Russia Worried—

SOVIET IS WAKING UP TO MENACE

Bans Exports Of All War Materials Through Country

MOSCOW, April 30.—Russia appears to be taking more seriously now the possibility of the Soviet becoming involved in war. Official Soviet newspapers and radio are repeating the warning that the nation must be kept in readiness for military attack from external enemies. The difficulty experienced by unprepared nations is referred to in official declarations emphasizing the possibility of being caught by surprise.

Apparently some heed is being paid by Russia to the warning of Prime Minister Winston Churchill on Sunday that Adolf Hitler is getting ready to strike eastward toward the granary of the Ukraine and the oil wells of the Caucasus.

Considerable significance is attached to a decree issued today by Foreign Trade Commissar Anastase L. Mikoyan forbidding the transport through the Soviet of any form of war materials and requiring special permits for shipments of all commodities through the Soviet from one foreign country to another. The decree, it was thought by some, might be a retaliatory move to German activities in the Balkans which definitely menace Russia. It is known that war materials have been moving along the Trans-Siberian Railway for some time between Germany and Japan.

Moscow's announcement today through the official Soviet newspaper Pravda that 12,000 German troops fully equipped with tanks and artillery had arrived at Abo, Finland, on April 26 and had been moved inland caused a sensation in diplomatic circles in London. Publication of this news officially in Russia was taken by some as a warning that Russia considered the movement of German forces in such large numbers as that through Finland was considered a little too much. It was a mistake, however, London felt, to presume that possibility of war between Germany and Russia might be assumed from such movements which had been going on for some time with Moscow's knowledge.

Joint German and Finnish manoeuvres in Finland were denied.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Suffering from a fractured skull after having been struck by a truck last Saturday while crossing a street, Fritz Kreisler, noted violinist, was still unconscious last night but attending physicians still hold out good hopes for his recovery.

British Escaping—EVACUATION OF GREECE PROCEEDING

Three Quarters Of 60,000 Forces Are Safely Out—Athens Itself Proposed Removal

LONDON, April 30: (CP)—Three-quarters of sixty thousand soldiers which Great Britain sent to Greece, withdrawn on counsel of the Greeks themselves, so far have been saved, an authoritative source declared today. Removal of 45,000 and listing of three thousand casualties left twelve thousand unaccounted for, it was reported. These were either still in the process of evacuation or had been captured by the Germans, it was intimated.

A statement made public by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said that the withdrawal of the British forces from Greece was ordered after Greece had advised the British on April 21 that further bloodshed would be useless. The British forces in Greece, it was stated, had included one Australian division and one New Zealand.

A Cairo communique today said only that withdrawal in Greece was continuing satisfactorily.

A Cairo announcement also stated today that Axis air attacks had been repeatedly repulsed by Royal Air Force planes flying convoy patrols over certain Mediterranean areas. This communique did not indicate if the Royal Air Force was attempting to screen ships embarking Empire forces from Greece.

Pay And Then Pay Some More - - -

The new budget presented to Parliament at Ottawa yesterday provides for a number of tax increases. The gasoline tax of three per cent will affect a good many people but the really low income people will not be affected. Most people can use their cars less if they so wish.

A most severe feature of the federal taxation system is the present system of double taxation, especially on those conducting a family business. Under the new ruling an incorporated company must pay forty per cent of its profits to the government and, should a dividend be declared, the recipients must pay another heavy tax, the double tax amounting to a very large percentage of the whole.

The cost of living taxes have, apparently, not been affected to any great extent. On the whole everyone will have to pay a little more and the higher income people a great deal more. High taxes are the price of war, in this case the price of freedom. The only thing to do is to pay and look pleasant. It might have been worse.

Troops For Canada - - -

The visit of Prime Minister Mackenzie King to Washington seems to have been helpful in connection with the war effort. One thing that was done was to help stabilize the exchange rate between the two countries. That will enable the people of one country to order goods from the other without fear of a sudden change which might result in a considerable loss.

It is also stated in United States publications that the possibility of American troops replacing Canadian troops when Canadians were sent overseas was discussed. That might result in Prince Rupert having a battalion of American troops in place of Canadian in the local barracks. It is only a surmise but it is quite within the realms of possibility.

The close co-operation of American and Canadian warships with the use of naval bases is no new policy but it seems to have been further considered at the conference if American publications are to be believed.

Stimson's Hint - - -

Secretary of War H. L. Stimson, discussing his department activities before a committee of the Senate, told them that United States soldiers must be prepared for service in many parts of the world. Those who heard him evidently had their minds set on the Mediterranean countries and the Far East including the Philippines. However, there was nothing in the speech to indicate that American forces might be sent there soon.

Communists Puzzled - - -

Canadian Communists, who have been secretly supporting the Axis because they were ordered to do so, are now rather puzzled what to do. Russian support to Germany has cooled off and supplies to the mechanized army are said to have fallen off. However, we have not heard that the local Reds have received orders for full co-operation with the government in its war effort. They may yet receive those orders. In the meantime their number is so few in Canada that they make little appreciable difference. Their organization is illegal and any outspoken comments would very soon land them in a concentration camp if the comments tended to interfere in any way with the conduct of the war.

BELFAST AFTER AIR RAID THAT TOOK 500 LIVES

Salvage workers move through the wreckage of homes in Belfast, Northern Ireland, after the German air raid April 15th, that took at least 500 lives. Bodies are still being recovered from the wreckage. A British flag flies from the facade of a building on the left.

'FLEET ST.' GRADUATES

Well Organized Service Reports
Daring Deeds of Airmen

By LOUIS V. HUNTER

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 30: (CP)—The Air Ministry News Service, a government agency that operates like the big press associations of the world, is the voice of the Royal Air Force.

The news service follows the fliers wherever they go, at home or abroad. If there is a good story to tell (and there's hardly a day without at least one tale of amazing daring) of the feats of the brave British airmen, the news service reporters are there to turn up the facts and whip them into shape for distribution to a news-hungry world.

Since the start of the war more than 3,000 stories have been released for publication, most of them since the R.A.F.'s gallant part in the Battle of Britain last fall. Security reasons have held in abeyance until after the war probably as many more articles.

The news service was organized two-and-one-half years ago because it was felt that if the R.A.F. ever went into action a carefully planned news service would be needed to unfold to the world the activities of the airmen. The authorities felt, too, that the continued presence of civilian reporters, however unquestionable their integrity, would be undesirable. So hand-picked men were chosen and taken into the air force.

Trained News Men
The actual news-gatherers are trained newspapermen—graduates of Fleet Street who, on their appointment, are commissioned in the R.A.F. Volunteer Reserve. They join as pilot officers and go through a short period of training with a disciplinary course. Eventually they are sent to various command headquarters and if they are satisfactory are promoted to the rank of flight lieutenant.

These officers are at work wherever there are important commands or groups. Some are at Singapore, in the Mediterranean and the Middle East but the majority are attached to home bases of fighter, bomber and coastal commands. Whenever possible they interview pilots who have been bombing Germany or shooting down Messerschmitts so the world in general can read of the exploits. It is not an easy job even to men trained in handling news stories. British airmen—and the same goes for the Canadians serving in the R.A.F. are modest about their achievements. The interviews and stories encourage the people at home and in the Empire and neutral countries their propaganda value is incalculable.

How Distributed
The Ministry of Information in London acts as distributor for the news service. Subscribers to the M.O.I. teletype service have the material delivered over the wire to their editorial desks. It is in this way that The Canadian Press receives the stories, which it rewrites for cabling to Canada.

There is a service press officer at each of the commands and he bases his bulletins principally on intelligence and operational reports. The press officer at the group concerned follows up with stories and amplifies them later, generally with interviews. Group press officers have a wide variety of duties which only trained newspapermen could be trusted with. They arrange and conduct visits of newsmen, write radio scripts and feature articles. The man with the group is working under conditions similar to those of Fleet Street itself. If he hears of a good "yarn" he rushes off and sometimes uses an airplane to get there faster if the story is a "hot" one. He has practically a free hand in his news gathering but it is usual for all stories to be approved by a high officer of the command before they are sent to the Air Ministry for final scrutiny.

Man in the Moon

"Pay, pay, pay!" says Mr. Hsley and the people smilingly pay.

What I don't like is having to pay somebody to find out how much I owe at the end of the year.

We rather like Win. ton for saying "no" or "yes" promptly without consulting anybody. But if there was no war on, we should be likely to say "Please step down Winston. We want to argue."

The Germans have invaded Britain and were driven back. What will be the next move?

One Viennese to another: "How are you old chap?"

"Marvelous, thanks."

"It's quite all right, we are not on the telephone, you can tell me the truth."

Hubby: "What are we having for dinner?"

Wife: "Sponge cake, dear. I sponged the eggs from Mrs. Jones, the flour from Mrs. Brown and the milk from Mrs. Smith."

"Does your father," asked the caller of the minister's little daughter, "ever preach the same sermon twice?" "Yes, I think he does," was the reply, "but he talks loud and soft in different places each time so it doesn't sound the same."

A social climber is a person who spends money he hasn't got to buy things he doesn't require to impress people he doesn't like.

NORTHAMPTON, April 30: (CP)—Henry Newton, 69, was fined 40 shillings or a month in jail on his 101st charge of travelling on a train without paying his fare.

Presented Plan To Local Council
Of Women For Passing On To Government

By David Innes
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER, April 30: (CP)—Thousands of young war guests from Britain are romping happily in Canada because a gray-haired West Vancouver woman worried about the safety of two children. Mrs. Francis A. Walker has given credit for originating the scheme to bring British children to Canada for duration of the war. The two youngsters now enjoy a carefree life at the Walker home, far from the danger of dropping explosives and hurried flights to bomb shelters.

Mrs. Walker, before coming to the Pacific Coast in 1927, lived at Fort Saskatchewan, near Edmonton, where Mr. Walker was M. L. A. for the constituency of Victoria, now Clover Bar, in the Alberta legislature. He acted as Liberal whip for some years.

The two youngsters are not really Mrs. Walker's grandchildren but she regards them as such. Their mother, the present Aletha Orr of the English stage, wife of Sgt. Reynor Healy of a British anti-aircraft unit, was brought up at Mrs. Walker's Alberta home. Aletha Orr was born at Oak Lake, Man.

When Europe began to fear war was not far off in 1937, Mrs. Walker suggested to the English couple they send her little girl, Yoaland, to the safety of her home in Canada if war should strike. A second child, Anne, was born later.

Extended Plan
The idea led Mrs. Walker to wonder why other children could not be moved to Canada and she put the suggestion before her own unit of the Local Council of Women. It took a year of steady work before the unit approved a resolution to the Dominion body urging the evacuation scheme for British children be put before the Canadian government.

An extract from the address of Mrs. George O. Spencer, Moncton, N. B., president at the annual meeting of the National Council of Women in Toronto, June 12 and 13, 1940, reads:

"Two years ago Mrs. Walker, of the North Shore Local Council of Women, British Columbia, lent forward the request of her council that the N.C.W. give some attention to the problem of British refugees should war emergency develop. We were all sympathetic, but for the most part, felt sure that such necessity would not come. Now that we are in the midst of war worries we are grateful that from our own ranks the warning was sounded."

And so the two little girls play today at Mrs. Walker's home, just as thousands of other British youngsters are doing in foster homes in Canada. Yoaland, aged nine, likes Canada so much she doesn't want to return to England. Both she and her small sister have memories of huddling in shelters during bomb raids in England.

A total of 5,358 children have emigrated from Great Britain to Canada as guest children. Of these 1,532 have been transferred under the British government's evacuation arrangements and 4,326 came out privately.

R. M. Winslow will be the speaker tomorrow at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club.

Daring Girl On Flying Trapeze

Her Husband And Mentor Killed
On Job, She Takes His Place

NEW YORK, April 30: (AP)—When Antoinette Concello flies from a trapeze in her spangled tights, she stops the show. Thousands hush to silence. Then, below the blaze of circus spotlights, the drums begin to roll.

Antoinette's pink-clad body swings out, breaks sharp and full and flips into a ball. One . . . two and a half somersaults. Then she comes out of the spin and flies into the catcher's hands swinging to meet her high above the net. The gaping thousands relax—and get back their breath.

Antoinette, who started with the circus when she was 16, is billed as the only woman who does that two-and-a-half somersault trick. But it's not her only trick. Flying between trapeze and pedestal, she does some other difficult and dizzy spins.

She is a slim little blonde with sad blue eyes, fragile-looking as a piece of Dresden china. Her career in the great European music halls came to a sudden halt several years ago when her husband slipped from his trapeze and crashed to his death.

"He was husband, father, mother, teacher—everything to me," she told me. "After he was killed the world seemed to stop. I was alone. Sick. But I didn't lose my courage. After a while I came back—and practised—till I could come back to the ring."

"The circus—we can't leave it alone," said Antoinette. "I've tried ordinary jobs like modelling but they have always seem so dull."

"If you can't have a college education, the best education is to join the circus. I've learned a lot from it. I can read a face now when I see it—tell in a minute whether a man's a 'grifter' or not. And seeing so many things happen I've learned not to stew and fret—to take it on the chin. And I've built up my body too. I used to be a bareback rider, you see."

"But I can't keep this up forever. I figure if you're going to do anything you gotta do it before you're 30. What I'd really like to do—I'd like to write . . ."

CROSSFORD, April 30: (CP)—A Flight Sergeant George Smythe of this Scottish town, who joined the R. A. F. at 16, was promoted with the D. F. M. at Buckingham Palace.

WHO IS REDDY KILOWATT?

SPORT MEET IN FINLAND

HELSINKI, April 30: (CP)—The biggest sport meet in history will soon take place jointly in Finland and Sweden. The unique occasion will match the two peoples as nations rather than through their chosen champions.

The idea is to list every citizen in each country who walks a specified distance within a specified time during a certain two-week period in May. Because Sweden has twice the population of its neighbor, the lists will be rated on a ratio of 2:1. The nation ending up with the longer list of names wins the meet.

After negotiations between the Swedish Walking Union and the Finnish Sports Union, it was agreed that the competitive distances and maximum time limits would be 10 kilometres for men, one hour thirty minutes; for women, one hour four minutes; 15 kilometres for men alone, two hours twenty minutes.

Both boys and girls above the age of 10 are allowed to compete

Three "Imports" In Derby Lists

Three Foreign Horses Among 112 Nominated For Churchill Downs Classic

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky, April 30: (CP)—The Kentucky Derby is as American as the expression "sugar daddy," but all "sugar daddies" aren't American.

Of the 112 nominees for the 1941 Derby, three are foreigners (imported is the horseman's way of saying it). They are Colorado Lad, Fairmond and . . . Sugar Daddy. (There were no imported horses nominated last year, showing one effect the European war has had). Imported horses have fared poorly in the Derby although few have competed. The only winning "foreigner" was Omar Khayyam in 1917. Star Hawk is the only other importation to finish in the money. He was second in 1916.

at 10 kilometres, and boys over 14 at 15 kilometres. To stimulate further interest in honest-to-goodness hiking, Sweden challenged Finland for the international meet.

Tommy Gorman signed a five-year contract to manage Montreal Maroon six years ago yesterday. Gorman, who is now connected with Montreal Canadiens, came to the Maroons after leading Chicago Black Hawks to their first Stanley Cup title in 1934 and he made it two straight when he brought Montreal home in front in 1935.

Johnny Walker, hailed as Canada's greatest swimming coach, died at his Long Branch, Ontario, home six years ago today. His foremost protegee, George Young of Toronto, gained international fame when he won the Catalina Channel marathon in 1927.

SET PACE FOR BALL

Brooklyn Dodgers and Cleveland Indians Are Leading—New York Teams Slipping

CINCINNATI, April 30: (CP)—Brooklyn Dodgers and Cleveland Indians continue as respective pace-makers in the National and American Leagues, the Dodgers by swamping the Cincinnati Reds yesterday by a score of 13 to 2 while the Indians were taking a handy 8 to 3 decision from Philadelphia Athletics.

It was a bad day for both the New York teams who are now in a definite slump following their strong early season start. The Giants lost a close 5 to 4 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals who are making a good runner-up bid in the National League. Yankees were downed 3 to 2 by the St. Louis Browns who were thus able to move out of the cellar. The Yanks dropped from second to fourth place as a result.

Yesterday's Big League scores:

National League
Brooklyn 13, Cincinnati 2.
St. Louis 5, New York 4.
Philadelphia 6, Pittsburgh 2.
Boston 6, Chicago 3 (eleven innings).

American League
Chicago 3, Washington 2.
St. Louis 3, New York 2.
Cleveland 8, Philadelphia 3.
Detroit 5, Boston 3.

The league standings to date:

National League
Brooklyn	12	4 .800
St. Louis	9	3 .750
New York	8	5 .583
Cincinnati	7	7 .500
Boston	6	8 .428

HIS COUSIN IS FIGHTER

Joe May Be World Champion But Does That Include Ohio?

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 30: (CP)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis isn't the only fighter in the family. Here in the Buckeye capital he has a first cousin, Jack (Buddy) Walker, who is a pretty fair country heavyweight. Walker, who has lost two decisions and been held to a draw four times in 36 bouts against all kinds of opposition, is recognized by the Columbus boxing commission as Ohio heavyweight champion.

"I guess Cousin Joe and I just about have the heavyweight championship thing all tied up," Walker declared. "He may be champion of the world, but he better not include Ohio in that 'world' until he sees me about it."

Walker answers the bell next on April 29, when he meets Charles (Buddy) Knox, Dayton's fancy dan heavyweight, in a local ring for the state title. It's a 10-round.

MOVEMENT DISCUSSED

Union" Is Subject Of Motion By Rev. E. E. Brandt

At the Baptist Church last evening, Rev. E. E. Brandt discussed his theme "Federal Union" under considerable discussion. He outlined the general plan and pointed out the obstacles to its adoption. Under the most favorable circumstances and the attitude a Christian ought to take toward the plan.

Mr. Brandt felt that the supporters of the plan were inclined to overlook or underrate the obstacles to its adoption. Among some of these he mentioned natural inertia and conservatism which he remarked might be somewhat altered as the war continued. The strong ties of nationalism both within the United States and the Empire were material factors. Then there was the fear of some that strong interests would seek privileged positions and use them to exploit the weaker more unorganized portions of society. Other factions were the industrial interests within the nations of today that had grown up behind high tariff walls and that could not compete in a customs-free economy, the reluctance of nation governments to surrender their sovereignty, the fields of legislation considered a minimum for effective government were usually considered a number—the power to grant citizenship to make peace and to maintain a force; to regulate trade between states within the Union with foreign nations; to regulate postal services and communi-

Mr. Brandt felt that the supporters of the plan were inclined to overlook or underrate the obstacles to its adoption. Among some of these he mentioned natural inertia and conservatism which he remarked might be somewhat altered as the war continued. The strong ties of nationalism both within the United States and the Empire were material factors. Then there was the fear of some that strong interests would seek privileged positions and use them to exploit the weaker more unorganized portions of society. Other factions were the industrial interests within the nations of today that had grown up behind high tariff walls and that could not compete in a customs-free economy, the reluctance of nation governments to surrender their sovereignty, the results that such a surrender would have on the monarchy, the remoteness of such a government to the citizen as compared with the national government and the reluctance of nations to be committed to defend interests far from their shores—a point that the war might materially alter.

This plan, while more realistic than the League of Nations and, therefore, possibly more practical if put into effect, suffered from the same weakness as all man-made plans that refuse or fail to consider the moral and spiritual nature of man. It was another product of liberalism—the philosophy that man was competent to save himself with reference to the grace of God. Such plans as Federal Union might serve to improve upon the present order and, as such warrant study, but as in any way providing a satisfactory and ultimate answer and therefore replacing of the primacy of the Gospel of the grace of God, was to fail in its diagnosis of the nature and needs of man. Many of its supporters well realized that this plan would have flaws but Mr. Brandt felt that there has been for many years a tendency by some to substitute such transient plans in place of the more difficult, humble but more thoroughgoing Christian way through greater dependence upon God.

Telkwa Pioneer Is Moving South

James G. Donaldson and Family Farewelled Before Departure

SMITHERS, April 30.—An auction sale was held at the home of James G. Donaldson of Telkwa on Saturday afternoon. There was a large crowd attending and very good prices were realized by auctioneer L. H. Kenney.

Mr. Donaldson is an old timer in the district and has been very active in the Farmers' Institute and the Seed Growers' Co-operative plant. He will be greatly missed in the community when he leaves on Thursday to live on his newly acquired farm near Kamloops.

On Monday evening a farewell party was given for Mr. Donaldson and family in the Telkwa Hall. Many friends of the family gathered to wish them good-bye and good luck. A presentation of a travelling bag and a purse was made to Mr. Donaldson. S. Woodman was master of ceremonies for the evening when those present enjoyed themselves with cards and dancing. Others taking part and making short speeches, expressing their regret at the departure of the Donaldsons and wishing them good fortune in the future, were Frank Dockrill, T. J. Thorp and Tom Brandon.

Smithers Raises $800 From Drive

Committee in Charge of War Services Campaign is Well Satisfied With Results

SMITHERS, April 30.—The drive for funds for the War Services campaign is now just about completed and the total realized is an even $800. This includes contributions of some $130 from the outlying districts, exclusive of Hazelton which is carrying on its own drive. The committee in charge of the campaign are very pleased with the results of the drive.

Three generations of Greek peasants sit amid the ruins of their home after Nazi bombs had crashed it to bits. The youngest, terrified, is whimpering in his mother's arms. The grandmother so brokenheartedly. This picture is only one new epitome of the impact of war on civilians. The men suffer in the battlefields and the women and children at home in the Nazi type of all-out war against the people of the enemy country.

Trollers Are Doing Quite Well On Good Run Of Fish—Co-op Handling Seattle Halibut Livers

A good early season run of springs is developing on the trolling grounds. Good catches are being landed at Prince Rupert and some of the boats are making excellent financial returns. One man boat this week cleaned up over $400 after ten days' fishing and there have been several instances of $300 or so being made. These boats have been using their own fish and bringing them in. The Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative and John Clausen each have three camps in operation now—the former at Dundas, Squadare and Banks Island and the latter at Dundas, Squadare and Warke Canal.

An arrangement has been made whereby the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative is handling halibut livers from Puget Sound halibut boats landing their catches at Prince Rupert. The Puget Sound fleet is processing its own livers at Seattle now like the Prince Rupert fleet is doing here. The Co-op looks after the forwarding of the livers from Prince Rupert to Seattle.

Six halibut vessels—three from the western grounds and three from the local banks—marketed catches totalling 153,000 pounds at Seattle yesterday. The sales were as follows: Pacific, 40,000 pounds, Whiz, 95c and 93c; Superior, 32,000, Sebastian, 93c and 9c; Rainbow, 28,000, San Juan, 91c and 9c; Meldan, 19,600, Washington, 10 1/4c and 9c; Prescho, 14,000, New England, 10 1/2c and 9c; Destiny, 19,000, Booth, 10 1/4c and 9c.

With a good-sized list of passengers and substantial freight cargo, C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived in port at 11:30 this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Ketchikan and Stewart whence she is due back here tomorrow evening southbound.

A light list of only 37 passengers was aboard the steamer Princess Louise which was in port yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver. Three persons disembarked from the vessel here while twelve went aboard at this port for the south.

MENACE OF FIRES BAD

Exceptionally Dangerous Situation In Bulkley Valley—Already Considerable Damage Done

SMITHERS, April 30.—An exceptional situation of forest and grass fires is spreading throughout the Bulkley Valley. Fanned by high winds, the fires have caused the forestry service to go into action much earlier than usual this year. They have also caused some material damage.

One fire on the west side of the Bulkley River near Tatlow Station Saturday afternoon jumped across the river and destroyed some small buildings on the farm owned by Mrs. Ed Orchard, now of Bremerton, Washington, but formerly of the Bulkley Hotel at Smithers. Only prompt action saved the house on this farm from being destroyed.

Saturday night the forestry department had a crew out all night fighting fire.

It is reported that all the farm buildings except the dwelling were destroyed on a farm owned by an Indian named John Batiste on the Babine Lake road about 10 miles from Smithers, on Sunday last, and that some stock, including four head of calves and all the farm machinery were destroyed.

A light shower of rain on Monday night checked the fires somewhat but, unless there is considerable rain soon, the fire season will take on a serious aspect right from the start.
