Situation At Kiev Is Not So Bad

To Go Ahead— COMMUNITY CENTRE IS UNDER WAY

Central Committee Decides To Proceed Immediately, Starting With Intensive Drive For Money Still Needed

The central committee on the civic centre project for Prince Rupert, meeting last night at the home of the chairman, Dr. R. G. Large, decided that the time was now propitious to initiate a final drive for the estimated sum of $15,000 necessary to bring the undertaking into being without further delay. It was felt that, not only is there the financial ability now to finance the project, but there is the need and demand that it be implemented by actual construction, possibly before the end of this year. With this end in view it was decided that the financial drive should take place next month with one week of intensive canvassing of the entire city. The chairman, Dr. Large, was asked to lead the organization of this drive with the assistance of other leading citizens in key positions. October 13-18 was the week tentatively proposed for the drive, organization of which will meantime be perfected, the active co-operation of various organizations and interested citizens generally to be enlisted.

A delegation was appointed to meet Premier T. D. Pattullo today to take up certain phases of the project. Last night's meeting also decided to take steps to obtain a federal licence for the project. Architect's drawings and plans will be proceeded with at once. A tentative estimate of the cost of the civic centre is $28,000. There is already $13,000 on hand for the project. It was felt that it was highly desirable, if possible, to have all the money on hand before proceeding with the building. However, if that is found impossible, the hope is to proceed with construction anyway.

Modern Science Now Gets Better of Nature on Rampage. Famous H.M.S. Warspite At Puget Sound Navy Yard—Other British Warships In States

MONTREAL, Sept. 20:—Modern science to a considerable extent bested nature on the rampage during the present display of aurora borealis. Formerly electrical displays of this character seriously upset telegraph operations but R. M. MacMillan, superintendent, Canadian National Telegraphs, said yesterday that the extensive use of the carrier current system over large areas of the dominion had enabled the company to maintain its service with intermittent delays only.

The carrier system, which is in effect "wired wireless," is a metallic circuit which guides as many as 32 different channels of communication between terminals. Other circuits which are "grounded," depending on the earth for return, are completely disrupted by displays of the aurora, but the considerable number of carrier-currents in use now enables Canadian National Telegraphs to maintain service on a fairly satisfactory basis.

In the old days it was necessary for telegraph operators to wait until nature ended its playful behavior before resuming business.

Encirclement Report Doubted By London, Also Army Trapping

Story That Pincers Could Have Closed So Wide An Area Is Scouted—Moscow Admits Terrific Fight Being Made.

CLAIM CONQUEST OF KIEV
BERLIN, Sept. 20: (CP)—The German high command today implied complete conquest of Kiev as German armies were claimed to be pursuing Russian forces eastward from the Ukraine capital toward the Donet River basin.

LONDON, Sept. 20: (CP)—Strong doubt that the Germans have completed the encirclement movement east of Kiev in the Ukraine was expressed today by an authoritative source which also scouted German claims that four Russian armies were in process of annihilation within the circle. The source admitted German claims of successes probably contain some truth, but doubted whether Nazi pincers could have closed over so wide an area.

At Moscow the Red Army announced that it was waging a terrific fight for Kiev, indicating all was not lost there, and said that ten German divisions, perhaps 150,000 men, had been wiped out on the approaches to the Ukrainian capital along with hundreds of planes and tanks.

CONCERT IS FINE

New Song, Composed Locally, Is Featured at Y.M.C.A. Entertainment.

Last night the auxiliary entertainment committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, gave a delightful concert for members of the forces and their families in the "Y" Hut. Cliff Leslie introduced the master of ceremonies, Fire Chief H. T. Lock, who led the community singing.

"The Boys of the Old Brigade" was rendered in a stirring manner by Mr. Teng. Miss E. M. Earle then gave a reading titled "Little Boats of Dunkirk." Eleven-year-old Molly Frew was a great favorite with the boys, singing "Carry On" and, as an encore, "We're Proud of Canada." She has a charming voice for one so young in years. Corp. Bob Townsend, next gave a piano-accompanied solo, entitled "Neapolitan Airs." Miss Lorraine Youngman, age nine, pleased very much with a tap dance and song. The next item on the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby. Mr. Lock then gave a poem by Gordon Philip. Mrs. Lock was hilariously funny, singing "Guardsmen On Parade" and "Little Brown Jug." Next came an accordion solo by Jim MacKay.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation "Sons of the Empire," in a stirring manner of the premiere of the patriotic song written by Prince Rupert's own Miss Frances Moore and Mrs. Winifred Brass. Ronald Bridges rendered the song in a stirring manner and, judging from the amount of applause, was undoubtedly successful in putting it over. The concert was voted a huge success by all present. The next Y.M.C.A. concert will be on Friday of next week.

INDIA'S AIR GIFT

NEW DELHI, Sept. 19: (P)—Indian provinces and states have now voluntarily contributed a total of £3,000,000 ($13,500,000) for the purchase of airplanes for Britain.

Irresponsible Attacks . . .

In these days when an election is pending, we are pretty sure to hear criticism of the road policy of the provincial government. That is a perennial that has been used by both parties since the commencement of the development of the Pacific province. Here is what a strictly non-party technical journal "Roads and Bridges" published in Toronto has to say:

"British Columbia's Department of Public Works has unfortunately been the subject recently of two irresponsible editorial attacks in connection with its highway policy—one by a Vancouver daily newspaper and the other by a Canadian trade publication.

"It was alleged that British Columbia had spent some forty million dollars in the construction of roads since 1927, but that there is not yet a good road across the province and that much money has been "frittered away" on local roads.

"Criticism in the public interest is always desirable but it should always be constructive and with a full knowledge of all the facts. Politics too often dictates newspaper editorials. The editorials in question allege political administration of British Columbia's Department of Public Works and urge the establishment of a non-political highway commission. It would be interesting to know to just what extent politics dictated the editorials.

"Local roads cannot be entirely ignored and all money spent on main roads. To begin with in all provinces a large percentage of people live on or near local roads and they would not tolerate the spending of all their highway funds purely for the convenience of tourists who stick to the through routes. Expensive main roads such as, for example, Queen Elizabeth Way in Ontario are magnificent and are urgently needed to accommodate large volumes of traffic. For national defence at the present time they are needed more urgently than ever before. From a tourist standpoint and for industrial use, high class roads are indispensable but they do not develop the country, as a whole, nor do they provide facilities for as many people as does a well maintained system of local roads.

"A large percentage of the people must have local roads to obtain access to the main roads; farmers who market supplies must have local roads to deliver their products, and without local roads the towns and cities could not obtain their milk and other food products.

"The wise highway program cannot ignore either the main road or the local road. To do so would spell ruin for the success of the highway movement in any province. British Columbia's Department of Public Works has been manned by very capable engineers, many of whom have devoted almost their whole lifetime to highway work and many years of intensive study to the needs of the province of British Columbia. Undoubtedly they have adequate reasons for all expenditures made for the construction and maintenance of local roads and they have probably had to postpone many improvements which they would like to have made on main roads for lack of adequate funds with which to do full justice both to the main roads and to the local roads, many of which in British Columbia, due to the particular terrain of that province, are exceptionally costly to construct—more costly than in most other parts of Canada."

War Profits . . .

Yesterday we mentioned labor's part in the work of winning the war. Today we are reminded of the part that industry is playing. Hon. J. L. Isley minister of finance, reminds us that all profits of corporations are subject to a tax of at least forty per cent and increases in corporation taxes over those of the pre-war period are subject to a tax of 79 1/2 per cent. In England they had an excess profits tax of 100 per cent but that has been reduced to 80 per cent. When dividends are paid the recipient of the dividend has to pay a tax so that practically the whole of the profit of industry is taken back by the government, directly or indirectly. The Financial Post points out that there are 280 companies in Canada, the average profit of which in 1940 was slightly over two per cent. Some individuals, it is said, pay as high as 96 cents out of every dollar in taxes. These are the very rich but all pay very high taxes so that no person or corporation is able to make much money out of the war.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Dora Arney and Angus MacPhee, Well Known Local Couple, Wed.

A wedding of much local interest took place quietly at 7:30 last evening at the parsonage of First United Church, Rev. J. A. Donnell officiating, when Miss Dora Arney, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arney, First Avenue, became the bride of Angus MacPhee, only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. MacPhee, Ninth Avenue East. Only the principals of the bridal party were present at the nuptial ceremony. The bride wore a becoming rust wool dress with brown silk crepe turban and brown accessories, her corsage being of carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Annie Postulo, wore green corduroy velvet with turban to match and corsage of carnations. Henry Lindseth was groomsman.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where about forty guests assembled to tender their congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple who were assisted in receiving by the mothers of bride and groom.

With the bride cutting a handsome three-tier wedding cake, buffet refreshments were served. A toast to the bride was proposed by R. E. James with the groom responding. The groomsman responded to a toast to the bridesmaid. The evening was happily spent in music.

Mr. and Mrs. MacPhee, who are taking up residence in the Angus Court, are well known among the younger people of the city and enjoy a wide measure of popularity. The bride was born here and the groom has lived in the city since young boyhood. Employed at the dry dock, the groom is particularly well known in athletic circles. The bride has been on the staff of G. W. Nickerson Ltd.

Pleasant Affair Held Yesterday Afternoon at Home of Mrs. R. G. Hopkins.

Favored by superlative fall weather, a very successful tea and sale of home cooking was held yesterday afternoon by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral at the home of Mrs. R. G. Hopkins, Fourth Avenue West. There was a large attendance of guests who were received by Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. H. S. Madows, president of the Women's Auxiliary. The rooms were tastefully decorated with fall flowers.

General convener was Mrs. G. P. Tinker. Presiding at the table as pourers were Mrs. Fred McLeod, Mrs. Thomas Andrew, Mrs. W. J. Greer and Mrs. Charles Ellison. Serviteurs were Mrs. J. W. Nicholls, Mrs. A. R. Nichols, Mrs. L. B. Lambly and Mrs. Robert Bartlett with Mrs. G. W. Cripps acting as cashier.

Mrs. C. C. Mills and Mrs. J. G. Johns were in charge of the home cooking table. A feature of the proceedings was the presentation to Mrs. Fred McLeod, an active member for many years, who is about to leave the city, of a handsome picture. The presentation was made with expression of suitable sentiments by Mrs. G. A. Rix.

Final Catches of Season Are Expected
This Week-End—Most of American Boats Going Through to Seattle.

The coming week-end is expected to see the final full halibut catches of the season landed at Prince Rupert, although some vessels of the fleet are still out black-codding following the close of the halibut fishing season last week-end. American landings at Prince Rupert during the week immediately following the closing of the

BROTHERS RE-UNITED

"Well, if it isn't our Jim.
"Yes, lad, it's our Jim. How are you George?"

Thus two brothers, after being out of touch for twenty-six years screeted each other aboard the steamer Prince Rupert yesterday afternoon while that vessel was in port.

One of the brothers, Jim, the older, was Company Sergeant Major James Davison, non-commissioned officer in charge of Twenty-First Provost Company from Victoria, who is in Prince Rupert in the course of an inspection visit to the local provost detachment.

The other brother, George, the younger, is Chief Engineer George Davison of the steamer Prince Rupert, well known all along the coast and particularly in Prince Rupert.

It was in 1915 that Jim and George Davison parted at the old coal mining town of Fernie in the Crow's Nest Pass country where both had been employed in the coal mines. Jim was off to enlist in the 195th. Battalion with which he served overseas in the last war.
George remained for a while in Fernie and then drifted out to the coast and started steamboating with a naval auxiliary vessel.

After the war Jim returned to British Columbia and eventually went into the British Columbia and Dominion provincial police service. He was living in semi-retirement at Port Coquitlam when the present war broke out and he felt the urge for service again, finding his way into the provost service.

During the years since the war, George had also been on the coast, joining the Canadian National Steamships with which he gradually worked up to the chief engineership.

Oddly enough, although both were on the coast during the quarter of a century, they had never met and, being out of communication, neither was aware as to where the other might be.

It was as he came north from Victoria this week aboard the Prince George that Company Sergeant Major Jim Davison learned that his baby brother, George, was chief engineer on the Prince Rupert.

Yesterday Jim visited the Prince Rupert to see George and the happy fraternal reunion ensued.

halibut season have been lightening up as the most of the United States fleet proceeded straight through to Seattle with their final landings at Prince Rupert totalled 586,000 pounds of which 429,500 pounds was from American vessels and 156,500 pounds from Canadian. This brought the total landings for the present year to date, with only a few boats still outstanding, to 15,269,000 pounds as compared with 16,040,819 pounds up to the same date last year. The American total for 1941 to date was 9,692,900 pounds as against 9,981,600 pounds and the Canadian total 5,576,100 pounds, compared with 6,059,219 pounds. Prices held 25,000, 25,000, 27,000 and 25,000 pounds respectively. For Canadian halibut the top bid of the

ANDY HARDY HERE AGAIN

High School Graduation, Important Milestone in Hero's Life, Is Reached.

Marking the important milestone in the hero's life of high school graduation, "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary" will be the feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here on Monday and Tuesday next. The picture deals with many amusing problems facing high school seniors, problems as true to life today as they were a decade ago.

The story centres around Andy who, as chairman of numerous senior committees, loses sight of his studies in his effort to make the class graduation a success. In addition, he makes the acquaintance of two youngsters from the wrong side of the tracks. The judge becomes interested in the family and attempts to help them, but Andy, in an over-enthusiastic moment, spoils the deal. How the two youngsters help him out of his difficulties when he flunks his English examination proves a highlight of the film.

The Hardy family is again assembled for the story—Mickey Rooney as Andy, Lewis Stone as the judge, Fay Holden as the mother, Sara Haden as the aunt, and Ann Rutherford as Polly Benedict. Two newcomers to the screen are introduced in important roles—Kathryn Grayson and Todd Karns—with Ian Hunter and Gene Reynolds rounding out the cast.
