Today's War Summary

(By Canadian Press)

Dimout For U.S. Pacific Coast . . .

SAN FRANCISCO—The United States Army today ordered a dimout of the entire Pacific Coast from Canada to Mexico so drastic in scope that it approaches the proportions of a blackout. It called a halt to baseball and other outdoor sports at night, ordered every electric sign and theatre marquee extinguished and prescribed some form of shielding for almost every other type of exterior lighting.

All-India Congress For Allies . . .

BOMBAY—A new resolution was placed before the working committee of the All-India Congress Party today stating if India were granted independence the government "will whole-heartedly and unreservedly declare itself on the side of the United Nations agreeing to meet Japanese or any other aggressor with armed resistance." The new draft was described as designed to meet criticisms following the disclosure of the draft of the Gandhi resolution stating that the first move of the independent government probably would be to negotiate with Japan.

British Bomb Ruhr Valley . . .

LONDON—British bombers attacked targets in the Ruhr Valley last night while the fighter command planes raided railroads and other objectives in occupied territory. The Germans sent small raiding forces against the south of England and Wales overnight and six enemy bombers were destroyed indicating a high score for Britain's new secret anti-aircraft defences.

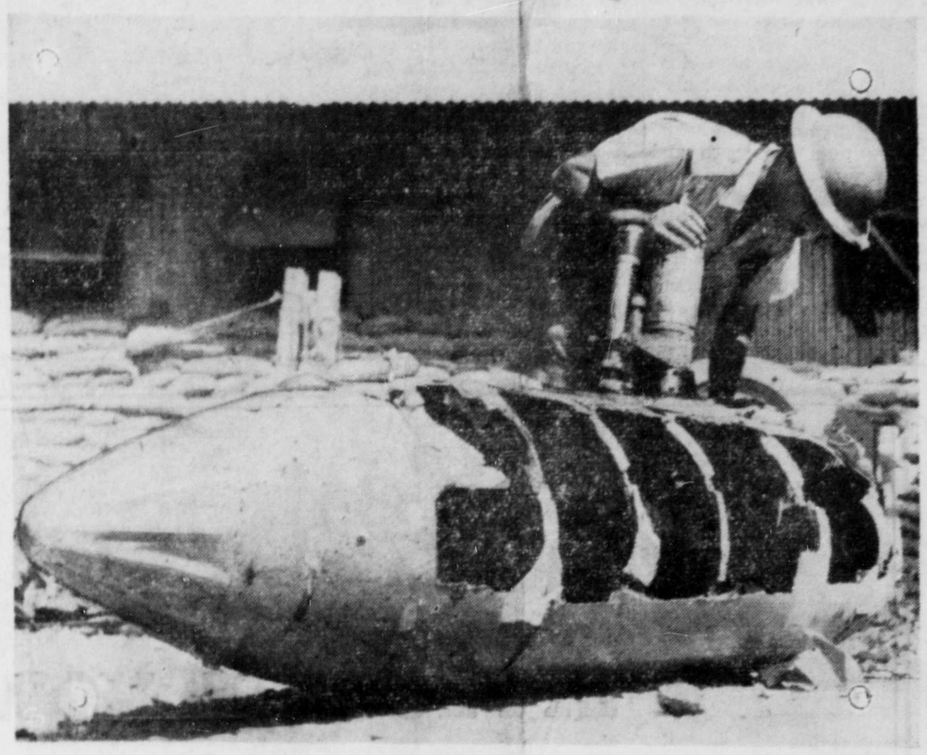
Heavy Bombers Harass Axis Vessels . .

CAIRO—Heavy bombers scored a direct hit on an enemy merchant ship, as well as on several troop and supply carrying barges. A British submarine sank an eight hundred ton Italian ship. Italian shore batteries unsuccessfully shelled the sub.

German Bombers Over Iceland . . .

REYKJAVIK—The American Command here announced that three German bombers had bombed and machine-gunned military installations along the south east coast of Iceland.

JAPS USE WOODEN GAS TANKS ON FIGHTERS



This is a piece of Japanese flying equipment known as the "belly tank." It is used on Japanese "Zero" fighting planes as an auxiliary gasoline tank, made so cheaply, of wood, that the pilot can release its dead weight once he has drained it of fuel. The picture was made somewhere in New Guinea and shows a member of an Allied force repair and salvage unit examining the bit of apparatus.

Nazis Press On Crisis Develops On Russian Front

Germans Drop Men, Tanks by Parachute as Oil Fields Approached

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (CP)—The Germans were reported landing parachute troops in groups of 100 to 150 and small tanks in north Caucasus today as hard pressed Russians withdrew from Belaya Glina area to new defence positions in face of swarms of German armored units. The entire Caucasus front was alive with Germans battering their way toward Russian oil treasures and the Russians announced another withdrawal in Tsimlyansk area where the Red Army has been trying to stem the flow of German reinforcements over the newly established Don River bridgeheads. The entire nation was aware of a fast-developing and critical situation.

AIR TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

WINNIPEG, August 5:—Passenger, air mail and express traffic on the TransCanada Air Lines rose to new heights in June, according to the monthly report to the board of directors. The majority of them on war business, passengers numbered 10,317, an increase of 768 over May and of 1,668 over June 1941. Mail amounted to almost 6,000 pounds a day. The total for June was 174,104 pounds, 7,684 pounds greater than the month before and 55,201 pounds heavier than the volume in June a year ago. Express also reached its highest peak, rising from 22,184 pounds in May to 27,406 pounds, an increase of 5,222 pounds. The increase over June 1941 was 16,803 pounds.

RUPERT MEN TESTIFY AT SHIP BODY

Present Six Day Schedule Satisfactory Union Men Say

VANCOUVER, August 5: (CP) — Management and trades union representatives from Prince Rupert told the Richard Commission investigating B. C. shipyards today that the shortage of man-power caused by inadequate housing conditions at the northern port is one of the main bottlenecks in merchant ship production there. Gilbert Taylor, representating the Canadian Congress of Labor and Clarence Hogarth of the American Federation of Labor, said fourteen hundred shipyard workers in Prince Rupert are well satisfied with the present operation week of six days and clear Sunday and had no desire to see the government's continuous production plan introduced, as it had been in other B.C. yards. Taylor said the dearth of recreational facilities and the low basic pay rates in Prince Rupert drive men to seek work on nearby United States projects, where much higher pay can be earned.

Price Control And Consumer

By Byrne Hope Sanders
(Director, Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board)

Because so many questions are being asked regarding sugar allowances, I am going to devote this column to answering the ones most frequently put to the Consumer Branch and the Ration Division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Many housewives ask: "Can we purchase extra sugar for making nutritive value. They are mere pickles?"

No. Pickles have little if any appetizers—taste provokers, if you like. It is important that we save our sugar for more essential foods.

Several queris have been made as to why the Red Cross is allowed extra sugar. The Red Cross is permitted to use extra sugar only for making jam that is to be exported from Canada. NO extra sugar is allowed for any social or charitable gathering. To permit organizations which are holding special functions to raise money to pay the mortgage off the church or to secure funds for a canteen, would be in the nature of "robbing Peter to pay Paul." All those who participate in the holding of social church teas, lodge picnics or harvest festivals, must bring their own sugar or otherwise obtain a supply from their own stocks by mutual agreement.

Boarding houses are still enquiring what their procedure should be, uhere ther are regular boarders, the landlady should collect the ration cards from the boarders and use them in purchasing sugar. Many boarding houses, however, cater to transients and many operate tourist homes. These should register as public caterers and fill out Form "A."

In the case of institutions, all those who become employed, join the staff, or enter as pupils, guests or inmates, must turn their ration card over to the institution unless they are spending less than two weeks in residence.

Some housewives are asking about canning without sugar. Those who do this may purchase sugar for sweetening the fruit when they are ready to use the canned product by signing a Sugar Purchase Voucher. They should keep a record of the weight of the fruit in order to determine the amount to be purchased.

No! Neither dear old Dobbin or your pet goat are entitled to special sugar. The sugar ration regulations make no allowance for sugar for any animal. The farmer will have to feed syrup or some other substitute to his motherless calves and pigs or take sugar from his own supply if he wishes to feed any animal sugar.

ATLIN MURDER; ARREST MADE

Provincial Police headquarters announced today that John Klee had been found murdered at Atlin. William Scott alleged to have committed murder, has been arrested by special constable Bruce Morton. No further details are as yet available.

Hymns No Longer Tuneful Ticklers

Famous Negro Soprano Notes New Interest in Sacred Music

NEW YORK, Aug. 5, (CP)—Along with American religious revival, says the world-famous Negro soprano, Dorothy Maynor, there is a new interest in religious music.

Miss Maynor first realized that the public hungered for religious music she says, when she began getting numerous letters of thanks for the Bach chorales and the Negro spirituals she has used on her concert programs.

In the last year or two she has spent much time in churches and particularly at the musical services many churches have at vespers.

"I believe," she says, "that unquestionably the worship of the church is growing daily deeper into our lives. Why shouldn't it? It's the only truth we have left."

Wife of the Rev. Shelby Rooks of Lincoln University, Miss Maynor is known for the honesty of her approach to religion. When she sings a Bach religious air, it is a religious exercise, not a musical showpiece. The spirituals of her race are likewise seriously felt music, not tuneful ticklers.

Miss Maynor has ideas about church music she is willing to share.

"It seems to me," she says, "that the day of jig-time 'hymns' is past. Any music that "sticks out" in a religious service is likely to be bad. The mood of a church is worshipful and anything that detracts from the mood has no place in it.

Military Police Traffic Experts Of Armored Unit

By Frank Flaherty
Canadian Press Staff Wirter

EASTERN CANADIAN ARMY CAMP, August 5: (CP)—Three men schooled in the police departments of three Canadian cities worked together recently at an army camp on the job of policing the army. Each was the deputy assistant provost marshal of a division by civilian standards the chief of police.

Capt. H. M. Baker, D.A.P.M. for the 4th (armored) division had his job organized as his division had reached an advanced stage in its training and Capt. R. T. Taft, D.A.P.M. of the 6th division and Capt. G. H. R. Wrigglesworth, D.A.P.M. of the 7th came to find out how he did things.

Baker was formerly traffic engineer with the Montreal city police department, Taft was detective sergeant with the Winnipeg city police and Wrigglesworth served for years as a policeman in Toronto.

In a sort of joint interview the three officers told how an army police department runs. The two visitors had decided to take a few tips from the 4th division men whom they had seen handle traffic during an inspection of the division by the Governor General.

"A military policeman must be a good soldier plus," one of them said. "He must know all that any other solders knows, and some of the things better. He must be better than average at map-reading in order to handle traffic."

Lay Out Route

When troops move the provost men always move ahead to lay out the route, mark it and arrange for uninterrupted passage. Sometimes a mistake by a provost man might tie up a whole division in a snarl and a mechanized division in line of march stretches over 200 miles of road.

The provost men are the first to enter new territory, enemy or friendly, and the last to leave. They may have to fight rearguard actions during a retreat.

The provost company of the 4th division is under the command of Capt. F. W. Kemp of London, Ontario, who is responsible for the organization of the men, while operations are under the direction of Capt. Baker. The company looks for men in the army of the same type as those who make good civilian policemen. They must be big, intelligent, level-headed.

As the army not not recruit enough civilian policemen it must train its own police around a nucleus of officers from civilian forces. In addition to Capt. Baker the 4th division has three sergeants with civilian experience which helps them: J. Perfound, a former game warden of London, Ontario; F. Manning, formerly with the Kitchener fire department and A. Daniels, formerly with the York County police force.

Signal Corps Forms Unit Nerve Centre

Equipment of Divisional Signals Includes More Than 500 Wireless Sets

By Frank Flaherty
((Canadian Press Staff Writer)

AN EASTERN CANADA ARMY CAMP, Aug. 5, (CP)—An armored division requires what amounts to a good sized telephone company mounted on wheels in order to operate in the field and maintain order and cohesion.

The company for the division is known as divisional signals and Lt.-Col. H. N. Ovens of London, Ont., heads the signals for an armored division training here.

Because of the area covered by a mechanized division in action, the speed at which it moves, the need for quick transmission of orders and information the signal corps has a bigger job in an armored division than in an infantry division. Its strength is as large as any other unit, larger than that of an armored regiment.

Its equipment includes more than 500 wireless sets and its personnel more than 100 instrument mechanics and more than 50 electricians. All personnel need intensive trade training in addition to general army training.

They use motorcycles for dispatch riding and regimental duties,, blitz buggies, lorries and automatic cable layers. Land lines as well as wireless are used for both telegraph and telephone communications.

Col. Ovens said his unit had to start from scratch and learn its job first for an infantry division and then expand and learn more for an armored division. In the meantime it had to provide the whole division in training with a communication service.

"The result is we have a regimental school on top of the administration of a signals unit in operation," he said.

The qualified men in the unit have to carry on the job and at the same time train new men to help them.

Canada's Films Geared To War

Modern Pictures Tell the World What Dominion Is Doing

By Maurice Desjardins
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, August 5: (CP)—That humming sound you hear is Canada's motion picture industry merrily turning out reel after reel of films publicizing our country's war effort. No nation has been quicker to sense the importance of films in readying the public mind for the demands of all-out war.

Of a preponderantly documentary nature, Canadian films take a back seat to no other country in this domain, and have acquired an international reputation for excellence and "punch." A New York Times correspondent recently wrote that Russia and Germany were the only nations rivalling Canada's celluloid propaganda.

Bringing all existing problems into a single solid pattern, the National Film Board, headed by active John Grierson, has centralized all government film interests and production, and made integrated use of the existent facilities of private film industry.

In 1942, the National Film Board which is the government Motion Picture Bureau under a new name, will produce and release approximately 150,000 feet of film in 150 items, of which 40 to 50 will be of two reels or more.

Appeasement Pact Now Abrogated

LONDON, Aug. 5—Anthony Eden informed the House of Commons today that the CzechoSlovakian government had been notified that the Munich Agreement (which gave Sudetenland to the Germans) signed by the late Neville Chamberlain with Hitler had been abrogated.

EDINBURGH'S PRIDE

EDINBURGH, August 5: (CP) — What is believed to be the first birth of an Arang Outang in Britain took place at the Zoological Park here. The proud parents are "Mickie" and "Minnie."

C.N.R. Personnel Change Made

WINNIPEG, August 5:—Succeeding W. J. Sturges, who recently retired on pension, P. Harris has been appointed purchasing agent for the western region of the Canadian National Railways. Coming here from Detroit, where he was purchasing agent, he has assumed his new duties. Mr. Harris was born in Bristol, England, in 1896 and began his railway career as a clerk in the purchasing department of the Grand Trunk at Montreal in 1911. After serving with the Canadian Expeditionary Force from February, 1915, to May, 1919, he returned to Montreal and in 1924 became chief clerk in the general purchasing department. He was appointed assistant purchasing agent in 1928 and ten years later went to Detroit as purchasing agent.

James Ryan Passes Away

The many friends of the late James Ryan, of Kitwanga, B.C., will be saddened to hear of his passing, on Monday morning, Aug. 3, at Wrinch Memorial Hospital, Hazelton.

Mr. Ryan has for many years been an outstanding figure in this community and will be sadly missed. For many years he faithfully performed his duties, imposed upon him by his positions of lay reader, church treasurer, member of Church Council and of Church Army. He had been a lay reader for 36 years and his outstanding work as such will long be remembered.

Mr. Ryan was 67 years of age.

Besides his widow, Maggie Ryan, he is survived by his son, Philip, his daughter-in-law, Olive, and their six children: Joan, Fay, James, Lloyd, Barbara, Eric.

The remains are being brought to Kitwanga for burial.

The funeral service will be held on Thursday morning from St. Paul's Anglican Church, Kitwanga, the missionary, Mr. J. Hayhurst, officiating.

Personal Budgets Mandatory . . .

For two years, citizens of Canada have been advised to set up budgets for personal incomes, in view of the great need to divert as much as possible from personal incomes to Canada's war chest through the purchase of bonds and certificates. At this point, that advice holds good, but instead of being offered casually it will have to be shouted from the housetops.

Unpatriotic Canadians can continue to live the same kind of private lives during the coming year as they have enjoyed during the past year in spite of sharp increases in income taxation. They can do this by cutting out their purchases of certificates and bonds. The patriotic citizen, who realizes that his country has to meet the obligations of a war for his freedom, can not maintain the same standard of living during the coming year as he has in the past. He has to plan not only to pay his income taxes but to buy even more certificates and bonds than ever before.

It is plain that in order to carry out this program, both the wealthy and people with slender means, will be forced to budget expenditures more and more carefully, since in most cases reductions must be made in spending other than for rent, property taxes and food. And the only intelligent way in which one can cut spending on general items is to set a definite figure for every classification of spending and keep within that figure.

"Y" Becomes Family Centre

Ever since the "Y" opened almost a year ago we have striven to make it known as a Family "Y." The set up here is unique in that the Y.M.C.A. War Services are working together under the same roof and in close harmony. The arrangement has often been compared to that of a well balanced marriage, and as in all marriages the family is the unit.

Inspectors from the south and east have been struck by the freedom with which both sexes use the establishment and more than pleased when they saw the children of these young couples playing happily in the Children's Corner, so generously equipped by donations from Prince Rupert people. We have been happy in this situation and the whole idea seemed to be symbolised the other day in the following incident:

An airman's little boy ran away from home and where did he make for? Why the "Y" of course. Here we found and recognized him playing away with his favorite toys. We notified the police but before they had time to get in touch with his parents the father came in looking for him as he had an idea he would make for here. That's a Family Centre as ever was, and are we proud of it.

The Old Time Dances held each Monday at the Hut are proving most popular. The music supplied by the Muskeg Musketeers of Midland fame is first rate and many of the youngsters are finding out there's something to the old time dances after all.

Aug. 31 to Sept. 4 For Carnival

Plans are going forward for the Civic Centre Carnival to be held again this year in the Exhibition Building on the Acropolis Hill. The dates are August 31 to September 4 inclusive. The various committees are working on their plans, which hold promise of good entertainment.

As in the past, a Carnival Queen will be crowned, with full ceremony. The Queen will be selected from a number of candidates, the one securing the greatest number of votes by the sale of admission tickets, wins the honor of being Queen. Substantial prizes await those who take part in this contest. To date there are five entrants in the contest, representing the following: the Navy, Canadian Forces, the Air Force, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Gyro Club. The names of the candidates will be announced within a few days.

Bill Stone, chairman of the Carnival Queen Committee, has stated that any further entries would be welcome in this contest.

SPORT CHAT

There's much eye-brow lifting among the tea-drinking school of cricketers who think nothing of continuing a game for a few days. The reason is a former Test player has come up with "Time-Limit" cricket and it's pronounced a big success.

Alf Glover, company sergeant-major with a British artillery unit on the south coast, evolved the time-limit scheme whereby every man in the match gets a fair share of play. Every "Tommy" in his unit now is a confirmed cricket addict.

Here's how it works:

Each pair of batsmen bat for [illegible] minutes, regardless of how often their wickets fall. Every member of the fielding side, barring the wicket-keeper, has a turn at bowling, according to an order drawn up before the start of the contest. The last man in an 11a-side game does not come out when the 10th wicket falls but has 10 minutes single wicket cricket all on his own.

The scoring system also is new. Each man not out at the end of the allotted batting period has [illegible] runs added to his score, and five runs are deducted every time a player loses his wicket during his 20 minutes at the crease. This, incidentally, makes it possible to have a minus score to be carded.

Dropping of a catch is penalized by three runs and—this is really radical—fieldsmen change at the double between overs.

Speaking of cricket: The start was set at famed Lord's for the start of a Metropolitan-Military Police match. Batsmen were in the middle field set, umpires (one of them in khaki beneath the regulation white coat) in position. Then someone discovered there was no ball. Incidentally (and eventually) Military Police lost by five wickets, first defeat since formation of the club two years ago.

German newspapers naively complain that Netherlanders "alone among the occupied countries decline to collaborate in sport." The reason is that Holland has consistently refused to meet a team from Germany in a soccer match. The last time Holland was billed for a soccer match with Naziland the mayor of Rotterdam ordered it cancelled for a few days previous because of strong anti-German feeling throughout the country. And that was before the war.

Preston North End, winners of the Football League cup in 1940-41, won't play league football next season because of transportation problems plus the difficulty of fielding a team with so many players in the services. Instead the club will compete in a district amateur league.

"Everybody is talking conservation these days so don't neglect your electric washer. You can keep it in good shape by looking after it carefully — drain and rinse the tub after each washing. Be sure to give it a thorough cleaning and get all the soap or lint out.

Wipe the rolls and frame of the ringer and release pressure on the rolls when not in use. This will save the spring and the rubber. Leave the cover off the tub until it is thoroughly dry. These are little things that will take a little extra time but you will find it worthwhile to do them."

New Red Cross Branch Formed

The lady tenants of Wartime Housing held a meeting yesterday in St. Peter's Church Hall, and formed a "Wartime Housing Unit" of the Prince Rupert branch, Canadian Red Cross Society. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Robert Cameron.

First Vice-President, Mrs. N. McLean.

Second Vice-President, Mrs. G. E. Meuffels.

Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Lamontagne.

Mrs. W. F. Eve is acting in an advisory capacity for the unit and will form groups as they become necessary.

Mr. Arnold Flaten, treasurer of the Prince Rupert branch, occupied the chair, gave the ladies a "pep talk" on Red Cross work, and explained the rules and regulations as required by the Red Cross Society.

Meetings of Group I will be held for the time being in private homes, but the administrator of Wartime Housing Limited assured the ladies that a club house will be provided in the near future and every possible assistance given to Red Cross and similar activities.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, August 13, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. D. Corbett, 1464 6th Avenue East.

FREE LAW FOR TROOPS

LONDON, August 5 (CP)—The British army's plan to provide free legal advice for men in the ranks will include overseas troops, Canadians as well as Americans.

Britain Wants Lost Vitamins

LONDON, August 5: (CP)— Food Ministry scientists are out hunting these days for vitamins lost in British cooking and the results of their search may bring an educational campaign to get the housewife to prepare meals less traditionally and more scientifically.

The 1,500 British restaurants (government owned) and 7,500 factory canteens are being used in this research. Chemists visit them, taking away samples of cooking to analyze and test the meals and see what proportion of vitamins is lost in the preparation.

Laboratories in Glasgow, Edinburgh, Dundee, London, Manchester and other cities are co-operating in the vitamin hunt. Scientists say a whole new field of dietetics was opened up by discovery of new vitamins and the splitting up of Vitamin B into B1 and others up to B6 before the war began. The more war may make it necessary to curtail the British diet the greater the importance of any new vitamin discoveries.

NOW IS THE TIME---

Give us an order right away for the amount of coal you expect to need next season. This will enable us to meet your requirements now or as supplies arrive.

It is important that you should lay in your coal supply this summer as it is almost certain that the dealers will not be able to cope satisfactorily with the demand next winter.

IT IS NOT HOARDING TO BUY YOUR COAL EARLY

(It is also necessary to place your order a day ahead of Delivery)
