India Now On Spot In War Scene

RUSSIANS STILL ON INITIATIVE

Further Land Victories Claimed Although Pace Is Slowing Up—Nazis Lose Heavily in Air.

KUBYSHEV, April 7: (P)—Thirty German-occupied communities and large railway stations have fallen before fierce Red Army attacks in the last two days in one sector of the western front, military dispatches reported today. With land combats continuing in various regions, the Communist Party newspaper Pravda cited as evidence that the Germans are prematurely tapping springtime reserves the use of tanks painted khaki rather than winter white in Nazi counter attacks.

While unfavorable weather has slowed down ground fighting in some sections, the Russian advance is still reported to be general.

Furious combat in the air continues. On Sunday 119 German planes were reported shot down, making it 221 for two days and 450 for the week. The Russians in the same period lost only eighty-four.

HELD BY WEATHER

Nevertheless Royal Air Force Continues Raids on Germany On Smaller Scale

LONDON, April 7: (P)—British bombers, raiding Germany for the second successive night, attacked objectives in the Rhur and Rhineland last night, it was stated today, but bad weather held the attack to a smaller scale than the previous night. Raids on enemy territory the night before were as heavy and effective as any of the whole war.

MINE WILL OPEN SOON

Riverside at Stewart to Be Producing Tungsten and Silver-Lead Concentrates Within Two Weeks.

In about two weeks' time the Riverside mine is expected to be turning out tungsten and silver-lead concentrates from the newly equipped mill on this well known Portland Canal property on the Alaska side of the Salmon River, it is announced by J. H. Scott, managing director, who is here aboard the Catala today on his way back to San Francisco after a ten-day visit to the mine. Within the two weeks installation of sixteen new motor-driven flotation cells will have been completed permitting the property to go into production. There will be the two types of concentrates—tungsten and silver-lead and some three or four hundred tons of each, it is anticipated, will be turned out this year.

Mr. Scott reports other promising tungsten deposits attracting attention now in the Portland Canal area and also at Alice Arm.

The product of the Riverside mine mill will go through Prince Rupert to the United States.

MENACE ON INDIA NOW

First Raids Were Not Serious But Indicate What Might Be Done—Tojo Warns of "Great Calamities."

NEW DELHI, India, April 7: (P)—In the first air raids on India proper yesterday, as announced by British headquarters here, Japanese bombing planes did some damage to harbor installations of Nizampatam, town situated at the mouth of the Kistna River and site of a naval base, while there were some casualties at Cocanada, to the north of Nizampatam, which was also raided. Both towns lie between Madras and Calcutta. While damage done in these opening raids in the Battle of India was not serious, it is shown that the enemy are now in a position to carry out such attacks at other points along the Bay of Bengal coast which have no defences.

The raids on India proper followed a radio broadcast by Premier Tojo to the people of India warning them to expect "great calamities" until the British forces in India had been subjugated.

Meanwhile in the Bay of Bengal a small but powerful Japanese naval force is attacking United Nations shipping and threaten communication between India and Australia.

"YES" VOTE IS URGED

Canadian Legion Anxious That Plebiscite on Manpower Should Go in Affirmative.

In addition to much routine business at an executive meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion last evening in preparation for the half-yearly meeting tomorrow evening when the election of officers will take place, there was discussion as to how the general public might be brought to realize the great importance of voting on April 27 when the plebiscite will be held to decide whether or not the government shall have a free hand in waging total war by voting release from a pledge not to draft men for overseas service. The Legion never could see the need for such a plebiscite, but inasmuch as there is to be one, the Legion urges every individual to make sure that he or she votes on that day and votes in favor of the plebiscite.

Letters and cards of thanks still continue to come in from men overseas acknowledging receipt of cigarettes.

Letters were also received from the minister of national defence and the minister of pensions and national health in reply to resolutions sent these departments by the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

The meeting was presided over by the president, J. Preece, and others present were H. A. Breen, W. J. Rance, R. C. Bamforth, J. J. Judge, George Abbott, C. L. Youngman, Edgar Woodward, Neil Cameron and J. M. Walker.

Japanese Bombers Attack Cities As Native Leaders of Rich Land Shy at Co-operation In Defence

Madras Has Its First Alarm—Indications That Cripps' Negotiations May Be Breaking Down—Situation in Burma Deteriorating.

With Japanese bombers already attacking her cities, leaders of India's millions still shied today at full wartime co-operation with the United Nations and there were signs that negotiations again were breaking down. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, former president of the All-India Congress party, indicated he would oppose any attempt to break India up into separate states as might occur under the British plan, asserting: "I do not know what the future will bring but this country is one country." New Delhi dispatches said that the special British envoy, Sir Stafford Cripps, was expected to make an announcement tomorrow indicating success or failure of his mission. As negotiations continued the city of Madras on the Bay of Bengal coast underwent its first air raid alarm.

In Burma British and Indian troops again fell back to new positions sixty-five miles below the main oil-producing section of Minbu.

Japanese air bombers, in an intensive raid, have virtually destroyed the city of Mandalay in Burma, according to reports reaching Chungking. Paiaees were crumpled and bazaars wrecked. Three thousand were killed and five thousand wounded.

Australian and United States bombers continued striking at Rabaul and Gasmata on New Guinea where the Japanese are attempting to establish themselves.

The Japanese are reported to have made landings on the Solomon Islands.

While the invasion threat of Australia has eased, leaders in the Commonwealth emphasize that the danger has by no means passed.

There has been fierce fighting for the third day as the defenders resist strong Japanese invasion attempts. The enemies are using artillery mounted on barges.

MORE FOOD FOR DOLLAR

Comparative Prices of Staples Now And At Last War's End

OTTAWA, April 7: (P)—Take it from Byrnie Hope Sanders, director of consumer representation for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board: The Canadian dollar stretches a lot farther nowadays for the Canadian housewife than it did in the First Great War.

To prove her point Miss Sanders—"Mrs. Consumer" to thousands of Canadian women—has worked out a chart of comparative prices for commodities during 1918, 1939, the basic period of September 15-October 11, 1941, which is the foundation for Canada's price ceiling, and the present.

Taking 11 staples which cost $3 in 1918 and carrying them through the four periods, the chart shows that the same amount of ordinary household goods—butter, lard, sugar, eggs, milk, bread, meat and so on—cost $1.88 in 1939, $2.27 during the basic period and $2.26 now.

Three differences between present prices and the basic period are noted in the list. Lard, which sold at 37 cents a pound during 1918 and 14 cents in 1939, now sells at 17 cents—one cent less than during the basic period.

Grade "A" eggs, which sold at 34 cents a half-dozen in 1918 and 21 cents during 1939 now sell at two cents less than the basic period price of 22 cents.

Black tea, which sold at 31 cents a half-pound during the last war and at the same price in 1939, now is two cents more a half-pound package than the basic period price of 40 cents.

BUTTER CHEAPER

Butter which sells at 39 cents is 18 cents a pound cheaper than in 1918. Milk, selling at 13 cents a quart, is one cent cheaper than in 1918, and round steak, listed at 34 cents a pound during the last year of the last war, now sells at 30 cents.

Potatoes which sold at seven cents for three pounds during 1918 have remained at six cents for the same quality over the three other periods. Canned tomatoes, which at present sell at 14 cents, sold at 21 cents for the same quantity in 1918.

Rolled oats sold at eight cents a pound during 1918 and is listed at six cents a pound now; white flour which now sells at 12 cents for three pounds sold at 21 cents for the same quantity during 1918; and sugar during the same period sold at 36 cents for three pounds—nine cents more than the present price.

Some British Columbia Japs Going to Prairie Sugar Beet Fields—Others to Old Mining Camps.

OTTAWA, April 7: (P)—Plans are nearing completion for the placing of a thousand Japanese families being moved from British Columbia on sugar beet farms in southern Alberta and Manitoba, it was learned yesterday.

A large number of women and children with some older men who are physically unfit for work will be placed in the old mining towns of Slocan City, Sandon, Kaslo and possibly Greenwood.

Meanwhile the Japanese who were recently gathered together from protected areas of the province are still concentrated at temporary camp at Hastings Park here.

YANKS TAKE THEIR TOLL

Three More Japanese Vessels Victims of American Subs—198 Since Pearl Harbor.

WASHINGTON, April 7:—The Department of the Navy announces that American submarines have sunk three more Japanese ships—two tankers near the Caroline Islands and a freighter close to the Japanese coast. This makes 198 Japanese vessels sunk or damaged since Pearl Harbor.

DAILY EDITION TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1942.

Abuse of Liquor Evident . . .

If any one has been in doubt about the necessity for control of liquor use in Prince Rupert, spectacles and disorders which were so general downtown on the eve of Easter Sunday due to drunkenness would have removed such doubts. Such incidents as occurred Saturday night were more or less minor but the situation appears to be deteriorating rather than improving. One of these days something more serious may occur. It has been suggested that the present strength of the city police force is not sufficient to handle the situation, also that there might be a more effective policing by the armed forces whose men are here in such large quantities.

Meanwhile the state of law and order in Prince Rupert now existent makes more evident the necessity for something being done to at least restrict the use of liquor.

If conditions in Prince Rupert are any indication of what they are in other places, there would seem to be considerable justification in the demand emanating from here that from a national or provincial standpoint something be done not only for the good of those who are unable to handle their liquor but in the interests of those for whom a nuisance, if not a real menace, is created.

Drunkenness in Bushes . . .

Inebriates who used to confine their outdoor drinking activities to the bushes along Second Avenue which to some extent have been cleared out are now to be noticed among the woods in the residential sections past which many school children pass. The drinking is bad enough but there are other more objectionable practices. Possibly the authorities will do something about it. Cutting down or clearing out of some of the bush would help.

About Timothy Eaton . . .

Ireland has bred many famous retailers, among them Timothy Eaton. When Timothy began a retail business in Canada, it was in the country town of St. Marys, Ontario. There Timothy prepared himself to go to Toronto to open a business there.

In Toronto were numerous fine dry goods stores—very staid places. Timothy paid no attention to them; he went his own way. He told the readers of the local newspapers about his store, its merchandise and his prices. This practice offended the staid stores, and even many of those who went to Eaton's apologized to their friends for so doing, for to be lured by cheapness was something shameful.

But the masses of the public, in Toronto, and in the districts outside Toronto, went, increasingly, to that store that informed them about goods and prices, and the Eaton business grew like a tropical weed. In the course of time the staid stores, very haughty at the outset, became respectful of the Eaton enterprise, yet they did not use the Eaton way of getting and keeping customers. They sickened, and died.

Timothy Eaton hired good buyers and good salesmen, in order that he himself might have greater liberty to cultivate the good will of the public. His mind was focussed on the attraction of trade and on making customers satisfied.

Does it need to be said that every retail business should have in its service an imaginative, visionful man of the Timothy Eaton type? A man who looks at the local newspaper as a distributor of information about what the store sells? Buyers like to have a retailer's news and the other kind of news cheek by jowl.

What would you think of a farmer with farm produce to sell who just waits for buyers to visit him? Every farmer knows that he must take his produce to market, or have it taken there by others. Keeping it on his farm would be great stupidity.

Advertising is the way progressive merchants take their goods to market.

SPORT CHAT

There is more than a slight chance the minor league baseball clubs will be folding up all over the place this year, and that the dwarfed circuits which do struggle through will come down the stretch with the battle cry of half-a-league, half-a-league, half-a-league onward. And these circuits which do make the grade can bless the day that the farm system was originated. The leagues which are well-peppered with major-owned clubs are the leagues which have the best chance of withstanding the inroads of player and tire shortages and other disturbing factors which are off-spring of the war. The major clubs with farm systems have anticipated minor league difficulties and have acted accordingly. Efforts have been made to group clubs owned by major league clubs into the same circuits, the major bosses feeling that by pooling their interests that way a minor league has a better chance to survive.

The majors are in a position to accept operating losses which the average independent minor league operator could not stand, and they also are in a position to supply playing talent to offset the losses to defence and other work. Not that the majors haven't been affected in their farm operation. Brooklyn Dodgers, for instance, will have only nine subordinate clubs this year instead of the contemplated 12. The Grand Rapids, Mich.; Newport, Ark., and Troy, Ala., clubs were in leagues which will not open. The Kingsport, Tenn., club was added to the chain, but this addition was offset by the decision not to operate the Reading, Pa., club.

More than 60 of the approximately 250 players in the Brooklyn organization already are in U. S. services and the total may exceed 100 before the summer is over. To offset these manpower losses, the Dodgers are in a position to bring up young fellows who under ordinary circumstances wouldn't be considered quite ready for league play. This naturally is a break for these border-line athletes, the kids of 17 and 18 and 19 who ordinarily would be left out in the cold. The U. S. draft status of every player is checked carefully so that an idea as to potential losses through the medium is obtained, although there naturally is no way of reading the players' minds and predicting enlistments.

With strings on plenty of young fellows below draft age, and with the knowledge that a great many players already assigned to clubs are in no immediate danger of being called, the Dodgers' player situation is not too acute. It is estimated that only about five players are in 1-A and awaiting call. Most of the others are in 2-A, either through dependents or physical deficiency. There is the pitcher who has only one eye, for instance, and the outfielder whose stomach ulcers would make him unacceptable for service. The Dodgers can be reasonably certain their clubs will finish the season. That is, if the leagues finish the season. At any rate, the minors will owe the major farm system a vote of thanks before the years is out.

CARS ARE AVAILABLE

Canadian Motorists Can Still Get Them for Essential Services.

TORONTO, April 7.—So long as they are for essential transportation purposes, Canadian motorists can still buy brand new cars—yes, with four new tires on them—and get a gasoline ration book, too.

So declared Howard B. Moore, general manager of the Federation of Automobile Dealer Associations of Canada, in a statement today, following receipt of reports from widespread sections of the country, indicating that erroneous statements had gained momentum to the effect that all new cars had been "frozen" and that purchase of new vehicles had been banned.

"The facts are," said Mr. Moore, "that the motor vehicle controller has placed some 4,000 cars into what is termed an 'official pool,' and none of these cars can be sold by dealers without permission from the motor vehicle controller. Those cars are being held in stock for later release, on orders from the controller, and only then to those engaged in health and fire fighting services, maintenance of police service and such essential purposes. But outside the 'official pool' are thousands of other cars, manufactured before the stopping of car production, which have only recently been delivered to showrooms. These cars are for sale, without restrictions."

U. S. government regulations "freezing" cars in United States are believed to have resulted in misinterpretation of the Canadian situation, Mr. Moore said.

Sufficient Cars.
There are sufficient new cars on the Canadian market today to supply the "necessary" requirements of purchasers for many months, it was learned. The cars are spread out in fair proportion in all parts of the Dominion, making them available in all cases.

Car dealers of Canada, from the commencement of transportation problems, have been co-operating closely with the motor vehicle controller, and have assured him that precautions will be taken to see that cars are sold only for "essential" transportation purposes.

Motorists should not be stampeded into taking their cars off the road, declared Mr. Moore. "The wise motorist will first of all completely eliminate pleasure driving. He will use his car only for essential business. He will take every care of his tires, and use his car so as to extend the mileage over as long a period as possible. Essential war industries would suffer greatly if all cars were laid up."

It was pointed out that there are thousands of high grade used cars, with good tires on them, in excellent repair, available in markets across Canada. The supply is good particularly in urban centres, but dealers stated that shortly a heavy demand for used cars in rural areas would reduce the stock of used cars in cities and towns.

So, if one wants to buy a brand new car, for essential transportation, or trade in the present car for a better used car, there is nothing to prevent it.

Mr. Moore, in concluding his remarks, strongly endorsed the motor vehicle policy laid down by the federal government, and pledged the co-operation of car dealers across Canada.

RED CROSS
 News Notes

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN
 The Canadian Red Cross Society will launch a national appeal for $9,000,000 on May 11 to continue through the succeeding weeks to May 31. This money is needed urgently to carry on the vast undertakings of the Red Cross for the next year. Among these are providing food for and packing 40,000 parcels a week for British prisoners-of-war. At present this project alone needs approximately $6,000,000 to finance it and, with the expansion of the war on the Pacific, there will likely be need of more food parcels from Canada. Other Canadian Red Cross work includes "blood banks" for wounded soldiers and civilians, providing of clothing, food, hospital supplies, quilts, blankets and comforts "to alleviate suffering caused by war"—the great purpose of the Red Cross.

SUPPLIES AND SALVAGE
 Chilliwack branch reports its thirty-ninth shipment of Red Cross supplies and fourteenth car of salvage to the Red Cross provincial warehouse and salvage depot in Vancouver. Supplies sent since the war began now total 65,000. This branch presents all volunteers who have been working six months with Red Cross buttons.

BUSY BRANCH
 Every month the Woodfruits Red Cross branch remits to provincial Red Cross headquarters $280 plus the sum of $10 to $20 made at a regular monthly fund-raising event. In addition a group of 16 women meet often to make Red Cross supplies.

KLONDYKE NIGHT
 Burns Lake Red Cross branch reports its second annual "Klondyke Night," popular and profitable to the sum of $300. Features were "Diamond Lil" telling fortunes a "boy of claims" with mystery prize, a white elephant booth, "Hit Hitler" and "Rap the Jap" games, hamburgers, pie and coffee.

OPENS BOOTH
 Oliver branch has re-opened the Red Cross booth on Main Street. At present there is a fine stock of rose bushes, rock plants and hardy perennials for sale. Patrons are asked to bring their own wrappings.

Well Known Couple Wed

Miss Josephine Gay and Martin Hansen Were Both Born in Prince Rupert.

A beautiful but quiet wedding took place at 7:30 Saturday evening at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Canon W. F. Rushbrook, Ahm Cottage, Overlook Street, when Miss Josephine Gwennette Gay, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josephine B. Gay, Hays Cove Avenue, became the bride of Martin Helmer Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen, Fifth Avenue West. Both the bride and groom were born in Prince Rupert and have lived here all their lives.

The bride, whose natural beauty was enhanced by a charming costume of light beige with Mexican tan trimmings and matching accessories with bouquet of yellow and pink sweetheart roses, was attended by Mrs. John Carpenter as matron of honor. Mrs. Carpenter wore an ensemble of wine colored velvet and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

John Carpenter was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a quiet reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Both bride and groom enjoy popularity and esteem amid a wide circle of friends and will have hearty congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen will reside in Prince Rupert, the groom being engaged in fishing out of here.

Gardening

PLANTING ORDERS.
 Flowers and vegetables divide themselves into three general groups—hardy, semi-hardy and tender. This provides the key to planting time in any part of the Dominion.

The first group can be put in just as soon as the soil is fit to work. This means when one can get out and dig without raising any mud. Soil fit for working or planting should crumble, not pack into a ball, the experts point out.

Among the very hardy are spinach, lettuce, radish and peas, among the vegetables, and most of the poppies, cosmos, bachelor buttons and sweet peas, among the flowers. Late, severe frost will not hurt these things. Usually the sooner they are planted the better.

In the semi-hardy line, vegetables and flowers which will stand a light frost or two, would be carrots, beets, beans, potatoes and corn in the vegetable line, and zinnias, calendulas, calliopsis in the flowers.

The tender plants are those which will not stand any frost at all. If up above ground when the night suddenly turns cold and the mercury falls below 32 degrees then only a miracle will save them from blackening. In this delicate line there are the melons, cucumbers, peppers, pumpkins among the vegetables, and gladiolus, dahlias, cannas, in flowers.

FLOWERS THAT FIT
 There are flower gardens that fit almost any situation. For those people who have neither the time nor inclination there are plenty of annual flowers that thrive almost on neglect. A little digging of the ground in late spring is about all that is required. Take such things as alyssum, dwarf marigolds, portulaca and California poppies for edging. These are little flowers that almost seed themselves, crowd out weeds, do well in any location but prefer sun and light soil. Once started they will look after themselves.

For the centre of beds or near the back, larger flowers such as calendula, nasturtium poppy and phlox will make a good showing, and for screens, castor beans, dahlias, cosmos sunflower, tall marigold are advised.

For scent, especially in the evening, a few nicotian, carnations, mignonette or stocks will perfume the whole garden.

MODERN VEGETABLES
 Scientists have been giving us many improvements in vegetables. Their work has been carried out in two directions: first, the introduction of vegetables unfamiliar to most Canadians, and, second and probably more important, vast improvement in those varieties that have been grown in this country for years.

Corn is a good example. At one time it was possible to get only one variety of Bantam. Cobs were short and the season also. Now there are offered three or four different Bantam types, some extra early, some regular season, some late. Cobs have been lengthened, kernels made bigger. One can enjoy the finest table corn for over a month instead of bit a week or two as in the old days.

TENSE TALE OF FAMILY

"Adam Had Four Sons" Is Mid-Week Feature At Capitol

Drama of a family's fight to survive, the ageless war of women for the men they love, "Adam Had Four Sons" comes this Wednesday and Thursday to the Capitol Theatre. It is one of the most candid stories ever brought to the screen—the heart-warming story of five fascinating men and the women in their lives. "Adam Had Four Sons" is based upon the sensation novel "Legacy," by Charles Bonner, and stars Ingrid Bergman and Warner Baxter with a stellar supporting cast.

Featured in the film are Susan Hayward, Fay Wray, Helen Westley, Richard Denning, Johnny Downs and Robert Shaw.

Baxter is seen as Adam Stoddard, proud father of four devil-may-care boys. He watches them grow, helps them through their loves and wars and amazing destinies, sees a smoldering-eyed girl capture first one, then another of his sons, sees her seek greedily for new victims, finally to reach after him as well. Miss Bergman is cast as Emilie, fiercely devoted to Adam and his youngsters, hauntingly lovely, gallantly loyal, understanding and courageous.

As Hester, the modern Scarlett O'Hara, Susan Hayward is said to give a powerful performance. Miss Wray is effectively cast as Adam Stoddard's young wife, whose death precipitates the drama and the disaster which faces the Stoddards for years. Helen Westley is said to be of equal merit in her character performance as Cousin Philippa, the cigar-smoking relative who aids Adam bring up his four sons.

Richard Denning, Johnny Downs and Robert Shaw are three of the four sons.
