Zero Hour In Yugoslavia

Frontiers To Germany, Italy And Other Axis Countries Are Closed

Nazi Thrust From Either Hungary or Bulgaria Appears Inevitable Despite Eleventh Hour Appeal from Belgrade for Peace

BELGRADE, April 5: (CP)—Yugoslavia's frontiers with Germany, Italy and Axis-dominated neighbors were reported permanently closed today and government circles, ready for war, gravely asserted that the zero hour had arrived in the crisis with the Germans. The borders with Italy, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania were all named as having been sealed. Albania was not mentioned. This leaves only the frontier with friendly Greece open and, of course, there is the outlet to the sea. A German thrust is imminent and speculation exists as to whence it will come. Hungary or Bulgaria appear to be the most likely points. German troops in large numbers have approached these frontiers. Rome heard that German troops were ready to move in from Bulgaria.

Admiral Robert Lais Responsible For Most of Sabotage on Italian Vessels in American Ports

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 5: (CP) — President Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday pinned the responsibility for widespread sabotage of Italian ships in American ports directly on Italian naval attaché, Admiral Robert Lais, whose recall was demanded this week. Roosevelt told a press conference that a great deal of sabotage on Italian merchantmen was carried out on order of Admiral Lais. President Roosevelt made his statement soon after Secretary of State Cordell Hull flatly rejected Axis protests against the American seizure of thirty German and Italian ships.

Would Revive Tourist Bureau

Junior Chamber Asks Organization To Consider Possibility Of Becoming Active Again

The advisability of reviving the local tourist bureau, which has been active for the past year or so, was suggested at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night by L. M. Felsenthal, T. J. Williams, secretary-treasurer of the tourist bureau, said that the tourist bureau committee was still existent although the president, former City Commissioner W. J. Alder, had left Prince Rupert. The organization had funds in the bank. The upstart of the discussion was decision to ask the bureau to consider the possibility of reviving activities, possibly with the support and representation of other interested bodies.

HELPING GT. BRITAIN

Various Ways Being Considered in United States—Proposals and Counter-Proposals

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 5.—Some of his supporters who backed the "lease-lend" bill and "everything short of war" policy are urging President Franklin D. Roosevelt to advise Great Britain that American warships will not be used in conveying war supplies to Britain. To do so, it is held, would constitute an act of war. Meanwhile it is understood that matters under serious consideration include providing full convoy of British war materials, a demand by the United States for freedom of the seas to within 300 miles of Great Britain, deliveries by American ships to Iceland as a part of the western hemisphere, revision of combat areas including the Red Sea which would be declared a non-combat area if Italian resistance collapses and the convoy of British goods by volunteer crews on United States merchantmen and naval vessels.

It was suggested yesterday that there was a possibility of the lifting of the ban from the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden as a combat area.

More Italian Destroyers Are Out of Action

LONDON, April 5: — The Italians, evidently, consider their situation in the Red Sea as hopeless. This was indicated in the scuttling of Italian destroyers yesterday. Today three more Italian destroyers were put out of commission by British bombers in that area, making eight destroyers the Italians have lost in three days.

READY FOR ENGAGEMENT

British Forces Are Being Concentrated in Libya To Face Enemy

Advance In East Africa

Aduawa In Abyssinia Is Captured As Forces Near Addis Ababa With Pincers Closing In

CAIRO, April 5: (CP)—British Imperial forces have held up the German-Italian advance east of Bengasi in Western Libya today and the situation is well in hand. Middle East headquarters announced. The British land forces apparently engaged German and Italian armored units in positions east of the abandoned Libyan port. Australian airmen battling the Axis advance are reported to have brought down six German planes and damaged others in dog fights yesterday.

CAIRO, April 5: (CP)—The British Middle East command announced last night that "concentration of our advance elements" is taking place in Libya in the face of an Axis drive, indicating what a major engagement may be in the offing.

Meanwhile, the British are carrying out an orderly retreat along the coast east of Bengasi and it was stated that the Axis forces will be permitted to advance until the British have reached a point where they are satisfied that they can give battle with assurance of success. Two Axis divisions of 20,000 men, fully mechanized, are being used against the British. They are believed to have crossed the Mediterranean on transports from Sicily.

The Royal Air Force is carrying out effective attacks on these Axis land forces as they march. Advance On Addis Ababa South African forces, advancing upon Addis Ababa from the southwest, crossed the Awash River about ninety miles from the capital, it was learned today. Dispatches from Khartoum said that the British army's pincers were also closing tighter on the Red Sea port of Massawa while other columns which crossed into Ethiopia from Eritrea in the northeast are closing in on Adigrat, 40 miles east of Aduawa which a Reuters dispatch to London said had been occupied.

Mr. Craig also feels sure that McLean's ship shed can build small boats up to 75 feet.

Scharnhorst And Gneisenau Are Straddled By Sticks Of British Missiles While Lying At Brest Dock

LONDON, April 5: (CP)—The Air Ministry announced that sticks of heavy bombs straddled the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau in a British attack on Brest, last night and a large fire was seen to break out near one of the vessels. A German naval auxiliary vessel was hit in daylight yesterday by British bombers and other Nazi vessels were also attacked.

A British pilot who took part in the Brest raid said that bombs hit one of the Nazi warships directly or very near a miss. Close to one of the vessels flames, visible for eighty miles, leaped up.

The Japanese Parents' Association of Sunnyside Cannery School has donated $25 to the Dominion of Canada for national defence and $25 to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Too Late To Stop Census

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Receives Communication Explaining Value Of Count

As the government had definitely announced its decision of proceeding with the count, the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its regular monthly meeting last night, decided to take no action in regard to a resolution of the Ottawa Junior Chamber of Commerce which would have sought the cancellation of the taking of the decennial census this year.

In connection with the matter of the census, Harold Ivarson read a lengthy communication from the Dominion statistician setting forth the value of the census even in war time. The census, the communication said, was no luxury but a means of obtaining statistical knowledge which was quite vital, possibly more so, in war time as it was in peace. It obtained factual information on which important social and economic legislation was based. Lack of such information might well result in unwise expenditure and costly errors. Furthermore, the taking of the decennial census was a constitutional requirement under the British North America Act.

BELGR.— hour in the crisis between Germany and Yugoslavia. Yugoslavia has closed the borders with Germany, Austria, Rumania and Bulgaria. Every able-bodied man has been called to the colors. All transportation facilities have been taken over for military purposes. There are indications that the German thrust may come from the direction of Hungary. Early today it was reported that Yugoslav anti-aircraft guns had fired on Nazi foreign planes which flew over Croatia. The Yugoslav government has sent an eleventh hour note to Berlin and Rome reiterating desire for peace.

BOMBS STRADDLE BATTLESHIPS LONDON—Sticks of heavy bombs straddled both the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau as the Royal Air Force again attacked the port of Brest for the second successive night. Fire was seen to break out near one of the vessels. Docks at Ostend and industrial areas in the Ruhr were also attacked.

BRISTOL AGAIN STRAFED LONDON—Bristol was subjected to another heavy attack by the German Luftwaffe last night, the raid being continued for several hours by waves of Nazi bombers which first dropped incendiaries and then followed up with high explosives. Considering the intensity of the raid, it was officially stated that casualties and damage were comparatively light. Several persons were killed and injured and industrial buildings and residences were destroyed. The enemy planes ranged up and down the west coast. London had one brief alert but enjoyed its fifteenth straight bombless night.

PLANNED WITHDRAWAL CAIRO—British forces, retiring before an Axis advance in Libya, had reached a point 200 miles east of Bengasi last night. An official British statement said that the Germans would be permitted to advance until a position was reached where it was felt that battle could be given with some assurance of success. In the East African campaign, British forces today occupied the important town of Aduwa on the way to Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia. Widespread desertions are reported among discontented Italian troops in Abyssinia.

THOUSANDS OF BODIES LONDON—Admiralty reports from Alexandria state that the Royal Navy took three thousand Italian seamen prisoner as a result of the Battle of the Ionian Sea. Thousands of bodies were seen floating in the ocean.

FLEET MOVES OUT MADRID—A British naval force of three aircraft carriers, large troop transport, four destroyers and a cruiser are reported to have sailed from Gibraltar into the Mediterranean.

GERMANY'S CLAIMS BERLIN—By planes, surface craft and submarines German High Command announces it sank 718,000 tons of British shipping in March.

THREE NAZI PLANES ARE SHOT DOWN

Heavy Raid Over Bristol Last Night But Casualties And Damage Relatively Light

LONDON, April 5: (CP)—The German air force attacked Bristol last night but officials said damage nowhere was extensive owing to quick work in extinguishing the bombs. Despite the intensity of the attack, there were relatively few casualties and little damage. Damage not being as heavy as in previous raids. Nevertheless, some industrial buildings and residences were destroyed and there were several people killed and injured, particularly in residential areas. The Germans braved heavy anti-aircraft fire. Constant waves of enemy planes came over in the bright moonlight.

At least three enemy planes were brought down. The crew of one was captured but those of the other two at an early hour today were reported to be still at large.

Was It A Reverse? . . .

If it should prove that the retreat of the British from Bengasi was a military reverse, it will be a lesson not to expect too much. At any rate it will undoubtedly give encouragement to the enemy for it was exaggerated into a rout in the German reports. It may prove to be just a move in military strategy and have its repercussions which will be beneficial to the British side. Later developments indicate that General Wavell is in full knowledge of the enemy movements and plans and will take the best possible action to meet them.

Red Tape . . .

When we talk of getting rid of red tape in connection with the government of the country and especially with war work we have to remember that the restrictions on direct action usually known as "red tape" were placed there for the purpose of protecting the people of the country from over zealous members or ministers. Each one has a meaning and most of the restrictions are of real value.

In wartime we sometimes have to ignore these restrictions in the interests of speed but, with zealous officials who are keen to help forward the war work and a desire to collaborate in the interests of the British Empire, there should not be any unnecessary delays in such matters as the letting of contracts or other war preparations. We should be very careful of giving unlimited power to one man unless we are quite sure he is the right man. We doubt if in England today the protective restrictions on spending have been wholly set aside by Churchill or Beaverbrook. One false step on the part of the administration would cause the country to lose faith in its leaders and would do much more harm than the slight delays caused by routine processes.

The Briton Today . . .

A prominent visitor to Great Britain writing in "Overseas" eulogizes the present day Britisher as follows: "It is only when you move about that you begin to understand the genuine Briton. Knowing him of old, I never thought better of John Bull than now that I see him in a tin hat. Plodding through all my memories of the history books I cannot find his match. He has been bamboozled, deserted and slandered but he has never flinched from any encounter or from any odds; nor has he broken any bargain, so far as I know. From the fjords of Norway to the sands of Libya our men have done marvels. And as for our lads in the air, they are eclipsing all records night and day."

WILL HONOR ST. GEORGE

Great Patriotic Demonstration in Prince Rupert Centering On April 23 Is Proposed

The Prince Rupert Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society is taking the initiative with a view to staging a patriotic demonstration in Prince Rupert during the week in which St. George's Day, April 23, falls, the celebration to centralize, of course, on that day. With that end in view, a representative meeting is being called for next Wednesday evening in the City Hall. The idea is that various local organizations should participate and that naval, military and air force units stationed here should co-operate.

Over the signature of Dr. H. L. A. Tarr, president of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, the following letter has been sent to some thirty local organizations:

"On the invitation of the Hon. Albert Matthews, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, a national committee has been set up for the purpose of celebrating St. George's Day, Wednesday, April 23, 1941, with the organization of a Salute to Britain.

"The national committee desires this tribute to the Mother Country, which we all know is bearing the brunt of the totalitarian assault on democratic freedom, shall extend over the whole week from April 20 to April 27.

"This worthy purpose having been brought to the attention of the national executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society, it has been in turn passed on to all the branches of the Society in Canada with a request for the fullest co-operation and participation.

"In that the Cross of St. George is identical with the Canadian Red Cross it can be said there is close affinity existing between the two and in that the society of St. George is not represented in Prince Rupert at this time it behooves the Prince Rupert branch of the Red Cross to take the initiative.

"Let it be said that all religious bodies in other parts of Canada—Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish, are entering heartily into the preparations for this Salute to Britain. It is the intention of holding special services in their churches.

"It is the fervent desire of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross that the Salvation Army, the Canadian Legion, Women's Auxiliary of the Legion, Legion Defence Corps, Women's Service Corps, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and all societies, orders and service clubs in Prince Rupert actuated by the love of country and freedom shall co-operate with one another in the patriotic demonstrations in exaltation of St. George, the patron of free countries everywhere.

"It is likewise the society's ardent desire that the naval, military and air force units stationed in this area will all participate which and by such aid will assure complete success.

"A time is now the essence in making arrangements for and determining on a definite program in fulfillment of the foregoing, a representative meeting will be held in the City Hall on Wednesday evening next.

COMMITTEE ON CENTRE

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its regular monthly meeting last night, approved the idea of a civic centre association being incorporated with a view to centralizing the effort for the establishment of a civic centre in Prince Rupert. Under the plan as now proposed, control of the Association would be in the four organizations—Junior Chamber of Commerce, Gyro Club, Rotary Club and Sons of Norway—already directly interested in the undertaking, associate membership to be opened to the public generally which would have limited representation on the central committee.

A board of trustees would be set up to take over various funds already existing for the civic centre project. While the Junior Chamber favored the forming of the central civic centre organization, it decided that funds which it had for the project should not be turned over until other organizations had turned over their funds.

Meanwhile a committee representing the Junior Chamber consisting of George Rorie, J. C. Gilker, Norton Youngs and Robert Parker was appointed to the general committee on the carnival in aid of the civic centre which it is planned to hold this year.

SKIING IN BARE SKIN

JASPER, April 5:—Members of the Toronto ski party who arrived here last Monday are having a grand time of it and yesterday, under ideal weather conditions, staged an afternoon of skiing in bathing suits. All members of the party are brown as berries and the deep tan will call for serious explanations on their return to Toronto.

This afternoon the party is moving into Trapper Valley Camp after three sunny days on the bald hills. On Thursday, Don Newton and some other members of the party climbed Mount Baldy, eight thousand feet, and from the summit experienced a thrilling view of Mount Clemenceau, sixty miles distant.

The weather has been excellent with a hot sun all day long. Fresh snow seems to fall each night and goes to make the ski conditions all the more perfect.

NORWAY IS CRIPPLED

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 5:—Economic conditions in Norway have been analyzed by Norwegian experts in a confidential memorandum which has reached Stockholm and of which copies are being secretly circulated in Norway. The significance of this report is that it contradicts nearly all the German statements regarding conditions in Nazi-occupied Norway.

Thus, while the Germans maintain that Norway is now facing a promising economic future, the authors of the memorandum assert that the real plan of the conquerors is to make Norway a vassal state. They point to the establishment of a Central Clearing House in Berlin as revealing the Nazi scheme to regulate imports and exports not only of Norway but of the whole European continent.

In spite of generous promises, the Germans have not provided Norway with vitally needed products such as coal and food supplies. The resulting lack of coal has already seriously crippled some of the most important Norwegian industries. Another point brought out in this survey is that the Nazis have ceased claiming in the controlled press that their huge army of occupation is receiving all its supplies from Germany.

Experts Reduced

Basing their conclusions on available official statistics, the Norwegian experts declare that during the period between April and October, 1940, Norway's exports decreased by fifty per cent while imports were reduced by seventy per cent. A sharp increase in the cost of living and a drastic reduction of food supplies, particularly meat, are also mentioned in the memorandum.

Other significant facts are that German soldiers are being paid in Norwegian currency taken from the Bank of Norway, and that many of them are buying Norwegian commodities for shipment to Germany. Up to the present time it is reported that German occupation authorities have drawn more than seven hundred million crowns from the Bank of Norway.

Stocks and securities, however, have shown an upward trend, particularly shipping shares for which there is now a growing demand. This is interpreted by the economists in their secret report as an indication that investors are firmly convinced that the Allies will win the war, thus saving the large Norwegian merchant fleet for the stockholders at home.

An interim report in connection with the proposal of a community chest in Prince Rupert was presented by Robert Parker at last night's meeting of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. Gavin Hume reported to the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last night that he had looked into, on behalf of the chamber, what was being done here in the matter of collecting silver foil in connection with the national salvage campaign. It had been found that the school children were much interested in this and that, indeed, considerable competition had developed. It was suggested that the citizen might turn such material over to the school children who would see that it reached the Red Cross.

President Gordon T. German, at the regular monthly meeting last night of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, expressed gratification at the manner in which members of the junior chamber had gone to work in connection with the Canadian War Services fund campaign. Felsenthal, Tommy Fraser, Arthur Hinton, Gavin Hume, Owen Hooper, Ross Ingram, Harold Ivarson, Robert Parker, Ted Smith, Paul Stegavig and C. G. Ham as well as the president himself.

At the suggestion of Fred Conrad, the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting last night, decided to send a letter of congratulations and best wishes to a newly organized Junior Chamber of Commerce in Ketchikan which has been inaugurated under enthusiastic and auspicious circumstances. Co-operation in every possible way will be offered.

President Gordon T. German, at the regular monthly meeting last night of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, expressed gratification at the manner in which members of the junior chamber had gone to work in connection with the Canadian War Services fund campaign. It had proven that the members of the Junior Chamber were capable of doing some real service in the community. Fred Conrad had acted as treasurer of the campaign, Mr. German said, and others who had participated actively in the campaign included L. M. Felsenthal, Tommy Fraser, Arthur Hinton, Gavin Hume, Owen Hooper, Ross Ingram, Harold Ivarson, Robert Parker, Ted Smith, Paul Stegavig and C. G. Ham as well as the president himself.

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was held last night. It was a rather longer session than usual and a wide variety of matters came up for discussion. President G. T. German was in the chair and there was a fair attendance of members. Colin McCarthy was a guest.

A letter from W. M. Watts, chairman of the recent war savings drive committee here, thanking the Junior Chamber of Commerce for its assistance by way of active delegates in the campaign was read at last night's meeting of the Junior Chamber. Mr. Watts' letter said the results of the campaign had been considered satisfactory, the drive having been a decided success.

A communication from the Junior Chambers of Commerce of British Columbia organization in connection with details of activities of the various junior chambers in the province was included in the correspondence of the local junior chamber at its regular monthly dinner-meeting last night. It was referred to the committee on inter-junior chamber matters of which A. S. Nickerson is chairman.

The desirability of increased membership was discussed at some length by the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last night. The feeling was also expressed that there might be more general activity among the existing membership. A committee consisting of Douglas Stevenson and Richmond Montimer was named to go into the interesting of new members and the reviving of the interest of former members. Each member will be expected to bring a prospective new member as a guest at the next dinner meeting a month hence.
