Air War Of Europe

LONDON — Aerial warfare in Western Europe has been reduced to small scale on account of bad weather. Docks and shipping at Dunkerque were, nevertheless, blasted by the Royal Air Force, all the British planes returning safely. A single British pilot has downed two enemy planes, it is revealed, one over East Anglia and the other over Holland.

Germany Suspicious

BERLIN—German sources suggested that Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in their conversations in Washington, are endeavoring to force war between Russia and Japan.

Japanese Ships Sunk

KHARKOV PRESSED BY NAZIS

Defenders of Sebastopol Holding Enemy—Die Rather Than Surrender

MOSCOW, June 24 (CP) — For the second day the Red Army announced today that the Germans had driven a wedge into the Russian defences on the Kharkov front, using a massed force or two hundred tanks at a single point in the onslaught which is constantly increasing in fury and power.

The Germans, apparently, are oblivious to immense losses as they throw in ever greater numbers of tanks, planes and infantry but they still have not managed to achieve any real success, the Red Star, army newspaper, declared.

Soviet forces were reported last night to be holding their own on all sections of the long front. Defenders of Sabastopol, reinforced but still outnumbered, had checked the Nazi hords within the defences of the key Black Sea port. The enemy it was said then, had been unable to extend advances which they made yesterday in the Kharkov area. The people of Sebastopol have sent a message to Premier Joseph Stalin, telling him to have confidence in the garrison which pledged itself to fight to the last drop of blood and to die rather than capitulate.

STORY OF ESTEVAN

Presence of Mind of Lighthouse Keeper Believed to Have Saved Community

VICTORIA, June 24 (CP)—The Victoria Colonist, in a dispatch from the West Coast of Vancouver Island, today gives description of the shelling of Estevan Point by enemy craft Saturday night. The quick action of Robert Mitchell Lally, lighthouse keeper, in climbing his fifty-foot light tower to extinguish the powerful beacon while shells screamed around him, is credited with saving the remote settlement from serious damage. The dispatch says that, when the first shell exploded near the foot of the lighthouse, residents thought an enemy plane had exploded but, when they rushed to their doors, other shells exploded nearby and flashes could be seen at sea.

While Lally extinguished the light, women and children fled to the woods behind the radio station and radio operators sent news of the attack to military authorities.

AIR RAIDS DISCUSSED

Incendiaries Rather Than High Explosives Would be Used Here It Is Believed—Fire Chief Speaks

Should air raids come to Prince Rupert at the hands of the Japanese, the attack would be by incendiary bombs rather than by high explosives is the opinion of H. T. Lock who spoke before local Air Raid Protection police wardens at a meeting last night. Thus the enemy wuld be able to cause a maximum of destruction and confusion, Mr. Lock believed. "Don't be surprised," also said Mr. Lock, "if, on the occasion of the first air raid here, the enemy planes should appear overhead even before the warnings are sounded." Until alarm systems and combatitive measures had had the tests of actual experience, there might be expected to be some confusion, Mr. Lock cautioned.

The Fire Chief was reporting to this meeting on a recent school of civilian defence which he attended at Stamford University, Palo Alto, near San Francisco. Among the subjects with which he dealt more particularly and in some detail were conduct under aerial attack, fire fighting methods and gas protection measures. Other matters pertaining to civilian defence, including organization, were also discussed.

The convention, Mr. Lock said, had been in intensive session for ten days and the instruction was of the greatest value and importance. With the general use of bombing planes modern total warfare was returning to the aspect of extermination of peoples and civilian defence was a matter of much more moment than it had been in the last war.

The speaker felt that it was impartant that all civilian defence workers, even though they might by in specialized lines, should have a general knowledge of all phases of civilian defence activity—patrol, first aid, fire fighting, decontamination, etc.

Coping With Fire Bombs

Discussing the importance of being able to cope with incendiary bombs, Mr. Lock referred to the effectiveness of fire watching with a view to eliminating widespread and uncontrolled conflagrations. In view of frame buildings being general, communities on the Pacific Coast presented more hazard from fire than did the Old Country with its stone buildings.

In coping with incendiary bombs Mr. Lock said he come away from the California course with the definite opinion that water screen and not sand was the most effective combatitive means. In view of the use of explosives with incendiary bombs, Mr. Lock warned against approaching the bomb at the outset but urged the importance of first taking care of surrounding fire. The speaker described the various types of fire bombs, the thermite being by far the most effective.

Action under gas attack also came in for considerable attention from the speaker. An important thing was to get to the highest point possible in a house and to get rid of clothing which might have become contaminated.

Mr. Lock described graphically some of the demonstrations of fighting fire, combatting gas and general air raid protection organization demonstrations which had been given at the Palo Alto meeting.

J. J. Little, chairman of the local A. R. P. organization, was in the chair. There was a good-sized and appreciative audience.

RALSTON ON CONSCRIPTION

MESSAGE ON ARMY WEEK

President of Canadian National Joins in Tribute to Fighting Men

MONTREAL, June 24 — On the eve of army week which begins Monday next, June 29, and which will be supported by all services of the Canadian National Railways, R. C. Vaughan, president of the system, has issued a message to the entire personnel in Canada.

"The Canadian National Railways system delights to pay tribute to the Canadian army, in Canada and overseas—the men in battle dress, the nursing sisters and the Canadian Women's Army Corps," reads Mr. Vaughan's message.

"The public has sought an opportunity to express its appreciation of the sacrifices made by those who have volunteered to give their lives, if necessary, as their contribution to victory and, during this week, June 29 to July 5, all sections of our population unite in demonstrations of honor.

"The army of today stems from famous regiments whose record of gallant service extends back through centuries of empire history. The deeds of the Canadian Corps in the great war of 1914-1918 provide unsurpassed inspiration.

"Canadians are proud of today's army, youthful, keen and well equipped, and are confident that the record of the past will be bravely maintained.

"The Canadian National is proud of its men who, in their thousands, have joined the fighting forces and of its hundreds of other men who, under admiralty direction, are serving in the Canadian merchant marine carrying supplies across the oceans.

"We salute the corner-stone of the nation, those who defend our homes and honor of our country."

Mrs. Wm. McKay, who has been visiting her husband, who is with the Midlands, left on the train this morning to return to her home in Toronto.

SERVICE REDUCED

Two Trans-Canada Flights Between Toronto and New York Henceforth

MONTREAL, June 24—To meet war requirements Trans-Canada Air Lines will operate only two daily flights from Toronto to New York on and after July 1, discontinuing the morning flight. Northbound service will be similarly curtailed. The two flights remaining will handle the international air mail, air express and wartime passenger service.

The line into New York is the only operation into the United States now conducted by a Canadian organization under agreement between the governments and it forms an important link between the two countries.

Trans-Canada, Canada's nationally-owned airline, is operating more than four thousand miles of main line from St. John's, New Foundland, to the Pacific coast at Vancouver on a wartime basis.

INVASION OF EGYPT

CAIRO, June 24 (Canadian Press)— An Axis armored force moved southward on the Libyan side of the Egyptian frontier today, apparently intending to wheel eastward and crash into Egypt many miles below the coast in the hope of outflanking British defenders.

Minor skirmishes have occurred in the coastal zone, apparently, as a mask for the flanking scheme.

R. G. Grey arrived in the city on this morning's train from Toronto, being here to join the Young Men's Christian Association war services in this area.

HEAVY ADDITIONS TO TAXATION IN BUDGET; SACRIFICES DEMANDED

Income and National Defence Taxes Combined and to Be Collected at Source or in Compulsory Instalments—Everybody Must Save

OTTAWA, June 24.—Heavy and sharply graduated increases on taxation on incomes, services and commodities of personal use, demanding sacrifices on the part of all Canadians, were provided for in the budget of Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance, which was presented to Parliament last night. Compulsory "minimum savings" to be refunded after the war, are brought about in the form of added imposts on incomes. Income tax and national defence tax, combined and sharply increased will be collected by means of deduction at the source or by compulsory instalments. The income and corporation taxes reach a new all-time high.

Under the new complicated tax set-up, a married man with income of $2000 a year without children who now pays $175 per year will be liable to a total tax of $431. Of that amount $231 will be tax proper and $200 his minimum saving requirement to be refunded after the war with interest. An unmarried man or woman earning $1500 per year now paying $217 will pay $357 including $120 refundable compulsory saving.

New taxation, it is estimated, will bring in a total of $378,000,000. Income tax increases are expected to yield an additional $115,000,000 in tax proper, not including refundable minimum savings. All was service pensions are exempt from income tax.

Excess profits tax is increased from 75 to 100 percent, 20 percent being refundable after the war.

Tax on spirits is increased from $7 to $10 per gallon. Wine tax is increased from 40c. to 50c. a gallon and the sparkling wine tax from $2 to $2.50 a gallon. Malt tax is increased from 12c. to 16c. a pound and there is a similar increase in tax on malt syrup and beer.

There is a new one cent tax per bottle on soft drinks.

Cigarette tax is increased from $6 to $8 per thousand, manufactured tobacco tax is increased from 35c. to 51c. a pound. Canadian raw leaf tobacco tax is increased 5c. to 6c. a pound. Cigarette paper tax is increased 5c. to 6c. a hundred and cigarette tubes from 10c. to 12c. per hundred.

The playing card tax is increased to 25% as is the tax on many other luxuries and non-essentials.

The tax on furs is increased from twelve to twenty-five percent.

A new tax on chewing gum and candy will be thirty percent.

On night club, cabaret and dance hall tickets there will be a twenty percent tax.

Tax on transportation berth and Pullman car fares and long distance telephone calls is increased from ten to fifteen percent. There is a new tax of 25c. per month on extension telephones in homes.

There will be an additional two percent tax on life, fire and casualty insurance premiums. The budget also listed new taxes imposed on a long list of personal articles.

More than fifty percent of the overall outlay of the country's expenditures is to be taken care of by taxes.

Aggregate expenditure for 1942-43 is placed at $3,000,000 with estimated revenue of $2,050,000,000, leaving a deficit of $1,850,000,000.

War expenditure is placed at $3,315,000,000.

Borrowings by victory loans and other means will be $1,834,000,000.

The minister reported that income and corporation tax revenue reached a new all time high record for the past year.

Mr. Ilsley gave warning that there would be further restrictions on civilian industry during the coming year in order to provide for essential war industries. There would have to be rigorous economy in consumption.

A reserve of $12,500,000 was being put aside to meet wheat board deficits.

APPLICATIONS FOR RATIONS

Local A.R.P. Wardens to Turn Out Tomorrow Night and Assist Wartime Prices and Trade Board

Air Raid Protection police wardens of the local Civilian Protection Committee organization, at a general meeting last night, agreed to co-operate with the Wartime prices and Trade Board by turning out on their beats tomorrow night to collect sugar rationing application forms which have been mailed householders. The application forms are to be filled out and ready to be handed to the wardens when they call at the houses between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock Thursday evening to pick them up. Prior to starting out on the work, the police wardens will assemble at their respective district headquarters to receive final instructions.

J. S. Wilson, chief warden, in speaking at last night's meeting, thought that fire aiders and others might also share in the work of collecting the sugar rationing applications.

After some discussion, decision to assist the Wartime Prices and Trade Board on this job was made by majority vote.

F. Harris of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board from Vancouver spoke to the meeting last night, explaining details of the job which it was hoped to have done by the A.R.P.

While voluntary workers are assisting in launching the sugar ration machinery, emphasis was laid on the individual responsibility for himself in the matter.

Chinese Recapture Town and Ease Pressure On Railway Line—Local Victories Claimed

CHUNGKING, June 24 (Canadian Press)—The Chinese command announced tonight that armies in Kiangsi Province had recaptured Kewiki, thus pushing back the western claw of the Japanese pincers which had come to within fifty miles of closing the stragetic Chekiang-Kiangsi Railway.

The Chinese are still holding forty-five miles of the Hanchow-Nanchang Railway both ends of which are in Japanese hands. Some local victories for the Chinese over the invaders are reported.

The Budget . . .

The 1942 war budget for Canada, presented to Parliament last night by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance, imposes new and heavy burdens on Canadians all but they are not unbearable burdens. It appears to contain little that could not have been expected. Possibly it is even not as bad as some might have anticipated. There is no reason why Canadians, most of whom are at a peak of earning power, cannot take the imposts in their stride and cheerfully face sacrifices that doubtless are involved. Certainly, at least, there has been little suffering for the most of us so far even if there is a serious war on.

The revenue producing measures imposed upon us in the latest budget are still a far cry from what the people of Great Britain and other less privileged parts of the world have to meet. The compulsory savings and deduction at the income tax source features of the budget which we would say are quite satisfactory.

The cost of maintaining our democracy, our freedom, our way of living—everything we hold dear—is here in Canada still most reasonable, Mr. Ilsley's budget not withstanding. The cost will probably be greater yet so we had better not start complaining now.

The budget is at the worst no worse than some folk expected.

Considering the disease we have to cope with, the budget pill is not so bitter.

The money we are compelled to save now may look a good deal bigger when we get it back after the war than it does today.

In fact, the budget is full of compensations.

Now that we have found the budget not such a headache after all, how about getting back to worrying about the war again?

OLD GLORY UNFURLED

Two American Flags for Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

Yesterday a delightful incident took place at the Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. Recreation Hall when Captain Acree, senior chaplain, presented the Y.W.C.A. hostess with two American flags. These flags had been purchased by the Seattle-King County Branch of the American Red Cross and sent up with Captain Acree as a gift in response to an inquiry made by Mrs. Garbutt as to where she might buy these flags as she felt the sight of Old Glory would hearten the American lads who use the hall.

Captain Acree helped to place his flag by the side of the Union Jack.

The second flag is to go up in the Y.W.C.A. family lounge as soon as a Union Jack of the same size is to be had.

FOOTBALL FANCIES

What's the odds on the Dominion Day finalists being Signals and Seal Cove or have the Navy anything to say in the matter?

If there is a prize given for the most gentlemanly player in the league, whatsay Hilder of Signals for the nomination? Jimmy is one of the quietest players around these parts, also by the way one of the most improved. He is always in the thick of the battle playing the shirt off his back.

Lynch of Fusiliers is playing a very good game at centre forward. Some of his touches are very nice to watch but he seems to have left his shooting boots in his kitbag at the barracks.

So—Charlie McNaught isn't henpecked—so what?

That promised visit from the boys from the interior and a return trip to the land of apple trees looks good to some of the boys and, as a result, some of the games are being played very close.

Did Major Low get disgusted at the game with the Navy? Anyway he hasn't been seen at a game since. Perhaps that goal the sailors sneaked in on the Sigs did them a good turn as they have played bang up ball since.

Some reputation that the Signals' defence has built up for themselves—only two goals scored against them since the season began!

—OBSERVER.

Terrace Theatre Is Going Up Soon

TERRACE, June 24.—C. M. Adam, recently of Stewart, has purchased local property and plans to establish his home at Terrace. Mr. Adam has completed arrangements to provide Terrace with what has been in the nature of a long felt want and he will build a theatre in the centre of the village on Lakelse Avenue not far from the Orange Hall. The structure will be 32 by 80 feet in its dimensions and will be modern in all respect, particular attention is to be directed to the acoustic properties of the building.

Interviewed yesterday Mr. Adam expressed as very well pleased with Terrace and the district. He considers there is a decidedly good future for the district and he was particularly well pleased with the gardens and orchards and the small but thriving farms that he has seen.
