Unidentified Aircraft Is Seen Over Santa Monica and Anti-Aircraft Guns Fired

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Anti-aircraft guns went into action and searchlights played into the skies over Los Angeles and environs early today as an unidentified object came in from the sea to pass slowly over Santa Monica and move on down the coast to disappear south of the rich oil fields. All southern California from Los Angeles to San Diego was blacked out from 2:55 a.m. until 7:21 a.m. Radio stations went off the air. No bombs were reported and nothing was brought down. There were several reports of instances of damaged property from anti-aircraft shells. Army officials declined to comment but it was speculated an enemy blimp might have passed over the area.

Want Japanese Moved at Once . . .

The Victoria city council has become so worked up over the slow speed of the "Move the Japs" scheme that it has asked Ottawa to remove from the cabinet Hon. Ian McKenzie who is blamed for the delays. We take the view that if the people are to be moved it should be done at once. The danger is just as great today as it will be in April. The war is not being delayed until April. It is going on just now. Why wait? It seems evident that this is the opinion of a great majority of the people. The Japanese did not give the Americans several weeks to think about it before destroying ships and crew at Pearl Harbor. We have been told that most of the Japanese will be loyal to Canada as long as the Japanese do not invade this province. That is hardly enough. Will they remain loyal even though troops are landed here? The general opinion is that they will not. Probably Victoria city council is right, not in asking for Mackenzie's resignation but in asking that immediate action be taken in regard to the removal from the danger zone of people who are not Canadians and never will be.

Effect of Newspaper Suggestion . . .

The opinion seems to be prevalent that most of the fighting in this war is being done by other than residents of the British Isles. That probably comes from over-emphasis on the work of the other part of the empire.

Some days ago this was mentioned in a speech from London where it was pointed out that of all casualties so far over seventy percent had been from British regiments. The Australians did splendid work in North Africa and so did the Indian regiments. For this the British wished to make it clear that they were thankful but there was no suggestion that either of these people took a more prominent part or were more fully represented than those from the British Isles. Of course the British regiments were there. We all know that so why mention it? Of course they fought well. They always do. Why mention it? It would not be news, the newspapermen would say.

Whispering Campaigns . . .

In his speech Monday, President Roosevelt spoke of the harm done by whispering campaigns. All sorts of exaggerations are made when news is held back. Yet it must sometimes be held back for strategical purposes. We have whispering campaigns sometimes even in Prince Rupert. It is one way in which the Nazis or the Japs can get in effective work. If we refuse to pass on reports which might be detrimental to the British cause we are defeating this form of enemy propaganda. This even enters into the selling of Victory Bonds. People who do not wish to buy are glad to find any flimsy excuse for not doing it. Yet it is difficult to find any but a flimsy excuse for not buying a few bonds.

Divide and Conquer . . .

One of the oldest Nazi tricks is to try to cause division among the enemy. It is possible that Premier Mitchell Hepburn did not realize that he was a tool of the enemy when he accused the American navy of going into hiding recently. Even if it had been true was no reason why it should have been said. Some unpleasant truths might best be left unsaid at a time like this but we do not believe and most people do not believe that what Hepburn said was true. For the time being Hepburn was a fifth columnist. He was helping to carry out the Nazi policy of "divide and conquer."

"I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat"

WINSTON CHURCHILL

What sacrifice are YOU making?

When Mr. Churchill took over the wheel of state, he offered the British people, if they were to win through to victory, only "blood, toil, tears and sweat."

Today, that is still the alternative before us all — sacrifice . . . or slavery. Young men you know are giving up their jobs . . . their homes . . . perhaps their lives, for victory.

What are YOU sacrificing? You will share in the benefits. Are you sharing in the sacrifices? There must be some luxury, some ordinary comfort you can go without so that you may lend more to assure and hasten final victory.

Every dollar counts. The least we can do — those of us who are not asked to offer our lives — is to buy MORE Victory Loan than we THINK we can afford.

TYPISTS ARE BUSY

It takes 120 of them to handle the job which is seasonal one

By PATRICIA CONNELLY
OTTAWA, Feb. 25: — Members of parliament take their letter-writing seriously and they have 120 stenographers at their beck and call during the House of Commons session to help them with their correspondence. "We are busy all the time," reports Joseph H. Smith, chief of the members' stenographers branch for 29 years. The girls get $5 a day.

Any day during a parliamentary session you can see these girls in stenographers' pool in the basement of the centre block of the parliament buildings pounding away at their typewriters, getting out the letters dictated by members. Brunettes, red heads, blonds and the odd grey-head, they take care of the letters of approximately 225 members. Cabinet ministers have their own secretaries.

Five large rooms with desks in rows and against the walls provide accommodation for the girls at their work. They are chosen with efficiency as a primary requisite and come from all parts of Canada to work only during the session. The stenographers' pool staff is appointed by the clerk of the House, Dr. Arthur Beauchesne and approved by the Speaker of the House, J. A. Glen.

Year after year
"We write the girls before each session and ask if their services are available," said Mr. Smith. He explained the pool always has a lot of applications for employment on hand but most girls come back year after year.

The stenographers' chief explained that the work was handled on the allotment and pool system. "We allot one stenographer to about two members," he said. "If either of the members gives a larger-than-usual amount of dictation we draw from the pool to take care of the needs of the stenographer's other member."

"When a member wants his stenographer he telephones to the desk clerks in the central pool office and the stenographer then is notified. After she takes the dictation in the member's office the stenographer returns to the pool to transcribe her notes."

Less than 10 stenographers were employed in the House of Commons up to 1911 when a staff of 55 was taken on as the first stenographer pool. Prior to the time members did their own letter writing at their desks in the Commons chamber. In 1921 the staff was enlarged to 100 and it has varied between 100 and 130.

LONDON, Feb. 25: — New Forest, created by William the Conqueror from Saxon homesteads, has become the scene of the biggest communal farming experiment in Britain. The government has taken over 1,000 acres on which to breed cattle. The ultimate aim is 20,000 acres, enough to support 10,000 cattle.

A.R.P. HAS PRACTICE

Splendid Showing Made In Realistic Rehearsal Last Night At Seal Cove

A very successful Air Raid Protection practice was held last evening by the various units in the district with headquarters at the Seal Cove School House. While there were some minor weaknesses that will be remedied at once the whole affair reflected the greatest credit on the officials and the personnel. The team work under District Warden J. McGlashan was very noticeable.

In the practice were included casualties that were given first aid in the field and were then taken to the headquarters at the school. Here each was diagnosed and given further treatment. Ambulances were used for two of the cases and arrangements made to have them transferred to the hospital. There were eight types of casualties, including simple and compound fractures, wounds with serious hemorrhages, head wounds and burns. The conduct of the first aid personnel was of the highest character and reflected credit upon the instructor, Angus MacDonald, as well as to his competent and willing helpers. Nurses under Miss E. D. Priestly R.N. gave fine services in their special field. Stretcher crews performed efficiently.

Police wardens acted as "casualties." Sea Cadets acted as runners. In one case a blocked road was reported. In another case a runner took a message to the court house and brought back the reply inside twenty minutes. Much of the equipment, such as benches, first aid tables and bandage winding appliances was the work of the members of the district.

There is still need for more first aid helpers and a serious shortage of police wardens. It is hoped that there will be a big rally of residents to the support of this fine organization.

Present at the demonstration were J. J. Little, chief protection officer, J. S. Wilson, chief warden, Inspector Ernest Gammon and Arnold Flaten in charge of health organization. On their behalf Mr. Little extended to the workers congratulations on a display that he said would be difficult to excel.

SPORTS

SMITHERS BONSPIEL

Big Curling Meet at Interior Town Was Complete Success.

SMITHERS, Feb. 25.—The bonspiel of the Smithers Curling Club came to an end Monday night excepting for the consolation prizes and there are three teams still left in that competition which will not be concluded until Thursday night.

Billy Little of Woodcock was the only outside contestant and, just as he has done in many other years, he arrived at the finals but for three times in succession he has run into the McEwen rink which has always nosed him out in the last game. In this first game, however, he had the satisfaction of beating the Hickenbotham rink 19 to 6, all of which six points were gathered in one end.

The old argument based on youth over experience is now brewing in basketball circles here with a showdown due soon. It seems that the intermediate league, now playing regularly twice a week, is forming the idea that an all-star team, from its ranks, would take the measure of the seniors anywhere at any time. This, of course, is a matter of opinion and is not taken very seriously by many of the older boys who are willing to wager Bob Houston's next army cheque.

Things in favor of the Savoys are numerous. First of all, who will check big Angus Macphee and Seo Dominato? Who will sift Seo Dominato? Who will sift guard and who has ever outclassed Sonny Beynon as far as percentage basket-sniping is concerned?

On the Savoy lineup this season is a new-comer to these backwoods in the person of Gar Taylor from Chilliwack. He has played on the former Senior B provincial championship team, the "Chilliwack Valley," and certainly has proven a decided asset to the powerful team that lost such stars as Jack Lindsay, Don Arney and the all-round sport Herb Morgan.

On the intermediate side of the fence are found some handy and effective youngsters who, no doubt, have the ability to make matters very interesting for their older brothers. On their lineup are found boys who should be in senior ranks had there been a senior league and some lesser lights whose stamina will surely count for some points in their favor.

The intermediate lineup will be chosen from Alec Bill, Shorty Santurbane, Helge Holkstad, Tom McKay, formerly of Port Simpson, Ted Arney, Donald Fitch, Bob Long, Syd Alexander, Jim Sheldon and centres Joe Davis, the 16-year-old keyman of the Barons; Don McDonald of the High School; and Bob Vuckovich of the Dry Dock squad.

The young men will have the advantage of numbers and, of course, will set a torrid pace tiring their opponents thus weakening their effectiveness.

Tonight the High School and Dry Dock meet in a crucial game.

If High wins they will tie the Dry Dock for first place but, by losing, Dry Dock will step away out by two games.

SHOCK TO SMITHERS

STEWART

Sudden Death of Joe Rife Regretted By Entire Community—
Interment In Vancouver

SMITHERS, Feb. 25.—The community of Smithers was grieved on Saturday last when news was received in town that Joe Rife, popular baggeman of the Canadian National Railway, had dropped dead while carrying out his duties on the incoming train while it was at Palling, about 90 miles east of Smithers.

Mr. Rife was out on the track at the time as the train was held up by a broken draw-bar. He was observed to fall by some of the train crew who thought that he had slipped. When he did not rise, they immediately went to his aid but he had passed away.

Mr. Rife had resided in Smithers for many years and had raised his family here. He was a member of Omineca Lodge, A. F. & A. M., at Smithers and had always been prominent in local Masonic work.

He is survived by his widow who is at present training for a nurse in a Vancouver hospital, and his son, Joe, who is attending the University of British Columbia.

Mrs. Rife, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Foster, left with the body by yesterday morning's train for Vancouver where interment will take place in Ocean View Cemetery.

The family have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their sudden bereavement.

INSTITUTE AT TERRACE

Farmers' Organization Had Successful Year—Officers Are Re-elected

TERRACE, Feb. 25.—The Terrace Farmers' Institute held its annual meeting on Saturday. The meeting was well attended and the reports showed that finances and business generally continue to improve. Some $5000 dollars worth of business was transacted during the past year.

Interesting matters were brought up for consideration at the meeting. The Institute showed itself favorable to the establishment of a dehydrating plant in Central British Columbia. A proposal to form a local branch or association of egg producers was deferred to a later meeting. The need for increased membership was stressed, thereby increasing the Institute's influence in matters such as freight rates, tariffs, etc.

The election of officers to carry on during 1942 brought the same slate as last year, thus proving the meeting's satisfaction with the work of 1941. These are:

President, Kenneth Kerr.
Secretary - Treasurer, Floyd Frank.
Auditor, Will Robinson.
