PRINCE RUPERT CANNERY DOING WAR JOB PACKING HERRING FOR G.T. BRITAIN

Is Second Largest Industry in Prince Rupert, Exceeded Only By Shipbuilding Operation at Dry Dock.

Under the joint operation of Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. and the British Columbia Packers, the Prince Rupert cannery on the ocean dock is engaged in a real war job now turning out canned herring in tomato sauce for exclusive delivery to the order of the British Ministry of Food. With a payroll totalling 250 in the plant out of which is operating today one of the largest fishing fleets on the coast, the cannery is turning out 3,500 cases daily and the only limit to its production is its capacity to handle the fish. The Ministry of Food requires everything it can produce.

YANKS LAND 'OVER THERE'

Great American Expeditionary Force Arrives at North Ireland.

LONDON, Jan. 27: (CP) — With United States battle forces figuring in the news on far-flung war fronts, Britons today cheered the arrival of a second American Expeditionary Force vanguard in northern Ireland. It was the first American force which has been landed in Great Britain since 1918.

The force consisted of several thousand United States soldiers under command of General Russell P. Hartle, 52-year-old veteran of the First Great War. Mostly from Iowa and Minnesota, they marched ashore from their transports at the North Ireland port as bands played "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

It is significant that the great troop convoy crossed the Atlantic at the same time that Germany was making boasts of submarine sinkings of many Allied ships but that not a single ship or man was lost.

The force is largely an artillery one and is taking up positions already prepared by American technicians.

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King later replied to criticisms of Mr. Hanson. He said sending of an expeditionary force to Australia was something to be carefully considered.

RUSSIA AND WAR DRAMA

Beverly Baxter Reveals What He Believes to Be Some of Stalin's Mind.

There are a lot of interesting statements in Beverly Baxter's London Letter in the February 1 number of Maclean's outstanding being the peek into what he believes to be the mind of Joseph Stalin, the world's outstanding puzzle as follows:

- 1. Stalin is definitely optimistic. 2. Compared with his generals Stalin is a pessimist; they believe that they are going to smash right through to Berlin. 3. At the beginning of the battle the German Air Force had a superiority over the Russian of fifty percent; this has been wiped out. 4. Stalin greatly admires the British Navy and air force, but thinks our army is of a size fit only for colonial adventures. He thinks the courage of the British people under air raids was splendid. 5. Stalin is in favor of a powerful Poland after the war, which means presumably that the Poles will get the whole of East Prussia. 6. Stalin thinks Turkey has played a useful and honest role in the war. 7. Stalin believes Germany should be completely disarmed.

American and Netherlands Still Slashing At Convoy; Further Landings On Malay

BATAVIA, Jan. 27: (CP) — American and Netherlands planes and submarines today slashed at the remnants of a once-powerful Japanese invasion armada off Dutch Borneo.

Pressing home the first major defeat for Japan in the conflict the American and Netherlands forces had already sunk or damaged thirty-four Japanese warships and troop transports in Macassar Straits. Eleven were definitely known to have been sunk and twenty-three hit of which a number were probably sunk.

The running battle continued in its fifth day today with Batavia dispatches saying that another Japanese warship, believed to be a battleship, had been sunk.

On the Malayan front meanwhile British headquarters reported that the Japanese were landing near Endau on the east coast, eighty miles north of Singapore.

Mackenzie King would never impose it. Godbout refers to the example of Australia which sent its troops overseas and now needs them badly at home.

RED ARMY MOVES ON

German Position Deteriorating Everywhere As Russian Advances Continue Unabated

WITH THE RED ARMY, January 27 (Canadian Press)—The Russian army, continuing its deadly flanking movement penetrated deeply into Smolensk province today. Moshaisk, battered and ruined highwater mark of the Nazi advance where they withstood the furious Soviet counter-attack for so long, has been converted into an assembly point for trophies captured from the Germans.

The German position, said a Soviet communique today, is deteriorating everywhere along the Russo-Nazi front with the Red Army making new advances in the face of the German resistance.

Nazi soldiers are freezing to death by the thousands in extreme cold weather.

Numerous more villages have been recaptured.

Two enemy transports and an escort vessel have been sunk.

Four German planes tried an attack on Moscow last night but all were shot down.

BATTLESHIP IS NO MORE

Loss of H.M.S. Barham Finally Admitted by British Admiralty

LONDON, January 27 (Canadian Press)—Sinking of the battleship Barham, 31,000-ton veteran of the Royal Navy, in the Mediterranean last November 25 was officially announced by the Admiralty today after it had kept the loss a secret for two months to cheat the enemy of any profit from the knowledge.

The loss of the Barham has cut Britain's capital ships to a minimum of thirteen.

Capt. G. P. Cook, commander of the Barham, was lost but the second in command admiral of the Mediterranean fleet who was on board at the time, was saved. It was not disclosed how many of the personnel of from 1100 to 1200 had been lost.

CANADA HAS SUGAR RUSH

Retail Stores Throughout Country Limit Amount To Be Sold To Customers

OTTAWA, January 27—A heavy run on sugar is reported in Canadian retail stores following the rationing order issued by the War-time Prices and Trade Board. Vancouver stores have limited customers to five and ten pound lots and Halifax has done likewise. A general appeal is made against hoarding which, it is pointed out, may lead to prosecution and imposition of severe penalties.

The government is going into the possibility of increased sugar cane production, an expected shortage of which in the United States was one of the reasons leading to the imposition of rationing.

There has been no panic in Cairo although the gravity as a result of the sudden turn in the desert war, in which the British forces were driven back 150 miles, was admitted.

It is admitted that Bengasi is again threatened by the enemy forces who are seventy miles south of there.

Doing Our Share . . .

Prince Rupert is doing a pretty good share in the war work. With the erection of the houses for workers the production will be speeded up considerably. As to what Canada is doing generally Prime Minister Winston Churchill was well pleased with Canada's output. According to the man who writes "Back Stage at Ottawa" for Maclean's Magazine:

"We have built and launched 140 corvettes and minesweepers. We have built and delivered 175,000 army vehicles; produced 14,000 Bren guns; delivered 9,000,000 heavy shells and 10,000,000 shell cases; produced and delivered 500,000 bombs and 150,000,000 pounds of explosives and chemicals. Canadians are now producing heavy guns, anti-aircraft guns, field guns, naval guns and tank guns; producing (apart from Bren guns) Browning aircraft machine guns, Vickers machine guns, naval machine guns and Lee-Enfield rifles, trench mortars, bomb throwers and smoke projectors.

Also, despite much early grief, we are producing tanks. They are not the heaviest tanks, but they are good light and medium tanks, and we are turning them out at the rate of more than five a day, expect to be turning them out at the rate of ten a day by July. We are producing as well vehicles of all kinds; turning out universal carriers, armored, scout and reconnaissance cars. We produce one army automotive unit every three minutes through the whole of each twenty-four hours.

Not generally known is it that, after Pearl Harbor, Canada came to the rescue of the United States with a great deal of armament; nor generally known either that Canadian armament is today in Singapore and the Philippines and at the Panama Canal—just as it is in Russia and China and in England and Libya. Minister of Munitions Howe is probably well entitled to that autographed picture sent him by General Chiang Kai-shek as a token of his gratitude. That still more can be done—and will be well done—the best members of the government say."

How We Would Have Done It . . .

There are many people in Prince Rupert who like to tell how they would fight this war and what they would have left undone. Also we notice the personal prejudices cropping out. For instance these who dislike the English are quick to blame the London authorities for almost everything that happens. Others place the blame for lack of supplies, for failure to arrive on time and for anything that goes awry on the people with whom they differ politically or the people with whom they may have differences.

The difficulty with the average person is that he is sadly lacking in information. Our opinions are formed on either partial information or false information. So we continue to believe that, if we had been doing the fighting, we would have done it differently.

GIRDLE CRISIS COMING

War's Needs and Figures' Demands Strike Home, but There May Be Reserve in the Attic

BOSTON, Jan. 27 (AP) — Pull yourself together, girls, because this will make you shake all over, says an Associated Press writer on war's call to women.

There's a crisis coming in your life, a crisis that will make Valley Forge and the Marne and Singapore look like a Sunday School picnic. You've been talking for years about doing something for your figure, remember?

Well, now is the time to make good on that promise because in a few months you won't be able to get outside help. There's a shortage of rubber, you know, and to keep the army's mechanized units rolling on rubber tires, you'll have to sacrifice the girdles that have been controlling your spare tires etc.

Present stocks of girdles and corsets will be exhausted by the end of the year and from then on, you and your figure will be on your own.

What to do about it? You can diet and whip yourself into shape that way. You can combine the rationing of automobile tires and the eventual shortage of limousine transportation with walking—not only for exercise but to get places and home again.

Back In The 20's.

Or you can throw caution to the winds (and your figure too) and go nonchalantly about your business and social life. There was a time back in the turbulent 20's when all the girls tried to be flappers and starved themselves to their respective bones so they could move around uncorseted and unshaken.

But their husbands and their physicians didn't like that—for different but equally sound reasons, so that approach to your problem is not recommended.

A solution developed in England and harks back and quite successfully too to the binders you probably swathed your newborn babies in. English women are pulling themselves together with musling binders they make themselves.

The effect while not as aesthetically or comfortably successful as the storebought rubber girdles, serves to keep their bodies and souls together. And morale of the civilian populace—and what is more important to feminine morale than a good foundation garment—is proving a major element in this war.

Dig Up Discards

There's no law or priorities regulation to keep you from scouring the attic for the corsets of another year, if not another generation. Those girls who squeezed themselves breathless in hour-glass corsets, the ones with hooks and eyes and yards and yards of lacing, only a couple of years ago, may be able to resurrect both the corsets and their shapes with a little modernization.

You can do what you like since it's your figure and your audience that will suffer. But it is surpris-

AIR RAID PROBLEM

Editor, Daily News:
Regarding taking the children out of the schools in event of air raids and having them stand outside, do you not think it would be much better to ask residents living close to schools to allow groups of, say six, to go into their basements? By so doing they would be in out of the cold (and possibly rain).

It would not be very nice to have to think of your children standing outside for any length of time, especially during a raid. Whereas, if they were in a basement even if it were not very warm, I am sure the resident would do everything in their power for the children, such as giving them something warm to wrap themselves in and possibly something to eat if they had to be there for long. These people, I am sure, would be more than repaid by the parents for their kindness.

This is just a suggestion. What is your opinion, parents?

How Rent Control Affects You — as a landlord as a tenant

AS a part of the general plan to halt further increases in the Cost of Living, the Government on December 1, 1941, extended the policy of the Price Ceiling to rentals for all commercial and housing accommodation in Canada. Generally speaking the new rental laws provide that:

- (1) No oral or written lease for any commercial or housing accommodation (furnished or unfurnished) may legally be made after October 11, 1941, at a rental higher than that date unless an application for increased rental has been made to and approved by a local Rentals Committee of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Such an application must be based on specified circumstances arising since October 11, 1941.

NOTE: Land and premises used solely for farm purposes are not subject to rent control.

- (2) A tenant is entitled to a renewal of his lease unless the landlord requires the premises for certain reasons named in the Board's Rental Orders and has given the tenant a written notice to vacate within the time and in the manner prescribed therein. If this notice to vacate is contested by the tenant, the landlord must secure a Court Order for possession.

- (3) Copies of all Rental Orders and Regulations of the Board and application forms for rental variations are available from any of the regional or sub-offices of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, and, in areas where such offices are not yet established, from the Clerk of any County or District Court or local Rentals Committee.

VIOLATIONS of these orders are punishable by law and should be reported in writing to the Prices and Supply Representative Regional Office, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, at the nearest of any of the following cities: Vancouver, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg, North Bay, London, Toronto, Brockville, Montreal, Quebec, Saint John, Halifax or Charlottetown.

BULLETINS ON PRICES

Wartime Prices and Trade Board Issuing Ceiling Regulations.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—A plan to inform business men about price ceiling regulations by sending bulletins to all firms under licence to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is announced today.

"Every business which has already applied for or obtained a Wartime Prices and Trade Board licence is now on the mailing list to receive these business bulletins," explained C. R. Morphy, director of licensing. "As each new application for licence is received, the name of the applicant will be added."

Apart from the legal requirements which make it obligatory for every licensee to notify the board after March 31 of any change in name, ownership, or character of his business within ten days after such change, such notification will enable the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to keep its mailing list for information up to date.

Every person who buys for resale, sells or offers for sale any goods must obtain a Wartime Prices and Trade Board licence, unless he has already obtained one under a previous board licensing order. Farmers, gardeners, livestock and poultry producers, and fishermen, need no licence unless buying for resale. Operators of private boarding houses and employees of persons or firms themselves subject to licence are also exempt.

The current licensing order also applies to those providing services which have been brought under the price ceiling. These include: the supplying of electricity, gas, steam and water; telegraph wire-less and telephone services; transportation of goods and persons and the provision of dock and harbour facilities; warehousing and storage; undertaking and embalming; laundering, cleaning, tailoring and dressmaking; hairdressing and beauty parlor services; plumbing, heating, painting, decorating, cleaning and renovating; repairing of all kinds; supplying meals and beverages; exhibiting motion pictures; process manufacturing on a custom or commission basis.

Scottish Dance Much Enjoyed

Fine Affair Held Saturday Night by Oddfellows' Lodge.

The Oddfellows' Scottish dance last Saturday was another of those most enjoyable affairs being held every two weeks at the Oddfellows' Hall. There was an excellent crowd present to enjoy good old-time Scottish dances. Under the capable direction of congenial master of ceremonies, "Bill" Davidson, they were not disappointed as witnessed by the repeated encores and loud shouts of pleasure as can only come from Scotch dancers having a real good time. Dancing was from 8:30 till midnight to the music of the Oddfellows' Old-Time Orchestra.

Refreshments were served in the hall kitchen from 10:30 until 11 o'clock and, during this time, Mrs. J. S. Black relieved the orchestra by playing at the piano for several dances.

Mrs. John Eyoifson, Mrs. Lewis Hilder and L. C. Eby were in charge of refreshments. N. W. Appleyard and John Eyoifson were at the door with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moorehouse helping in many places to assist the success of the affair.

TRUE STORY IS STRANGE

Elmore Philpott Writes About Axis
Agent Who Visited Prince
Rupert Since War Began

In an exceptionally interesting article, Elmore Philpott, columnist for the Victoria Times, tells of "true story" of Axel Wenner-Gren, Swedish capitalist, confidante of royalty and supposed Axis agent, who visited Prince Rupert even after the war started with his yacht, the Southern Cross. Writes Philpott:

Those who like international mystery stories, such as E. Phillips Oppenheim used to write, may be interested in the true story of Axel Wenner-Gren.

The platinum-blond haired Swedish millionaire has just been placed on the blacklist by the United States State Department. That is to say he is considered as an Axis agent, and an allied enemy in this war.

Many Canadians remember that it was the Wenner-Gren yacht, Southern Cross, which rescued over a hundred survivors of SS Athenia when she was torpedoed on the first night of the war. A grateful government of Canada gave the Wenner-Grens an engraved plaque for that. A couple of weeks later tragedy again crossed the path of the Swedish ship. An R.C.A.F. plane, returning to Vancouver Island from a routine flight to the north, crashed when it altered its course and circled low over the Wenner-Gren ship. Several airmen were killed.

Later we had news that the Southern Cross had become sort of a water taxi for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor; then that the Wenner-Grens were on an archaeological expedition in South America. Now the blacklist.

Goering's Brother-in-Law

The first Mrs. Goering was a sister of Axel Wenner-Gren. It was she who—long after her death—was given a state Nazi funeral. Mr. Wenner-Gren was the known go-between in the unofficial peace negotiations which took place in the days between Munich and the present war between Goering's gang in Germany and those in England who still believed, until the very last moment of "peace" that some sort of arrangement was possible.

Wenner-Gren had and has tremendously strong German connections altogether apart from his association with Nazi No. 2, incidentally, those who know claim that Wenner-Gren's personal opinion of his deceased sister's husband is not high. His estimate of Goering's character would not make good Nazi propaganda. It is with elements far more basic in German life that Wenner-Gren has ties. For Wenner-Gren is another name for the Bofors gun factory. And the Bofors gun factory is just another name for Krupp.

Almost all countries in the world are using guns made under Bofors patent licenses. The latest official figures show that Canada is making 400 per month—exclusive of gun barrels. Every gun made by Canadian factories or any other factories pays a royalty on every gun so manufactured to Bofors—which means to Wenner-Gren, Krupp and Company.

It was following the exposures of international armament entanglements—made by Colonel Drew in Canada and a host of others elsewhere—that the Swedish government took steps to rid itself, as far as possible, of having a Krupp factory on Swedish soil. The solution was taking over the concern by Wenner-Gren—who already was an industrialist with a world-wide reputation. But the deal was a stock transaction. In other words, Krupp are still indirectly interested in the success of Bofors.

The Bofors' guns, of course, are the best in the world. There is no information to suggest that Wenner-Gren carried any such conspicuous armament with him on this voyage. He did, according to R.C.M.P. inspectors, carry quite a modest arsenal of machine guns—possibly to make sure that his archaeological operations were not disturbed.

Ghosts Too

It was of Mrs. Wenner-Gren that I wrote in these columns over a year ago. She is the woman who told a Judge's wife, rescued from the Athenia, about her strange vision. She had had a premonition, she said, of holding out her arms to grasp, from a man in a lifeboat, a beautiful child dying from a great bleeding gash in the

HELP SEAMEN

Representing only a small part of the Canadian Red Cross help to "men of the sea," last month the British Columbia division of the Red Cross supplied 862 articles to the navy and 990 to the merchant marine, according to the monthly report of Mrs. H. A. Ramsden, provincial chairman of the work committee. The women of this province also made Red Cross supplies to fill approximately twice as many cases as in December of last year. Of the 236 cases only 36 were shipped. After the war was declared on Japan, word was received from national Red Cross headquarters to hold all British Columbia supplies. Red Cross workers have resumed the making of surgical dressings, almost a quarter of a million being made in December.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Red Cross Society has been called for Feb. 26 and 27—the event to be held in the Hotel Vancouver.

Hazleton and Smithers Chinese Association held a drawing contest of 20 assorted articles ranging from a box of soap to a 20-pound turkey.

Are Married At Burns Lake

Miss Golda Stanyer Becomes Bride of John Tyson Radley.

BURNS LAKE, Jan. 27.—A quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. Adam Crisp at the United Church manse on Tuesday morning last when Golda Bessie Stanyer became the bride of John Tyson Radley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Radley of Burns Lake. Only immediate friends and relatives present.

The bride was daintily gowned in fuchsia velvet with a corsage of rose-tinted gardenias and wore a hat and gloves to match her costume.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Gowans, was becomingly dressed in soldier-blue sheer and wore a hat of the same shade.

The groom was attended by John Gowans.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Adam Crisp played "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a very enjoyable dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gowans.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Radley are to reside at Collymont.

The laugh-provoking story, replete with songs, dances, girls, laughs and fun generally, has its setting on the campus of a college which is looking forward to its greatest football season with big Jack Oakie as the star full back. To make sure that nothing happens to him, Oakie is sent to live at the home of the professor, Donald Meek, whose pretty daughter, Linda Darnell, is assigned to watch him. The night before the game Oakie is kidnapped. Linda and George Murphy set out to find him and how they find him makes for a lively and funny climax.

The new musical tunes—"I'm Making a Play For You" and "Central, Two-Two-Oh-Oh"—stand out.
