Turkey Is All Ready To Fight

German Attack Upon Greece Will Be War Sign, Istanbul Says

Confirmed That Russia Intends to do Nothing if Germany Invades Bulgaria—Rumania Girds Herself for Defence

ISTANBUL, February 14: (CP)—The Turkish press today declared that Turkey is prepared to fight because "we cannot be disinterested when a foreign army passes into Bulgaria." Inspired articles were interpreted as being Turkey's negative answer to the Axis diplomatic campaign to win the Ankara government's promise to remain still in case Nazi forces move through Bulgaria to attack Greece. Indications are of a straight answer by Turkey to Germany that, if Greece is attacked by Germany, Turkey will fight. Germany has been seeking to get Turkey's undertaking to stand pat.

DOMINION WITHDRAWS ON RELIEF

Will Leave Direct Aid to Provinces and Municipalities, Ottawa Announces

OTTAWA, Feb. 14: (CP)—Dominion contributions to direct relief will be discontinued March 31, Hon. Norman McLarty, minister of Labor, announced last night. Heavy Dominion war expenditures and social services, coupled with unemployment shrinkage, due to war activities are given as the reasons for ending the ten year Dominion participation in unemployment relief and agricultural distress.

Up to now the Dominion had borne forty per cent of the cost of direct unemployment relief, the provinces forty per cent and the municipalities, twenty per cent.

There will be no greater burden entailed upon the provinces and the municipalities as a result of withdrawal of federal contributions, Mr. McLarty pointed out, since it is estimated that only $7,000,000 will be required for direct relief during the coming year as compared with $14,000,000 during the year now expiring.

(London said that it knew nothing of this report and suggested that it might have been a Royal Air Force crew bailing out of a plane which was responsible for it.)

J. L. Isley, minister of finance, announced last night. The government will shortly appoint a motor vehicles controller to safeguard war production against civilian demands for cars. Consideration by some companies in setting up manufacturing facilities in Canada "when machine tools and labor are extremely scarce" prompted the move.

TO ATTACK SINGAPORE

Japan Preparing to Strike When Britain Invaded—Navy on Patrol

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Feb. 14.—A Japanese correspondent here declared today that Japanese warships were patrolling the entire French Indo-China coast and also the Thailand shore as far west as Bangkok. These sources, whose assertions are unconfirmed, said the patrol was set up as a precaution against possible developments.

Correspondents claimed that Japan is expecting Germany to attempt an invasion of Britain, whereupon "Japan will move against Anglo-American interests in the Orient and Netherlands East Indies, attacking first Singapore."

War News

AIR WAR RENEWED

LONDON—The Royal Air Force renewed its bombing attacks last night and today on German-held invasion ports on the French Channel coast. In today's daylight sweep the thud of heavy explosions could be heard on the English side of the Channel. There were heavy battles between British and German air squadrons over the English Channel on a scale recalling the fierce combats of last fall. At least one German Messerschmidt was brought down as the British planes fought with the German craft half way across the Channel. Apart from this the British raiders, apparently encountered no opposition.

TRIPOLITANIA ENTERED

CAIRO—A British Hussar regiment has crossed into the Tripolitania or western section of Libya without any major resistance on the part of the Italians. A native camel corps surrendered. It included 200 camels and sixty fine horses.

BEST AIR RAID YET

ATHENS—The British and Greek air forces have carried out the heaviest and most successful bombing raids so far in the war in Albania with the principal cities of Tirano and Durazzo as the chief targets. Airdromes were struck at both places and planes destroyed. Meantime, Greek land forces moved forward and drove the Italians from fortified positions.

PACIFIC SITUATION CRITICAL

SYDNEY—There has been no further deterioration in the Far East situation. There is no tendency, however, to suggest that it is less critical. Vice-Premier Fadden stated today that his warning to the nation yesterday was necessary. The Australian war cabinet reviewed the latest information today.

TO CANVASS WHOLE CITY

Meeting Last Night to Promote Sale of War Savings Certificate Lays Its Plans

The local organization to promote the sale of War Savings Certificates got off to a good start last night by planning the campaign. It was decided to appoint a committee to look after the employers-employee groups and see that they are well organized and working efficiently. Another committee will canvass the business section including the professional men and a third committee will have in hand a canvass of the waterfront.

The general house to house canvass will be delayed for two weeks so that it may not conflict with the other groups. A meeting of all who are willing to work in that campaign will be held in the City Hall February 27 when arrangements will be made to cover the city well. Something like forty canvassers will be required for this.

W. M. Watts, who presided and who is the permanent chairman in charge of the campaign, explained that they were a little late in getting organized but the job had to be done and he hoped they would be able to do it well. He was glad to see the representatives of so many organizations present. The government planned to raise $120,000,000 from the sale of certificates which bore a good rate of interest. What was needed not particularly was to secure pledges of continual support for the duration of the war. Prince Rupert was expected to raise $6,000 a month regularly and he felt that the only way to meet this quota was to institute a canvass. The city had done very well during the first year but a continuous supply of money was harder to raise than a spasmodic campaign.

The committee had discovered that some of the organizations in the city had already commenced work. Some of the workers at the dry dock did not seem to understand the plan and it was suggested that speakers should be sent there to meet the men at the noon hour and explain it to them. Pledge cards had been issued and this would be repeated.

There was a general discussion and it was finally decided to carry out a house to house canvass as soon as the employer-employee plan had been completed. By that time they would know exactly what was required.

A. R. Mallory of Port Clements Passes Away After Brief Illness

Albert Roy Mallory, police magistrate, road superintendent and postmaster at Port Clements and one of the most widely known residents of the Queen Charlotte Islands, passed away at his home at 5 o'clock on Wednesday evening, according to word received today from the Islands. On Tuesday morning he had been taken suddenly ill. The funeral is taking place today.

The late Mr. Mallory is survived by his widow and a son who will have the deep sympathy of their many friends not only on the Queen Charlotte Islands but also on this part of the mainland.

TRIBUTE TO CHURCHILL

"Greatest Figure in World" Says Willkie—Urges Republicans To Support Administration

NEW YORK, Feb. 14:—Speaking before a Lincoln Day Republican rally here, Wendell Willkie described Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain as "the greatest public figure in the world today."

United States can become a dictator in world peace by assisting Great Britain by providing instruments of war, Willkie said. He paid tribute to the present Washington administration, describing it as a power which grasps the meaning of the situation. He urged the Republican party to support a positive doctrine which would lead after the war to an economic system offering men "things they had never known or enjoyed before." Willkie was cheered to the echo by a great gathering.

RESPOND TO WAR SAVING

Canadian National Railways Employees Decide to "Work, Save and Lend"

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—"Encouraging reports regarding response to the appeal to purchase war savings certificates are coming from employees in every part of Canada. Indeed some offices have already answered by returning pledges to the extent of 100 per cent," said D. C. Grant, vice-president of finance, Canadian National Railways, in recording the result of solicitation of employees on the national system in the present campaign. "Every employee throughout the nine provinces has been personally approached during this month," explained Mr. Grant. "That meant the personal solicitation of more than 80,000 individuals."

"Naturally, it requires some time first to reach the large number of employees, then to tabulate the pledge cards—so the final result will not be known until the end of February. However, pledge cards already received from the three regions—the maritimes, central and western—have been on such scale as to indicate a generous answer. The measure of this response is gratifying because it comes from every class of worker, that of modest wage or salary earner being as enthusiastically given as any other in pledging part of that wage to financially helping Canada's war effort."

"Generally speaking, pledges so far received have been fairly substantial but no pledge has been overlooked even to that of the junior office boy who asked that one dollar a month be deducted from his wages," concluded Mr. Grant.

Prince Rupert And The War . . .

If Japan decides to come into the war, as she is threatening to do, Prince Rupert will have to seriously consider her own situation. It is a situation like we have just now that shows the wisdom of instituting the air raid protection scheme which is being carried out. It may yet become necessary. It is considered that Prince Rupert is one of the most likely places to be attacked in case of a war on the Pacific. It is possible that women and children may have to be evacuated, if the situation becomes serious.

We are not mentioning this for the purpose of frightening anyone but just so that in case of necessity we may be prepared.

Stalin And Hitler Comrades . . .

The Soviet Ambassador in Sofia has just given his little brother Slavs the cheerful news that they have been sold down the river once again, says the Vancouver News Herald. Moscow does not intend to intervene if the Nazis find it expedient to make Bulgaria another "doormat."

Russia may well have good reasons for minding her own business. In that case the Communist brethren would do better not to pretend to virtues which they do not intend to exercise.

But Russia has posed throughout this struggle as the protector of the weak and the oppressed—the paradise of the exploited working class; the citadel of true peace and freedom. And Russia has not failed at any critical juncture since the war began to further Hitler's imperial ambitions.

Stalin in fact is a much more helpful partner in the world conspiracy than the inept and fumbling Mussolini. Brother Stalin may have asked a high price but so far he has always delivered the goods to Hitler whether it be in Poland, Finland, Rumania or Bulgaria.

Of course there is every possibility that the Bulgarians are willing partners and that Stalin's reassurance is just a pat on the back for being good boys and obeying orders.

As Mr. Churchill reminded us yesterday, the Bulgars are about to repeat a sad mistake.

Immediate War Aim . . .

Another attempt has been made in the British House of Commons to obtain a definition of British "war aims," says the Ottawa Citizen. Arthur Greenwood speaking for the government, repeated Mr. Churchill's sensible remarks of last fall by saying that winning the war was the immediate aim.

There seems to be an assumption that the world is full of people and nations who are holding back full aid to Britain or hesitating before rebelling against Hitler because of bewildered ignorance concerning British "war aims."

It is of interest to note that the persons who keep prodding the British government for a declaration of war aims are mainly pinks and armchair battlers for a new constitution who have become fans for federal union.

Britain's sole war aim last year and her sole war aim this year is to avoid defeat. That is a big enough proposition to go on with, and any plan of aims which would commend itself to these war-aims agitators would not assist in achieving that objective. In fact, it would just start them off squabbling again, for no two groups of "planned economy" zealots can ever agree.

SMITHERS AT PR. GEORGE

Gave Good Account of Itself in Hockey and Curling

SMITHERS, Feb. 14.—Smithers curlers and hockey players invaded Prince George last week-end and did very well for themselves in the competitions that were held there in these lines of sport. Unfortunately, the weather was very mild and there was considerable water on the ice in the curling rink which greatly handicapped the players who were unable to do any fancy work with the rocks. The ice in the big new hockey rink was not hard by any means but it was much better for hockey than the curlers had for their games.

The Smithers puck chasers won the first game by a score of 3 to 4 before a large crowd of enthusiasts who crowded into the rink.

Prince George sent out an "S.O.S." for a goal tender and procured the services of goalie Trinder of Wells and it was quite fortunate for them that they did so. Otherwise they would have been swamped in the second game which was played on Sunday afternoon.

In the first period of this game the puck was flying at the Prince George net from every angle and at the rate of about two a minute but the goal tender managed to keep them all out even though half of the players of both the teams were piled up on top of him in the net a number of times and there was no score in this period.

Several times during the game the referee did what he could to help the home team by putting a couple of Smithers players off the ice at the same time and, just two minutes before the end of the game with the score tied at two all, two of the Smithers men were chased to the penalty box. The Prince George team put on a power play and had all men down at the Smithers end trying desperately to get the winning goal to beat the whistle when Mel McIntyre broke out of the crowd and raced for the other end with no one between him and the goal. He managed to elude the goalie and scored the winning goal just before the whistle ended the game.

In the third game on Monday evening, there was a new referee and there was only one minor penalty all the evening, this being handed to Harley Lewis of Smithers. This last game resulted in a tie at two all.

The Smithers boys returned home on Tuesday well pleased with two wins and a draw to their credit. Prince George people are well satisfied that Smithers is the home of hockey in the north and envy the town the quality of hockey put on by Smithers boys who are nearly all juniors.

The curling banspiel there were three rinks representing Smithers, these being skipper by Art Simpson, Jim Downey and Bill Duff. There were also rinks from Wells and Williams Lake besides thirteen Prince George rinks in the competition for the three trophies known as the Kelly Cup, Robertson Cup and McCullagh Shield.

Last year the Simpson rink won the Kelly Cup while the Downey rink brought home the Robertson Cup and they carried these back with them for this banspiel.

In the ensuing play in this banspiel the Simpson rink, composed of J. McEwen, L. Kemple, Jas. Bovill and A. Simpson, won eleven games out of the twelve games played in the three competitions and they brought home the Robertson Cup and the McCullagh Shield which eliminated them from the big Kelly Cup competitions. The Duff rink, composed of L. H. Kenney, James Graham, P. Berg and William Duff, got into the semi-finals of the Kelly Cup but was beaten by the Pigeon rink from Wells which won the cup in the finals.

Smithers Banspiel
The Smithers Curling Club will be holding its own banspiel commencing on Sunday and it is expected that Prince George will send at least two rinks to take part while the old reliable Billy Little of Woodcock is also expected to be an entrant as usual.

In the Hanson Cup contest, which has been held up for several weeks on account of mild weather, the finals were played Wednesday night on perfect ice between the Johnson rink and the Carey rink and the trophy was carried off by Ward Carey after a close contest.

Play is now going on in the Ladies' Club for the fine new Home Oil Cup and competition is very keen for the honor of being the first winners of this cup.

Gunnar Hockert, Finnish runner who set world's records in the 3,000-metre and 5,000-metre events at the Olympics in Berlin in 1936, was reported killed while fighting on the Karelian Isthmus a year ago yesterday. He was the second Finnish star to die in the Russian-Finnish war. The first was Birger Wasenius, a speed skater.

More than 14,000 Toronto Maple Leaf supporters cheered as Ace Bailey and Eddie Shore clasped hands seven years ago tonight in Maple Leaf Gardens at Toronto. Crushed to the ice by the Boston defenseman December 11, 1933, Bailey's hockey-playing career was cut short and a benefit game was arranged with the Bailey-Shore reunion being the attraction. Leafs defeated an all-star team 7-3.

National Hockey League scoring statistics issued seven years ago showed Charlie Conacher leading with 40 points. The Toronto Maple Leaf bomber held a six-point lead over Joe Primeau and was nine points ahead of Harvey Jackson, other members of the famous "kid" line of 1934. Both Conacher and Jackson are with New York Americans this winter.

EARLY DAYS ON PRAIRIES

Colonel Junget, Formerly of Mounted Police, Speaks to Rotary Club On "When the West Was Young"

Colonel Cristin Junget, formerly of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and now a member of the Victoria Rotary Club, was yesterday one of the most interesting speakers the Prince Rupert Rotary Club has had for many a day. He gave personal reminiscences of the days "When the West Was Young" and some of them were very funny. He was a youthful mountie in those days and had charge of train loads of foreign immigrants for large districts settled up by these immigrants in what is now the province of Alberta or Saskatchewan. He was in the mounted police force for 37 years.

Following the election of 1896, when the Liberal party under Laurier came into power, a tremendous flood of immigrants came to the country, the queerest lot that ever came to Canada. They were dumped on to the prairies and settled there. Many of them were dirty, immoral and ready for any crime. It was a heavy responsibility for the young mountie to have charge of these, a man scarcely out of his teens.

Among the interesting stories told was one having to do with the customs of one sect that refused to bury its dead. An old lady died and the people carried the body about from village to village and at night left it in the bush. It was the month of July and something had to be done. The Colonel said he wired to Regina, explaining the case and asking for instructions. He received in reply the laconic wire "Bury Her."

To tell him to bury the body was easy but the party would not allow it. However, he got hold of a Frenchman and got him to make a coffin and all that night he worked digging a grave and before morning the old lady was buried. Nobody in the village knew what had happened only that the body had disappeared.

The speaker then described the social life of the period, the barn dances to which people travelled forty miles. The legal system was very elastic and not according to Hoyle always. But it was effective and that was the main thing. The life had plenty of glamour and was always interesting.

Humorous Menentio

One of the relics of the early days on the prairies saved by Colonel Cristin Junget was the list of rules and regulations of the old McLeod Hotel "adopted unanimously by the proprietor, September 1, A.D. 1882." Col. Junget read these rules to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Thursday afternoon:

1. Guests will be provided with breakfast and dinner but must rustle their own lunch.
2. Spikes boots and spurs must be removed at night before retiring.
3. Dogs are not allowed in the bunks but may sleep underneath.
4. Candles, hot water and other luxuries charged extra, also towels and soap.
5. Towels changed weekly. Insect powders for sale at the bar.
6. Crap, chucksuck, studhorse poker and black jack games are run by the management. Indians and niggers charged double rates.
7. Special rates to "gospel grinders" and the "gambling profess."
8. Every known fluid (water excepted) for sale at the bar.
9. A deposit must be made before towels, soap or candles can be carried to rooms. When boarders are leaving, a rebate will be given on all candles or parts of candles not burned or eaten.

10. Two or more persons must sleep in one bed when so requested by the proprietor.
11. Not more than one dog allowed to be kept in each single room.
12. Baths furnished free down at the river but bathers must furnish their own soap and towels.
13. No kicking regards the quantity or quality of meals will be allowed. Those who do not like the provender will get out or be put out.
14. Assaults on the cook are strictly prohibited.
15. Quarrelsome or boisterous people also those who shoot off guns or other explosive weapons on the premises without provocation and all boarders who get killed will not be allowed to remain in the house.
16. When guests find themselves or their baggage thrown over fence, they may consider they have received notice to quit.
17. Jewelry and other valuables will not be locked in the safe. This hotel has no such ornament as a safe.
18. The proprietor will not be accountable for anything.
19. In case of fire the guests are requested to escape without any unnecessary delay.
20. The bar in the Annex will be open day and night. All day drinks 50c each. Night drinks $1 each. No mixed drinks will be served except in case of death in the family.
21. Only regularly registered guests will be allowed the special privilege of sleeping on the bar room floor.
22. Guests without baggage must sleep in the vacant lot and board elsewhere until their baggage arrives.
23. Guests are forbidden to strike matches or spit on the ceiling or to sleep in bed with their boots on.
24. No cheques cashed for anybody. Payment must be made in cash, gold dust or blue chips.
25. Saddle horses can be hired at any hour of the day or night or the next day or night if necessary.
26. Meals served in rooms will not be guaranteed in any way. Our waiters are hungry and net above temptation.
27. To attract attention of waiters or bellboys shoot a hole through the door panel; two shots for ice water, three for a deck of cards, etc.
28. All guests are requested to rise at 6 a.m. This is imperative as the sheets are needed for table-cloths.
29. No tips must be given to any waiters or servants. Leave them all with the proprietor and he will distribute them if he considers it necessary.
30. Everything cash in advance. Following tariff subject to change: Board $25 a month. Board and Lodging $50 a month with wooden bench to sleep on. With bed to sleep on $60 a month.

Present at the luncheon as guests were E. P. Sidaway of Halifax, C. C. Mills of Prince Rupert, A. Attrée of Terrace.

Dr. Neal Carter presided.

THIS IS WAR SAVINGS PLEDGE MONTH

Start Now!

February has been set aside as War Savings Pledge Month, when every member of every household in Canada will be asked to pledge a definite, substantial sum every week to aid Canada's great war effort.

In addition to the revenue derived from taxation and War Loans, substantial savings from 2,000,000 Canadian pay envelopes will be urgently needed. Every Canadian family must pledge. This calls for sacrifice, perhaps, but no hardship. What you lend, now, can really be regarded as deferred pay.

Your family . . . your whole family . . . old and young . . . will want to enrol in this home army, pledged to work and save and LEND to provide war funds so urgently needed.

Expect a call at your home from an authorized War Savings worker who will ask all members of your household to sign pledge cards. Your caller will give you a window hanger that will identify your home as 100% enrolled for War Savings. And each member of your family will receive a "War Saver" insignia . . . an insignia all will be proud to wear.

Have every member of your household pledge to invest a definite part of his or her income in War Savings Certificates. Have the amount you pledge to lend deducted regularly—every week—from your pay envelope or, — every month—from your bank account. Your employer or bank manager will arrange for War Savings Certificates to be sent direct to you from Ottawa.

Every Canadian should enrol NOW to send fighting dollars into our defence line.

Letter Box

TO PREVENT TRAGEDIES

Editor, Daily News:

Without doubt all people in the community have been deeply touched by the tragic passing of little Jackie, child of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nelson. The sincere sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved parents. At the same time as the facts in the case do not permit wilful carelessness to be laid against anyone as the cause of the destruction of the child's life, I take the privilege to make a few statements affecting such situations in the future. This I do in the spirit of kindness and charity towards all and because I love children with whom I have had much to do for many years.

First, there is a very large number of children in our city. No home and no community has possessions of more priceless worth than the children. They are created in God's image. The Master Himself gave to the children the most exalted position among all men on earth. The protection, care and loving concern for the children in a home or in a community will determine the future of that home and that community. Such care and concern involve the physical, mental, moral and spiritual welfare of the children. Neglect or carelessness in any of these matters will result most certainly in downfall in the future, in spite of material advancement.

Secondly, it is in the power of the grown-up people of today, in our city, if properly recognized, to take such care of the children in all the matters referred to that the future may be assured. However, in certain physical respects, the children growing up here are at a disadvantage as compared to children in many other places. The children here have less sunshine than the children farther south. The children here have much fewer and much less attractive playgrounds outside than in many other places. As a rule, the yards around the homes are very small and otherwise not fit for playgrounds. There are left only the school grounds that are dry and unfit for the children as attractive playgrounds. Not all the children can be there. Consequently, a very large number of children are playing on the streets which are narrow and more or less heavily trafficked. Especially on Saturdays and also Sundays, I have observed that Ninth, Eighth and Seventh Avenues East are almost lined with children playing. Larger and smaller children. Some would remark that they should not be in the busy streets. But, where should they be? If children can not play in the open, they will perhaps be compelled to gather in some alley, where, experience proves, not only the good things are fostered.

Thirdly, these situations create the imperative necessity of extreme care and consideration being given the children, their well-being and safety at all times and by every grown-up person in the city. This becomes especially true in regard to any and all persons driving cars or trucks. I have driven cars since 1915, averaging 25,000 miles each year. I have driven in country communities and in the largest cities in the United States. I have observed careful and also careless and reckless drivers. In Prince Rupert we have many very excellent drivers. But, without malice, I have also observed that we have some drivers who are very careless when driving through traffic and where children or pedestrians are in large numbers. I have personally seen, especially on Saturdays, cars being driven on Seventh and Eighth Avenues where there have been large numbers of children playing with almost reckless abandon, without marked slowing down, and without proper regard for the children. At times it has seemed a miracle that large number of children always children have not been run over. What happened the other day, or should be permitted to drive faster for two or three blocks past the school than five miles per hour. Nothing would be lost by anybody on account of such restriction. Co-operation and sincere concern for the welfare of the children would go far to preclude further tragedies in these respects. True, there are not so many car accidents in the city. But, even one life destroyed is one too many in a city where the number of cars is very small after all.

Let all the parents at all times see to it that the little children are not playing on the busy street. Let all the larger children be trained to look after and protect the smaller children.

Let the teachers in our schools make efforts to impress upon the children the proper observance of safety precautions on the streets.

Let every driver of a car always remember that he is handling an object that at any moment may destroy a human being that comes in his way.

To destroy a human life is a serious matter.

No person driving a car should permit himself to use intoxicating liquor. Without exception, any person using liquor is more or less void of the ability of proper judgment and of instant action.

No person, who has to admit that he drinks intoxicating liquor, more or less, should be granted a licence to drive a car for commercial or any other purpose.

The King Edward school grounds are located between two streets always almost filled with children. Would it be possible to put up a high and rather strong woven wire fence along Eighth Avenue to prevent the children running off the school grounds onto the street? Furthermore, on account of the

Flying Trappers Corral Beavers

New England Fur Men Use Planes to Reach Lucrative Areas Near Border

ASHLAND, Me., Feb. 14: (CP)—With large beaver pelts bringing as much as $40 each this winter, Clyde Leach of Ashland, and Fred Anderson of New Sweden, who became Maine's first flying trappers last winter, have found it profitable again to use an airplane for expeditions into the beaver country along the Canadian border.

While the 28 townships on the northern border of the state now open for beaver trapping are not inaccessible by other means, the difficulty of hiking in with supplies and traps makes ordinary trapping there far less profitable than in other areas. Leach and Anderson, however, are able to fly in an hour to lakes that would take several days to reach by foot and dog sled and also can fly in adequate pro-

CALL FOR FORESTERS

Woodsmen From Canada In Britain Are Marksmen And Ready For Enemy

LONDON, Feb. 14: (CP)—They'll be missed in the Northern Canadian bushlands—many of the veteran Canadian woodsmen who have discarded jackets and jack-boots for battle dress.

A call was sounded last spring for recruits for the Canadian Forestry Corps, organized by Maj.-Gen. J. B. White of Montreal. Skilled and stalwart bushmen operating around the head-of-the-lakes responded and a company was formed at Port Arthur.

Now they are somewhere in England—Canada's first forestry detachment on the home front. Other companies of the forestry corps are expected to join the advance party shortly.

The "Chick-a-dees" as they are fondly called by the commanding officer, Major G. J. Dawson of Port Arthur, are all skilled shots. They needed little training in rifle fire. Years of living in Canada's forests with an axe on one shoulder and a rifle over the other gave them the necessary experience.

While on active service they will work in close co-operation with the Royal Canadian Engineers and will take part in demolition work.

During the last war it was found necessary to mobilize forestry units for front-line warfare. Many of them had not been trained as fighting troops.

"We will be prepared this time," said Maj.-Gen. White. "We are ready for trench or any other type of fighting. The men are experienced marksmen as well as skilled bushmen. Training in Canada included stiff rifle drill and foot drill as well as action on Bren and anti-aircraft guns."

Former District Forester A. E. Parlow of Prince Rupert is now in England with the Canadian Forestry Corps with rank of colonel.

Arnold Flaten is sailing tonight on the Venture to attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society. He expects to be away just over a week.

WAR IN THE WESTERN DESERT OF AFRICA

Two pictures illustrate the terrain through which British forces are fighting their way as they drive the Italians before them in Libya, North Africa. At the top, infantrymen behind a rock and sand barricade, man rifles and machine-guns as they blast down the opposition. Below, the tommies take time out to grin cheerfully for the camera from their rocky trenches. It must be cold, even in the desert. Note the heavy mufflers, or maybe they are protection from the sand.
