

CANADIAN COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, BACK IN ENGLAND, AFTER U.S.-CANADA VISIT

Greatly Heartened As a Result—Nothing Can Compare With Production of North America For War—1942 Will Be Important Year.

LONDON, March 30:—A large contingent of army and air force men having come with him, Lieut. General A. G. L. McNaughton, commander-in-chief of the Canadian Corps in Great Britain, returned yesterday from his visit to Canada and United States. At a press conference made from the cabin of the steamer in which he had crossed the Atlantic, General McNaughton said, before disembarking, that 1942 would be a big year in the war. No opportunity to hit at Hitler would be overlooked. No useless chances would, however, be taken.

General McNaughton spoke in high terms of the war effort he had found being developed in Canada and the United States both in the armed services and in industry. The output of industry he had found of a high quality and a high efficiency had been developed. Canada had overcome an inferiority complex in war industry and there was nothing in war equipment that could not now be turned out in that Dominion.

As for the services, General McNaughton stated that there would be an exchange of training facilities between those in Great Britain and Canada.

Regarding the attitude of the people of Canada towards the war, General McNaughton said he had found a "wonderful spirit of determination." They were solidly and grimly determined to give their maximum support to seeing this time through to a successful conclusion. This applied to army, navy, air force and industry.

General McNaughton referred to the formation of three infantry divisions, two armored divisions, two tank corps and mobilization of other service units.

Speaking of Canadian industrial and equipment problems, General McNaughton declared that the conversion of industry from a peacetime to a wartime basis was "amazing." The quality of war equipment being turned out by Canada was "as near perfect as any one could wish." A high pitch of perfection was being reached in production and the time was now coming when some of the best brains could be spared for weapon development. Indeed this was already being worked upon. Canadian and American boards were now co-operating on weapon development.

While there had been great success in accomplishing the objective of the raid, casualties had been high, it was admitted, and some of the British forces had been taken prisoner.

There had been enough explosions in the old United States destroyer Campbellton to wreck all the docks at St. Nazaire.

Returning commandoes were given a hero's welcome.

It is declared to have been the most brilliant success since the Zeebrugge raid of the Great War.

RAID IS SUCCESS

Everything That Was Set Out to Do at St. Nazaire Is Accomplished.

LONDON, March 30:—The British commandoes raid on the Nazi submarine base of St. Nazaire on the French coast is declared to have been a "complete success." A spokesman said today that the damage which had been done would cripple the base for a year and would greatly hamper German submarine activities on the Atlantic.

The main lock gate at St. Nazaire was destroyed as well as the main pumping station and other extensive damage had been done.

While there had been great success in accomplishing the objective of the raid, casualties had been high, it was admitted, and some of the British forces had been taken prisoner.

JAPS SUFFER LOSSES

MELBOURNE, March 30:—Allied air operations over Lae on the north shore of New Guinea since March 10 have crippled over ten percent of the entire cruiser strength with which Japan entered the war, an Air Ministry communiqué said today. Japanese forces have made a twenty-seven mile withdrawal in the New Guinea as a result of floods rolling down the mountain sides in Markham Valley and their position is further menaced by heavy American and Australian air blows, Australian war reports said. Meanwhile Prime Minister John Curtin said that possibly 240 persons were killed in the first Japanese raid on Port Darwin February 19. Darwin was raided by the Japanese again this afternoon and Port Moresby was also attacked.

Prays For God's Aid In Vanquishing Wicked Forces Which Have Wrecked World

LONDON, March 30:—The King told the people in a broadcast Saturday night on the eve of Empire Day of Prayer that "there can be no peace until the wicked forces that have wrecked the world are cast down and utterly destroyed."

His Majesty said: "There is no doubt some of us may not feel as fresh as two-and-a-half years ago when we started at the bottom of the hill but don't forget we are much nearer the top. United in close comradeship with our brothers and sisters overseas and with our mighty and valiant allies we shall go forward together undaunted and unwearied until our task is accomplished. In our prayers let us thank Almighty God for bringing us thus far in safety through so many dangers and let us ask Him to give us that spiritual strength which great causes deserve."

Since he last spoke to his people, they had been through hard and trying times, said His Majesty. People who had been used to peace and prosperity had shared anguish and hardship.

"Our hearts go out to our comrades in Australia, New Zealand, India and Burma in their hour of trial," said the King. "They face it with the same unflinching spirit as those of us at home. We will give them every help in our power. We are glad to know that strong American forces are ranged on their side."

In the tragic events that had occurred, there had been many searchings of hearts, continued the King. That was a good thing. Adversity could be turned to good account if it was used as a spur to greater purpose.

The great efforts that had been put forth already should not be underestimated. To do that would be a great mistake and a great disservice "both to ourselves and our allies."

Never So United

"This country has never been so united," the King declared. "It has never worked so hard as it is doing now. That does not mean, however, that a great deal more cannot and must not be done. We must improve our teamwork and increase our pace. Speed is the sine of modern war. Each one of us in every walk of life must do everything with all energy. I ask you to go to your jobs in the critical months ahead with new fire and fresh confidence in yourselves and in each other. We must do the utmost ourselves before we waste time and energy in finding fault with others. No matter how hard and stormy the path we must continue resolutely on our way. Our will to endure has hardened. We know we have undertaken a veritable crusade against forces of darkness which, if they prevailed, the lights of freedom, goodwill and kindliness would be blotted out for generations."

To come through the ordeal ahead, God's help was needed and for this the King said he had called his people to prayer on the morrow. They must dedicate themselves anew. Strong in faith and shrinking at no sacrifice, all would "march on to a triumph of right which would open to all the promise of a brighter and a better age."

Prays For God's Aid In Vanquishing Wicked Forces Which Have Wrecked World

LONDON, March 30:—The King told the people in a broadcast Saturday night on the eve of Empire Day of Prayer that "there can be no peace until the wicked forces that have wrecked the world are cast down and utterly destroyed."

From this point on, Mr. McAfee will continue the organization of the campaign.

Commencing plans for the local end of the National Red Cross campaign to be held throughout Canada in May, the executive of the local Red Cross branch, meeting at the end of the week, appointed W. R. McAfee, its president, as chairman of the campaign committee for Prince Rupert. S. E. Parker was appointed district chairman.

Defence leaders of Canada will be in Prince Rupert today. Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence; Hon. C. G. Power, minister of air, accompanied by defence heads, are flying here today from Vancouver in a Royal Canadian Air Force plane. They are due to arrive this afternoon and will be met by the local service heads. In the party, besides the two ministers, are Air Vice-Marshal L. S. Bredner of Ottawa, General R. O. Alexander, Commodore W. R. Beach ad Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson of Victoria, and others. An inspection of Pacific Coast defences is being made. Col. Ralston and Major Power arrived in Vancouver last night from Ottawa by plane, accompanied by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of pensions.

Royal Air Force Strikes At Important German Port On Baltic Sea

NAZI SHIP SUNK

LONDON, March 30:—British planes patrolling the coasts of Norway and Denmark torpedoed and probably sank a German supply ship and set fire to a small ship last night, the Air Ministry announced today.

LONDON, March 30:—The Royal Air Force is keeping up the offensive against Germany in the war in the air.

During the week-end the important Baltic port of Lubeck, one of the principle centres of shipment for Norway and Finland, was heavily bombed and extensive damage done. Twelve British bombers were lost in the operation.

The Royal Air Force also had other objectives—a leaflet raid on Paris and over the invasion coast between Le Havre and Dunkerque.

In battle Saturday the Germans lost thirteen planes and the British five.

PROPOSALS DISCLOSED BY CRIPPS

Same Measure of Freedom Would Be Accorded as That Enjoyed By Other Dominions.

NEW DELHI, India, March 30:—Sir Stafford Cripps, special British envoy to India, in a broadcast explaining the British war cabinet's freedom proposals for India, said the British people wished to give India the same constitution as Britons.

Sir Stafford revealed that, under the proposals of the British government which he has been discussing with Indian leaders, India would get Dominion status equal to that already enjoyed by other British Dominions.

The British plan provides for a new Indian constitution immediately after the war is over under which India would be governed by an elected body representing the Indian states.

Any state not wishing to come in could have a separate constitution.

The British government and Indian leaders would frame and negotiate a treaty which would cover all points.

There would be protection of racial and religious minorities.

Responsibility for the defence of India during the war would stay in the hands of the British government with the full co-operation of the Indian people.

Sir Stafford urged that the Indian people should rise up against the Japanese in full force.

Some of the most influential Indian leaders are known to approve the British plan.

Anti-Liquor Petition Goes Before Local Congregations On Sunday

Copies of the resolution which the Prince Rupert Rotary Club sponsored last week calling for a curb on the use of liquor during wartime appeared in city churches yesterday for the signature of the members of the congregations. The pastors of the churches duly called attention of the congregations and endorsed the resolution and there was a gratifying response in signatures.

In addition to various places of business already announced, the resolutions have been placed in Little's News Stand, the public library and the civic reading room for the convenience of those desirous of signing up.

Navy and Edmonton No. 1 Put Up Good Show. Former Winning.

On Saturday afternoon in the Exhibition Hall the Edmonton Fusiliers No. 2 team defeated the Anti-Aircraft squad by a score of 18 to 10 in basketball. Neither team showed very much finesse and undoubtedly they both need a great deal of practice. However, it must be remembered that these boys come from a country that does not play much basketball.

The second game, however, was one of the best which has been played in the Prince Rupert area with Navy defeating Edmonton No. 1 by a score of 52 to 19. Noble exceeded himself with his one-handed baskets, making a total of 17 points. The Edmonton Fusiliers' weakness was in the fact that they need a lot of practice in shooting at their basket.

The lineups were as follows:

Anti-Aircraft — Folkes, Sobuliak,

Sutherland, Woods, Thompson,

Hamilton, Haugh, Blumstein,

Crabtree.

Edmonton Fusiliers No. 2 — O'

Connor, Powell, Warne, Wilson,

White, Ball, Bray, James.

Navy — Elliot, Brown, McKay,

Johns, Noble, Eastman.

Edmonton Fusiliers No. 1 — Bray,

Conrad, James, Ball, Paburney,

Wyatt, Haase.

Johnny Comadina was the referee and C. F. Leslie, Y.M.C.A., was organizer and timekeeper.

The standing of the league so far is:

I'm a better man than you
— and I'll prove it!

Our contempt for the Japanese has got us into a lot of trouble. They have set out to do a certain job, and up to now they've done it according to schedule. Their present drive means that every man in the field, in the navy, in the air force, is doing his utmost—and every civilian at home backing their men to the limit.

Is a Jap a better man than you are? Can they plan, produce, act, with greater determination and efficiency than Canadians?

Their one hope of success is in a "blitzkrieg." A "blitzkrieg" means fighting a war as though it must be finished in six months. It's up to us to beat them at their own game. Here's the way to do it—prepare for a long war, and work as though the whole thing had to be finished in six months.

BARRED FROM DANCE

Editor, Daily News:
Allow me a few lines in your daily newspaper regarding the Edmonton Fusiliers dance of March 28 held in the local armories.

At the invitation of several of the Edmonton Fusiliers the majority of the crew on one of His Majesty's Canadian ships planned to attend this gathering.

After considerable effort in arranging for partners (ask any service man) we made our way to the dance and met two American soldiers, accompanied by their lady friends, who were also on their way there.

Upon arriving at the entrance to the hall we were told very bluntly that no members of the Naval Service were to be allowed in but nevertheless our partners would be welcomed alone.

The American soldiers had no difficulty in entering but, needless to say, expressed their disgust at the reception accorded us.

The astounding part of the whole procedure was that several other sailors were observed among the crowd of dancers.

Having arrived in Prince Rupert only very recently we would like to know if this is the usual treatment accorded to the Navy. Knowing a few of the Edmonton Fusiliers personally, we felt sure that the majority of them join us in protest and disapproval at such treatment.

To forestall the obvious argument we had not been drinking which, I might add, seems to be the only source of entertainment open to the men of the services. What is wrong?

MINES CHAMBER AROUSED

Editor Daily News:

A week ago, in reporting the annual meeting of the Omineca branch of British Columbia Chamber of Mines at Smithers, it was mentioned that the newspapers of the north might be more alive to the mining situation in northern British Columbia.

In your issue of March 26 you carried an editorial in which you state: "Evidently the Chamber of Mines thinks it is playing its part by merely making a sarcastic hint to the newspapers. We would suggest to the chamber that the newspapers are fully alive to these mining resources and ready to do everything possible to boost them and keep them to the fore."

May I say that the Chamber of Mines made no "sarcastic hints" whatever regarding the newspapers of the north. It made only a plain statement of fact and that the Daily News has taken so much exception to the statement would indicate that it recognizes itself as being guilty of a lack of interest in mining matters.

What has the Daily News done in the past ten years to boost the mining industry of the northern country? Aside from carrying news items of what has already been accomplished by others we have not noticed that it has done anything.

What did the Daily News have to do about getting a sampling plant established in Prince Rupert and what has it done towards having an assayer established there although the metal has always been scarce in Canada.

We have not noticed that it has done anything.

The idea of a sampling plant at Prince Rupert first took form in their own big mines and then retarded development in other areas from purely selfish motives.

There is no excuse for the government to be crying about a shortage of base metals and then deprive private concerns and individuals of the use of these metals as long as the hills of northern British Columbia are fairly oozing member for Skeena has used every lead and zinc and copper, with endeavor to have an assayer putough silver and gold content in that plant but has he had any the ores to pay for the cost of assistance from the Daily News?

Not that we have noticed.

In 1938 the Stewart newspaper try to save its face by charging us "Argonaut," edited by W. R. Smith, with sarcastic remarks when it got out a 32-page illustrated paper knows well enough that it has covering every mining area of the north which was widely circulated, interest in the mining industry.

The Financial News of Vancouver Why has it not tried to advertise the large iron deposits of the Copper River area, the large anthracite coal fields of the Ground-edition did the Prince Rupert Daily

News ever put out? None that we have noticed.

For the information of the Daily

News we might say that the Omineca branch of British Columbia

Chamber of Mines has at different times carried advertisements in outside papers in an effort to attract mining interests to this part of the country but this takes money and our membership is not large. Although we have tried to get the support of all the prospectors and others who are interested in mining they all seem to be discouraged from lack of outside support, support which the northern newspapers could give them if they would take more interest in the matter.

All of this north country is full of potential base metal mines and it has always been felt that, whenever there came a demand for lead, zinc and copper, this country would come into its own. Now we hear from every side that there is a severe shortage of these metals and yet the price of lead is such that a shipment to the smelter would net the shipper 1½ cents per pound over shipping and smelting charges, giving him 1½ cents to pay for mining and all other expenses.

No small property could operate at that price for lead, and the prices of the other base metals are just about on the same level.

It would appear that in a democracy the people would prefer to go short of material rather than pay the cost of manufacturing it.

Can anyone imagine the great development that would be going on in a score of mines scattered throughout the north if these properties were now the property of any of the Axis powers? They certainly would suffer no shortage as long as the raw metal was available in the ground but the Daily News has done nothing to promote interest in these resources.

Since the war started two good mines have been developed in the Omineca mining district. The mercury mine at Pinchi Lake is the largest one of its kind in the British Empire and is supplying all the needs of Canada with some left over for Great Britain and the United States.

The Red Rose mine at Hazelton is producing tungsten on a large scale and is one of the best in Canada. This mine was not a new discovery as the owners have been 25 years trying to get it going but it took a war to bring it into pro-
