Welles did not go into details but speculation is aroused on the possibility that he meant that Spain and Portugal might be due for attack.

FIERCE FIGHTING KEEPS ON

MOSCOW—Fierce overnight fighting on northern, central and southern war fronts is reported by the Red Army which indicated that Nazi drives are being held at a standstill. The Russians reported shooting down 31 Nazi planes Sunday and the Germans reported losing heavily along the fighting front and back of their lines where the Russians said marauding guerrilla bands had cut communications, waylaid troop columns and raided supply depots. According to Budapest reports continued heavy rains are slowing down the German drive into Russia.

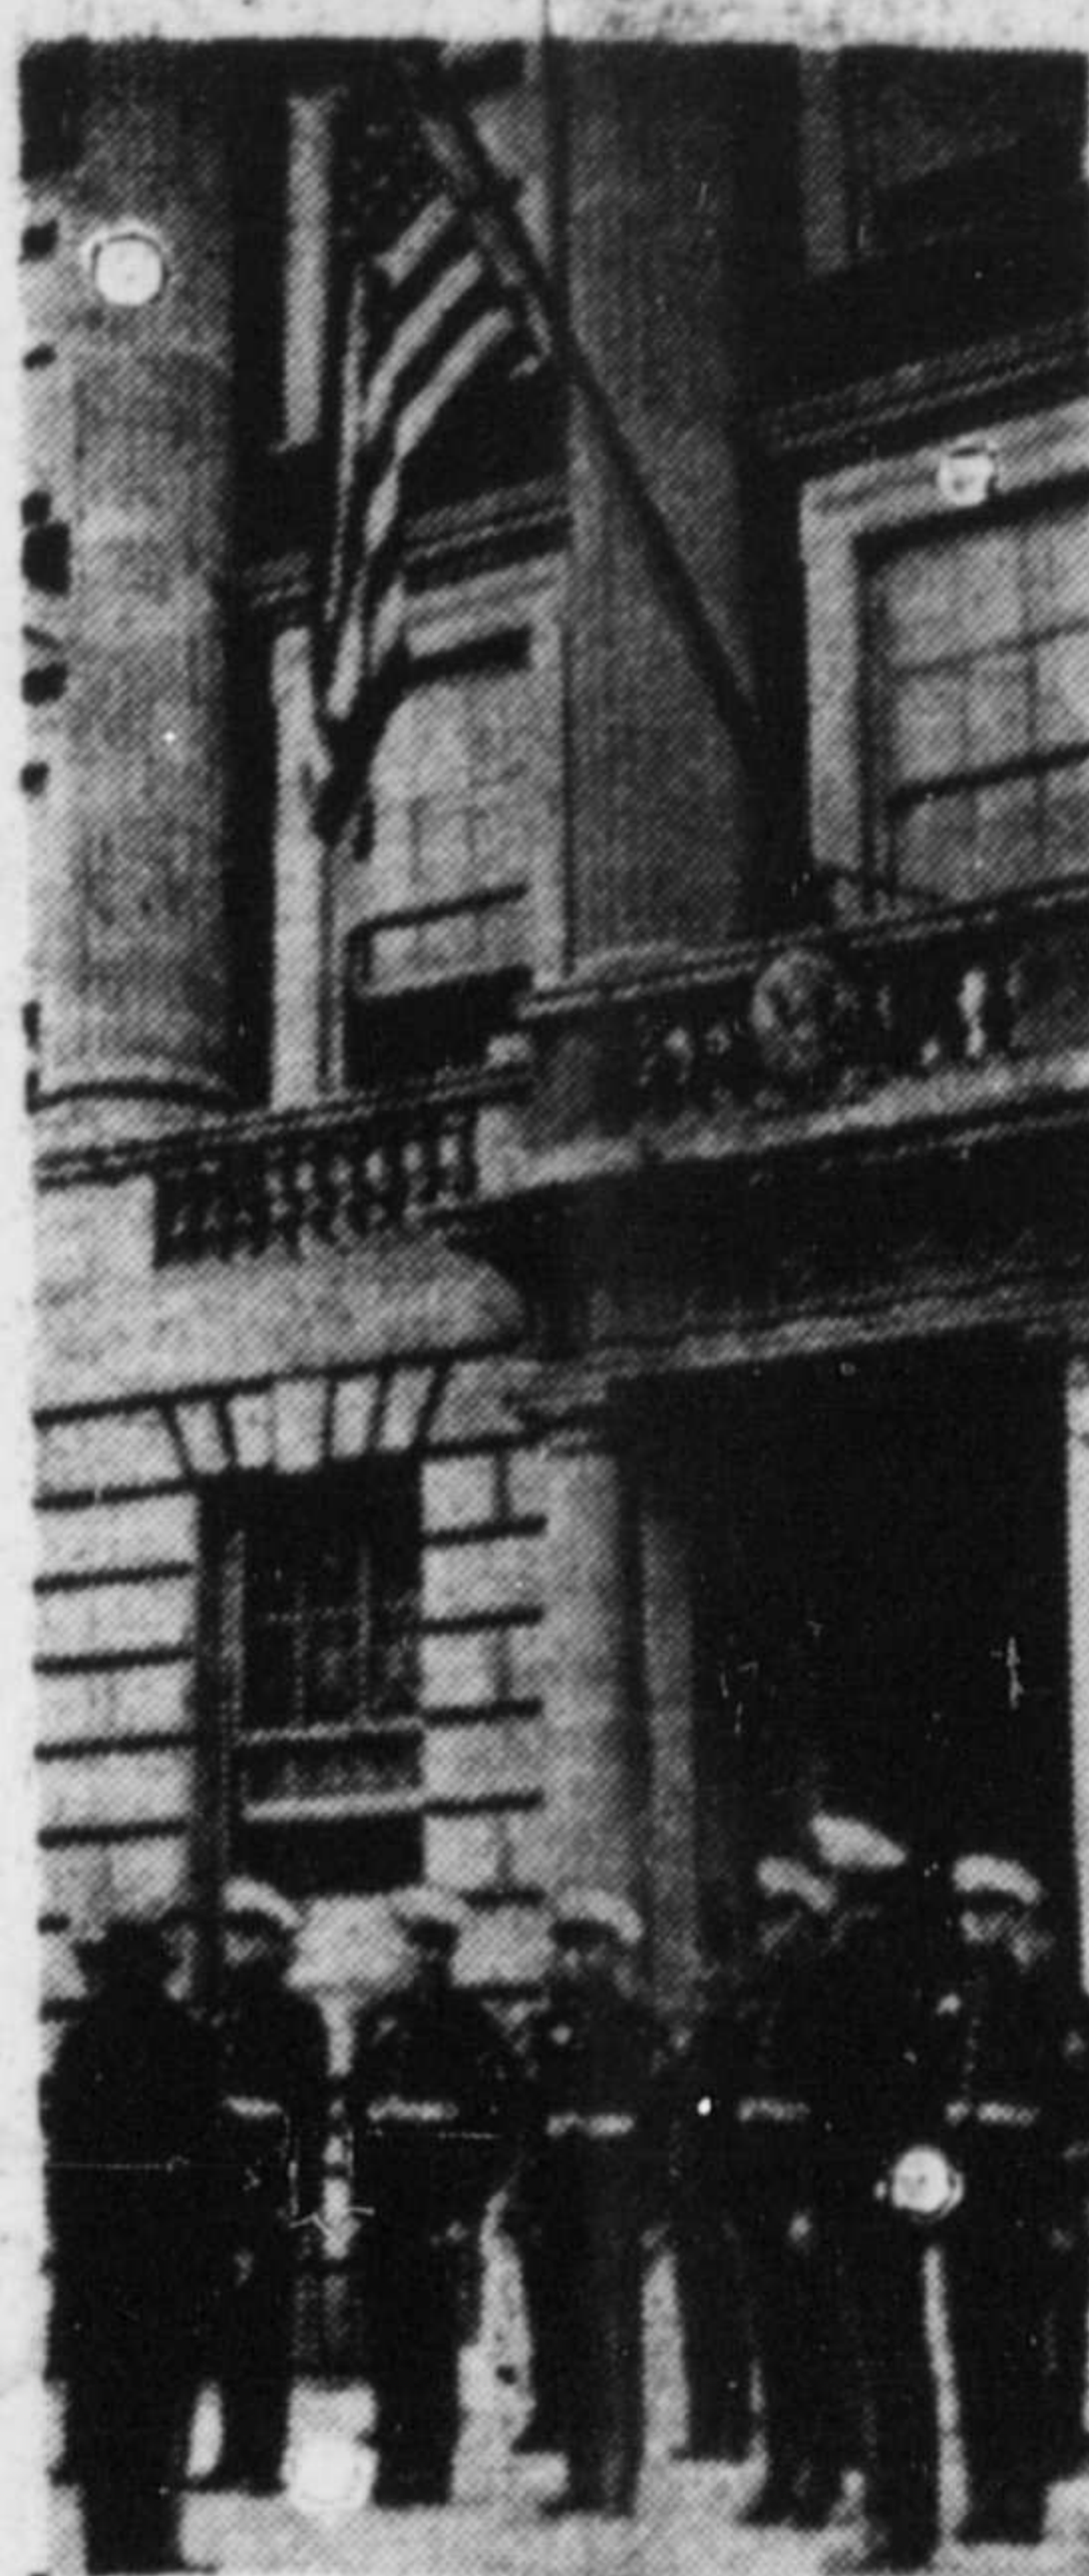

STALIN'S SON PRISONER

BERLIN—Nazi sources claimed today that Joseph Stalin's oldest son, Jacob, had been taken prisoner by the Germans.

GERMANY'S PEACE OFFENSIVE

ANKARA—Nazi spokesmen here are engaged in talking up Germany's peace offensive. The real war is not in the west but in the east, they say. Germany always has been and is now ready to consider proposals of peace from Great Britain. The Reich is anxious to convince Britain of the importance of the anti-Bolshevik campaign.

U.S. MARINES IN LONDON

A detachment of United States Marines lined up for inspection as they stand guard in front of the United States embassy in London, Eng., for the first time, July 5. Sixty-three officers and men of the marine corps, including 11 who were saved when the Dutch ship Maasdam was torpedoed, have been sent to London for firewarden duty.

NO LET-UP IN BOMBING

Royal Air Force Continues its Pounding of Enemy Territory

LONDON, July 21: (CP)—The Royal Air Force pounded targets in the Rhineland and docks at Rotterdam in the German-occupied Netherlands during Sunday night, it was reported authoritatively yesterday. Last night large formations attacked Germany, Northern France, Holland and Belgium.

Yesterday the government had announced offensive patrols by British fighters over the English Channel and French coast.

Swarming across the English Channel in daylight, the Royal Air Force smashed at industrial parts of Northern France following the night raids on Rhineland and Rotterdam.

The Air Ministry said that night bombers attacked Cologne in force and started large fires in the city's industrial areas.

Six German planes were reported destroyed and three Royal Air Force fighters are missing.

Election In October Announced By Premier Pattullo; Will Seek Mandate On Record And Program

VICTORIA, July 22.—A general Provincial election will be held some time in October on a date yet to be set. This was made known today by Premier T. D. Pattullo, when he announced the dissolution of the nineteenth Provincial Legislature. Political circles here believe the election will come either October 20, 23 or 27.

Announces Election

PREMIER T. D. PATTULLO

In making the announcement, it is recalled that the Premier has been a member of the Provincial Legislature for the past twenty-five years. For twelve years he was Minister of Lands and for five years leader of the Opposition. The last eight years he has occupied the post of Prime Minister.

This is something of a record among public men throughout Canada and, being in excellent health, Premier Pattullo is looking forward to many more years of public service.

He has several matters which he is particularly anxious to see brought to fruition as war and immediate post-war undertakings. Among these are the completion of main highways in British Columbia, including the British Columbia-Yukon-Alaska Highway; the discovery of oil in the Peace River territory; extension of the boundaries of British Columbia to include the Yukon and the establishment of an iron and steel industry.

Following the war, it is his earnest desire to agree upon a formula with the Dominion government enabling the province to enjoy a fair and equitable proportion of the income tax so that it may adequately participate in developmental policies, and at the same time establish a single system of tax collection by the Dominion.

The Premier feels that his government has the background of knowledge and experience both to protect and further the interests of the province.

The Premier's announcement was accompanied by a manifesto in which it was pointed out that, due to changes in the "Election Act," it had been necessary to allow a longer time than usual between dissolution and election day. The period for registration, the Premier said, was sufficient to permit everyone eligible to get on the voters' list.

The chief reason for calling the election, the manifesto states, is to enable the government to implement its pledges to the Dominion government of all-out co-operation in the nation's war effort.

"To co-ordinate provincial taxation with Dominion proposals, it will be necessary to pass legislation at the next session of the Provincial Legislature to bring into effect appropriate measures," the manifesto reads. "The matter is of such importance that I feel the government should have an expression of the wishes of the electors," it continues.

The manifesto also outlines the three main tasks confronting the government. They are:

First, to do all possible to assist in the war effort.

Second, to keep the home front functioning as adequately as war effort will permit.

Third, to bear in mind post war problems and act in relation thereto as far as items one and two will permit.

TO BUILD THEATRE

Only Granting of Federal Permit and Obtaining of Site Now Delaying Project

"There are parties anxious to open a new theatre in Prince Rupert," said G. W. Nickerson today "but they prefer that local people should erect the building which they would lease and operate. They are prepared to give all necessary guarantees as to their fulfilment of the contract."

A house which would hold 700 to 800 people is wanted, Mr. Nickerson said. Equipment installed would cost about $20,000 and it is estimated that the cost of construction of the building would be about $70,000.

Only things holding up the project now, Mr. Nickerson explained, were the granting of a permit by Ottawa and the obtaining of a site.

The site on Third Avenue originally intended for a Post Office and now owned by the federal government is considered the logical one. However, regardless of this, once the permit is granted by Ottawa, the project will go ahead at once.

Even if local people do not erect the theatre, the people who desire to operate it will erect the building themselves.

Weather Forecast

General Synopsis—Pressure is high on the coast and it is mild. Moderate to heavy rains have centred along the central and northern portions.

West Coast of Vancouver Island—Light winds, cloudy to mild with light local rains and becoming locally fair in the southern section.

Big Attack On Moscow

MOSCOW, July 22.—At least two hundred German bombers attacked Moscow during the night in the largest air raid yet on the Russian capital. At least seventeen of the enemy planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and night fighters, the Russian High Command announced. There was damage as well as casualties, a number of civilians being killed and wounded.

Newspaperman Is Shot And Killed

Was to Have Been Brought to United States in Connection with TransOceans Radio Probe

NEW YORK, July 22.—A newspaper correspondent who was to have been brought to this country to testify at an investigation into the activities of the TransOcean radio service, alleged to have been active in dissemination of Nazi propaganda, has been shot and killed in Colombia.

Regulations For Panama

Latest Drastic Rules Seen as Directed Against Japan

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 22.—Further drastic regulations, directed principally against Japan, have been imposed in connection with the use of the Panama Canal by foreign shipping.

Strike Vote Being Taken

Sailors' Union of Pacific Considering Protest Against Cheap Labor On Seized Ships

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The Sailors' Union of the Pacific is taking a vote to decide on whether or not a strike shall be called in protest against foreign seamen being engaged at lower wages to man Danish ships which have been taken over by the government and placed under Panamanian registry for operation.

MYRNA GETS GOOD TROUT

Popular Actress Shows Aptitude as Angler at Jasper Park

JASPER, July 22.—Arthur Hornblow may be an outstanding moving picture director but he is definitely taking second place in this neck of the woods. Mrs. Hornblow (Myrna Loy) is playing second fiddle to no one in the matter of casting in the speckled trout fly fishing grounds at Maligne Lake. Her casting has been very successful as, under the tutelage of her own director, Jack Fleming, himself a good fisherman, she has taken several speckled beauties from the famous pool at the head of the Maligne River.

The trip to the beautiful Maligne Lake area is a highlight to Mr. and Mrs. Hornblow's Jasper holiday in the Canadian Rockies. While at the lodge the noted couple spent their time cycling and boating while Miss Loy took her adopted pet faun "Peter" for a walk each morning and afternoon.

A recall to work by Mentro Goldwyn Mayer Studios today brought to an end the week's visit to Jasper Park Lodge of Myrna Loy and her director husband. During their visit to the lodge, Miss Loy and her husband took an active part in summer sports—spending long hours hiking, riding the many trails and going on picnics in addition to enjoying the fishing at Honeymoon Lake and Maligne Lake.

Prior to their departure today, the Hornblows presented Jack Fleming, carpenter at Jasper Park Lodge, who initiated them in the art of fly casting and acted as a special guide, with a hunting knife bearing the inscription: "To Jack, in souvenir of wild ride on a stormy lake, Maligne, July 18."

Jack also made a presentation to the Hornblows in the form of a model canoe inscribed: "A token from Jack to Mr. and Mrs. Hornblow, two of the best seamates that ever sailed the high waves."

In spite of all her activities, Myrna still found time to take care of the pet fawn "Peter," which she adopted and which accompanied her on her daily hikes.

Played With Pistol; Child Is Shot Dead

COLEMAN, Alberta, July 22.—An eight-year-old child was shot and killed yesterday. With her five-year-old sister and two-year-old brother, the child was playing with a .22-calibre revolver.

Cable Received From Jack Lipsin On Big Warship

Ben Lipsen yesterday received a cable from his son, Jack, who is a gunner in the navy on one of the big auxiliary cruisers. Evidently Jack was worried because he had not heard from his father for a little while. His father is writing that if there is any worry it should be at this end and not at that.

"V For Victory" Clubs Approved

Movement Instituted in Great Britain is Okayed by Department Of State

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 22.—The organization of "V for Victory" clubs in the United States, in line with the British campaign which has been instituted among loyalists in Nazi-occupied countries of Europe, has been approved by the United States Department of State.

Loan To Great Britain Made

Will Cover Purchases Made Prior to enactment of "Lend Lease" Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 22: (CP)—A loan of $425,000,000 for Great Britain has been arranged against an estimated $500,000,000 of collateral to help pay for purchases of war supplies ordered in the United States prior to beginning of the "Lend-Lease" program.

Provincial Election - - -

The provincial election is to take place on or about October 20 to choose a Legislature to serve for the next four or five years. Usually an announcement of this kind causes considerable interest but this year the war interest is so great that it overshadows everything else. Provincial affairs are very much in the shade just now.

Ordinarily the building of the highway might have been a live subject for election debate but just now it is generally acknowledged that the highway connecting Prince Rupert with the outside world is a military necessity and therefore a federal project. The section east of Usk is being undertaken by the provincial government and is going ahead steadily. Should the federal government decide to proceed with the part of the highway this side of Terrace undoubtedly the provincial department of public works would immediately push ahead the work connecting with Hazelton so that it would all be completed at about the same time.

Welcome Mr. MacMillan - - -

There seems to be very little real change in the administration of the shipyard under the new set-up. Mr. MacMillan is to be general manager here instead of having charge at Vancouver. The change evidently means that some of the red tape is being eliminated in carrying out the work and that is one of the objections that has been taken to the present set-up. We are looking for great advantages from the appointment of Mr. MacMillan. Of course, it is to be assumed that Mr. MacMillan will have his working headquarters in Prince Rupert.

Gave $50 Certificate

A miner passing through the city recently on his way to Tulsequah left a $50 war savings certificate as a contribution at the local Red Cross rooms. However, he failed to sign the certificate and efforts are now being made by the treasurer, Arnold Flaten, to contact him for this purpose.

Scraps Make Quilts

Not one piece of new material which is an inch square is wasted by the Prince George Red Cross Branch. This branch has made more than 40 quilts from cuttings from merchants and mothers who make their children's clothes. Many linings were made from flour sacks bleached white. The piecing quilting and finishing demonstrated the greatest skill in needlecraft.

Red Cross Corps

All uniformed women who are giving volunteer service to the Red Cross, who have heretofore been known as the Women's Voluntary Service Corps of the Canadian Red Cross, will henceforth be called the Red Cross Corps.

Aged Man Knitter

St. Mary's unit of the Vancouver Red Cross branch sent in an exceptionally well knitted pair of grey socks which had been knitted by a man 80 years of age.

Native Sons Help

The Native Sons of Canada at Terrace, who usually sponsor the local Dominion Day celebration, turned over $350 to the local Red Cross, proceeds of a dance, sale of home cooking, raffle, and sports events.

Keepsake Given

There came to the Provincial Junior Red Cross Headquarters from Kamloops the other day a ball of lead foil marked "collected in 1838." Further enquiries disclosed this had been collected by Sergeant Major Walsh Bishop of Kamloops, a veteran of the Great War, a well known traveller and collector of antiques. Sergeant Major Bishop began collecting lead foil when he was ten years of age. He used this particular ball, the size of an ordinary baseball, with an approximate weight of ten pounds as a paper weight. He carried it with him on all his travels. Noting the Red Cross was collecting tin foil he turned his interesting and treasured paper weight into the Red Cross.

Hospital Built Cheaply

Canadian Red Cross Hospital No. 1 at Taplow on the Astor Estate, England, built and equipped by the money collected in the first National Red Cross campaign, cost 30 per cent less than similar institutions of its kind. It is considered one of the finest military hospitals in the world.

GIVES AID TO CAMPS

Rotary Club Makes Donation and Hears Interesting Address from Dr. Hankinson

The Prince Rupert Rotary Club last week decided to donate the sum of $25 to the Religious Education Council for the purpose of helping to pay the cost of the summer camp for boys and girls at Sangan River at North Beach on Graham Island. The executive committee had investigated carefully and recommended that this amount be given this year. Thirty to forty boys and girls will be each taking ten days at the camp.

A special committee consisting of Dr. Neal Carter, R. G. Hopkins and Lee Gordon was appointed as a special committee on entertainment.

Another committee consisting of James Gillett, J.J. Little and John Dybhavn was appointed to aid in the matter of programs.

The feature of the day was an address by Dr. C. H. Hankinson on the subject of leadership in connection with the Canadian Medical Association. This followed the attendance of Dr. Hankinson at the meeting of the Association recently at Winnipeg. The doctor explained that there were in all over ten thousand medical men in all of Canada but a great many were not active in practice. However 45 per cent of them were engaged actively in medical work, many of the others being engaged in teaching, research or other work. Some had retired.

The Medical Association had many duties. One of these just now was to try to help meet the present need for internes at the hospitals of the country. At present there was great scarcity. The supply had been definitely affected by the war. Each young doctor spent a year without salary or with a very meagre salary in order to get experience in the hospitals. Just now there were not many available.

The Association also regulated the examinations of students, such matters as specialization, war services, tabulation of medical effort and medical problems overseas. Arrangements had been made so that qualified practitioners could be registered in Britain.

The doctor told of the birth and growth of the Association which was organized and held its first meeting in Halifax under the late Dr. Tupper. For a number of years all the meetings were held in the east and then in 1900 the first western meeting was held in Winnipeg and two years later in Vancouver. Since then there had been a number of meetings held in the west and one outstanding man, Dr. R. E. McKechnie of Vancouver, had held the position of president on two occasions. The next meeting would take place in 1942 in Alberta.

The Medical Association did educational work, advised on such matters as nutrition, hospital service, new hospital buildings, ethics and public health. Of late there had been a serious depletion of the supply of narcotics. The United States government had promised that, should occasion require as it might quite possibly, it would come to the rescue.

The Association in British Columbia interested itself in economics and such matters as health insurance with a view to assuring that a proper, sane scheme should be adopted.

Canada At War 25 Years Ago

July 22, 1916—British forces in East Africa occupied Mwanza, chief German port on Lake Victoria-Nyanza. Heavy German counter-attacks on the Somme regained some lost ground. Appeal of Sir Roger Casement, Irish rebel leader, against treason death sentence dismissed.

SPORT CHAT

For the first four innings both MacDonald and Vuckovich pitched a scoreless hurler's duel in last Friday evening's Intermediate League baseball game between Watts & Nickerson and Co-operatives but, in the first of the fifth, Watts & Nickerson hitters pounced on MacDonald for three hits and an error to drive in a run that gave Vuckovich a 1 to 0 edge. Then again in the sixth and seventh the Clothiers River at North Beach on Graham Island. The executive committee had investigated carefully and recommended that this amount be given this year. Thirty to forty boys and girls will be each taking ten days at the camp.

Hi-Y Youths Meet At Ontario Lake

Young Organization Holds First Canadian Conference

Orillia, Ont., July 21: (CP)—Delegates from Hi-Y clubs in all parts of the Dominion gathered at nearby Geneva Park on Lake Couchiching at the first conference of Canadian Hi-Y clubs.

The clubs, made up of high school boys and under the sponsorship of the Young Men's Christian Association, number nearly 100 in Canada. They are part of an international organization of youth embracing more than 7,000 clubs and 200,000 members.

The organizations have grown up in Canada in the past two years. Theme of the Couchiching conference, as outlined by those in charge, was "Hi-Y on the March" and the basic idea was a demonstration of Canadian unity.

The opening address was given by R. S. Hoskins, general secretary of the national council of the Y.M.C.A. in Canada.

Among the visitors at sessions were W. M. Robinson, former boy's work secretary of the world alliance of the Y.M.C.A. in Geneva, Switzerland; George B. Corwin, national Hi-Y secretary of the United States, and John Young, boy's work secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Hawaii.

The conference was a project of the National Boys' Work Committee of the Y.M.C.A. of Canada of which Dr. Sidney E. Smith of Winnipeg is president and J. Hiles Templin is chairman of the boy's committee.

Actual conduct of the conference was undertaken by the National Hi-Y committee of which Douglas C. Henderson is chairman, and Jack Sunly, Gordon Blackford and Victor Coxworth are members.

CANADA PRODUCES PRECISE OPTICAL INSTRUMENTS

Shirley Patterson, M.A. of Harvard University, demonstrates a polariscope to Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, during his recent tour of Research Enterprises in Toronto. This plant is engaged in the production of precision optical instruments for industry and Canadian forces. The polariscope gives an indication of the perfection of the heat-treating of optical glass.

QUEEN SEES QUILT FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Students At Fredericton Raise $1,100 For Fund For Air Raid Victims

The Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims has just received a report from London that Her Majesty has expressed her particular pleasure at a gift sent to bomb victims under the auspices of the fund by school children of Fredericton, N. B.

The Queen was visiting the offices of the Lord Mayor's National Air Raid Distress Fund in the historic Mansion House. The Lord

Mayor, Sir George Wilkinson, showed Her Majesty the children's gift, which consisted of an embroidered quilt bearing the names of six hundred students of the Fredericton High School.

The Lord Mayor told the Queen that the students of the High School had at the same time raised $1,100 for air raid victims, which was forwarded to London by the Queen's Canadian Fund.

Her Majesty, who expressed her appreciation of the generous help Canadians are giving, called the quilt a charming gift.

Each student paid 10 cents for having his or her name embroidered on the quilt. The rest of the money was raised in a series of entertainments.

Besides raising the fine sum of $1,100 for bomb victims, the students were commemorating seven old pupils who had lost their lives in the present war.

The students organized food auctions, fashion parades and other entertainments.

Many other schools in the neighborhood of Fredericton made special efforts to raise money for the Queen's Canadian Fund, with impressive results.

Send Queen's Canadian Fund contributions to Daily News, Prince Rupert, or the Royal Trust Company, 105 St. James St. Montreal or any of its branches. Every dollar subscribed goes forward without deductions.

SAVING OF LIFE FROM NORTH SEA

Great Great-Uncle of Local Woman Played Part Over Century Ago in Organizing Service

Casualties to shipping in the North Sea owing to the war serve to call to mind the prominent part which Shields and the Tyne have taken in the development of the British lifeboat service. It was to Tynemouth that was sent in 1904 the very first lifeboat to be converted to motive power. The first steam lifeboat was stationed at Harwich in 1890.

An outstanding name among the pioneer life-saving organizers of the Tyne is that of Henry Greathead of Richmond, Yorkshire, a great-great uncle of Mrs. Robert Andrews of Prince Rupert.

He was born in Yorkshire on January 27, 1757, a twin child of a civil servant, but he was still a child when his father removed to Shields. It was there that the future lifeboat constructor was apprenticed to a boat builder. He continued his career as a ship's carpenter, and then, in 1785, set up for himself in Shields as a boat builder.

It was with these qualifications that he submitted a design at this juncture. In a letter to the Royal Humane Society, Dr. Hayes described in it minute detail. It measured 30 feet in length, 10 feet in width and was three feet four inches in depth. The whole construction resembled a Greenland boat, but considerably flatter. Lined inside and out with cork, it was of very light draught, manned by 10 oars and capable of carrying 20 people.

Initial Success

According to one authority, it was from his and several other designs, including Wouldhave's, that the final draft was decided on for the lifeboat Greathead was commissioned to build. The Original, as it was called, costing less than £150, was rendered buoyant by about 7cwt. of cork. It knew nothing of automatic valves for emptying out water as fast as it pours in. It was just an open boat, with no source of buoyancy but this cork; no means of ridding itself of water, save by baling; and no means of propulsion other than oars—but it rescued hundreds of lives.

Indeed, so highly satisfactory was the lifeboat that, in 1798, the Duke of Northumberland had endowed, that in 1800 he ordered another for Oporto. In the same year Cathcart Demster ordered yet another for St. Andrews.

By the end of 1803 Greathead, it has been calculated, had built no fewer than 31, of which 18 were for England, five for Scotland and eight for foreign countries—no bad record for the Tyne in those early days of life-boat construction.

Recognition

Greathead's contribution to the welfare of humanity was recognized in his own day by numerous learned societies which conferred upon him honors and, in some cases, grants, the Royal Humane Society, the Society of Arts and the government among them. Dr. Trotter, physician to the Fleet, wrote an alulatory ode, and he is commemorated by an inscription in the parish church of St. Hilda in South Shields.

Before his death in 1819, Greathead left to posterity "The Report of Evidence and other Proceedings in Parliament Respecting the Invention of the Lifeboat" and "Documents Illustrating the Origin of the Lifeboat, with Practical Directions for the Management of Lifeboats." The principles on which lifeboats are constructed today are said, in their basic elements to adhere, with but little alteration, to those which Greathead employed in his first lifeboat on the Tyne.

The many persons who owe their lives to the lifeboat service should not forget the public spirit of those of Shields—the subscribers to the newsroom of Lawn House among them—who first put up the money in order to promote the evolution of the most effective type of boat for the purpose, thus encouraging Greathead's winning design.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

All fish of less than a foot in length were scorned by an angling party consisting of Bill Richards, Leo Blain, Charlie Balagno, Norman Moorehouse, Alex McRae and Sid Hunter which made a trip over the week-end aboard the Richards' boat Gracie R. to Kwinmass, just this side of the Naas River. A fine bag of forty or so cut-throats was taken and some of these, being exceptionally large ones, provided thrills in the landing.

A list of 218 passengers, which took up practically all her accommodation, was aboard the steamer Princess Louise which was in port from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until 1 p.m. on her way from Vancouver to Skagway. Practically all on board were round trip tourists. Eleven persons disembarked from the vessel here.

An even two hundred passengers were aboard the steamer Prince Rupert which was in port from 10 o'clock yesterday until 4:30 yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver. Practically all were round trip Alaska tourists returning south. Six persons disembarked from the vessel at this port.

Having completed the discharge of 4,000 cases of canned salmon from Wales Island for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways, Union steamer Cassiar, Capt. Alex McLennan, sailed at 8 o'clock last night for Butedale where she is loading frozen fish for Vancouver.

Fifteen members of the local Red Cross committee were guests recently at a tea at the home of Mrs. Leonard Longacre. The salvage drive was discussed and plans made for the collecting of waste materials. Several handknit sweaters donated by the ladies of the J. R. Morgan Logging Company of Cumshewa were displayed. More material was given out to be made into layettes for refugee babies. It was decided to hold the next business meeting after the holidays. Mrs. G. Overington assisted her daughter in serving refreshments.

Miss Doris Carter R.N., who was on the staff of the Skidegate Inlet General Hospital several years ago, returned on the last trip of the Comosun and will be in charge of the institution when the superintendent, Doctor Duncan McColl, moves into his new residence.

Mrs. Gordon Joliffe entertained the members of the Rug Bee Club one afternoon recently. Bridge was enjoyed during the period before the serving of a delicious tea. Those present were Mesdames E. Size, B. Munro, Duncan McColl, Bert Roberts, G. Chastaney, Harry Beaven, G. Pitt Turner and Andrew Christensen.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carstairs and small daughters, Grace and Barbara, returned on the Comosun from a holiday trip to Vancouver. While in the south they visited the home of Mrs. Carstairs' parents.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Skidegate Inlet General Hospital the sole business discussed concerned the recent successful hospital day. The secretary-treasurer reported that six hundred and eighty dollars had been cleared and suggested that a vote of thanks be given all those who by their loyalty and effort had assisted in making the undertaking such a success. All bills were ordered paid.

Means of raising money to be used on the Manse were discussed at a special meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church held at the home of Mrs. William Barry. It was suggested that an amateur night be put on by the members but it was decided to leave this until the fall. Finally it was decided to approach another local social organization asking their help and co-operation. There was no word as yet of a minister to succeed Rev. B. S. Hartley, the secretary reported. At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Aubrey Hames, a recent bride, entertained at the tea hour when her guests included Mesdames G. Blomgran, W. Nybloom, B. Munro, G. Wilcox, W. Barry, L. Longacre, G. Overington, G. Fife, O. Hill.

POISON IVY IS BUGABOO

Holiday Wrecker Lurks in Woods and Fields; Children Are More Susceptible Than Older People

OTTAWA, July 22: (CP)—Bugaboo of many a Canadian holiday is poison ivy. While there are cures for the little three-leaf plant's poison, the national health department suggests in its advices to vacationists that better than a cure is prevention. In other words learn to recognize the plant and give it a wide berth.

Poison ivy may appear as a low shrubby patch, bordering fences, or as a climber like the Virginia creeper. But a little observation shows that it looks like no other plant. The leaves are borne alternately on the stem and consist of three similar leaflets as in the strawberry. They are firm and quite smooth, even glossy. In the early part of the summer clusters of whitish flowers rise from the axils of the leaves and these are succeeded by round, dull white fruits about the size of a pea.

"No other plant has at the same time trifoliate leaves and white fruits," is the information obtained at the department.

Poison ivy grows under a variety of conditions but is most commonly found in woods and fields. The slightest contact with the leaves, stem, flower, fruit or even the tiny hairs on the stem causes it to give off a volatile oil which produces an itchy rash on the human skin. Children are found to be more susceptible than adults.

Neutralizes Poison

Protection may be provided by washing hands and face and wiping legs with a five per cent solution of ferric chloride in a mixture of water and glycerine in equal parts. It neutralizes the poison. If applied immediately after exposure it will still be effective, but it is not useful as a cure later.

Physicians can give desensitization treatments in cases where people are particularly sensitive to the poison. The most immediate treatment when the ivy poisoning is suspected is to scrub the skin with a strong laundry soap in tepid water—changing the water after each lathering—or preferably under running warm water to carry away the poison.

If this is done before the poison has a chance to penetrate the skin no other treatment is necessary. Washing with alcohol, kerosene or gasoline also helps to keep the poison from spreading.

Most widely recommended treatment is potassium permanganate. Once blisters have formed rubbing should be avoided. Baking soda, boracic acid solution are advised in the case of open sores no application should be made but soothing lotions as calamine lead acetate may be employed.
