Excellent Red Devil.

Not only did the red devil do good work at the sash and door factory last night, but yesterday afternoon it displayed its prowess with exceedingly good effect to a fire insurance specialist who watched a trial turn out to Sixth street. A minute and a half from the first note of alarm saw streams of water turned onto the danger spot. It was an accredited performance, but the real trip was better still.

RED DEVIL DID IT ONCE AGAIN

Saved the Sash and Door Factory
This Time When the Place
Looked Pretty Well Gone to Blazes—Serious Fire Averted.

All kinds of credit is coming to the Red Devil & Co. for a swift and effective run to the sash and door factory on Seventh avenue last night at about 11 o'clock. For a few minutes matters looked pretty formidable there, as flames and smoke rose from the roof of the boiler house and the siren tooted frantically. But the brigade was on the scene like lightning and in half an hour every spark was extinguished. The factory is at work again today as if nothing had happened, the only damage being to the roof of the furnace room. It appears, however, that the fire might have made more headway had not a quick witted passerby noticed that the efforts of a matchman to drench out the beginnings of the blaze were inadequate. The watchman had tackled the fire alone with a half inch hose. The passerby, who bears a name formerly famous in song, and is something of a songster himself, sounded the alarm and had the devil on the job in a jiffy.

The Princess Royal arrived at about noon with a few passengers, mail and freight.

The City of Seattle called at this port en route to Skagway last night. About thirty-five passengers, including members of the Ethel Tucker Company, booked from Rupert.

Don't forget to call at the Royal Cafe after the show.

RAILWAY BOARD INSISTS ON STRICT FIRE PRECAUTIONS

Locomotive to be Fitted With Spark Netting---Extreme Care Compelled With Cinders---Extensive Fire Breaks Ordered, and Railway Companies Required to Provide Fire Patrols ---Only Oil Fuel Engines in B.C. After 1914

Ottawa, May 15.—The Railway Board at its first sitting since the death of Judge Mabey had under consideration the draft regulations prepared by the Commission of Conservation in respect to fire protection. The commission asks that existing regulations be abolished and a new set drafted by the commissioners be adopted.

These regulations, which are somewhat lengthy, provide that all engines must be fitted with netting to prevent the escape of sparks and that every railway company must provide inspectors at terminal points, whose duty it shall be to examine from April 1 to November 1 of each year all locomotives in use. The proposed regulations give the chief fire inspector or any authorized officers of the branch power to inspect locomotives at all times and to reject those found to be defective in regard to fire arrangements.

It is provided in draft arrangements that railways shall not permit fire, live coal or ashes to be deposited outside of yard limits except they be immediately extinguished. No railway company will be allowed to burn lignite coal on its engines. Every railway company must provide fire breaks along the route of its line, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the chief fire inspector of the board. In Saskatchewan and Alberta the fire break must consist of a plowed strip not less than sixteen feet in width alongside of the right of way.

One of the most important provisions calls upon all railway companies to maintain a staff of fire rangers for patrol and fire fighting duty exclusively from April 1 to November 1. The size of this specially organized force is to be fixed for each railway by the chief inspector of the board. Section men and other employees, including contractors, shall constitute an emergency fire fighting staff.

An exceedingly important provision is one calling upon railways in British Columbia on and after April 1, 1914, to operate only such locomotives as burn oil and coal. This is being opposed by the railroads on the ground that it would result in serious injury to the coal mining industry of the west.

Seattle, May 15.—Ten inspectors of the Washington State Forest Fire Association started out this morning on a tour of the state to place on duty the entire force of rangers, who, with the government rangers, will remain at their posts until the danger of forest fires has passed.

This action was taken in a meeting on Saturday between Chief Warden Bridge of the Washington Fire Association, J. R. Welty, state fire warden, and representatives of various railroads.

FIVE-A-SIDE FOOTBALL FINALS ARE PLAYED

Before a large crowd of spectators the above club played off the final of their five a side tournament last night on the Second avenue ground, the following teams taking the field: Callies—Gilmour, Currie, S. Currie, Barker and Dowther.

Thistles—Kelly, J. H. Kelly, Wiggins, Paterson and McLean.

The match started sharp at 7:45, and immediately the Callies pressed, but after some firm play by the Thistle defense they were beaten back. Then the Thistles showed some very pretty passing from foot to foot like clock work until S. Currie stepped in and relieved at the expense of a throw in to the Thistles, which very nearly brought them a goal. Paterson putting past by inches. After this the Callies came away with a rush and secured a beauty of a goal, S. Currie putting the ball into the far corner after a lively run down the whole length of the field. The ball had not when Dowther added another goal from the touchline. This ended the first half with the score at Callies 2; Thistles 0.

Immediately on resuming the Thistles showed that they meant business by testing the Callies goal severely, they having to save a hot shot on the post from the foot of McLean. After some give and take play the Thistles scored through a fine individual effort on the part of Paterson, the centre. This put the Callies on their mettle, but the Thistle's half back gave a grand exhibition of defence work, completely tying up the Callies forwards time and again.

After a break away by Dowther, Currie added another goal from short range, the match finishing with the score Callies 3, Thistle 1. Mr. Bell kept the game well in hand.

Summary—A hard and well-fought game, with very little to pick between the teams.

Seattle, May 16.—Thirty-six hundred dollars a month, alleged to have gone to ticket sellers, freight clerks and assistant pursers in Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver for about two years, is estimated to be the profits of a scheme unearthed by H. W. Brodie, general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Vancouver. Detectives employed by the company at all three cities for ninety days brought the scheme to light. Fourteen men have been relieved of further duty for the company as the result of the exposure. The company has not discovered the extent to which it has been mulcted, but its officials believe that it began more than two years ago. The men robbed the company of thousands by holding out tickets as passengers boarded boats and only the hardest kind of tracing numbered tickets finally unearthed the conspiracy.

SETTLERS' BELIEF IN THE NAAS CONFIRMED

Deputy Minister of Agriculture W. E. Scott Speaks Very Favorably of the Prospects of Valleys After Personal Inspection

As noted in The Daily News recently, from the reports of reports of settlers in the Naas district, the impression made upon Mr. W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, by the agricultural prospects and conditions in the Naas Valley is exceedingly good. The deputy minister, speaking on the subject of his trip the other evening in the G. T. P. train, fully substantiated most of what the settlers have themselves said from time to time about the fertility and agricultural outlook of the Naas River valleys. There are about 500,000 to 1,000,000 acres of superb land there awaiting the plough and garden spade. The quality of the land is unexcelled in the whole province. The soil is alluvial, fat, rich and sweet. The land does not require very heavy clearing work. Some of it is already almost ready for cultivation.

The deputy minister, who was accompanied through the Naas valleys and branches by Mr. Carpenter, agricultural expert, believes beyond doubt that the Naas district is a certain field of the most promising nature for small fruit growing, dairy and mixed farming and for market gardening. Prince Rupert is of course the natural market for Naas River valley produce. There will be an abundant demand for all that can be grown there for many years to come.

Besides visiting the Naas valleys, the deputy minister and Mr. Carpenter, accompanied by Mr. Robert Jennings, passed through the Skeena valleys also, and formed a very good opinion of their prospects. The Kitsumkalum and Lakelse valleys were inspected and are found to be promising and capable of great and valuable development, which will be most remunerative. Transportation is, meantime, the problem of the Naas valleys, but the Skeena district in the G. T. P. has got its transportation problem in a large measure solved.

TEA OF ALL NATIONS, BY ONE WHO TRIED ALL VARIETIES

CANADIAN, SCOTCH, NEW ENGLAND, IRISH, JAPANESE FARE AND A FINISH UP WITH ICE CREAM AT THE METHODIST LADIES EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT.

A hungry one drifted yesterday evening into the hall of the Methodist Church where the ladies of that honored institution were entertaining guests at "Tea of All Nations." From the Canadian tea table, where he fed sumptuously on maple syrup, Canadian apple pie and bread made from the wheat that feeds the wide world, he dropped into the New England tea room and there regaled himself with Boston brown bread, baked beans and pumpkin pie served with delicious coffee. Onward he wandered to the Scotch tea party, and there a lassie in tartan served him with bannocks and brose and farles and haggis to his heart's content. He repaired farther to the Irish cottage, in which he was fed in princely manner on Irish stew, praties and Shamrock salad by a comely colleen. Temptation in the way of the Japanese tea garden assailed him, and he there sipped rose perfumed tea and nibbled rice cakes with chrysanthemum confiture while an almond eyed sylph in kimono and obi fanned herself at his side. Ice cream and candies tempted him still further to venture into the hall of sweets and there with a cone of coldness he became a boy again and shyly sought the favor of a glance from the girl behind the candy counter as in the days gone by. But the best of appetites must find their finish somewhere, and he was at last compelled to betake himself homeward at a leisurely pace and well content. He did not attend the excellent elocutionary recital given later in the Methodist Church by Rev. R. W. Lee, and so missed what is acknowledged to have been an exceptional treat by all of the large crowd who attended it.

THE INTERNATIONAL

Arrangements Made by the Caledonian Football Club

The Caledonian Football Club have accepted the challenge of Mr. Bell to play a match of international order next week, and it was decided to meet the English team on Tuesday night on Second Avenue, the game to start at 7:30 p.m. Teams to be eight a side; 30 minutes each way. Afterwards it is expected that the Callies will play the team which will travel to Terrace to uphold the name of Rupert as a football centre. The Callies team for this match will be chosen after Saturday's game.—A. Holmberg, secy.

DAILY EDITION.

FRIDAY, MAY 17

HEAD OR FIGURE HEAD?

In the evening paper owned and edited by the Mayor, and in the morning paper today, appeared over the signature of Alderman Bullock-Webster a letter evincing the characteristic with which The Daily News has already credited Alderman Bullock-Webster—namely, a willingness and evident desire to shoulder his own share of responsibility for the deeds, misdeeds if any, or neglect of the finance committee. Anyone who has watched the city council at work during the past few months must have noticed that both Alderman Bullock-Webster and Alderman Douglas have always been only too ready to accept right out in the open the onus of their doings as councillors. Their marked disposition this way is the more noticeable because recently it has been in decided contrast to that of the Mayor. The Mayor has of late displayed a marked disinclination to come out into the open, sturdily shouldering his responsibilities.

There is this instance of the criticism of the finance committee. Ex officio, the Mayor is a member of all committees, but he is more than that for the finance committee. He is one of the three original members of that committee, and his position as mayor gives him both greater power and greater responsibility as a member of that committee than even its worthy chairman. Yet we find not the Mayor nor even the chairman in the open field defending the finance committee, but Alderman Bullock-Webster. Again, there is the case when explanation was needed in order that the public might understand exactly what they were called upon to sign for in connection with the petition for various money bills, and why their signatures were necessary. Over whose names did that vitally important statement appear? It was signed by Alderman Douglas and City Solicitor Peters. The Mayor positively declined to sign it, because, forsooth, he was afraid people might think he was "croaking to" criticism from a certain quarter. Still further, there is the case of the indemnity bylaw, passed nine months earlier than two former councils thought it necessary. Although this bylaw bears the Mayor's signature beside the city seal, the Mayor takes good care to disclaim all responsibility for it because he didn't introduce it. He leaves it to his chubby finance minister to get between him and the blast of criticism, and whines that "it is very unfair that he should be blamed for it." And the burden of the Mayor's song lately when strife arose over the granting of salary raises was: "I haven't interfered. I can only put the motions you give me." In short, the Mayor has betrayed a tendency to shift the shouldering of the larger share of civic responsibility, which is his by right, and to shrink from the honored place of a leader facing his critics in the open like a man able to answer for himself. More was expected of Mayor Newton by even his avowed opponents. He is disappointing, to say the least of it. "Head or Figure Head?" asks the caption of this comment, but Mayor Newton's place is in the construction of the civic ship Prince Rupert seems to be neither on the bridge nor at the bow, but somewhere about the bulge.

JUDGE MABEE'S SUCCESSOR.

The Borden government cannot afford to play politics in the matter of appointing a successor to Judge Mabey. This is not an occasion for rewarding some faithful fighter or placating some disappointed aspirant for office. Above all, the door should be shut in the face of the man who applies for the position. In this case the office should certainly seek the man. The expectation that the appointment will be made with a single eye to fitness is strengthened by the report from Ottawa that Mr. Borden will make it his immediate responsibility. The public has a good deal of confidence in the Prime Minister, and will expect him amply to justify it by his choice of the new chairman. A bad appointment, or one obviously political in its character, would very seriously injure the administration in the eyes of the people—Manitoba Free Press.

DEATH CELL FOR RICHESON;
HOPE OF SAVING LIFE GONE

OPINION OF EXECUTIVE COUNCIL IS THAT GOV. FOSS WILL TAKE NO ACTION WHATEVER—EXECUTION IS SET FOR MAY 21—PREACHER-MURDERER IS AFRAID.

C. V. T. RICHESON

Boston, May 16.—The final battle for life in behalf of Charles V. T. Richeson, who poisoned his former sweetheart, Avis W. Linnell of Hyannis, is being made this week. Richeson, who confessed the crime, has been sentenced to electrocution in the work beginning May 19, but his attorneys hope to prevail upon Governor Foss to allow a petition for clemency to go to the executive council, which will meet Wednesday. Insanity is the plea.

is a large calendar, and one leaf of the calendar is marked with a ring drawn with a lead pencil. This sheet is that of May 21st, the day of which Richeson, unless saved by the governor or executive council, will go to his death in the electric chair.

Richeson is afraid, horribly afraid, said a former fellow very surrounding the identity of "Miss Edwards," the worker at the God's Providence House Mission, in Brooke street, was lifted today, when H. Clarke Barber, an attorney, stated that the hard working thum worker was Miss Violet Edmunds, the fiancée of the former minister, C. V. T. Richeson, of Boston, who is to pay prisoner. He is filled with dread of death by electricity.

Moments of Flash

"Why I can't die some other way," he is said to have asked pleadingly of one of his jailers. "I—I would rather die by poison."

Miss L. V. Richeson today visited her brother. The guard about the fallen pastor has been doubled.

The opinion among the members of the executive council is that Governor Foss will take no action whatever on the Richeson matter. Two alibists whom the Governor has employed to examine the prisoner are yet to the death penalty this month for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, one of the singers in his choir.

"Miss Edmunds came to New York about Nov. 13, 1911, in search of some kind of philanthropic occupation," said Mr. Barber. "An opportunity was found at God's Providence House Mission, and on Nov. 20 Miss Edmunds began work. Since that time, excepting two or three holidays of two or three days each, Miss Edmunds has not left the borough of Manhattan and has scarcely missed a day at God's Providence house, where she assists generally in the work."

S. S. CAMOSUN IS ALL RIGHT

Papers in the South Have Got Hold of Shipwreck Yarn of Her —Facts Made Known in Rupert.

Victoria, May 10. — The Camosun struck a submerged rock today at Dall Patch buoy in Seaforth Channel, near Bella Coola, while on her way from Vancouver to Prince Rupert. No particulars are available yet as to the damage done. Many passengers were on board, but all are safe.
 Above note from the Vancouver Province has been made much of to the extent that the help of the steamer Salvor was offered the Camosun. There is, however, nothing the matter with the "Old Reliable." She touched a snag or submerged substance probably drifting, and aerographed other boats to look out. Thus the news got south that she was injured. Information was sent from Rupert by J. H. Rogers that she is all right and proceeding on her trip safely.

UP TO OUR DR. REDDIE

Interesting Congress on Municipal Hygienics to Be Held in September — Dr. Reddie as Health Officer is Invited.

Washington, May 15.—Preparations are being made to secure a very general participation by the health authorities of all the provinces of Canada in the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, which meets in Washington, September 23-28, under the auspices of the United States government. Dr. John S. Fulton, secretary general of the congress, has just received advices from Dr. Frederick Montizambert, director general of public health, Ottawa, Canada, that invitations have been extended to all provincial boards of health and that in each case the executive officer was requested to distribute the information relating to the congress and the invitation to municipal health officers. In addition, special invitations have been extended to the University of McGill, Montreal; Toronto University, Toronto; Laval University, Montreal, and Queen's College, Kingston, Ont.

The importance of the forthcoming congress to municipalities in particular was well indicated in one paragraph of a letter written this week by Dr. Fulton, when he said: "The broad international scope, the distinguished character of the foreign representation, the governmental auspices under which it will be held, all insure that this forthcoming event will be the most important and impressive of its kind ever held in this country. To be in attendance at the congress, therefore, is a new viewpoint with respect to public health which after next September will in all likelihood not occur again in this country within a generation. Failure to attend on the part of a public health man will constitute an injustice to himself and a misfortune to his locality."
