George McNicholl . . .

George McNicholl is dead in Vancouver and we cannot let his passing go without speaking kindly of him. And we feel his many old friends in Prince Rupert—and he had a lot of friends—will feel the same way about it.

Mr. McNicholl was an efficient and a genial official. He knew his job and he knew people. He had many happy qualities. But here in Prince Rupert we regarded Mr. McNicholl as a personal friend of the people and the interests of the north. He came here first in the very early days of railway construction and he stayed a long time here afterwards as an operating official. And, after he left here, he was still a friend of Prince Rupert and we always felt that if there was anything he could do to help us we would not leave it undone.

We join with his other old friends in expressing our appreciation of Mr. McNicholl and in sympathizing with those who mourn the loss of son, husband and father.

Occupation of Madagascar . . .

The occupation of Madagascar by our side is heartening news. It is a bold stroke of initiative, something we need for our morale. We are not just waiting for the enemy to strike but are striking ahead of him. The new Russian offensive is another illustration of initiative on our side. The United Nations are also on the initiative north of Australia and, of course, there is the great British air offensive over western Europe. True we are fighting over lost ground in a few cases but at least we are regaining now and it is not all just a matter of "stop loss" which, unfortunately, we have seen such a lot of so far in this war.

Stories From Germany . . .

We should not be overly impressed by stories of trouble within the Reich—the latest one of which came yesterday with the suggestion that Hitler's generals had given him this year to defeat Russia or step down. We should know by now that such tales as these may be little more than propaganda designed to lull us into complacency, over-optimism and carelessness. There is, of course, reason to believe that everything is not so happy within Hitler's domain as he might like it but it might be too much wishful thinking to believe that any overthrow of Der Fuehrer and his Nazis is going to occur in the very near future.

George Frizzell is in the city from Port Essington on one of his periodical business visits. He arrived last night and will be returning to the Skeena River Friday morning. Mr. Frizzell states that the body of Edward Scott, young Port Simpson Indian, who was drowned early Monday morning from the Essington float, had not been found up to last night despite a thorough search.

Col. H. E. Goodman, recruiting officer for Military District No. 11 with headquarters at Victoria, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from the south and will proceed East by the evening train to Prince George, accompanied by Major A. S. Parks, recruiting officer for this area. Col. Goodman is having a meeting with the local civilian recruiting committee this afternoon.

Married Here On Monday Evening

MISS MURIEL B. DUNSMUIR

CHIEF SKIPPER N. H. HUTTON, R.C.N.R.

A marriage of much social interest throughout British Columbia particularly on Vancouver Island took place Monday evening in First United Church, Prince Rupert, Capt. Gerald B. Punter, chaplain of the Edmonton Fusiliers, officiating, when Miss Muriel Byrd Dunsmuir, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Dunsmuir of Vancouver and granddaughter of the late Hon. James Dunsmuir, former Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia, became the bride of Chief Skipper

N. H. Hutton R.C.N.R. of West Hartpool, England.

The bride was gowned in khaki ensemble with dark brown accessories and purple orchids. The bridesmaid, Miss Norma Carey, wore powder blue with picture hat and corsage of tea roses. Mrs. Juliet Miller, wife of Skipper Miller was matron of honor, dressed in beige ensemble and corsage of roses. The groom was attended by Chief Skipper A. Peterson R.C.N.R. and Coxswain Lorne Hume R.C.N.V.R. Miss Swanna Olafson presided at the

Terrace

Mr. and Mrs. H. Halliwell arrived from Vancouver on Friday after having lived in the south for several years past and will re-occupy their home on Lakelse Avenue, Terrace.

Miss Janet Young presented her pupils in concert on Friday and Saturday evening. The recitals were held in the now unused Pentecostal Hall. The program showed great diversity. There were playlets and special dances by the young people and songs and choruses. Outstanding among Miss Young's pupils is Alan Dubeau, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dubeau. This little boy shows remarkable talent for one so young, among the piano selections he played was Rackmaninoff's "Prelude in C sharp minor," a difficult piece for an adult but one in which Alan showed notable accuracy and vigor.

FINE GAME OF SOCCER

Signals Scored Single Goal to Defeat Air Force—Signals 1, Air Force 0

Last evening football fans who travelled up to Acropolis Hill had the pleasure of witnessing one of the best games in the round ball code that has been played in this city for some time. Playing before a fairly good turn-out of spectators, Signals played host to an unknown quantity in the Air Force, winning one to nothing.

As the teams lined up, the Flyers looked a likely lot and, winning the toss, elected to play downhill. Play was fast and furious and ranged from end to end with lots of excitement and pep to the vocal encouragement of the spectators. Parde Brown, playing left half for the brass-pounders, came close with a beautiful drive from the eighteen yard mark. After playing about fifteen minutes, Signals opened the score when Brown pushed the ball through to Akerman, who beat Seabloom with a long range cannon ball shot. Play had no sooner resumed when McNaught handled in the fatal zone and the Air Force hopes rose high. Rigby took the spot kick but by the results should be in an "Ack-Ack" Battery as he skied the pill about ten yards over the cross-bar. Just before the close of the half, Demers suffered a leg injury and was carried off. Ingils came on at outside right. The second half was a repetition of the first with the Air Force having the balance of play but failing to tie up.

Thorndycraft and Poole were a fine pair of backs and were backed up to the limit by Rigby and Candy. Of the Air Force forwards, Stapherd at outside left was the pick, some of his crosses were very good but marvellous defensive play by McNaught and Randall brought them to naught. All of Signals halves played good defensive football and it would be hard to pick out any one of them. If anything Brown was the most constructive and fed his forwards to advantage but he tired towards the end. He confounded the theory that other things than Cathedrals and Sky Pilos come from County Armagh. Lawford, in goal, was very safe and was the pick of goal tenders. The end of the game came with the Seal Cover's still dominating play but Signals held on to their one goal lead to the end. Signals — Lawford; McNaught and Randall; Yelland, Smith and Brown; Johnstone, Nutter, Akerman, Demers and Street. Air Force—Seabloom; Thorndycraft and Poole; Rigby, Candy and Hosford; Shaw, Hastings, Smith, Tucker and Stapherd.

Referee, Sid Woodside.

"Here are 10 ways to make the most of your ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR!"

1. Don't open the door more than you have to, and close it as quickly as possible.
2. Below 50° is the correct temperature for general use.
3. If you have ample storage space, save money by buying food in quantity.
4. Don't put hot dishes in the refrigerator — wait until they cool.
5. Don't let too much frost accumulate before defrosting — it wastes power.
6. Don't let acid foods such as tomatoes or lemons touch the enamel unless you're sure it's acid-resisting.
7. Avoid quick freezing whenever you can.
8. Canned goods keep equally well on the pantry shelf — use your refrigerator for chilling only.
9. When away for the week-end, turn the control to the lowest operating temperature — not "defrosting".
10. Remove paper coverings from all except frozen foods — it acts as an insulator.

Oolachans were running higher up the Naas River this spring than ever known before. They were up the river within two miles of Canyon City, forty miles beyond Greenville beyond which they had seldom if ever been previously sighted. Sea lions were also seen further up the Naas River this spring than ever known before. They were disporting themselves in fresh water of the river beyond the tidal boundary of the stream.
