IDEALS OF C.C.F. ARE PUT FORTH

Colin Cameron Urges Development of War Incentive and Real Post-War Plan

Reorganizing of the social structure so that there might be a better incentive for the winning of the war and establishment of a society worthwhile for those who fight to return to after the war is over should be principal aims today, declared Colin Cameron, Canadian Co-operative Federation Member of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia for Comox, who spoke in Prince Rupert Saturday night during a brief stay here while on his way back to Vancouver Island after having attended the C.C.F. national convention in Toronto.

Like it or not, said Mr. Cameron, everything today was backgrounded by the war. Socialists knew that war was evil and that gains which might be made from war would be dearly paid for in the end. The C.C.F. and its members had been criticized for statements in regard to the war which had been made a couple of years ago. Some of these statements might have been deemed almost treasonable at the time but things had been stated then which were today accepted by all. One instance was the change of attitude in regard to Russia.

Wherever one travelled, Mr. Cameron said, there was heard the same complaint of graft and inefficiency in the prosecution of the war. There was deplorable waste of time and material. It was all very well to decry waste, graft, inefficiency and even dishonesty but the people themselves were responsible for the system which placed a premium on dishonesty. Meanwhile national unity was being destroyed as an appalling spirit of cynicism and apathy developed. "Sometimes I think we do not deserve to win the war," said the speaker. "Certainly, if we do not lose it, it will not be for want of trying to lose."

Return To Depression
The government was doing certain objectionable things simply because the public was too apathetic to put a stop to them. Not sufficient value was placed on the lives of those who were sent to fight the battles of democracy. The present balloon of prosperity, for which none other than Adolf Hitler might be thanked, could not last forever. It was just foolish optimism to imagine it would. Unless there was building for the future now, the fuel of the war would be nothing but a return to depression. The thing now was to change methods so there might be a more effective prosecution of the war and the building of a healthy post-war society.

It was impossible to be patriotic and at the same time derive profit from the war. There was necessity for equality of sacrifice in war. The C.C.F. proposed a maximum income above which all would be confiscated. Luxuries were still obtainable in this country and many people still lived in

Vacancies On Road Project

DAWSON CREEK, Aug. 17—Due to the release of a number of men for harvest work, Bruce Ballah, who is in charge of the Unemployment Insurance Office here, stated last week that there were a number of vacancies in various classes of work on the Alaska highway project.

Mr. Ballah pointed out, that from now until after the harvest, farmers and farm laborers would be refused employment on the job.

luxury which was out of reach of the ordinary people. If such conditions were rectified it would lead to an improvement in general morale.

Meanwhile the attitude of men in the armed forces was in an unhealthy condition. There was too much cynicism, too little faith in regard to the benefits of democracy. Continued on PAGE FOUR

ASSAULT OF NAZIS KEEPS UP

Stalingrad and Caucasus Still Threatened—Red Counter-Offensive to North

IS DAMAGED PRIZE
MOSCOW, August 17: (CP)—In announcing the loss of Malokop in the Caucasus today, Russia intimated that it was a damaged prize for the enemy with oil installations blasted and oil stocks removed deeper and deeper along the mountain spine of the Trans-Caucasus. According to the Russians' midnight communique, the enemy has wedged himself anew into Stalingrad defences southeast of Kletskaya.

MOSCOW, Aug. 17 — Masses of Nazi men and mechanized forces continue their full scale assault on the south from the northwest and southwest towards the important industrial city of Stalingrad as well as the Caucasus, eastern Black Sea ports and the Caspian Sea. Malokop has fallen and the Russians are retreating down the Rostov Railway towards Grozny oil fields.

The German-controlled Vichy radio said that fast motorized units had already encircled the Grozny oil fields but this was in advance of German claims. The Russian admission was that the Red Army was falling back to this other important oil centre.

The Germans asserted that the entire Don River bend area guarding the approaches to Stalingrad was in German hands but Russian advices were that Marshal Simeon Timoshenko had raised a wall of artillery before Stalingrad which permitted advances only at terrible cost to the attackers. On the central and northern fronts the Russians are having considerable success in their counter-offensive. They have captured positions and taken prisoners around Bryansk.

CALGARY, Aug. 17 — Investigation into working conditions among prairie high school boys engaged in war work at Prince Rupert was ordered by the executive of the Calgary Trades and Labor Council following reading of a circular letter from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. The letter said prairie youths had been promised 60c per hour and eight months' work but were discharged after only thirty-two hours' employment on the grounds that there was no work for them. The circular charged that the boys were paid only eighteen cents per hour for the time they worked and, after deductions, had nothing left.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Trades and Labor Discusses Many Matters at Regular Meeting

Election of officers for the remaining half of this year took place at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council last week and resulted as follows: President, Thomas Elliott. Vice-President, A. Wallin. Secretary, P. Bond. Executive—J. S. Black, J. Fisher and G. Crocker. Owing to pressure of business resulting from increased activity of workers in and around Prince Rupert it was decided to hold two meetings each month on second and fourth Thursday of each month. Thomas Elliott occupied the chair with a good attendance of delegates. Considerable business was transacted at the meeting. Communications received included acknowledgment of the recent resolution regarding city manager affairs from the Premier and Attorney-General.

Advices from Ottawa regarding rentals of the War Time Houses, suggested that the council get in touch with the local representative, Mr. Eve. The executive will act on this advice.

A resolution from the Carpenters' Union in regard to lads brought here from the prairies recently to work as laborers was endorsed unanimously. These lads were known to have been forced to sleep on the Court House lawn and in box cars. The council will enquire from the Department of Labor at Ottawa the duties of the local Employment Office in matters of this nature. Pay cheques of one of these lads showed that he had worked a total of 32 hours for an amount of $6, notwithstanding reports from the company or the employment office.

A resolution from the Carpenters' Union that this Trades Council ask the Dominion government through a convention to be held shortly, that a cost of living bonus be paid immediately to the dependents of all men serving in the forces was endorsed unanimously and will be taken up immediately.

DOINGS OF LOCAL 'Y'

By the Hostess, Dorothy Garbutt

Mrs. S. P. Woodside, who is manager of the Hut Canteen, is most appreciative of the splendid volunteer help, given nightly, in what is the very busiest spot in the Hut. The young ladies of the Junior I.O.E., the Cambrai Chapter, and the members of the Women's Red Cross Corps have undertaken to serve week about. It is an excellent plan and works very smoothly.

There are a large number of young married couples among the forces here and they have solved the vexing hospitality problem for themselves by the simple method of entertaining among themselves and making sure to include plenty of lonely bachelors in all their little evenings. It brings an authentic touch of home life to them and personally speaking, some of my happiest evenings have been spent with these young husbands and wives in their homes, temporary as they may be.

Here's a little story that is going the rounds of the 'Y' just now. It's all about a little bird called the Key Bird. It seems this little bird 'he's just a wee lone-some little bird who lives in—of all places—Prince Rupert'. This poor lonely little bird sits all day long on top of the tallest, the highest and the longest totem pole in these parts and says over and over again, so mournful it would break your heart to hear him, "K-e-e-rikey I wish it would rain up here!" And that, dear friends, is Prince Rupert's own little Key Bird.

Just a thought. Wouldn't a few more old time gospel hymns in the padre's Sunday night concert sing-song go over rather well? After all they are the tunes we all first learned and they are dear to us.

Those funny noises you hear coming from the 'Y' Sunday night are just Donald Duck singing "Roll Out the Barrel" as impersonated, and very cleverly, by Pte. Frank Olenik of the Artillery.

Stanley Saville left Saturday night for a vacation trip to Vancouver. Mrs. Saville and child have been in the south for some time.

Income Tax is Fair to All

In the fourth year of war, Canada will need almost four billion dollars. This is the equivalent of nearly $350 from every man, woman and child in the country.

Even with the highest income tax in history, 52% only of the money Canada needs will be raised by taxation. The rest will have to be borrowed by means of War Savings Stamps, Certificates and Victory Bonds.

Starting with the first pay period in September representing September earnings only, your employer is required by law to deduct your income tax from your wages or salary, and send it promptly to the Government. Everybody will pay his share as he goes along.

It's going to be tough . . . but not too tough! Here are some good features:

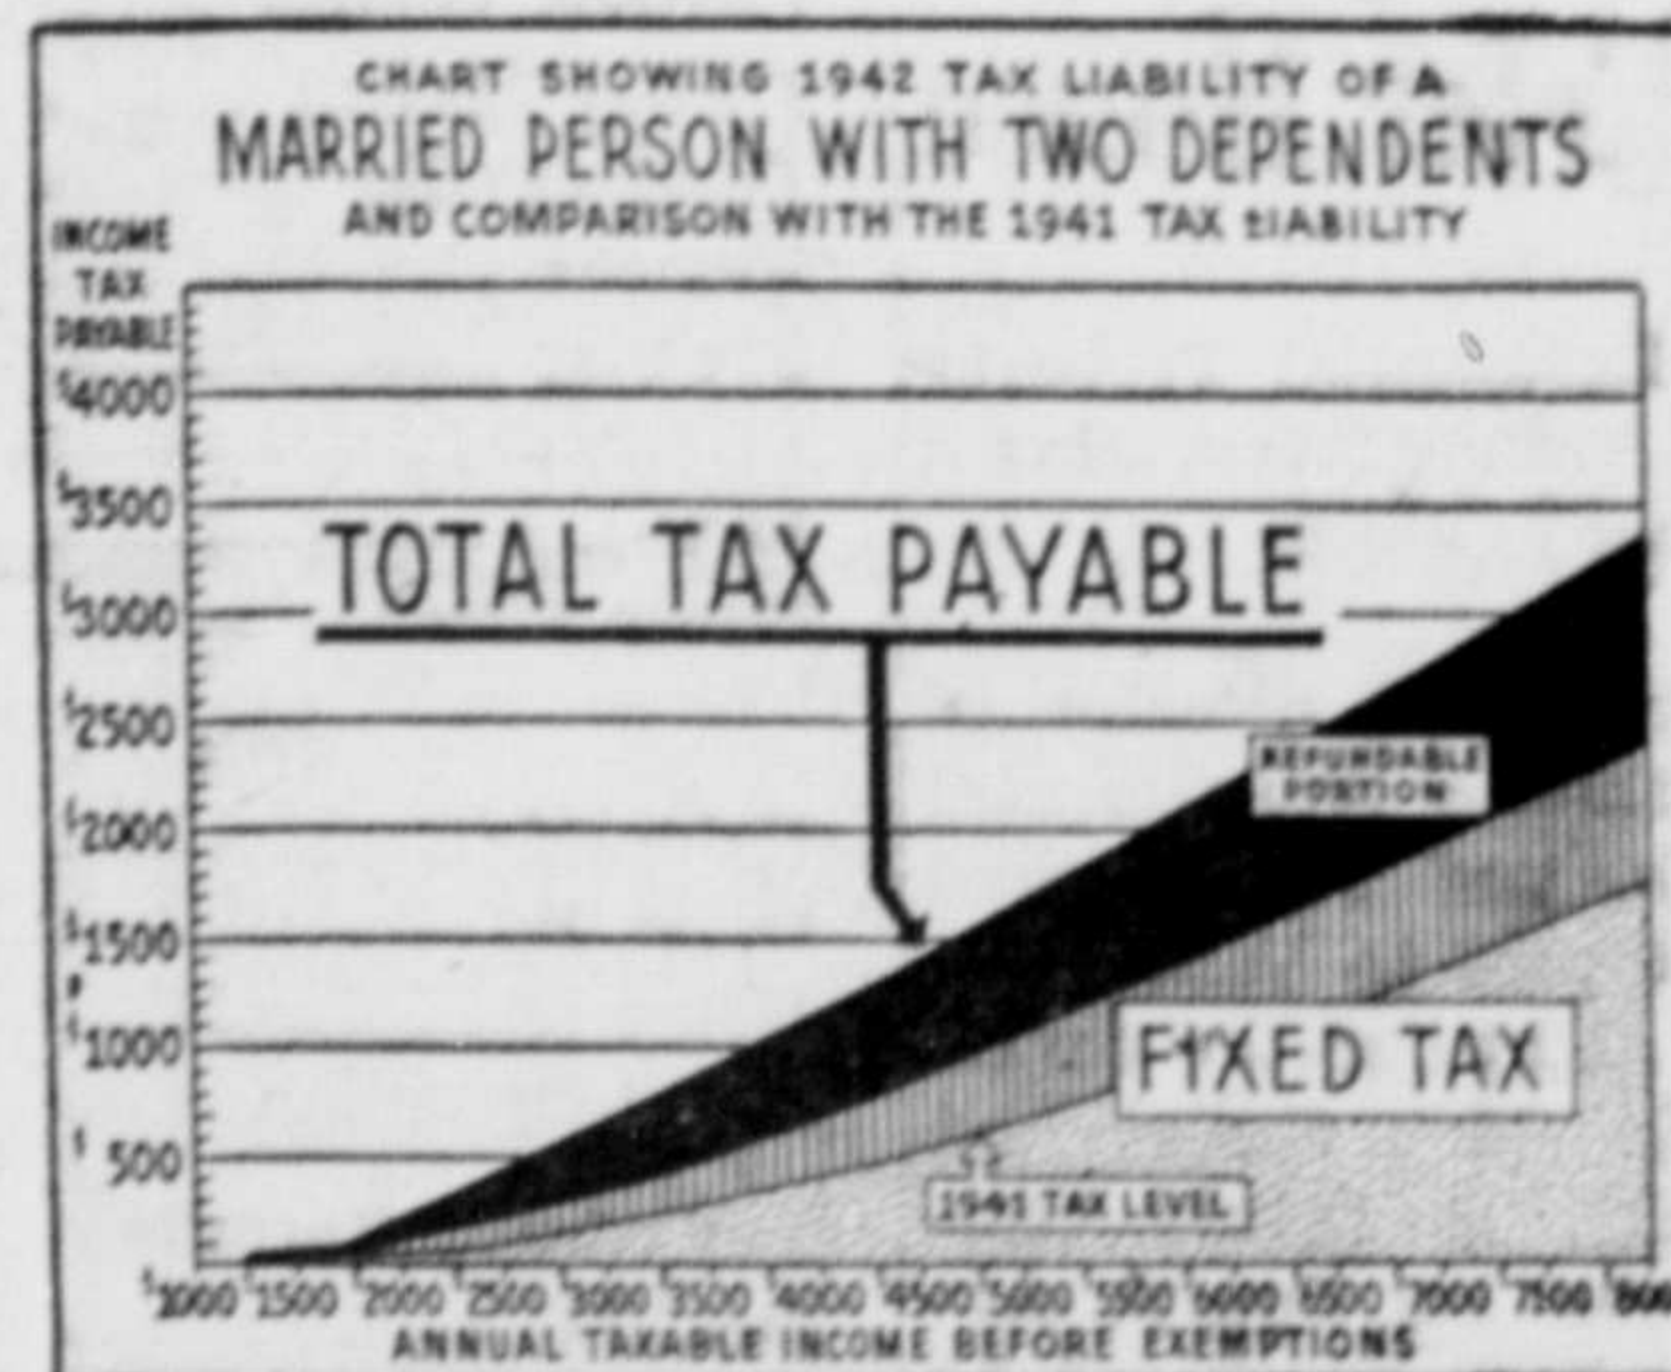

1. You will pay as you earn, so that you will not be faced with a large lump sum payment next year.
2. The National Defence Tax already deducted during the first 8 months of this year has been taken into account in the Table of Tax Deductions.
3. Though the income tax rates show a sharp increase over last year, a large portion of this increase is actually savings, to be paid back to you with interest after the war.
4. The money you are paying for life insurance premiums, annuities, principal repayments on your home, or into a pension fund may be deducted (up to a certain maximum) from the savings portion of your income tax. In many cases this may be sufficient to make payment of the savings portion of the tax unnecessary.

Unless you are single, without dependents, and not making payments of the types mentioned in paragraph 4 above, you should file Form TD-1 with your employer. Otherwise, you may not be allowed the credits to which you are entitled. DO NOT DELAY. File Form TD-1 with your employer at once so that you may get the full allowances from the start.

Employers and Post Offices have been requested to display in a prominent place the official Table of Tax Deductions. Forms TD-1 may be secured from your employer, Post Offices, or local Income Tax offices.

EMPLOYERS

If you have not received your copies of Table of Tax Deductions and Instructions, communicate with the office of your local Inspector of Income Tax at once.

IDEALS OF C.C.F.

racy which would be available after the war.

Mr. Cameron lauded the New Zealand principle that no one should be worse off by going to war, that no one should be better off by not going and that no one should profit from the war.

There should be care lest, in destroying Nazism abroad, something like it was not permitted to grow up right here in Canada. There was danger of a dictatorship whereby powerful industrialists and capitalists were given more power with state authority. There were people in Canada who could be quite as ruthless and oppressive as the Nazi leaders of Germany.

Labor organization had a heavy national responsibility in Canada. As the time approached close, that labor would have the opportunity of putting its program into operation, it was fitting that it should take an anxious view of things. It was necessary not only to know what to do but how to do it and the courage to go through with it. Not much progress would be made unless the people were prepared and organized both politically and industrially. There was no reason to assume that a new world would spring up overnight. Unless the common people accepted responsibility, there would be nothing but a repetition of history.

Youth Going To Hell

One had only to travel across the country to see a spirit of cynicism and an apathy in the armed forces about which one could not help but feel anxious. There were many young men who were by no means benefiting from their membership in the services but who were "going to hell" very quickly. It was a serious condition due to a frame of mind, a lack of ideal or incentive. Something positive and worthwhile must be placed before them. Youth should not be allowed to go down in an atmosphere of cynicism and lack of ideal.

ing the war, Mr. Cameron asserted that capitalistic principles should be laid aside. That was why Socialists were driving away at their principles even more strongly in wartime than in peace. In fact, they held that they had no apologies to make if they used the war to promote them. Socialistic control of the wheels of production was more essential today than ever. Never before was such a crisis faced in the social structure. Traditions and principles of the past no longer applied. Corruption giving rise to cynicism and apathy must go.

The speaker referred to the capabilities of this country to keep its people well fed and well housed but felt that this could be done only by public ownership and control. Unless it was made impossible for people to go hungry and housed, there would be social chaos and upheaval in the days of peace and reconstruction which would sooner or later have to be faced. Going to war might not be so bad but it might be the coming home that was hell. Now was the time to lay the foundations of a balanced economy—an aim which the C.C.F. had nothing to be ashamed of.

Following the address, Mr. Cameron, answered a number of questions during a discussion period.

Harold Weeks of Los Angeles arrived in the city on Saturday night's train to join the staff of the Canadian National Railways ticket office for relief duty. Duncan McPherson, who had been here for a time, left Saturday night on his return to Vancouver.

The first two games having been played last week, the competition for the Gilhuly Cup, third football trophy this year, is now well under way, a full league schedule having commenced last week with games played Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

There are five teams in competition—United Services (a merger of the former Area Headquarters and Navy teams), Midlands, Fusiliers, Air Force and Signals.

In the Tuesday night game Signals beat United Services one to nothing in a tightly contested encounter. On Thursday night Air Force swamped the Fusiliers 11 to nothing.

Signals are off to a good start in the Gilhuly Cup series after having won the two trophies so far competed for this season—the Dominion Day Cup and the Northern British Columbia championship.
