Japanese Take Manila

Washington Admits Is Serious Loss But Resistance Continues

Situation in Southern Pacific May Be Embarrassing for Awhile But in Long View Allies Are Superior.

Manila and the nearby naval base of Cavite fell to the Japanese today, the War Department at Washington, D.C., announced in a joint statement with the Navy Department. Both places, it was said, had been evacuated of military and naval supplies and equipment before advance units of the enemy arrived. The War Department said that "loss of Manila, while serious, had not lessened resistance to enemy attacks." Advancing units of the Japanese entered Manila at 3 p.m. Friday (10 p.m. PST Thursday).

In London a spokesman declared today that the British and American fleets cannot be expected to operate effectively in the southern Pacific until they obtain adequate air support. He asserted that the Japanese might even be able to neutralize the use of Singapore as a naval base by bombing from air bases in Malaya but added "we must keep the long view of the Pacific situation remembering in the long run that the Allies can outbalance the Japanese."

General Sir Henry Pownall, British commander-in-chief in the Far East, declared today that "considerable help is on the way" to British Malaya and that "it is intended to fight every inch of ground down the peninsula."

The Australian Associated Press said it had learned authoritatively today that General Sir Archibald Wavell will command Allied land, sea and air forces in the Pacific.

Major John McGregor V. C. slipped and fell on McBride Street near the corner of Third Avenue yesterday morning during the Canadian Scottish parade to the national prayer service in the Capitol Theatre. Striking his head and being temporarily stunned, he had to fall out of the parade and proceed to hospital. His injuries, however, were not serious.

LONG ISLAND CRASH
NEW YORK—Five men were killed when a United States Army plane crashed on Long Island in the course of a routine flight.

BACK IN WASHINGTON
WASHINGTON—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, following his visit to Canada, returned to Washington yesterday to resume conferences with President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States.

LONDON—Shipping losses on the Atlantic for the past quarter have been reduced to eight percent of what they formerly were.

Miss Ruth Elliott, who has been visiting here for the past few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skinner, McBride Street, is sailing tonight on her return to Vancouver.

SHELLING HAWAIIANS

Three Different Islands of Mid-Pacific Group Attacked By Japanese Submarines

HONOLULU, Jan. 2:—Three different islands of the Hawaiian group have been shelled by Japanese submarines but little damage was done and no casualties are reported. A wharf at Hilo sustained slight damage.

HITLER IS AT FRONT

Goes to Russia in Endeavor to Stem Tide of Nazi Retreat—In Range of Mozhaik.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 2:—A Reuters dispatch to London today quoted Stockholm circles as saying that Chancellor Adolf Hitler had flown to the central front in the hope of stiffening the stand of battered Nazi armies in Russia from headquarters near Smolensk, 150 miles behind the lines.

Soviet troops are reported within artillery range of Mozhaik today in a direct drive upon that German stronghold, fifty-seven miles west of Moscow. The new Soviet thrust in that direction is co-ordinated with fresh encirclement gains above and below it.

AIR FORCE RECRUITING

Mobile Unit To Visit Prince Rupert Soon To Receive Attestations

A mobile recruiting unit of the Royal Canadian Air Force will be in Prince Rupert on January 14, 15 and 16, it is announced.

This unit will be marked by a decided innovation since it will provide facilities for both medical examination and attestation in order to complete immediate enlistment of acceptable applicants on the spot. The unit will be in charge of Flying Officer W. C. Goudie, a well-known Canadian pilot of the last war, accompanied by a medical officer, Flying Officer H. B. McGregor, and Corporal M. W. Howden.

The quota set for immediate enlistment in Prince Rupert includes 9 aircrew (pilots and observers), 5 standard tradesmen, 20 general duties and one radio mechanic. Young men with a minimum of one year High School may be enrolled in the youth training school for airframe mechanics, aero engine mechanics, and wireless operators. Those with two years' High School completed, who are physically fit for aircrew, may be enrolled in the pre-enlistment school for pilots and observers.

NOISELESS NEW YEAR

Prince Rupert Observed Hogmanay Enthusiastically But Reasonably

New Year's Eve was celebrated enthusiastically but reasonably in Prince Rupert. There was good response to the appeal of the authorities that it be a noiseless Hogmanay as far as outside activities were concerned. There was absence of the usual whistle of ships and industrial plants. Nor did any air raid alarms disturb the calm of the midnight hour when 1941 passed out and 1942 came in. There were several dances, military and civilian, and private parties were numerous both New Year's Eve and New Year's Day.

War News

FALL OF MANILA ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON—The United States War Department announces the fall of Manila and Cavite naval base today as General Douglas MacArthur consolidates his defending forces in stronger positions. Despite the overwhelming numbers and superior equipment of the invaders, heavy casualties have been inflicted upon the enemy. All communications with Manila had been cut off since last night and the War Department was prepared to hear of the loss of the capital of the Philippines although this would not mean the end of fighting in the Philippines. The stronghold of Corregidor, known as "Little Gibraltar of the Philippines," may be able to hold out for weeks if not months. Tokyo claimed Thursday that Japanese forces were within six-and-a-half miles of Manila from the north and twenty miles from the south and continuing to advance with further reinforcements being landed. Generally speaking, there was no improvement in the position of Manila as heavy Japanese invading forces continued to advance from north and south upon the capital of the Philippine Islands.

LORD MAYOR'S MESSAGE

LONDON—Sir John Lawrie, Lord Mayor of London, has sent a message of encouragement to the people of the Philippine Islands. London had heard with heartfelt sympathy, the Lord Mayor said, of the ruthless bombing of the open and defenceless city of Manila. The Japanese were evidently copying faithfully the brutal methods of warfare practised by their Nazi masters. The people of the Philippines like the people of London could not be daunted by the worst barbarism that could be inflicted upon them, Sir John was confident.

RUSSIANS MOVING AHEAD

MOSCOW—The Red Army, in spite of stubborn rearguard resistance by the Nazis at some points, is advancing on all fronts. In Crimea an enemy retreat is being turned into a rout. West of Leningrad the Russian advance is uninterrupted. West of Moscow twenty more villages have been recaptured and five trainloads of ammunition have been taken. On the southern front 200 enemy motor lorries have been taken. The Red Army is still pursuing the German Sixth Army Division west of Moscow with other Soviet forces continuing their advance against the enemy on all fronts from Finland to the Crimea. President Kalinin of Russia, in a New Year's Day message, said that fresh Nazi divisions had put up terrible resistance but it was ineffective in stemming the tide of the great Soviet counter-offensive.

RUSSIA HIGHLY CONFIDENT

MOSCOW—The Soviet newspaper Pravda declared today that the New Year was opening auspiciously for the Allies in whose favor the tide had now turned. The Red Army had demonstrated its capability of handling the Nazis single-handed. Confidence could now be expressed that the struggle would end in complete defeat of the Germans although there would be much bloody fighting yet. Russian resources were inexhaustible and the Allies were supplying tanks, arms and planes. Russia was not only fighting for herself but in the liberation of all the enslaved people of Europe.

THE LIBYAN CAMPAIGN

CAIRO—British forces have successfully retaken Bardia in Libya and have captured six hundred more prisoners. There is continued pressure on the enemy in the Agadabia area. The Royal Air Force continues its effective support of the ground forces. The Royal Air Force has carried out bombing attacks on enemy points in North Africa. Italy claims that the British as well as the Axis lost heavily in a tank battle near Agadabia. British naval forces are effectively preventing supplies and reinforcements reaching the enemy in North Africa. Tripoli is the only port through which the Axis can now get supplies to its beleaguered forces.

ITALIAN MORALE LOW

LONDON—Private advices reaching London say that Japanese entry into the war has done nothing to improve the faltering morale of Italy. Despite efforts to bolster up the failing spirit of the Italians, gloom still persists, particularly since the entry of the United States into the war. The attitude of the Italian people is that they are sick of war and hate the Nazis who have over-run their country. British bombings of Naples, Taranto and other Italian cities have resulted in a condition of panic. Hunger and cold are only engendering anti-Fascist moves. A pair of shoes now costs $24 in Italy and shoe repairs cost $8 a pair.

ANOTHER RAID ON NORWAY

LONDON—The British War Office announces that commando parties have raided another important island off the coast of Norway. Like they had done a few days ago at another island, army, navy and air force again collaborated, this time off the north coast. Landings were made at four different points. German prisoners were taken and some Norwegians were removed to Britain to join the Allied forces.

MOVING TOWARD SINGAPORE

SINGAPORE—The Japanese are reported to have continued their advance down the Malay Peninsula to a point within 160 miles of Singapore.

BOTH MANILA AND SINGAPORE?

TOKYO—Premier Tojo told the Japanese Parliament yesterday that it was only a question of time before both Manila and Singapore would be in the hands of the Japanese.

CHINA STILL FIGHTING

CHUNGKING—Heavy Chinese forces have been brought up in Hunan Province and have inflicted heavy casualties upon the Japanese invaders.

GREECE AND CRETE BOMBED

CAIRO—The Royal Air Force has bombed enemy submarine bases in the vicinity of Athens and on the island of Crete in the eastern Mediterranean. Much damage was done.

The Year Has Arrived . . .

The year 1942 has arrived. It came in quiet and has now settled down to its stride and is loping along much as did 1941. We are just as hopeful of the favorable outcome of the war as ever, just as careless about doing all we possibly can to forward the cause, just as spendthrift, just about as selfish and expecting that someone else will win the war for us. That seems to be our attitude just now. We are wondering if the year on which we have just set out will cause us to change our way of life. As a community we deserve nothing better.

The Year 1941 . . .

For the merchants of the city the year just closing has been a good one. The presence of the shipbuilders, the sailors, the airmen and the troops has had a stimulating effect on business, wholesale and retail. Not one business in the city but has felt it more or less. There has been no excuse for failures and there have been none of consequence. Naturally, the government has been and will be taking most of the profits and also a share of the high wages to enable the carrying on of the war. However, there has been no lack of food and clothing or the means to purchase the necessities of life.

In the coming year we must expect to find our purchasing power somewhat curtailed and the choice of goods available narrowed down. Already merchants have been finding it difficult to obtain all the merchandise they need in order to supply their customers. In 1942 there will be fewer goods available in the stores but all food and clothing necessary will be on sale.

Splendid Example . . .

Sir Patrick Dollan, Lord Provost of Glasgow, in a recent address assured Scotsmen the world over that Scotsmen are doing their full share of the war work. Every branch of industry is producing a record output. In some of the industries half of the personnel are women. They say they are proud to work twelve hours a day to keep the fighting services well supplied with munitions and otherwise equipped.

The city of Glasgow recently contributed thirteen million pounds to national savings, this economy being shared by every household and the total since September is fifty million pounds. More important still is the contributing of 100,000 men and women to the various war services. Its famous Fighting Squadron has brought down 200 German planes.

Glasgow citizens have also given material aid to Russia and have been hosts to visiting Russians. They keep Sir Harry Lauder moving around, entertaining the troops and helping in recruiting. A great work for the Empire evidently is being carried out by the people of a city which boasts not only of its being a great Scottish city but also a city almost as cosmopolitan as London.

ATHLETICS IMPORTANT

Ketchikan High School Principal
Interesting Speaker Before
Prince Rupert Gyro Club

The importance of promoting good fellowship and harmonious relations within and between communities by means of friendly sports and athletic competition was emphasized by Clarence Henning, Ketchikan High School principal and coach of the visiting Kayhi basketball team, in speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon on Wednesday. The Ketchikan and Prince Rupert High School boys who played international basketball today would be the men who would be doing international business tomorrow. This development of friendship and personal understanding as a result of the playing of games was something to be greatly desired.

Mr. Henning felt that playgrounds were essential in any community and he congratulated the Gyro Club on what it was doing in that way in Prince Rupert. A similar program had been started in Ketchikan during the past year, he said, supervised activities having been instituted.

Physical education, Mr. Henning felt, should have prominent place in the education scheme. Sports such as badminton, volleyball, golf, swimming etc. were of practical value in the employing of leisure time and providing something with which to lighten minds and promote good fellowship along healthful lines.

Mr. Henning expressed hope that the local civic centre project would be successfully culminated. Ketchikan was embarked upon a similar undertaking and a municipal bond issue was being put up to finance it. Civic centres in both Ketchikan and Prince Rupert would probably tend to encourage international visitations back and forth. The civic centre would be of extreme value in keeping boys off the streets and away from other undesirable environments. The importance of developing junior players was stressed by Mr. Henning who declared he had observed talent among junior basketballers here which, properly developed, would provide Prince Rupert with splendid intermediate and senior players later.

Speaking briefly of international matters, Mr. Henning said he saw a new world order developing. It was his opinion that a League of Nations, in which the United States would be an active participant, would be a sequel of the present war. This, he thought, would be the answer to the problem of providing international security. However, many difficult barriers would have to be surmounted in bringing about this end. The people of the United States were already tending towards the League of Nations idea, the speaker said.

Mr. Henning took opportunity to thank the people of Prince Rupert for the fine hospitality which had been extended the Ketchikan High School basketball team during its stay here.

Art Murray

Art Murray, local basketball promoter, spoke briefly in appreciation of the work of the Gyro Club in fostering the civic centre and supervised playground activities. He expressed the opinion that sports were being sadly neglected in the local High School and expressed the opinion that the curriculum should give more attention to athletics and physical development. After all education was limited if some cognizance was not given the matter of healthy physical development and sports.

Next week the Gyro Club will have a mixed evening party in connection with the installation of officers for 1942.

Miss Mary Dalzell arrived at the first of the week from Vancouver for a visit here as the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dalzell, Seal Cove.

MINISTER'S SON GREAT FOOTBALLER

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 2: (AP)—Endicott Peabody, II, the baby-faced assassin of Harvard's great line, deserves all the praises which are being heaped upon him—for he literally stood on his head to make himself the great football player he is.

Man's size chores on a ranch in Alberta, Canada, during "Chub" Peabody's summer vacations, helped a bit, too.

(Harvard won all its games this season except one and a tie).

Endicott II, now a blue-blooded bundle of dynamite was a scrawny prospect when he first reported for freshman football at Harvard. This last season he was a 190-pound package of unmodified murder, the most savage blocker and tackler in all the "Ivy league."

What happened in between is the story of a kid who set perfection as his goal and never quit until he had achieved it. If anyone doubts that he obtained that goal he is respectfully referred to Bill Busik, of Navy, or to Army's two guards, who looked as though they had been through a meat chopper when Master Peabody, the one-two, got through with them.

Saw Him First

Henry Lamar, who aids Dick Harlow in coaching the Harvard varsity line, first saw the latent possibilities in the scrawny lad who had played three years of football at exclusive Groton School, captaining the team in his last year.

"Chub," Lamar told him at the end of spring practice in his freshman year, "if you could strengthen your back and neck we could make you into a football player."

That was all the son of the Right Rev. Malcolm Peabody and the grandson of the Rev. Endicott Peabody I, needed. Between then and the fall he had strengthened his back and increased his collar size from 15 to 17. A strict regimen of exercise, prescribed by Harvard's trainer, Jimmy Cox, did the trick.

Every day that summer he went through the exercise routine. Bridging, push-ups, handstands, and headstands were performed faithfully and the devotion to his goal had its reward when he made a line berth on the "var."

Strong on Exercise

Peabody was a good sophomore guard that season but he persisted in the exercises to continue his development. He always rode a heavy bicycle about Harvard to keep his legs strong. During the summer he chopped wood and built fences on an Alberta ranch to harden his back muscles even more.

In his junior year he was better but it remained for this season for him to prove to All-America that

MERGER IS PROPOSED

New York Newspaper Suggests Making of United Nation For North America

NEW YORK, Jan. 2: (P)—The Daily News suggests the establishment of "an empire of North America" through admission of Canada's provinces as states of the United States and Canadians as United States citizens.

The newspaper, discussing editorially the prospects of "union now" between Britain and the United States arising from the visit of Prime Minister Churchill, concluded "it would not be feasible for reasons having to do with human nature and various differing traditions of the two countries."

However, it said, "The Dominion of Canada... is a different proposition from Great Britain."

"Two people could hardly be more akin in outlook, economic interests and military position than the people of Canada and the people of the United States."

Separate

"We think Messrs. Churchill and Roosevelt and Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King... might well consider the possibility of a merger of Canada and the United States. The resulting merger, from the Rio Grande to the Arctic, could be a close associate of Great Britain, but—under a separate government."

"Should the leaders of the three commonwealths... consider that there is any possibility of a merger, the mechanics thereof would best be handled, we think, through a plebiscite of Canadian citizens, on the question whether they desire to join the United States."

"If the verdict was yes, Canada's provinces could be admitted as states, Canadian citizens to become U. S. citizens automatically. Yukon and Northwest Territory might come in as territories, to spare the feelings of Alaska; or, the three areas might come in as three new states."

"There would be frictions here and there. Some of our border states might growl at invasion of their markets or the knocking down of tariff barriers. Quebec, which has a state church, would have to be allowed to keep it, if England's long failure to remodel Irish religious and political habits is any guide."

Huge Nation

"But those wrinkles could be ironed out. The net result would be a huge and integrated North American nation, which could organize its own defences on a continental scale without political stumbling blocks—and which might be expected to concern itself with such problems while the Mother Country concerned itself with such problems as the Danzig Corridor and Czechoslovakia."

"After this war we are likely to find Russia the most powerful nation in Europe. To the west of us we may face some powerful Asiatic coalition run either by Japan or China. In the new world which we all hope for it will be a fine piece of insurance to have Canada and the United States lined up side by side in a close union for defence of the North American way of life."

STREATHAM MARRIAGE

STREATHAM, Jan. 2.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Priest of Streatham on December 26 when Miss Doris Evelyn Priest became the bride of her cousin, Charles Van Ransselaer Priest. Rev. Adam Crisp of Burns Lake United Church officiated.

The bride was becomingly gowned in her mother's wedding dress of white silk mulle and lace and she wore a three-quarter length veil of white silk net, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Audrey Priest, wore a gown of mauve lace over silk.

The groom was attended by David Myles Sheldford.

The living room of the Priest's home was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the ceremony taking place under an arch of festive colors centred by a Christmas bell. Following the service a wedding supper was served to a number of guests, the table being centred by a three-tier wedding cake. The happy couple are to reside at Streatham.

Whifflets

From The Waterfront

Herring seiners and packers from Vancouver will be on their way north to Prince Rupert, now that the Christmas and New Year holiday season is over, to join local vessels in the quest for fish for the local canning, reduction and storage plants. There is no definite sign of herring yet in waters immediately contiguous to Prince Rupert but weather conditions are such, it is felt in fisheries circles, that they should be showing up soon.

Dr. R. G. Large is heading out this evening with his power yacht Soogwils for Anyox where, on behalf of the local civic centre committee, he and his party will make an inspection of the old smelter town community hall property with the possible view of using some of the material and fittings for the locally projected undertaking. Return is expected to be made to Prince Rupert Sunday night or Monday morning. Accompanying Dr. Large will be John R. Mitchell, C. H. Elkins, C. C. Mills, A. R. Nichols and G. A. Hunter.

New Year Matinee Drew Large Crowd

Excellent Program Presented At Capitol Theatre To Mark Hogmanay

Possibly the largest New Year's Eve assemblage was the special matinee at the Capitol Theatre where a stage program had been arranged to augment a moving picture presentation. The house was practically filled with a good-natured audience which was appreciative of the various offerings. Contributing to the program were the following:

Canadian Scottish Hill Billy Band, comic instrumental presentation.

Petty Officer Bob Hope, monologue and tap dancing.

Marie Boulter and her pickaninies — Marissa Windle, Monica Holtby, Rose Marie Hartwig, Lois Thompson, Nina Youngman, Lorraine Youngman and Bessie Lee—tap dancing.

Sergeant-Major Giles, vocal solos "Rose of Tralee" and "Road to the Isles."

Elsa Kraupner, solo tap dance.

Bob Brophy, monologues, "The Stag Party" and "Niagara Falls," with Bob Hope.

New Year "Thumbs Up" prologue with "V for Victory" background—sailor, soldier, airman.

Canadian Scottish Pipe Band selections.

Lance Corporal Oliphant, comic song, "Wiggle, Waggle of the Kilt" and Highland Fling.

Elsa Kraupner and Bob Hope, double tap dance.

Private Frank Battersby, female impersonator, solos, "Alice Blue Gown" and "If You Were the Only Girl," assisted by D. G. Borland.

Marie Boulter and Bernice Eastwood, "Gay Ninety" bathing routine.

The picture program consisted of presentation of the comedy "Affectionately Yours" with Merle Oberon and Dennis Morgan.

Manager D. G. Borland was a capable master of ceremonies. Mrs. J. S. Black was piano accompanist.

FILM HAS FUN, SONG

"Week-end In Havana." Technicolor Feature, Showing at Capitol Theatre This Week-end

Tropical music, catchy Cuban rhythms, warm-blooded señoritas, dark-eyed romances are combined in the film-musical "Week-end in Havana" which is showing today and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre here. With Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, John Payne and Cesar Romero cast in the starring roles, the film is set in the capital city of Cuba and shows Havana with all its beauty in technicolor.

Miss Faye portrays a New York sales-girl who has carefully budgeted herself for several years in order to take a Havana vacation. When her ship is caught on a reef she refuses to sign her release to a shipping company until she has actually had the vacation. The company's representative, John Payne, postpones his wedding to make sure she has a grand time and, of course, complications ensue.

Carmen Miranda is featured as a night club dancer in Havana and does a spectacular new number—"The Nango."

Five new tunes were especially written for this picture—"When I Love I Love," "The Man with the Lollipop Song," "A Week-end in Havana," "Tropical Magic," "The Nango."

Others in the cast of "Week-end in Havana" include Cobina Wright Jr., George Barbier, Sheldon Leonard, Leonid Kinskey, Chris-Pin Martin and Billy Gilbert.
