New B.C. Blackout Districts

British Columbia has been divided into four black-out areas following the decision of the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee to use the commercial broadcasting stations as an addition to the established ARP warning system. Radio stations will refer to these areas by numbers only when they give the warning.

There is a sample message ordering a precautionary blackout and a radio silence: The message will be preceded by a steady siren signal for 30 seconds followed by the announcement: "By order of Western Air Command Headquarters, a precautionary blackout has been ordered in Area (or Areas) (or Areas and ) British Columbia. If you live in Blackout Area (or Areas) and (or Areas) and ) blackout your premises as quickly as possible in accordance with ARP regulations. Radio silence has also been ordered. This station is required to leave the air, but it is suggested that you keep your radio turned on. Please avoid using your telephone during this emergency unless vitally necessary; all available telephone facilities must be kept clear for Defence Forces and Civilian Protection workers."

Both the siren signal and message are immediately repeated, then the station leaves the air. There are several types of messages. A piercing tone signal precedes an order of an "imminent danger" blackout. A warden's whistle precedes the "all clear" message. The radio service will start December 5.

While the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation takes over the local radio station CFPR as from December 1, next Tuesday, institution of the full new program service from the station is deferred until December 8 when Ira Dilworth, regional director of C.B.C., plans to be in Prince Rupert. Thereafter there will be broadcasting from Prince Rupert between 7:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. and between 4 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. There will be broadcasting on Sundays as well as week-days. News broadcasts will be put out twice daily, the news coming from Vancouver. For the start the local station will be taken over on a three months' rental basis prior to eventually being taken over completely by the Commission. Clarence Insulander and S. J. Anderson will be retained as members of the staff under C.B.C. and two men will be coming in from Vancouver—James Gilmore, an additional engineer, and Dick Halhead, program man and announcer.

Nazi Soldiers Being Gradually Corralled West of Stalingrad

Important Gap in Curving Line is Closed by Recapture Of Kleitskaya by Russians

MOSCOW, Nov. 28 (CP)—The Red Army has cleared the last German soldier out of the Don elbow west of Stalingrad and remaining enemy forces, corralled in a rapidly closing ring of Russian guns and bayonets, are being hurled back to the east upon the bayonets of the Stalingrad garrison, front line reports said today. Closing an important gap in the curving line, Army dispatches reported the recapture of Kleitskaya, Cossack city on the west bank of the Don.

NEW RADIO COMING UP

B.B.C. to Start Broadcasting From Here on December 8 Eleven Hours Daily and Sundays

Danger deepens hourly for Adolf Hitler's battered spearhead at Stalingrad, latest battle dispatches indicate, as fresh strength is poured into the aggressive Red Army garrison over the newly-won land route and fast-wheeling field columns cut across the besiegers' lifeline to the west. The confused war of movement swirls across the broad steppes west of Stalingrad and it is impossible to define battle lines clearly.

ALLIES ARE CLOSING ON UPON NAZIS

Spearheads Approach Even Closer To Tunis and Bizerte in Latest African Fighting

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)— Allied spearheads are reported to have advanced to a new point within fifteen miles of Tunis and to have clashed with Axis forces at Mateur, a communications centre twenty-five miles south of Bizerte in an effort to drive a wedge between the fortified capital and the naval base of Tunisia. Both developments are announced in a Berlin radio broadcast.

The position of the force striking at Tunis was not stated definitely but an earlier Allied communique announced British troops, striking northeastward, had captured Mejez el Bab, 30 miles southwest of Tunis, over stiff resistance and were "advancing successfully."

The Morocco radio said that all ground engagements so far were on a small scale but the need for disciplined speed was indicated by Axis troop movements from Libya and Sicily which, despite Allied air and sea attacks, were shortening manpower odds for the first time since the British Eighth Army launched its offensive against Marshal Erwin Rommel's El Alamein Line on October 2. Cairo said: "There is nothing to report from our land forces."

What's Housewife Minus Her Tools?

British Women Make Pointed Reply To Food Minister's Comment

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—A number of correspondents, most of them housewives, have answered the statement of Lord Woolton, food minister, that bad cooking is a crime. They say bad cooking in most homes is due to lack of adequate kitchen utensils, which were given away in response to scrap metal drives earlier in the year.

2,000-FOOT FALLS

WELCOME WARSHIPS

Allied Ports Hold Out Hand to French Vessels Which May Have Escaped Toulon

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—Allied ports held out a welcoming hand today for any surviving units of the martyred French fleet which defiantly chose mass suicide at Toulon rather than the clutch of Hitler. Even as great explosions were still tearing the vitals out of the stricken men-of-war Admiral Jean Darlan went on the air to appeal to what surviving units there might be to make for the haven of United Nations bases. Whether any ships would go was problematical. Conflicting reports said that some smaller units put to sea before Hitler sent armored columns racing into the naval base.

Weds R.N. Captain

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—The engagement has been announced of Capt. John Wentworth Farquhar, R.N., youngest son of the late Admiral Sir Arthur Farquhar, K.C.B., C.V.O., and Lady Farquhar, and Miss Betty Mitchell, daughter of John P. Mitchell of Manory, Saskatchewan, and the late Mrs. Mitchell.

She'd Hold Nazis Till Aid Arrived

Veteran Postmistress on Atlantic Outpost Wanted Guns to Help Her Do It

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—The elderly postmistress at a little settlement on an isolated cape jutting into the Atlantic wrote to headquarters of the R.C.A.F. Aircraft Detection Corps, offering her services as an observer. But, she said, she didn't have a gun and there wasn't one for miles around. Would the A.D.C. send a gun and some ammunition by return mail? "I'll hold off any Germans that might land here until help comes," she said. The A.D.C. gladly listed her as an observer but said any gunnery involved will be left to the fighting services.

Tanks—Helmets In Old Tin Cans

Army's Ordnance Corps Ships Car Load of it to Make Armor Plate

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 28 (CP)—A freight car load of 15 tons of tin cans—consigned from the Canadian Ordnance Corps Training Centre at nearby Barriefield to a Toronto metals company—has just been shipped from Kingston, the forerunner of many similar shipments. The cans, salvaged from the ordnance centre by army personnel, will provide metal to make armor plate tough enough to withstand shrapnel and deflect shells. Emphasizing the value of such salvage to Canada's expanding output of war materials, army officials said a tin can salvaged today may be part of a tank rumbolling into action a few months later. Twenty old tin cans make a steel helmet.

Working directly with the army salvage and disposal board at Ottawa, Capt. J. R. Clarkson of Windsor, Ont., salvage and disposal officer at military district No. 3, with headquarters at Kingston, has worked out a comprehensive conservation and salvage program.

Hereafter liquor permits will have to be presented for endorsement on making purchases.

Evacuees Flock Back to London

EDITORIAL

Toulon...

France's heart and body may be broken but French honor and spirit lives on. So we may reflect in consideration of Toulon, most dramatic incident so far in this strange war.

France has had her monstrous quislings to sell her out. Even history may never reveal all the treachery—high unimagined intrigue—which has resulted in France finding herself in her present plight.

Already, however, we have seen an incident of unequalled heroism in the action of the commanders of the French fleet at Toulon scuttling their ships and going down with them rather than permit them to fall into the hands of the Nazi gangsters.

The dishonor which the French traitors may have brought upon the good name of the homeland the honor which the great naval patriots of Toulon displayed yesterday may somewhat eclipse. The depth of infamy has been to a measure relieved by the glorious acts of these heroes.

Meanwhile it appears that true French patriots will go on fighting from abroad—something that old Petain and others might have done themselves had they not succumbed to the Nazi pressure.

As for the situation following the complete fall of French homeland, there does not appear to be a great deal to worry about. Things are at least no worse than they were.

The French fleet would have helped us. We probably would have had it should it have been able to escape. But it is gratifying that the enemy, whom it could have helped greatly, has not come into possession of it.

Of course, Hitler's object in moving in on Toulon by stealth was to seize the French fleet for himself. In that he has been disappointed. All he has gained is another smashed port. He has increased his patrol responsibilities. He has gained a base which may well prove more of a liability than an asset.

The affair of Toulon, tragic as it may be, cannot be taken as being very serious as far as we are concerned. It has ruled out definitely any willing French collaboration.

We cannot help, however, but pity the lot of the poor French people as we pity that of all the other subjugated countries which have fallen temporarily under the sway of the aggressor dictators.

Happily, we have good reason to believe that the day of liberation seems definitely nearer—a fact that the desperate acts of the enemy go to affirm.

Meat Rationing...

Meat rationing was suggested as a possibility by J. C. Taggart, foods administrator, the other day. He has since stated that the shortage of beef has eased, but the possibility of rationing apparently still remains.

Before the war, talk of meat rationing in Canada would have sounded like talk of tea rationing in Ceylon. But war works many paradoxes, and one of them is a meat shortage on this continent, the greatest meat-producing area in the world.

Rationing offers many more difficulties in a great and widely-scattered country like Canada than it does in a compact country like Britain. For instance, nearly half of the population have their own source of supply. Mainly, these are farmers and agricultural workers and country dwellers.

For townfolk, the problem is that of making the available supply for the domestic markets go farther.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

Bert Pownall, the able seaman from the Royal Navy who was more or less beached here for several weeks in the early autumn and entered into all our concerts with great zest, being particularly good as "Alice" in the "Alice Blue Gown" number, has written to me from the high seas and his letter is so interesting that I would like to share it. He writes:

"Dear Mrs. Garbutt: "At last I have found time to write you. I suppose you began to think I had completely forgotten the 'Y' but, believe me, I had a most enjoyable time while in Rupert and hope to pay another visit at some future date when I sincerely hope things will be much better."

"As you will see I am on a ship and shall soon be home once again. I did not have long to wait at Victoria before they drafted me for which I was very thankful for I did not relish the idea of staying there for any length of time, especially among strangers, but it so happens I have got three good fellows with me so I suppose I must consider myself very lucky. You probably have heard of this ship, for it was the talk of the barracks while I was there."

"So far the voyage has been quite uneventful and naturally I am hoping it will continue that way. If things go well I should be home somewhere around Xmas which will be very nice for it will be the first one spent at home for three years."

"I of course have heard no more from Geordie (note: Geordie is the British sailor who was sent to Tranquille and has been 'adopted' by the Service Wives Club) but that was only to be expected for he does not know I am on this ship."

"Well up to now I have spoken only of myself so let's get away from that and ask a few questions. Are you still carrying on your duties at Rupert and are you still ably aided by Carl and the rest of the 'Y' boys? Do you still hold the Sunday concerts, so successful while the padre was in charge? He, I am afraid, will be missed very much and I was extremely sorry I was unable to be at his last concert. But who knows we might quite unexpectedly see each other again which will call for a slight celebration."

"Please remember me to all at the 'Y' including Mrs. Muirhead and Helen Marchelidon, Kay Baker and Chris Brown and by the way will you give them this address for I have mislaid theirs and I cannot write to them as promised. Also give my regards to that good trouser, Mrs. Black. I have written to her so she will most probably write to me. My home address is 26 Scott Road, Great Barr, Birmingham, England, so ask my friends to write to me."

"Cheerio and keep smiling. "Your sincere friend, Bert."

On Sunday at the Capitol theatre there will be two 'Y' concerts. The afternoon one at three p.m. requires no tickets for entrance. The evening concert requires tickets which have already been sent to the units from which you must get them. There are no special ladies' tickets as at first but you need a ticket for the girl friend which is the same as yours.

SPORT CHAT

In Great Britain, a country that links boxing with beer as being indispensable to relaxation and entertainment, Canadian Army fighters are coming into their own. Two Canadians won their fights on technical knockouts in an Aid-to-China show at Bristol that marked the latest appearance of Dominion scrappers.

Cpl. Arnold Hayes, the big Negro from Montreal, overcame a weight advantage of 10 pounds to stop Sgt. Jim Gully of the British Army in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Gully retired with an eye cut. Apart from an even exchange in the third and fifth heats, the 194-pound Canadian Army heavyweight king wielded much the harder blows and scored heavily with terrific blows to Gully's head and chin. For Hayes, Montreal lightweight champ in 1940, it was the second straight triumph within a few days. He previously whipped Jack Smith of Worcester over eight rounds at London. Tony Roberts of Winnipeg started his bout in whirlwind fashion and forced his opponent, Les Turner of Oxford, to retire in the third round with a damaged hand. Roberts' non-stop battling caught the fancy of the crowd and he received the greatest ovation of the night. He was cheered particularly at the end of the second round when he displayed agility and ringcraft in avoiding Turner's dangerous lunges.

Mrs. J. P. Morgan and Mrs. Percy Pierce were joint hostesses at a delightful miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. James Alexander, formerly Miss Lillian Davies, at the home of Mrs. Henry Doiron, 931 Ambrose Avenue.

The bride was presented by little Patsy Lemon with a carriage decorated in white and pink with a face of a clock attached. This was very appropriate for the occasion. The bride received numerous useful gifts. The hostesses served dainty refreshments after which the happy gathering adjourned.

Announcement

Restrictions placed upon us by the Wartime Prices & Trade Board compel us to announce we shall be unable to put on our "Christmas Special" this year.

This practice of sending a small box of smoked fish, typical of the dominant industry of Prince Rupert, has become increasingly popular and we are very sorry we shall have to disappoint our many customers this year.

After the war, we hope we shall again be able to make this special Christmas offer available to our many friends.

Quiet Days in Fishing Activity — New
Ramp is Now in Use — Hunting
Party Back From Gardner
Canal Area

These are very much the dog days as far as fishing activities out of Prince Rupert are concerned. The most of the boats continue tied up although a few of the halibutters are engaged in mud shark and dog fish operations. There are no signs of herring as yet but it is still a little early. As soon as these fish appear seiners and packers will get into operation. Meanwhile the quiet season may be expected to continue for some time as the men of the fleet are not having any difficulty in getting employment. After the New Year there will be some activity in getting the fleet ready for another season in halibut and salmon fishing.

The new ramp leading from the foot of Pacific Place to the Canadian National Wharves was opened to traffic this week and that means of access to the local waterfront is again in use. What an important integral artery for traffic the overhead there is was not fully appreciated until it had been out of commission for the few weeks and traffic had to be routed by way of the rough detour over the hillside. However, the other road will be a useful emergency route in view of the greatly increased traffic to the waterfront.

A hunting party consisting of Bill Richards, George Rudderham and Ernie Gagne returned home on Thursday after a successful eleven day trip to the Gardner Canal and Douglas Channel area. The trip was made on the popular Richards' boat Grace R and Giltees, Hartley Bay, Kildala Arm and Long Inlet all were visited. Good hunting was obtained with a bag consisting of thirteen geese, fifty or sixty mallards and one deer. The party found considerable ice at the head of inlets and this made necessary curtailment of hunting operations at several points.

Coast Regiment Dance Is Success

Fine Affair Staged Thursday
Evening in Armory

On Thursday evening the Armory, which was gaily decked with flags, was the setting for a successful dance under the auspices of the Women's Auxillary of the Coast Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery. The president, Mrs. C. Evitt, was in general charge. The orchestra of the Grenadiers provided delightful music for the some two hundred persons present.

Mrs. P. L. Peterson was the capable convener. Regimental Sgt. Major P. L. Peterson was master of ceremonies. Sgt. P. Doherty was at the door. Sgt. and Mrs. Dahlie were in charge of the pop stall. Mesdames Hadden, Taper, Roberts, Hanna, Brass were in charge of the refreshments.

The raffle, consisting of a teaset donated by Gordon & Anderson and a record player donated by McRae Bros., in charge of Mrs. R. Woods was drawn. The winner of the teaset was Mr. Catt, with ticket number 216. The record player was won by G. Hilwig with ticket number 1269.

Gyro Members At Stag Party

W. F. Stone Host Last Night—Installation of Officers Soon by District Governor

W. F. Stone was host to the members of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club last night with a jolly stag party at his home in the James Apartments. Card playing was the order of the evening and a happy time was spent by all. Delicious refreshments were served.

December 9 has been set as the date for the Gyro installation dinner when the district governor, Dr. George Froom of Kamloops, will be here to officiate. It will take the form of a mixed gathering with wives and lady friends in attendance. An honored visitor at that time will be Lieut. Orme Stuart who will be here on leave after two and a half years overseas with the navy.

NEWS FOR MIDLANDS

"I think Cobourg would stand at the top of the list per capita of enlistments for overseas," declared Maurice Booth, National Selective Service and Unemployment Insurance officer for the Cobourg area, speaking at a Rotary meeting at the British Hotel. "I think the town held that distinction in the past war, too," added Mr. Booth, who served for three years as mayor of Cobourg. Cobourg can be proud of these men and of her other men who have enlisted."

Announcement has been made that two Cobourg boys have been awarded the Canadian efficiency medal for service in the non-permanent active militia. Recipients of the awards are S. S. M. Jack Westley and Sgt. Albert E. Thompson.

Damage estimated at $25,000 was caused when fire raged through Pratt's flour mill in Cobourg a few days ago.

Among those who enlisted at Peterborough last week were James Henry Dixon, Cobourg; Gordon C. Boundry, Port Hope, and Orland W. Drinkwater, of Port Hope.

ROMANCE IN FILM

Excellent Cast, Deft Direction in
"The War Against Mrs. Hadley"

Laughter and romance in the face of emergency, in bustling wartime Washington enliven "The War Against Mrs. Hadley," coming next Monday and Tuesday to the Capitol Theatre, and presenting Fay Bainter as the prototype of many American women who tried vainly to avoid being enmeshed in war conditions until their awakening came. The story revolves about Mrs. Hadley, wealthy socialite, who, when the war starts, tries, although she is not unpatriotic, to live her life as before, amid changing conditions. Her friends go into war work, her daughter marries a soldier against her wishes, her son is drafted, and when he is sent overseas she blames her suitor, a government official and they are estranged. Even her butler becomes an air raid warden. Then, in a dramatic climax, her awakening comes, and like millions of other American women, she casts her whole being into the conflict.

Mrs. Bainter handles the difficult role, with many delicate shades of characterization, with skill, and Richard Ney, as her son, repeats the fine performance he gave in "Mrs. Miniver." Young romance is supplied by Jean Rogers as the daughter and Van Johnson as her soldier sweetheart, and Spring Byington provides both comedy and drama as the socialite friend who goes into war work. Edward Arnold is a dominant figure as the government official, and Dorothy Morris, Miles Mander, Halliwell Hobbes and Frances Rafferty are other principals.
