BATTLE OF SOLOMONS: ITS QUOTA

Japanese Suffered Heavy Losses But Navy Secretary Warns Against Undue Optimism

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. (CP)-Sinking of two additional Japanese cruisers in the South Pacific was reported today by, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox who coupled with the news an admonition against "growing too optimistic" about the Solomons campaign. He said that the Japanese have a fleet of formidable proportions left and "we haven't any doubt they'll come back."

Secretary Knox's report of the sinking of the two more enemy cruisers was based on late information from Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, now back from his former command as chief of Pacific. Ghormley's account of naval operations in the South the battle off Savo Island on the night of October 11-12 listed five cruisers as sunk, said Knox.

cific, United States submarines had sunk one large passengeraffire a converted carrier and damaged one destroyer and a medium-sized tanker.

As a result of a devastating battle on October 26, in which the Japanese are reported to have suffered damage to seven big ships and between 100 and 150 planes, United States forces for the time being at least appear to have control of the waters around Guadalcanal.

Japanese warships listed as damaged in the battle east of Stewart Island include two aircraft carriers, two battleships and three cruisers. This added one battleship and two heavy cruisers to the score previously reported.

The United States lost in the engagement, it is announced, one carrier as yet unidentified (possibly U.S.S. Hornet and the destroyer Porter with other ships reporting lesser damage.

A Month and 23 Days . . .

"Good! Just a month and twenty-three days to Christmas!!" It was refreshing to hear one of our newsboys in joyful anticipation proclaim that as he waited for his papers yesterday afternoon. It was a happy indication that for the very young at least one good old idea retains its appeal in these days of care and materialism when a lot of us are worrying honestly about the war and legitimate undertakings while others of us are engaged more than ever in the pursuit of seeing how best we can do for ourselves out of the world's travail.

Is it good for us to reflect that in our land the children can still think joyfully of Christmas-the season of goodwill. They can plan, even in a restricted measure, the pleasures of giving and anticipate in their innocent way the joy of receiving. They have not as yet at least been subjected to the physical horrors and the mental hopelessness of war under which even Christmas seems to mean nothing. Yes, it is good that our children at least can still look forward to the wholesome and pleasant joys of the Christmas season. We can only hope that we shall continue blessed as we are in being a country where the good Christmas season can still prevail in the manner to which we and our children have become accustomed, a manner than which we know no other. Fortunate should Prince Rupert Cannot Get It For Septic Tank Facilities at Rushwe consider ourselves that there is still a place for Santa Claus here.

Housing Rentals . . .

Complaints persist of rentals here for wartime housing accommodation being inequitable with those prevailing in Vancouver. Evidently there is a considerable measure of justification to those complaints. The only defence appears to be that it costs more to build war- greatest artists, Tolstoy, Tchaitime houses here than it does in Vancouver. Possibly it kowsky and Chekkov, have been does. Possibly it doesn't-very much. That question, how-destroyed by the Nazis. ever, is beside the point. It should not be the determining * factor. If the wages for the renters are no higher here than in Vancouver, it does not seem reasonable that the rentals charged the workers should be higher.

When it is so difficult as it is to get labor to come here for essential war industries, which claim they are hampered by a severe shortage of men, it does not seem fitting that a government organization, supposedly interested in getting the fullest measure of production, should in this manner hamper its own effort. This is apart from the justifiable complaint that it is not fair

By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

The other night I asked Jack Keast if he would give me one of his poems for this column. You remember Jack, he used to recite his poems over the air when we had the "At Your Service" program on the radio from the Y hul last summer. Well, just to show what a nice sort of kid he is they, Jack, do you mind being called gid?) Jack gave me one of his brand new pieces and I really feel highly honored. Incidentally, Jack is only 19 and hails from Guelph, Ontario, His poem follows:

MEANWHILE FORGET

Today I wandered aimlessly Among the rocks beside the shore, And knew the former liberty We mortals knew before the war. The battle strife, the grim routine, Were gone amid this peaceful scene.

And as the limpid morning sun Cast vivid rays across the sky, The creamy clouds in union, Like mystic angels stealing by In scarlet, pink and amethyst, Engulfed the rising morning mist.

I wandered as a stranger there, Amid a wanton wonderland, And hid the worried, worldly care Beneath my footprints in the sand. I watched the waves on swift parade,

And heard the morning serenade.

But then the peaceful reverie That held me in oblivion, Was broken by the ribaldry That issued from a distant gun. -The serenade had lingered on, But now my hopeful dreams were

Yes, here a placid beauty lay At early morn, or eventide, This was the peace of yesterday, The peace we mortals sanctified. But now-forget. We must erase The sacred mem'ry of the place.

So let us turn toward the foe. Forget the beauty and forsake The creamy clouds, the morning

-This quiet beauty is at stake. We fight the battle of the age To guard our ancient heritage.

OUR 125TH ANNIVERSARY Tlorious deeds for humanity have brightened the years of the century and a quarter through which the Bank of Montreal has lived and served Canada. Sordid deeds of treachery and tyranny cannot detract from the tecord of courage, faith and achievement made by democratic, freedom-loving nations and peoples. Capada, in the 125 years of the Bank's existence, has grown from a pioneer colony to a state great among nations in wealth, world-wide activities and influence.

Born when Canada was still a wilderness, with here and there a town, the Bank of Montreal has marched, worked and fought beside Canadians of all generations since 1817, assisting in every field of endeavour to build and preserve the nation.

As:on our 100th Birthday, in 1917, we now find Canada, together with her sister dominions and her allies, fighting with all her strength, but confidently, for freedom and all that freedom holds.

We re-dedicate on this our 125th Birthday all our accumulated experience, knowledge, technical skill and financial strength to the service of Canada and her citizens.

1817 * 3rd NOVEMBER * 1942

ALWAYS SERVING CANADA When the Bank of Montreal began business on November 3, 1817, the only transportation in Canada was provided by horse, wagon, stagecoach, canoe and river packet. There was no means of communication, excepting letters delivered by courier. There was no common currency.

In 1942, the picture of Canada presents a modernly equipped nation with gigantic industries, networks of railroads and motor highways, great_steamship lines, continental airlines, instantaneous communications between all parts of the country and with all parts of the world, and a stable system of banking which gives wings to commerce.

In this picture, builded into it for twelve) and a half decades, generation after gener? ation, stands the Bank of Montreal, now with hundreds of branches, strong with youth, experienced with age - still serve ing Canada, in this latest time of crisis

I'M making $35 dollars a week and I feed a hungry family. (Excuse me-I was making $35 before the last batch of taxes hit me. I still have all the family.)

"So why am I buying Victory Bonds today? Well you see, a couple of boys I knew stayed on the beach at Dieppe. It's not a nice thought to go to bed with.

"Our boys are going in there again. And when they smack straight into those Huns-they're going to have the best equipment my money can help to buy. That's the least I can do-and the best way to do it is through my country's Victory Bonds.

"I'm not asking for any medals for buying these bonds. After all, I'll be laying up for myself the best of all investments-VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; I can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when I need the cash.

"So that's the way I feel about it. I'm going to keep right on paying my way in this man's war-and I'm not going to quit while our lads are in there pitching."

HOW TO BUY-Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters! Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll-savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will
