Negotiations With India Collapse

Which Way Will Japs Now Turn Following Philippine Collapse?

Siberia, India, China and Australia All Mentioned As Possible Objectives—Corregidor Resistance Continues—British Retreat In Burma

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11: (CP)—With strong forces now freed from operations on the Philippine Islands, Washington observers said that the possibilities facing the Japanese were a surprise attack on Siberia, a reinforced drive into Burma and India, an attempt to finish off China, invasion of Australia and a grand scale assault upon Hawaii. Most predicted is that Siberia will be next on the list.

Japanese warships, supported by planes, were reported bombing Corregidor fortress in Manila Bay today, climaxing the fall of Batan with an attempt to knock out the last major bastion of resistance in Luzon and to gain control of the finest harbor in the western Pacific. In the central Philippines a small American-Filipino force defending Cebu Island inflicted heavy casualties on Japanese sea-borne invaders, estimated to number 12,000, who landed from a fleet of warships and ten transports. The War Department communique said that stubbornly resisting defenders held the Japanese advance to only a few miles.

In Burma a new British and Indian withdrawal on the Irrawaddy River front, guarding the rich central Burma oil fields, was indicated in a British communique.

"YES" VOTE IS URGED

Junior Chamber of Commerce Hears Olof Hanson Speak in Regard to Manpower Plebiscite.

In addition to being chief protection officer for Prince Rupert, J. J. Little had been requested by the British Columbia advisory council to take over the A.R.P. supervision for the adjacent districts. These would include Port Simpson, Port Essington, the Skeena River and canneries.

In view of these instructions Mr. Little, accompanied by H. T. Lock, J. S. Wilson and Allan M. Davies, visited Port Simpson on Thursday, the trip being made in the Na-skeena through the courtesy of Indian Agent James Gillett and the co-operation of the Indian Department.

At a meeting attended by about fifty people, Mr. Little traced the development of the organization in Prince Rupert and the more recent activities on the coast as the result of the establishing of a British Columbia advisory council. He outlined the set-up of the organization.

J. S. Wilson covered the work of the district wardens and their duties and also gave in detail an account of preparations made for evacuation of school children from the schools.

The reading of the minutes of a previous meeting held in Port Simpson showed that an effective start had already been made there. Following a full discussion these plans were incorporated to come more into line with the established organization of the province and committee chairmen were named.

Appreciation of the visit and help of Mr. Little and his committee was expressed by various of the residents, both white and native, and, with mutual exchange of information to be continued, a more effective district-wide civil protection committee will result.

Mr. Gillett introduced the visitors. Miss J. Hill acted as secretary.

A.R.P. IS PREPARED

Reports and Demonstrations at Meeting of District Wardens Last Night.

There was a full attendance of A.R.P. district wardens or their deputies at the regular weekly meeting under the chief warden, J. S. Wilson, in the Canadian Legion rooms last evening. Later there was a joint meeting with the district fire auxiliary leaders under Fire Chief Lock and his auxiliary chief, W. D. Lambie. At the close there was a demonstration by Angus MacDonald of the newly developed type of stretcher.

At the district wardens' meeting reports showed that steady practices and regular meetings were being held. At these practices many varied types of "incidents" were made up and, in dealing with them, the first aiders, fire fighters and police wardens had every chance to exercise their resourcefulness. In case of a real emergency these workers would be well prepared. Some special consideration had been given to boundaries of the districts and the first aid posts. The wardens would advise the people concerned as to any change in the locations of their first aid posts. Those present were J. L. MacIntosh, J. A. Teng, A. Dominato for G. T. German, George Storrie for Ray Allen, G. P. Tinker, T. J. Boulter, J. H. McGlashan and J. E. Boddie.

At the joint meeting with the fire auxiliaries, in addition to Fire Chief H. T. Lock and W. D. Lambe, there were H. R. Hill, G. Abbott, S. Paynter and W. R. S. Seal. In collaboration with the fire auxiliaries the district wardens considered a set of standing orders and with these approved a common basis of working has been established.

A practical demonstration of the new simple type of stretcher was given. This was made by J. E. Boddie to the plans of Angus MacDonald based on a newspaper report and had proven to be most practical. There was no difficulty in working one's way through doorways or around corners and the stretcher might be used in a vertical position without any risk or inconvenience to the patient. Numbers of these will be made available locally for use by the first aid sections. Mr. MacDonald was generally complimented on this new feature.

CURB USE OF LIQUOR

Junior Chamber of Commerce Endorses Gyro Club Resolution Regarding Increased Policing of City.

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its regular monthly meeting last night, considered resolutions from the Prince Rupert Rotary Club and the Prince Rupert Gyro Club in respect to the condition of affairs which has arisen as a result of the use of liquor and, after considerable discussion, decided to endorse the resolution of the Gyro Club calling for an augmentation of the strength of the city police and armed service patrols here in the interests of a more effective enforcement of the law. The resolution will be forwarded to the attorney general's department, the city commissioner and the military authorities.

There was general agreement that something should be done to control the consumption of liquor in Prince Rupert. Enforcement of the existing laws, it was felt, would do much to remedy conditions. The discussion then resolved itself into one of enforcement of the law and more effective patrol.

A communication from the Vancouver Junior Chamber of Commerce stressed the importance of getting out the vote in the plebiscite, offering as a motto "Vote for Canada, Vote Yes."

Offensive Against Germany Now Being Seriously Considered

LONDON, April 11: (CP)—Reliable sources said today that General George C. Marshall and Harry Hopkins of the United States were convinced that Russia was the decisive battlefield in the war and were discussing with Great Britain the most effective way to aid the Red armies against the Axis. This aid, it was added, was almost certain to include United States air reinforcement of the Royal Air Force bombing of Germany, in view of reverses in the Far East, the demand is growing for an invasion of Europe by Allied forces.

WILL CURB STRAFING INFLATION GERMANY

Draastic Legislative Program to Be Introduced by President Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, April 11: (CP)—President Roosevelt is expected to introduce a draastic anti-inflation legislative program very soon. It would include new taxes, freezing of prices, control of wages and curtailing of installment buying.

Seal Cove Road Is Considered

Committee of Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce in Session With City Commissioner and Engineer.

A committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce consisting of Arnold Flaten, Theo Collart and Robert Gordon was in conference last night with City Commissioner D. J. Matheson and City Engineer F. N. Good to consider the Lowe report on Seal Cove road improvements. After considerable discussion, it was decided that the committee would make a report to the chamber of commerce at its meeting next Monday night before further action is taken.

CARNIVAL FAVERED

Junior Chamber of Commerce Would Hold Event as Usual This Fall to Aid Civic Centre.

In spite of the uncertainty as to a venue, the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce decided last night to go ahead with plans for the usual fall carnival in aid of the civic centre project and it was left with the executive to appoint a committee. As usual, the co-operation of the Gyro Club, Rotary Club and Sons of Norway in connection with the event will be enlisted.

There was also some discussion at last night's meeting as to the civic centre undertaking itself. C. G. Ham told how the central committee was continuing its activities and negotiations with a view to bringing the project to early fruition.

TOMMIES VS. A.T.S.

LONDON, April 11: (CP)—Neutral observers have agreed that a "canteen" battle between members of the Auxiliary Territorial Service and soldiers ended in a stalemate.

The soldiers started by buying up available supplies of nail varnish to keep their buttons polished. The A.T.S. girls counter-attacked by cornering supplies of pipe-cleaners for hair-curlers.

Sir Stafford Cripps Sad Over Failure of Mission; Is Leaving

Thinks That Great Opportunity For Rallying Defence And Freedom Has Been Missed—Some Degree Of Agreement

NEW DELHI, April 11 (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, in a farewell radio broadcast to the people of India today, said: "I am sad that this great opportunity for rallying India for her defence and freedom has been missed." Cripps, preparing to return to Britain, earlier announced that Britain's offer of Dominion status for India after the war had been withdrawn following rejection of the plan by dominant Hindu and Moslem parties. He said at a press conference that, despite the failure, there was a large and very important area of agreement as to future freedom for India."

SHELTERS DISCUSSED

This Among Matters Discussed At A. R. P. Meeting—Emergency Hospital

The Prince Rupert Civilian Protection Committee was in regular session yesterday afternoon with the chairman, J. J. Little, presiding. Also present were H. T. Lock, J. S. Wilson, Arnold Flaten, Angus MacDonald, Samuel Masse, F. N. Good, Inspector Ernest Gammon, O. C. Young, S. E. Parker and Allen M. Davies, secretary.

Included in reports was the latest information regarding air-raid shelters and the prospect of tunnelling. It was pointed out that in London only five percent of the people use air-raid shelters. In order to be bombproof they need to have an earth covering of forty feet or an equivalent concrete roof. Proper ventilation is needed and even lighting must be considered. The cost of suitable tunnelling here had been worked out and to provide a shelter seven feet by five feet would cost thirty-five dollars a linear foot. That meant that a shelter one hundred feet long would cost $3,500. And that would shelter only a limited number of people. Various reports had stated that there was much suitable tunnelling equipment available in the city. Investigation had proved that this was not the case. There was no tunnelling equipment available at present.

Progress had been made in the excavation of an emergency hospital in the basement of the present hospital and there would be considerable bed space provided. There would also be a large reception room. Additional Red Cross supplies had arrived.

Fire Chief Lock had fitted up two portable pumps which had already proved effective. The waterfront fire protection had also been taken up and progress had been made.

It was stressed again that only cars with special permits would be allowed to be used in an "imminent danger" black-out and that permits would have to be applied for by the individuals who would need them. There would be no exceptions.

NEW THEATRE HERE FAVERED

Junior Chamber of Commerce to Urge That Federal Permit Be Granted.

The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its regular monthly meeting last night, went on record as favoring the granting of a federal permit for the construction of a second theatre in Prince Rupert.

The matter of the second theatre here was brought before the Junior Chamber by the president, Alf Rivett, who stated that Allan Carolan of Stewart was contemplating putting up a theatre on property he had acquired on Second Avenue at the corner of Fifth Street but required the support of a body such as the Chamber of Commerce in his application for a federal permit.

HAVE SOMBRE TASK

LONDON, April 11: (CP)—Before leaving port on an Atlantic crossing the crew of a tanker solemnly swore that if the vessel was lost the survivors would visit relatives of men killed and now Capt. Francis Broad and Thomas Ornell, the only survivors of her sinking, have started out to fulfil the pact.

The marriage at St. Paul's Lutheran Church last night of Miss Judith Jerstad of this city and George Morgan of Vancouver, was an event of outstanding interest to many friends. A reception followed in the Oddfellows' Hall.

Ruling For One-Man Street Cars Being Protested

VANCOUVER, April 11: — The Vancouver Trades and Labor Council has protested to Premier John Hart the ruling of the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission permitting the operation of one-man street cars in Vancouver.

UNION-LEADER SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1942.

Battle of India...

The Battle of India is beginning and the commencement has not been very good for our side. We have lost an aircraft carrier and two heavy cruisers and the United Nations defences have been that much weakened at the outset. Possibly we may have worse news still from India before we have better. There are grim facts and possibilities to be faced and we had better steel ourselves.

Although here in Prince Rupert we are still many thousands of miles away from the actualities of the war, every fresh advance of the enemy in the Far East brings closer the time when he may turn his attention to our very own shores.

It is no time to be discouraged even though the tide of battle may be running against us. To the contrary, it is time to be steady and resolved, time to be resolved each of us to play his part—some fighting, some working, all preparing, all carrying on. The most of us have done little enough already. There will be much more to do, sacrifices to be made which will touch us all.

Law and Order...

There is still widespread complaint about the increasing disorderliness in Prince Rupert, some of which is verging on the boundary of seriousness. There is a great difference of opinion as to what should be done about it. At least, every one is agreed that something should be done. No one is satisfied with the way things are now.

If those authorities who are charged with the maintenance of law and order see that adequate measures are taken to preserve it much of what is now being complained about will be rectified.

It is not good enough for any of the authorities to say that nothing can be done, that the present condition is something that cannot be avoided under existing circumstances. To say that is just a weak excuse for doing nothing.

The Story of Jones...

At school Jones was a dunce. At 16 he became clerk in a general store in his own town. Later he established in this town a shoe business of his own. His store was not more than eight feet wide, but it had good depth. Jones employed no help—he was the whole staff. He worked long hours every day, keeping his stock as it should be kept for quick handling. He advertised in the two local newspapers—price advertising, chiefly. He did not deal in fine shoes, but in plain shoes. He did a large business with farmers and their wives. He was liked for his sincerity, his affability, fair dealing. He sold for cash. He had to make sales briskly, especially on Saturdays.

Jones was never strong physically. He grew too fast—was 6 feet tall at age 16, and he grew taller. He took no exercise. His store was too small, and not well ventilated. Jones died before he was 40—T. B.

But in the few years of his life Jones made a small fortune. His customers, mostly plain folk and largely rural, were attracted—and kept... by advertisements published in the town's two newspapers. Jones' original employer, the owner of a general store in a good country town, was a good advertiser, and Jones followed the example set him.

Jones was not brilliant. He had no definite social status. But he had genius of a sort: he knew where he wanted to go, and he never left the road stretching to his goal. And he did believe in and use newspaper advertising to get and keep customers.

Tables Turned— FINAL HOOP GAMES ARE BEST ONES

Ocean Falls Boys and Prince Rupert Girls Won Last Evening.

In the last game of the inter-high school basketball series between Ocean Falls High and the Bo-Me-Hi, the visitors last night came out on top by a score of 31 to 30 in a game which was by far the best of the series. The local quintette retained the northern British Columbia title for this series, winning by 26 points on the aggregate.

The paper-makers got the tip-off and on a pass from Charleston to Oxenbury drew first blood. Alexander came through for two points and Oxenbury for one. Following this was a basket from each of Charleston and Gurvich. Wall then spotted a very nice left-hand pivot shot from the keyhole. Two points each from Oxenbury and Larsen and four from Alexander ended the first section of the game 11 to 8 for the visitors. During the second phase the local ads gained on the Ocean Falls squad and maintained a lead until four minutes before the final whistle when fast play and shooting from Charleston, Wall and Clozza tied the score at 28 to 28. Macdonald followed with a basket. On a personal which sent Long to the showers, Wall made the score 30 to 29 in favor of the Bo-Me-Hi. With less than half a minute to play Oxenbury spotted the winning shot of the evening to put the boys from the paper town on top.

Scoring was as follows:

Ocean Falls—Oxenbury, 12; Wall, 9; Clozza, 4; Charleston, 4; Larsen, 2; Bonney; Powers; Garvie. Total, 31.

Rupert—Alexander, 7; Macdonald, 6; Gurvich, 4; Pustak, 3; Arney, 3; Santerban, 3; Lee, 2; Long, 2. Total, 30.

Girls' Game.

Rupert co-eds turned tables on the visiting girls' team last night and won their first game of the series by 23 to 21. As usual, Captain Betty Payne took top honors for the local squad with twelve points. Star for the visitors was Jean Lewis, a wonderful ball-handler, with fifteen points.

Scoring:

Ocean Falls—Lewis, 15; Rhodes, 5; Allen, 1; Palmer; Benson; Marshall; Pistor. Total, 21.

Rupert—Payne, 12; McKay, 5; Sherman, 2; Owens, 2; Currie, 2; Clapp; Bill; Armstrong. Total, 23.

Tonight an exhibition game will be played in the Exhibition Hall by the teams and a good crowd is expected as the games promise to be even better than those of the series. Coach Carl Peterson promises a little revenge and he means to see to it that his teams carry out his threat.

Silver Wedding
Is Celebrated
Quietly Married
Here Last Night

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dybhavn
Honored By Friends at Party on Tuesday Night.

The esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dybhavn are held by many friends was fully indicated on Tuesday night at the Metropole Hall when a crowd of no less than 125 persons gathered in a party to mark their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. It was on April 7, 1917, that Mr. and Mrs. Dybhavn were married in Borgholm, Norway. The greater part of their married life they have spent in Prince Rupert.

Dancing was the order of the evening on Tuesday with Nels Gunderson as master of ceremonies. The hall was tastefully decorated with white and silver streamers in token of the nuptial theme.

The feature of the proceedings occurred during the supper hour when the presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. Dybhavn, on behalf of the guests assembled, of a handsome five-piece silver tea service. The presentation was made by Capt. Dan Larsen and the bride and groom of a quarter of a century ago both responded appropriately. Other friends made remarks suitable to the occasion.

Peter Lien played wedding music during the evening and there were solos by the Varden Singers.

Ambergris Is Often Mistaken—Ratfish

Liver Oil—Halibut Fishing

To Start

Both the Nanaimo and Prince Rupert stations frequently receive samples of materials submitted in the hope it may be ambergris. The four samples submitted so far this year at the Prince Rupert station have all proved to be nothing more exciting than weathered whale blubber having no commercial value. This white, yellow, brown or mottled substance of waxy consistency has a disagreeable rancid odor; if heated in boiling water, it melts to give a layer of light-colored oil and a residue of fibrous material. Ambergris has a rather pleasant odor when heated, melts to dark-colored sticky liquid and any residue is gritty rather than fibrous. There is often disappointment to finders of mere weathered whale blubber.

Ratfish liver oil is now receiving some commercial attention in Prince Rupert. It has long been recognized as an excellent gun oil and lubricant for light - running machinery. The Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station has recently performed several tests at the request of a company intending to produce the oil for further processing to make it available for more general lubricating purposes. Ratfish liver oil is also well known to coast fishermen as possessing alleged beneficial properties in the allying of rheumatic aches and pains. It is known to contain certain fat-like substances seldom found in appreciable quantities in other fish oils, but it cannot be said as yet whether these actually contribute to the oil's reputation as a linament.

The Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station has been carrying out some investigations in connection with the canning of British Columbia herring to the order of the British Food Ministry. Some aspects of these investigations will be presented shortly in a series of short articles.

While details of curtailment measures have not yet been finally settled, the halibut fleet will be moving out to the banks with the legal opening of the season at midnight next Wednesday. Word as to the result of negotiations between representatives of Prince Rupert, Vancouver and Seattle fleets in Vancouver this week in regard to curtailment measures is being awaited. Meanwhile the local fleet will move out at staggered intervals according to alphabetical grouping. First boats are expected to leave on Monday.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. R. C. McGeechy, arrived in port at 3:45 yesterday afternoon from the south, sailing at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 2 o'clock this morning from the south, sailing at 5:30 a.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

John Dybhavn returned to the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from a brief trip to Vancouver to attend a meeting of the Pacific sub-executive of the Biological Board of Canada. Dr. Neal M. Carter, who attended the same meeting, will be returning later.

Albert Farrow, steamboat inspector, arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, being here on routine duties in connection with the carrying out of inspections of local government craft.

Capt. McNaughton of the wartime Shipping Board service arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon, being here on official duties.

J. G. Nelson and his son, Bertie and Johnny Angus arrived in the city this morning on their boat the "Greenville Beauty" from Greenville.

THE DAILY NEWS

VIVID AND ROMANTIC

Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine in "Suspicion" at Capitol Theatre.

Presenting the vivid story of a woman whose troubled mind leads her to suspect that her husband is a murderer, "Suspicion," starring Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine in an unusual romantic drama, comes as the feature picture to the screen of the Capitol Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for a special three-day engagement.

Grant enacts the role of a reckless young wastrel and Miss Fontaine that of the quiet and imaginative daughter of a wealthy retired general. Fascinated by Grant's charm, the girl succumbs to his whirlwind wooing and elopes with him, only to learn that he has not a shilling and that he has been living on borrowed money for years. At her horrified protests, the young man agrees to go to work and she is happy until she learns that he has been at the races instead of working, has pawned a wedding present from her father and has been discharged for apparent embezzlement. Still loving him, however, she accepts his excuses until she hears of the murder of his best friend under circumstances which point suspicion toward him. Then ensue a breathless series of suspicious happenings that build up towards a strikingly dramatic climax which brings about a happily romantic ending.

An able supporting cast includes Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nigel Bruce, Dame May Whitty, Isabel Jeans, Heather Angel and others.

the battlefield against Hitler. It is well known also that Norway has built many new merchant ships and also warships during the last two years. This has been done in England.

Also Norway has maintained one of the finest training schools for airmen, in Toronto and many of the men trained there are now active in Great Britain. Most of the men training in Little Norway, Toronto, were highly educated before they came out of Norway.

The Norwegian government also conducts military training of officers and soldiers, both in Scotland and in England.

It is not necessary to mention that the present rule in Norway is of the same type as that of the gangster while he has his captive at his mercy.

According to the Constitution of Norway, the president of the Storting is not only moderator of that body. He is next in rank and activity after the king, above even the prime minister. This is so because, while the prime minister represents and is responsible to the king, the president of the Storting represents and is responsible to the people directly through the Storting.

Dr. Hambro was re-elected time and again president and he still is the president of the Storting of Norway. He is a man of great attainments, and singular brilliancy. As an orator, he is outstanding in that he speaks from the public platform in four different languages, without manuscript and without noticeable imperfections. Dr. Hambro is one of the best informed and one of the most intelligent and truest friends of Great Britain and all the Allied Nations in our day. The visit in our city of this very able and internationally known statesman and brilliant orator will be a real event.
