French Helped British Girls

Escaping From Nazi Internment Camp They Found Folks "Really Marvellous"

LONDON, May 1 (CP)—Two young English women, Freda Stewart and Rosemary Say, thank the French for their escape to England from a Nazi internment camp.
"The French people were really marvellous," said Miss Stewart, interned shortly after the Germans invaded Paris. "They are entirely pro-British and gave me and my companion every possible assistance as we made our way from the camp to unoccupied France."
Miss Stewart said she was interned with 4,000 other women for five months in a military barracks. Hygiene and food conditions were bad. "I was then moved to another camp where the hygiene was a bit better, but food was still very scanty," she said. "We were greatly cheered by the Red Cross parcels which got through to us."
Miss Stewart had little to tell about her escape. "Miss Say and I climbed through a hole in the barbed wire fence surrounding the camp and made our way to Marseilles, helped all the time by the French," she said. "In Marseilles we had to wait for our papers and eventually got through Spain to Lisbon from where we flew to England.

Resistance Continues In Burma; New Move In Australian Direction

This Is Anticipated Following Deterioration Of Situation South Of China—Air War Being Kept Up

NEW DELHI, May 1: (CP)—Escaping a Japanese entrapment sweep, British troops guarding the right flank of the Allied line in Burma have fallen back eighty miles to a new defence sector only thirty miles below Mandalay. The British and Indian forces were said to have withdrawn in order to protect overland routes to India.

While the crisis in Burma remains acute with the Japanese invaders now standing at the gateway to China a-straddle the Burma road, a Chinese announcement declared that the fall of Lashio would not halt the flow of Chinese reinforcements for continued defence of North Burma. The Chinese would fight on and remain in Burma to continue resistance.

Towards Australia British military authorities now realize the possibility of all Burma being lost.

Meanwhile Japanese warships and troop transports are reported massing among the Marshall Islands in the south central Pacific, stirring speculation that they might be preparing for a major thrust against the American supply line to Australia.
In Australia General Sir Thomas Blaney, Allied land commander, under General Douglas MacArthur, warned that the Japanese were preparing to strike anew in the Anzac zone. There were increasing signs of war threat against the outposts of Northern Australia. General Blaney stated, however, that the Allies continued to bring up forces in considerable number.
Meanwhile the Allied offensive from the north coast of Australia continues. In a raid on Lae, New Guinea, Australian and American bombing planes destroyed or damaged twenty enemy machines. There has been another light Japanese attack on Port Moresby, New Guinea, and eight Japanese raiders have also bombed the Horne Islands.

Presenting The News...

The biggest Canadian news today is not a sudden break but one continuous story of drastic change in a people's way of living. The story is one stanza in a vast epic of which Kharkov and Hellfire Pass and Somewhere in England are others.

It is a developing story. Price control is announced but it does not stop there. Wages are pegged, but public interest in how this regimentation is made to work goes on and on.

It is a story mainly of legislation, in which forecasts and immediate "clarification" of single aspects are often dangerous since the makers of it are setting forth in a virtually unknown field with trial and error for compass.

The press is telling this story of a changing way of life by reporting factually the initial steps—gas rationing, sugar rationing, price and wage control; and the reaction of a vocal people as expressed through their leaders. We seek also to measure the result: cessation of output of things that have been considered necessities; the demand for second-hand bicycles, the search for rubber substitutes; the level of living costs.

The final effect of this change will never be precisely known. That part of the story is written in trucks and tanks and bomber fleets and will be merged inextricably with many another in the final chapter of the peace.

In practice, the effect is that no newsman can ever cover his typewriter and consider any part of the story "washed up." The initial moves in swinging the country into the groove of a rigid war economy originate at Ottawa, developments occur as a brigadier is fined for sugar-hoarding at Kingston, as Saint John proposes to finance civilian defence by poll tax, Fort William appeals to Toronto for second-hand street cars, and seven-day operation commences in Pacific Coast shipyards.

Under these conditions the need for roundup, background and situational stories—the summing up of scattered spot breaks—is immediate, and is one of our chief concerns.

Canadian news of a major character tends more and more to be man-made. There were big single breaks in the past half-year—crash of an airliner near St. Thomas, October 30 with 20 dead, the mine explosion at Nordegg, Alberta, October 31, when 29 were killed, a series of train wrecks in Quebec, Ontario and the West. But this year these did not carry the news interest that would have set them apart in the days before Port Darwin and Kuibyshev were familiar datelines on the country's front pages.

SMITHERS MARRIAGE

Miss Winnifred Grant Becomes Bride of Leonard Evitt

SMITHERS, May 1—A very quiet wedding was held yesterday morning in the Anglican Church when Miss Winnifred Grant of Duncan, Vancouver Island, became the bride of Leonard Evitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Evitt of Smithers.

The bride lived in Smithers for several years and is the daughter of Const. and Mrs. Andy Grant, who are very well known in Prince Rupert, Hazelton and Smithers, where Const. Grant has served on the force of the provincial police.

The family left Smithers over a year ago when Constable Grant was moved from Smithers to Duncan.

Miss Grant arrived in Smithers on the early morning train and the wedding took place immediately afterwards with only a very few close friends of the contracting parties in attendance.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Evitt will reside in Smithers where Mr. Evitt is carrying on a very successful green-house business and has a farm two miles out of town.

The many friends of the young couple wish them every happiness in the years to come.

Terrace

The voting in the manpower plebiscite brought many people into the village, giving the place a holiday appearance. A total of 287 votes were cast and they made up a majority of "Yes" votes amounting to 171, practically four "Yesses" to every "No".

Totals were Yes, 229; No, 58.

Arrival of many new people is changing the life of the village which was incorporated 14 years ago and which has led for the most part a sleepy hollow sort of existence, content with its gardens and orchards and the hum of its sawmills. Now all that is over. The arrivals are quartered in the several public halls in the village but it is expected that a suitable camp will be constructed in the near future in the immediate vicinity.

George Wall, the proprietor of Wall's Garage in Smithers has purchased the double corner adjoining the O.K. Cafe at Broadway and Main Streets and also the Old High School Building which has been out of use as a school building for a number of years but was still situated on the school grounds. The building was moved to its new site yesterday by two large caterpillar tractors which did the job in about an hour and without difficulty of any kind. Mr. Wall intends turning it into an up-to-date garage and move his business from its present site on Broadway Avenue and which adjoins his new site.

With an improved and a corner location Mr. Wall expects a good increase in business will develop.

The Civilian Protection Committee of Smithers held a general meeting Wednesday evening in the Village hall. It was well attended. The various committees made their reports and progress was made with new business. The Fire Protection committee put on a demonstration and a practice last week when water was brought from the Canadian National Railway fire hydrants into the centre of town. Other gasoline pumps also pumped water from the Smithers' canal and the try-out was all very satisfactory. C. Gibson, head of the fire-fighting department has his organization well in hand.

FOOTBALL POSTPONED

The Senior League football game to have been played last evening between Air Force and Navy was postponed as the grounds were undergoing repairs.

E. T. Kenney, M.L.A. for Skeena, was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club, his subject having to do with the work of the special committee of the Legislature on post-war rehabilitation of which he is a member. President P. H. Linzey was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with a few guests.

War Puts Crimp In Moonshining

Shortage of Metal for Stills and Sugar for Liquor Hits Illicit Industry

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1 (AP)—Uncle Sam's war-time program of rationing and priorities is putting a crimp in the moonshine liquor business in this and other areas, veteran law-enforcement officers say.

The priority program on metals deprived the moonshiner of copper sheets, from which the best stills are made. The shortage of other metals produces the same result.

But officers believe the sugar rationing program will be an even heavier blow to the illicit liquor manufacturer. The importance of sugar—and plenty of it—to the moonshiner may be seen from the fact that 100 pounds are necessary to make ten gallons of whiskey. Under the rationing program it would take two years or more to save enough sugar from his quota to make a ten-gallon run.

New Jobs For Women Include
 Of Messenger In Exchange

WINNIPEG, May 1. — For more than 55 years the Winnipeg Grain Exchange has never allowed a woman messenger on the trading floor, but that tradition went by the board when Bernice Clark of Winnipeg, 18 year old clerk-messenger, was granted the privilege.

"It certainly came as a thrill, the news that I was to be allowed to go right into the trading pits," the pretty brunette said. "I had been employed in the wire room for some time and was picked for the new job when Harry Dickinson, the former floor messenger, joined the air force.

"My boss said I guess that makes you the first girl messenger ever to go onto that floor. But it wasn't as easy as all that because the firm had to get permission from the Grain Exchange Council first and for a while I thought permission might not be granted."

Miss Clark's duties include carrying buying and selling orders to her firm's representatives in the pit and rushing newly posted quotations from the floor to the wire room for transmission over the company's leased wires to various offices.

Ambition? Certainly. Bernice says she has lots of ambition—just to be a good all-round business girl "with maybe a chance at a secretary's job later on." She has a hobby that she admits "might be used to advantage in her job." It is roller skating, "and it could speed things up a bit faster, but I think there is enough noise on the trading floor now without adding to it."

In the history of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange no woman has ever been given trading privileges. Miss E. Cora Hind, agriculture editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, was presented with an honorary membership in the Exchange a few years ago, but the membership does not carry permission to trade.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Chilliwick, Capt. Fred Talbot, spent the day in port yesterday discharging cargo from Vancouver, being in from 7:30 p.m. until 6 p.m.

A notice to mariners issued by the naval service of the Department of National Defence announced that Vern Passage, north entrance to Prince Rupert Harbor, has been closed and that all vessels entering the port of Prince Rupert must contact the examination vessel off Ridley Island before proceeding into the harbor by the main entrance.

C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. Edward Mabbs, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and Ocean Falls with large list of passengers and freight and will sail at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Ketchikan and Stewart whence she is due back here tomorrow evening south-bound.

First Consideration Is For Staff,
 Says Winnipeg Officer of the C. W. A. C.

WINNIPEG, May 1. — Mrs. Marguerita Scott, staff officer of quartermaster stores, Winnipeg company, Canadian Women's Army Corps, served for two years during the First Great War as a typist for Winston Churchill when he was minister of munitions in 1917 and 1918, and recalled recently some of the characteristics of the man who now is the Empire's war leader.

"His first consideration is for those who assist him; his last is for himself," she said. "He is the most considerate man for whom I ever worked. Everyone liked him. He could get a lot of work out of people without an effort. And he never forgot us. He always remembered holidays and birthdays."

Once, Mrs. Scott said, during an air-raid over London that kept all the employees confined to the building in which they worked, one of the girls told Mr. Churchill she was hungry. Within a few minutes he was back in the general office with several pheasants that had been shot that day by some of the officers and brought to the office.

"We plucked the birds right there, roasted them over the open fireplace and had quite a feast," Mrs. Scott said.

Mrs. Scott's two sons, Jack and Bob, are in the Royal Canadian Navy. Mrs. Scott was a driver for the Winnipeg Salvage Corps before joining the army in May, 1941.
