Africa Offensive Is Keeping Up

War News

NORTH AFRICAN WAR

LONDON—British and American soldiers fought together today to oust German troops from Bizerte and clear all of French Tunisia of Axis elements hastily assembled in an effort to impose the final close of the Allied vise upon Libya. Establishment of contact between the Germans and advanced detachments of Lieut. General Kenneth Anderson's predominantly British legion was announced last night by the Allied controlled Morocco radio. In Libya the broken Nazi army is still in flight westward along the coastal road between Bengasi and El Aghella.

GENOA IS BOMBED AGAIN

LONDON—Home-based Royal Air Force bombers attacked Genoa last night making the second attack in three nights on the north Italian naval base. The Air Ministry announced that "good results were seen" and said no planes were lost in the 1500-mile round trip or in a foray off the Norwegian coast yesterday in which a medium-sized Axis supply ship was hit.

REDS BEATING GERMANS

MOSCOW—With frigid wind sweeping across the steppes, the Red Army again beat off German attacks within Stalingrad, advanced slightly in the Caucasus and, in a surprise move far to north, snatched a "place of great tactical importance" from the Germans on the Volkhov front between Lake Ilmen and Leningrad, the Russians announced today.

OBSERVE RUSSIA'S BIRTHDAY

Representative Speakers Heard From Rostrum Before Background of United Nations' Flags

From a rostrum which had as its background large flags of the United Nations—Great Britain, United States, Soviet Russia and China—representative speakers, including those sent by the Department of National Defence, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, labor and fraternal organizations, spoke at a meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall yesterday afternoon organized by the Russian and Ukrainian Society of Prince Rupert to observe the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Russian revolution which resulted in the founding of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. These representatives paid tribute to the great fight which Russia was putting up today against the forces of Fascism in defence not only of her own land and its institutions but for the preservation of democracy throughout the world. W. Pawchuk acted as chairman and there were some 150 or so persons in attendance. During the meeting a collection was taken up for the fund to send much-needed medical supplies to Russia, this amounting, it was announced, to $85.14. The principal speakers included Alex Gavrilik, who told of conditions leading up to the revolution against the Czarist feudalism and tyranny which had been overthrown and the Soviet Republic set up to accomplish great development and improvement of the nation and its people who now had something to live for. F. R. Boor gave a talk upon great accomplishments in the enlightenment of the Russian people and development of the national along educational, scientific and social

Japanese Defeated

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—A smashing victory over Japanese in Solomon Islands, with twenty-three enemy ships destroyed and seven others damaged in the greatest naval battle of the war, was announced today by the United States Navy.

This is What German Freedom Radio Station Says

LONDON, Nov. 16—The German freedom radio station, heard here, has broadcast that Marshal Erwin Rommel, who was commander-in-chief of the defeated Axis Afrika Korps in Egypt, is no longer in Africa but is safe in Munich.

BIG FIGHT CONTINUES

American and Japanese Naval Forces Still Battling in South Pacific

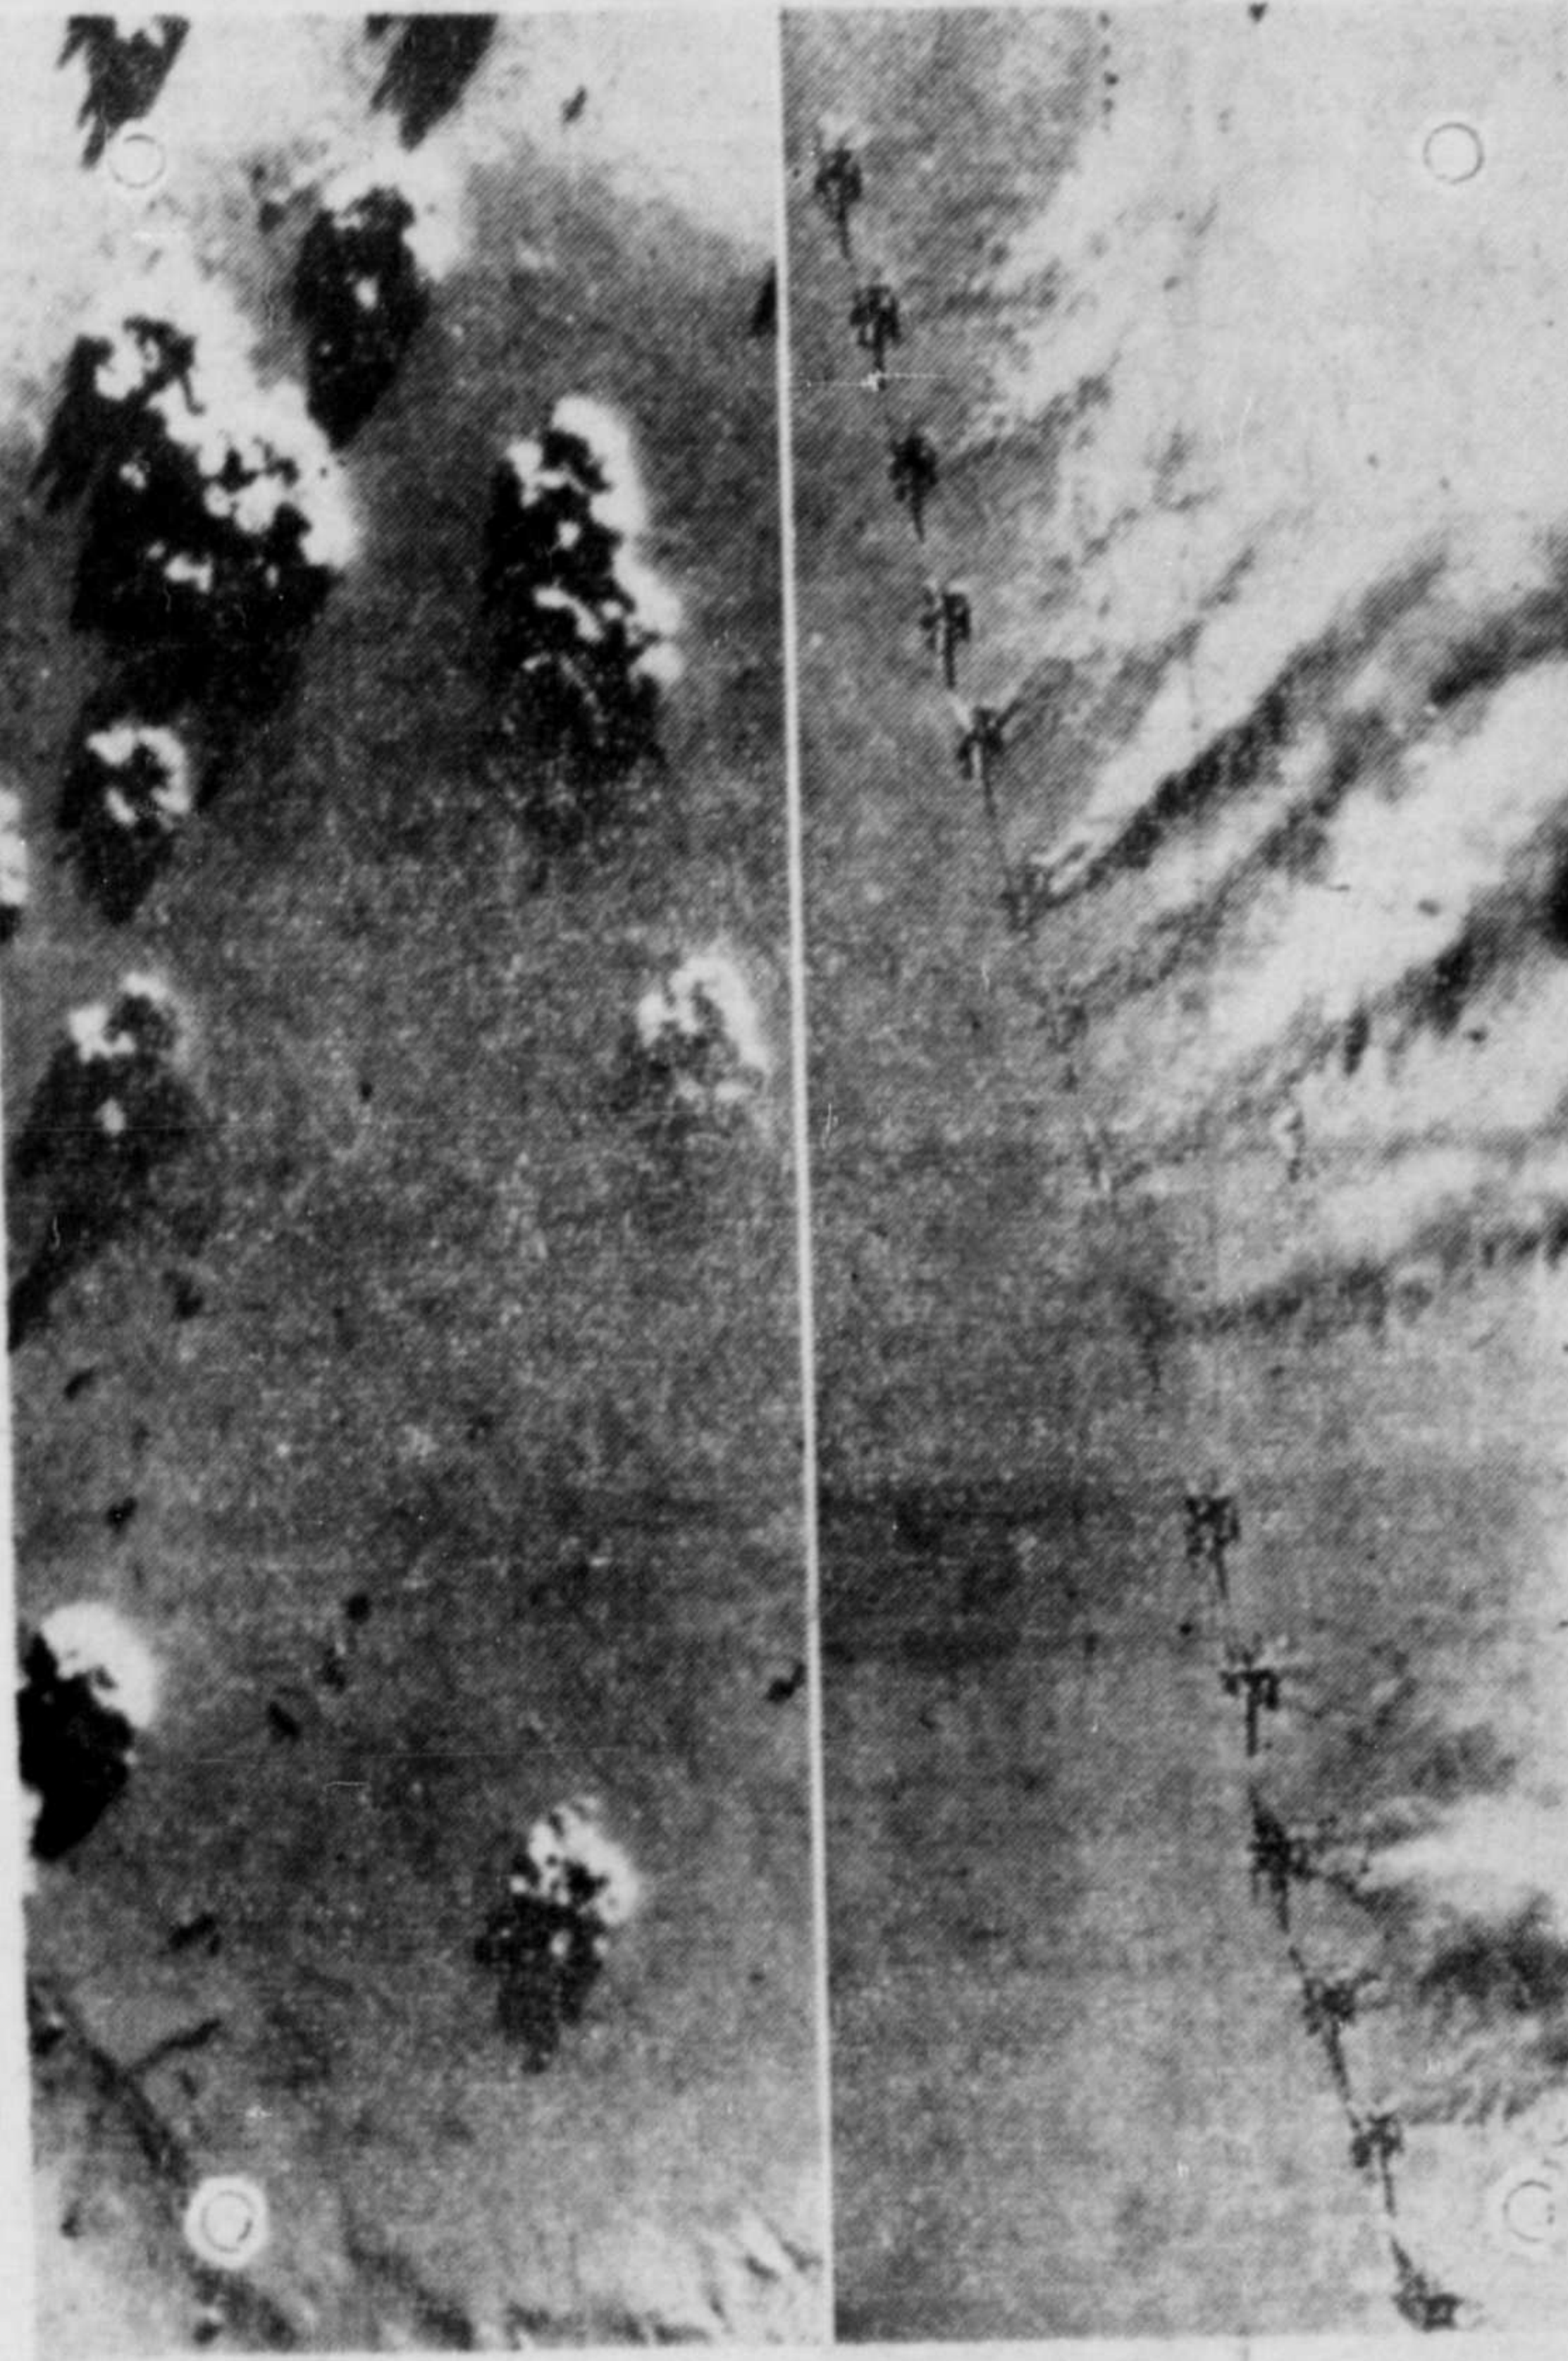

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 16—The big running naval battle between the Americans and Japanese off the Solomon Islands is still in progress.

A huge enemy convoy is on the move, supposedly in anticipation of another attack on Guadalcanal.

TEMPERING WINDS

Prevailing westerly winds largely account for the differences in temperature on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

DESERT DUST SPELLS DEATH FOR AXIS

A formation of Boston bombers, escorted by fighters and together occupying an area of 16 square miles in the sky. RIGHT, are pictured during the take-off, raking the desert into plumes of sand. On the LEFT is the result. The smoke rises in a vital Rommel defence area on the Western Desert. Enemy stores and munitions were destroyed by repeated plane attacks to soften up his position for the thrust which is now underway. Black dots are tanks and machinery missed by the salvo.

MILLIONS ARE GONE

Bombing Has Cost Lives of 47,000 Britons with 56,000 Injured

LONDON, November 16—Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, minister of home defence, announces that 2,750,000 homes in Britain have been destroyed or damaged by bombing since the war began. Forty-seven thousand persons have been killed and 56,000 injured.

Mr. Morrison said that the civilian defence of Britain would go down in history "as the spearhead of humanity on the forward march."

C. B. C. IS STARTING IN RUPERT

Will Commence Operating Station CFPR as from December 1

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will start operating the local radio station CFPR as from December 1, it was announced this afternoon by Ira Dilworth, British Columbia regional representative.

The service will be on the basis of regular schedules as far as possible at least twelve hours a day and it is hoped the normal sixteen-hour day operation will be followed.

This service will be made possible by the installation of a short wave receiving set by which it is hoped to bring the full CBC daily news service and, by the use of transcriptions. In setting up the new service, CBC will have the co-operation of the present management of CFPR.

CBC engineers will arrive to make the necessary arrangements next Sunday.

Mr. Dilworth had a long conference this morning with Olof Hanson M. P., who expressed his satisfaction with the new arrangement.

WOMEN FOR CONVENTION

Conservatives Plan Programs In Which Women Interested

By JAMES MCCOOK Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 16—Women supporters of the Conservative party will attend the national Conservative convention at Winnipeg December 9, 10 and 11 as part of the general membership. They may leave it with a women's national organization to lead and direct their party work from coast to coast.

Women Conservatives in the capital said their information indicated there will be strong support for a women's organization to knit together provincial associations and advance party programs in which women are particularly interested.

At the 1938 national convention it was voted that "there be no separate national Conservative organization for women but that this shall not be deemed to prevent separate organizations for women in such provinces as may be decided to so organize." The convention set forth, also, that "wherever possible women should be accorded equal representation with men on national Conservative organizations."

Some provinces have availed themselves of the right of women to organize their own Conservative associations, but in British Columbia, Alberta, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island men and women are associated in the same provincial organizations. Where there are local women's associations, they have representation on the general provincial association.

In Saskatchewan there is a separate Conservative women's provincial association headed by Mrs. J. H. Currie of Vonda. She recently succeeded Mrs. W. F. Croile of Regina as president. A native of Nova Scotia and a graduate of Mount Allison University, Mrs. Currie went to Saskatchewan as a teacher. She was appointed secretary of a provisional women's committee for the Dominion at the Conservative laymen's conference at Port Hope, Ontario, in September.

The New Zealand Tuatara is the sole survivor of a prehistoric reptilian order of animal. It is found nowhere else.

SOVIET HAS UPPER HAND

Germans Are Definitely Stalled Now in Wintry Russia

MOSCOW, Nov. 16—The Russians are still holding the upper hands over the Nazi invaders from the Arctic to the Caucasus. The latest assault upon Stalingrad has been hurled back, adding several thousand to the toll of Nazi dead. There has been hand to hand bayonet fighting in the wrecked industrial area of the city. The enemy has suffered further reverses in the Caucasus around Nalchik and Tuapse and the drive towards the vital oil fields appeared to have been definitely stalled. Although continuing to bring up fresh reserves, the Germans themselves admit that their Caucasus army is on the defensive.

French Fleet Under Petain

LONDON, Nov. 16—The Admiral of the French fleet which is still at Toulon, not yet taken over by Germany, has renewed an oath of allegiance to Marshal Petain. This is taken to suggest that the fleet may yet swing over the side of the Allies.

Franco Keeps Out of Fight

Has No Intention of Getting Spain Mixed Up in African War

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 16—General Francisco Franco, dictator of Spain, in a letter to President Roosevelt, declares his intention of steering clear of the conflict in the Mediterranean. He is particularly desirous of not antagonizing United States or Great Britain.

WEYGAND ARRESTED

French General Reported Taken At Vichy on German Orders

LONDON, Nov. 16—General Maxime Weygand is reported to have been arrested in Vichy on German orders.

Admiral Jean Darlan has been dismissed from all public functions and relieved of all military commands as far as Vichy is concerned by order of Marshal Petain.

Pedestrian Is Struck By Auto

Magnus Nordberg Not Seriously Hurt Saturday Night

Magnus Nordberg, resident of this city for many years, was struck down by an automobile on Third Avenue, between Sixth and Seventh Streets, on Saturday evening. The car was driven by Gordon F. Turner, who stated he was driving east on Third Avenue and when he saw Nordberg attempt to cross the street, he slowed down and sounded his horn. Nordberg stopped but, as Turner swerved out around him, he started forward again and Turner's car struck him. Mr. Nordberg was taken to the hospital, where he remained overnight, but examination showed no serious injuries were sustained. Mr. Turner said he had become confused by the oncoming traffic and numerous pedestrians crossing the street.

AXIS KEEPS UP RETREAT WITH SPEED

Allied Forces Moving From Two Directions Towards Tunisia

Vicious Sea—Air Fighting

Corsica is in Revolt Over Landing Of Italian Troops There

CAIRO, Nov. 16—In rushing pursuit of the vanquished Afrika Korps, Allied forces continue to move rapidly towards Tunisia from Algeria on the west and Libya on the east. General Montgomery's Eighth Army has penetrated 150 miles into Libya about half way to Bengasi. The main body of retreating Germans deeper in Libya is past Bengasi towards El Aghella. There has been a violent air raid on Bengasi, numerous fires being started. Another seven Axis ships have been sunk.

Vicious air and naval fighting persisted along the North African coast as Axis forces sought compensation for the November 8 coup that caught them napping.

The German High Command claimed, without other confirmation, that eighty-nine Allied transports and warships had been sunk or damaged.

Thirteen Axis submarines have been sunk in the Mediterranean, five within 48 hours.

Admiral Jean Darlan has proclaimed himself as administrator of French North Africa and has appointed General Henri Giraud as commander-in-chief of French forces in the region. In Ajaccio and other Corsican towns a state of siege was declared as a result of active opposition by the French garrison and civilians to Italian landings.

CLOSING ON BUNA

Australians and Americans Make Juncture in New Guinea

MELBOURNE, Nov. 16—Australians from the south, and Americans from the north, are closing in on Buna, principal Japanese-occupied base on New Guinea. Bitter fighting continues. Contact has been made between the Australian and American forces.

Russian Anniversary . . .

On the occasion of the anniversary of the establishment of the Soviet Republic of Russia it is quite appropriate to pay tribute to a brave and mighty ally which, we must admit, has been of the greatest assistance to us. Had it not been for Hitler's great mistake in invading Russia and Russia's epic resistance, we may fairly grant that our position might be a good deal less favorable than it is today.

If we ever had any doubt about the courage and the devotion of Russians to their country and its cause, that doubt must now have been dispelled for us all. The utter valor of the men, women and children there has been almost unbelievable. Back to the wall though she may have been, Russia has put up a fight the like of which possibly no other nation would have been capable of. It is, therefore, fitting enough that we should honor Russia and Russians on this anniversary of their new order which is now old enough to have proven that it has stood the test of time and has made of the Russians a better people, devoted to their cause, ready to fight and ready to die for it.

Gratifying to us all must have been the events of the past week in which we—the British and the Americans—have been able to at last in some measure bring substantial relief to hard pressed Russia—a measure of relief that even Joseph Stalin himself suggests has altered the whole course of war.

Glad of her assistance, we pay tribute to Russia today. Let us hope that the respect which we now feel in our hearts for this very brave and very effective Ally will be retained and actuate the spirit of our dealings after we have completed the job of the war and tackle the even greater and more complex problems of peace. Under present conditions it is easy enough to express friendship and goodwill. It will be well for us that the same friendship and goodwill actuate our conduct and our dealings when we enter upon the peace negotiations which we hope will bring a new and lasting era of peace to the world. It is in that sincere spirit that we express our goodwill which, because of Russia's new proven attributes, it is most appropriate we should do on the Soviet's natal anniversary.

Don't Hoard Living Space . . .

By offering "open house" to friends who need a roof over their heads, one's home becomes a fortress against the foe. Because the problem of housing is acute in many areas, the Government has instructed the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to take measures to secure the most effective use of existing housing accommodation. There are many householders in this country who have spare rooms and unoccupied space in their homes.

The first and most sensible step in finding adequate housing is to make a survey in congested areas of the living space that is already available and discover whether it can be stretched to meet the deficit.

During the coming weeks householders in congested areas will be asked to voluntarily register their spare rooms and unoccupied dwelling units.

The voluntary survey will resolve itself into the organization of a community effort to meet a recognized need.

Don't hoard living space. Make a voluntary contribution of your spare rooms to help the total war program.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

I have learned a new rummy game called Coon-Can. Two Air Force boys who have been grounded here the past week with nowhere to go and no homes to visit have been playing it day in and day out. Now about the only card game left for me to learn is pinochle. I hope I have spelled it correctly—they do call it peanuckle—so I'm waiting for some of the American boys to teach me the intricacies of that game. I understand it is a bit like bezique.

Just to show you that it's all a matter of relativity here's a story Sergeant Fred Lindsay, formerly of the CSR's, told me. It seems that one morning Leo the Lion and king of the forest woke up feeling mighty good. So he got up and stretched and roared and started on a trek through the jungle. Every animal he met he called out to them saying, as he beat his chest: "Look at me, big strong and handsome, why don't you be like me?" Each animal took one look at him and fled in fright. On he went, past the elephant, past the sharp-jawed crocodile, past the hippopotamus, past the leopard and one and all ran away. Finally he came to a little mouse sunning himself and sitting on the end of a log. "Little mouse," roared the lion, "why aren't you like me, big, strong and handsome? Look at me." And he beat his chest and roared. The little mouse didn't run away, he just looked up and squeaked, "I've been sick."

This week's dance program includes the dance at the Armories by Captain Clarke's "C" Company of the Grenadiers on Thursday. Hostesses attending will meet at the "Y" as usual. The chaperones for the evening will be Mrs. Hill-Tout, Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Garbutt.

The Americans hold a weekly dance each Friday in the day room at the American Post on Acropolis.

Predicts Ghosts In Big Line-ups

CARDIFF, Wales, Nov. 16 © — Even the ghosts in Britain have to queue up for service. During testimony at a trial of Austin Hatcher on charges of pretending to hold communication with the spirits of dead persons, a policeman testified that when he attended a seance at which Hatcher officiated, Hatcher said at one point: "There are a lot of spirits here, waiting to come through. In fact, they are queuing up."

Importance Of Missions Work

Application of Christian Principles Only Solution for World's Illness

Declaring that the application of Christian principles in the affairs of men was the only means of permanently establishing peace and goodwill in the troubled world, Rev. A. F. MacSween, preaching on the subject of "Missions" in First Presbyterian Church yesterday, pointed how Great Britain had had a revival of missionary activity in times of danger and distress in the past. Particularly had these revivals come during critical war days. Development of missions was one of the implications of the Christian faith, Mr. MacSween declared, stressing the importance of home as well as foreign missions. There were nations in which things might have been different today had sufficient resources been applied to Christian missionary development within them. For three hundred years there had been a ban on Christianity in Japan.

Holes in one area are rare enough during regular golfing seasons but that didn't seem to bother Sqdn. Ldr. John Taylor Smits, 26-year old native of White River, Ontario, who played hockey with the Windsor Spitfires in the Michigan-Ontario Hockey League last season, is in the air force now.

FINE MUSIC FOR TROOPS

Patricia Band and Orchestra
Stages Big Hit Before Local Service Audience

A fine concert, featuring band and orchestral music ranging from the best classical to the lightest of the modern craze music, was staged last night in the Capitol Theatre by the fine Royal Canadian Air Force band from Patricia Bay. The audience was confined to men of the forces and their friends and was presented under arrangement of the local auxiliary services. It comprised a two-hour treat the type of which has probably never been excelled here before. It was greatly appreciated by a big house.

Flight Sergeant Joe Micelli directed both band and orchestra and did a splendid job, showing his versatility. He handled his band in a fine measure of control and he enters fully into the spirit of things with his men when the scene changes to dance orchestra.

To real music lovers, the band concert was, of course, the feature of the evening. It is a real concert band, splendidly co-ordinated and balanced, the instruments almost flawlessly blended in melody and rhythm.

Outstanding numbers on the band program were "Rhythms of Rio," "The Man I Love," "Vase Bluette," "Mademoiselle Modiste" and "Holy Night." The last-mentioned two were particularly appealing.

Soloists with the band were Sergeant Roach, whose triple tonguing with the trumpet was something to be appreciated by those who understand that instrument, and Leading Aircraftman Howard, who was quite a comedian with his saxophone.

In the intermission between band concert and dance orchestra presentation, Leading Aircraftman Smith entertained with banjo solos.

The orchestra numbers ranged from the old and sweet to the new and the violent and went over strong with the crowd. It is doubtful if a better dance orchestra of that type ever came this way before. "White Christmas," with vocal by Micelli, and the syncopated "Mexican Hat Dance" were outstanding entertainment. Lance Corporal Harrison, with sax and vocal, drew big applause with "I Sent For You Yesterday and Here You Come Today." There were informal jam and jive sessions to round out the orchestra bill.

Flying Officer Charlie Defeux introduced the orchestra and general arrangements for the presentation were directed by Robert Gibson, local secretary of Y.M.C.A. auxiliary services.

Young ladies of the local Women's Red Cross Corps — Miss P. Fraser, Miss M. Dall, Miss M. Taylor, Miss E. Moxley, Miss M. Dodimead and Miss J. Woodward — acted as usherettes.

WINNIPEG

Three hundred of four different Winnipeg reserve army units proved they had learned their map reading lessons while engaged in mock battle in the Pine Ridge area during a dense fog. OBSERVE RUSSIA'S BIRTHDAY lines. W. Besick, secretary of the C.C.F. here, who gave an interesting account of impressions he had gained on a tour of Russia in 1937 and how the Russians, imbued with the idea that it would not be long before they would have to fight for the preservation of their country and its newly established deals and privileges, had been lifted out of their backwardness, particularly industrially, and were bidding fair today to prove that they had done what Joseph Stalin had said they would have to do if they were to survive — accomplish a measure of progress in ten years which normally might take one hundred years to achieve.

Col. J. A. Wilson, officer commanding a local regiment, told of fifteen nations being represented in the unit he commanded, the largest group being Ukrainian — a nation which had some of the finest leaders in arts, sciences and political matters. He paid tribute to the part Russia was playing today with great suffering in the fight for the preservation of principles which no free peoples would do without. Incidentally, Col. Wilson told of a personal meeting he had had in England with Ivan Maisky, Soviet ambassador to Great Britain.

Arnold Flaten, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, said the body of men which he represented joined in recognizing Russia's heroic fight against attack of the aggressors.

Other speakers who brought greetings of their organizations were Miss Margaret Lee, Chinese Youth Association; Bruce Mickleburgh, Prince Rupert Teachers' Association, and H. Harrison, Bole-makers' Union.

William Stifluk's speech in the Russian language was another feature of the meeting.

There was a letter of goodwill from City Commissioner D. J. Matheson and organizations which sent greetings included the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Club.

A two minute silence in honor of "the heroes who fought and died for democracy" was observed. The meeting opened with "O Canada" and closed with the singing of "The International" and "God Save the King."

Peter Lien presided at the piano to accompany the singing.
