GREAT ARMY ROAD TAKES SHAPE IN WILDS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Alaska Highway Under Construction by U.S. Engineers Through Canada Marks Fourth Year of War

(This is one of a Canadian Press Daily Series on Canada: Three Years at War)

By J. E. GRAEME (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12 (CP)—Through the rugged terrain of northern British Columbia, United States army engineers are cutting their way — third time in Western Canada's history the uniformed men have been called on for road-building. To the growl of huge caterpillar tractors, the clank of scoop shovels and the rumble of other equipment the engineers are blazing a pilot road to Alaska to open a faster route for military supplies and troops to that northern outpost of the United States.

Dreamed of in peacetime as part of a super-highway which might some day run from Siberia 56 miles across Bering Strait to Alaska, down the Northern American Coast to South America and across to Brazil, the Alaska road was started this year as a war-time measure.

Over it, when completed, will roll supplies for the bases from which America will drive at the Japanese, now occupying three small islands of the Aleutian group, and may later form the starting point for attack that will carry the United Nations into Japan's front yard.

Route of Road

The highway starts at Port St. John, B.C. and runs through Fort Nelson and Watson Lake in northern British Columbia. Whitehorse, Y.T., and Fairbanks, Alaska. This route is east of that favored by the Canada-United States Alaska highway commission which three years ago recommended a road from Hazelton, northern terminus of British Columbia's highway system, to Prince George, B.C., Dawson City, Y.T., and Alaska.

The present route was recommended by the Canada-United States joint defence council headed by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York in 1940 and approved by both governments. From Fort St. John the road runs south to Edmonton and then to the international boundary.

Cost $25,000,000

The highway will cost anywhere from $25,000,000 up according to some estimates. The United States is footing the bill, with the proviso that after the war it will be turned over to Canada.

Twice before uniformed men have been called on to build roads in western Canada. In 1859 the Royal Engineers started at Yule, B.C. and after six years had cut out a road to Barkerville in the interior where a gold strike had been reported. In 1905 a band of Northwest Mounted Police officers and men hacked and dug a wagon road to the mountains from Peace River Crossing in three years.

Winning Ticket Is Not Claimed

War Savings Certificate of $100, Prize at Recent Carnival, May Revert to Second Draw

The holder of winning ticket No. 8159 in the $100 war saving certificate raffle in connection with last week's civic centre carnival has not yet claimed the prize. It was announced last night by Gordon German, treasurer of the carnival. Unless the claim on this ticket, which was sold on behalf of Miss Philomena Murray, the candidate of the Royal Canadian Air Force, is made by midnight Monday next, the prize will revert to the second draw ticket, No. 5277.

Flyer Brothers Visiting Here

Cedric Mah returned home yesterday from California, Arizona and Texas where he has recently completed air training leading to his qualification as a licensed pilot. He is a brother of Capt. Albert Mah of the Canadian Airways, at present attached to the Royal Canadian Air Force, who will be leaving next Tuesday afternoon for Vancouver enroute back to Quebec after a visit to his home here.

Record Crop In United States

Will be Thirteen Percent Higher Than Previous Bumper Year, Says Secretary of Agriculture

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 12.—Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickert says the United States grain crop this year will establish an all-time record. It is estimated it will be thirteen percent higher than the previous record year. This will ensure food supply for the United Nations.

HOSPITAL MEETING

Air Raid Protection And New Equipment And Supplies Under Discussion

Air raid protection measures and the purchasing of a considerable amount of new equipment and supplies were among matters discussed last night at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital with President Frank Dobb in the chair.

President Dobb and the house committee are proceeding with the A.R.P. organization for the hospital.

Next Friday Percy Ward, inspector of hospitals for the province, will arrive in Prince Rupert for a two-day visit and will confer with the local hospital authorities on a number of problems. Mr. Ward will proceed from here to the interior.

Wendell Willkie In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Sept. 12.—Wendell Willkie, personal emissary of President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States, arrived in Jerusalem today from Beirut where he conferred with General Charles DeGaulle, head of the Free French movement, and members of the Syrian government.

COMMANDO WEARS SOUVENIR

A British commando returns to England with a German helmet on his head as a memento of the great British commando raid to date. The raid on Disper was covered by British ships and planes. Canadians, British and a detachment of U.S. Rangers participated. This picture was taken as the returning commandos pulled up at a British quayside.

War News

Stalingrad Battle Still Raging . . .

MOSCOW—Stalingrad's defenders, for whom retreat is declared impossible, held the besieging Germans at bay today in perhaps the greatest battle of the war—a battle which overshadowed five others flanking on the Russian front of more than 1,300 miles length. The Russians continue to repel every German attack west of Stalingrad. Despite the heroic stand of the Red Army for eighteen days against battering Nazi steel, apparently without a backward step in the last twenty-four hours, fresh German activity on the north of the city menaced it as never before. Even in the midst of the struggle, the Russians found strength to launch an offensive of their own in the Leningrad front far to the north where, some sixty miles east of Leningrad, the Russians stormed the railroad station of Synvino.

Chinese Drive Continues . . .

CHUNGKING—In a slashing commando raid the Chinese killed three hundred Japanese invaders and captured valuable war supplies. Savage fighting continues around Kingwa, the former capital of Chekiang Province, as the Chinese continue their campaign to capture back from the invaders bombing bases within range of Japan. It is reported that one million Chinese in certain occupied parts of the country face starvation this winter owing to the Japanese having taken all their foodstuffs.

British Attack Nazi Convoy . . .

LONDON—British coastal naval craft attacked an enemy convoy in the English Channel and severely damaged or sank several large German ships. One light gunboat was lost by the British.

Tobruk Heavily Strafed . . .

CAIRO—Harbor and shipping installations at Tobruk have been heavily attacked by British and American bombers. A direct hit was scored on an enemy vessel. Allied artillery has been bombarding back of the German lines and land patrols continue active.

British Forces Push Inland; Opposition is Described Negligible

Another Coastal Point Is Taken Over As Land Forces Near Capital—Laval Is Enraged And Says United States Partly To Blame

LONDON, Sept. 12 (CP) — British and African troops, making "considerable progress into the interior" of Madagascar against negligible opposition, are swiftly pushing toward Tananarive, the capital, and other key points which the Axis might covet, a communique from the expeditionary force said today. The communique announced that west coast landings were supplemented by unopposed occupation of Voehamar on the northeast coast, eighty miles from the naval base of Diego Suarez.

Vichy radio expressed the belief that full occupation was just a matter of time with defence garrisons totalling only 1,400 troops. Pierre Laval is enraged at the occupation of Madagascar for which he charges the United States and Great Britain with joint responsibility.

DELIVERY OF MAIL

Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce Asks That Something Be Done to Relieve Congestion

An immediate improvement in postal service at Prince Rupert, including the institution of a street delivery, is being asked for by the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. The existing congestion at the Post Office caused the Junior Chamber to move along this line at its monthly meeting last night, a resolution being passed asking the postal department at Ottawa to take action to relieve it.

The resolution is being addressed to Hon. W. P. Mulock, Postmaster General, and to Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena. Endorsement of the move will be asked of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Gyro Clubs, Trades and Labor Council and Retail Merchants' Association. The view was taken that present congestion in the post office, particularly in waiting at the wickets, was time wasting and inefficient and steps should be taken at once to remedy it.

JAPS ARE SURPRISED

One Destroyer Sunk Off New Guinea—Drive On Port Moresby Still At Standstill

MELBOURNE, Sept. 12.—United Nations heavy bombers made a surprise attack on two Japanese destroyers off the south of New Guinea Island. One of the destroyers was left afire and sinking by the stern with life rafts out and crew in the water. There were near misses on the second vessel which was probably damaged. An enemy-held airdrome on New Guinea was also attacked.

Australian troops, aided by Allied fighter planes, held the Japanese advance on Port Moresby on New Guinea to a dead halt for the second successive day. The Japanese have been unable to progress further than a point 64 miles on the trail from Port Moresby after having made their way through the Owen Stanley Mountains.

Milkshakes And Hot Drinks Are Not To Be Raised

Complaints reaching the Wartime Prices and Trade Board state that some lunch counter proprietors, have been raising the price of drinks such as milk shakes and hot beverages, also lunches.

It is pointed out that it is an offence for such establishments to charge more than they did during the basic period of September 15 to October 11, 1941.

Recently a Toronto lunch counter proprietor was fined $75 and costs or sixty days in jail because he raised the price of his milk shakes and hot drinks. He also served hot chocolate in smaller glasses but for the same price as charged in the basic period for a larger size.

AFTER GREAT ALLIED RAID

A wounded member of the British commando forces is shown chatting to a comrade at an English home port after the return across the Channel from the rip-roaring raid on the German-held fortified port of Dieppe, Canadian, British, U.S. Ranger troops and Fighting French commandos were in the undertaking, which was announced as successful, all objectives having been achieved. The commandos brought back prisoners and souvenirs of the assault.

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

This is Verdict in Case of Indian Who Sustained Fatal Injuries When Run Over by Train

Verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury which investigated the circumstances of the death of William Green, Indian fisherman, who died in the Prince Rupert General Hospital on August 21 as a result of injuries sustained when run over by a train north of North Pacific cannery on the Skeena River at 5:22 on the morning of August 15. The verdict attached no blame to any person in connection with the fatality. Green was lying on the railway track and the train cut off both his legs. He was rushed immediately into the city to be placed in hospital.

Coroner Norman A. Watt presided over the inquest. Provincial Constable F. H. Brooksbank conducted the examination of witnesses. The jury consisted of Alex McRae, foreman, Ray Allen, S. J. Anderson, William Cummings, R. E. Mortimer and Percy Cameron.

The Premier's Speech...

The speech of Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King could not be described as inspiring for King speeches never are. It was factual, however, and some of it in idealistic tone. At least it rang with the sincerity of a man convinced himself of the unquestioned worthiness of the cause. It was a speech that might draw jeers from the cynical who may be numbered among the fifth columnists in the freedom of democracy.

It was a forthright review of three years of war, featured by no undue optimism but plainly suggestive of a long and hard task ahead towards a sole tolerable conclusion—complete and utter defeat of the enemy.

Those who heard the speech may not have been greatly encouraged but they should be more resolved. It was a plain Mackenzie King speech, thought-provoking if not inspiring.

Mr. Mackenzie King could never be called a spell-binder but he is never lacking in quiet idealism and the ability to make altruistic definition of a cause.

Comeback In Advertising...

Advertising in Britain in the first two years of war was seriously affected, especially by the shortage of paper and the discouragement of all unnecessary expenditure and activities not directly associated with the war.

Of these, undoubtedly the first item had the most serious effect on advertising. The paper shortage has caused the complete or almost complete disappearance of some advertising media. The newspapers voluntarily cut their sizes by 50 percent at the outbreak of war and now are down to less than a quarter of their pre-war consumption and no single publication can exceed the fair quota allotted to it.

It has been strictly self-regulation. The newspaper is free to make what use it will of its firmly controlled allowance with the exception of restrictions on the proportion of advertising to total contents. (Such a rule exists in Canada under postal regulations.)

Undoubtedly, it was this restriction on the size of their publications by media which resulted in a decline in British advertising rather than a desire by advertisers to reduce the space they used. This is evident in the number of British firms which continue to advertise even though rates are up 70 percent in some cases, and because the volume of advertising is actually increasing.

The decline in volume of press advertising in Britain conforms remarkably close to the decline in total newspaper consumption.

The decline in volume of press advertising in Britain period, July to October, 1941, was approximately 50 percent, as compared with the same period of 1938.

But, in comparison with 1940, advertising volume in British provincial and suburban newspapers increased more than 20 percent during the last six months of 1941.

Substantial increases in appropriations in several classifications were made during the first quarter of 1942.

Thus, British advertisers, faced with many restrictions and much discouragement, set an example for the world in their steadfast faith in the power of advertising under all conditions.

The advertiser who feels he can afford to cease or curtail advertising should learn first what happened to those who tried it.

Room Accommodation...

The situation as regards overnight room accommodation for transient visitors to Prince Rupert, of whom there are more than ever now due to increased business and population, continues acute. We hear of considerable inconvenience and in some cases hardship on this account. With no hotel rooms available, people have to walk the streets all night or sleep in a chair, if they can find the chair. With the fall and winter coming, it will be all the more uncomfortable.

Certainly more hotel accommodation is required in the city but it takes time to erect hotels, particularly under conditions such as these when regulations in regard to building are tight and materials are scarce.

Organizations and citizens must be prepared to do all they can to assist in meeting the situation. Every idea to more efficiently use all available shelter should be carefully considered.

Well, we are getting the boom we all wished for. How do you like it?

ACTIVITIES OF Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT, Hostess

BACK ON JOB

Back again after three weeks on the prairies and travelling across the prairies. They have never looked more beautiful nor have the crops been more abundant. There was talk on the train of the possibility of the crop going to waste because of the shortage of labor. What a pity when hundreds of service men would welcome harvest leave and would willingly help! Seeing the prairies in all their golden glory brought to mind a harvest poem by our own Mrs. Brass, Prince Rupert's talented poet and one of our Senior Hostesses. I reproduce it with her permission.

THE SONG OF THE WHEAT

Murmuring, waving, bending swaying, "Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus!" saying, "Glory be to God on high!" Lo, the earth her bounty giveth As the Lord, who ever liveth, Hears again his children's cry.

Rolling, rolling, onward ever, Like a flowing restless river, Sighing forth with full accord. And a voice that never stilleth, But the golden prairie filleth—"Holy, Holy, Holy" Lord.

Bread of God—in robes of glory, Murmuring o'er its ceaseless story, Gleans the nations daily food. 'Tis the voice of millions ringing—"Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus" singing To the Giver of all Good!

—The Hostess.

NEWS FROM EDMONTON

Losing their footing on a ledge of about Serrail near Banff on Sunday morning, Prof. Harry Randall Webb, 42, associate professor of civil engineering at the University of Alberta, and Bruce Barton, 29, provincial forest ranger, fell two thousand feet to their deaths. Two other men in the party—Fred McPherson of the civil engineering staff of the university, and Alistair Ross, an engineering student at the university —clung to the face of the mountain as their two companions fell.
The party was engaged in investigating the source of mountain streams. The bodies were brought to Edmonton and the funeral took place here on Wednesday.

With all the fanfare of a circus,
the great carnival in aid of war services has been in progress in Edmonton throughout this week.
The opening on Monday was conducted by Lieut. Col. E. Brown, area commandant, before a crowd of four thousand persons. Harold Weir is chairman of the committee in charge with other members being M. McCannell, E. Litchfield, Thomas Tasker, Sid Lancaster and Harold Wright. Various clubs and organizations are assisting in connection with the event.

The gymkhana display held on Monday of this week at the Edmonton Exhibition ground was one of the most spectacular affairs of its kind in years. More than five thousand persons, including high ranking service officers and many hundreds of Canadian and Australian airmen, were in attendance at the equestrian display.

DILL PICKLES
In the bottom of a crock place a layer of dill. Fill the crock within 3 inches of the top with washed cucumbers of from 3 to 4 inches in length. Add another layer of dill. Prepare a brine using 1 pound salt (approximately 2 1/2

1 pint vinegar and 2 gallons boiling water. Allow to cool to room temperature and pour over cucumbers. Cover with a plate and weight so that brine completely covers cucumbers. Let stand 10 days to two weeks or until active fermentation has stopped. (When scum forms it should be removed). Pack pickles in sterilized jars, adding a little dill to each jar. Boil brine 5 minutes, cool and pour over pickles. Seal and store in a cool

Halibut Landings Here Keeping Up—Interesting Announcement on Fish Price Ceiling—Western Hope In
On Mercy Trip

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert up to and including yesterday, totalled 15,415,800 pounds as compared with 14,682,000 pounds at a corresponding date last year. The American landings thus far this year have reached a total of 11,504,000 pounds in comparison with 9,263,400 pounds while the Canadian aggregate is 3,911,000 pounds as against 5,419,000 pounds.

Landings for the past week amounted to 799,000 pounds including 735,000 pounds from American vessels and 64,000 pounds from Canadian. There was considerable fluctuation of prices during the week. For American fish the price went as high as 20.1c and 13c which the Oceanic was paid for 24,500 pounds and scaled down to a minimum of 14c and 10c which the Pioneer received for 20,000 pounds. For Canadian fish top bid of the week was 19.8c and 15c received by the Robert B. for 16,000 pounds. The low price for Canadian fish was 12c and 10c.

Of considerable interest was the announcement published in the Daily News on Thursday of the setting of ceiling prices on frozen salmon and fresh or frozen soles, brills and witches. These are lines of fishing endeavour that centre around Prince Rupert and there is appreciation of the fact that something is being done to encourage them in view of the war food situation.

The Anglican mission boat Western Hope arrived in port at noon from Massett, making a special trip here with Mrs. E. H. Simpson of Massett who sustained shoulder injuries in a fall and has now been placed in Prince Rupert General Hospital where she will have to remain for a time. The Western Hope will be returning to Massett as soon as possible. Those coming in, besides Mrs. Simpson, were her son, Sam Simpson, Missionary-Skipper and Mrs. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robertson and Fred Bellas.

The Sea Cadet Corps of the local Navy League is about to resume activities for another year. Regular weekly parades will commence next Tuesday at St. Andrew's Cathedral. Lt. Commander Alex Mitchell, officer commanding, reports a few openings for likely boys.

The skippers of the two seine boats Donna Marie and Haida Girl were each fined $150 at Massett a few days ago by Stipendiary Magistrate Wesley Slinger for fishing within a prohibited area at Juskatla in Massett Inlet. The two vessels were seized by Fisheries Officer Eric Richardson of Port Clements.

CHAPLIN IN 'GOLD RUSH'

Popular Comedian is Coming Here At First of Week

In "The Gold Rush," which is slated for at Capitol Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Charlie Chaplin veers away from the usual formula. The popular little tramp not only gets the girl of his dreams but becomes a multi-millionaire to boot.

The story of "The Gold Rush" tells of the famous gold rush days in the Klondike where the hero suffers the rigors of cold, hunger and unbelievable hardships and nurses an aching heart all the while he goes on prospecting for the treasure hidden in the earth's surface.

Charlie appears in the role of the lone prospector and his supporting cast is headed by Mack Swain, Tom Murray, Henry Bergman, Malcolm Waite and Georgia Hale.

The setting of "The Gold Rush" is the Alaska of the Klondike gold rush with its dance halls and dance-hall girls; with its miners and hangers-on; with newspaper correspondents and photographers—a locale that teems with color and excitement, drama, comedy and romance.
