Here is a little poem about Prince Rupert which Carl Clay dug up and recited one evening. There have been many requests for copies of it though I maintain that it maligns a lovely little town which grows the fairest roses and honeysuckle it has ever been my lot to see. And when complaining of the rain, were any of you ever caught in a prairie blizzard? Give me the rain any

Prince Rupert

Tis the land of liquid sunshine, Where the rocks and muskeg meet, Where all the dogs are amphibians And the people have webbed feet

You can talk about your Venice With its canals and gondoliers, But if you live in rainy Rupert,

The town is flocked with redheads, · And boy, it's very plain To see they don't use henna, They're just rusty from the rain.

The coffins in the graves there. Are chained and weighted down, So the corpses don't go floating And haunting round the town.

The wind blows there at 40 per, Like the cyclone loose from hell, And buildings shake and rattle Like no words could ever tell.

And if you like the smell of tar Or dead fish on the docks, Then "Welcome" to Prince Rupert, of the spreading of rust in Mani-For it's rain and fish and rocks. -THE HOSTESS. requires an intermediate plant to

DUE TO WAR CONDITIONS

Canada will now on, have to depend as never before on the output of her mines to fill the ever increasing demands for coal. Much of this will have to be from Alberta mines, but this will be difficult if not impossible if consumers wait, as in the past, for cold weather before taking delivery.

Do your part in helping to avoid a serious situation, by filling your bin NOW and keeping it FULL.

Stocks of Foothills Alberta, Bulkley Valley and Comox now on hand.
