Mining Of Waters Outside Of New York Harbor Is Regarded As Significant Move

NEW YORK, June 16:—Arming of American vessels with instructions to protect themselves may be an early move of the United States Department of the Navy. The Navy has been getting ready for some time to provide guns and gun mounts for the merchant fleet.

Another significant move is that waters off New York Harbor are to be mined between June 15 and September 27.

The incident of the Robin Moore being sunk by a German torpedo and the statement of Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles that the United States will not be impressed by bluster and threats are considered as basis for United States naval moves.

Mr. Pattullo in City for Couple of Days—To be Renominated Tomorrow Night

Premier T. D. Pattullo arrived in the city on the steamer Catala this morning from Victoria and will be here visiting with his constituents of Prince Rupert riding until Wednesday evening when he will proceed to the interior, returning south by way of Prince George and the Cariboo.

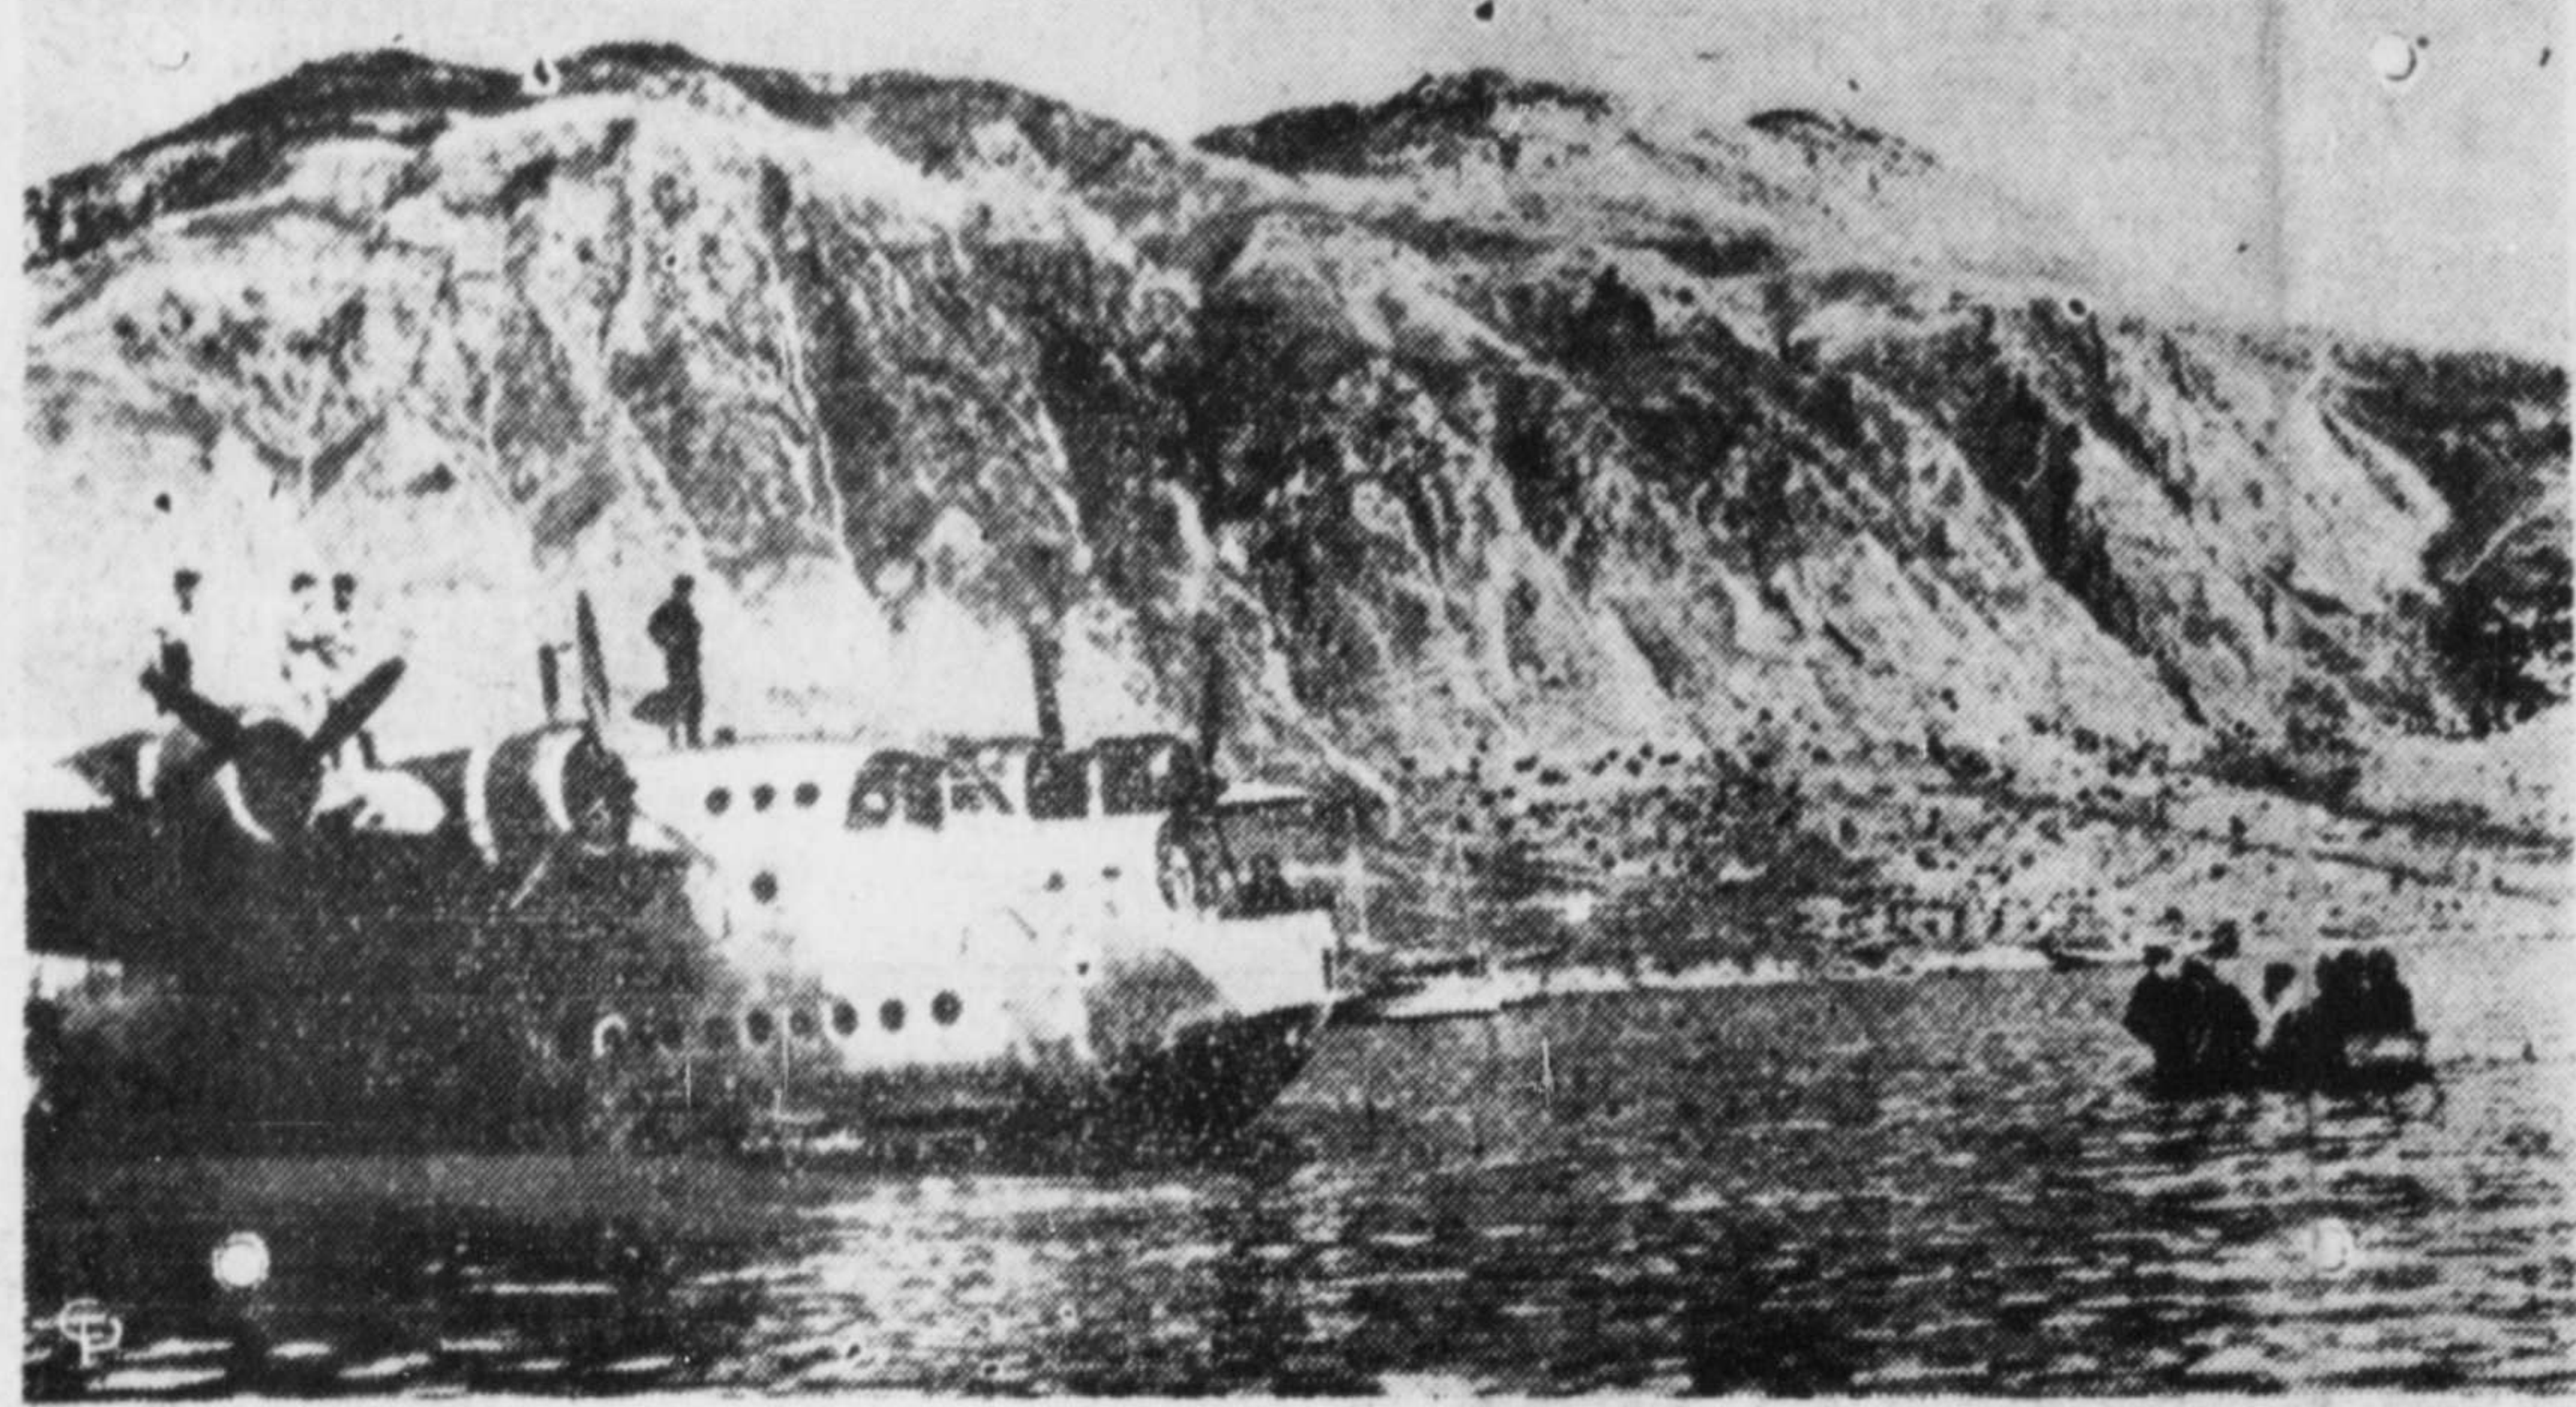

The Premier will attend the nominating convention for Prince Rupert tomorrow night when it is anticipated he will be once again unanimously chosen to be the candidate of the Liberal party for this seat at the next provincial election.

Mr. Pattullo will address a luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club on Wednesday.

It is also expected the Premier will be heard some time during the course of his visit here in support of the Victory Loan 1941 drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Turnbull sailed on the Catala this morning for Stewart. Mr. Turnbull is making the trip in his official capacity as inspector of schools.

SUNDERLAND FLYING-BOAT RESCUES R.A.F. FROM GREEK COVE

Heroic defenders of Crete, forced to give ground by increasing strength of German airborne invasion forces and Nazi domination of the air, have been withdrawn from the island. This picture, released by the air ministry in London, shows a similar withdrawal from the Greek mainland when outnumbered Allied armies, after fighting brilliant rearguard actions, were taken off. A giant Sunderland flying boat of the R.A.F. is picking up air force personnel in a rocky and hill-rimmed Greek cove. These huge planes played an important part on the withdrawal from Greece and may have been similarly valuable in removing survivors of the Crete battles.

Little Girl Passes Away

Six-Year-Old Jean Copeland Dies Sunday Afternoon at Hospital

Jean, the little six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Copeland, passed away at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Prince Rupert General Hospital following an illness from which it had been realized during the last few days there could be no hope of recovery. The child was born in Vancouver and had been brought here when she was ten months old. The circumstances are particularly tragic in view of the fact that only three weeks ago Patricia, another young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Copeland, passed away. There will be deep sympathy for the bereaved family.

With $50,000 to go to make the objective and expectations that the $420,000 mark will be reached to make it a complete success, the sum of $300,000 even had been subscribed in Prince Rupert up to Saturday evening in the victory loan 1941 campaign. On Saturday $10,000 was subscribed.

There have been 1000 subscribers so far in Prince Rupert. Out of the population now here, it is believed that there should be a much larger number of individual subscribers. During this, the final week of the campaign, the drive for subscribers is to be intensified.

NEW CODE OF LABOR

British Colonial Under-Secretary Talks Of A New Social Order

MOUNTAIN ASH, Wales, June 16: (CP) — George Hall, under-secretary for the colonies, said in a speech here that even during the war something like a new labor code is being worked out to lay the foundations of a new social order in the countries within the Empire.

"These plans will offset the talk of exploitation, about which we hear so much," he said. "It is time we talked about some of the good things that are happening in the colonies. The watch on interests of working people has increased four fold. Hundreds of laws and regulations dealing with labor conditions have been passed and 160 colonial trade unions are registered under the colonial trade union law."

He added that while there were grievances in the colonies, there were no fugitives and hundreds of thousands of persons were waiting to come within the protection of the British Empire.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA

ANKARA—A rift has developed in high quarters in Russia over inclination of Premier Joseph Stalin to concede to drastic demands of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany for economic collaboration of the Soviet. Important new political developments with the Soviet are anticipated soon. The Red Army is said to be strongly opposed to any policy of appeasement for Germany. Two million German troops are massed on the Russian frontier all the way from Finland to the Black Sea, it is reported.

All German Consulates Being Closed; Other Agencies Also Banned

Does Not Imply Break in Diplomatic Relations But is Merely Move to Eliminate Activities Harmful To United States, Says Sumner Welles

WASHINGTON, June 16: (CP)—The United States today ordered the closing of all German consulates in this country and the removal of all German nationals connected with those agencies. Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles made an announcement to this effect after he had handed a note to an official of the German embassy. The order requires also the closing of the German Library of Information and Railway Tourist Bureau and the German Trans-Ocean News Agency before July 10.

Welles said this did not imply a break in diplomatic relations with Germany and in no way affected the German diplomatic staff in Washington. He said the action was taken because German consular officials and other Nazi agencies named have been engaged in activities harmful to the United States.

Facing the Facts . . .

War news has been fairly quiet the last few days. Except for the cross-channel bombing, the war at sea about which we hear very little, and more or less desultory fighting in Syria and Ethiopia, there does not appear to have been a great deal of action. But because it is quiet for a few days we should not lull ourselves into complacency. To bring about such an effect as this is part of Hitler's game. That is the technique of the blitzkrieg—a great storm after a quiet lull. There is going to be a lot more fighting in this war. There are going to be a lot more black days. If we keep that thought in mind, it will be easier for us all to keep up our morale when the fighting and the test comes.

Because it is relatively quiet in Syria now and, because it does not seem clear that the Nazis are very extensively in that area, should not be taken as any indication that they will not be there before long and that they will be wanting and ready to fight. If they did not intend going further, they would not have come this far. Also it is reasonable to expect that there are days of test coming in Egypt.

Hitler's Hand . . .

Adolf Hitler is running true to form in his watchful waiting over the invasion of Syria. He is pursuing exactly the same course that he followed when General Wavell began his victorious campaign against the Italians. What aid he had promised to Mussolini has never been disclosed, but it is hard to believe that Il Duce ever imagined that he would meet overwhelming disaster week after week while the senior partner of the Axis dismissed the costly failure with the synical words: "This is not Germany's affair; it is a matter that concerns only Britain and Italy."

It is only when Mussolini suffered such stunning defeats that the collapse of the entire Italian nation appeared possible that Hitler executed one of his spectacular somersaults, boasted of the solidity of the Axis and sent soldiers to suppress revolt in Italian cities and planes and tanks to North Africa to bolster up the tottering resistance.

Today Britons, aided by loyal deGaulle troops, are on the outskirts of Damascus in their victorious advance in Syria, and almost before the struggle is under way Hitler makes it known to the world that the invasion is no concern of Germany's. He orders Nazis out of Syria and says Germany stands entirely aloof from the encounter.

This is sheer hypocrisy—a lie worthy of Ananias. Britain has taken the initiative in Syria because there were many signs that Germany was jockeying for position in that area and intended to steal a march on the British. Vichy France is just a synonym for a nation that has sold its birthright for a mess of Nazis promises.

Hitler would gladly exchange all the European countries which by force and treachery he has annexed in exchange for a free hand in Syria, for Syria blocks his eastern march. Yet he prefers to see France bear the brunt of the early fighting so that he may come in as rescuer and savior.

That is Hitler.

Don't Be Deluded . . .

We should not delude ourselves too much either about propaganda regarding possible trouble between Germany and Russia. The situation in that regard is, to the say, least, obscure.

It is still quite likely that this war will have to be won by the British Commonwealth with the assistance of the United States. To count too much on the help of any others, willing or unwilling as they may be, is not safe.

What we should do is look at the facts, consider the reasonable possibilities of the future and, with this in mind, prepare ourselves to do everything in our power directly or indirectly to bring the fight to a successful culmination for our side. In that way lies the victory.

PLEA FOR MISSIONS RALLY FOR BOND SALE

Made By Rev. J. C. Jackson At Evening Service In First United Church

Facing the problems of mission was the subject of an address given by Rev. J. C. Jackson at the regular Sunday evening service in First United Church.

Speaking from the text "Strengthen ye the weak hand and confirm the feeble knees," Mr. Jackson stated that the problem of missions was the greatest one the church had to face and that the manner in which this problem was faced would tell the fate of the world when the present war was over. A review of the variety of ways the great missionaries of the past used to make a successful approach to the natives showed how every possible means of gaining the interest was used. David Livingstone used his medical experience to make himself indispensable to the people. Others used their knowledge of improved agricultural methods to show that they appreciated the need of a practical solution of the daily problems of the people. The digging of a well to provide water for dry regions, the provision of food to prevent starvation, the use of movie films to educate, the study of the classics in English to arouse the desire for further knowledge, all these were found a means to put into effect the overpowering determination of the missionaries and their wives to preach the gospel to every creature. Their sacrifices, the struggle against suspicion, their risk in working with lepers were all a challenge that should arouse us out of our apathy and move us to back them up as Christians.

Another Program Presented to Draw Attention To Victory Loan

There was again almost a full house at the Capitol Theatre last night for another Victory Loan 1941 entertainment and rally. The program was an interesting one which included a few brief speeches as well as moving pictures on subjects to keep the real purpose of the gathering—the promotion of the sale of Victory Bonds—to the fore. The program was arranged by Norton Youngs, chairman of the Victory Loan publicity committee, who was master of ceremonies.

A brief but impressive speech was made by Col. J. W. Nicholls, chairman of the divisional committee for the Victory Loan, who bid especially for the support for the Victory Loan of those people whose kin were in Europe under Nazi oppression and possibly suffering starvation or even torture at the hands of the enemy. "They are crying for your help," declared Col. Nicholls. "Are you going to let them down by failing to support Great Britain which is fighting for you?" Col. Nicholls explained that the funds to be derived from the Victory Loan would be devoted to providing food and the tools of war for Great Britain which was now the first line of defence. There were many like himself, declared Col. Nicholls, who had come from the Old Land and had fared well in Canada. To such people add those from Norway, the Low Countries, Denmark, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Greece and the rest there was a special duty to support this victory loan.

J. J. Little, chairman of the Prince Rupert unit of the Victory Loan, also spoke briefly and Norton Youngs also added his voice to the urging of support of the Victory Loan. He was hopeful that the quota would be reached by this Thursday. United States was watching how the loan would go in Canada. He exhorted that every dollar possible be subscribed to Victory Bonds.

Miss E. M. Earl gave an effective recitation dealing with the fight that the people of Great Britain were putting up, concluding with an appeal that people of Prince Rupert do their duty in the purchasing of Victory Bonds to the utmost of their ability.

Of much interest in the novelty program was a "Kid Quiz" in which Grade 9 boys and Grade 10 girls of Booth Memorial High School matched wits, the boys' team winning 160 points to 155. The boys' team consisted of Jerry Woodside, George Hankinson, Jack Breen and Gwyn Holby while Betty Payne, Ken Thomasson, Eileen Feasby and Joy Foster comprised the girls' team. Norton Youngs conducted the quiz and Miss Honora Silversides was time-keeper and marker.

Another novelty was a skit "The Battle Colors of the Art of Camouflage" by fifteen young ladies of the Women's Service Corps under direction of Miss Kay Robertson. It was a take-off on girls' military drill showing how they had to take time out for make-up while on parade.

The program was enhanced by several rousing selections interpolated at various points by the regimental band of the Rocky Mountain Rangers under direction of Lieut. O. W. Sjoquist.

Two topical talking pictures on wartime subjects—one "Poland Will Never Die," depicting pre-war life and conditions there since the blitzkrieg, and the other "Wings of Youth," showing various phases of training under the Commonwealth Air Training Scheme—were presented. The projecting machine was operated by Gunner Frank Green of the Royal Canadian Artillery who is at present attached to the Y. M. C. A.

In the raffle of a Victory Bond, the winner was James Greer.

At the close of the program, Norton Youngs thanked the management of the Capitol Theatre, the performers and all who had assisted in connection with the show.

A donated cushion and outwork centre which is to be raffled for the Queen Mary air raid relief fund was exhibited.

CAPT. ARMOUR'S REGRETS

Editor, Daily News:

Having just arrived in Prince Rupert after a fortnight's absence I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my profound sympathy with the relatives and friends of the three who recently lost their lives when the Bentinck was wrecked and my regret that such a tragic accident should have occurred while the party was travelling on a boat belonging to my company.

I have been operating on this coast for over twenty years and have always desired the safety and well being of my men and of other persons who might be travelling on the boats we operate. From investigations I have made since my return it would seem that the loss of life might have been averted but that a chain of ill circumstances attended the entire occurrence. This only serves to deepen the sorrow and regret I feel that three fine men should have met such an untimely end.

Again expressing my deepest sympathy, I remain,

PAUL ARMOUR.

REACTIONS FROM BOOM

OTTAWA, June 16: (CP)—United States foreign trade in 1940 reached a peak for the last 10 years and five features are of special interest to Canadians, D. S. Cole, Canadian trade commissioner at New York, reported to the trade department. He listed these as:

1. Increase of 50 per cent in exports to Canada compared with increase of 20 per cent in imports from the Dominion.

2. Shipment of $2,622,501,000 worth of gold from Canada as compared with $613,116,000 in 1939. The greater part of these shipments were for British account.

3. Tremendous increase in exports to Great Britain.

4. Striking persistence of imports of United Kingdom goods into U.S. despite an enormous war effort.

5. Complete cessation of exports to and imports from Axis belligerents and invaded countries.

Exports to Canada during the year were worth $714,518,000 compared with $489,103,000 in 1939 while imports were $490,502,000 compared with $332,681,000. During 1940 Canada and the United Kingdom purchased 43 per cent of total United States exports.

Great Wave Of Christianity Is World Need

Preaching yesterday morning at First Presbyterian Church on the subject of "The Power of the Holy Church in a World of War and Sin."

Rev. Dr. Alexander Esler declared that there could be no complete victory, no real reform which did not take God completely into account. Never had the doctrine of the apostles been more needed than it was today. The pastor referred to the rapid spread of Christianity in the early centuries after the life of Christ. There was necessity today of another such wave. He discussed his topic from the standpoints of message, mission, method and might.

WORKERS ALL:

Back up our Fighting Men Their cause is yours

• This is a mechanized war. Never before has the responsibility for the outcome of a war fallen so squarely upon the shoulders of those who toil in workshop or office, factory or farm. Proudly labour has accepted the challenge. Throughout the land, night and day, rises the clang of metal and the tireless hum of industry — of men and women at work.

Canada's war effort calls for huge sums of money. To turn back the tide of tyranny, to protect your right to be free, more ships and planes are needed, more tanks and guns, more food for soldier, sailor and airman. You, the worker, are asked to invest your savings, and some of your wages, in Victory Bonds. You are not asked to give, but to lend. All of Canada is your security for repayment. A good rate of interest and a gratified sense of loyalty are your rewards. Invest generously and cheerfully.

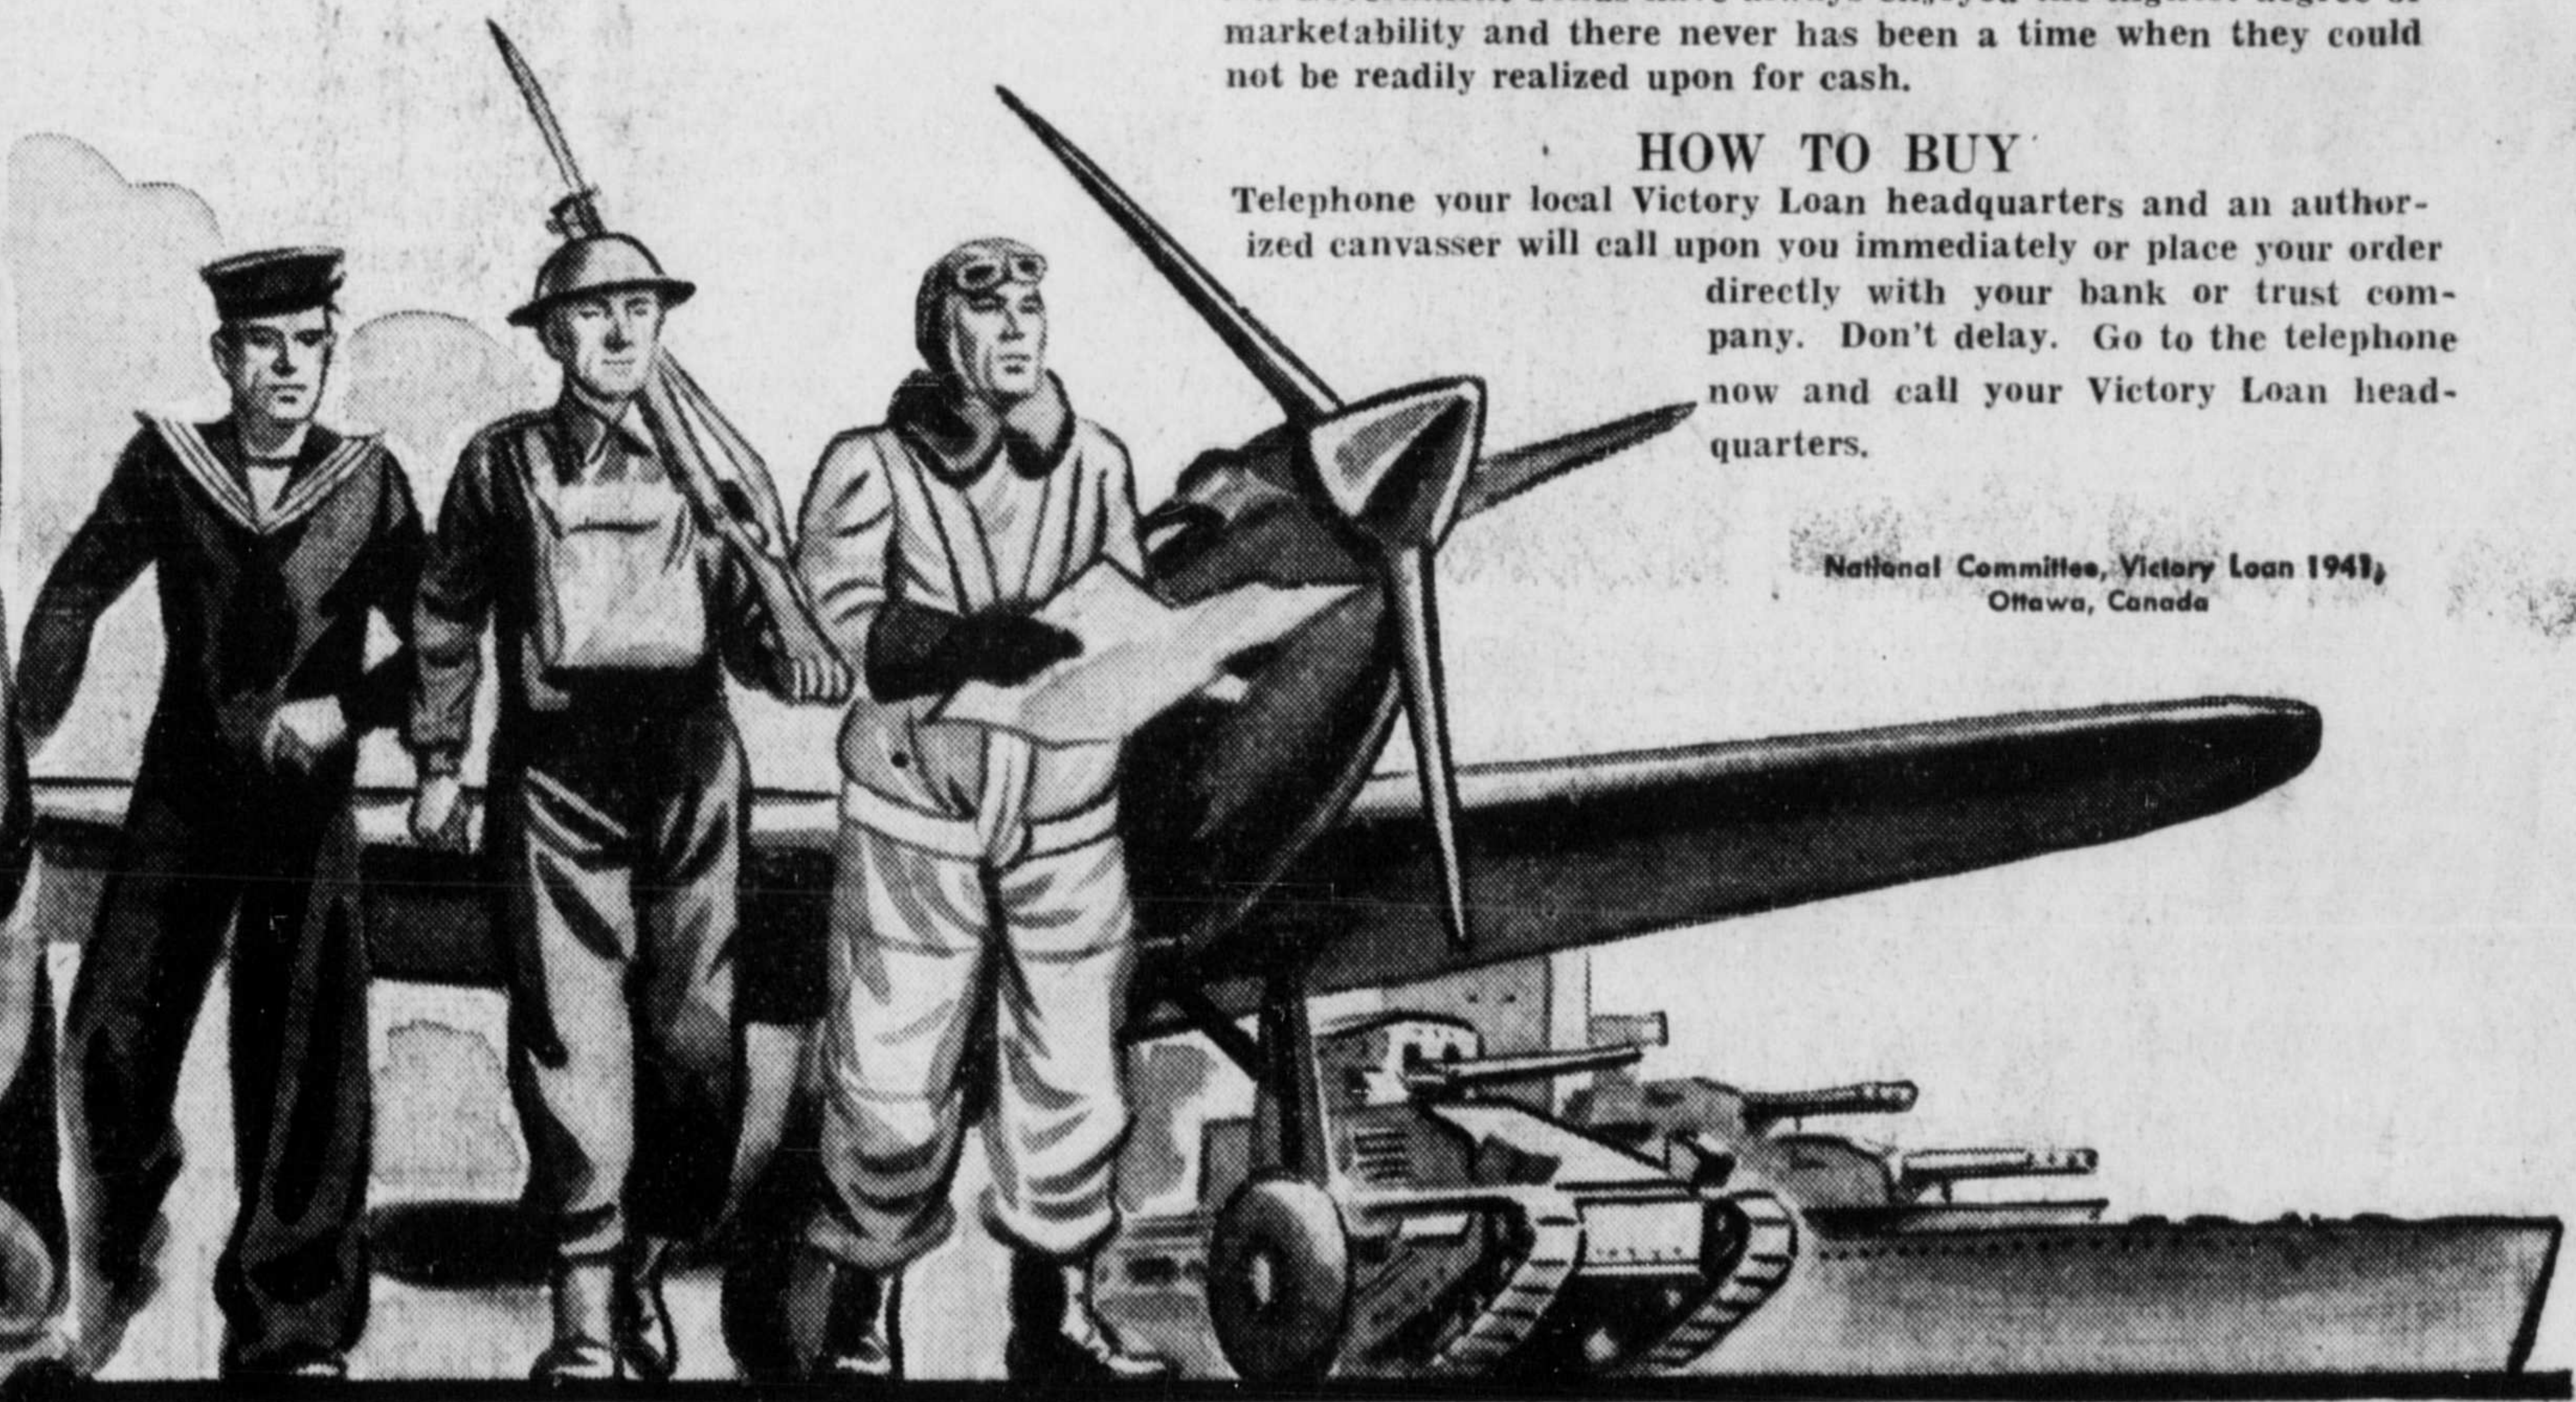

Act now. Make sure your dollars will have a glorious share in helping to crush the barbaric power that would make slaves of free men.

10 per cent cash and the balance in monthly instalments. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100 and $1,000 and larger. If as a result of unforeseen contingencies you are unable to meet the instalment payment a loan may be arranged with your bank with your Victory Bond as collateral security. Dominion Government bonds have always enjoyed the highest degree of marketability and there never has been a time when they could not be readily realized upon for cash.

HOW TO BUY

Telephone your local Victory Loan headquarters and an authorized canvasser will call upon you immediately or place your order directly with your bank or trust company. Don't delay. Go to the telephone now and call your Victory Loan headquarters.

Adventures Of Canteens

English Woman Writes Even "Contraptions" May Bring Miracles To Troops

By GLADYS ARNOLD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 14: (CP)—Describing her adventures with a makeshift mobile canteen, an Englishwoman has written Canadian friends that "the mobile tea canteen is second only in importance to the ambulance" and "if you don't know what to buy—we don't begin to have enough of them."

"They are the 20th century version of the biblical miracles of loaves and fishes" her letter said. "And there are some strange contraptions now serving in emergencies."

For many months she has been driving her own "contraption" in the service of more than 50 searchlight and anti-aircraft gun camps in a Midland county. The men in this area are widely separated and isolated so that they rarely get a chance to get into towns to buy comforts and cigarets, she said.

"There wasn't a canteen available even if we had the money to buy one but we were determined to get things to the men just the same. We fitted up an old car as a canteen, stocked it with oddments such as razor blades, soap, toothbrushes, electric torch batteries as well as 'smokes' sweets, chocolate, biscuits and beverages.

"Just as we were ready to start out a spell of bitter weather set in. I was accustomed to the ordinary English winter but with the roads deep with snow and covered with sheets of black ice I wasn't very enthusiastic. However we thought about the men out there in their camps and this gave us the courage to start out."

800 Miles a Month
In the first month, accompanied by another member of the W.V.S. she covered more than 800 miles.

Fair Soldiers in Women's Land Army

THESE smiling girls in overalls are ready to give Canadian farmers a helping hand during the busy summer months. They are all members of the Ontario Women's Land Army, organized by a group of women who anticipated a shortage of farm labor with so many men being absorbed into war services. During the winter months, Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited provided the girls with a free and thorough course in the care and operation of modern farm tractors and implements and followed up with instruction in practical field work in the spring. More than 100 of these girls are already at work on Canadian farms. They seem to be happy about it all in the above photograph. Left to right: Anybel James, Barbara Bennett, June Hardy, Bernice Harris, Millcent Cobb, Kathryn Ironside and Helen Harris, all from Malvern Collegiate, Toronto.

When they could go no further on snowblocked roads they would get in touch with members of W.V.S. skimmers in the community and deliver the things from the car.

"It was not long before our services to the outposts increased and we have travelled many thousands of miles and our old car is getting pretty shaky," she said.

The canteen now carries a circulating library of books and gramophone records. The crews use it for posting letters and sending telegrams, while stationery and writing materials are supplied, rocks collected for washing and mending or "replaced when they get too bad."

Whifflets From The Waterfront

The use of devilfish or octopus meat as halibut bait is becoming increasingly general with the Prince Rupert fleet. The layover period between halibut trips as required by the conservation regulations is promoting it. Also the fishermen say that devilfish meat is a much better bait than herring. One of the principal advantages is that devilfish meat is tougher and stays more effectively on the hooks. The routine of the boats in connection with the obtaining of the devilfish bait is to go out a day or so after landing the halibut catches to haunts of the devilfish outside the harbor. The devilfish are found clinging to rocks near the surface as the tides go out. Sticks and hooks being used, the devilfish are gaffed by hand and hauled out to the beach. Then they are taken on board the boats and brought into port. The fish are skinned and cut up and, when there is a further layover before proceeding to the fishing grounds, they are in some cases placed in cold storage. Some devilfish run as high as 25 and 30 pounds in weight and not a few of the fishermen have already reported some exciting moments in catching them. Their usual haunts are among rugged rocks in deeply running off shore lines.

Southbound after her first voyage of the season on the Alaska route, C.P.R. steamer Princess Charlotte, Capt. William Palmer, was in port from 3:30 to 5:30 Saturday afternoon. Eight persons disembarked from the vessel here and ten took passage at this port aboard her for the south.

Northland Transportation Co.'s steamer North Coast, arrived in port at 9 o'clock Saturday evening from Ketchikan with mild cured fish in tierces for transshipment. Past over Canadian National Railways and sailed a couple of hours later in continuation of her voyage to Seattle.

Later again, owing to heavy traffic on the lower coast, Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived in port at 4 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and waypoints.

sailing at 6 a.m. for Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow afternoon southbound.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. James Watt, is due in port at 5:30 this evening from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands. The vessel is making a special dance cruise tonight, the outing already being booked out. She will sail at 10 o'clock tomorrow night on her return south over the same route.

DURBIN IN NEW ROLE

Popular Young Actress Starring in "Nice Girl" at Capitol Theatre

In her ninth picture, "Nice Girl?" which is the feature offering for the first half of this week at the Capitol Theatre here, Deanna Durbin is no longer a demure youngster but a glamorous young woman.

The story presents Deanna as a typical small town girl who has an escapade with a young New Yorker, Franchot Tone, thereby becoming the subject of a town scandal which is quelled only after her "engagement" to Tone is announced. Then Tone reappears to complicate a situation which provides much hilarity before the story reaches a surprise finish.

Robert Benchley appears as Deanna's father, a Connecticut high school principal. Ann Gillis and Anne Gwynne are Deanna's sisters. Walter Brennan and Helen Broderick have important parts as town postman and housekeeper for the Benchley family. Other important members of the cast include Robert Stack, Elizabeth Risdon and Nana Bryant.

Deanna sings five numbers including Stephen Foster's "Old Folks at Home" and four new songs—"Love at Last," "Perhaps," "Beneath the Lights of Home" and "Thank You America."

Again responding to the call of the Government, Life Insurance Companies have made available their entire sales organizations to assure the success of the Victory Loan... As true Canadians, we must back up our gallant fighting forces in this stern struggle against tyranny and aggression... Any sacrifices that our Country calls upon us to make are small compared to the sacrifice made by the heroic citizens in war-torn Britain... The need is urgent...
