Nova Scotia Schooner Is Shelled By Enemy Submarine In Atlantic

All Eleven Members of Crew Got Off in Dorries and Rowed Safely to Shore—Skipper Believes There May Be More Such Incidents

AT AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, July 27 (CP)—Capt. Percy Richardson, master of the Lockeport, Nova Scotia, schooner Lucille M., sunk by Nazi submarine shellfire, said he believed the attack on the vessel indicated a change in German U-boat policy. He believes other fishing boats are to be shelled. Four members of the crew were injured but all eleven men on the boat got off in two dories and rowed one hundred miles to Cape Sable Island. It is the first Canadian fishing vessel to be sunk in this war.

BATTLE ON IN ROSTOV

Fighting in Outer Streets of City—Diversions in Bryansk Sector

REDS HOLDING ON MOSCOW, July 27: (CP)—The Germans have hurled reinforcements into the battle in an effort to widen footholds south of the Don River near Tsimlyansk. The Russians are reported to be holding their positions and the Red Air Force is founding moving columns of German men and guns by day and night. The Germans are reported to have reached the Stalingrad-Tikhoretsk railway line, last rail link with the Caucasus.

MOSCOW, July 27.—The German forces have broken into the outskirts of Rostov and the city is in the greatest danger, it is admitted here. However, the defenders are still holding. Heavy fighting is going on with the enemy still suffering large casualties. The fortifications of the city have been breached at some points. Two thousands Germans are reported to have been killed at Rostov by bayonets and sidearms alone. The Nazis are reported to have made two crossings of the Don and are pouring men and machines across. The enemy, marching into the Caucasus, have reached to within forty-five miles of Stalingrad.

The summer offensive of the Germans is now on in full swing with the Caucasus, still 800 miles away, Stalingrad and the Volgo River as the principal objectives. Meanwhile the Russians are developing a flanking movement 500 miles to the north of Rostov in the Bryansk sector and have captured several important communities as well as cutting a road which is a major factor in Russian supply lines. The Russian counter-attack at Voronezh continues. The Nazis are estimated to have lost 100,000 men there in the past month.

Four Canadian bomber squadrons formed part of the force and it is estimated six hundred planes took part in the raid. Hamburg shipyards have a capacity of twenty-five u-boats at a time. Mr. Lymburn was nominated at a convention of the Edmonton branch, Independent Citizens' Association of Alberta, in the Masonic Temple Thursday night. W. Kelly Porter, president of the Edmonton branch, was chairman of the meeting. Two other names, L. Y. Cairns, K.C., Collin D. MacKenzie, also were mentioned, but it was stated they had been approached but did not wish to run. Neither was present.

Another candidate, Elmer E. Roper, had been nominated previously by the C.C.F. It is expected that Social Credit forces also will enter the field.

This puts two candidates in the field. The by-election probably will be held some time in October, according to government circles.

Treaties Not Enough . . .

It is now abundantly evident that regional treaties will only ensure nations to a limited degree. They will not ensure against a new war. More than ever before peace will in the future be indivisible. The possibilities of a lasting peace will mainly be dependent upon the relations between the great powers. It is of vital importance for all the small countries that this relationship should be characterized by co-operation and mutual confidence. Mutual confidence between the great powers is the first condition for international co-operation in the future, for a real League of Nations which must be the ultimate goal of all freedom-loving peoples.

Economical problems are of course not to be solved on the basis of regional autarchy. They can only be solved on a broad international basis. This is especially the case for a country which is dependent to a high degree upon world trade and whose ships sail the Seven Seas. Still less do nations want to be culturally isolated. The ideals for which we are fighting are not bounded by frontiers and the war has created a sense of mutual respect and confidence between all freedom-loving peoples. This wider international co-operation should, however, not be limited to any continent. Not only continents but also oceans are links between nations.

The censor won't let us tell you much about the weather. But, if the chair gets up when you do, you can figure it's hot.

Obscuring a School . . .

There has been some complaint around that end of the city of the erection of Wartime Housing structures which have now all but smothering the Booth Memorial School. It is probably too late to do anything about it now even though protests have been made. However, representations made at this time in regard to what is going on might have some bearing on the choosing of sites for future projects of such kind.

If there are no other sites available for these structures we shall just have to put up with them but, if other land just as suitable could be found, it is reasonable to urge the authorities not to unnecessarily obscure established civilian institutions, particularly such buildings as schools.

A man has been sentenced to three months for smoking in a munitions plant. He is lucky he was able to appear in court in one piece.

GOING TO VANCOUVER

Removal of Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station Is Finally Decided Upon

The Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station is being moved—establishment, staff and all in its entirety—to Vancouver, it is definitely announced. Dr. Neal M. Carter, director, will be leaving between August 15 and 20. Dr. H. N. Brocklesby is already in Vancouver getting established in temporary quarters. Negotiations are now on for premises to be used during the war. Later it is likely permanent buildings will be built at the University of British Columbia.

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY

Dry Dock and Midlands Winners Yesterday

The Dry Dock set a new scoring record in the Senior Baseball League yesterday by slamming the lowly Medicals around by the tune of 14 to 1. The Medicals played one of the wooliest baseball games ever seen on the Acropolis Hill. Cautners started on the mound for the Meds but ran into a heavy hitting barrage and, when the smoke had cleared, the score board read 7 to 0. Randall relieved Cautners in the second and weathered the storm until the sixth inning when his support in the field folded up like a pack of well used playing cards. The game was called in the sixth after one and three quarter hours of sloppy baseball.

The Midland-Watts and Nickerson game was a good one with the Midlands on the long end of an 8 to 1 score. MacKenzie, the Midlands hurler, who is a former Kamloops pitcher, had the Watts and Nickerson nine eating out of his hand no less than thirteen Clothers going to the bench via the strikeout route. Midlands started off with a bang, scoring two runs in the first inning on hits by Barkwell, MacKenzie and Munroe. The Watts and Nickerson nine scored their lone run in the sixth on hits by Postuk and Santerbane with Postuk scoring the run. Joe Berusch, former Kamloops catcher, played short stop for the Watts and Nickerson team.

Night Concert

One-Act Play and New Song by Local Girl Featured Program Last Night

The padre's weekly concert at the Y.M.C.A. Hut last night was again greatly appreciated by a large audience of service men.

A feature of the program was the second of a series of one-act plays arranged by Carl Clay, Y.M.C.A. supervisor, with the Misses Phyllis and Aileen Hamblin forming the cast.

Another feature was the introduction of a catchy new blues song composed by Mrs. Jean Elkins and entitled "That'll be the Day." It Mr. Crawford accompanying. It went over well and the boys of the forces joined lustily in the chorus.

There were tap dancing numbers by the Misses Elsa Kraupner, Isabel Connelly and Harry Saunders, accompanied by Mrs. J. S. Black.

FIRE DEPT' WAS ACTIVE

Bush Fire on Wantage Road Took Two Hours to Fight—Three Other Week-end Calls

The city fire department had quite a busy week-end, the principal incident being a bush fire on Wantage Road which resulted in the department being called out at 11:15 Sunday morning and being on the job for about two hours. The blaze ran rapidly through dry underbrush and assumed rather large proportions for a time. Water had to be carried by buckets from the stream 150 yards away. Fire Chief H. T. Lock and Fireman Frank Sherwood appreciated the assistance given by Leonard Hall, Lieut. Robert Nicholson and Frank Sherwood. Work in the heat and dust alternated between operating a stirrup pump and carrying water until the fire was completely extinguished.

On Saturday afternoon at 1:40 fire started on the roof of the home of Robert Wilson, 101 Hays Cove Circle. A large hole was burned in the roof.

At 1:30 yesterday afternoon a rubbish fire at 1443 Sixth Avenue East required the attention of the department.

Yesterday afternoon at 3:10 the firemen had to force an entrance into the home of Roy Larson, 736 Fraser Street, where a chesterfield was a fire. The chesterfield was completely ruined but there was no other loss.

SHORTAGE OF POLICE

Enlistments Are Draining Department at Edmonton

EDMONTON, July 27.—Problem of getting new constables to fill vacancies caused in the uniformed police department by enlistments and call-ups for military service is a serious one, and will grow graver as the war progresses. Chief Constable Matt Blackwood declares.

"It has been the policy up to now to take on new men between the ages of 21 and 30, but with the selective service for military training extending the age limits, it will be necessary to go beyond the 30-year mark and take on men who are older," the chief states.

There are 65 constables and sergeants on the payroll of the uniform department, with a considerable number of them liable to military service.

Thirteen members of the force already have enlisted in the navy, army and air force since the outbreak of war, and two constables have quit the force to go into war industry.

Members of the police force can be exempted from military service if they were members of the force before the selective service went into effect, but if they desire exemption, their cases must be considered by the Alberta War Services board. Whether they get exempted depends entirely on the decision of the board.

"There is a vacancy on the uniform department now, but it will not be filled by a man liable to call-up. There have been no new men taken on for the past three months, and it will be some time before the force can be brought up to the strength required for this growing city."

The 13 men who enlisted in the armed forces are James F. Dean, Norman Floyd, A. M. Edwardson, D. G. McLean, S. T. McLean, Jack Langford, J. S. Mansfield, A. B. MacKenzie, G. C. H. Jackson, R. A. Hicks, Frank Kingzett, G. J. McPeake, F. A. R. Wynn, Constable Jackson, a pilot officer in the R.C.A.F., has been reported missing.

Canada's War Chiefs

MAJ-GEN. C. S. L. HERTZBERG,
Chief Engineer, 1st Canadian Army

(By Ross Munro, Canadian Press War Correspondent)

Top man in the Royal Canadian Engineers is tall, gaunt, quiet Maj-Gen. C. S. L. Hertzberg, a man who knows everything there is to know about army engineering and the sapper's job. In peacetime he was a prominent engineer in Toronto. He's been overseas with the Canadians since the start and has been primarily responsible for the development of the huge engineering force which now backs up the Canadian army in England.

Gen. Hertzberg is keen, precise and constructive as all army engineers should be. Engineer officers say there is no more perfect example of military engineer than the general.

He thinks scientifically and here finds a common ground for discussion with Lt-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, the army commander. They have always been close associates and have straightened out many knotty engineering problems by working together.

Gen. Hertzberg now is the engineering chief at Army Headquarters. His professional interests cover everything from building an air force airfield to erecting Nissen huts for the troops, but he particularly enjoys directing big construction jobs that are always being done by the engineers in England—building highways or boring power tunnels.

When it is a steel job, he is really in his element.

Overseas he finds little time for water colors and sketching, peacetime hobbies. But as he motor through southern England's picturesque villages and rolling countryside he makes notes of scenes that some day he will put on paper.

A completely unassuming general with a dry sense of humor, he does a lot of deep thinking and very little talking. He will settle a ticklish problem for his staff by a typical comment: "Well, personally I'd do it this way." And it is done that way and carried out successfully.

A native of Toronto, he is 56.
