MUST BUY SUGAR NOW

Housewife's Estimates of October Canning Requirements to be Checked

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26: The federal sugar administrator, Ottawa, War-time Prices and Trade Board, has advised that regulations permitting householders to purchase sugar during September for their October canning needs will not be extended.

Inspectors of the board's enforcement division are empowered to check up on any housewife's supply of sugar and make certain that no hoarding or improper use of it occurs.

Housewives who are buying sugar for preserving purposes are warned to estimate their requirements closely as severe penalties will be applied to those who are found to have bought deliberately excessive sugar which they do not use in October.

Inspection of home preserves will be made to see that the regulations are properly enforced.

CHILDREN'S DISEASES

But Chances are There'll Be No Serious After Effects, Survey Shows

OTTAWA, Sept. 26: Ordinary diseases of children furrow the brows of their parents but appear to have little permanent effect in retarding the growth or mentality of the youngsters who go through their attacks, according to a report by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on a survey of 78,000 school-children of Toronto.

On the other hand, strangely enough, the survey showed a tendency for children who had rheumatism and cerebral spinal meningitis to be slightly taller and heavier than other children but the number of these cases available for study was small.

No significant difference was found between the average child who had suffered from measles, whooping cough, chicken pox, German measles, scarlet fever or mumps in comparison with children who had not. The only diseases which seemed to affect stature—and these only slightly—were diphtheria and smallpox.

Of 39,550 boys examined during the survey, 27,902 had suffered from at least one of the so-called ordinary diseases, and 25,271 of the 38,503 girls had suffered from at least one.

Physical defects—including abnormal tonsils, enlarged glands, malnutrition, nervous disorders, ear defects, pulmonary disease and the like—were more closely related to the child's stature than disease.

"Children with any defect were shorter and lighter for their height, that is, thinner, than the children of the survey as a whole," said the report.

Three Main Classes

The various defects seem to fall into three main classes in respect of their effect on height and weight. Children with enlarged glands, eye and ear defects and cardiac diseases are, on the average, shorter but of approximately the same build as other children. Those with nervous disorders, postural and speech defects and enlarged thyroid are taller than the average but somewhat underweight. Those with pulmonary disease and defective mentality are both shorter and thinner than others with defects.

The report said, however, that the numbers in most of the groups were too small for significant conclusions to be drawn. "Naturally those stated by the doctor to be anemic or suffering from malnutrition are very much under normal height and underweight for the height and age," the report said.

Possibility Now Seen of Not Only Holding But Repulsing Enemy

Meantime Further Strategic Positions At Stalingrad Are Recaptured and Germans Halted Everywhere Else On Front

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (CP)—The Russians announced recapture of strategic positions both within besieged Stalingrad and upon the German left flank today and the toll of invasion dead was reported increased by about three thousand. Although Red Star, the Army newspaper, pointedly pictured the enemy as still able to inch forward over mounds of their own dead, it sounded an optimistic editorial note with the message to Stalingrad fighters that "there now exists the possibility to hold the fascists and repulse them."

For the moment, at least, field dispatches indicated the Germans had been brought to a halt on every front in the battle of Russia. Repeated German counter-attacks against the Red Army striking northwest of Stalingrad for the relief of the battle-worn garrison were declared repulsed with heavy losses.

Hitler's field headquarters, long accustomed to proclaiming the swift fall of cities, now focusses attention on the capture of single buildings, declaring that "in the fight for Stalingrad buildings belonging to the Communist party, situated near the bank of the Voiga, were torn from the Soviets in embittered fighting."

LABORITES IN SESSION

Postal Service, Soldiers' Dependents Allowances, Housing Shortage Discussed

The regular meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council on Thursday night was another heavy business session for the delegates who are showing a decided interest in affairs of labor in general. A good attendance of delegates under the chairmanship of T. Elliott discussed many important matters.

Correspondence received from the Prime Minister's office in acknowledgement of the council's resolution asking cost of living bonus for the dependents of service men indicated that the government is contemplating such an allowance. This matter was also referred to the Congress convention and adopted as was a resolution re post-war rehabilitation.

A communication from the Junior Chamber of Commerce regarding the local post office situation was endorsed as the council has for years been trying to obtain a more satisfactory method of mail delivery. In this connection, it was pointed out that some of the dry dock employees have to wait several days in order to receive their mail because of the congestion at the wickets. Several proposals were advanced, one being the employment of women as mail carriers. These suggestions will be embodied in the council's resolution to the Postmaster General.

The housing shortage was brought up by the dry dock local which objected to the method employed by the different contractors who are bringing workers into Prince Rupert on the assurance that dwellings are available, only to find that such is not the case. While it is true houses are being built as rapidly as possible, it will be several months before a person is able to move in and then only if he is in war industry and has had his name on the waiting list. Such a condition is the cause of unrest among the workers who have to keep two homes. It should be discouraged, the delegates felt. It was learned from the City Hall that the voter's list will be opened during the month of October for the purpose of registering for the municipal election and several delegates emphasized the importance of everyone seeing to it that he or she is on the list.

C.N.R. Appointments . . .

Elevation of R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways, to the additional post of chairman of the board of directors will be interesting news to Mr. Vaughan's many friends in Prince Rupert who will be glad to learn of it. He is well known as a friend of Prince Rupert and, now that the local line of the railway has become a much more important factor in the system's traffic, he will have an increasingly more important part to play in the development of the port and line.

S. J. Hungerford, who goes into retirement and is succeeded by Mr. Vaughan, is equally well known here and his local friends will wish him many years to enjoy his retirement although those who are not intimately acquainted with him know that, when the nation needs the advice and help of men of his long practical experience and proven ability, he would not be satisfied to remain idle.

One good friend of Prince Rupert replaced by another we might say of the chief railway executive appointment.

The Gun-a-Noot Case . . .

The principles of British justice must be maintained in the old tradition but the trouble and expense the country was put to at the present session of Supreme Court Assizes to try a more or less petty larceny theft case was something that might very well have been handled in some other simpler way. It was an example of the inefficiencies which crop up sometimes in the democratic way of doing things. At that, its invaluable privileges far outweigh its occasional inefficiencies.

Many of those who complain about the inefficiency of the democratic system would not like a dictatorship unless they did the dictating.

Menace to Health . . .

From all accounts, a rather serious menace to the public health exists in connection with sewerage disposal from the new Rushbrook Heights industrial residential area. Certainly it is a situation that the responsible interests should clean up without delay. Maintenance of the health of the people, as has often been said, is never more important than it is in war time particularly when medical and nursing services are so much at a premium. Simple sanitary improvements here might well prevent a serious epidemic.

There are more ways than one in which Prince Rupert might well be cleaned up these days.

The Fuel Situation . . .

There is a likelihood that some fuel difficulties will be experienced throughout the north country this winter unless some arrangement is made whereby the Collieries are supplied with enough suitable labor to produce it.

It is estimated that there is a demand at present for double the amount of coal that was being used throughout Canada a year ago and the quantity required is continually being increased by the fact that new ships are being equipped for coal burning as well as locomotives and other railway equipment. Domestic oil burners are being put out of business and altogether the demand for coal will likely be three times the requirement for last year.

In the meantime the coal mines are working with short and inexperienced crews and recently one of the Nanaimo mines stated that it would likely be obliged to shut down for lack of competent coal miners to carry on its work.

At two coal mines near Telkwa in the Bulkley Valley the local trucks take the coal away from the mine as fast as it can be produced and frequently the mines have to shut off the local demand while they endeavor to fill outside orders.

Both of these mines can use quite an additional number of men if they can be obtained but, owing to the shortage of competent coal miners, help for the coal mines cannot be obtained and in consequence the country will be faced with a much reduced output and a demand which is three times the normal demand. It does not require much foresight therefor to realize that a lot of people are going to be cold this winter.

The situation is probably more serious than is generally recognized and unless some steps are taken to see that enough competent labor is supplied to the coal mines of the country it is just going to be too bad for a lot of people throughout the whole of Canada this winter.

It looks now like rationing may be the only solution.

Those who filled their coal bins a few months ago are having one less headache now.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

Having a spell of statistics on me this morning I took it upon myself to check up on the number of persons placed in rooms listed on the Y.W.C.A. Rooms Registry since March 4 of this year. The total surprised me, considering the paucity of rooms to be had. A total of 154 persons have been placed in rooms, light house-keeping suites or small houses. Quite a good record if I do say so as I shouldn't.

With the Y's wives whist drives and women's service clubs in full swing at the "Y" for the winter I thought the following little verse which Mrs. C. E. Cullin, a Senior Hostess, gave me would be apropos, especially if the rationing decreases. It is by "Aunt Flo" in the American Red Cross Bulletin:

"Oh shame upon the thoughtless soul,
"Who in her neighbor's sugar bowl
"Her greedy spoon doth dig,
"And who when asked to come and sup,
"Yet laps her neighbor's ration up,
"She is a human pig.
"Let us not emulate the swine,
"Who little know of thine and mine,
"But set the good communal fashion
"Of bringing tea and sugar ration."

We would like to welcome the men of the newest regiment in town and we extend a cordial invitation to them to come up to the "Y," remembering it is a friendly place to meet. I have met Captain Hullin, their padre, and, indeed to goodness, I like him, from Welsh Wales and all though he be, man!

At the opening games of the Navy Bowling League the scores showed that the boys were well out of practice. Top honors for high single went to G. Ohnstad of the Seaman's team with 228. The V.A. team took top honors for team aggregate score.

Whitlow Wyatt's five-hit shut-out gave the Brooklyn Dodgers their first National League pennant in 21 years at Boston a year ago today. Wyatt also pitched Brooklyn's only World Series victory over the New York Yankees.

Smithers Man Is Moving Here

Jack McEwen Coming to Coast To Take Position

SMITHERS, Sept. 26.—John L. (Jack) McEwen, a well known resident of Smithers for nearly 20 years, will leave this town next week to take up residence in Prince Rupert where he has accepted a position. Smithers has lost a number of good residents to Prince Rupert during the past few years but none will be more missed in the social activities of this town than Mr. McEwen.

Mr. McEwen has been a very active member of the Smithers Curling Club, his team having won the Hanson Cup here last year. He was active also in the Golf Club. He was president of the Canadian Legion branch No. 63 here for several years and did great work in that organization. He managed the Legion hockey team for a number of years and brought it to a winning position in the local league.

Mr. McEwen was formerly accountant for the Duthie Mine and, when the mine was closed down a number of years ago, he remained to look after the property and the interests of the Smithers Mines Ltd. which he has been doing up to the present time.

On Thursday evening a party was given for Mr. McEwen by his many friends and a great number attended to wish him well in his new field of endeavor. He was presented with a fountain pen and pencil set as a token of esteem by his friends.

TEA PARTY GOING OUT

Women's Liberal Federation In Old Land Adopts 10-Point Standard

By DOUGLAS AMARON (Canadian Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, Sept. 26.—A demand that women be given a full share in planning and execution of post-war reconstruction was included in 10-point charter adopted at the annual conference of the Women's Liberal Federation.

A resolution to this effect and many others calling for government action to assist wives and mothers were adopted at the one-day conference during which women members of the Liberal party discussed the problems of their sex.

"When we speak of equality with men sharing rights as well as duties, privileges as well as responsibilities," said Lady Violet Bonham-Carter in her presidential address. Lady Violet emphasized that to inspire great efforts and great sacrifices a great purpose was needed and that purpose must be positive, not negative.

"If we mean to insist, as we must, on national minimum, family allowances, higher old-age pensions—a decent standard of life for all—we must be ready to pay for these things," she said.

More Effort Needed

Mrs. Geoffrey Mander, wife of a Liberal M.P. and a munitions worker in the Midlands, urged equal rates of pay and compensation for women with men, shorter working hours and better shopping arrangements for factory workers, prevention of increase in working hours of children, higher standard among interviewers of women registering, more welfare training for women officers in the auxiliary services, and stricter supervision of health of women in the services and industry. She complained there was still too much "tea party" standard about the war efforts of many women.

The government's handling of the woman-power problem was criticized by Miss Megan Lloyd George who said "the country is suffering from a sense of frustration."

"There is a feeling that the war effort is not yet properly organized," she said, "that there is no adequate return for all the sacrifice made by women in the Services and for all work done in the factories." She urged greater intake of women into part-time employment and reduction in the long hours many women were working in full-time employment.

Daughter of R.C.N.V.R. Officer Named in H.M.C.S. Cornwallis

HALIFAX, Sept. 26: ☉—Miss Audrey Alex Larrat Henderson is one girl who can tell the boys how to get an early taste of navy life. Or, she will tell you when she gets around to talking because the daughter of Lieut. Hugh Larrat Henderson, R.C.N.V.R., and Mary Henderson is just recovering from her baptismal.

But she took that like a real tar, according to The Crow's Nest, publication of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis here, which reported the ceremony. It was the first baptism in the naval establishment.

The day of the big event saw the ship's bell from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis filled with sea water from Bedford Basin and placed on a white ensign while Rev. William Hills, R.C.N., performed the ritual.

COMEDY COMING

"The Male Animal," Gay, New Picture with Fine Cast, Coming To Capitol

"The Male Animal," which comes Monday and Tuesday to Capitol Theatre, is a sparkling film that brings together three grand performers—Henry Fonda, Olivia de Havilland and Joan Leslie. It has a delightful story with comedy that is both riotous and plausible. The setting for "The Male Animal" is a college with enthusiastic scholars and equally enthusiastic alumni who use every anniversary as an excuse to reminisce. Among the more genial of professors is Henry Fonda, whose sense of right and wrong gets him into trouble with the college authorities. His wife, portrayed by lively Olivia de Havilland, is sympathetic with him, and realizes the importance of his work, but she likes to have her fun.

The fun is provided when an old classmate, portrayed by Jack Carson, comes back for a big game. He and Olivia become a bit more friendly than old acquaintanceship warrants (at least from Fonda's point of view) and another trouble is piled upon the professor's back but that isn't the end of his worries. His sister-in-law, played by Joan Leslie, has a quarrel with her boy-friend and they involve the unfortunate instructor in the midst of it.

The situations become more breezy, and humorously involved as the picture progresses, building up to a howling climax.
