War News

INTERNATIONAL TROUBLE
NEW YORK—Columbian Broadcasting System said Sunday night, despite official Italian cables that cabled advices from Balkan capitals described serious fighting in Milan and other northern Italian cities with Italian soldiers fighting on the side of the rebels. A number of Italian army officers and other reported dignitaries of the Fascist party are said to have been arrested by the Italian secret police and German gestapo. Further German troops are being moved into Italy. Berlin admits that they have arrived in Sicily.

GERMANS IN RUMANIA
ISTANBUL—The number of German troops in Rumania has reached 160,000, Reuters news agency reports. When the number has reached 300,000 the Balkans may look for trouble say Turkish officials who reiterate that any German move against the Balkans will be regarded as a menace to Turkey.

R.A.F. ONLY ACTIVITY
LONDON—A small number of Royal Air Force bombers operated over Hanover last night, dropping some bombs in industrial areas of the city, the Air Ministry announced. All British planes returned safely. London had its seventh consecutive night free of raids. Skies of Great Britain were still empty of Nazi planes throughout Sunday night. Speculation was divided as to whether the reason for the absence of the Nazis was misty weather over their bases or a rest-up prior to a mass attack with all resources against Great Britain. Two Nazi planes were brought down over the week-end, one by anti-aircraft guns and one by an armed trawler over the North Sea.

BRITONS WINNING EVERYWHERE
CAIRO—British general headquarters announced today that twenty-five thousand Italian prisoners had been taken in last week's capture of Tobruk and 1100 in the invasion of Eritrea. British forces are closing in on the important rail centre of Agordat and on Barentu, both in Eritrea. Operations are developing satisfactorily in the Derna area of Libya which is the gateway to the mountain plateau towards Bengazi where Marshal Graziani, Italian commander-in-chief may make his last stand. British tanks are already reported to be smashing their way into Derna, next Italian base port on the Mediterranean west of Captured Tobruk. As only a small Italian garrison is believed left at Derna, it should soon fall. Italian forces are withdrawing towards Bengazi. British forces are also thrusting deeper into Italian Somaliland and Ethiopia as well as Libya and Ethiopia.

COUNTER-OFFENSIVE FAILS
ATHENS—The Italian counter-offensive in Albania, in spite of heavy reinforcements, has met with a disastrous defeat, it is announced by the Greeks in Athens. A particularly heavy Italian reverse occurred in the Tepelini sector. Numerous Italian dead and wounded were left in the field. The Greeks are also nearing Valona.

FIRST AIR RAID ALARM FOR PRINCE RUPERT; LOCAL A.R.P. FUNCTIONS IN EFFICIENT WAY

Banshees Sound Sunday Afternoon With "All Clear" Following an Hour Later—250 Workers Turn Out Promptly to Posts

Prince Rupert had its first air raid alarm of the war Sunday afternoon. The banshees sounded at 2:19 p.m. The "all clear" came about an hour later. Air raid protection wardens, doctors, nurses, first aid workers and ambulances, demolition squads and gas decontamination patrols moved quickly to their posts. No enemy planes appeared. No bombs were dropped. It was the first rehearsal of the Prince Rupert air raid protection organization.

BIG STORM LAST NIGHT

Heaviest Gale of Winter Visits Prince Rupert But No Serious Damage Was Done

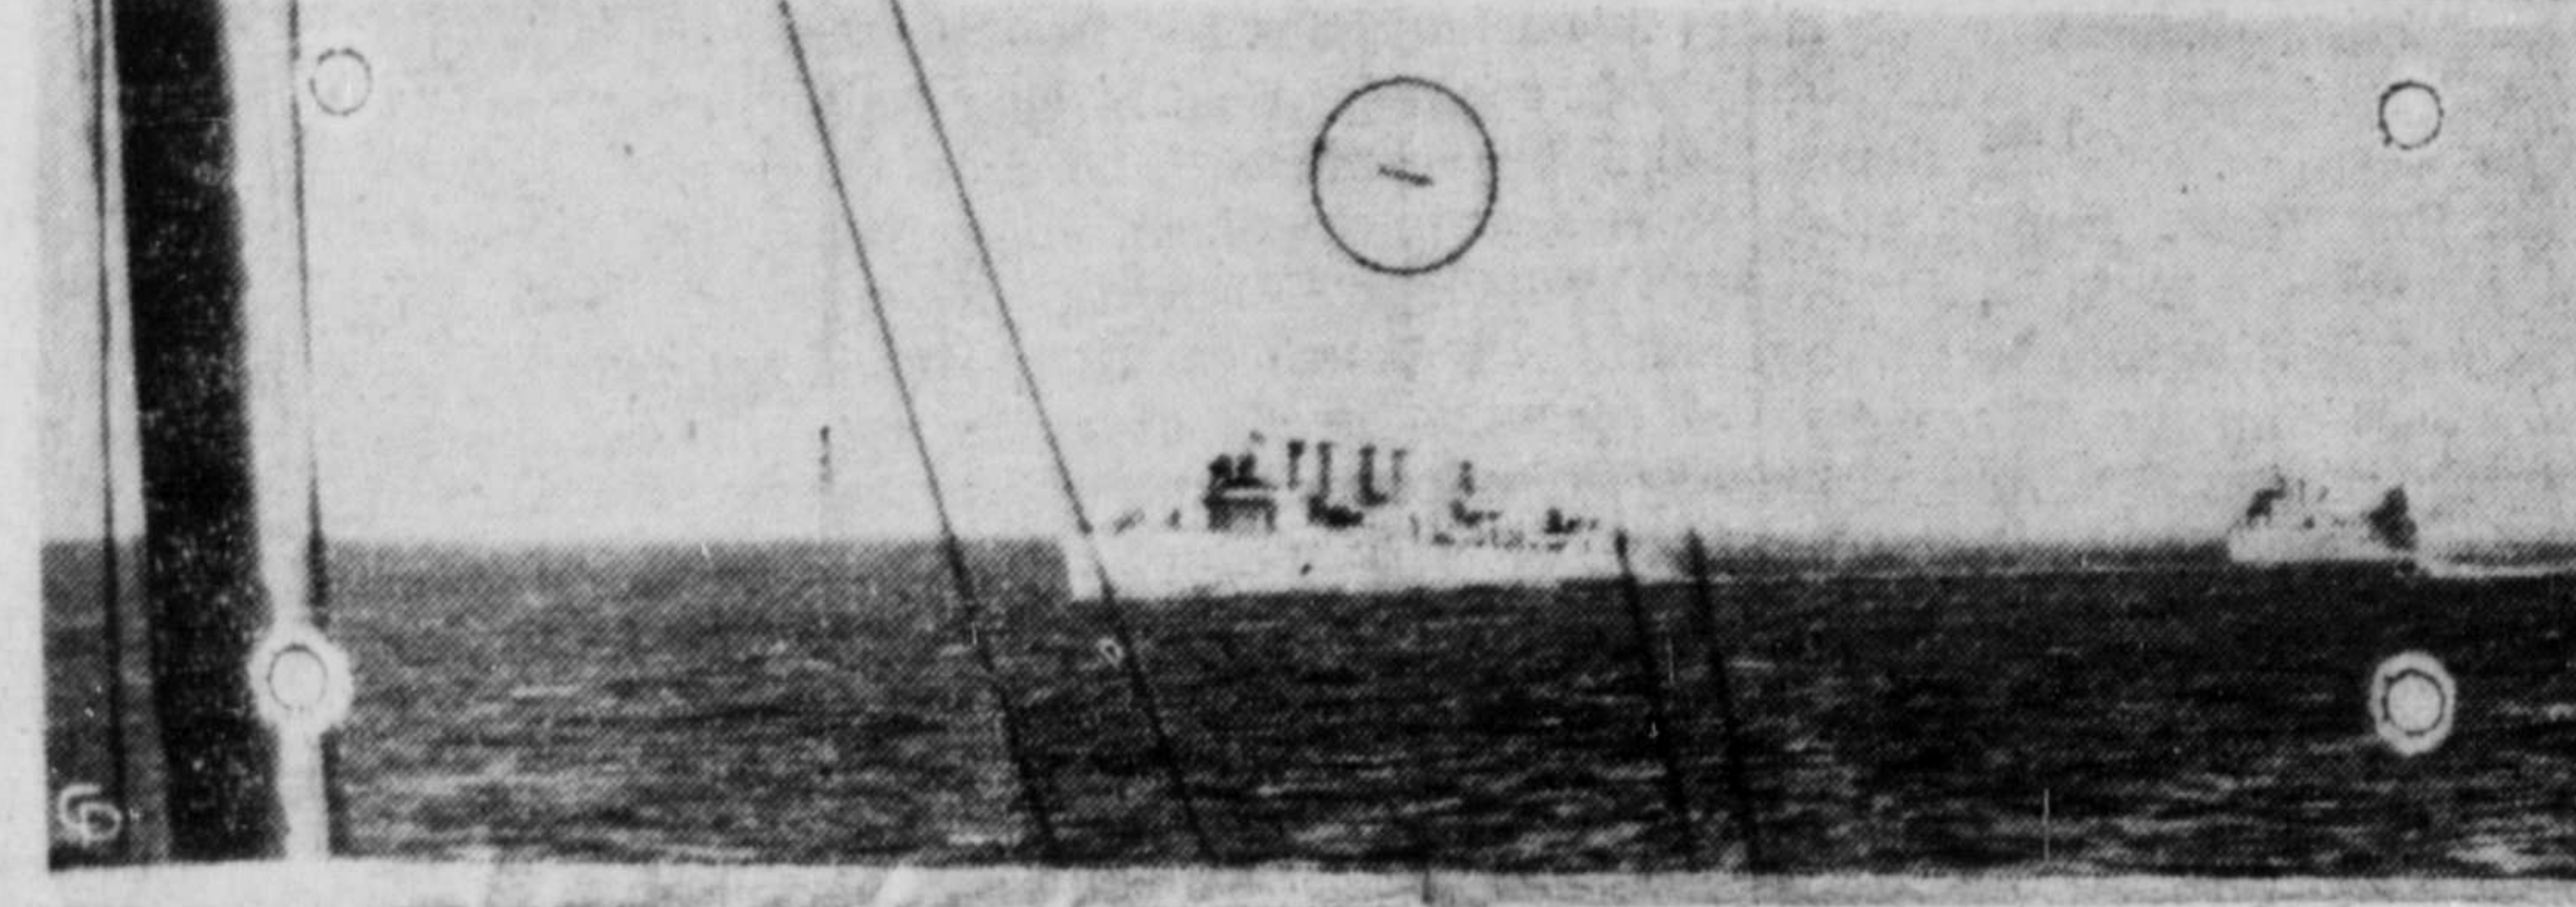

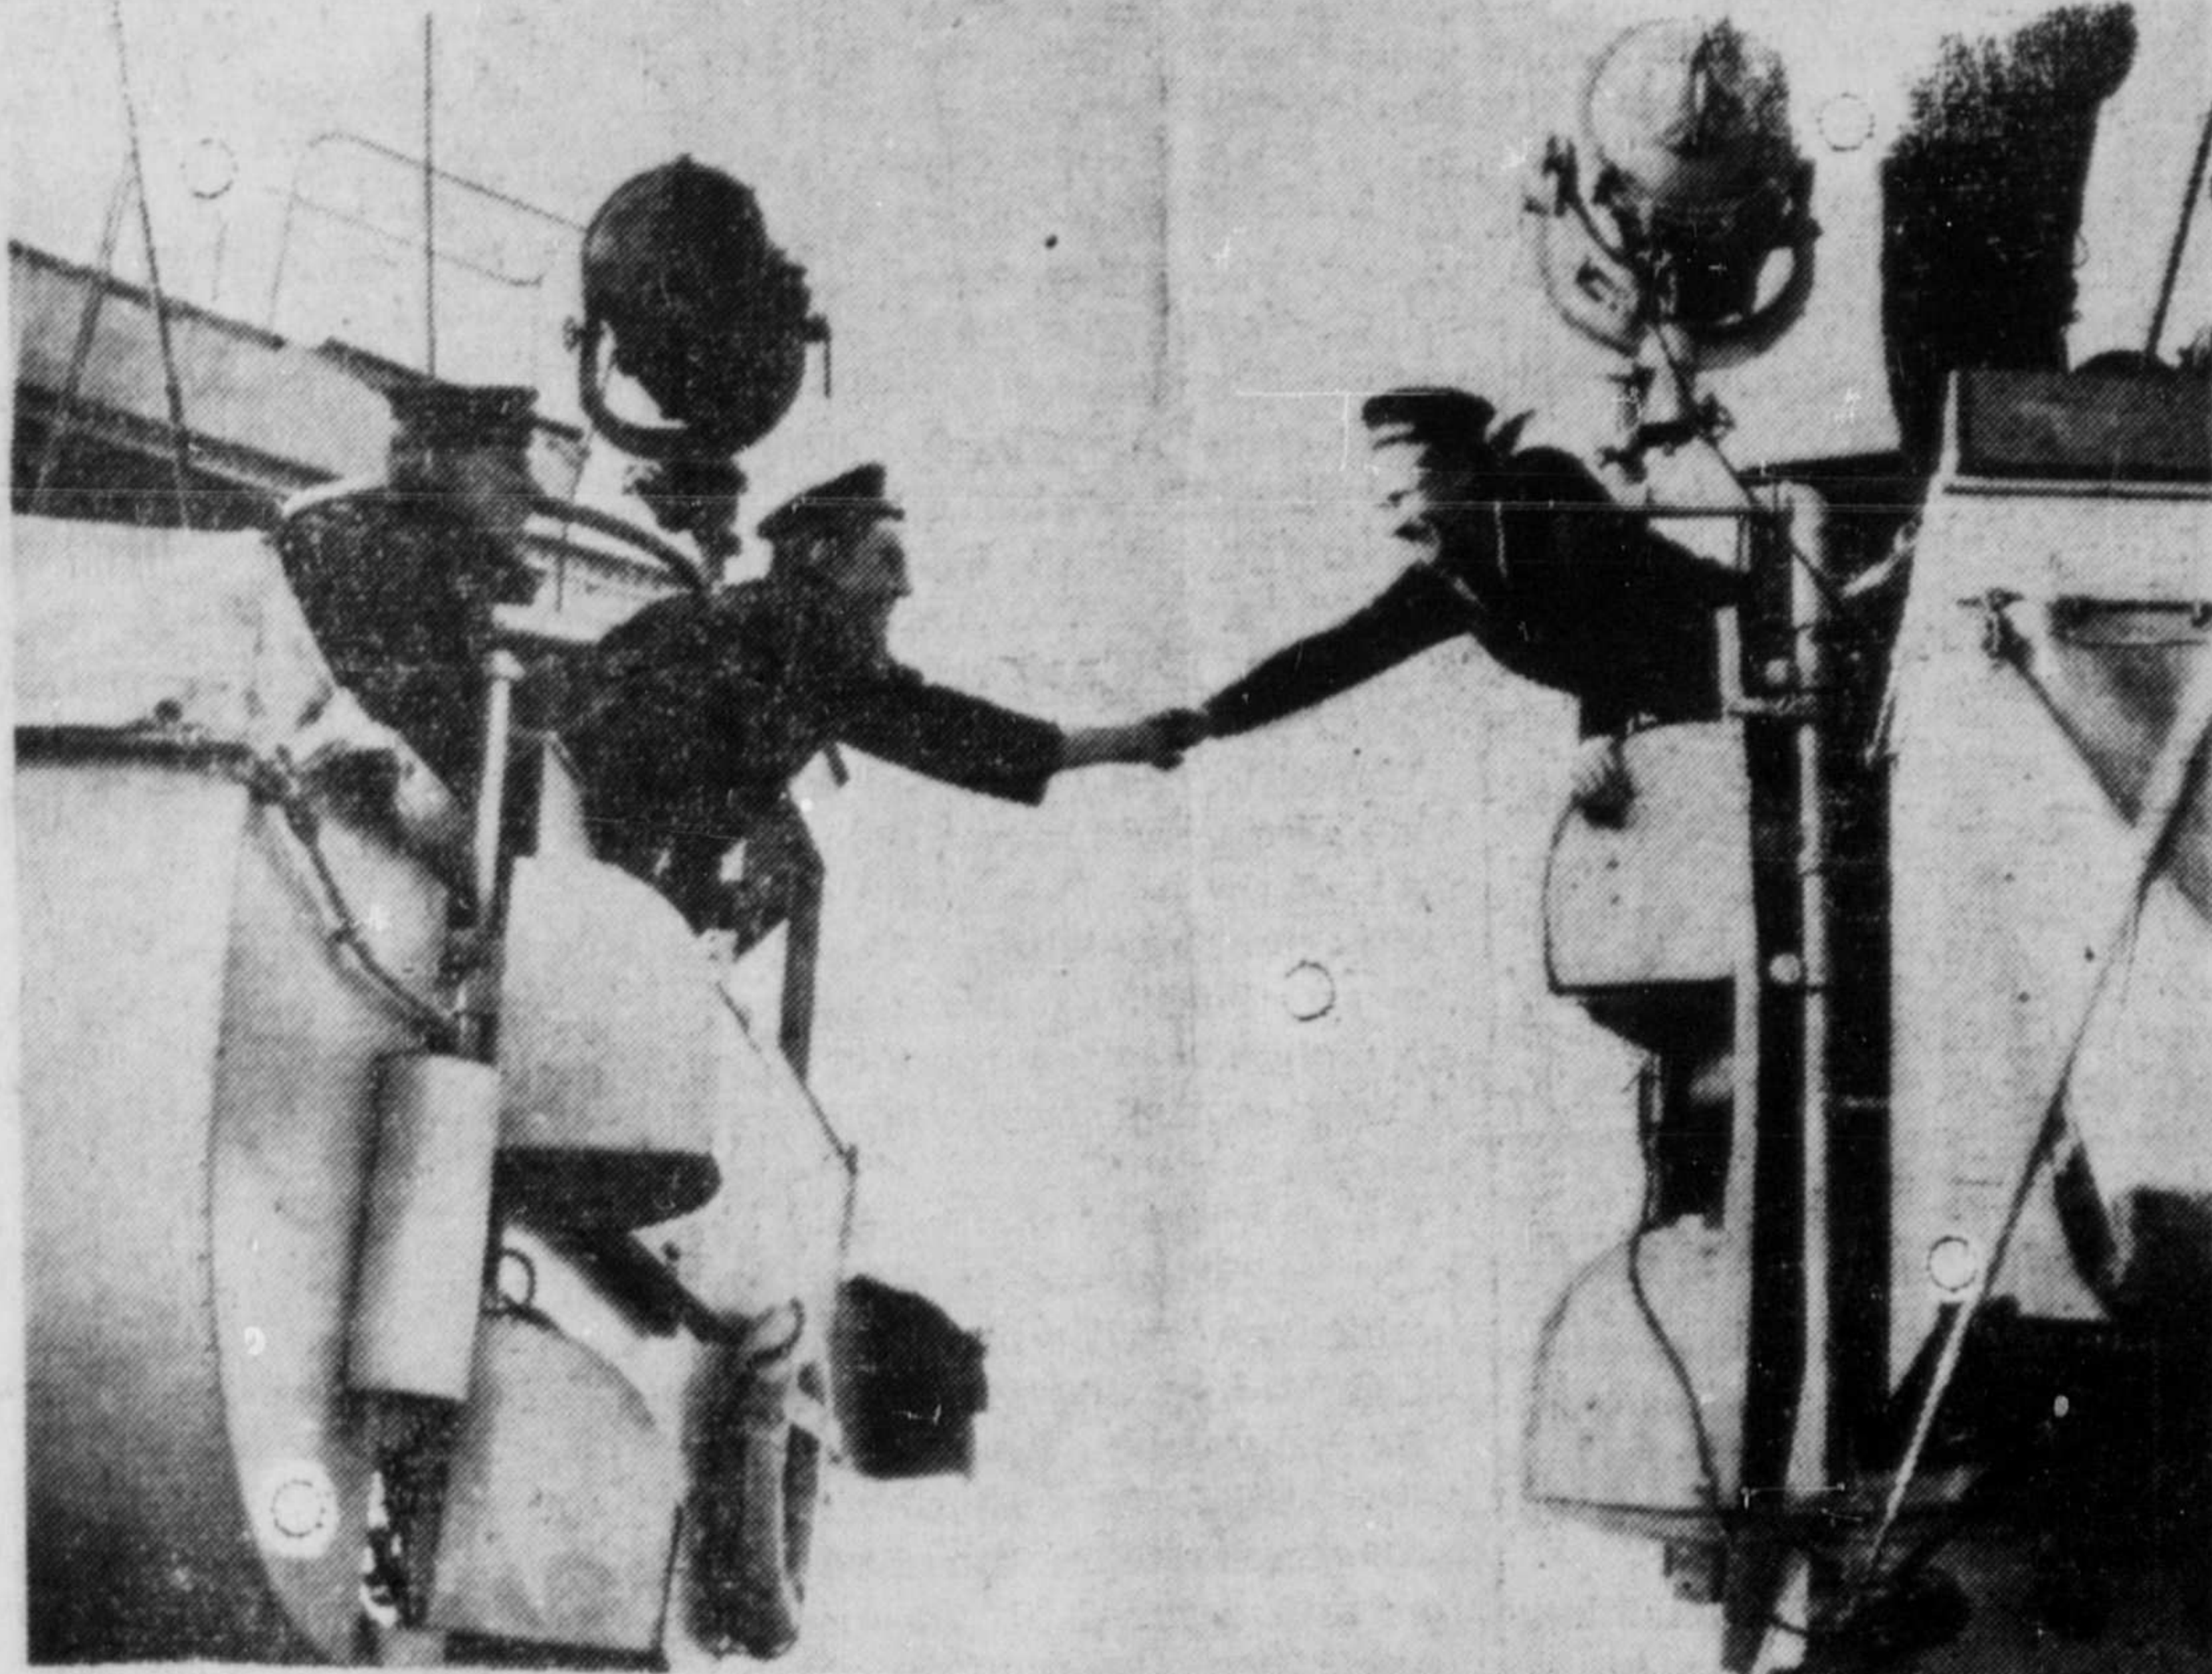

Prince Rupert had its most severe windstorm of the present winter last night when a strong southeast gale came up with peak intensity for about an hour around 8 p.m. when there was almost steady velocity of 49 miles per hour with gusts much stronger than that. A canvas of the waterfront situation revealed little damage of a serious nature to the mosquito fleet although some boats coming in during the blow had quite a dusting.

Except for some blown in windows and signs torn down, there was little damage reported in the city. Watts and Nickerson had a plate glass window blown in. The roof of the Boston Cafe was damaged. Another large window in Chinese premises further down Third Avenue was blown in. During the height of the storm, electric light and power service in the business section of the west end went out for a couple of hours but linemen of the Northern British Columbia Power turned out to rectify the line trouble.

Heavy Aerial Fighting Over Week-End — Tepelini and Valona Are Now Menaced

ATHENS, January 27.—As well as scoring decisive victories and gaining further strategic ground in the vicinity of Tepelini from heavily reinforced Italian armies, Greek forces are now nearing the important coastal port of Valona and are reported to be within eleven miles of it. Both British and Greek air forces are pounding at Valona which is in danger of falling to the Greeks.

A physician testified that death was due to a revolver shot entering the head behind the left ear. The wound could scarcely have been self-inflicted. The inquest has been adjourned for two weeks.

The ancient title of Lord High Constable of Scotland, granted in 1314, falls to Lord Erroll's fifteen-year-old daughter with his death.

CARDENA MISHAP

Union Steamer Turns Back to Vancouver—Camosun Takes Over Run

Going north from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, the Union steamer Cardena had a mishap Saturday and had to turn back to Vancouver from Port Hardy so did not arrive here Sunday night. She transferred her passengers, mail and freight at Port Hardy to the ss. Camosun, leaving Vancouver noon Saturday, which is bringing them on to Prince Rupert and other northern points. The Camosun is due here 5:15 tonight and will go on at 8:30 p.m. to Stewart and the other regular calls of the Cardena.

There were various rumors going the rounds this morning concerning other steamers so the Daily News sent a query to Canadian Press at Vancouver and received the following in reply:
"The coastal steamer Cardena returned to Vancouver under her own power today after an accident which necessitated transfer of twenty passengers and freight to the steamer Camosun at Port Hardy. Company officials said that the Cardena struck a rock on Thormanby Island Friday night and sprung a leak forward. She wirelessed the owners but continued northward until overtaken by the Camosun. Union Steamships said the Cardena was not involved in any collision. The Cardena left Vancouver Saturday and reached Port Hardy on Sunday to make the transfer.

"The Cardena carried eighty passengers when she left Vancouver but most of them disembarked at other coast points below Port Hardy."

NEEDS ARE DISCUSSED

Viscount Halifax Declares United States Air is First Essential of Britain

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 27. (CP)—Asked by newspaper men following his arrival in Washington Saturday what he considered the most immediate needs of Great Britain in the war against Germany, Viscount Halifax, the new British ambassador to the United States, said: "mobilization of your great industrial strength and translating that into action in supplying us with the ships and supplies we need."

In a brief talk with newspapermen following his arrival, Viscount Halifax said President Franklin D. Roosevelt's action in meeting him on arrival would be deeply appreciated throughout the Empire where its significance would be understood.

IN DELICATE POSITION

ROME—"The fall of Tobruk places us in a delicate position," admits an Italian radio commentator. "We must fight to victory or be crushed."

TROUBLE IN ITALY

Even London, However, Suggests That Rumors of Internal Strife Be Treated With Reserve

BERLIN, January 27. (Canadian Press)—Wilhelmstrasse sources admitted today that German troops are enroute to southern Italy. The disclosure was made by a Nazi spokesman in denying reports of uprisings in northern Italian cities including Turin and Milan.

The Wilhelmstrasse spokesman denied that there were any German soldiers in Turin. For some time it had been reported that German soldiers were drifting into Italy. The latest report was that they were moving under the guise of Nazi air force ground crews.

Another report from Rome at the week-end was that all Italian and German forces were being brought under one command. This would be due to the failure of the Italian campaigns in Africa and Albania.

Home officials denied rumors of rioting having broken out at Milan, saying that such reports, emanating from Belgrade and elsewhere in the Balkans, were "entirely ridiculous and absurd."

London suggested that the reports of Italian uprisings be treated with reserve. In spite of the German and Italian denials, however, the reports persisted. The Columbia Broadcasting System, in reporting the disorders from Balkan sources said the uprisings had reached the state of a minor revolution. Italian armed forces had gone over to the rebels and three generals had been killed. Army officers and Fascist officials had been arrested.

Workers Have No Fear . . .

Speaking at Vancouver recently Sir Walter Citrine, one of the British Trade Union leaders, discussing the war preparations, is reported to have said that British workers had no fear that their hard won rights, liberties and standards will be lost in the struggle. Labor had assented to the lodging of arbitrary power in the government and the temporary sacrifice of working standards because it was confident the government would not use its dictatorial powers against the will of the people.

We mentioned this because we had not noticed any reference to it in the Federationist. Look a little further into Citrine's speech as reported in the Vancouver morning paper:

"It would," he said, "be a strange thing if we in Great Britain built up an oligarchy in the process of fighting the dictatorship countries. I personally see no danger of that, for two reasons: the trade union movement has complete confidence in the government, and is vigilant against arbitrary use of extraordinary government powers to destroy trade unionism."

"Nor was it correct to picture Britain as a cockpit where employers and employees are at war with each other—that was a distorted picture. For in Britain the collective bargaining principle was today more highly developed than in any other country. He was confident, however, that in Germany a large section of the workers believed in trade unionism but were suppressed by the government. "When Hitler sustains some major defeat in the field you will see Nazi Germany start to crack from top to bottom."

Godbout's Opinion . . .

Premier Godbout of Quebec went into the recent inter-provincial conference at Ottawa more as an onlooker than as a participant, he told the British United Press. He made it clear that he had not intended to take part in the discussions. He believed that reforms should come about slowly. In conversation with Norman McLeod he is reported to have said. "If this plan is passed as it now stands, the premiers will be always after the federal government for more money. Their debts will be almost as high as they are now in two to five years time."

A Way Of Life . . .

Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, in his evidence before the foreign relations committee, spoke of what he thought was best for the United States with no thought whatever of what might be good or bad for their neighbors. That is the spirit that has brought on the present war. It is the Nazi formula. "We are the chosen people. Nothing else matters."

HOOP TEAM RETURNING

Local Basketball Leave Ketchikan This Morning on Return to Prince Rupert

Having been delayed by stormy weather, the Prince Rupert High School basketball team, following its week-end visit to Ketchikan, did not get away from the Alaska port aboard the schooner Parma until 11 o'clock this morning so should be home some time during the night. The message announcing the team's departure for home did not disclose the result of the second game Saturday night.

In the first game of the Prince Rupert - Ketchikan High School basketball series at Ketchikan Friday night, Ketchikan defeated Prince Rupert by a score of 56 to 23. The Prince Rupert players had been affected by mal-de-mer during a rough voyage north on the schooner Parma and this affected the quality of their play against the strong Kayhi aggregation. In the last quarter of the first game Ketchikan made no less than twenty-four points.

The locals were given a fine reception at Ketchikan. Met by band and cheer leaders, they were also given the run of the school.

FIRST AIR RAID ALARM FOR PRINCE RUPERT

Reports Received

Following the all clear, a meeting of the A.R.P. workers was held at the Court House where, under chairmanship of J. J. Little, reports were received from the referees—Lieut. M. L. Brown, Westview; Lieut. Andrew McIlraith, Court House; Lieut. Fred Fahey, Booth Memorial School; Lieut. E. G. Ryan, Seal Cove School; Lieut. W. S. Thompson, City Hall; Lieut. Ewart, Canadian National General Offices. The dry dock station, coming direct under the military, and the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., handled independently, did not report at the public meeting.

The officers all reported a gratifying degree of promptitude of arrival of the A.R.P. workers at their posts after the giving of the alarm, also an almost 100 per cent turnout. Only a very few minutes elapsed between the alarm and the full turnout.

The findings of the referees, given in detail to the meeting, were summed up in the observations of Col. S. D. Johnston M.C. V.D., area commander, who expressed pleasure at the satisfactory showing which had been made in the first exercises and assured all co-operation possible from the military authorities. Certain gaps had been shown which could be readily closed up. Col. Johnston recommended an improvement in the alarm, there having been general reports of not hearing the banshees. There should be executive heads at each area. Col. Johnston also observed that there had been no medical men at the various stations. (Later it was explained that the doctors had gathered in a body at the hospital, ready to proceed on call, with Dr. R. E. Coleman at headquarters at the Court House.)

In the event of actual air attack, Col. Johnston pointed out that the military would have its own work to do and considerable responsibilities would fall on the A.R.P. workers. In connection with the rehearsal, there was an interesting demonstration on the Court House grounds of the roping off of a decontamination area where a bomb was presumed to have been dropped. The decontamination squads, under Dr. Neal Carter, took but eleven minutes from the time of leaving their homes to go to the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station to don their clothing and reach the scene of the bombing. A truck had been provided by L. B. Lambly, manager of Philpott-Evitt Ltd.

Sea Cadets and Boy Scouts assisted as runners and messengers. Tradesmen's handy rear-door delivery vans proved efficacious for ambulance purposes.

ANGLO-KELTS

Daily News—As charity and justice begin at home, let us always use the fair-minded term "Anglo-Kelt" in deference to our race. "Anglo-Saxon" because Britain is never entirely Teutonicized. So many years ago there was a public appeal for abolition of "Anglo-Saxon" in favor of "Anglo-Kelt." History has previously told us that the latter term was the correct designation for our race. "Anglo-Kelt" brings better feeling and understanding among British peoples and shows honor and respect for the brave soldiers, sailors and airmen from all parts of Great Britain who have fought, suffered and died for us. This also applies to those of our Empire who are of British descent.

Then again, "Anglo-Kelt" is necessary and patriotic antidote to help combat certain pro-German elements which are fond of dabbling in the lie that British people are very Germanic and get their encouragement from the Saxons side of the house. It is time to nip the sanitizing talk in the bud. When we eradicate "Saxon" from reference to the British race the preparators will quit talking. We should not continue to bear a name shared by Germany. Let us be more British. It is our birthright. We are Anglo-Kelts and English-speaking.

FIGHTING FOR RIGHT

Salvation Army Officer Urges Presbyterian Congregation Not to Lose Sight of Real Christian Values

While Great Britain was undoubtedly fighting for the right over the forces of evil in this war and must devote its efforts towards achieving a victory, Adjutant Ivan Halsey, Salvation Army, preaching from the pulpit of First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, warned against accomplishing a victory in arms but a moral defeat through a falling away from Christian precepts and practices. This, unfortunately, Adjutant Halsey declared, has been the result of the war of 1914-18. There had been a loosening up in morals and in family life.

There was no right to ask God for a victory if people were not living and doing the right, Christian living, the speaker asserted, was the backbone of the nation. Ten minutes in prayer a day, he asserted, might do more good than efforts which were being made by many in easier material ways. There was a growing tendency to hold the material things before the spiritual.

Adjutant Halsey appealed for a better realization in the homes on the part of the parents of their Christian duties towards the children. Was the Bible being given its proper place in the home today? One did not need to go farther than Prince Rupert to see children in their teens wandering the streets late at night smoking cigarettes and showing signs of the effects of alcohol. Here was a sign of lack of parental interest.

In the evening Mrs. Halsey took the service in First Presbyterian Church which is temporarily without a pastor.

IS NINETY-FOUR YEARS OLD TODAY

Many Happy Returns to Mrs. Annie McKay Stephens on Reaching Another Milestone

By G. A. HUNTER

Old friends will be calling at her home at 432 Fifth Avenue West this afternoon to offer their best wishes for many happy returns to Mrs. Annie McKay Stephens, mother of EX-Mayer M. M. Stephens, on attaining her ninety-fourth birthday.

Bright and cheery, physically fit and still enjoying the best of health, Mrs. Stephens carries her years lightly and may well qualify as Prince Rupert's "grand old lady." Ambitious too, she takes her daily walk every fine day as well as some days that aren't so fine. In fact, she is so energetic that she sometimes worries the family for fear she might over tax herself. Her son even confides that she still likes to take charge of the family ironing job as well as attending to all her own personal tasks.

Mrs. Stephens' life has not only been a long but an interesting and full one. She was born at Bradford in the Lake Simcoe country of Ontario, the daughter of Selkirk settlers. Her mother was born at Fort Garry on the Red River. Her father came out from the Old Country by way of Hudson Bay and Fort Churchill in the very early nineteenth century, that trip in itself being an epic.

Since 1885 when she settled with her family in southern Manitoba, Mrs. Stephens has been a continuous resident of the West. She is still able to spin many a story of adventures of the early days.

It is a pleasure for us to join with her many other friends in saluting and wishing a happy birthday to Mrs. Stephens and expressing the sentiment in confidence that many more may be yet in store.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Jentoft and Otto Ellertsen, well known Prince Rupert fishermen, will be ready with a fine new boat for the 1941 halibut fishing season well before the April 1 opening date. Their sturdy new halibut boat—Northern Breeze—was launched at the Menchions Shipyard, Vancouver, at noon Wednesday, and will be ready to head up coast in a few days. The Ellertsen brothers, who have been fishing halibut out of Prince Rupert for the past 15 years at least, are proud of their new craft. She is 54 feet in length, beam 14 feet. And she is powered by a three-cylinder, 65 horsepower Atlas Imperial Marine Diesel. Value of the Northern Breeze is estimated at $20,000. She will be used as a member of the halibut fleet fishing out of Prince Rupert.

SMITHERS BAND MEET

Is Maintaining Membership and Interest—Max Collison President

SMITHERS, January 21 — The Smithers Brass Band held its annual meeting in the band hall recently when the president and secretary made their reports on activities of the organization during the past year.

Despite the many vacancies caused in the ranks of the bandmen these have practically all been filled by younger material that has been taken in as pupils who are now the mainstay of the organization.

At a recent concert given at the local hospital 24 members were in attendance, a fact which reflects great credit on the zeal of Bandmaster J. S. Gray in his determination to keep the band going strong.

It is ten years since the band was first organized and, during that time, many young people have learned music in the organization and have become proficient on their individual instruments. There is a continual drain as they move to other parts of the province or become members of the military forces of Canada and it has been a struggle to hold the organization together.

In the election of officers for the ensuing year the following were chosen:

Honorary President, V. Crockett.
President, J. M. Collison.
Vice-President, Bog Cook.
Secretary-Treasurer, A. C. Fowler.
Librarian, Harry Kennedy.
Entertainment Committee, J. S. Gray, W. Bodger and L. H. Kenney together with the various officers.

Bandman Gray was enthusiastically acclaimed as Bandmaster for the coming year.

It is the intention to put on a concert in the near future and the members are busily practicing for that occasion.

The band has filled in at many important occasions in the town during the time it has been in existence and is recognized as a distinct asset to the community. It has always relied almost entirely upon its own resources for finance although being very grateful to a few interested citizens who have made cash donations to help buy music, etc.

SMITHERS

The Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual meeting on January 29. The meeting will be preceded by a banquet at the Hudson Hotel and it is expected that there will be a large attendance both at the banquet and the meeting which will follow.

The coldest snap of the year hit the Bulkley Valley Friday night and on Saturday morning the temperature reading was 20 below zero. The weather is fine and still and is not nearly as unpleasant as it had been during the past few days when the temperature was around zero with a wind blowing.

Man in the Moon

Farewell to thee my Irish friend!
A long farewell to thee!
Thy genial presence soon will lend
Enchantment o'er the sea.

Jack gets that way sometimes and when he wants to write a verse he is not very particular about whether it is in accordance with fact. When I pointed out that most of the Irish were not going to Europe, he said they would at any rate cross the Queen Charlotte Sound and that was across the sea. He thinks some local girl may need help in expressing herself; that is why he wrote the verse.

Gayda says the Greek army is terrible when aroused. Evidently they have been aroused recently.

Come to think of it I am rather glad Premier Pattullo prevented the sabotaging of British Columbia by the Ottawa conference recently.

Wilkie will land in Great Britain pretty soon. We hope he successfully dodges some of those devilish bombs aimed at London.

The owner of the country newspaper went home to dinner, smiling radiantly.

"You must have had some good fortune this morning," greeted his wife.

"Indeed I did," announced the owner. "Jan Smith, who hasn't paid his subscription for ten years came in and stopped his paper."

RED CROSS News Notes

CALL FOR MITTS

Last week the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society received an urgent call from Mrs. Wallace Campbell, Toronto, National Red Cross Chairman of the Women's Work Committee, for as many woolen mitts of all kinds (two-way, whole, and rifle) as the women of this province could make, and for the next six weeks to knit these in preference to everything else, as gloves of all types were needed overseas at once for the cold winter weather.

When Mrs. H. A. Ramsden, provincial chairman of the Women's War Work Committee received this message she immediately got the workers in the Provincial Red Cross warehouse in Vancouver to pack all mitts and wristlets on hand and that day four large cases were shipped east for overseas. Included in these cases were: 600 pairs two-way mitts, 9 pairs half-mitts, 234 pairs rifle mitts, 150 pairs whole mittens, 12 pairs of gloves, 1044 single wristlets, 48 pairs broadcast wristlets. Ninety wool chest-protectors were included to complete the last case. The value of the wool of these articles was estimated at $732.66.

Shortage of mitts in Britain is due to the fact that huge quantities are being handed out at eastern Canadian ports by the Canadian Red Cross Society to men of the British Navy who arrive in desperate need of clothing.

Wool has been rushed to the B. C. branches. Instructions are in the Red Cross knitting book "I urge every woman to consult her local Red Cross branch and to work with all the strength and might at her command. Now is the time to knit these mitts—not next week or the week after, but today," says Mrs. Campbell, National Work Chairman.

Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier Head Cast of "Pride and Prejudice" at Capitol Theatre

Another famous romantic classic is brought to the screen in "Pride and Prejudice," picturization of Jane Austen's gay comedy, starring Greer Garson and Laurence Olivier, which comes to the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week.

The amusing story deals with the romance of the eldest of five unwedded daughters living in a small provincial English town and a handsome, wealthy young aristocrat who comes as a visitor from the city. The girl's flustered mother has designs on any eligible bachelor who comes within her vision. The young man falls in love with the girl but cannot stand her family. However, he finds that family pride is not nearly as strong as love and in the end comes to the rescue from one of the girls' sisters who runs away with an adventurer. This brings the original couple together again.

Miss Garson and Olivier are said to excel in the leading roles while hilarious comedy performances are given by Edmund Gwenn and Mary Boland as the parents of the five daughters. Edna May Oliver has a typical character role as a crony old dowager. Miss Garson's delightful sisters are Maureen O'Sullivan, Ann Rutherford, Marsha Hunt and Heather Angel. Others in the cast include Melville Cooper, Bruce Lester, Frieda Inescort, Karen Morley, Edward Ashley and E. E. Olive.
