WOMEN AND YOUNGSTERS IN DEFENCE

All Out Final Assault Launched By Nazis Against Naval Base And Stronghold On Black Sea

Kharkov Also Hard Pressed

Marshal Timoshenko's Forces Are Holding Strongly—Planes And Naval Vessels Also in Action

MOSCOW, June 15:—Russian women and children have been pressed into service along with the men in the defence of Sebastopol. Housewives, teachers, clerks and factory workers are firing over the sandbags with the men. Children too are putting their full power against the Nazi army which is throwing tanks and planes by the score and tens of thousands of soldiers against the Black Sea stronghold in an all-out assault. What the Nazis evidently intend as the final blow got under way yesterday after three heavy German attacks had been repulsed on Saturday. The defenders are outnumbered five or six to one but are still holding on grimly.

The Germans claim to have started breaking through the immediate fortifications which they admit are exceedingly strong. There are fifteen miles deep of pillboxes, tank traps, machine gun nests and other defences.

During the last ten days, Russian sources claim, the Nazis have lost twenty thousand men in the assault against Sebastopol.

On Kharkov Front

The German offensive on the Kharkov front is the heaviest of the year. Somewhere south of Kharkov, says the Soviet information bureau, great waves of Nazi tanks and infantry have been hurled back as Marshal Simonov's Timoshenko continues his great defence. The waves of tanks were permitted to penetrate the Soviet lines. Then the Russians closed in and wiped them out. Heavy Russian artillery smashed more German mechanized forces. The Soviet air force then swung into action and drove off German planes. This was followed by Russian counter-attacks on the ground which drove the enemy back there.

Elsewhere the situation on the long Russo-German front was largely unchanged.

In the Kalinin area there was a battle between artillery and infantry forces on Saturday and one thousand Germans were killed. Russian dive bombers have wrecked several German military trains.

Naval Warfare

Naval warfare has also broken out in the Black Sea where the Red fleet laid a curtain of shell-fire on encroaching German lines around Sebastopol.

A 5,000-ton German supply ship has been sunk in the Black Sea near Odessa and three or four German submarines have been sunk or damaged.

Berlin claimed a 10,000-ton Russian transport was sunk in the Black Sea.

There are unconfirmed reports that British troops have arrived at Murmansk to reinforce the Russians in the far north.

Violent air fighting continues in various quarters.

PRESTON, Eng., June 15:—Though the railings surrounding Ashton Park have been removed for scrap, the park keeper religiously locks the gates every night as a formality for "closure" rights.

Phoenicians were the first important commercial seafarers.

Unrestricted Sub Warfare Is Declared

BERLIN, June 15:—Submarine warfare will be increased in the North Atlantic, Germany threatens. It will be of unrestricted character without regard to nationality of ships or any other consideration. Fear of an invasion is believed to have caused the Germans to take this step.

ALEUTIANS SITUATION

No Further News From Archipelago—Foggy Weather Holds Up Reconnaissance

WASHINGTON, June 15:—There is no further news from the Aleutian Islands. Foggy weather makes it difficult to get information by reconnaissance. The landings of Japanese in small scale on the Aleutians is not regarded here as of much significance although Representative Anthony Dimond warns of the danger of the enemy being permitted to establish bases. Attu Island is still evidently in the hands of the Japanese although United States warplanes continue to pound at the enemy.

SHIPS FOR INVASION

Only Their Lack Is Holding Up New Second Front Offensive By Allies

LONDON, June 15.—Only a shortage of ships is delaying the Allied invasion of Europe, said a British spokesman Saturday. The British and United States land force is now as powerful as Germany's. As soon as the ships are available the invasion will commence.

Lord Louis Mountbatten, leader of the British commandos, is back from United States where he conferred with United States military leaders in regard to the invasion plans.

NEW ENGINE ON RAILWAY

Fine New Locomotives For Canadian National near Completion

MONTREAL, June 15.—R. C. Vaughan, President of the Canadian National Railways, accompanied by officials of the company and of the Locomotive works, inspected the first completed unit of thirty-five powerful Locomotives being manufactured for the National System by the Montreal Locomotive Works Limited.

With the acquisition of this fleet of motive power, the Canadian National Railways will be making another contribution to Canada's war effort as these engines are urgently required to haul increased traffic due to war conditions. These Locomotives are of the 4-8-4 type, to be known as the "6200 series" and are of the latest design. They contain a number of new features and improvements over a similar type of Locomotive and development of plans and construction were under the direct supervision of John Roberts, chief of motive power and car equipment for the company. The tender has capacity for 11,500 imperial gallons of water and for 18 tons of coal.

Among the new features are an improved spring riding engine. The driving wheels are equipped with the lever principle, which greatly reduces the strain of the locomotive taking a curve while retaining its speed. The inclusion of a new style superheater and streamlining of all steam passages from the boiler to cylinders, thus lowering the resistance of the flow of steam and increasing the tractive effort with ultimate fuel economy.

It is calculated that these locomotives will haul 1,000 gross ton miles per 42 pounds of coal.

The 6200's principal dimensions are cylinders—25½" driving wheels 73" diameter, pressure 250 lbs. per square inch, tractive effort 57,000 pounds and total length of engine and tender 94 feet four inches.

Port Darwin Raided Again

PORT DARWIN, June 15. — Allied interceptor planes on Sunday headed off another Japanese air raid on Port Darwin, shooting down four out of 25 approaching planes and saving the city from effective attack. Today was the third successive day of attack on Darwin. There have been a few casualties but slight damage.

DECORATION OF GRAVES

Annual Observance Here Yesterday Afternoon Was Fitting And Impressive

Decoration Day, in honor of the memory of deceased war veterans, was once more fittingly observed yesterday afternoon in Prince Rupert under the auspices of the Canadian Legion and Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. A large and impressive military and civilian parade, during which a visit was paid to the cenotaph in the Court House grounds for the placing of a wreath, was followed by a solemn service at Fairview Cemetery for the dual purpose of memorial and consecration of a new veterans' burial ground.

The parade, marshalled by J. S. Wilson of the Canadian Legion, was headed by the band of the Midland Regiment and firing party, preceded by motorcycles. There were also smart detachments of the navy, army and air force followed by groups representing the Daughters of the Empire, Women's Red Cross Unit and Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion followed by veterans themselves. After the parade to the cenotaph where Mrs. J. A. Teng, regent of Municipal Chapter, deposited the wreath, transport was provided for the various units to Fairview Cemetery. Citizens paused in large numbers to view the parade and attend at the cenotaph to add their homage to those who died gloriously for the Empire.

At the cemetery the new burial ground was consecrated by Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, while Lieut. H. Strachan, V.C., M.C., officer commanding, Edmonton Fusiliers, delivered the Decoration Day address. There was a firing salute and the sounding of the Last Post. The Midland Band accompanied the hymns.

Addressing the gathering of some two hundred persons at the cemetery, Col. Strachan said in part: "After he had been sorely wounded in battle one of John Bunyan's characters says this: 'To my friend I bequeath my weapons and bearing these honorable scars I plunge into the river of death.' And so died another of that great band of men who in time of national stress are to be found in the service of their country. . . . For centuries military funerals have been common enough and warriors have come home carried on their shields and until the last Great War it was customary for opposing sides to call a halt to hostilities in order that proper and decent burial could be afforded."

Referring to passing years which brought improved conditions to ex-service men, the speaker concluded with a tribute to those "who rest together, shoulder to shoulder as they fought, in peace beneath those rugged elms, that yew tree's shade."

Following the address and the hymn "O God Our Help In Ages Past" the firing party from the Midland Regiment saluted with three volleys after which the decoration of graves with flags and poppies was carried out by members of the Canadian Legion and the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. Mrs. William Rothwell, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, placed a wreath at the flagstaff. "Réveille" was sounded by Bugler Rance and the service ended with "God Save the King." Mrs. D. C. Stuart, Regent of Queen Mary Chapter conducted the service.

Big Damage At Cologne Is Admitted

LONDON, June 15:—The Berlin radio itself admits the tremendous extent and damage of the recent Royal Air Force raid on the industrial city of Cologne. Three thousand houses were destroyed and 300 acres in the centre of the city devastated. Two hundred and fifty factories and workshops were destroyed.

Nine Months For Assault

Bulletins

GERMANY BOMBED
LONDON — Reconnaissance planes dropped bombs at several points in Germany during daylight at the week-end, it was authoritatively reported, but there was no large scale bombing. A southwest coast town was bombed by the Luftwaffe and there was some damage and casualties. The Royal Air Force last night attacked airdromes in Holland and railway yards at Abbeville in occupied France.

TURKEY IN LIMELIGHT
LONDON — Reuters dispatches from Ankara report four United States bombers are at Ankara airport after having run out of fuel following a bombing raid on Axis bases along the Black Sea. A German bomber has also been forced down in Turkey and, like the Americans, has been interned. Presence of fighting aircraft of both sides over and near Turkey suggest that the nation may soon be drawn into the conflict.

NEW TORPEDO PLANE
WASHINGTON—A new type of torpedo plane with average speed of 279 miles per hour and 1,400 mile range was used in the Battle of Midway Island against the Japanese. Between the Coral Sea and Midway Island battles the Japanese lost 67 vessels, including half of their known aircraft carrier strength.

TREATED AS GUERRILLAS
BERLIN — Germany threatens to treat Free French forces in North Africa as guerrillas and impose reprisals against them.

JAPANESE ADVANCING
TOKYO — Japanese forces are making further headway in central China. The object is evidently to obtain control of railways.

Scene of Engagement On Fascist Threshold Between Sardinia and Tunisia—Axis Aircraft Attacked British Fleet

A running sea and air battle, which on the face of Axis claims, the only information available thus far, seems to be stemmed from a major strategic move of the Allies, was being fought today at Italy's Mediterranean doorstep between the Italian island of Sardinia and the coast of Africa. Location of battle strength and composition given by Rome for the Allied naval force and reckless expenditure of planes in the attack on it suggested either Italian territory itself might be under attack or the Allies might be engaged in a great transfer of strength between Gibraltar and Suez.

The Italian High Command claimed 2 cruisers, 1 destroyer and 4 steamships had been sunk out of two British convoys and a battleship, aircraft carrier, two cruisers and one destroyer heavily damaged. The Italians acknowledged twenty planes lost themselves, saying that operations had been resumed this morning.

THIRD LIEUTENANT

Young Lim was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis last December, could not return to his homeland because of the war, so he joined the army with rank of third lieutenant and was attached to First Filipino Infantry Battalion now in training in California.

VICTIMS OF SUBMARINES

U-Boats Sink Five Allied Vessels But Three Undersea Craft Are Disposed Of

WASHINGTON, June 15:— Five more Allied merchant vessels have been torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic but merchant ships themselves have sunk three enemy submarines. A submarine is reported to have been sunk by a Norwegian freighter landing at Montreal.

Of the five more Allied merchant vessels to be sunk one was seventy miles east of Brazil, this being an American vessel. A British ship has been sunk 200 miles off the United States coast. Two other vessels have been sunk in the Caribbean Sea off the Dominican Republic. Off the Portuguese East Africa coast a Norwegian vessel has been sent to the bottom.

BIG DRIVE ON TOBRUK

Axis Forces Have Started All Out Campaign For British Stronghold In Libya

CAIRO, June 15:— A dust-storm last night had given respite in the Battle of Libya where the Germans appear to be making an all-out drive for the capture of Tobruk. In a subsidiary attack on El Adim the enemy had been turned back. However, British military authorities admit they are not satisfied with the way the battle is going although British headquarters announced today that the Eighth Army was attacking Axis armored forces vigorously.

The British Eighth Army and Royal Air Force have been engaged in fighting enemy tank columns and dive bombers in the Battle of Tobruk. The enemy is evidently attempting to drive a wedge towards the Mediterranean between Tobruk and El Gazala and divide the British forces. There is increasing heavy pressure by the enemy south of Tobruk.

Thirteen Axis planes were brought down in one day and nine British machines were lost. All British positions are intact despite heavy attacks.

There has been bombing back and forth all along the Mediterranean coast of Libya and Egypt.

Democracies And War...

Democracies always begin wars unprepared because free men do not want war. Often democracies win wars—not always. When they do, it is because men love liberty enough to accept minor interference with it, for the major purpose of preserving it. We must try to work and save for the nation rather than try to find how much each of us can get out of the nation. Are we the sort of free men who are ready to make the sacrifices needed to win wars? That we still have to prove.

Those of us who think that the Americans are taking some liberties around here might realize that they did something at Midway to really help us.

The "Conscription" Wrangle...

There is no doubt that the conscription bill will pass at Ottawa. Even if all possible Liberal bolters teamed up with the Opposition, they could not outvote the amendment supporters. At the moment, most of the 64 French members are against the amendment. It is expected that some English-speaking private members may follow suit because of feeling in their constituencies. If this insurgency is marked, will Prime Minister King resign? No. While the insurgency may be embarrassing and uncomfortable, it will not be politically unmanageable.

What will be the length and nature of the debate? If all the usually silent French M.P.'s speak, they alone will take more than a week. Conservatives may try to amend the motion but how word an amendment asking for conscription to a motion striking out a restrictive clause? The C.C.F. has proposed an amendment on conscription of wealth.

This topic has some interest, since two public statements have already been made by Government members. The first was during a plebiscite radio speech in the West but it went unnoticed. The second was by Hon. Ian MacKenzie at Winnipeg. He said that if he had his way "the first conscript in Canada would be money." There will be lively reference to this in the debate.

There seems little doubt of the subsequent pattern of events. After Clause 3 has been removed, there will be no immediate action of compulsory overseas service. According to Maj.-Gen. H. F. Letson, voluntary recruiting is improving; according to Hon. J. T. Thorson, selective service requirements are being met. Some 40 percent of the selectees volunteer for overseas and these, plus the men who enlist voluntarily, are ample for present needs. Therefore the government will wait to say how and when compulsory overseas service will be undertaken.

FLOUTING BLACKOUT

Editor, Daily News:
Reading G. V. Hanley's letter in Friday's edition of your paper has induced me to write this also.

I wish to complain about the way some people are flouting the blackout regulations. I live in Rushbrook Heights. The first two or three nights the blackout was pretty effective but after that more and more people were carelessly letting their lights blaze forth without even pulling down the window shades. I realize the A. R. P. wardens have numberless duties but surely something can be done to make people, who evidently don't understand plain black and white in the newspapers or advice they hear given over various radio stations, realize they must obey the blackout regulations.

COMPULSORY SAVINGS

Editor, Daily News:
In reply to the article in the issue of June 2, regarding the proposal for compulsory savings sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. While on the surface this may appear to be a rational plan, such is actually not the case as will be seen by taking into consideration the following facts:

First, while wages have been frozen at the 1940 standard the prices of most food commodities have steadily increased, such as fresh and frozen meats and fish, fresh and canned fruits and vegetables; in fact the majority of the foodstuffs which constitute our daily diet.

Second, after the present deductions have been made for taxation the amount of actual money left is only sufficient for a living, a very little above the amount required to continue existing.

Third, further this move is a direct curtailment of those same Democratic rights and privileges for which the people of this nation are asked to give their life's blood and labor.

Fourth, it would be very well to bear in mind the fact that the people who are sponsoring this move are for the most part earning salaries far in excess of the people from whom they wish to extract these compulsory savings. In Germany the same type of people proposed and had enacted legislation for these very things without bothering to conceal their motives behind such names as "Compulsory Savings." Are we, therefore, to institute the means of government as is in force in the Fascist countries at a time when we send the youth of our country to fight this same Fascism?

MISS R. M. DAVIES O.B.E.

Editor, Daily News:
You are probably aware that Miss R. M. Davies O.B.E. is leaving Prince Rupert shortly to make her home in the south. She is leaving behind her here a very permanent social and moral influence that must continue to modify this district for good for many years to come.

Because of her outstanding work for the unfortunate young, His Majesty the King was pleased to confer upon her the O.B.E.

For many years Miss Davies has been the matron and the enthusiastic moving spirit behind the Ridley Home, now of this city, formerly located at Metlakatla. The Home is now filled to capacity and is capably managed by Miss N. L. Bird.

The Home which is under the auspices of the Anglican Church, is absolutely non-sectarian in its acceptance of children. It is a provincial registered institution and is at all times open for inspection.

The children, orphans or those from districts where there are no school facilities, are cared for at a minimum cost, so low, indeed, that, even when supplemented by the generous aid of grocery showers and other donations, the books show a rather disturbing balance on the wrong side. This deficit is caused largely by the increased cost of living, higher wages paid and the failure of parents or guardians to fully meet their financial obligations to the institution.

At a recent executive meeting held in the Home, it was reluctantly moved, seconded and carried that there should be an increase of 10 percent in "care charges."

Remarkable Case of a Mother Supposed Dead and Later Lives

LONDON, June 15.—The "death" of a 25-year-old mother who recovered and ate breakfast in bed the following day is reported.

Dr. Alan M. Easton, who attended her, said the woman's pulse and respiration suddenly and completely ceased after she gave birth. He immediately made an incision and grasped the heart.

Rhythmic compressions and relaxation produced an almost immediate response, and for the first time in a period of between five and six minutes the pulse was again easily palpable at the wrists.

By morning she had recovered completely.

Like Prince Rupert, Terrace has doubled in population since the new work began. There was a local boom in building until the authorities placed an embargo on lumber for ordinary civil work.

Is Missing In Air Operations

Mrs. S. P. Woodside Is Advised To This Effect In Regard To Her Nephew

Word has been received in the city by Mrs. S. P. Woodside that her nephew, Flight Sergeant Frank C. Henigman, aged 22, formerly of Grande Prairie and more recently of Victoria, is missing in operations of the Royal Air Force over Germany and France. His mother, Mrs. Henigman, who is a sister of Mrs. Woodside, formerly resided in this city, having been identified with Fraser & Payne's and Demers' store some five years ago or so.

Frank Henigman, who had himself visited the city, has been overseas for a year and a half. When war broke out he was on his way to England aboard a Yugoslav freighter with a view to enlisting in the Royal Air Force. He had to leave the ship at South America and returned to Victoria.

GIRL GUIDE ASS'N MEET

Activities Of Past Year Reported on—To Be Expanded In Fall

The very valuable and worthy, yet inconspicuous, work done by the Girl Guides of Prince Rupert was reviewed at the annual meeting of Association held at the home of Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby on Friday afternoon. Mrs. C. V. Evitt, the president, reviewed the work of the Association in a splendid report and stressed the need of continued activities of the Guides, the valuable work they are doing, and the excellent training the girls are receiving under the capable leadership of the guides.

Owing to the increase in population and growing interest in Girl Guides it is the aim of the Association to form three companies in the fall to meet the needs of the principal districts of Prince Rupert. This will lead to greater interest, greater efficiency, and inter-guide competitions which mean so much to the life of Guides. The officers for the year were elected as follows:

Honorary President—Mrs. R. L. MacIntosh. President—Mrs. C. V. Evitt. Vice-President—Mrs. J. R. Morrison.

Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby. Examining Committee — Mrs. G. A. Rix, Mrs. D. G. Borland, Mrs. J. B. Gibson, and Mrs. J. A. Teng. New members received were Mrs. Arnold Flaten and Mrs. L. W. Kergin.

WOMAN OF NEXT FALL

Tailored by Day and Feminine At Night Says Observer On Future Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Staff Writer NEW YORK, June 15:—Meet the woman of tomorrow, as introduced by Irene Saltern, Hollywood designer whose job it is to read the future of fashion.

Since she must anticipate style trends some six months in advance in her job of clothing the stars, she is qualified to speak. Here's what she says:

"The woman of tomorrow will dress for comfort, efficiency and beauty. She will be tailored by day, feminine by night. Her daytime suits will make use of two and three-color combinations, surface interest and combination of two different fabrics. Her evening gowns will be softly draped and clinging to the figure."

Miss Saltern already has introduced some innovations in wartime fashion. One is the "free-action sleeve," which consists of a sleeveless coat or jacket worn over a long-sleeved suit or dress of matching fabric. Another is the "furlough dress," a revival of the afternoon dress of yore, street length but dressy enough for cocktails, dinner and dancing.

Anticipating a shortage of girdles she has designed the "optical illusion waistline," a skillful manipulation of fabric which suggests a slim waist without definitely defined belt or waistline.

With the disappearance of zippers, Miss Saltern predicts a return to decorative hooks, buttons and tied fastenings. She thinks the long dinner suit in sleek black satin will be popular this fall, with evening gown and jacket designed to go together, but sold separately. Says she: "Length and width of fall dresses may be frozen, but the silhouette is not. We will still have beautiful and individual clothes."

PLANE TOOK BODY SOUTH

Remains of Mrs. A. N. Dando Transported By Air From Smithers To Vancouver.

SMITHERS, June 15.—An airplane arrived in Smithers at 10:30 Friday morning and landed on Lake Kathryn. It had come to convey the body of the late Mrs. A. N. Dando from Smithers to Vancouver, and left at 11:30 a. m. on its return trip.

The town of Smithers and people throughout the Bulkley Valley were stunned to learn of the sudden passing of one who had been so active in many social ways. She had been a recent President of the Red Cross Society here.

Mrs. Dando had recently been very well and in good spirits and she and her husband were to have left Smithers on the first fast train going west on Thursday morning enroute to Vancouver where Mr. Dando had recently been transferred from Smithers to take over the Managership of the Branch of the Royal Bank at Hastings and Nanaimo Streets.

While having dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. H.

Kilpatrick on Wednesday evening she complained of not feeling well and Mr. Dando, who was working at the bank, was sent for. Shortly thereafter she felt better but in a few minutes she suffered a hemorrhage of the brain and became unconscious, passing away on Thursday noon without having regained consciousness.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dando have been extremely popular since they arrived in Smithers about three years ago and it was with the greatest regret that the people of the Bulkley Valley heard that they were being moved from Smithers.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved husband in his tragic loss.

DISPLAY IS FINE

Many See Work of High School Home Economics and Manual Training Departments—Fashion Parade Is Highlight

Another delightful event in connection with the year's closing program of activities at Booth Memorial High School was the display of home economics and industrial and graphic arts departments which was held on Saturday afternoon, drawing out a large number of parents and friends. In the large hall outside the school auditorium were ranged for display many fine exhibits of the manual training department as well as art work. These were inspected with interest and elicited much favorable comment. One particularly interesting corner was that where the work of the girls for the Red Cross was assembled for display, this including finely produced articles both for the services and for refugees.

In general charge of the display were Miss Elizabeth Young and Miss Alma Snyder, instructors of home economics and applied arts, Ronald Seal, instructor of industrial arts, and Charles Hayward and Miss Averill McKechnie, instructors of graphic arts. Miss Ruth Hind and Miss Dorothy Sherritt were in charge of the display by the Red Cross girls and Mark Hill, the journalism exhibit.

Possibly the highlight of the afternoon was the fashion parade from the attractively decorated stage of the auditorium before a large audience which filled the place. The decorations featured a beautiful floral arch through which came the girls wearing costumes of all types and for all purposes. The title of the display being "Around the Clock," the girls showed costumes appropriate to the time of day from early morning to evening. All costumes were of their own making and indicated a fine degree of proficiency in the sewing art. Miss Ruth Hind and Miss Hazel Smith were in general charge of the parade. Miss May Skinner as "Miss Fashion," was the "ommentator" and used an ingeniously designed floral cloak in connection with her recitative announcements. Miss Patricia McClymont played the processional music.

Before the opening of the fashion parade, Principal W. W. C. O'Neill spoke briefly in welcoming the visitors. He referred to the activities of the home economics and industrial arts departments, describing how the endeavour was to parallel in this way social institutions and activities of a practical nature. The function of all arts, both utilitarian and decorative, was to increase human happiness. The school felt proud of useful work which was being carried out along this line.

Tea was served after the display in the home economics rooms with teachers acting as pourers and pupils as serviteurs.
