St. Louis Wins World Series From Much-vaunted New York Yankees

NEW YORK, Oct. 5, (CP)—Scrapping St. Louis Cardinals won the World Series four games to one when they closed out the New York Yankees 4 to 2 today in a thrilling final battle before nearly seventy thousand fans in the Yankee Stadium.

Demoralized At Start

The mighty Yankees were demoralized and out of pitchers as they went into the fifth game of the series today against the Cards, one of the most underrated clubs ever to fight their way into the classic. Already defeated three running by the team they had confidently expected to trounce with little difficulty, the bombers looked ready victims for a kill even before today's game started.

TODAY'S LATEST

MOSCOW, Oct. 5 (CP) — The Germans poured a constant stream of reserves into Stalingrad today, swelling the forces in the area to more than half a million but still the Nazis had not achieved a breakthrough or material advance, Soviet dispatches said.

MOSCOW, Oct. 5.—The Russians continue their determined counter-offensive in the vigorous endeavor to drive the Nazis away from the Stalingrad area. There is little change in the general situation although furious fighting still goes on with no let-up.

The Russian forces are still successfully repulsing the German assault upon Stalingrad and are effectively developing their own counter-offensive move from the northwest upon the city.

In two days the Germans have lost forty-four planes on the approaches to Leningrad.

A five-thousand ton German transport has been sunk by Russian naval action in the Barents Sea.

W. T. Moodle, general superintendent of Canadian National Railways for British Columbia with headquarters in Vancouver, arrived in the city on last night's train in the course of one of his periodic inspection trips and will be here until Wednesday morning when he will leave on his return south by way of Jasper.

Talking About Candy . . .

In the midst of war and rumors of war it provides a diversion for most of us to think about little things—so let us do what thousands of Londoners seem to have been doing during the past few days and think about sweets—candies if you prefer that word.

Not many weeks ago the ministry of food in Britain announced that candies would be rationed—a total of half-a-pound in a given four weeks.

For a long time past there had been a shortage of candies in Britain. The small "sweet-shop" characteristic of London and especially beloved of its children, suffered most. The confectionery departments of the big places and the chain stores suffered least.

Whatever the real reason for inequality may have been, many of the smaller shops have for months past been genuinely devoid or at least very short of stock and many a small Londoner, hopefully tendering a penny or two for some acid drops or brandy-balls has been disappointed and gone sadly and empty away. In almost every place, however, large and small, shortage of supply has been pleaded.

Now, whatever the game was, if there was one, the ministry of food has disorganized it—that ministry, by the way, being much the most astute, not to say artful of the ministries which come in contact with the public—and that public is indebted to it for its alertness in anticipating the machinations of both big and little business.

Only a few days before rationing came into operation the ministry let it be known that stocks in hand might as well be disposed of before that time because from then onwards the actual quantity which might be sold would be limited. It was remarked, too, casually, as it were, that stock unsold too long might deteriorate and so become unsaleable.

The effect was phenomenal. Retailers who had become almost chronically hoarse as a result of repeating "Sorry, Madam (or Sir, or Tommy) we have nothing left today" suddenly realised that they had better unload quickly: they discovered "under the counter" stocks which it must be presumed they had overlooked. Curiously enough, great numbers of them seem to have made a similar discovery almost simultaneously. Within a few hours even the youngsters who had been more or less sweetless for a long time could have bought candy by the peck had they possessed pounds instead of pennies.

During that day or two, London by some process discovered what seemed to be an inexhaustible cache of candy. Stocks to meet the ration demand had of course been distributed in advance.

Well, the public wanted to anticipate the ration by laying in a little extra as a reserve and the shopkeepers wanted to do the same thing by getting rid of stock. They rose nobly to the occasion.

With prices up and stocks low we almost have a candy ration in Prince Rupert these days.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week, by Royal Proclamation of His Excellency, the Governor General, will be observed during the days of this week, October 4 to 10 inclusive and I hope, by means of daily messages to the public through the courtesy of our daily press, to give some helpful information and suggestions which may help to remove something of the thoughtlessness and carelessness which is responsible for more than 80 per cent of fire which need never have started.

The thought for today which should be burned into our memory like that of a branded animal, be carried for the rest of one's life, is that fire prevention, very important in peacetime, is doubly so in wartime. It makes no difference whether a fire is started by accident, design or carelessness, the result is the same—benefit to the enemy by the destruction of our reserves.

H. T. LOCK, Fire Chief.

Thomas Workman of the British Corporation, marine underwriters, left last night on his return to Vancouver after a visit here on official business.

Brigadier and Mrs. J. T. Gillingham of the Salvation Army arrived in the city on last night's train after a trip through the interior visiting the various corps as far as Prince George. They will visit Port Essington and proceed to their headquarters at Wrangell later in the week. Brigadier Gillingham is divisional commander for Northern British Columbia and the Yukon.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.
By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

Les Page, who was up here in winter by and out on one of his minesweepers, wrote to me the other day from the East. He is now stationed in the States. He says: "I sure miss the Y and our ping pong games, also the cribbage. There are tons of babies here but none like the babies here."

Old Time Dance tomorrow night. How about coming round for a few squares; Pun and plenty of it. You see Ivan Majlet, swimming down the street with a big "Jack M'Hearty" roll, just like an old sea-going salt, you'll know it because he's been to sea. Quite intentionally of course. You see, we were this way. It seems Ivan and the chief were having a cup of tea down where in the corner of tea on ships and all of a sudden someone yelled "Sea ho!" and dashed Ivan, true it was, he were away out on the harbor. Soon signals were flashing. The Admiralty was contacted. They were run and there was an awful to-do before he finally got back safe and sound. And he wasn't even sea-sick. Good for Ivan!

The best thing about our British concerts is the way volunteers unexpectedly get up and help out with the program. Last night, for instance, the men of the Merchant Navy, who were from the very valleys, portrayed that movie "How Green Was My Valley," men who are born and raised in their throats, they got up and gave us some beautiful items—"Smiling Thru," "Dance Boy" and several old time ballads. Our thanks to them.

Don't forget ladies. Tuesday afternoon is the regular fortnightly Y's Wives' Whist Drive in the Family Lounge. All services are very welcome. Come and get acquainted!

Whoever You Are . . . Whatever Your Job . . .

Here is what Canada Needs of YOU...

THIS is a war of peoples—not just of armed forces. Somewhere in Germany is your "opposite number"—living on a meagre margin, sacrificing every day to win the war—compelled to do it!

You live in a free country. But unless you, and others like you, do of your own free will better than the enemy can do by compulsion, we can lose the war.

WHAT CANADA ASKS OF YOU

Every day that passes Canada must spend for war purposes Six Million Dollars over and above taxation. It can only come from voluntary loans by her people. Each one must accept his or her just share of responsibility.

What's your share of the savings job? Well, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada to meet Canada's need $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. The average may not fit your case. Your own circumstances are distinctly your own. You may be able to do better both out of your current income and out of your accumulated savings in the bank—or you may not be able to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

HOW YOU CAN DO IT

To do the utmost of which you are capable, you must budget your living expenses every week to cut out every item of needless expenditure and never spend more than your budget allows.

This is what Canada is asking of you, to help win the war . . . to lend your money while others are risking their lives. It is, in fact, hardly self-denial—because you will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

Attention Prospectors!

TUNGSTEN PROSPECTS WANTED

TUNGSTEN occurs most commonly in the two minerals Scheelite and Wolframite. Both are sometimes found in coarsely crystallized granite-like rocks, and scheelite often occurs in sedimentary rocks (especially limestone) near granite contacts. They are found in many gold-bearing veins, and in placer gravels.

SCHEELITE is a yellow-brown, buff, grey or white mineral with a dull greasy lustre. It is brittle and can be quite readily scratched with a knife. Under the rays of an ultra violet lamp it fluoresces with a bluish white color. (Note: Fluorescence is not a definite indication, many other minerals such as calcite and some types of quartz have this property).

WOLFRAMITE is a dark brown to black mineral with black to reddish brown streaks. It is brittle and harder than scheelite and cannot easily be scratched with a knife. It is about the same density as galena. It does not fluoresce with ultra violet light.

Communications regarding prospects will receive prompt attention. Please Send Samples.

GREAT JOB OF HURLING

Emil White Hero of Third World Series Game as St. Louis Wins

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Emil White held the world champion New York Yankees to six hits—all singles—in winning the third game of the World Series Saturday for the St. Louis Cardinals by a score of two to nil. The six hits were scattered over as many innings. The only two times that White was in serious danger of being scored upon he was saved by sensational catches in the outfield by Captain Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter. He struck out six Yankees, five of them in the first three innings.

The Cardinals made only three hits off Spurgeon Chandler, the starting Yankee right-hander, in the eight innings he worked before he was removed for a pinch-hitter but they turned one of them into the winning run in the third frame by adroit base running. They scored another in the ninth off Marv Briuer on two hits and another fancy batch of dashing around the sacks.

CARDINALS WIN AGAIN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5 (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals took a stranglehold on the World Series yesterday by defeating the New York Yankees 9 to 6. The victory put the Cards up three games to one and they need but one more victory while the Yankees are up against the task of winning all three remaining games. A crowd of 70,000 fans watched the game.

The Cardinals were leading 6 to 1 at the end of the fourth and seemed to have the win on ice but the Yanks evened it up with five runs. However, the Cardinals made one more in the seventh and eighth stanzas.

BARRISTER SEES C.C.F. NEXT GOV'T

W. W. Lefaux, Socialist M.L.A., Addresses Local Public Meeting

"The workers of British Columbia have got to organize as a united class and get out to capture the government which I believe we will control after the next election," declared W. W. Lefaux, C.C.F. member of the Legislative Assembly for Vancouver Centre, in addressing a public meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall last night. He, however, added: "But don't get away with the idea that we will immediately revolutionize society." Collective bargaining could be immediately enforced once the C.C.F. got into power. Something would be done about unemployment and possibly some of the industries would be taken over.

A. E. Evans, president of the local C.C.F. Club, was in the chair at last night's meeting. The hall was practically filled. Mr. Lefaux spoke candidly and reasonably and his listeners displayed considerable enthusiasm with what he had to say. The main address was followed by a canvass for funds for the movement and a new book on Socialism, just published from the pen of George Weaver, well known in Prince Rupert, as introduced. A question period brought the meeting to a close. Mr. Lefaux being plying with a wide variety of queries on a number of subjects.

Mr. Lefaux chose to take as the title of his address last night, "What Next?" and his main theme had to do with who might have the say in making the terms of peace which would follow this war—a war which every one seemed to be agreed would find "a changed world and a new order." Were the workers going to have a say in the peace or would the same class of people who had made the last peace which had paved the way for this war?

Baa, baa, black sheep Have you any wool?

Everybody should be interested in how Canada's industries are serving them as well as giving service to his Majesty's Forces in this all-out war effort. Canadians also want to know how they can make their present wearing apparel last longer and give more service.

Regarding underwear for men, women and children STANFIELD'S have this to say: "as one of the largest underwear mills in Canada we have taken the stand that the war needs must come first and our organization and facilities are co-operating with our government in supplying the critical needs of a country at war."

STANFIELD'S wish to make it clear that they are anxious to supply as much underwear as possible for civilian requirements but at the same time we ask our patrons to keep in mind that our allotment of wool is necessarily restricted and the same thing applies to cotton yarns and practically all materials entering into the manufacture of underwear. Because of the present critical situation we are quite frank in suggesting to civilians that they do not buy any more underwear than they actually need and to try and make their present underwear last as long as possible by taking proper care of it.

We recommend to civilians who are actually in need of underwear that they buy good underwear, the kind that will fit, last and give long wear.

If it is woollen underwear give it more attention than would perhaps be done in normal peace times. The war situation requires that people economize and make things last longer and go farther.

In giving this advice to our patrons we do so sincerely because we believe that the Canadian people have come to rely on STANFIELD'S UNDERWEAR as a standard of quality. STANFIELD'S brands are recognized. We wish to make "STANFIELD'S" trade mark a sign and symbol of goodwill because it represents an investment of millions of dollars, not only in advertising but in research, manufacturing and marketing.
