WHAT'S BEHIND RUSSIA'S GRIM DEFENCE STAND IN RESISTANCE TO NAZIS?

Leader Foresaw German Assault and Girded For It With Forced Training and Diligent Creation.

Written for The Canadian Press By CARLETON J. KETCHUM

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Russia's remarkable performance in her war with Germany has astounded the world. Two or three outstanding factors should be stressed in accounting for the formidability of her defence. The first is the fact that soon after the revolution and with the advent of the first formal Congress of the Soviets—

50 MILES AWAY NOW

Nazi Drive Appears To Be Drawing Nearer To Soviet Capital Of Moscow

Rostov Battle

Germans Claimed To Have Been Driven Back 62 Miles in Ukraine.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—German forces, continuing their fierce drive towards this Soviet capital city, has reached a point within thirty-one miles of it last night, according to German claims. Moscow, admitting further advances by the Nazis, placed the distance away at 51 miles.

Nazi armies in the north were admitted today to have cut into the flank of the Moscow defence and reached a point fifty miles from the capital at the rail town of Klin.

Russians in underground casements were killed when the casements were dynamited by the enemy. Using an army of 500,000 men, Germany has broken through the first line of defences of Moscow and is hammering at the second.

The Nazis are also striking hard at Leningrad and Rostov.

On the Ukraine front, Soviet dispatches announced today, a powerful Russian counter-offensive west of Rostov-on-Don had hurled the Germans back sixty-two miles and indicated a furious attempt to recapture Rostov.

LANDED IN NORMANDY

British Patrol Goes Ashore On French Coast and Returns Home Safely.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Ministry of Information announced today that a small British patrol was landed on the Normandy coast Sunday night and returned complete with the only casualty a man who had been struck in the arm by a machine gun bullet.

The statement denied the German claim that on the night of November 24 the British attempted to land on the French Channel coast with several boats, the German coastal protection repulsing them with heavy losses.

The ministry said that the Germans were betraying anxiety about British intentions.

THAILAND MOBILIZES

All Armed Forces Are Called Out to Resist Possible Japanese Attack Soon.

BANGKOK, Nov. 25.—Thailand has ordered complete mobilization of all her armed forces which would indicate that the authorities expect it will be necessary soon to resist a Japanese attack.

BIG FORCE IN BRITAIN

No Less Than 100,000 Canadian Soldiers Are Now In Old Land

LONDON, Nov. 25.—With the arrival of the fifth (armored) division in England, there are now more than 100,000 members of the Canadian armed forces in Great Britain.

Major General E. W. Sansom is in command of the fifth division included in which are fifty-six nursing sisters from Nova Scotia. The new arrivals will soon be getting five days' landing leave to which they are looking forward.

Admiral Critical

LONDON, Nov. 25: (CP)—Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes, who recently was relieved of command of shock and invasion troops he had trained, today criticized "a negative power which controls the war machine in Whitehall." Making his attack in the House of Commons, Sir Roger, who had been called from retirement to train shock troops, declared, if his men had been allowed to act a year ago, they "might have electrified the world and altered the whole course of the war."

different religions and more than 150 languages and dialects.

There is today universal compulsory education which means that every child by law must attend school for at least seven years. Education is given only in one language which means that all divisions of language have disappeared.

Those are the principal factors which explain why Russia has been able to hold back Hitler's hordes of steel-helmeted marauders. Stalin has at his disposal almost an unlimited reservoir of well-trained manpower. He commands an enormous industrial production machine which, augmented by the supplies now being rushed to him by Great Britain and the United States, will be able to serve the needs of his battling armies for an indefinite period in the future.

Snow, faithful ally of the Russian people throughout the ages, has now come to the aid of that gallant union of 180,000,000 people. Does history repeat itself? Will Hitler be compelled as Napoleon was compelled to acknowledge Moscow as his nemesis? The next few weeks should furnish the answer to those two questions.

Thirteen Nations Sign New Anti-Comintern Pact; Will Wage War Upon Bolshevism

BERLIN, Nov. 25: (CP)—The German-sponsored anti-comintern pact was broadened today to include thirteen signatories and was renewed for a five-year period. Bulgaria, Denmark, Finland, Croatia, Rumania and Slovakia were signed up by representatives in a demonstration at the Reichschancellery and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop read a telegram from the president of the Japanese-puppet Nanking regime of China that his government also joined. The new members joined Germany, Italy, Japan, Spain, Hungary and Manchoukuo in an agreement described by the Berlin press as aimed against "all destructive powers which directly or indirectly support Bolshevism."

EVACUATION POWERS ARE OF TOBRUK IN SESSION

Relieved Australians Say They Could Have Held Out for Another Year.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Australian brigadier, who was in command of the forces which not only resisted the siege but kept up a steady attack from Tobruk during 194 days before being evacuated at the week-end, says that his forces could have held out for another year. Indeed, some of them were not so happy about the relief.

British, Poles and Indians have now been stationed at Tobruk to replace the Australians after their grand defence which was aided by the Royal Navy, the Royal Australian Navy and the Royal Australian Air Force. The transfer of troops was effected by ships without a single casualty.

British Forces Move to Canada

Movement of Troops Has Not Been All in One Direction, It Is Revealed.

AXIS ADMITS REVERSE

ROME—Axis sources themselves disclose that the extreme left British wing has swept westward a total of more than two hundred miles since the beginning of the Libyan invasion while the right wing had effected the capture of Gambut. This deep penetration of a southernmost column was disclosed in an Italian communique revealing the fall of an Italian garrison north of Gialo oasis. The British in this area, it appeared, were beating toward the Gulf of Sirte, well below the major Axis port of Bengasi.

RAIDS ON ENGLAND LONDON—Two German bombers were brought down Sunday during raids on scattered parts of England.

Battle of Libya— ALL ENEMY FORCES IN TANK BOUT

Fighting Fierce And Casualties On Both Sides Heavy—British Columns Continue Advancing

CAIRO, Nov. 25.—Enemy forces have thrown all their reserves into action in the big tank battle south of Tobruk. Fighting is fierce and casualties on both sides are heavy. Within an area of about forty square miles the British and Axis tanks are locked in battle.

Meanwhile British columns continue their advance westward, some far into Cirenaica and one within four miles of joining up with the forces operating out of Tobruk. The Royal Air Force keeps in continual action in co-operation with the ground forces.

According to latest communication the great tank battle, which has been raging for three days on an undefined desert battlefield near Rezegh, began to die down today as forces of both sides were reduced by heavy casualties. Infantry fighting in this region, ten miles to the southeast of Tobruk, was intensified, however, as the British poured reinforcements into the fray. There was no evidence of fresh troops being sent into battle by the Germans who are being gradually cut off from supplies by the swift British drive westward along the Mediterranean coast.

HER DEATH REGRETTED

Mrs. S. C. Thomson Passes Away Today After Brief But Critical Illness

After a brief but critical illness, death came early this morning at the Prince Rupert General Hospital to Mrs. Adele Bremner Thomson, wife of Sidney C. Thomson, prominent local business man. ## TERRACE WEDDING

Miss Helen Glass Becomes Bride of Bombardier Fred Smith.

TERRACE, Nov. 25.—At the Pentecostal Tabernacle here on Thursday of last week the marriage took place of Miss Helen Marsh Glass and Bombardier Frederick Alexander Smith of Prince Rupert, Rev. W. J. Friesen of Prince Rupert, officiating. The ceremony took place before the church altar which was banked with cedar boughs, white berries and ferns.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. As the bridal party entered the Wedding March from Lohengrin was played. She wore a lovely white net dress in Parisian style. Her veil was held in place with orange blossoms and her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Miss Ruth Little, the bridesmaid, wore a peach taffeta gown with blue accessories and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Harold Smith, brother of the groom, was groomsman.

Mrs. George Little's famous wedding carpet adorned the floor beneath the bridal arch. This is the same rug which has been used at many weddings in Terrace.

During the benediction the bride and groom knelt upon white satin cushions.

While the register was being signed Mrs. Fred Gibbs and Mrs. W. R. Drury sang "Marriage and Home."

Vernon Glass and W. R. Drury acted as ushers. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Glass, mother of the bride, in receiving the guests, wore Brazil rose crepe. The happy couple received congratulations and best wishes under pink and white streamers.

A fine wedding breakfast was served, the bride's table being centred with a handsome three-tier wedding cake, decorated by Miss Amy Little, which was duly cut by the bride.

Mrs. and Mr. Smith left for Prince Rupert where they will make their home while the groom is on duty with his military unit.

The bride wore for travelling a black tailored suit trimmed with white.

France Felt Secure . . .

The French people near the beginning of the war were convinced that their defences were so secure that Germans would never be able to get through. Yet, they got through without any difficulty.

In Prince Rupert we have heard the often repeated opinion that this city can never be bombed or invaded. We have also heard and read that Canada is in no danger. We can be no more sure of this than were the people of France. We must be ready to meet any possibility. But to meet any possibility of invasion or of bombing we must have money. Just now the government is asking us all to buy war saving certificates. Every dollar spent now in buying these securities is a dollar toward strengthening our defences. Speaking in the House of Commons last week G. G. McGeer urged spending more money on Prince Rupert's defences. This can be done only if there is money for the purpose. Now is the time while the campaign is on to let the rest of Canada know that we are doing all we can to carry on the war.

An Outstanding Canadian . . .

Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, whose death occurred Saturday, was an outstanding Canadian. He was leader of the Liberal party in Ontario prior to the war, having been chosen for that position in 1911. When the war strain began to be felt in Canada, Mr. Rowell made stirring speeches across Canada from one end to the other and featured at that time the need of union government. He lost the possibility of becoming national Liberal leader and possibly prime minister by advocating conscription and also by opposing bi-lingualism in the schools. He campaigned with Sir Robert Borden and Sir William Hearst for Union government, was elected himself and became president of the council in the Borden cabinet. To him was given the duty of organizing the first health department. He visited the Canadian forces in France on two occasions and also represented Canada officially at the League of Nations. He was an earnest advocate at the Washington Conference of the eight-hour day and was instrumental of securing its adoption, a very important forward move at that time.

Mr. Rowell retired from the government two years after the war and dropped wholly out of politics at that time, devoting himself to his profession until his appointment as Chief Justice of Ontario. He was seventy years old when he accepted the chairmanship of the Rowell-Sirois commission inter-provincial relationships but, unfortunately, owing to ill-health, was unable to complete his work and it eventually was made public as the Sirois report.

As a public speaker and diplomatist Rowell was outstanding. He refused to take pay for his national services, including that of chairman of the commission, which he headed so successfully. He thought it wrong for a public man to take pay for his services to the state.

For Russ Relief

The Canadian Red Cross is now sponsoring an emergency appeal for $500,000 to provide medical and hospital supplies for Russia. This appeal is undertaken at the request of the Dominion government and will be conducted according to government regulations. A great number of the foreign-born population have been clamoring to the government for permits to make appeals of this nature but these have been withheld in order to centralize the fund. These groups, in the communities where they are located, will be asked especially to assist. There is a widespread sympathy in Canada with what Russia is doing at the present time to safeguard the eventual peace of the world. It is felt that many Russian groups throughout Canada will want to help.

Election Night Dance

Clinton Red Cross branch had a dance last election night, advertised as a place where one could hear "election results painlessly." The ad also stated: "If your candidate loses, drown your sorrows in a cup of good Red Cross coffee. If he wins, a cup of the same coffee will make you feel even more cheerful."

Children At Walcott

Sleepy Hollow Junior Red Cross branch at Walcott in the Bulkley Valley, which includes members of grades 1 to 6, have found a new use for tobacco cans and wooden chalk boxes. They have enamelled and decorated the former, filled them with cookies and candies. They have converted chalk boxes into recipe and letter boxes, using the lids to make compartments. Four spoons make the legs. These have been popular selling articles.

Blow For Britain

In Britain it takes two clothing coupons to get a handkerchief. In view of this both senior and junior Red Cross branches are asked to sponsor handkerchief showers. This is a chance to give away all those new stored-away gift handkerchiefs.

BE CONSIDERATE

Editor, Daily News:
Most people are considerate and kind-hearted and generous. They have contributed many thousands of dollars to various war and charitable agencies. They would not willingly make it tough for the other fellow if they knew the conditions involved.

I shall skip all the details of the situation and merely state that, when about fifty percent of the day's mail is posted during the last thirty minutes before the mail closes and much of it at the very last minute, it works a great hardship on those who handle the mail and who try to get all the mail out the day it is mailed.

If everyone would try to assist the clerks by posting their mail as early as possible, it would make this Christmas season much better for those who work nights, days and holidays to keep parcels and letters moving to their destination in the shortest time possible.

PROGRESS REPORTED

Civic Centre Committee in Session—$6400 Raised So Far in Drive—Building Is Discussed.

Meeting last night at the home of the chairman, Dr. R. G. Large, the central committee on the local civic centre project heard reports on the progress of the campaign for funds and also took up certain other matters in furtherance of the undertaking generally.

The campaign, with some cleaning up yet to be carried out including the contacting of some persons who had not been reached in the recent intensive canvass, had resulted in the raising of $6400, bringing the total sum raised to date up to $22,900.

Dr. Large reported on having visited in Victoria recently the provincial architect's office where plans are being drawn up. These are expected to arrive in Prince Rupert shortly.

The possibility of obtaining useful equipment from the old community centre building at Anyox was taken up and the outcome was the decision to send a committee to the former smelter town to see and appraise what was available with a view to possible purchase.

Further steps are also being taken towards obtaining a federal permit. Present at the meeting last night were Dr. R. G. Large, G. T. German, Dr. N. M. Carter, W. F. Stone, Gume Hume, C. A. Brind, G. A. Hunter, Oscar Sather, P. H. Linzey and C. G. Ham.

Angus Shops Craftsmen Celebrate 100th Tank

It was a proud moment for employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus shops at Montreal when the 100th army tank rolled off the shops assembly line to take its place with others in the British armed forces. The important production milestone was marked by a gala ceremony during which Tank No. 100, gaily bedecked with flags and placards, was paraded down the shops' midway to the strains of the employees' brass band.

Cheering throngs of shopmen lined the broad runway as the tank-of-honor rumbled by, symbolizing the stepped-up tempo of production since the first Canadian-built tank was released from the big plant early in the summer. Large placards affixed to the tank's khaki sides indicated the determination of the employees, who staged the ceremony on their own initiative, to do all in their power to contribute to victory.

As the procession drew up before the tank shops where other finished tanks stood in a grim line, the band played "O Canada" and the National Anthem and this was followed by lusty cheers as the Angus workers surveyed their handiwork. Many of the tank's 99 Angus-built predecessors are already in service with the armed forces, and as the above placard says: "Hundreds more will follow quickly."

The ceremony recalled the message of D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when the first tank was produced at Angus shops. On that occasion Mr. Coleman remarked: "This machine is the child of sweat and tears. It will be followed by hundreds and thousands of others to help the Empire to its victory."

LONDON, Nov. 25:—Flame throwers and guns that fire glass shells are the newest additions to the armament of Britain's Home Guard. If invasion comes one of their weapons will be the North-over projector, an anti-tank device named after the major who invented it. The projector is a gun firing a glass shell which breaks on hitting its objective. Flame throwers will be issued to all Home Guard units stationed in areas where enemy action is likely in an invasion attempt.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

November 25, 1916

In an address at the Empire Club in Toronto recently, Sir George E. Foster described Prince Rupert as a "town which lies under a curse, an absolute curse." He was referring to fictitious real estate values here.

At a meeting in the Carpenters' Hall last night a Prince Rupert Municipal Movement was formed with officers as follows: Chairman, W. J. McCutcheon; secretary, H. O. Roberts; executive, J. J. Anderson, A. W. Edge, Ald. G. B. Casey, J. A. Thompson and J. C. Gavigan.

General H. M. Chittenden, American engineer, says that, if American railroads are to compete with the Grand Trunk Pacific and its easy grades, they must improve their grades. He advocates a tunnel through the Cascades which would cost $50,000,000.

STUDENTS CRAMMING

Thousands In Colleges From Coast To Coast Taking Military Training

Written For The Canadian Press By Meyer Greenstein

TORONTO, Nov. 25:—University students today march side by side with the rest of Canada on the road that leads to ultimate victory. While all the Dominion girls itself for the battle on the home front as well as "over there" the Canadian undergraduate performs his task. He is an individual playing a dual role, a warrior on both fronts. Many, of course, are already in the active army—in Canada or overseas.

But what of the student taking his university course right now? During the day he attends his classes, lectures and "labs"; in the evening he dons his uniform and turns out on the parade ground. As a student he cooperates with the government, which early in the war advised him to complete his studies; as a soldier he studies the fundamentals of army life so that he can be ready and prepared when his call comes.

Thousands of men undergraduates throughout the Dominion are at the moment members either of Training Centre battalions or Canadian Officers Training Corps. In the former unit the students undergo training similar to that given members of the reserve army who are called up for the four-month training period. The latter unit serves as a training ground for possible future officers of the armed forces.

Students unable to participate in military training because of physical disabilities also play their part. There are blood-donor pools and auxiliary services to which they lend an eager helping hand.

Co-ed Activities
Nor are the women in universities inactive. Like other young women throughout the country they are active in Red Cross work, in knitting for the "boys," in military detachments. Many also are the war funds which have been enriched no little sum as a result of social affairs, dances, parties and entertainments which these university girls have sponsored.

Intercollegiate sport, of course, was curtailed shortly after outbreak of war. This was a voluntary act undertaken by university heads throughout the country. It is true that several universities do play the occasional game against other colleges but they are only exhibitions. There is not in Canada at present what can be called organized intercollegiate athletic leagues.

The physical welfare of the students has not, however, been allowed to suffer. Interfaculty sport, always an important feature in college life, and physical training classes for men and women are still active. In truth, in many colleges these P. T. classes are compulsory.

War-Angled Functions
Social life at the university has also undergone changes. Students still have their annual dances and fraternity balls but they usually take on a "war flavor." Instead of sending the girl friend a corsage, the student invests the money in war savings stamps. The stamps are usually attached to the ticket and then often destroyed, thus forming an outright gift to the government. "Marches of Dimes" have replaced the old rugby rally pep parades.

The Canadian university student appreciates what the government has done to enable him to carry on with his studies. That he realizes his privileges and responsibilities is evident from this statement in the editorial columns of a leading Canadian undergraduate daily newspaper. The editorial says in part: "Let us not forget that the function of the student in the practical course at this time is to become a good technician, and that the function of the student of the humanities at this time is to study the Dominion's problems, and to fashion of himself a leader for the post-war community in which he must play his full part. Let us not forget that these privileges imply a responsibility which must fall upon the shoulders of all of us."

It is a clear statement of the militant spirit which prevails in Canada's halls of learning at this crucial period in the country's history.

He Landed Plane Then Passed Out

LONDON, Nov. 25: A stirring air story is that of P.O. Edgar Phillips of West Hartlepool, fatally injured flier who safely landed his plane and crew a few hours before he died.

Phillips, seriously wounded by fierce anti-aircraft fire during a daylight raid on Den Helder, Holland, turned over the controls to the observer who brought the plane back over Britain.

"When we arrived over the air-drome the pilot insisted on taking over," said the wireless operator. "He was gently propped up in the seat by the observer and then made a perfect landing."

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

Anxiety Continues In Regard To
New Price Fixing Regulations
From Ottawa

The retail market is still considerably unsettled owing to doubt as to just how the new federal price pegging set-up is to be handled. Meantime many price changes have come through. Telegraphic dispatches today indicate that the price fixing regulations will not be applied to vegetables and produce for the time being at least.

Egg prices are firm, butter is lower and sugar and flour are steady.

Due to rain there is a generally short crop of potatoes this year and already there have been importations from Washington during the past two months. The situation is a little better in the north where crops have been fairly good. While there are enough potatoes to fill the demand, the prices are higher than last year owing to the general shortage.

Canned goods are not very plentiful and buying is limited to small quantities. The next three or four months will see a big difference in the situation as stocks become cleaned up.

Nuts this Christmas will be scarce and high in price owing to the curb on importations. Brazils will be 55c per pound instead of the usual 20c. Supplies of walnuts and almonds are very limited. No walnuts are being allowed in from California.

Importation of Japanese oranges is prohibited by order-in-council. American tangerines are due in December.

New navel oranges are due early in December with prices expected to be a little lower.

A small shipment of fine Cape Cod cranberries arrived recently but have been all cleaned up and for Christmas only Washington cranberries will be available.

The pack of canned salmon was much higher this year but all stocks are controlled by the government which releases the product as seen fit. Some varieties are being withheld altogether. Tuna fish is off the market altogether as all importations, including California, are banned.

ON THE FRENCH FRONTIER, Nov. 25: —Increased poverty in Italy has brought a big increase in the number of thefts, notably from churches.

All plate must therefore be removed from churches to a safe place and supervision must be doubled."

ENGINEERS BIG FEAT

Huge And Unique Bridge Span Installed at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25:—An engineering feat of record proportions was performed Sunday by working forces of the Canadian National Railways by installing a bridge span weighing 1,600,000 pounds and of revolutionary design to overpass the heavy traffic Montreal-Toronto main line of the National Railways across the new trans-island boulevard. Canadian National Railways engineers designed a through plate girder span double track bridge using two steel girders instead of the conventional four and flooring span with reinforced concrete, effecting a saving of 350,000 pounds of steel, equal to 40 percent of the usual requirements. In this instance the cash value of the steel saving was $42,000.

The span is 125 feet in length and 31 feet in width and the plan followed permitted a tie-up with existing track. This would not have been possible by the use of a four-girder bridge, the additional width of which would have necessitated the disturbance and widening of tracks for one mile on either side of bridge.

The new bridge is the only one of its kind in North America being completely Canadian in design and fabrication. Another of its features is that the rail is fastened to steel chairs resting on rubber pads and anchored to the concrete floor, no ties or ballast being used with consequent further saving in weight, and more satisfactory track structure smooth in operation.

The massive span was fabricated on the site, placed on rollers on tracks, and hauled into place by steel cables when the temporary timber deck had been removed.

The work was performed on an exact schedule beginning with the passage of "The Continental Limited" from Vancouver, when the eastbound track was cut, and continuing with the passing of the "Lasalle" from Montreal to Toronto and Chicago when the westbound track was lifted. Immediately afterwards removal of the timber deck began, bents were swung aside by powerful cranes, and piles sawn to allow the movement of the span. The 300 tons of steel and concrete removed smoothly into place and six hours after the last westbound train had passed over the temporary timber trestle; the "International Limited" eastbound for Montreal from Chicago and Toronto moved across the new span.

The bridge was designed and fabricated under the supervision of C. P. Disney, bridge engineer, central region Canadian National Railways, Toronto.

During the progress of the work a keenly interested spectator was Hon. T. D. Bouchard, minister of highways, province of Quebec, who came from St. Hyacinthe.

COMEDY- MYSTERY

"Footsteps in the Dark," With Errol Flynn and Brenda Marshall, Coming to Capitol Theatre.

An exciting comedy-mystery, "Footsteps in the Dark," starring the dashing Errol Flynn, comes to the Capitol Theatre this mid-week as the feature offering.

Flynn plays the part of a mystery story writer who attempts to lead a double life because he wants to keep his literary exploits a secret from his wife and mother-in-law. He gets himself into a mess with the police, on one hand, accusing him of murder of a beautiful blonde while, on the other, his wife charges him with being unfaithful. Eventually he straightens things out but only after a series of harrowing and laugh-provoking experiences that contrive to make very acceptable entertainment.

Co-starred with Flynn is Brenda Marshall who played opposite him in "The Sea Hawk". The supporting cast includes such luminaries as Ralph Bellamy, Lee Patrick, Alan Hale, Allen Jenkins, Grant Mitchell and Roscoe Karns.
