BRITISH INVESTIGATION OF TITANIC WRECK PROCEEDS

LADY DUFF-GORDON IN THE WITNESS BOX DENIES HAVING DETERRED LIFE BOATS FROM RETURNING TO SCENE—EFFECT OF DISASTER IN IMPROVED CONDITIONS.

(Special to Daily News.)
London, May 20.—Lady Duff-Gordon was on the witness stand in the Board of Trade enquiry on the Titanic wreck today. Subjected to stiff cross-examination, she declared she had not prevented the life boats from returning to the scene of the disaster. She said she was violently sick and refused to leave the Titanic unless her husband could accompany her, and finally the officer permitted him to go when no other women were in sight.

(Special to Daily News.)
London, May 20.—As the result of the Titanic disaster an international movement has been started looking to the betterment of the conditions of employment in the mercantile marine. A special committee is formulating demands in England which will be presented to Parliament this summer. In addition to the demand for more men on liners, a demand for a larger number of properly qualified seamen on each ship will be made.

THE LATE MR. MATTHEW DOW

Deceased Was Prominent Mason and Member of Caledonian and Kindred Scottish Societies in Seattle—Widespread Sympathy.

With very marked regret all over the city yesterday the untimely death of Mr. Matthew Dow, the contractor for the dry dock, was commented upon. Expressions of sympathy with the widow and family have been freely extended by the citizens. Today the remains repose in Mr. E. L. Fisher's funeral chapel, and arrangements are being made for their removal to Seattle by the steamer City of Seattle. Tribute is being paid the memory of Mr. Dow by the Masonic fraternity, of which order he was an honored member, and by the members of the Caledonian and St. Andrew's Societies. Mr. Dow was ever a staunch supporter of the Scottish societies while in Seattle, and was becoming interested in the branches in this city. He was past president of the Seattle Caledonian Society and its members are arranging to attend the funeral, laying fitting tributes on the bier.

PRINCE RUPERT TWENTY MINUTES AGO

"If at first he will not heed, deny, deny, deny again!" Alderman Morrissey's latest adaptation just to hand. Chief Vickers thinks the best way to guard those Engineering department properties will be to handcuff the plans and put leg irons on the transit tripods. Joe Merryfield is blaming it on Bill Angle. Internationalist footballers determined to make Second avenue either another Bannockburn or Flodden field. Merely Mabel says: "Do tell me next time the Mayor and Morrissey have a bone to pick in council. It's better than the picture show."

A realty deal involving a consideration of $10,000 was consummated today when H. G. Helgeson, Ltd., acting for Charles E. Belts, sold lots 17 and 18 in block 35, section 1, to Warren Kissick and Frank D. Keeley for $10,000. The property is situated on Third avenue, near the Pioneer Laundry.

MR. MASON'S DENIAL

Indignant That Statement Should Have Been Made About Him.

In a letter to the City Council last night, Engineer Mason of the City department indignantly denied the allegation which had reached him that he had ever said he would accept the position of city engineer at $3,000 per annum. He said such rumors were calculated to damage him professionally.

FINANCIAL ILLUMINATION BRILLIANT BUT TOO BRIEF

ALDERMAN MORRISSEY MAKES A CALCULATION WITH ZEAL FOR CITY'S GOOD WHICH IS, ALAS, DASHED BY A DELUGE FROM THE MAYOR.

A brilliant financial light shone upon Alderman Morrissey's intelligence last night. He discovered that some $40,000 have been laid out on a pole line for the city lighting system which will probably be needed for the hydro electric system. "Why not obtain a reimbursement of $40,000 now for the general fund from the hydro electric advances guaranteed?" he asked, adding, "If we are working on a system of robbery of one fund to another we may as well get it right."

The Mayor said that there were too serious objections to Alderman Morrissey's plan. One was that every cent of the hydro electric appropriation would be needed to bring the water in from Shawatlans Lake and the other was that Mr. Clancy of the Bank of Montreal was flatly opposed to making any advances involving the taking of money from one fund to give to another.

TEN THOUSAND FOR CITY LAND

Offer by H. G. Helgeson Co. for Part of Fee Simple Property on Bluff Above Fulton Street, Near Agnew Place.

H. G. Helgeson, Ltd., has made an offer of $10,000 for the plot of city fee simple land, 100 feet by 100 feet, on the high bluff at Agnew place. The letter was filed, Alderman Morrissey holding that the offer was a mere bagatelle for such fine view property and that in any case the proper method for attending to this would be to submit the matter to the rate payers and have the property put up at auction should the citizens decide to sell.

M'NEIL TOOK A TUMBLE TO IT

Enthusiastic Member of Audience at City Hall Last Night Did as the Young Man at Ephesus When Paul Preached.

In the midst of a most important motion by Alderman Morrissey last night in regard to the removal of the old "Kelly's cut" gaol, ex-Building Inspector McNeil, who constructed the gaol, displayed his feelings most effectively by falling off the city hall counter, on which he had been perched, with a heavy clatter, to the floor.

Such a guffaw went up from the assembled audience that proceedings were brought to a pause while Mr. McNeil picked himself up. The reason for his fall was not apparent at first, but on closer scrutiny it appeared to be either Joe Merryfield or M. M. Stephens. It would be too bad to blame William Angle, who sat so quietly nearest Mr. McNeil.

MAYOR AND MORRISSEY HAD BATTLE ROYAL LAST NIGHT

"You Tried to Bulldoze Me," Said the Mayor; "I Deny It," Cried Morrissey---Then the Crowd Got Loose, and Laughed, the Bow-Wow Barked With Joy, the Echoes Awoke in the City Hall Roof, and Thus the Cancelling of the Horse Deal Was Dealt With

Over a motion censuring the Mayor and Finance committee for having without consulting the Council cancelled the order passed in council for the purchase of another team of horses, Alderman Morrissey last night got on the war path. He censured the Mayor right and left for having arrogated to himself the right to overrule the whole Council in this matter. Committee members and councillors might as well be mere automatons, he thought, under such conditions. His argument was based on the principle that the team was to be bought for purposes of economy more than the cost of a team having been spent last month alone in cartage fees by the city. There was support for Alderman Morrissey in his contention, Alderman Montgomery holding that the team might have been bought; Alderman Kerr of the same opinion, and Alderman Clayton wondering why a city which could spend $1,400 last month for team hire could not afford to buy another team of its own.

The Mayor's retaliatory spirit began to smoulder in his bosom after he had quietly enough defended his action in cancelling the horse purchase by stating that the motion distinctly said "if funds were available." But Alderman Morrissey made some derogatory remarks about the Mayor's ability as a financier, recalling how he had said that after a year's association with the Finance committee of last council he knew nothing about the finances. "I doubt if you know any more now," said Alderman Morrissey, and that started the shindy.

"Alderman Morrissey," began the Mayor, "I have given you your say. Now you will kindly allow me mine. The other afternoon over the completion of the Third avenue plankway which was stopped you tried to bulldoze me so as to get that work started again.

"It is not true. I deny it," exclaimed Alderman Morrissey. "I never tried to bulldoze you. I went with you to the city engineer."

"Will you allow me to speak, Alderman Morrissey?" said the Mayor. "I repeat that you tried to bulldoze me."

"I deny it. I deny it," from Alderman Morrissey.

"You tried to bulldoze me, but I would not be bulldozed by you."

"I deny it!" reiterated Alderman Morrissey, his voice getting louder.

"I tell you that you did!" exclaimed the Mayor, now thoroughly aroused.

There was a scuffling of feet

THE CITY COUNCIL AND THE ENGINEERS

Reorganization of Staff to Take Place After the First of July---Resignations of All Requested

Something brewing in the atmosphere of the city hall last night started a dog fight early in the evening. The big crowd assembled stood, sat, lolled or leaned expectantly. For a couple of hours there was nothing doing. The Council discussed unimportant items. There was an air of dubious peace such as precludes a thunder storm.

By and by the storm broke. A report by the Mayor as chairman of the council in committee of the whole at the star chamber of Wednesday night was read. Alderman Morrissey, in fighting trim, began the battle by taking exception to the Mayor's report. He charged the Mayor with having deliberately omitted mention of a certain amendment—the omission of which made him and Alderman Dybhavn look foolish. The Mayor was quite ready to include the amendment if it had been voted on, but he held that this was not the case. He appealed to Alderman Clayton, who had kept the notes of the doings for him, and to other members of the council. The Mayor's view was supported, but Alderman Morrissey fought his position out further in open council, putting his amendment in form recommending that Mr. Mason, Mr. Bratt and Mr. Parker should be left in charge of the Engineering department, while the resignations of the rest should be asked for.

Alderman Morrissey made this recommendation with the idea that the valuable plans and calculations belonging to the city might be endangered by leaving them to the care of a staff under marching orders. He did not intend to disparage the staff, but there were risks. If the motion asking for the resignations of all the engineering staff went through Alderman Morrissey declared that the chief of police take charge of the properties of the city in the Engineering department. (Laughter.) "Oh, you may laugh," cried Alderman Morrissey, "but there's more in it than perhaps you may think."

Alderman Morrissey's amendment was duly put and lost. The motion was then put to the effect that all the engineering staff should send in their resignations to take effect on July 1st. This motion was carried, Alderman Dybhavn and Morrissey dissenting.

EMPLOYER'S LIABILITY FOR INJURIES.

For more than a generation the question of holding the employer liable for serious injuries to his workman has been a burning one in most civilized countries. The British parliament many years ago enacted a law that secured compensation to an injured workman if his injury was not due to his own negligence or the negligence of a fellow workman. This law was, at the instance of the late Honorable Christopher Fraser, adopted in Ontario with modifications to suit the industrial conditions.

For the time at which it was enacted this law was a great advance on the old common law relating to this whole question, but further changes had to be made to prop up the new enactment where it obviously needed support. There is at present before the American Congress a measure which is intended to supersede altogether the common law in its application to such cases. It provides that every common carrier engaged in interstate and foreign commerce by railway shall pay compensation to any of its employees who, while employed in its service, sustains personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment and resulting in his disability; in the event of his death the compensation is to go to those dependent upon him.

If this measure is enacted by Congress it will, so far as the jurisdiction of that legislature extends, do away with all the vexatious and costly delays for which such cases have become proverbial. No matter what the cause of the injury inflicted on the employee may be he will become at once and unquestionably entitled to compensation for the injury, and his family will become entitled in the event of his death to what would have been due to himself if he had continued to live. The only exceptions are those cases in which the person who caused the injury is intoxicated while on duty, or acts with the deliberate intent to cause his own or a fellow workman's injury or death.

There does not seem to be any great amount of opposition to this proposed legislation from the railway corporations. They are in a position to estimate the extent of their liability on the average and to make adequate provision to meet it. The workmen, on the other hand, are quite unable to protect themselves. In order, at present, to secure compensation for injuries they must resort to litigation, the burden of proof of injury and of the absence of negligence resting on the plaintiff. It is easy for a great corporation to defeat a poor man by carrying the defense from court to court on appeal, and there is reason to believe this has been somewhat systematically done in order to deter injured workmen generally from trying to collect compensation. If this proposed law is enacted by the American Congress it will give an immense impulse to similar legislation in other civilized countries.

SUCCESSFUL LAUNCH OF THE "LANGRA"—NEW POWER BOAT

Largest and Most Important Craft Ever Yet Sent Down the Slips From a Prince Rupert Boat-Building Yard—Built for Captain H. Babington by H. Johnson and Launched With Champagne Ceremonial by Mrs. N. Broadhurst

Saturday afternoon witnessed a ceremony of considerable importance for Prince Rupert with the seaport's future in view. The occasion was the launching from H. Johnson's yard of Captain H. Babington's new power boat "Sangra," an extremely strong and substantially built tug-boat which has the distinction of being the largest craft yet launched off a Prince Rupert slip. H. Johnson has launched many other power-boats, but the Sangra is a more ambitious venture than he has ever before given to the water. Longer, deeper and broader than the famous Rover, which holds the blue ribbon of Prince Rupert's power boat prowess, the Sangra is to be a work boat from the word "go."

Feature is Strength

Solidity of construction is the feature of the boat. Her framing of oak is immensely strong, her ribs are set at close centres, her stem-post is a crook of superb yellow cedar, picked after a three days' cruise in the bush. Stern-post, too, is of yellow cedar. A feature of the boat which will strike all observers is the strength of the gunwale strip and sponsons which are made of Australian ironwood. These will greatly protect the Sangra in her heavy work with scows, and towing of large vessels. Her engine power is to be 30 h.p., the engine being an Atlas, from San Francisco. So far the engine has not, however, arrived.

Launching Ceremony.

The launching ceremony was an interesting one. There was quite a little crowd of enthusiasts. Captain Babington personally superintended the manipulation of the controlling gear which retarded the heavy boat in her descent down the steep ways. H. Johnson watched the motion of the launching cradle and poured thick oil on the ways ahead of it. Very gently the Sangra slipped waterward. When the rudder shoe was within a few inches of the water a halt was called and Mrs. Norman Broadhurst, armed with the all important bottle of champagne, took her station at the boat's bow. The big iron shod stem post towered above her and the Sangra awaited the baptism of fizz.

Good Luck to Her!

"Good luck to the Sangra!" exclaimed Mrs. Broadhurst as she hurled the champagne bottle with precision against the stem post. But staunch as is the Sangra, that champagne bottle proved still stauncher and it refused to break. It sank into still clear water where the mermen assembled to drink from it a deep sea health to the new boat floating above their heads. The Sangra slid into the sea as the bottle touched her prow, and today she lies aloft by Johnson's wharf, having her interior fittings, etc., looked after. Her engine has not yet arrived, but as soon as it reaches here it will be fitted and trial trips will be run. As the largest power boat ever built in Prince Rupert, the Sangra is deserving of all success.

CITIES TO OWN COAL STORES

British Coal Strike Has Impressed Municipalities with the Need for Owning Reserve Stocks of Coal.

One result of the British coal miners' strike will be a further extension of the area of municipal trading. Not only did the companies that had accumulated reserve stocks of coal profit greatly by the rapid increase in prices, but some of the largest railroad companies restricted their passenger and freight services and started to sell out their coal reserves at a profit of about $5 a ton. The municipality of Middlesbrough secured a large quantity of coal and proceeded to sell it at about half the prices charged by retailers and in a few hours 300 tons were disposed of in 5 cwt. carrels at from 38 cents to 42 cents a hundredweight.

Bradford and many other city corporations are seriously considering the advisability of establishing municipal coal supplies, both for public purposes and in order to meet the action of the coal companies and merchants in taking advantage of future strikes to corner the stocks and make thousands of pounds out of the consumers. The proposal is not likely to pass out of sight now that it has been mooted and the situation that developed during the trouble will greatly strengthen the demand for nationalization of the railroads and the establishment of government owned and operated mines.

There will also be supper for the party at night. The price of the ticket is $4.50 for club and members, which includes two meals. Members will be provided with a club ribbon for the occasion.

Geo. A. Tracy, of San Francisco, is elected vice-president, and John W. Hays, of Minneapolis is secretary-treasurer, by about the same majority as that given Lynch.

TY COBB FIGHTS

Uncomplimentary Remark From Stand Raises Ire of the Georgian

New York, May 19.—Ty Cobb, star outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, is still angry today over his encounter yesterday with a New York fan. As Cobb, who is a Georgian, started to bat in the fourth inning of the game with the Yankees, someone in the stand shouted an uncomplimentary remark about the southland. Ty dropped his bat and walloped the disturber good and hard. He was more than holding his own against heavy odds when he was rescued by other players.

Junior Baseball.

The ball game on Saturday last between the S. B. J. and P. B. C.'s proved to be a very lively affair, resulting in a win for the latter team by 11 to 6. The S. B. J. team has improved vastly since its first game, and with steady practice should give a good account of themselves. The batteries were Moore and Christanson for the P. B. C.'s, and Nehring and Ambrose for the S. B. J.'s. Nehring for the P. B. C.'s made some good plays and has all the earmarks of a star ball tosser.

Service Must Speak

A STORE is almost human. It is full of temperament. It affects each customer with the composite personality of its management and staff.

There are stores and stores. There are "grouchy" stores and "smiling" stores. There are flip-pant stores and dignified stores. And the peculiar thing about each is that the goods or the prices have little to do with the store's temperament. It is the personality of the store that colors and defines the character of the goods from the customer's view-point and wins or repels approval.

The temperament or personality of a store is vividly expressed in its face. The face of a store is its advertising. You can judge a store by its advertising the same as you can judge a man by his facial expression.

Stores that honestly try to serve their customers best simply can't help advertising. It is the way of human nature that when we have spent the best of our brain power and physical and financial resources in building up something worth while, our enthusiasm bursts forth into publicity. We simply cannot restrain the desire to tell others about it.

In the long run, service is what you pay for, always. The goods, as goods alone, are incidental. Service implies quality, fair prices, safe treatment, and honest in every detail of every transaction.

The service store is the "serving" store. It is also the honest-advertising store. By this, you may know it always—anywhere.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or through the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Bldg., Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

REGULAR DUST NUISANCE DUE TO CONTINUED DROUGHT

BUSINESS SECTION SERIOUSLY INCONVENIENCED BY THE BLOWING ABOUT OF DUST IN THE STORES—F. D. KEELEY MAKES COMPLAINT—WHO IS TO RUN THE SPRINKLER?

Dust has been creating a serious nuisance to store keepers on Sixth street and Second and Third avenues. F. D. Keeley last night wrote to the council regarding this nuisance. The Mayor would have referred this matter to the Water committee, but Alderman Morrissey protested that it was in the province of the Board of Works. He further pointed out that although the idea had been laughed at at the time there was embodied a clause in the scavenging contract giving the contractor the sole right to sprinkle the streets.

Mayor and Morrissey Had Battle Royal

among the crowd. Necks were craned to get heads into a better line of view. Laughter began to crackle above the clamor of the two angry voices at the council board.

"I will not be bulldozed by you, Alderman Morrissey, or by any other man at this board!" shouted the Mayor.

"I deny it! I deny it! I DENY IT!" rattled the maxim gun of Morrissey's mouthpiece volleying away regardless.

"Bow-wow-wow! Bow-wow!" barked a dog in huge delight at the general uproar. The laughter got beyond all bounds. Upon the stair sat a group of cronies convulsed with glee. M. M. Stephens was chuckling, and Joe Merryfield in the height of the row let out a war whoop that could be heard a mile off. Joe fancied that by putting down his head to make that appalling noise he escaped observation, but it was not so. Joe's bray is recognizable.

Above the din could be heard again the voice of Morrissey shouting: "I say it ain't true," and that of the Mayor contradicting furiously with "And I say it is true!"

Then Alderman Douglas butted in. "You are blaming the whole Finance committee," he said to Alderman Morrissey. "Was I in it?"

"I don't know where you were, and I don't care," retorted Morrissey. "Are you the whole Finance committee?" The finance minister subsided, for his knock-out blow, and the crowd went off into another gale of glee. But at last the noise subsided. The delighted dog, and even Joe Merryfield, had laughed or barked themselves out of breath, and amidst peace, perfect peace, the motion censoring the Mayor for cancelling the horse deal was solemnly put and lost.

Woman Who Had Seven Girls and One Boy Went Insane When He Died and Cremated Herself.

Tampa, Fla., May 20.—After kneeling in prayer at the grave of her baby son, recently buried, Mrs. Marie Morterello, wife of a prominent manufacturer, poured wood alcohol over herself and set fire to her clothing. She was seen by two negro women standing like a pillar of flame at the foot of the grave. When they reached her she had fallen and she died on the way to a hospital. Mrs. Morterello was the mother of seven girls before the boy came. When he died she lost her reason.

LIVE PICTURES THAT CAN SPEAK

"Chronophone" Films in Natural Colors Given with Realism—Science at Last Achieves a Triumph.

London, May 21.—Moving pictures that speak were exhibited last night at the Royal Institute here. Films were shown of a cock crowing and lions roaring in a den, the sound being reproduced with such startling realism that the pictures appeared to roar. A demonstration of the "chronophone," as it is called, by means of which cinematograph films and gramophone records can be presented simultaneously with the sounds and movements in perfect unison, was given two years ago, but was then not quite perfect. Since then the inventors have overcome all difficulties and the "chronophone" pictures are in natural colors.

CANADIAN CHURCH

Bishop Perrin is in Favor of Establishment in Dominion.

London, May 21.—Bishop Perrin, formerly of British Columbia, defends church establishment, declaring that his eighteen years' experience in Canada shows him that no established church is lost to the whole community.

"I'd prefer the establishment of Presbyterians or Congregationalists rather than that there should be no state recognition of religion," he says.
