Russians Beat Nazis To Draw In Offensive Towards Caucasus

Germans Forced to Dip Deeper Into Reserves and Are Even Then Unable to Stem New Soviet Power Drive.

LONDON, March 13: (CP)—Marshal Timoshenko's southern front onslaught with perhaps ninety Army divisions was reported today to have beaten Germans to the punch in the pre-spring offensive for control of the Donets Basin and the road to the Caucasus. From Stockholm comes word that the Germans have been forced to dip anew into reserves trained for her own spring offensive and are still unable to stem the new power drive by Soviet forces.

Political Rumors—

Cripps May Be Premier Of Britain

British People Said To Be Not Satisfied Yet With Changes In Administration

LONDON, March 13: (CP)—The Associated Press said that an extremely reliable and well-informed political source, commenting on the reported failure of recent cabinet changes to quiet public and parliamentary criticism of the government, said there was every likelihood Sir Stafford Cripps would replace Winston Churchill as Prime Minister.

This source went so far as to predict Mr. Churchill, whose speeches pulled Britain together in the bitter summer of 1940 and made him one of the modern world's greatest figures, would be ousted within three months. Sir Stafford, till recently ambassador to Russia, entered the cabinet February 20 as Lord Privy Seal and leader of the House of Commons.

More Scrap Is Shipped South

Two Lots Forwarded To Vancouver This Week by Red Cross

Since Crete After bitter parliamentary debates it must be emphasized, "that while Churchill is vastly popular in the United States, he has steadily lost the strength of his hold on British masses since the fall of Crete last June." Sir Stafford, on the other hand, is grown in stature as a result of his work as ambassador to Russia, a fact recognized by his recent appointment to the cabinet of Lord Privy Seal.

Cuts Across Parties The steady growth of an opposition group in Parliament, as described by the source of this circulation, is all the more important since it transcends party lines.

"He said the opposition to Mr. Churchill was dissatisfied primarily on these points:

"1. Sending the Prince of Wales and Repulse to Malaya after assuring warnings that the big warships would find indifferent air support in those waters.

"2. Placing Lord Beaverbrook in positions in which he allegedly denigrated the fighting services and navy industry.

"3. The Prime Minister's exercise of his own judgment in control of the war."

Mrs. Brett Is Dead in South

Mrs. Mary Jane Brett, wife of William H. Brett, president of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union at Prince Rupert, passed away in Vancouver last Saturday after a long illness, the funeral taking place in Vancouver Wednesday afternoon with Rev. J. W. Melvin officiating. Mrs. Brett was forty-six years of age and is survived by her brother, by one son, whom she will have the deep sympathy of many friends who will regret greatly to learn of Mrs. Brett's passing.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. John Williams, arrived in port at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10 o'clock tonight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

B. G. Parker, Prince George merchant, is returning officer for Cariboo.

KVICHAK IS NEAR READY

Will Go To Sea Again As Houston—Her Salvage Was Notable Feat

The United States Army transport Kvichak, which was wrecked over a year ago at the north of Milbank Sound, being raised after she had sunk and brought to Prince Rupert for extensive hull repairs in the local dry dock, will soon be back in service as the Houston, one of the latest and most up-to-date transport vessels after almost complete rebuilding at a cost of $350,000. The battered Kvichak was recently taken from Prince Rupert to Seattle to complete repair and refitting after much of the job had been done here.

When the new Houston goes to sea, she will be a staunch monument to the fine work of the Armour Salvage & Towing Company. Capt. Paul Armour took over the salvage job when other experts had given the 300-foot steel transport up as a total loss following the wreck in which three men lost their lives. The wreck occurred on January 27, 1941, and the salvage job took six months.

When others gave up, Capt. Armour and his crew thought there was still a chance. Then winter gales swept the shattered bulk off the reef into 90 feet of water. The ship's bottom was ripped out in the process.

Even this didn't stop the Armour crew. They went to work with divers who found the Kvichak lying against a submerged cliff.

They rigged cable slings—and that was the tough part of the job. It took 30 men ten days to rig one, although on some days they were able to rig three or four.

Then they lifted the transport, using four big barges, took her to a nearby beach, lifted the ship until she was drawing only 36 feet of water, then towed her to Prince Rupert.

After all that, the Houston will sail again.

FOR FOREIGN TONGUES

LONDON, March 13: (CP)—The Board of Education has announced the 50 scholarships—15 for the study of Japanese, 10 for Chinese, 20 for Turkish and five for Persian—each valued at $900, have been opened to boys 17 years of age leading to government service.

HOME GUARD ON SKIS

LONDON, March 13: (CP)—During a heavy snowstorm a member of a Home Guard unit dressed in white overalls, strapped on skis, slung his gun over a shoulder, and quickly and silently patrolled his area.

C.N.R. steamer Prince George, Capt. Edward Mabbs, arrived in port at 8:45 this morning from Vancouver and Ocean Falls and will sail at 3 p.m. for Ketchikan and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound. The vessel brought in a considerable cargo of freight and a fair-sized list of passengers.

Japanese Offensive Swings In Direction Of Solomon Islands

British and Chinese Forces Join Up North of Rangoon in Attempt to Consolidate New Burman Front.

CANBERRA, March 13: (CP)—Japan's offensive against Australia, still taking form in the welter of islands along the northern shore of the continent, has speared off in a tangent of naval penetration of the Solomon Islands. The Japanese Solomon Island move is evidently either a feint to distract attention from the establishment of New Guinea bases for prospective lunge at Australia or actually a thrust towards the New Hebrides and New Zealand along the island chain pointed at the United Nations sea route to Australia.

In the second chief theatre of the Pacific war, British and Indian forces, withdrawing north of Rangoon, have joined Chinese troops in attempting to consolidate a front sixty to eighty miles to the north.

MAKING OF TRUCKS IS PROHIBITED

This Type of Vehicle for Civilian Use in Canada Is No Longer to Be Made, Ottawa Rules

OTTAWA, March 13: (CP)—Hon. Clarence D. Howe, minister of munitions, announced today that no further manufacture of civilian trucks of any kind will be permitted in Canada after tomorrow except by permit. "The United Nations now can absorb all the trucks we can make and, to meet these requirements and conserve raw materials, production of trucks for civilian use must cease," Mr. Howe said. All trucks manufactured in future will be designed for military purposes.

Horace Bolton To Stand Trial For Taking $160 In Cash From Store

The provincial police boat P. M. L. 15 returned to port last night after a trip to Kitimaat with Stipendiary Magistrate W. D. Vance, Provincial Police Constable C. F. Oland and W. O. Fulton in connection with the trial there of Horace Bolton, native, who is charged with theft of $160 from the Kitimaat co-operative store.

Entry was made to the store by breaking a window and reaching in to turn the latch of a Yale lock. The money was taken from the cash register.

The police were notified and, as a result of investigation, Bolton's arrest followed.

As a result of the preliminary hearing, Bolton was bailed in the sum of $400 to stand trial and will appear before Judge W. E. Fisher in County Court here at a date to be arranged.

Tulsequah Sends $7000 In Victory Loan Applications

The Alaska Highway . . .

The Alaska highway of which so much was expected in the way of opening up the north coast country is to be located so far inland that, while it will undoubtedly serve a large and valuable section of the country, it will be so far from Prince Rupert that we shall hardly know it is there. It may at first tend to draw people away from British Columbia toward northern Alberta.

It is noticeable that the first movement favoring Alaska highway construction came from the coast cities of Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria. Now they seem to be left out in the cold. Possibly later Vanderhoof may link up with the new highway and provide an almost direct route from Vancouver to Alaska. This extension of the northern road would open up the Omineca mining country which is said to be rich.

The British Columbia section of the Peace River country—Dawson Creek—should be the first to feel a filip from the new business brought by the highway in this province. Preparations have already been made at Dawson Creek for a large storage centre and refrigeration plant and about three thousand army construction corps men are expected to land there as soon as the freeze-up is over. This road will undoubtedly connect up sooner or later with the highway to Prince Rupert.

Many people who wish to visit Alaska over the new highway will doubtless be attracted to Prince Rupert as an alternate scenic route to the north coast.

For the moment, forgetting the military significance of these two highways, we must admit that they will have great commercial and industrial significance in opening up new mining, timber and waterpower areas and also they will be an aid in providing approaches to air fields in the north. They will mean a new era of development for the whole north.

Highly Satisfactory Work-Out Held Last Evening.

Last evening the Air Raid Protection workers of Westview met for a regular work-out. Police, first aiders and fire wardens turned up in full strength.

Shortly after the meeting, a fire was reported at the home of Roy Barnes at the lower end of Second Avenue. The fire wardens immediately went to work with H. R. Hill in charge. The water main being theoretically hit at the bridge, Ray had to use the gasoline pumps. Quickly two lines of hose were run, 400 feet each, and the pump at the dam at Morse Creek was started. In a very short time there were two good streams of water pouring over the house and the situation was well under control. One fire warden was supposedly hurt in the shoulder by a falling timber and had his face badly burned. The first aiders were called and in one minute the ambulance and first aid workers were there, took care of the patient and quickly got him to headquarters where he was given further treatment.

"RUSTY" RED CROSS FUND GOES OVER

Mrs. Peggy Deeder's Idea Draws Widespread Response.

(By BARNEY MULVANY)

Mrs. Peggy Deeder, of the hamlet of Francois Lake in central British Columbia, has attained a degree of publicity which even her reputation as a writer of short stories fell short of—and all through her little pal "Rusty," a pure-bred cocker spaniel of even greater intelligence than is usually found in that lovable and brainy breed. Casting around for ways and means to boost the local Red Cross contributions, to Rusty's delight, she left her typewriter and took him for a morning stroll seeking inspiration.

Rusty flushed a few grouse, ran a rabbit or two just for fun and treed a protesting squirrel. Crossing the main trail, he returned to Peggy in a state of great excitement. In his mouth was a tattered one dollar bill which he had picked up along the trail and right there the Rusty Red Cross fund was born.

Peggy Deeder, former Seattle girl, is now stamp-rancher, newspaper correspondent, short story writer and a poetess of no mean order with a novel well under way that promises to be a prize-winner is a natural publicity hound. The next issue of the nearest small town paper carried the following notice.

Calling All Dogs

I am Rusty, a red Cocker Spaniel belonging to Peg Deeder, at Echo Valley ranch, Francois Lake, B.C. I am thankful to live in a country where hot dogs are still made of pork and beef. To prove my gratitude, I have deposited aollar in the Royal Bank at Burns Lake, British Columbia, to establish a fund for the Red Cross. I urge every dog in Canada to contribute to this fund. In this way we can prove that Canadian dogs are deeply grateful to live in a land where they are protected by sane and kindly people. So send your dollars to "Rusty's Fund for the Red Cross, in care of the Manager, Royal Bank of Canada, Burns Lake, B.C."

The response was surprising. Peggy Deeder, the manager of the Royal Bank and Rusty have been busy ever since.

Replies to the call of the dogs came from all points between Halifax and Victoria, from the 49th parallel to Alaska. The Canadian National carried the slogan on the trains. The Hudson Bay store sponsored it. Even the Vancouver dogs are wearing blankets carrying the sign. "Have you contributed to the Red Cross" and now the "Chicago Tribune" is asking permission to use the name to start a similar fund in the U.S.A. Peggy, the puupy hound, is still keeping Rusty in the public eye. The next week the following notice appeared in some of the leading newspapers of Canada:

Rusty's Weekly Appeal

"Heavenly days, dogs, do you realize that sugar is being rationed? Of course, that doesn't mean much to us, but here's the thought. What if they should ration bones? The Axis has made things like that necessary. If we help the Red Cross, we help to whip them."

"We, over here, can't get our teeth into Hitler's pants but we can send our dollars to the Red Cross. Rusty's Fund for the Red Cross is in care of the Royal Bank at Burns Lake, and dollars are coming in from as far as Rocky Mountain House today."

"A wee boy brought his contribution in person. He had a dollar and, when he was asked the name and breed of his dog, with tears in his eyes, he replied, 'no breed, just a big black puppy called 'Rusty' but he got runned over so Maw sent this dollar 'in memory of Rastus,' she said."

And then the following week appeared this appeal:

"Canadian Dogs! Do you realize that many of our boys in Hong Kong and Singapore left beloved dogs at home to mourn for them. For the sake of these boys, let us send our contribution to the Red Cross. In this way we can get a nip at the Nipponee and prove that we dogs stand on guard for Canada."

And Peggy Deeder still works on. She and Rusty are sitting up with a cow tonight, which Peggy says is "expectant."

SKILLED IN DIPLOMACY

eral advantage of Canada and the world. Despite the fire with which he infused his speeches he was uniformly courteous in debate and considerate always of the views of his opponents.

In League of Nations.

In the League of Nations, Senator Dandurand won for himself an international name as the champion of minorities. He had seen the success with which the minority question had been handled in his home land. He had seen the people of two great races working side by side to a common purpose and his great ambition was to secure for the minorities of battle-scarred Europe similar rights of race, language and faith. Oppressed minorities in many lands brought to him their troubles and expressed to him their gratitude. He brought their difficulties before the council of the league and was successful in securing reforms in procedure, ensuring a more rapid and at the same time more thorough examination of minority complaints.

He represented Canada in the assembly of the league for six years in succession. On two occasions, the assembly paid him the honor of electing him its president. During practically the whole three years that Canada was a non-permanent member of the league council, Senator Dandurand was Canadian representative. The council appointed him its rapporteur on social questions.

In the international atmosphere of Geneva, he was eminently at home, thoroughly understanding the work and himself appreciated and understood

Born in Montreal Nov. 4, 1861, the son of Odile Dandurand, he graduated in law from Laval University in 1882. He was called to the Quebec bar the following year and created a Queen's Counsel in 1898. He wrote some important books on subjects of law but his principal activities were in connection with politics and his wide business associations. In the '80s when Hon. H. Mercier was premier of Quebec and Sir John A. Macdonald prime minister at Ottawa, young Dandurand was already actively supporting the Liberal cause and making speaking tours in his native province. He early became Liberal organizer in the province of Quebec.

In 1886 he married Josephine Marchand, daughter of the late Hon. F. G. Marchand, one time premier of Quebec. She predeceased Senator Dandurand. She was a woman of culture and an authoress and by her talents was of great assistance in the active life of her husband.

Other Commissions

Early in life Senator Dandurand was appointed an arbitrator by the president of the United States under the terms of a treaty of peace with the Republic of Brazil. He also served as royal commissioner on education in the province of Quebec in 1910. He represented Canada at the unveiling of the monument to Montcalm in France in 1909.

He was made a Knight of the Legion of Honor by the French government in 1891, an officer in 1907 and a commander in 1912. For his services during the war to the French and Belgian relief funds he was made commander of the Belgian order "Pour la Couronne" and was given the gold medal of La Reconnaissance Francoise.

Senator Dandurand was a director of the Montreal Trust and Deposit Company, the Montreal Cotton Company, the Sun Life Assurance Company and the West Canadian Collieries and President of the City and District Savings Bank and the Fire Insurance Company of Canada. He was a Roman Catholic.

The excellent health Senator Dandurand enjoyed was due to the regularity of his habits. He liked to retire at the same hour every night and to rise at the same hour every morning. It was rarely that he permitted any variation.

INFORMATION TO ENEMY

Editor, Daily News:

Again, in the interest of the safety of my family, this city, this Dominion, I cannot refrain from most vehement condemnation of the shocking stupidity of authorities whose business it is to promote our security and who permit the publication of the information which appeared in blaring headlines across the front page of the March 12 issue of the Daily News:

"United States to use this port:

To be made supply base for Alaska;

Immense shipments of war goods to be sent north from Prince

Rupert."

If this is not giving valuable information to the enemy and as such, a gross breach of the Defence of Canada Regulations, I certainly do not know what is.

And as if the publication of this information were not sufficient for the enemy, we hear it broadcast over the air.

Can any intelligent person imagine Germany telling us she is massing immense supplies of war

materials at Calea for an attack on England, Japan telling us she is massing immense supplies of war materials at Kurihara for an attack on Alaska and Canada?

A few days ago we broadcast to the enemy that troops were

"pouring into Australia" in preparation for an offensive against Japan. Australia will certainly see an invasion sooner than would otherwise have been the case.

Now we broadcast to the enemy

this information about Prince

Rupert being an "immense" supply base for Alaska. That is most certainly an invitation to the Japanes to bomb us as soon as they possibly can.

If these things are further illustration of the intelligence of those in whose hands our safety lies, then again I say it is high time the responsible authorities be put in some place where their authoritative stupidity will cease to menace the safety of our families, our city, our country.

It would almost seem that we
