Allies Are Ruling Egyptian Skies

Today's War Summary

(By Canadian Press)

Battle of Italy Next? . . .

The Battle of Africa, which may develop into the Battle of Italy, is replacing the Battle of Stalingrad as the centre of importance in the war news. With the Royal Air Force keeping up the sustained air assault on cities of northern Italy for the third successive night while the British Eighth Army keeps up the offensive against the Axis on the north African desert with good results, some observers suggest that present moves of the Allies are designed to knock Italy out of the war. The London Sunday Express had a Stockholm dispatch which said that panic was developing in Italy and that an Allied invasion of the "weak sister of the Axis" was feared.

Strong Enemy Faced . . .

There is no denying the fact that the British Eighth Army has a stiff task ahead of it in the offensive in North Africa. Marshal Erwin Rommel, the German commander-in-chief in North Africa, is estimated to have a force of eleven divisions established on a depth basis of heavy artillery and mine field support. The eleven divisions consist of four armored, one motorized and six infantry. Nevertheless, the British forces continue to make effective progress making several penetrations in the 35-mile front.

Air Assault on Italy . . .

The Royal Air Force followed up its night attacks of Thursday and Friday on the important northern Italy cities of Genoa, Turin and Savona with a daylight attack upon Milan where great Lancasters bombers, after successfully crossing over long lengths of hostile territory in broad daylight, started dropping heavy cargoes of explosive at 5:04 Saturday afternoon. Getting under clouds, the planes carried out their bombing at a low level and it was very effective. Numerous fires were started in the heart of the industrial section of Milan, direct hits being made on the targets. Then followed the third night of air raiding of northern Italy, the British bombers again passing enroute over Switzerland where air raid alarms were sounded and anti-aircraft batteries went into action. There have been four raids on Italy within 48 hours by British and Canadian planes.

Battle of Stalingrad . . .

Bitter fighting continues at Stalingrad with the Nazi siege now in its sixty-third day. Two German divisions made a slight advance in an industrial part of the important Soviet city but it was at heavy cost. 1,500 Nazis being killed and seventeen tanks destroyed. Meanwhile to the north of Stalingrad, the Russians, maintaining their counter-offensive, scored a further advance, killing 7,000 Germans and destroying 57 tanks in two days. Renewed attacks by the Germans in the Mozdok and Novorossiisk sectors were repulsed.

Change in Naval Command . . .

An important week-end development in the war in the South Pacific was the announcement by the United States Department of the Navy of a change in naval command, sixty-year old Admiral William S. Halsey, hero of Midway Island and other important engagements, taking over command in the southern Pacific from Vice-Admiral Robert Lee Gorley, aged 59, who has been suddenly relieved. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz continues as naval commander-in-chief for the whole Pacific area. The implications of the sudden change of command in the southern Pacific are at the moment not clear. It probably has some bearing on the progress of affairs in the Solomon Islands area.

Another Blow by Navy . . .

The United States Navy with a task force delivered a new blow on Saturday against the Japanese in the Gilbert Islands 1,100 miles northeast of Guadalcanal. Two Japanese patrol vessels were sunk and a destroyer and merchant ship damaged. Meanwhile, Guadalcanal area was still quiet with both sides apparently jockeying for position in early expected heavy action which may be the vital phase in the Solomon Islands Battle.

Still Attacking Rabaul . . .

General Douglas MacArthur's Allied bombers continue the aerial assault on Rabaul, important Japanese-occupied port on the north coast of New Britain. On Sunday a Japanese gunboat was sunk and three transports damaged or sunk. Flying fortresses attacked a 17,000-tonne Japanese seaplane tender Saturday morning, leaving the vessel burning fiercely and presumably doomed to complete destruction. This followed a previous raid on New Britain when ten Japanese vessels, including a heavy cruiser and other Japanese naval craft, were sunk or damaged. Lae on New Guinea was also attacked by Allied bombers. In the land fighting on New Guinea Australian forces on the northern slopes of Owen Stanley Mountains continued to pound ahead within ten miles of strategic Japanese-held Kokoda against stronger artillery resistance by the Japanese.

Port Darwin Bombed Again . . .

Ten Japanese bombing planes attacked Port Darwin, northern Australian port, but did little damage.

Many Jan Vessels Sunk . . .

The United States Department of the Navy announces that since Pearl Harbor on December 7 American submarines have sunk seventy-nine Japanese vessels and sunk or damaged 42 more in Pacific waters from Australia to Alaska and along the China coast. Only three United States submarines have failed to return to their bases while a fourth was destroyed near Tahiti to prevent it falling into enemy hands.

PRECISION BOMBING—HERE'S WHAT IT MEANS

The marshalling yard, in railway centre of Rouen, France, vital nerve centre of Nazi supply system, is the target for some very neat bombing of American flying Fortress bombers. Using the U.S. secret bombsight, the bombardiers plant their deadly eggs just where they will do the most good. Bursts tell where the bombs cut rail lines, blasted freight sheds and wrecked trains.

BATTLE OF SOLOMONS IS RAGING

Big British Cities Are Warned By Eminent Scientist

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, eminent British scientist, warns that Great Britain may expect large scale gas attacks from Germany which has large quantities of gas in reserve for chemical warfare. Such cities as London and Birmingham may expect gas attacks which would probably come early on winter nights. There would be resumption of heavy bombing of Britain and new horrors this winter, Haldane predicted.

The United States Navy reported that Japanese troops, aided by tanks and heavy artillery, assaulted American lines on the island five times Friday night and Saturday morning but were hurled back each time by marines and soldiers. The latest report was that on Sunday additional enemy troops were landed.

The aerial offensive under both United States Navy and Australian command was credited with likely hits on six Japanese fighting ships and three supply vessels in the Solomons area.

The American air force in China, having smashed Japanese installations in the north last week, hit Hong Kong in the south yesterday and today. The latest attack destroyed the north point power station of the captive crown colony.

Twenty-one of thirty-six Japanese planes which attacked Guadalcanal yesterday were brought down.

SALES ARE CUT DOWN

Liquor Rationed at One Bottle a Day in Ontario

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—Effective as from today, individual purchases of liquor are limited to one bottle per day. This applies to whisky, brandy, rum and gin.

A government statement says there are indications of hoarding. There are ample supplies of all varieties of liquor.

CARPETS TAKE RAP

LONDON, Oct. 26.—You can't get carpets cleaned in London now because cleaning materials must be kept for refurbishing clothes.

SWISS MILLIONAIRES

ZURICH, Switzerland, Oct. 26.—Statistics show 800 millionaires living in Zurich but the currency considerably affects the financial standing of the "millionaire." For instance, a Rumanian, with 1,000,000 lei has the equivalent of $5,355.

HONG KONG IS BOMBED

First Air Attack by Allied Planes

On Former British Port

HONG KONG, Oct. 26.—Eight large Allied planes dropped incendiaries on Hong Kong Sunday. The planes, believed to be American, dropped their missiles from high altitude. Warehouses and shops were left in ruins. The raids by the Allied planes were repeated today.

It was the first air attack on Hong Kong by the Allies since the occupation. The Japanese claim to have repulsed the raiders, shooting down one while another was seen heading groundward in smoke.

Overruns Axis Lines to a Depth of Two Miles at Some Points — Rommel is Unable to Close Gaps

CAIRO, Oct. 26 (CP) — Allied planes, ruling the Egyptians skies, hammered ceaselessly at Axis forces today as the attacking Army of the Nile battled to widen wedges driven into main enemy defences in the first phase of the all-out British offensive.

Cairo dispatches published in London newspapers said that British troops had overrun two Axis lines in one sector in a two-mile advance and were attacking a third. Enemy defences in this zone are said to be about four miles deep.

A communiqué from British headquarters this morning placed emphasis on aerial blows against the enemy and declared that Marshal Erwin Rommel's attempts to close gaps in his lines had failed.

British bombers scored a direct hit on an Axis merchant ship at Tobruk yesterday.

Over Malta, three attacking Axis planes were brought down and three British planes were lost.

ELEANOR GREETED

Wife of President Receiving Fine Reception in Britain—Promises Socks and Mail

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was greeted with affectionate cries of "Hello Eleanor" when she visited American soldiers.

She promised the soldiers thicker socks and faster mail service from home.

German infantry moved into the assault in the factory area with tanks leading the way but the Russians reported that artillery fire had decimated and put to flight an entire enemy regiment. The Russians then launched an attack to drive the Germans from ground gained the day before.

Three thousand Nazis are reported slain in street fighting during the week-end at Stalingrad. Three hundred German soldiers were found dead in trenches and dugouts north of Stalingrad.

On Saturday Mrs. Roosevelt visited St. Paul's Cathedral and air raid shelters, being accompanied by the King and Queen.

As she left Buckingham Palace yesterday to visit a Red Cross centre, Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied to the entrance by the King, Queen and the two princesses. The Queen leaned forward and kissed Mrs. Roosevelt on the cheek as she left.

Conservatives Favor Collective Bargaining, Jap Repatriation And Orderly Demobilization

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26.—A. E. Jukes of Vancouver was elected president of the British Columbia Conservative Association at the annual meeting here on Saturday, succeeding Howard Green, M.P. for Vancouver South.

The convention endorsed resolutions supporting collective bargaining, urging repatriation of Japanese to their homeland after the war and asking that no man or woman be demobilized from the armed forces after the war until they can be absorbed into gainful employment.

New Company Here...

The British Columbia Bridge & Dredging Co. has taken over important contracts at Prince Rupert and will play an important part in connection with the activity of the city for some time to come. The company and its officials will be welcomed here and will find the citizens co-operative in every way possible in assisting and facilitating the progress of extensive and vital work that is to be undertaken, giving substantial employment and distributing a large payroll.

It is gratifying enough that one of the first acts of the new company here, as announced today, is to institute an internal Victory Loan canvass among its employees with objective of $125,000.

Frederick Van Antwerp, general superintendent, and his associate executives, Robert L. Carter, divisional superintendent; R. J. Mandell, personnel manager; Crawford Moore, general office manager, and Major E. B. Barker, superintendent of camps, are to be congratulated on the Victory Loan gesture.

Women Can Do Much...

Thousands of women in Canada stretched their penises to the limit—and they did it cheerfully—in those lean days when every cent had to be made to count.

They could do it now, too, with a triple purpose. First, today means not only helping win the war; it will not only help to stabilize economic conditions in Canada so that our country will remain financially sound, but individually our thrift will provide a nest-egg for post-war days.

Many saved and scrimped in those days because it was necessary for survival. Well, it's another case of survival today. Either we survive and maintain our way of living, or we become obliterated beneath the heel of the oppressor. It is one or the other.

Women in England have fought many of the fires caused by the blitz; they have manned the guns. They have set a fine example. The women of Canada have everything to gain and nothing to lose if they face the period ahead with the idea not of living up to the Joneses, but making a thrifter way of life seem so important that the Joneses will live down to them.

If we lose this war, we lose all. Help by investing in Victory Bonds.

War Not Over Yet...

Germany may be like a wormy apple—hard on the outside and rotten to the core. The red surface, the Army and the Gestapo, still looks hard and strong—but the centre, which is the civilian front, is being eaten away we hear. The Army is strong, well-equipped and tough—the Gestapo large, brutal and effective. But internally Germany may be decaying. Her morale is low and going lower. Health is declining and production has passed its zenith. But, are we to jump to the conclusion that the war will soon be over? . . . That German resistance will collapse without serious reverses? . . . That bombing alone will do it?

No! This would be the most dangerous conclusion on earth. It would plunge us straight into Germany's propaganda trap.

And here in this part of the country we still have the Japanese to contend with. Quite possibly they are in better shape than the Germans today.

SPORT CHAT

In England the boys who follow the ponies point to the King's filly Sun Chariot as the wonder horse of the year but neutral Elie has a great racer, too. It's too bad they never will meet because Elie's Windsor Slipper has followed Sun Chariot's example in winning three classics this season. Now, at the age of three, both have been retired to stud.

Unbeaten in a two-year career, Joseph McGrath's Windsor Slipper wasn't extended in the Irish 2,000 Guineas, had virtually a walkover in taking the Irish Derby in record time, and ended a brilliant showing by scampering home a 10-length winner in the recent Irish St. Leger. The last classic, worth 1,600 sovereigns, was over a mile and six furlong course at The Curragh. Eight started the St. Leger with the winner running at 100 to 8 on. Miss Dorothy Paget's Fort Osway was second. Windsor Slipper, bred by the late Lord Furness, is by Windsor Lad, 1934 winner of the English Derby, out of Carpet Slipper. His owner paid approximately $66,000 for Carpet Slipper, a record price for a brood mare.

Decision to retire Sun Chariot as a brood mare came as a surprise to most. Sources close to the King's stable said previously she most likely would remain in training for another season. Capt. Charles Moore, the King's racing manager, also announced that Big Game, who carried His Majesty's colors to victory in the 2,000 Guineas but failed badly in the Derby, also will go to stud. Both will stay in England for the present, later returning to the National Stud in County Kildare, Elie, from which they were leased by the King for their racing careers.

The two made Royal racing history by winning four of the five classic races this season. Each was defeated but once in two-year careers and their victories this season placed the King at the head of the winning owners with triumphs in nine races having a total stake value of approximately $46,000. In normal years the amount would have been about three times that figure.

A proportion of the King's winnings pour into the government treasury since the National Stud, presented to the people of Britain during the First Great War, receives a share. As if retirement of Sun Chariot and Big Game wasn't enough, the King lost another racer when two-year-old Levity broke a fetlock during a practice gallop at Newmarket and was destroyed.

Hints for wartime living from folk who ought to know

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 — More are a poor buy. Your right hand wartime hints for the housewife is usually larger than your left, stationed on the home front. Never rely on being fitted to a RAISINS—Raisins are back on former glove size. Glove sizes like shoes vary according to the company that makes them. The finger ends of cloth gloves won't wear out so quickly if you place a small piece of tissue paper in the very end to protect the fabric from your finger nails.

IRON—Some women have been wondering how to take the best care of their Irons. Byrne Hope Sanders, Mrs. Consumer of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, has the following suggestions to make. Never let your iron fall. Remove the starch from the sole plate by wiping with a damp cloth. Make a habit of rubbing the bottom with beeswax or paraffin now and then and polishing with a soft cloth. Don't jerk the cord. See that all the screws are tight as they will be increasingly harder to replace as time goes on.

CHEESE DAINTIES—Have you got a pair of scissors handy? Clip this out for your recipe folder as a sugar saver. It comes from Laura Pepper, chief of the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture. Take 1½ cups sifted cake flour, one-quarter of a pound of cream cheese, one-quarter of cup of sugar and one tablespoon caraway seeds (optional). Sift flour and salt together. Cream shortening and cheese and blend in sugar. Gradually stir in flour. Shape in two-inch rolls, wrap in wax paper and chill thoroughly in refrigerator. Slice thinly. Sprinkle lightly with caraway seeds and bake at 400 degrees Fahrenheit for about six minutes.

LAUNDERING—Here are a few hints for the busy wife who wants to save her family's clothes and her linen by washing them herself. Bring your clothes in immediately they are dry. Experiment has shown that sunlight can be injurious to them. If you live in a manufacturing centre, hang your clothes indoors during the cold season. The sulphur dioxide in the smoky air combines with the cold air to form sulphuric acid when absorbed by the wet clothes. This is harmful to the fabric when it is ironed.

GLOVES—Like everything else these days, you need to select your gloves carefully. You may have to wear them a long time. Remember these tips from those who know when you buy your next pair. Make sure they fit, small gloves

Letter Box

"LOTHARIO" AGAIN

Editor, Daily News:
Just a few lines to reply to "Dad"—in the published photos alluded to were the words "Lotharios do their stuff." It showed a crowd of men shoving fistfuls of ten dollar bills towards socialites and Hollywood beauties who appeared to be handling back fistfuls of paper documents distinctly marked "War Bonds" and getting a kiss or giving one. I used the nom-de-plume "Lothario" forgetting for the moment the historical or classical association attached to the name but if Lothario did nothing worse than buy war bonds or the old time equivalent he could not have been such a bad guy at that.

And now, Mr. Editor, I must apologize to you for having used your sedate columns for such a frivolous subject as kissing and I hope neither you or the fair members of your staff were dreadfully shocked—not much anyway.

I would never have written the silly letter if I had thought I was going to raise such a storm. I further hope that it did no more harm than to raise a few giggles among the girls of this very "goody goody" city.

To "Dad" I would say I am neither a draft dodger nor a tax dodger. I get soaked pretty well in taxes which I certainly do not begrudge the government.

I will change my nom de plume if you like to

OVER FIFTY PERCENT IN LOAN DRIVE

Looks Like Big Oversubscription In Prince Rupert is Coming Up

Prince Rupert's Third Victory Loan campaign went over the half way mark by the end of the first week and sixth day on Saturday, the total subscriptions up to that evening being placed at $21,450 or fifty-two percent of the objective of $530,000. The subscriptions for Saturday amounted to $24,600.

With a large number of large company subscriptions pledged and the response to the appeal of the general canvass steadily mounting, those in charge of the loan organization here are not concerned any longer about reaching the objective but are intent on making the oversubscription as substantial as possible.

There is every indication now that Prince Rupert will go "away over the top."

QUINTS ON LOAN TRIP

Dionne Girls Are Spending Three Days in Toronto

CALLANDER, Ont., Oct. 26: — For the second time in their short but outstanding career the Dionne quintuplets left their home here when they travelled on a Canadian National Railways train enroute to Toronto. First occasion of their departure from home was in 1939 when they went to the queen city to visit the King and Queen. Canada's famous sisters are going to Toronto to give their support to the third Victory Loan and will make their debut on a public platform at a big Victory Loan rally being presented at Maple Leaf Gardens today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

The quints, who wore charming red, white, and navy blue outfits, boarded the Canadian National train, each carrying matched little bags bearing their individual names. They have been eagerly looking forward to the journey and had everyone up early in the morning with their chatter.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Dionne, Therese, Pauline and Victoria, mother and sisters of the quints, Father LaFrance, the parish priest, four nuns, Miss Lillian Barkay, Mrs. Dionne's travelling companion and Keith Munro, business manager, accompanied the children. Three special Canadian National Railways officials also travelled with the party to facilitate the trip.

The Victory Loan campaign in Prince Rupert zest a substantial boost with the announcement that an internal canvass is being instituted of the employees of the British Columbia Bridge and Dredging Co. which has taken over important construction contracts locally, the objective being $125,000.

Not the least enthusiastic of this company's Victory Bond purchasers are the Chinese employees who have conceived the interesting idea of naming Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as the beneficiary of their purchases for the nationalist government of China.

Hitler and Hirohito have Great Plans for Canada

• Yes, all Canada's great resources . . . her wheat fields, her forests, her factories . . . could be put to wonderful use by the ruthless bully-boys from Germany, by the polite little savages from Japan.

And Canada's boundless acres would provide plenty of living room . . . for the Germans and the Japs.

But what of the Canadians? The answer is simple when you think what happened and is still happening to the Poles, the Greeks, the Yugo-Slavs—and all the others . . . in terms of slow starvation, slave labor, mass executions.

Every time a hard-working Canadian man or woman buys a Victory Bond, the plans of Hitler and Hirohito receive a set-back. The more you save and lend . . . the more certain you help make it that our enemies shall never put their greedy claws on Canada.

AIR FORCE HAS PAPER

House Organ of Flier Unit Around East Coast Aims to be Morale Builder

By FRANK LOWE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN AIR BASE, Oct. 26 (C) — "Depth Charge" is the name of the newspaper published at this Royal Canadian Air Force station, and it packs a wallop like its lethal namesake.

Sixteen pages of explosive news, the paper comes out once a month, edited by FO. C. H. Schapiro of Yarmouth, N.S., a writer whose articles have appeared in most of the leading Canadian newspapers and periodicals. But backer of the paper is the commanding officer himself.

Group Captain N. S. MacGregor of Hamilton, Ont., believes a station periodical is a "morale builder" — has believed so for years. He was the man who started the Air Force's first publication, "Boom," and when that squadron moved from here, taking "Boom" with them he immediately began to put out "Depth Charge." The name was chosen by Sqd. Ldr. Arthur Kenyon of Ottawa, now stationed in Halifax.

Wields Blue Pencil
It's no unusual sight to see this busy officer wielding a blue pencil as he reads proofs, but it is Mr. Schapiro who does most of the work. So far he has put out three issues, and is looking forward to seeing the fourth materialize "if only something will happen that is worth writing about."

His reporter at large is Flt. Sgt. D. F. Moors while the rest of his permanent staff is made up of Flt. Sgt. Harry Shore of Hamilton, Ont., advertising manager; Cpl. Jack Pettef of Yarmouth, treasurer; and PO. C. A. Cramp of Toronto, sports editor.

Pictures are scattered profusely through each issue, all taken by the station photographic department, and all concerning events that have taken place on the field.

Demand for the paper exceeds the output. Every month 1,750 issues are rolled off the presses, but the cry goes up for more. Every airman gets a free issue. Spare ones, if any, are taken to a nearby town and sold on newsstands for a nickel a copy.

They go like hot cakes, too, mainly because it is maliciously rumored—or the gossip columns that tag the doings of the men. Local girl friends snatch the issues to find out what that guy of theirs was doing the night he had to work.

"Pacific Milk goes further, even diluted with water, it is still like cream in tea and coffee." One reason of this fine condition is its extra richness. Mrs. C. refers to this, but an additional factor, and a big one, is the vacuum seal which preserves all the natural purity of the milk.

CAMP LUNCH
IS ENJOYEDRepresentative Party Entertained
By R.C. Bridge and Dredging
Company

Representatives of the Canadian and United States services, citizens of Prince Rupert, the local Victory Loan organization and the press were guests of the British Columbia Bridge and Dredging Co., which has taken over important local war contracts in this area, at a delightful luncheon in the mess room of the company's new camp on Acropolis Hill Sunday afternoon. Major P. J. Mandell, personnel manager for the company, was host for the occasion and Major F. B. Barker, superintendent of camps for the company, was responsible for general arrangements.

The guests were thus given a first hand glimpse of the fine provisions which have been made for the messing the large number of men who are in the employ of the company on projects here, which number is about to be doubled. It was a full course turkey dinner with all the dressing served in the typical camp manner. White help is used exclusively by this company in its catering arrangements.

The Midlands Band, through the courtesy of Lieut. Col. J. C. Gamey, officer commanding, was in attendance and played enlivening airs during the course of the meal.

The guests at the luncheon included Col. D. B. Martyn, area commandant at Prince Rupert; Lieut. Col. J. C. Gamey, officer commanding, Midlands; Col. Adams, officer commanding, American forces; Capt. Downes and Lt. Mortimer, representing the United States Engineers; Lieut. David Melville, Midlands; Lieut. Reynolds, Royal Canadian Navy; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Platen, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Boulter, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Miller, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Moore, Mrs. L. M. Gordon, Nursing Sister Hay, Magistrate W. D. Vance, Geoffrey Wootten, W. D. Lambie, Richmond Mortimer, D. G. Borland, Bruce Stevens, Constable Pyper, R.C.M.P.; and the Misses Betty Borland, Betty Miller, Isabel Connery and Ina Roberson.

The four young ladies of the Red Cross Service Corps were introduced by Mr. Mandell as the "Misses Canada." They were dressed in uniforms of blue skirts, white blouses, red aprons and blue caps.

Guides.

When war broke out, the Girl Guides Association didn't have much changing to do to fit their training to wartime conditions. They already had first aid, child care, signalling (morse and semaphore), cooking and map reading. All that was done was to lay more stress on these courses. And the Guides responded willingly.

There are few Guides who can't tell you how to cook outdoors under blitz conditions how to take care of minor injuries; the proper care and feeding of infants; and since this summer's call for youth helpers on Canadian farms, there mitts, dressing gowns, blankets, complete layettes, shelter shoes, shelter bags and pillows, hankies, gloves, etc.

But that isn't all. About a year and a half ago, the National War Project for both Guides and Brownies (aged 6-11) was formulated. Each company was made responsible for making toys and clothes for the bomb victims in England. All work was to be completely voluntary, and was to be done by the Guides themselves. Since then Guide companies all over Canada have donated 29,342 articles including sweaters, dresses, company sends its donation to its provincial headquarters, which up to scratch organized parties, packs and sorts it, and in turn, concerts and cooking sales and sends the provincial donation to the War Project. On top of that, last year's Dominion headquarters in Toronto netted enough that $1,700 was sent overseas in good, hard land where it is distributed to cash. The Cookie Day idea is now those parts of England most in spreading all over Canada.

The point is that young Canada is behind its war effort 100 percent.

NEWS WANT ADD

• Yes, thinking a lot, lately—and now I'm going to do something. But first, let me tell you about my thinking. I'm typical of thousands of Canadians. I'm approaching middle age . . . married . . . have children (they're almost old enough to join the armed forces) . . . and I have a steady job and a fair income.

For three years I've been, theoretically, "at war"—but until now I haven't been really in it. I've followed the war (that's right, "followed" is the word!)—followed it daily—in my newspapers.

I cursed the Germans over Rotterdam . . . despaired at the Fall of France . . . thrilled at the story of Dunkirk . . . shuddered at the Battle of Britain . . . then cheered the R.A.F. when the Luftwaffe turned tail in defeat. And I remember that historic Sunday, December 7th, when the Japs came in.

No need to go on, you see how keenly (!) interested in the war was I. During this time I was doing my bit, too. (Don't laugh!) I bought a few War Savings Certificates—and, by Jove! during the last Victory Loan this year I actually bought a Bond (like throwing a penny on the Drum!) You see, in this way of following the war, my own way of life, and that of thousands like me, was pretty well untouched.

Then one day I saw myself in the true light . . . a spectator outside the arena, while the peril was being fought off for me by others. I began to see those perils . . . possible defeat . . . cruelty, slavery, desolation . . . my loved ones, my Canada, my home and my possessions, all that I cherish, destroyed at the hands of the Nazis and the Japs.

At last I did some serious thinking. Like a sudden shock came the resolve. Canada needs—the crisis demands—that I do something. I'm not in the fighting line, so I must get behind those who are. I must send them guns, and tanks, and planes, and ships.

So my wife and I spent hours at the week-end, figuring on a new budgeting of our income. We're going to change our way of life, to help prevent the Nazis changing it for us. We're going to cut out every unnecessary expenditure, and cut down many of the necessary ones, too, in order to lend all the money we can to Canada.

I'm going to buy VICTORY BONDS, not alone because it is a splendid investment, but because—as you see—"I've been thinking . . . now I'll DO SOMETHING! I'll do my utmost in helping to put the new Victory Loan ($750,000,000) over the top."

HOW TO BUY—Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hand of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.
