BRITAIN IS INVINCIBLE

Can Never Be Successfully Invaded, Malcolm Macdonald Declares

The son of the former Premier is now on a flight to Pacific Coast defenses and expects to leave Wednesday on his return to Ottawa. (Mr. Macdonald is due in Prince Rupert Thursday.)

PREPARING FOR PEACE

Dutch Women Are Already Making Plans to go Home

OTTAWA, June 17: (CP)—Netherlands women refugees in England, aided by their British friends, now are getting ready to meet post-war conditions and problems by collecting and preparing bales of clothing to be taken to their homeland the moment the country has regained its liberty from the German invader.

Fresh out from Britain where she has been active in volunteer war work, the wife of Willem van Tets, the new secretary to the Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, sees in this task a practical plan of vital importance in the future and one which might be usefully extended.

Asked how it was that in view of the clothing need for air-raid victims, it is still possible to bale clothing for post-war needs, Mrs. van Tets explained that such voluntary collecting depends on individual donations. "There is always a shortage of some garments and a surplus of others" she said. "It is this surplus which is being gathered and conserved out of all the donations received from at home and abroad."

The moment the European countries are released from the Nazi yoke there will be a tremendous problem of feeding and clothing, she told the Canadian Press.

"Much of this clothing has been used before, but it is clean, mended and sorted and can fill an extremely useful role at that moment." The clothing is being packed into boxes and bales. It is plainly marked on the outside, "suits for boys, aged 4," "layettes," "sweaters for 10-year-old girls" and so forth so that it can be quickly and easily distributed.

Shipments of clothing depend upon space, but even if there is only a certain amount of space available, clothing—especially used clothing which is still wearable—might be collected and similarly saved, Mrs. van Tets suggested.

Describing the work being done by the Netherlands women in England, Mrs. van Tets said that a voluntary committee had been set up by the wife of the Minister of Holland, Madame Michiels van Verdyghen. An affiliated group in Montreal collaborates. Many of the Netherlands refugees have gone on to the Dutch East Indies and some to the United States, she said, but there is still a great deal of work to be done to provide comforts and clothing extras to active forces, especially men of the merchant marine.

Mrs. van Tets is an American, but she has lived in London 12 years and spent many childhood vacations there.

Expressing her admiration for the women's voluntary services and the feminine auxiliary services in Britain Mr. van Tets said their organization is the latest word in efficiency.

Capital of Syria Hears Rumble of Guns; British Reinforcements Sent In

Meanwhile Vichy French Have Launched Strong Counter-Offensive—Outskirts of City Reached at Some Points

DAMASCUS, June 17: (CP)—The rumble of guns was heard for several hours today and the battle between Vichy and British forces was believed to be very near. British and Free French forces have sent reinforcements into heavy fighting in southern Syria where the Vichy forces have launched strong counter-attacks, it was announced in Cairo today. Fighting was at Merdjayoun and Kunetra, each about forty miles southwest of Damascus. At other points British troops have reached the outskirts of the city.

The Allied drive toward Beirut also continues.

APPROACH SHOWDOWN

Will Russia Come Closer to Reich or Will Open Hostility Develop?

LONDON, June 17: (CP)—A reliable foreign source told the Associated Press yesterday that German-Russian relations are approaching the stage where they must either be cemented more closely in the Pan-European economic scheme or break into open hostility. Unless there is early settlement, the Reich pressure must result in war.

The source said that the situation arose from German pressure for more oil, grain and ore from Russia and the conviction of a certain Russian leader that the spread of German influence through repeated European victories was endangering the Soviet's own ambitions as a world power.

One report is that Premier Joseph Stalin has ordered general mobilization of army and navy.

Marshal Herman Goering of Germany has said that the Reich needs the Ukraine and Iran and the supplies they can provide for a long war against Great Britain.

Soviet forces have been withdrawn from the Turkish frontier and "moved to other fields."

The Moscow radio said there was no intention on the part of Russia to move against Germany.

For Education Of War Guests

Writer To London Paper Suggests Novel Plan To Help Situation

LONDON, June 17: (CP)—A special correspondent of the Sunday Times tells in that newspaper of a plan evolved to help meet expenses in educating British children evacuated to Canada "for the duration."

The writer suggests that contributions be asked for in Canada to cover the expenses of a British school established in the Dominion. Parents in England would contribute the equivalent amount of money in sterling for the purchase of a Spitfire.

The correspondent said the proposal would not weaken Britain's exchange resources. It would enable parents to pay their way while instead of the school being a burden on Canadians it would enable them, in effect, to buy a Spitfire.

So far the suggestion has not received official sanction.

Health and the War

One important argument which British Columbia's government set forth in its submission to the Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations was that leadership and financial assistance in all matters pertaining to the health of the nation should be forthcoming from the federal authorities. On numerous occasions Hon. George M. Weir has reiterated this contention and amplified it with statistical and other data compiled during the many years in which he has been responsible for the provincial health service. Now comes convincing support for his point of view, coupled with a distinct and timely warning against the dangers of half-measures, from Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League of Canada, through the medium of his address at the annual meeting in Quebec yesterday of the Canadian Public Health Association. He was dealing in specific and emphatic terms with venereal disease, but addressed his remarks with equal force to tuberculosis and diphtheria, emphasizing the comparatively simple method by which their incidence might rapidly be curtailed if precautionary and remedial measures were applied under efficient and all-embracing national direction and control. In his challenging statement Dr. Bates included the following observations:

"I suggest that our failure to control venereal disease as it should be controlled throughout Canada and is not controlled, despite some success, is on the whole due to lack of Dominion leadership in health matters. It is ridiculous that we fail to pasteurize all of our milk instead of some, when we know pasteurization will save life and health. Instead of a pasteurization law in one province, we should pasteurize all of our milk in all of the provinces. Instead of controlling diphtheria in one area and allowing it to run rampant in another, we should aim to eliminate this dread disease from Canada altogether. And so with venereal disease."

Under Dr. Weir's insistence, backed by the all-too-seldom-realized argument that the state's most valuable asset is the healthy citizen, British Columbia has made excellent progress in recent years in its fight against venereal disease, tuberculosis and other contagious ailments to which man is heir. It has been an uphill struggle; only on rare occasions has it been possible to divert the attention of the elected representatives of the people in the Legislature from their party squabbles and parochial politics to a discussion of such unspectacular business as that involving the health of the populace whose servants they are. Although it will soon be two years since Canada entered the war, it is problematical whether more than a comparative handful of legislators in this or any other province, or in the House of Commons, has yet realized that prevention and control of disease is as much a part of the nation's contribution to the battle against Hitler and his gang as the production of the tools that are to help us preserve our freedom and all the term connotes. The speech Dr. Bates delivered in Quebec yesterday should help to place a vital subject in proper perspective.

PURPOSES OF HOUSE

Functions Of Proposed Y. M. C. A. Undertaking Are Explained

The visit of Dr. Olga Jardine last week was of first rate interest for soldiers, sailors and airmen stationed in Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Jardine is liaison officer for the Young Women's Christian Association and in that capacity fulfills a very excellent war-time service on a purely voluntary basis.

The particular contribution which Mrs. Jardine hopes to be able to give here is a Y. W. C. A. Hostess House, under the management of a woman appointed and paid by that organization.

The value of such a service as a Hostess House provides is briefly stated as follows:

It provides for a home-like atmosphere in which men may enjoy the company of their wives or sweethearts. Such a facility is not provided for in a recreational hut or hall. It is not possible under any circumstances to make a hut or hall into a home.

It provides a rendezvous for the many wives of soldiers, sailors and airmen who are resident here for the duration of their husbands' period of training. Housing facilities in town are well known to be limited and often cramped.

It provides a limited number of bedrooms for the wives of the men in the services who wish to visit Prince Rupert for a brief holiday with their husbands or while on the lookout for private apartments. Such accommodation could also be made available where relatives of soldiers, sailors or airmen wish to visit in case of sickness for for happier purposes.

It provides for dances in which the boys have the opportunity of bringing their own girl friends or meeting the right sort of girls there. The young ladies, in the charge of the hostess for the evening, are those who will be known to her and who, during the evening on which they are on duty, as it were, are subject to definite rules for correct procedure.

It provides accommodation for ladies' working parties, particularly of the sort connected with Unit Auxiliaries and war work committees.

It provides for a canteen of modest proportions for the benefit of those who enjoy the hospitality of the Hostess House.

It will provide a large medium for women's voluntary service as hostesses both senior and junior, not only for the wives of the men who are resident here just now but for the women of Prince Rupert themselves.

Every facility for small table games and other minor amusements of this sort is provided.

The management of the Hostess House will, under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A. official in charge, be undertaken by lady volunteers of this city, presumably the wives of the men in the services as well as Prince Rupert ladies themselves.

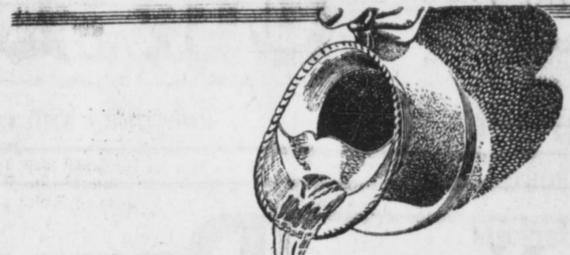

The purchase and maintenance of the Hostess House will be the sole responsibility of the Y. W. C. A. Much, if not all of the requirements connected with it will be purchased in this city.

The type of service promoted by the Hostess House will in no way overlap any other social work now being done or contemplated in the future, for men, their dependents, and their immediate friends. The programs of the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House and the Y. M. C. A. Recreational Centre will in no way conflict but will be worked out in collaboration with each other. They will be complementary. What the Hostess House provides for the recreational hut will not be able to offer and what the recreational hut offers the Hostess House will by no means be able to provide.

Real Need

The need for a Hostess House in Prince Rupert it is said, is one which is perhaps most thoroughly appreciated by those who are immediately responsible for the welfare of the troops in this town.

A good companion allows a friend to express himself freely. That is why water is the perfect companion of good whisky. It allows whisky to tell its own story.

The Seagram Canadian Whiskies are distilled, aged and blended to meet the water test. They are of such exquisite flavour that men who know good whiskies refuse to mix with them anything other than plain or sparkling water.

It is this delightful and exclusive smoothness that has caused the Seagram whiskies to outsell all others on the American continent.

IS CHAMP IN SINGLES

Russ Kennington of Vancouver had too much on the ball for A. M. Borland and won the men's singles crown of the Prince Rupert Tennis Club last night. The scores were 6-3, 6-2, 8-6.

Primed by his victory over the defending champion on the previous day, Borland threw everything he had into the games but, try as he would, he could not match the pace and accuracy which Kennington had to offer.

Although Kennington's forehand yesterday might have been classed as "spotty" he obtained nice depth on most of his backhand shots and his sizzling overheads and crisp volleys pleased a large and enthusiastic gallery.

To have a man of Kennington's calibre and temperament play through this tournament was a boon to local tennis.

The tournament will conclude on Wednesday when the finals of the mixed and ladies doubles will be played.

Camosun Takes Dance Cruise

Last night many took advantage of a pleasant excursion trip on the steamer Camosun. The vessel went as far as Genn Island and then turned back. There was a capacity list of excursionists with many being turned away.

The passengers danced on deck to the strains of the Rocky Mountain Ranger's Orchestra until it started to rain. Then they went inside and continued their dancing.

Lunch was served to those who wanted it. All enjoyed themselves.

MORICETOWN CELEBRATES

Baseball Games, Stampede, Show,
Dances—Five Hundred People
Attend

MORICETOWN, June 17.—Five hundred people, it is estimated, attended the recent stampede and celebration at Moricetown. There were visitors from Skeena Crossing, Hazelton, Kispiox, old Fort Babine as well as Telkwa and Smithers and farming communities of the Bulkley Valley. The day was fine and sunny and the whole proceedings were most enjoyable and interesting to all.

Sports commenced in the morning and there were three baseball games. In the first Old Fort Babine defeated Moricetown 13 to 12. In the second Kispiox won over Skeena Crossing five to nothing. The feature game of the day was between Smithers and Hazelton, Smithers losing eight to four. Charlie Smith and Simon Muldoe were pitcher and catcher respectively for Hazelton and Warner and Watson for Smithers.

In the steer bucking contest winners were Sam Dennis of Moricetown and William Holland and M. Chapman of Telkwa, first, second and third respectively. Gabriel Louie of Kispiox and M. Chapman of Telkwa were first and second in broncho busting.

Cecil Steele, moving picture operator of Smithers, was announcer for the day.

In the evening there was a picture show in the Community Hall followed by two dances—one for white people, the other for natives. There were large crowds in attendance at the dances which started at 9:30 p.m. and went strong until broad daylight in the morning.

Hitler knows one language only—the language of FORCE. And force will end his mad ambition to enslave the world. Your dollars—LOANED.

Q. C. CITY

A most enjoyable dance was held recently in Miller's Hall when music for dancing was supplied by several of the boys in uniform. A large crowd attended the jolly affair which continued until the early hours of the morning. At midnight refreshments were served at the local restaurants.

The regular meeting of the local branch of the Red Cross was held at the home of Mrs. Duncan McColl. The president, Mrs. G. Pitt Turner, was chairman. Work was resumed on the garments for refugees. Several of the members spent the afternoon in cutting out undergarments. Plans for the display and tea were completed. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the afternoon's activities. There were fourteen members present.

One Saturday afternoon recently the senior pupils of the local public school climbed up to a lake above the town. The hike, under the leadership of Miss Agnes Mathers, was greatly enjoyed by the young people. Miss Velma Fairbairn, Mrs. Leslie Smith and Peter Christensen accompanied the hikers. An assortment of wild flowers, including yellow water-lilies from the lake, were brought down.

A meeting of the Central Study Group of the Skidegate Inlet Credit Union was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roberts. After the study period other guests dropped in and bridge was played, there being three tables. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Ladies of the community spent another day putting finishing touches to the Manse. All furniture was varnished and three floors varnished and one painted, all the kitchen woodwork being enameled. It is now ready for its new occupant. So far no word of a new minister for the church here has been received.

Smithers Cadets Given Inspection

Made Good Showing In March
Before Major Critchley

SMITHERS, June 17.—The Smithers High School Cadets, both boys and girls, paraded Friday under Captain K. G. Houghton for inspection by Major Critchley who had arrived in Smithers from the south especially for that purpose.

The cadets marched from the High School behind Piper Todd and paraded at Alfred Park where a reviewing stand had been erected and where Major Critchley took the salute. They were then inspected and put through rifle drill and drills in marching in formations, making a very smart appearance which reflected credit on the work done by Captain Houghton and his non-commissioned officers.

Many of the townspeople were on hand to watch the ceremony.
