Japanese Gaining In Java

Allies Outnumbered By Enemy; Suffer Heavy Sea Blow

Signs Ominous. It Is Indicated by Bulletin From Netherlands East Indies Headquarters—Change in Naval Command.

LONDON, March 4: (CP)—The Japanese scored new gains against outnumbered Allied troops in the Battle of Java today and the danger became so acute that Netherlands headquarters announced that a major part of the scorched earth defence policy had already been carried out. Netherlands headquarters in London said that only about 50,000 Allied troops, including a few thousand American and British, were fighting at least 85,000 Japanese and united nations naval forces had suffered a crippling blow in attempting to halt the Japanese invasion fleet.

Hotel Head Dies

JOSEPH VAN WYCK

General Manager of Canadian National Railways' hotels, who died suddenly in Vancouver. Mr. Van Wyck formerly managed the Chateau Laurier, famed hostelry of the Dominion capital at Ottawa.

ALL OUT ON JAVA BY JAPS

More Intensive Assault on Burma Also Intended—Port Darwin Bombed Again

BATAVIA, March 4:—The Japanese, it is evident today, are preparing for more intensive assault than ever on Java and Burma.

Demolition is being carried out in Burma by the British as little hope is held that it will be possible to withstand much further attack.

The strategic northern Australian port of Darwin has been subjected to another raid but no details are given as to the result.

MUCH MORE MONEY NEED

With $600,000,000 Now Subscribed, Victory Loan Aim Is Now $900,000,000

OTTAWA, March 4:—The minimum objective of $600,000,000 in the Second Victory Loan campaign has been reached but Hon. J. L. Iisley, the minister of finance, says that $900,000,000 or more is needed. The campaign has four days yet to go.

LOAN HERE MOUNTING

Fine Response to Canvass at Dry Dock Reported.

Up to the close of business last night, Victory Loan subscriptions in Prince Rupert had reached a total of $597,100 from a total of 1638 subscribers.

Word from the Portland Canal district was that a total of $38,850 had been reached there, this being 172 percent of quota.

During the past few days canvass has been proceeding at the dry dock with excellent response from the workers there, approximately 403 applications having so far been made.

OLD BOATS OPERATING

NELSON, March 4:—The two old steel vessels, Minto and Moyle, are the only two stern wheelers boats still in active service on the Arrow and Kootenay Lakes respectively. They are the last of a long line of such boats which figured in the early romance, glamor and rush of the pioneer days in the Kootenays.

Oddly enough neither the Minto or the Moyle were originally intended for service on these lakes. They had been fabricated in Toronto for service on the Stikine River during the Cassiar gold rush. However, they were diverted by the Canadian Pacific Railway as connecting links in the southern British Columbia transportation service of those days and never saw the north.

PATTULLO IS COMING SOON

Local Member Is Due Here Two Weeks From Today

T. D. Pattullo, M. L. A. for Prince Rupert, will arrive from Victoria on March 18 to pay a visit to his constituents and attend the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association that night. It will be Mr. Pattullo's first visit here since he relinquished the premiership.

British Bombers Strike At Paris

LONDON, March 4:—The Royal Air Force last night made its first bombing attack on the Paris area since the collapse of France. It was a two-hour raid during which explosives were dropped on airdromes and industrial plants. The raid was interpreted as a demonstration against Vichy collaboration with the Axis in assisting to equip the enemy war machine. Semi-official sources in Vichy said 600 were killed in the raid.

FREE NETHERLANDS IS VERY STRONG FACTOR IN CAUSE OF ALLIES

Much of Country's Wealth Escaped From Nazis With Leaders and Is Lined Up With Anglo-Saxon Nations.

By HAROLD FAIR Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 4: (CP)—Every Netherlands man, ship and glider to escape Nazi clutches has been thrown into the war against the Axis by the country's exiled government in London. Major concern of the administration since the finding a substitute capital here in 1940 has been to "get on with the war" so that Queen Wilhelmina's subjects may once more resume their peaceful pursuits.

RAILWAYMEN BUY BONDS

Employees of C.N.R. Subscribe Three Million to Victory Loan.

MONTREAL, March 4:—Employees of the Canadian National Railways and affiliated companies throughout the Dominion have so far subscribed $3,081,050 to the Victory Loan, according to a report made to R. C. Vaughan, president, by D. C. Grant, vice-president of the campaign for the National system. This is in addition to the amount subscribed by the employees' pension fund.

The report made public at the headquarters of the railway here today stated that so far 31,875 employees have subscribed.

The canvass is continuing and will be maintained until every individual worker on the system has received a personal solicitation to aid in Canada's war effort by the purchase of bonds.

Of the total subscribed by Canadian National employees $1,603,300 was contributed under the payroll deduction plan.

Japs Leaving Ocean Falls

Japanese employees at the Pacific Mills plant at Ocean Falls are being evacuated from there. The number is said to total about 450. Some of them arrived here on the Prince Rupert this morning. Others will be going to Vancouver.

Mrs. Sam Ferguson and child returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from a two weeks' trip to Vancouver. Mrs. Ferguson is the wife of Constable Ferguson of the city police.

Weekly Meetings.

Once a week they meet. Prof. Gerbrandy in one of these two Mayfair office buildings devoted to Netherlands activities and carry on as if still in The Hague, although government is by royal decree because there is no parliament. All decisions must be approved by the Queen—and the stout-hearted woman who refused to bow to Hitler won't sign unless she is sure of a measure's value.

The 58-year-old premier, who is also minister of justice, heads a strong, united cabinet and the government is aided in its work by several senior civil servants, ordered to come to London when the Queen decided to govern from here.

The government meets the British government as an equal and collaboration is close, particularly in colonial and economic matters. It stands independent of British aid, however, because the entire Netherlands war effort is financed by wealth from the colonies, a 20 percent income tax on Netherlands subjects throughout the free world and revenue from the merchant marine, most of which escaped the Nazis.

Working Premier

Gerbrandy, a man of simple tastes whose London home is a bed room and sitting room in a small hotel, has much legal work besides that involved in general direction of affairs. This includes labor entailed by legislation, passed before the government left the Netherlands, permitting companies to transfer registered offices abroad. That served to keep such concerns as shipping and oil companies from falling under German control.

In foreign affairs, he has at his call the experience of Dr. E. N. Van Kléffens, 48-year-old foreign minister who is trained as a diplomat.

Post-war reconstruction plans also figure in governmental activities and another important job is maintaining the homeland's morale through various underground channels.

BRITISH AIR FORCE TO ATTACK GERMANY IN SPRING CAMPAIGN

Bombing Blows Will Synchronize Against Russia—Minister Makes Statement

LONDON, March 4: (CP)—Sir Stanley Sinclair, minister of air, declared today that the British Air Force will synchronize hard blows at German industry and transport with an expected Nazi spring offensive in Russia and will demonstrate superiority over the German air force in the "not distant future." At the same time he served notice that Great Britain would not allow German production of tanks and tank engines, airplane engines and lorries to go unhindered merely because it is situated in occupied territory of France. Last night's attack on industrial targets in Paris suburbs, in which he said some buildings had been blown hundreds of feet into the air, represented no change in Royal Air Force policy.

REPLACING PERSONNEL

Fighting Nazi Submarines Continuous Job, Says First Lord of Admiralty.

CARDIFF, March 4:—Thousands of Germany's best submarine personnel have been sent to the bottom or taken prisoner, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, said in an address at Cardiff.

Strength of the British Navy is growing but because of the German building capacity and the wide range of their naval bases, the battle with the submarines is continuous, the minister said. "Nevertheless, a heavy toll is being taken and it seems clear to us that one of the great problems of the enemy is to man their new submarines with efficiently trained crews," he added.

Destruction of Sub
Mr. Alexander told of the destruction last year of the submarine U-100, commanded by Schepke, one of the Nazis' ace commanders.

"He left Kiel in order to attack a convoy and when he came in the area he dived and remained submerged until darkness when a British destroyer appeared out of the mist," he said. "After dark he came up again, but the destroyer was still on the scene and Schepke dived again.

"A depth charge attack drove him out of his position and he surfaced astern of the convoy. He believed the escort would be out of position, but it was stronger than he knew. Three destroyers sighted him and closed for the attack.

"Schepke crash-dived, but too late. Depth charges smashed his lights as the U-boat dived deeper with the crew in pitch darkness. In a second attack his pumps were put out of action, air was escaping and water was coming into the bilges. Deeper went the submarine.

Schepke was a determined man. The battle went on for three hours with U-100 helpless, but only because the destroyers were waiting for the kill. Eventually the U-boat surfaced to find a destroyer going full speed ahead to ram him.

"Too late Schepke saw what was coming. He shouted order to abandon ship, but as the crew hurried on deck scrambling into life-belts the crash came. It was only possible to save six of her crew."

OTTAWA, March 4:—Hon. J. L. Iisley, minister of finance, gave notice today of a war appropriations bill amounting to $2,000,000,000 covering the year ending March 31, 1943. In the last budget address he placed $1,450,000,000 which was nearly double the previous year.

High Average Subscriptions

BIG GUNS IN ACTION

PUCK RACE IS CLOSE

Rangers Move Point Ahead of Toronto While Boston Moves Up on Leafs.

NEW YORK, March 4:—New York Rangers, playing a 4-all draw with the Brooklyn Americans in Madison Square Garden last night, improved their margin of National League leadership to three points over Toronto Maple Leafs who were losing a 5 to 3 decision to the third-place Boston Bruins at Boston. The tie put the Americans into even terms with Montreal Canadiens for sixth place or the cellar.

The schedule calls for the following games tomorrow night: Montreal vs. Toronto; Chicago vs. Brooklyn; New York vs. Detroit.

DAILY EDITION WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1942

War Losing Activities . . .

There have been a lot of complaints the last few days about the lawless behaviour of a number of young men, some of them wearing the King's uniform. These may be looked upon as pranks but they are very annoying to law-abiding citizens. The Christian Science Monitor of recent date deals with activities of a number of civilians in the United States which applies just as much to this country as to across the line. It says:

"There are splendid and hopeful things moving in America today, but from the front lines—from China after four years of war; from unbowed Czechoslovakia; from Britain which held the fort of freedom almost alone after France fell; from Russia, where stubborn peasants have turned back the full might of the Nazi war machine; from heroic Yugoslavia and starving Greece; from all the occupied but unconquered countries; from Burma, Australia and Java; from Bataan, indeed from any front where men fight and beg for arms to fight with—how does America look today?"

"For the Congressional 'fight' about a 'dancer and Donald Duck' is unhappily a small part of the bickering and apathy.

"While MacArthur fights, some Americans are—
"Scrambling to get an extra pound of sugar; striking for a closed shop; hoarding silk stockings; demanding excessive profits on war contracts.

"While MacArthur fights, some Americans are—"Making a pink tea or a political football out of local civilian defense projects; aiding spies and saboteurs, purposely or thoughtlessly; insisting on the forty-hour week; resisting measures to pool industrial equipment and speed war production.

"While MacArthur fights, some Americans are—
"Keeping incompetents in office through personal or party loyalty; talking about withdrawing the fleet to protect coast cities; palavering about pensions or far price parity.

"While MacArthur fights some Americans are—
"Moaning about tires or 'gas' rationing; making political capital out of plans to relieve MacArthur; sowing dissension within the nation or suspicion of Allies; playing Hitler's game by pushing petty, personal prejudices or party interests in any way that hampers a united, resolute effort to win the war.

"Here for the sake of further awakening Americans we present a list of negative, war-losing activities. Some readers will be able to add others from their own experience. Happily, however, each of us can also name positive, war-winning activities that will make a longer list. That second list will be lengthened still farther if Americans have the imagination to ask whether they would like the boys on Bataan—or in any other front line—to tune in on their daily doings."

Fresh Fish Scarce . . .

The authorities in Ottawa seem to forget that fresh fish is almost as difficult to obtain in the Pacific seaports as it is in the interior. The only sure way of getting fish is to go out and catch it. It is illegal to offer salmon or halibut for sale during the restricted period. We shall be glad to send our canned fish to England but that is the only way some of us can get fish just at present.

Make It a Billion . . .

The subscriptions to the Victory Loan are reported to be at the six hundred million mark set as the quota but money is needed and needed badly for war purposes and the administration would like to make it a billion dollars. That seems rather high but if we as a country can approach near that mark we shall have done well. Let's try anyway.

NEEDLES AND PINS

No Shortage Just Now But There May Be Yet

Needles and pins. Pins and needles. They are made of steel and steel means ships and tanks, shells and guns, so the time may come when there is a shortage of them in Canada.

Although there is no very evident shortage now, the fact that many beauty parlors in eastern Canada are asking their patrons to bring their own hairpins with them, points to a reduction in available supplies.

"Save hair pins, needles, curlers and metal fastenings—treasure them, for the time may come when women will rue the day they threw them out." This is the advice of a British visitor who knows what real shortage means.

THE KING'S DINNERS
SANDRINGHAM, March 4: ☉—Hot mid-day meals cooked in a mobile canteen provided by the King are distributed to workers on the royal estate.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
LOST—Red change purse with $13. Finder please leave at The Daily News.

"Grovel on the bedroom floor to collect that dropped bobby pin; examine the contents of the dust pan for stray pins; keep needles where they will not rust and clean those already rusted with emery cloth or powder. Don't throw away fastenings along with old clothing and take zippers from worn-out handbags and tobacco pouches," is her advice.

By the way, with an eye to the future it might be well too, to experiment with a hair-do that stays in place with a ribbon or the minimum amount of hairpins.

LOOK FOR SPRING IN ANTICOSTI

Island in St. Lawrence, a Trapper's Paradise, Awaits Ships to Carry Away Season's Catch.

PORT MENIER, Anticosti Island, March 4: ☉—Five hundred residents of this island far down the Gulf of St. Lawrence are awaiting the spring breakup that will bring the first ship of the year to the Quebec island of Anticosti, loaded with supplies of all descriptions and ready to take away to the Canadian market Anticosti's winter catch of furs!

The last ship of the season called here December 23 and the first of the new year usually arrives around mid-March, depending on ice conditions. In the interval, Anticosti's only link with the mainland, aside from wireless (teleg)raph, is the fortnightly airplane service from Rimouski, Que., with mail and the occasional passenger.

Not that the residents of this 150-mile island have suffered from their enforced isolation, for there has been plenty of work for all. About 300 of the population are concentrated here at Port Menier where the men are employed on maintenance work, the making and repairing of boats for the spring fishing and the reconditioning of motors.

Here are located a well-equipped machine shop, a market, a community recreation centre, the island's only general store and a fleet of serviceable motorboats used for coastal patrol, salmon fishing and the embarkation and debarkation of fishermen from the ship that will make regular trips throughout the summer. The vessel is unable to approach the shore because of the dangerous reefs that ring the island.

Mid-March Trek
The remaining 200 inhabitants are scattered along the coastline of the island, engaged in patrol, air observation work, and fox trapping. Theirs is a lonelier lot, with snowshoes the only means of travel during the winter, and a monthly snowshoe mail service from Port Menier. Letters only, no parcels, are carried on the windswept postal route.

But soon the spring breakup will be here, and from all parts of the island the trappers will bundle up their winter catch of furs and trek to Port Menier. The man at the far end of the island will start first, picking up others as he comes along until the whole group reaches Port Menier together sometime after mid-March.

The trappers are never out of touch with Port Menier, however. There is an island-long telephone system, and every resident is in close touch with the town by phone even although there is no road that would lead him to the centre of population. Traveled is across country in the winter and by an island-owned coastal steamer in the summer.

A resident doctor in Port Menier diagnoses illnesses of those far from town, and prescribes for them via telephone. If it becomes evident that the sick person must come to Port Menier for treatment an "escort" system assures him of constant company and assistance along the route.

Hospital cases are flown to Havre St. Pierre on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Expectant mothers are brought to Port Menier in the fall, and do not return home until the spring.

Has Sanctuary.
The island is divided into sections for fox trapping, with each trapper getting about 20 miles of shore line which he must guard from poachers.

Trapping starts around the first of December and ends at the end of January, with red, cross and silver foxes included in the catch. The men are paid a salary and bonus on their catch, with the average catch this year expected to be around 60 pelts per trapper.

No firearms are permitted on the island, with the exception of those supplied to wardens and hunters. As a result, the island abounds in deer, bear, fox, rabbits, beaver, muskrat and has also a few reindeer and otter, all this in addition to its famous salmon streams. A restricted area around Port Menier, where shooting is prohibited at all times, has become a game sanctuary, and deer there have become so bold that they roam through the town streets at night and feed out of garbage pails.

Timely Recipes

SHORT RIB CROWN

Buy two strips of short ribs, each about three inches wide and six inches long—about 3 lb. Sew or skewer the ends together. Place on a rack in a roasting pan in an upright position and fill centre of crown with potato dressing. Season with salt and pepper. Cook uncovered in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for one hour. Add a little water, cover pan and continue to cook for one and one-half hours or until tender.

Potato Dressing

2 tablespoons dripping, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 4 cups bread crumbs, 1 egg, 2 cups mashed potatoes. Cook onions slowly in meat drippings until tender. Add seasonings. Combine with bread crumbs, then add lightly beaten egg and mashed potatoes. Mix lightly. Moisten with milk if required. Serve with cabbage, which has been cooked not more than seven minutes—please—and raw carrot strips. Short Ribs 2½ to 3 lb. serves 4 people.

CARE FOR UTENSILS

Some Helpful Hints as to How Home-Makers May Preserve Them.

Kitchen utensils are the home-maker's tools of trade and as the theme song in many stores dealing in them may soon become: "That's all there is, there isn't any more" it becomes important that housewives take exceptionally good care of their belongings.

Then too, it is essential that, as soon as any metal utensil becomes unserviceable, it be turned over to the salvage collector. It is likely that many such derelicts are still lurking in the back of kitchen cupboards when they could be put to good use in munitions factories.

Here are some pointers in the use and care of cooking equipment:

Aluminum—This, the most satisfactory of materials is now irreplaceable. Clean with mild soap and finest abrasives. A stain inside that will not yield to scouring can usually be removed by boiling vinegar and water in the pan. Never use an alkaline solution, such as soda, as this corrodes the metal. Polish the outside of pots and pans with metal polish.

Enamelware—Treat with care as the surface is only too easily cracked or chipped. Never allow to boil dry, and cool before washing. Do not pour cold water into a hot pan. Food that has stuck to the bottom must not be scraped with anything sharper than a wooden clothes pin. Soapy water boiled in the pan will loosen obstinate burns.

Heatproof Glass and Earthenware—These utensils retain the heat for a very long time and actually go on cooking after they are removed from the range. Take great care that they do not come into contact with cold water while they are still hot. Even a small wet patch on table or draining board may cause a break.

Wash with hot water and alkali.

TIRE EASILY?

Take Gin Pills—the "relief or money back" kidney remedy—to help remove the excess acids that may be the cause of that lazy, logy feeling. Money back if not satisfied.

40,000 Canadians Mix and Brew the Soup to Make the Guns Go Boom. Explosives Are Being Manufactured in 23 Giant Plants Across Canada.

Special buses carry workers to an explosives plant in Quebec, to their homes wherever they live, within a range of 30 miles. This, the largest explosives plant in Canada, covers an area of 5,500 acres. It uses as much water as a city of 50,000 people. One-third of workers are women.

Packing cordite—macaroni the workers call it—in a chemicals and explosives plant in Manitoba to be sent east for cutting, bundling and wrapping.

This is not cotton picking. These workers are dumping nitro-cellulose into a washing and purifying vat. Canadian chemicals and explosives enjoy a very high rating. Output is expected soon to reach 70,000,000 pounds per month.

A giant ammonia storage sphere. Plants set up for military purposes in wartime have an output equal to Canada's entire peacetime chemical production.

Fed by the factories in the country it helps to protect, this big coastal defence gun roars a challenge out over the waters of the Pacific. The massive shells fired by such guns are entirely made from materials produced in Canadian plants. The tons of explosives now being turned out in this country are sounding a thunder on practically all the war fronts of the world. This year alone the production of explosives will equal the entire Canadian output during the whole Great War.

CONFERENCE IS PLANNED

Preparations Being Made for Youth Gathering in Prince Rupert.

Plans for the forthcoming conference of Prince Rupert youth were discussed at Monday night's meeting of the Youth Committee of Prince Rupert, Bruce Mickleburgh in the chair. Delegates were present from the Junior Chamber of Commerce and United Church Young People's Society.

The conference will also set up a youth council in Prince Rupert and elect a delegate or delegates to the Provincial Youth Conference in Vancouver this Easter. The local conference is expected to discuss the situation under the following headings: "Youth and the World at War," "Youth and the Church," "Youth and Education," "Youth and War Industry," "Youth and the Armed Forces," "Youth and the A.R.P." Control and organization of the conference will rest directly with the organizations taking part, as represented at the planning meeting March 9.

Regulations for the insurance of Canadian fishermen who become disabled or suffer death due to enemy action have been in effect since almost the start of this war. The regulations cover, in addition to fishermen, members of the naval forces and the merchant marine. The rates of pension are scheduled in accordance with the fishermen's corresponding ranks in the naval forces—lieutenants, sub-lieutenants and able seamen.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Fish livers have been commanding good prices of late. Vessels selling fish livers are in a preferred position as far as other varieties of fish are concerned. A Prince Rupert buyer in Vancouver made several sales recently at $5.70 for soupin shark and bought codfish at 8c for good measure.

With a good-sized list of passengers and heavy freight cargo, C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. ## GET VALUE IN MEATS

Knowledge of Few Simple Facts Are Handy.

Dollars spent for meat go further when a few simple facts about food values, kinds of cuts, quality grades and methods of cooking are known.

When a housewife buys meat she wants to know: What it will cost; what its food value is; whether it is a tender cut and how it should be cooked.

An important fact to keep in mind about meat is that you don't sacrifice food value by choosing low-cost meat because the less tender cuts have equal food value with the more expensive roasts and chops.

In buying beef Canadians are fortunate in being able to know quality because of the government's beef grading system. "Choice grade" is branded in red; and "good grade" is branded in blue. These brands are put on with harmless coloring. Although every piece of beef is not either "choice" or "good" in grade term, if it is "Canada Approved" you know it has been inspected for freedom from disease.

In selecting beef, the purchaser should remember that the depth of the lean and thickness of the fat are general indications of the quality of beef. Good beef should be uniform in color and the cut surface a bright, rich red. The flesh should be velvety firm, yet springy to the touch. It should be well mottled with white fat and covered by a good layer of flaky, creamy white fat. The bones should be soft and porous and pinkish to red in color. Hard flinty white bones are an indication of age. Exposure to the air may darken beef on the outside without detracting from its eating qualities.

Cooking Meat

Tender cuts of meat are only 25 percent of the whole animal and to be thrifty the cook finds a challenge in making low-cost cuts into not only palatable but delicious dishes.

Dietitians advise cooking tender cuts such as rib or sirloin roasts in an open pan at 300 to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Cooking roasts in a hot oven results in reducing the amount of the meat and loss in its flavor and juiciness.

Less tender cuts require long slow cooking with some liquid. This rule holds for stews, pot roasts, swiss steak and any other meat dish suitable for low-cost cuts. The acid of fruits or vegetables also tenderizes meat, so these meats are often improved when cooked with tomatoes, or they may be placed in a mixture of vinegar and oil for several hours before cooking.

It is a factor the quickest way to cook tough meat is to grind or pound it to break up the connective tissue.

Rev. Father Anthony Meulenbergh, parish priest of the Roman Catholic Church at Stewart, who has been on a trip south, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from Vancouver and will be proceeding in a few days to his post in the north.

RUPERT IS SUB-DEPOT

Red Cross Sends Supplies for use in Case of Disaster—Executive in Session.

W. R. McAfee, president of the Prince Rupert Red Cross Society, at a meeting of the local executive last night, reported that Prince Rupert had been named as a sub-depot for disaster relief and a shipment of twenty-five cases of clothing and hospital supplies had been received for use in the city or district if and when required. D. G. Borland has consented to act as officer in charge of these stores.

A report was received from Otto Young who recently interviewed the officer in charge of disaster relief in Vancouver. Mr. Young stated that it was the intention of this committee to co-operate with the Air Raid Protection organization to avoid overlapping and that for the present attention would be devoted to providing stores of clothing and food for use in case of emergency.

Mrs. S. D. Johnston reported that the local Red Cross Women's Service Corps had been visited by Mrs. Jervis, second in command of the British Columbia unit. Much useful information had, as a result, been derived regarding the organization and duties of the corps.

P. C. Miller, on behalf of the salvage committee, reported progress. Two shipments of salvaged material had been forwarded in addition to aluminum and it was expected to be able to ship the balance of material on hand shortly.

SPORT CHAT

The National and American Baseball League season will open on April 14 this year, schedules of play for the two circuits having just come to hand. So as war workers may have the opportunity to see the play without interfering with their work, the list of Big League night games is much larger than usual this year. The annual all star game in both leagues this year will take place on July 6 and 7.

Toronto's Larry Gains retained the British Empire heavyweight boxing championship at London 19 years ago last night with a 15-round victory over Don McCorkindale, South African title-holder. The Canadian relinquished his title to Len Harvey two years later.

Lou E. Marsh, famous sports editor and columnist of the Toronto Daily Star, died six years ago today after a brief illness. Noted as a boxing and hockey referee and authority on most sports, he died at 58. He joined the staff of the Star as an office boy when he was 12.

The National and American Baseball League season will open on April 14 this year, schedules of play for the two circuits having just come to hand. So as war workers may have the opportunity to see the play without interfering with their work, the list of Big League night games is much larger than usual this year. The annual all star game in both leagues this year will take place on July 6 and 7.

Toronto's Larry Gains retained the British Empire heavyweight boxing championship at London 19 years ago last night with a 15-round victory over Don McCorkindale, South African title-holder. The Canadian relinquished his title to Len Harvey two years later.

Lou E. Marsh, famous sports editor and columnist of the Toronto Daily Star, died six years ago today after a brief illness. Noted as a boxing and hockey referee and authority on most sports, he died at 58. He joined the staff of the Star as an office boy when he was 12.
