Second Front Feared By Germany

MAY WIPE OUT NAZIS IN AFRICA

British Hope to Annihilate Them Without Chase Across Egyptian Desert

100,000 NAZIS GONE
CAIRO, Nov. 7 (CP) — With 100,000 of Marshal Erwin Rommel's total of some 140,000 desert troops captured or trapped and his tank strength grievously crippled, the British chase of the broken and tattered Axis forces swept on today past Matruh, Egyptian port almost half way to the Libyan border from the starting point of the Allied drive.

The headlong flight of the once proud Africa Corps continued at a rapid clip, British headquarters reported in a communiqué which listed 20,000 Germans and Italians as already captured with 350 tanks seized in addition to hundreds of others knocked out and 400 guns and uncounted thousands of vehicles in the hands of the Army of the Nile.

Far behind and mostly inland from the coastal road were six Italian divisions left in the lurch when Rommel pulled up stakes on the El Alamein front. Mussolini's abandoned men, in a bad way without food or water, were reported waiting meekly to be picked up when the British forces could get around to them. Among the beleaguered Italians were a Bologna division and a Trieste division, both including some of Italy's choicest troops.

Today's war bulletin said the Axis remnants attempted a stand at Fuka but were crushed and from there the main body of Rommel's forces was passed in the march beyond Matruh.

CAIRO, Nov. 7 (CP) — Three fast armored divisions of the British Eighth Army have driven two wedges through Axis forces and are fighting inside enemy positions. Tanks are operating at the heels of the Axis retreat in the El Daba sector, a British communiqué said. Portions of Marshal Erwin Rommel's armies which managed to escape tank wedging and encirclement are said to be in full retreat out their situation, deep in tank thrusts, encirclement and hammering pursuit, suggested that the fate of the Axis North African army might well be sealed before the surviving portions could retreat across the Egyptian-Libyan border some 150 miles farther west.

Well informed London sources said "there is reason to believe that our armored forces have now succeeded in getting behind some of the retreating German and Italian forces and their retreat is virtually cut off. There are high hopes we may be able to annihilate them completely without having to chase them across the Libyan Desert as in other advances."

Full measure of Rommel's defeat is indicated in a British communiqué which told of a round-up of a large number of Italians on foot, apparently abandoned in their inland positions while the Germans on wheels tried to save themselves by flight along the coastal road.

Allied pressure on the Axis Mediterranean supply line was shown in the London Admiralty report yesterday that six more Axis vessels had been sunk and two damaged by British submarines.

GUNS ROAR IN DESERT

Long distance artillery duels are a constant part of desert warfare. In this picture from North Africa, an enemy shell is exploding near a six-pounder gun position of the British forces, but the gunner crew goes calmly on with their sight laying and firing.

TAGGING ON POPPY DAY

Many Are on Streets Canvassing Today

As in other years, Poppy Day taggers were on the streets shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, the one day of the year when the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League makes an appeal to the public to remember those who fell in the last Great War, those who suffer yet of their wounds and those who are now coming back from this war.

Under the general direction of Mrs. William Rothwell, president of the Women's Auxiliary and assisted by members of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, those who were responsible for arrangements were Mrs. George Abbott, Mrs. William Brass, Mrs. J. A. Frew, Mrs. H. A. Breen, Mrs. Boulter Sr., Mrs. H. Smith Sr., Mrs. J. A. Teng, Mrs. G. E. Moore, Mrs. Mead, Mrs. S. V. Cox, Mrs. R. Murray, Mrs. G. F. Oland and Mrs. S. A. Kellback.

Those tagging are Mrs. Muirhead, Mrs. McLachlan, Mrs. W. Rothwell, Mrs. Ronald Roberts, Mrs. Mead, Mrs. J. A. Teng and Barbara, Margaret Shrubshall, Lillian Hedburg, Marie Lovstadt, Rosalind Thain, Lorraine Youngman, Nina Youngman, Betty Pullen, Peggy Pullen, Jean Calderwood, Ruth Walton, Mary Strachan, Jean MacIntosh, Melaine Brechin, Annie Pavich, Betty Wide, Deshka Penoff, Lenora Gardner, Irya Korhonen, Florence Starr, Kathleen Hills, Lenora Smith, Theresa Wong, Olga Bill, Donna Macarthur, Kathleen Smith, Jean Smith, Alan Hartwig, Everett Johansen, Billy Watts, Bruce Mills, George West, Ben Forrest, Karsten Miller, Reggie Ronald, Bobby Schaffar, John Schild, Billy Finlayson, Steve James, Billy Cchesney, Sea Cadets W. Thompson and Robert Smith.

In a Victory Loan sponsored advertisement of Crown Life Assurance Co. in the city newspapers appears a group of servicemen in which Lieut. Jack McRae, R.C.N.V.R. of this city is prominently seen. The picture was taken during the First Victory Loan campaign in which Lieut. McRae, it will be remembered, took a prominent part.

Victory Loan Subscription Largest Yet

Having now far exceeded the record of any previous loan campaign in Prince Rupert, the Third Victory Loan cumulative total for Prince Rupert up to last night had reached $726,550, the subscriptions for the day having amounted to $15,050.

General canvass has reached $490,000 or $10,000 above quota.

GENOA IS REVISITED

Another Heavy Raid by Royal Air Force on Important Italian Port

LONDON, Nov. 7 (CP) — Great Britain's big home-based bombers revisited Italy last night for the fifth time since late in October, showering Genoa with fire and explosives which, by the Italians' own words, inflicted "notable damage" on Italy's most important supply port for the Axis armies in North Africa. The Air Ministry called the attack "concentrated and effective" and the Italian communiqué itself said "particular damage was done in the centre of town and in the eastern part. Notable damage was done."

The long haul was made by the British bombers in bad weather but night skies opened over Genoa and the war craft were able to unload on clear targets. Two were lost.

ERECTING NEW HALL

Plans for New Structure of Wartime Housing Are Under Discussion

At the request of W. F. Eve, administrator for Wartime Housing, members of the committee of the Dry Dock Employees Sports' Association met in his office to consider what recommendations they might wish to make in connection with the new recreation hall to be built on the south side of Seventh Avenue opposite Staff House No. 1 for dry dock employees. Those present were J. S. Wilson, R. B. Skinner, Wm. McGinnies, E. Warren and L. C. Hilder.

The plans provide for a two storey building containing six eight bowling alleys on the ground floor and a gymnasium about fifty feet by ninety feet suitable for dances, basketball, badminton and other games, and also with a stage and projector room for moving pictures on the first floor. Two billiard tables, showers, rest rooms and committee rooms are planned and the whole set-up promises to provide adequate recreational facilities for the workers of the yard.

LONG IN SERVICE

Retiring Head of C.N.R. Telegraphs And Successor Widely Known

MONTREAL, Nov. 7 — David Ernest Galloway, retiring as assistant vice-president in charge of Canadian National Telegraphs, commenced his railway career as clerk in the Grand Trunk claims department at Hamilton on February 1, 1901, he was shortly moved to Montreal in the office of the general assistant and comptroller. He joined the traffic department as clerk two years later and was promoted to be secretary to the general freight agent. Subsequently he transferred to the office of vice-president and general manager as private secretary. In October, 1911, he was promoted to be assistant to the president and then began his long and intimate association with the chief executives of the old Grand Trunk and later the Canadian National system. In March, 1923, he was made chief assistant to Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the C.N.R. Mr. Galloway was made assistant vice-president of subsidiary companies, including C.N. Steamships in October, 1924. On the retirement of Vice-president W. D. Robb, in 1931, Mr. Galloway was appointed assistant vice-president in charge of the telegraph and telephone department moving from Montreal to the head office of the Canadian National Telegraphs in Toronto.

New Wire Head
W. M. Armstrong, who succeeds Mr. Galloway, is a civil engineer and, during his service with the Canadian National Railways, his duties have brought him into frequent and direct association with the functions of the Canadian National Telegraphs and the part they play in domestic and international communications. He has an intimate knowledge of the development of these facilities. For five years, 1924-29, he was assistant to Mr. Galloway when the latter was in charge of subsidiary companies of the C.N. system.

A native of Ottawa, Mr. Armstrong was educated in the public schools, the Ottawa Collegiate Institute and obtained his degree in science as civil engineer from Queen's University. He was overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, 1915-1919 ending his active service with the R.A.F. before returning to Canada. He attended Glasgow University.

During student days, Mr. Armstrong acquired practical experience by service with the city engineer, Ottawa, and also on construction and survey work. His railway service began in 1920 as an assistant engineer and in 1923 he was appointed to the Bureau of Economics, C.N.R., in that capacity becoming officer engineer in 1929, assistant director, Bureau of Economics, in 1937, and assistant chief of research and development in 1940.

Facts From Stalin...

Two striking statements were made by Premier Joseph Stalin of the Republic of Soviet Socialist Republics in a speech Friday night. One was that if the Allies did not open a second front catastrophe would befall them. The other was that no other nation than Russia could have withstood the assault that has been and is being inflicted upon it by Nazi Germany.

It was noticeable that, while Stalin said it would be catastrophic for the Allies if they failed to open a second front, he expressed confidence to his own people that such an offensive against the common foe would be instituted. There is evidently no intention, hard pressed though she may be, on the part of Russia to lay down arms. Of course, the courage and the devotion of the Russians to their country and its cause has been amply demonstrated at Stalingrad. The utter valor, with personal disregard not only by men but by women and children to impending death and danger, has been epic, something which might have been considered inconceivable had it not actually happened.

The statements of Stalin in regard to the war situation must be considered as factual expressions. The most of fair-minded people will agree with them.

True she may have had her back to the wall, she may have had to fight or perish, yet Russia has put up a fight and is putting up a fight at which all the world wonders. We should not hesitate to honor and congratulate the Soviets for doing it.

If one nation has justly won our admiration and our gratitude in this war it must be Russia and in the coming days, when war is over and peace returns, it would be well that we remember and retain the respect for the Soviet Union which we now feel and act accordingly.

Meanwhile, we may rest assured that it is not unwillingness but rather inability that is preventing our own leaders from doing more than they are to assist Russia in her gallant struggle and to divert some of the attack away from her.

The Birth of a Baby...

Medical and health authorities universally have spoken highly of the value of the film "The Birth of a Baby" which is to be shown in Prince Rupert shortly. The American Committee of Maternal Welfare has outlined the broad objectives of the picture as follows: To reduce maternal and infant mortality and morbidity, to avert fear of child-bearing, to prevent abortion, to warn against the dangers of promiscuity, to impress fathers with their responsibilities to expectant mothers and to present sex in its proper relation. Speaking of the last-mentioned objective, the following is said:

"The subject of sex has been made mystifying to the young mind by the strange ostrich-like attitude of the very persons to whom the child should look for guidance. To make matters worse, the screen is being employed to color the adolescent mind with intimate and erotic aspects of human relations, while no effort has been made to harness its vast influence for teaching the normal aspects of reproductive processes in their relation to life."

"Fortunately, there is now widespread recognition in high places that silence and fairy tales of the stork variety are not acceptable to the truth-seeking minds of the younger generation. This forward-looking attitude is exemplified in the following ways: The word syphilis, tabooed in polite society, and is now permitted over the air by the National Broadcasting Company and the Federal Radio Commission, and the Surgeon-General of the United States Public Health Service now utilizes the screen as an efficient means of teaching the public what it should know about venereal disease."

"The Committee believes that this picture will, through its straightforward approach of sex, result in a better understanding of its true significance, and in a closer relationship between mothers and daughters, and between fathers and sons."

CO-OPS WIN HOOP GAME

Defeated Air Force Last Night to End Losing Streak

Paced by George Veireck and big Clough, the Co-operative five climbed out of the league basketball cellar last night with a well earned win over the Royal Canadian Air Force 45 to 35. This was the Co-op's first win in four starts and, with the two newcomers Clough and Sulman, the Co-ops should go places. Jack Lindsay and Fulton, both local boys, led the Air Force with 12 and 10 points respectively.

The aggressive United States Transport team defeated the Midlands 28 to 16. Fernandez, the Transport ace, found the hoop for 12 points to lead the Yankees. The Midlands passing isn't quite up to the mark due to lack of practice but the league is young yet and the Midlands should be well up in the league as the season goes along. They have plenty of material and those flashy outfits should help little. Bill Watson led the Midland cause with 7 points.

"Lefty" Moline had a field day at the expense of the lowly Signal squad, flipping 25 points through the hoop to lead the United States Headquarters team to an easy 53 to 19 win. Aubrey, for the Yanks, only chalked up six points but his smart passing set Moline up for a good 50 percent of his baskets. Martinez, with 16 points, was the other Yank high scorer. Bob Houston, local boy on the Sigs, with a little help from his team mates, could have boosted his nine points. The Sigs were without the services of Lieut. Lanska and Sgt. Lawford.

Next Wednesday's games have been moved up to Sunday afternoon due to Armistice Day dance in the Armories that night.

Nurses' Dance Is Successful

More Than Two Hundred Persons Attend Affair in Oddfellows' Hall Friday Night

A very successful affair was the dance last night in Oddfellows' Hall by the Prince Rupert Graduate Nurses' Association for the purpose of raising funds for the overseas' nurses fund. More than two hundred persons were in attendance and a substantial sum was realized for the cause.

Dancing was in progress from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. Excellent music was furnished by the Midlands' Orchestra. At midnight tasty buffet refreshments were served.

Miss Eleanor Graham R. N., president of the Association, was in general charge and received the guests. Others on the committee included Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. Piper, Mrs. Ford, Nursing Sister Keister, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. D. V. Smith.

Mrs. Murray presided at the door.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUZZ, Hostess

As the dances are cancelled at the Y for the time being our usual channel of advance notice is closed as it was our custom to announce forthcoming regimental unit dances at our own dances. Next week's dances to which junior hostesses, Red Cross girls and Cambrai Chapter are invited are at the garrison sergeant's mess at the Armories on Wednesday with Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Parkin as chaperones. On Thursday the regular fortnightly Midlands dance with Mrs. Bussey and Mrs. Kerigan as chaperones will meet as usual at the Y. Other dances scheduled for the week are by invitation and are Royal Canadian Air Force station dance Thursday and area camp men's mess at the Armories on Saturday.

"A" Company (Captain Clarke) of the Winnipeg Grenadiers are planning a dance in the near future, but more of that anon.

Plans have now been completed to hold the "Y" Sunday concert in the Capitol each week instead of at the "Y" hut. In this way we should be able to cater to a much larger crowd — goodness knows the crowds at the "Y" were big enough—and by appearing on the stage instead of a makeshift platform, the artists will be inspired to give their best. There's nothing like honest to goodness footlights to appeal to the Thespian in every man, woman or child.

We've had two whole days of heavenly quiet. The reason? Our "juke box" is out of order, praise Allah.

Waterfront Whiffs

Prince Rupert Losing Halibut Fleet —
Lack of Float Accommodation Given
As Cause of Departure

Prince Rupert appears to be losing as far as residence is concerned the Canadian halibut fleet, or the main body of it, which has been firmly established at the port for the past quarter of a century since the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was built, giving the shortest access from the fishing banks to the principal markets of the east. An estimated twenty-eight boats have left Prince Rupert recently for Vancouver and elsewhere in that vicinity on the lower British Columbia coast to make their future headquarters, the owners taking their families with them and in many cases selling out their homes. There is reason to believe that others may follow, making it a one hundred instead of a fifty percent loss. The reason for the migration has been lack of proper mooring accommodation, particularly during the winter, for the vessels of the fleet due to sudden waterfront congestion at Prince Rupert and wartime regulations. Existing floats and mooring facilities fall far short of meeting the requirements and there has resulted lack of proper protection for the floating property during the long close season. The only remedy would be the provision of much-needed additional permanent mooring accommodation. Of course, many of the boats will be seen back at Prince Rupert during the fishing season in the summer but their calls will be only incidental. It is something to be regretted by those who are watching the exodus that the Prince Rupert halibut fleet, which for years was one of the industrial mainstays of the port, should be making what gives every evidence of being a permanent departure.

The season for the hunting of migratory birds—geese and ducks—has been open in Prince Rupert district since the end of last week but there has been little action on this front so far. Gasoline restrictions and the pressure of extra work which almost everyone feels

With a large attendance under ideal conditions, the annual fall bazaar Thursday afternoon of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral was a complete success. The Cathedral Hall presented a very attractive appearance and the various booths were well supplied and tempting to the purchasers.

The affair was opened by Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix D. D., Bishop of Caledonia, and Mrs. J. B. Gibson, wife of the dean, and Mrs. J. G. Johns, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. R. L. McIntosh and Mrs. J. A. Hinton presided at the tea tables but hot soup was served instead of tea. Mrs. A. L. Holtby and Mrs. C. E. Dodimead were in charge of refreshments. Servitors were Mrs. Jack Bulger, Mrs. George D. Mead, Mrs. W. M. Watts, Mrs. J. A. Rutherford, Mrs. Frank Skinner and Mrs. J. Mulkey.

Many attractive aprons and bags were purchased during the afternoon. Mrs. C. C. Mills and Mrs. Norman Stewart were in charge of the apron sale. The sale of woollens and fancywork was conducted by Mrs. W. J. Greer and Mrs. L. B. Lambly while Mrs. Hague managed the novelty stall.

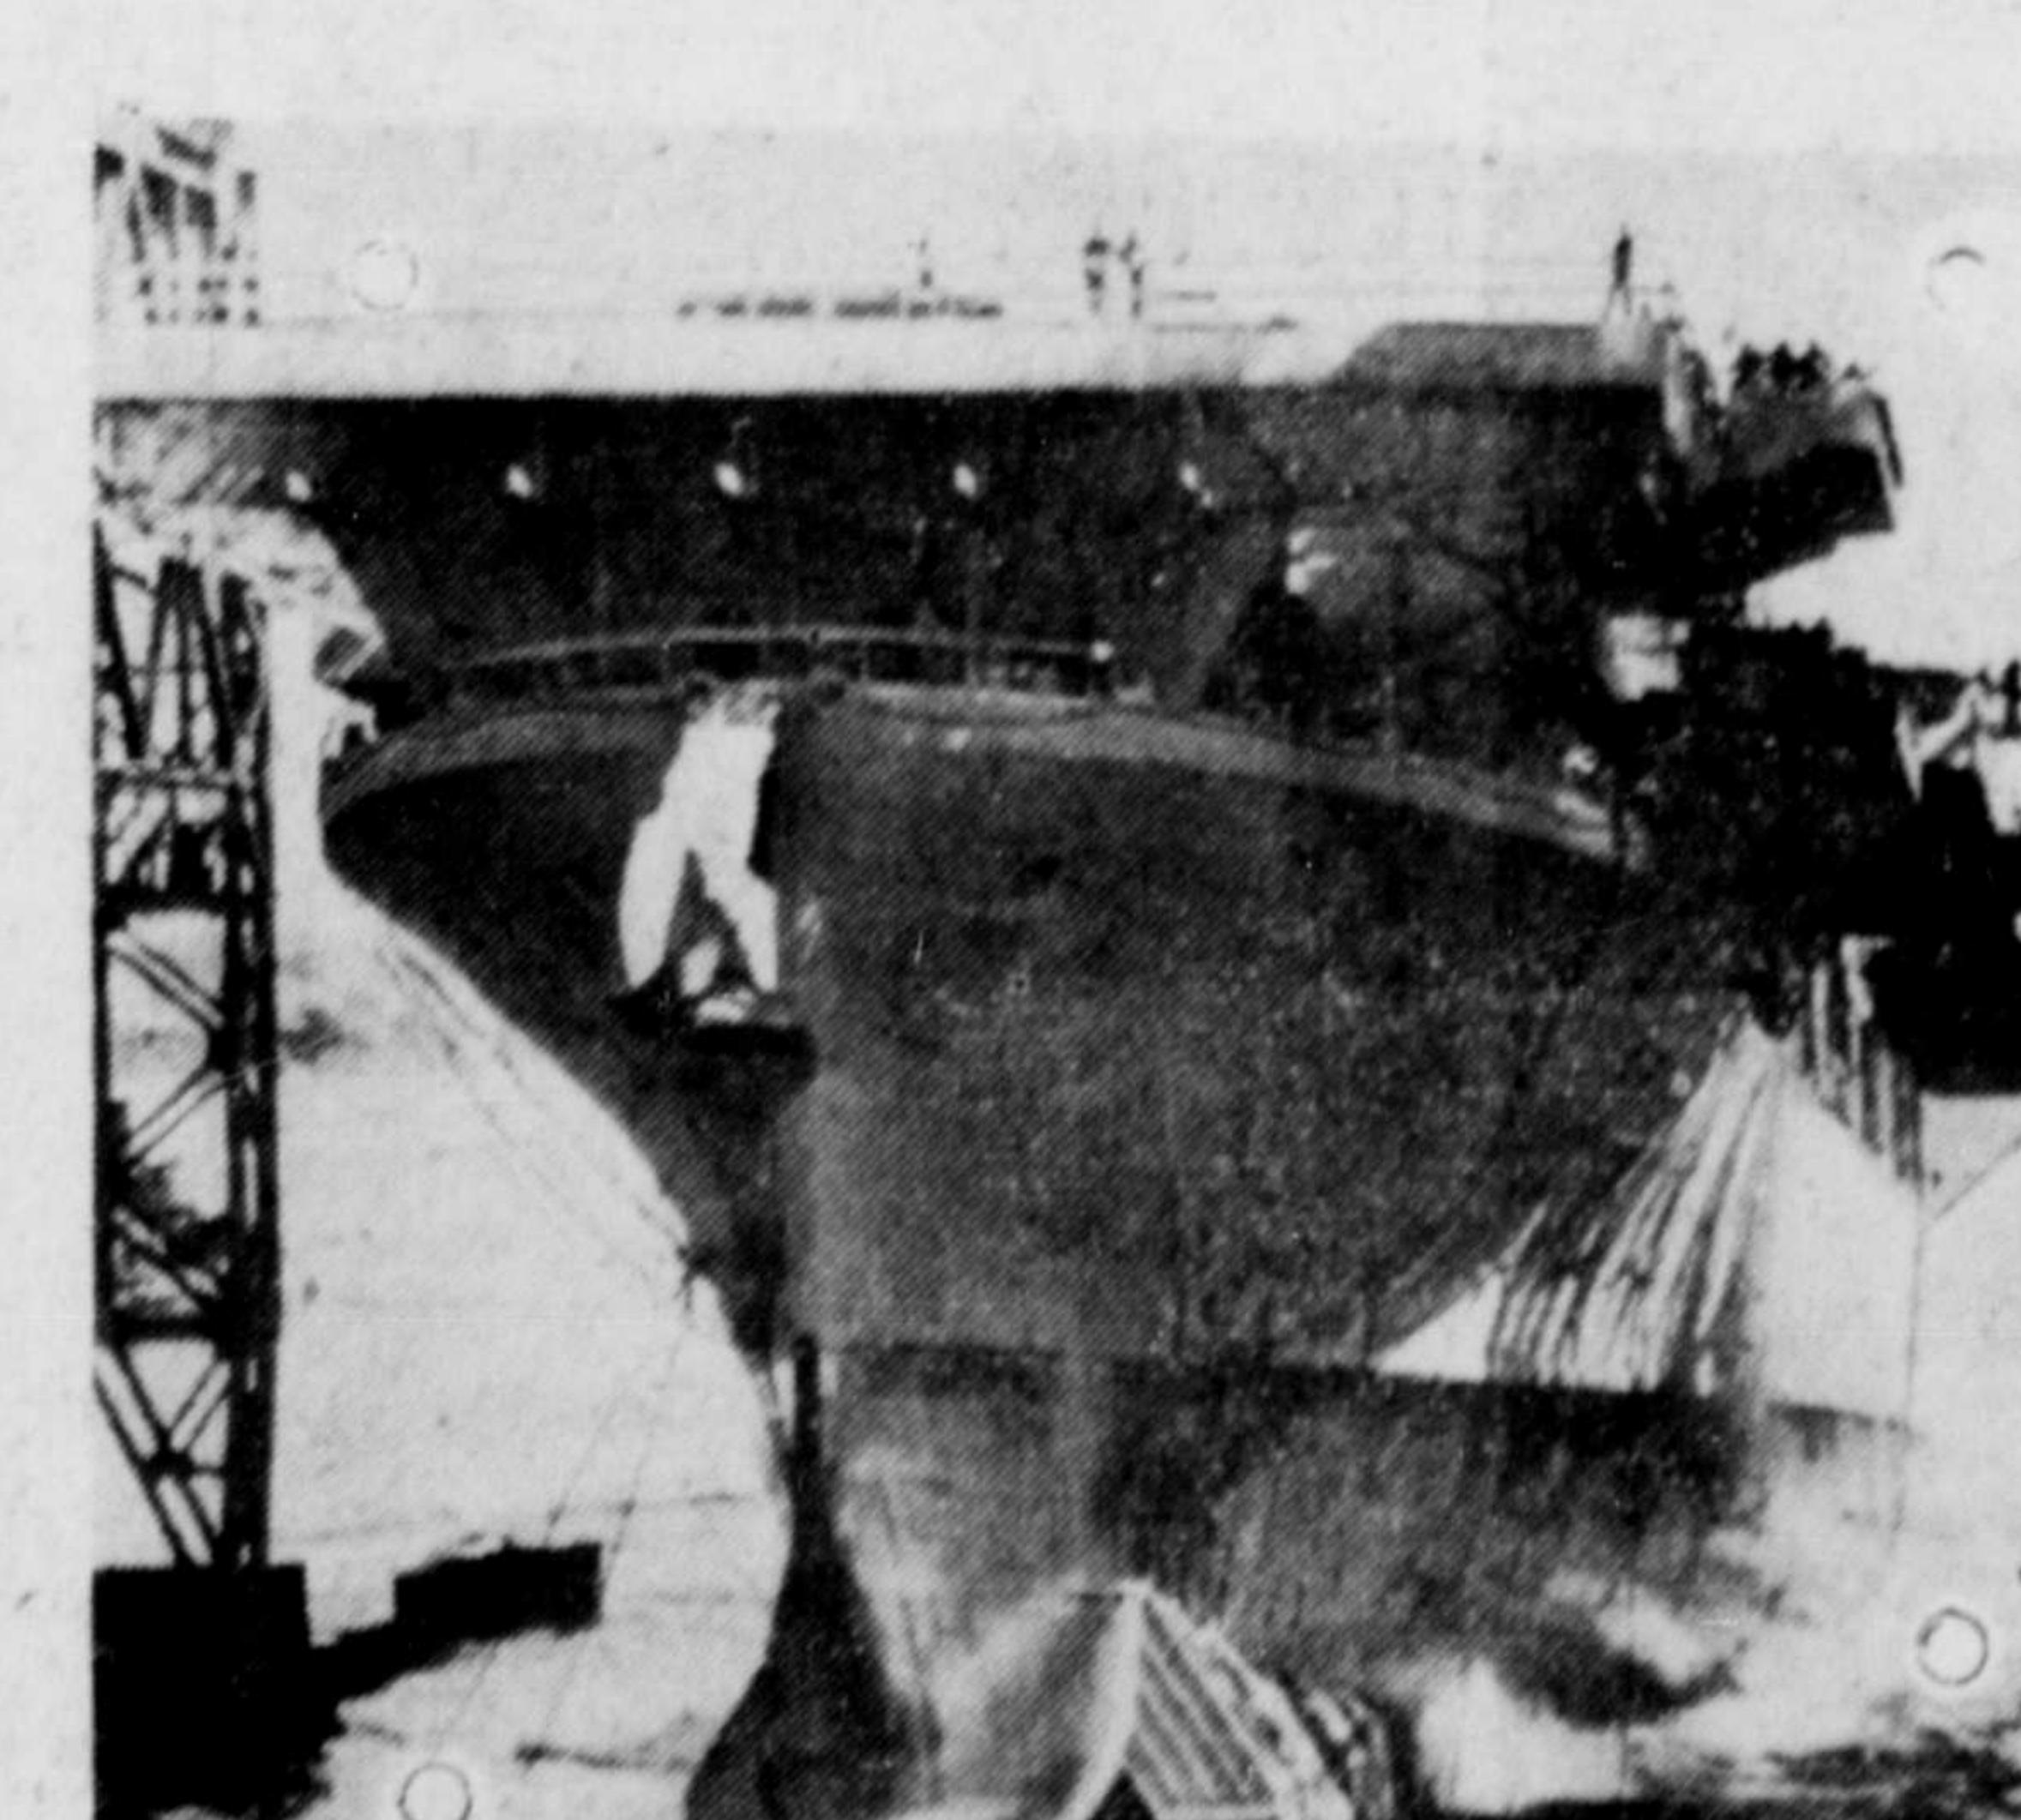

The home cooking table was in charge of Mrs. Jack Durran and Mrs. N. Mussallam; the jumble booth, Mrs. W. F. Eve, Mrs. R. G. Hopkins, Mrs. J. H. McLeod and Mrs. Alex Mitchell.

The Evening Branch booth was conducted by Mrs. Currie, Miss Eileen Gibson and Miss Hilton.

Mrs. H. S. Meadows was cashier.

NEW LEXINGTON LAUNCHED

Completed a year ahead of schedule by an army of shipyard workers as a challenge to the enemy, the new U.S.S. aircraft carrier Lexington, is shown sliding down the ways at Quincy, Mass., to carry on the proud record of her namesake, sunk after heroic action in the Coral sea battle. The launching took place at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Steel Corp., and Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson, Mohawk, N.Y., widow of the late assistant secretary of the navy, was the sponsor.

OLD FARCE ON SCREEN

"Charley's Aunt," With Jack Benny In Title Role, is Coming Here

"Charley's Aunt," the old farce about the fellow who helps out two college pals by masquerading as his friend's aunt, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here next Monday and Tuesday with Jack Benny cast in the title role of this long-time laugh favorite. It is said to be the most hilarious and unusual undertaking of Benny's varied career.

While clothed as the aunt, Jack chaperons two young ladies and receives two proposals of marriage. Then, at the height of the impersonation, the real aunt comes on the scene. How he and his friends get out of their predicament makes for a great comedy climax.

Kay Francis is the real aunt who turns up at the wrong time and James Ellison is the friend who needs the help.

There is an impressive supporting cast including such favorites as Edmund Gwenn, Anne Baxter, Reginald Owen, Arlene Whalen, Laird Cregar, Ernest Cossart, Richard Haydn and Morton Lowry.
