

Henry Fitzherbert Pullen,
Publisher of Daily News,
Passes After Long Ill.

Henry Fitzherbert Pullen, publisher of Prince Rupert Daily News for twenty-four years, passed away shortly before 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He died quietly and peacefully after a lengthy illness. He commenced failing well over a year ago and since last March had been in serious condition. During the summer he had rallied. A little over a week ago he had been forced to return to hospital, sinking steadily since then until the end.

The late Mr. Pullen was born in Gloucestershire, England, near Bristol. He was seventy-three years old on March 17 last.

Coming to Canada as a young man, Mr. Pullen trained as a school teacher and taught in Manitoba and at Sidney, Cumberland and Victoria on Vancouver Island.

Leaving the teaching profession, he became a reporter on the Victoria Daily Times.

Just before the First Great War, he left newspaper work to go into the real estate business in Oak Bay, Victoria. He tried several other ventures including the organization of jitney taxis during an electric railway transportation crisis and publication of a weekly paper in Oak Bay. Following this, he returned to the Victoria Times where he became city editor.

In 1919 Mr. Pullen bought the Prince Rupert Daily News and moved to Prince Rupert where he has since resided.

Mr. Pullen was an enthusiastic photographer and also a great bird lover. He took many fine pictures of birds. For years he was one of Prince Rupert's best known and most ardent horticulturalists taking an active part in the movement for beautification of Prince Rupert which has been such a notable achievement in the community during the past ten years or so.

Mr. Pullen was an ex-alderman and other public activities included a prominent part in establishing the Prince Rupert public library and museum, of the boards of which he was for long a member. He also was instrumental in organizing the first Prince Rupert Badminton Club of which he was the initial president. Some years ago he was also an enthusiastic pleasure boat operator.

Mr. Pullen was for years a member of the council of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and was the last remaining charter member of Prince Rupert Rotary Club.

Left to mourn deceased's passing are his widow, three daughters—Dorothy of Vancouver and Betty and Peggy of Prince Rupert and a son, Newton (Dick) of Vancouver.

The funeral will take place in Prince Rupert Thursday afternoon. The son from Vancouver will arrive tomorrow.

RECORD OF FUSILIERS

Written for The Canadian Press
By CLAUDIO GOLDING

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP)—The order of stand fast came to the Royal Scots Fusiliers the night of May 27, 1940. Every man knew the British Expeditionary Force was in retreat and what accomplishment of the order meant.

"I will not go back a foot," said a message from the Fusiliers commanding officer to headquarters of the brigade whose retirement they were to protect.

And they did hold their position not far from Vimy Ridge just as in similar circumstances in the First Great War the same battalion had fought a similar stubborn rearguard action during the Mons retreat.

From that First Great War action, only 100 men and one officer survived. Not a single officer was among the 300 battle-marked men who staggered away from the Flanders farm two years after beating off one crushing German attack after another.

The Scots Fusiliers with whom the Scots Fusiliers of Canada, a Kitchener, Ontario, unit, are associated were represented by 18 battalions in all theatres of war from 1914 to 1918.

When they were raised in 1678 as the 21st Foot Regiment, they soon became known as the "Earl of Mar's Fusiliers" because of their muskets, invented in France under the name of "fusil."

In hand-to-hand engagements, those old Fusiliers stuck into the muzzles of their muskets dagger-like weapons, dubbed "bayonettes" after the town of Bayonne

80 Pounds Sugar Gone to the Dogs

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Nov. 17 (CP)—Eighty pounds of sugar were sacrificed because of the ring of a bell and a housewife's guilty conscience. "I didn't answer because I thought he was investigating boarding," the woman told her neighbor after the uniformed man had waited at the door and left. "But I dumped 80 pounds of sugar down the drain." The uniformed man was looking for unlicensed dogs.

IN JAPS' OWN GAME

HONOLULU, Nov. 17 (CP)—Picked sun-browned leathernecks—U.S. Marines—are attending organized classes here to learn Jiu-jitsu and fight Japanese, when the occasion warrants it, with their bare hands and "for keeps."

The Court of Revision sat in session at the city hall yesterday to make final changes in the voters list. Seven names were added to the list—H. F. Glassey, Rheo V. Morris, Eding Pedersen, W. H. Sherman, Gladys E. Sherman, Clarence Insulander and Herbert G. Bartlet. The total number eligible to vote in the forthcoming election now stands at 1,540, 31 licence holders, 89 householders and 1,420 property holders.

DEAL IS SINISTER

British Parliamentarian Wants to Know More About Activities Of Admiral Darlan

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP)—Demand for a fuller explanation of Lieut. General Dwight Eisenhower's deal with Admiral Jean Darlan was reopened in general debate in the House of Commons today.

Saying that the "strange appearance of Darlan on the scene" gave a "sinister side" to the successful North African operation, Sir Percy Harris, Liberal, declared "this has been a rather bitter pill for those who have been loyal to the cause of France under the leadership of General Charles de Gaulle to swallow."

The demand arose after Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, deputy Prime Minister, informed the House that arrangements with the former Vichy defence minister had been made "with a view to the immediate military situation in North Africa."

Between 20,000 and 40,000 Nipponese Troops Go Down With Armada Destruction

American Losses Light Compared With Those Suffered By Enemy in South Pacific Battle

A titanic smash at Japanese naval power was written into the record of American battle forces in the southwest Pacific today. United Nations capitals ring with news of a naval victory in the Solomons which is hailed in London as the "greatest sea battle of the war" and the biggest since the Battle of Jutland.

Preliminary reports disclosed that in three engagements northwest of Guadalcanal last week Japan lost twenty-three ships including a battleship, three heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, five destroyers, eight troop transports and four cargo ships.

Between 20,000 and 40,000 Japanese troops went down on the sunken transports and another Japanese battleship and six destroyers were damaged.

American losses were officially listed as two light cruisers and six destroyers.

Admiral Callahan was killed on the night of November 13 when his flagship was shelled by the enemy and the bridge wrecked.

Sixty year old Vice-Admiral William H. Halsey led the successful American forces in the battle.

IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Patrick J. Murphy Died Instantly When Struck Near Port Edward Last Night

Patrick J. Murphy, a stranger, was killed instantly at 7:35 last evening when he was struck by an eastbound freight train just east of Port Edward as he was walking along the track. The train stopped immediately and it was found that Murphy had been badly injured and quite evidently instantly killed. Early this morning the remains were brought into the city by the provincial police.

Deceased was about sixty years of age.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

Fire Chief Says There Should Be Close Co-operation

"City motorists must co-operate more closely with the fire department," Fire Chief H. T. Lock said yesterday. "Fire trucks and ambulances are not out except in cases of emergency and at these times must have the right of way."

These vehicles are big and unwieldy and cannot be handled as easily as an automobile and, since they must in the course of their duty be driven at an excessive rate of speed, every precaution should be taken to see that their progress is not impeded, the chief says. A city by-law requires all traffic to pull over to the right as far as possible and come to a complete stop at the first sound of the siren, remaining there until there is reasonable assurance that all vehicles of the department have passed. This by-law is not being adhered to as was shown in an instance which occurred last Saturday afternoon. The fire department was responding to a call, and the driver of a light delivery truck continued to move along the street in front of the fire engine. Both attempted to turn the same corner at the same time and, only through the expert handling of the fire truck by its driver, was an accident averted.

This same sort of inconsideration has been shown to the ambulance in the past, says the fire chief, but it is to be hoped that by bringing it to the attention of the motoring public, the situation will be cleared up.

H. F. PULLEN

We write regretfully, today, we people of the Daily News. We mourn as we have the sad task of recording the passing of Henry Fitzherbert Pullen, our chief and our friend these many years. The fact that we had anticipated for not a few months that any time we might have to write this epitaph in his honor does not make the doing any easier. We had hoped against hope that the task might be deferred. We saw him fail and decline in body if not in spirit but we had still thought he might remain with us longer. Now he has gone and we are sure that this community joins with his family and us, his close associates, in sincerely mourning his passing.

Henry F. Pullen had been the publisher of the Daily News for twenty-four years and his success in that undertaking does not need to be described here. It is well enough known how he took it over as a faltering business and, with enterprise and foresight, built up an institution which we sincerely believe has served this community faithfully and well during the good days and the bad which have passed since his coming. We are proud to have been of assistance in the enterprise.

But Mr. Pullen's influence was not confined alone to the business in which he was engaged. He was of gentle, kindly nature but he had his convictions and, while tactful in nature, he had opinions which, if he deemed it necessary, he did not hesitate to persistently express. The imprint of his influence we are sure will be felt long after this event of his passing. In moulding events of the past two decades here he played an important part, possibly more than he would modestly admit, possibly more than those around him and closely associated with him realized.

Mr. Pullen was not a flourishing crusader. He was more of a quiet reformer. But he was effective. We think that Prince Rupert is a more beautiful city because of his own personal efforts as a horticulturalist and because of his persistent advocacy and campaigning towards making this a more pleasant place. The public library and the museum may also be considered to large extent as monuments to his sponsorship. It might also be recalled that he inspired the contests which resulted in the naming of the sections of the city which have now become familiarly known as Rushbrook Heights and Westview.

His sage and quiet counsel was sought and heeded on many occasions. His opinions, although not always agreed with, commanded a wide measure of respect.

A born optimist, Mr. Pullen was always cheerful, never downcast, always striving to see the brighter side of things. Even during his last few days he was buoyed up with thoughts of returning to work. However, he was not one to shrink from unpleasant situations and facts or to hesitate at decisive action if such, after due consideration, appeared necessary.

Mr. Pullen was a good man to work for. He was appreciative of good work well done, always fair, ever considerate. He liked his employees and those with whom he did business to be his friends. He dealt openly himself and expected others to do the same. He was a good judge of human nature and his trusts were not often misplaced.

To we who were associated with him day by day these many years he will be remembered as a congenial and considerate colleague—generous and patient in his dealings—ready and willing always to see our points and temper his own actions accordingly. If one played the game with him, he could be counted upon to do the same with them.

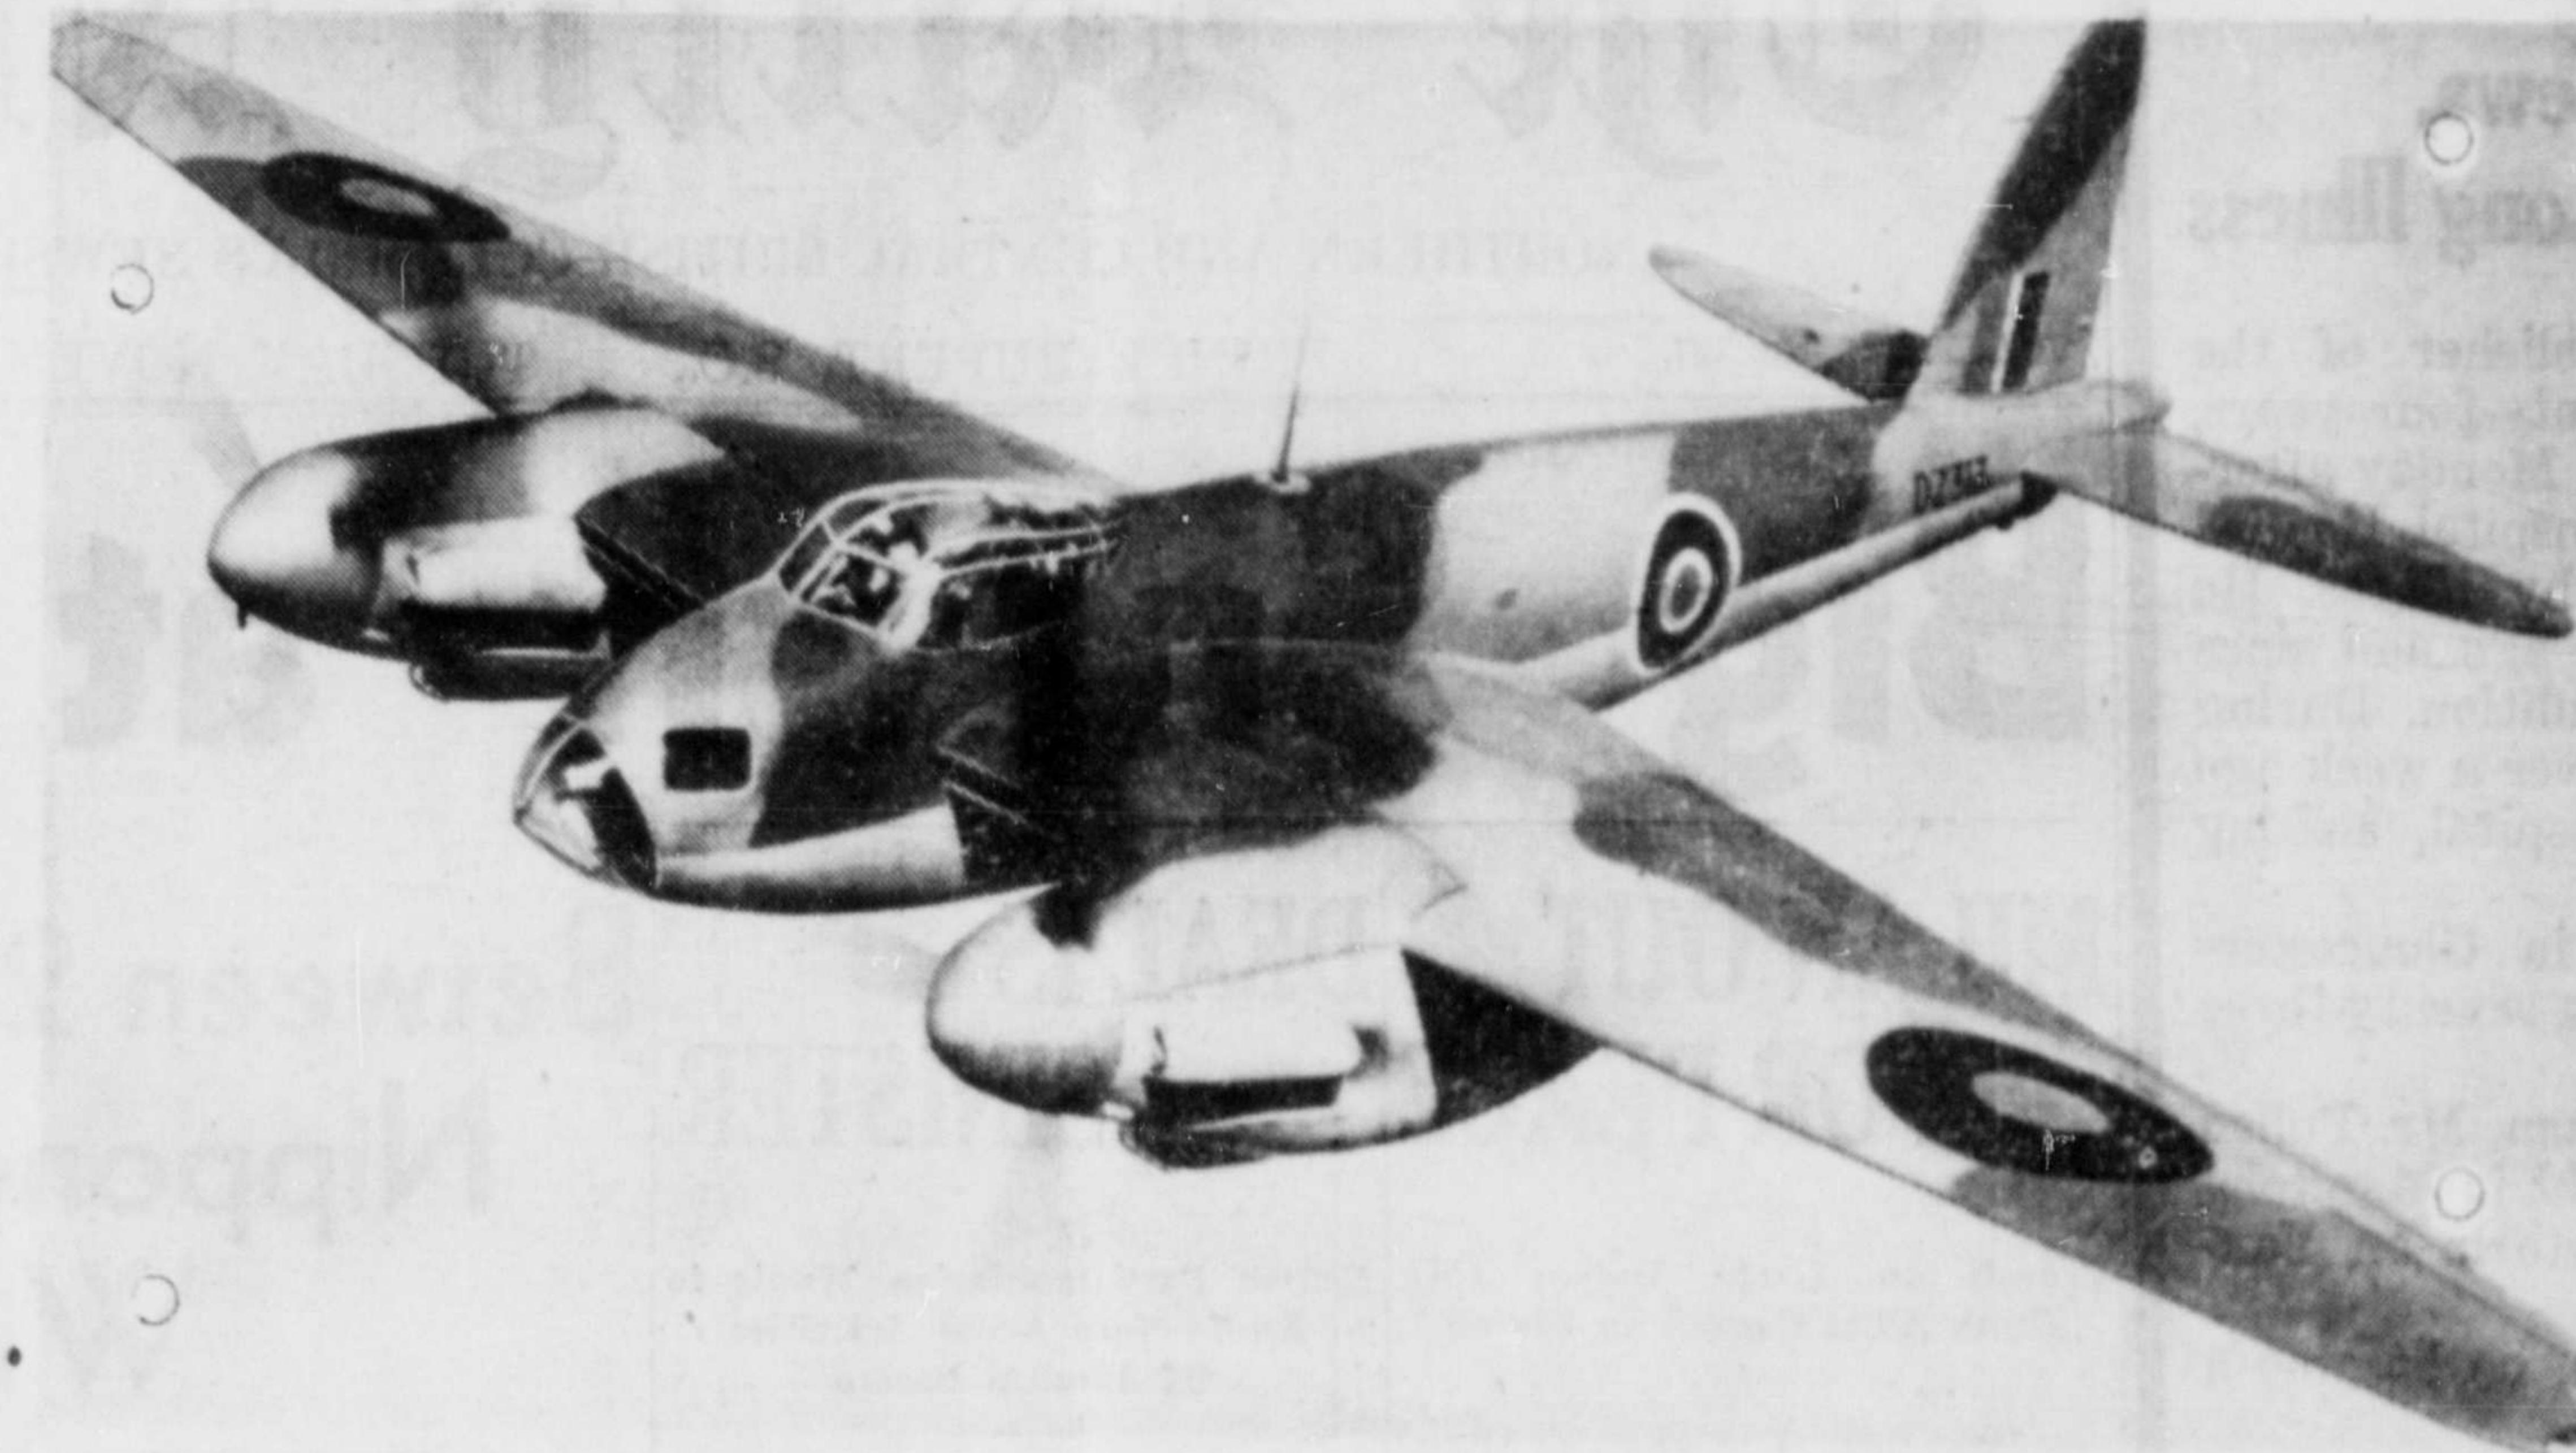

Possibly no greater tribute can be paid to any man than for those with whom he was closely associated to be able to honestly say they will always remember him with feelings of affection and respect. We here in the Daily News office feel that way about him now that his departure is so recent. As time goes on and the pang is assuaged, pleasant memories of our associations will mellow and remain.

Owing to the nature of his final illness, we did not see him often at his accustomed place in our office but the centre desk downstairs will not seem the same with his chair empty. He will be missed from that place not only by those who worked with him and for him but by those who came in to do their business with us or to pass the time of day.

Our expression of feelings for H. F. Pullen may be influenced by close sentiments of affection and sorrow but we feel that not only the Daily News but Prince Rupert suffers by his permanent removal.

We knew these last few months that the end could not be far removed. The shock of his loss is none the less a hard one for us. Yet we are glad that he has been spared further suffering.

We are proud to lead in an expression of tribute to his memory which is being abundantly and spontaneously corroborated by his host of friends and acquaintances. All of which is a great comfort to those of us who are more directly affected by his passing.

"MADE IN CANADA" is the label now found on the Mosquito, Britain's newest and the world's fastest bomber which sent quislings scurrying for cover when it made a daylight raid on Oslo, Norway. Now the plane is being manufactured by De Havilland in Canada. In addition to the first spectacular raid on Norway the Mosquitos have made several daylight raids on occupied Europe.

Quietly Wedded At Presbyterian Church Manse

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curth Carlson, 354 Sherbrooke Street.

The happy couple will take up residence in the city.

Prince Rupert Hunters Take Bag of Moose

BURNS LAKE, Nov. 17—A party of hunters came through from Babine and shipped three carcasses of moose meat to Prince Rupert. The party consisted of Clarence Thomson, W. B. FARM WOMAN PARTY HEAD

Mrs. Arthur Roblin One of Those Taking Leading Part at Winnipeg Convention

WINNIPEG, Man., November 17—The Manitoba Conservative Women's Association is headed by Mrs. Arthur B. Roblin of Homewood, who has participated in Conservative organization work and election campaigns for many years. In 1909 she married Arthur B. Roblin, a farmer and son of the late Sir Rodmond B. Roblin, one-time premier of Manitoba. Under the tuition of her husband she has become a scientific agriculturalist.

Mrs. Hugh McKay of Rothesay, wife of the leader of the New Brunswick Conservative party, is president of the New Brunswick women's provincial organization. She was active in the work of the provisional women's committee at Port Hope and is a member of the Dominion Conservative Association executive.

Officials at national Conservative headquarters here said that in all cases the women's Conservative associations, provincial or local, work in co-operation with the Dominion and other Conservative groups.

In the selection of constituency delegates for the national convention at Winnipeg the party executive has asked that one of the three delegates named by each district be a woman. One of the other delegates will be a young person and, because of the number of young Conservatives who have enlisted in the armed forces, officials said it is anticipated a large proportion of the representation in this group will be young women.

Promoted to sergeant are: Pts. J. H. Green, Bdr. F. B. Beale, Gnr. L. J. McIver. Promoted to corporal are R. L. Finch, P. Loepky, and D. Sinclair.

How can a dollar be in two places at once?

THAT'S easy, if it's an insurance dollar.

You put this dollar into an insurance premium, and you say to yourself, there's my dollar, as safe as a church.

And so it is.

But if you think that your dollar just sits still in a big vault and twiddles its thumbs until you're ready to take it back in some form of benefits—either for yourself or your family—you're mistaken.

If you looked for that dollar you'd find it was busy.

You'd find that that dollar has gone to war! Just where you'd want it to go.

Your premium dollars, and millions of others, have been loaned to your government to help carry our arms to victory.

Instead of these dollars in the vault, there is a pile of War Bonds. And they are as safe as a church, too. All the enormous resources of Canada are behind them. There is no safer investment in the world.

That is why over another hundred and fifty million dollars of insurance savings have been invested by life insurance companies in the latest Victory Loan—making a grand total of over four hundred and fifty million dollars in war bonds. And that's an average of over $112 so invested for every insured person in Canada.

So you can feel doubly happy about every dollar you have put into insurance. It protects you and your dependents—and at the same time it helps to protect the whole nation—by supplying the tools of victory.

Victory is everybody's business. Everyone should work, save and lend to the limit.

Great Thing for Output Among Women is to Get Them
Together

LONDON, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Here's someone with a good word for talkative women. Said a Midland production manager: "Get a gang of women together where they can chin-wag and you get output. Isolate them and the pace is distinctly slowed." He explains it this way: "Sooner or later there will be squabbling, which results in hard eyes, tight lips, and a blistering silence. Strange to say, this also increases the rate of work. The great thing for output is to get them together."

CALIFORNIA STORY HERE

"Tortilla Flat" is Showing at Capitol Theatre Here at the Middle of This Week

The well known John Steinbeck novel of the California paisano of "Tortilla Flat" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here at the middle of this week. Spencer Tracy, Hedy Lamarr and John Garfield being scored in the leading parts.

The beauty and understanding of the written words are said to have been captured for the screen with fidelity. Spencer Tracy is the philosophical Pilon in a most colorful characterization. Hedy Lamarr is the fiery pigtailed beauty of the settlement who is wooed and won by the lazy, lovable Danny portrayed by John Garfield. Frank Morgan brings his typical form of humor to the bearded "Pirate," something of a miser outwardly but at heart a generous and magnificent man. Even the five nondescript dogs are depicted faithfully.

No detail was lacking in the sets, neither the loveliness of Monterey, nor the background of the bay with its chickens and seagulls, pigs, goats and fish.

POPULAR WAR BONDS

PRETORIA, Nov. 17 (UPI)—War bonds earmarked for weapons for the South African forces have sold to the extent of nearly $22,350,000.

England since the start of the war and his table tennis exhibitions have raised hundreds of dollars for the Red Cross. Bergmann first won the world title at Baden in 1937, lost it the following year at London and recaptured it in Cairo in 1939. He remains official world titlist at least until competition resumes after the war.

Rated the world's greatest table tennis player, Richard Bergmann, holder of the international singles title, has joined the R.A.F. as a physical training instructor. Native of Viehna, he has resided in
