Dangerous Wedges Driven Into Forts Guarding Rostov—Enemy Also Nearing Stalingrad—U.S. Planes in Fight

MOSCOW, July 25:—The Germans have driven dangerous wedges into the forts guarding Rostov and have struck nearer vital Stalingrad in their offensive which has reached the Middle Don River. The Germans are reported to have broken through one section of the front in the region of Rostov and established a hazardous bridgehead across the lower Don near Nile.

A United States source said today that American bombers had aided the Red Air force in pounding a German armored column on the Don Steppes.

LIMITING MEDICOS

Due to Wartime Rush Toronto Class to be Restricted

TORONTO, July 25:—The wartime rush of men into medicine has forced the University of Toronto to restrict entries for the first time. This fall the faculty will admit only 125 or 150 first-year students, compared to 205 a year ago. Selection will be based on special aptitude tests.

Ontario students outside Toronto will be fairly represented among those admitted to medicine. A few students from other Canadian provinces will be admitted, but preference will be given those from Ontario. As in the past, no Americans will be registered. "We would have more than 500 Americans in first year Meds every year if we opened our doors," said Dr. W. J. Dunlop, Director of Extension.

Referring to government financial aid for medical students, Dr. Dunlop said: "Fifth and sixth year students are being admitted to the army while students. This helps to carry them through. It is hoped that a system of loans will be inaugurated for students in other years."

Registration in engineering has shown a steady increase since the start of the war, but no restriction in enrolment is planned. In the 1941-42 school year, there were 470 in first year, nearly double the second-year figure.

"At the start of the fourth year of the First Great War there was scarcely a man on the campus," Dr. Dunlop said. "That can be explained by the fact that this war is being fought with machines and brains. Today we have to educate our men to be specialists."

The number of women registered in Arts shows only a slight increase since the start of the war. Last year 38 per cent were women, 2 1/2 per cent more than in the war's first school year. Dr. Dunlop would not estimate the coming year's probable percentages.

The war has caused a 100-per cent increase in occupational therapy and physiotherapy enrolments. Women graduates of these diploma courses are in great demand for war work. Many graduates are now overseas and at least 12 occupational therapists have been engaged by the British War Office and the Scottish Department of Health.

The two-year course in aerial navigation is the only course discontinued this year. Two years ago there were 28 men in first year but only eight came back to finish the course. Most of them joined the R.C.A.F. while some became assistant ground instructors for flying schools.

No summer courses have been cut but enrolment is considerably smaller this year, due to the desire of students to do some kind of war work.

Humboldt, Sask., Salesman Enlists, Joins The Canadian Forces

HUMBOLDT, Sask., July 25:—Ruben Reznick, 34, became the sixth son in his family to enlist in the armed forces when he joined the Canadian Army this week. He has five brothers fighting with the Russian Army.

In 1920 he left his birthplace, the Ukraine and lived two years in each of Rumania and Belgium. He moved to Vancouver in 1926 and prior to his enlistment was a salesman in a Humboldt general store.

The committee said the board had lost confidence "in his (Murray's) ability in financial matters and his attitude to his own expenses."

BUDGET IS UP AGAIN

Being Dealt With In Parliament At Ottawa Following Disposal Of Conscription Bill

OTTAWA, July 25:—The House of Commons is back on the budget debate again following final passage on third reading by a division of 141 to 45 Thursday night of the amendment to the National Resources Mobilization Act permitting conscription of manpower for overseas service by order-in-council.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation members, in the main division, voted against the third reading although earlier they had joined in the 150 to 37 vote against the amendment by J. S. Roy, Independent member for Gaspe, which would have given the bill a six months' hold.

During the closing debate on the conscription amendment, Prime Minister William Lyon MacKenzie King said he was not afraid to go to the country at any time as he thought he knew the confidence the people had in him. Earlier Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, former minister of public works and transport, who resigned from the cabinet because of the conscription policy, said Quebec would submit to "law" when the bill was approved.

In the resumed budget debate yesterday, Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative Leader of the Opposition, suggested a change in the method of preparing the budget. The knowledge of practical business he thought should be used in consultation by the minister of finance such as was done in the United States. Hon. J. L. Lesley said he preferred the method now pursued of planning the budget in secret with the assistance of departmental experts, permitting opportunities for any changes or amendments that might be deemed advisable during discussion in the House.

Enemy Unable To Supply Newly Landed Forces on New Guinea—Fort Moresby Raid

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, July 25: (CP)—Steady Allied dive bombing has broken off the landing of Japanese supplies in the newly occupied Buna-Gona area of New Guinea. Several fully loaded enemy vessels have withdrawn northward.

Yesterday it was announced that Allied airmen had knocked out a third Japanese transport in three days in a dive-bombing attack on the newly seized base here on the southeast coast of New Guinea in the Gona Mission-Buna area. Allied airmen made five separate raids on the area.

Meanwhile thirty-four Japanese bombing planes made an attack on Port Moresby but were driven off without doing a great deal of damage.

TRAINING IS FIRST

Commander Says Damage Done By Tanks on Manoeuvres Only Negligible

AN EASTERN CANADA ARMY CAMP, July 25:—Tanks tear up roads and sometimes knock fences down but it can't be helped if men are to be trained to fight, says Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, commander of the 4th Armored division at an eastern Canadian camp.

The camp itself occupies a stretch of formerly waste land but round about it are farms, villages and good roads. The tanks do their rough driving within the camp but they need to do road driving too if the drivers are to be thoroughly trained.

As they rumble over a 12-mile stretch of highway, some paved, some gravel, the road suffers in spots. Where bridges are not heavy enough the tanks go round them and ford the streams but to do so they have to cut across fence lines.

"I've got thousands of men doing things," he said in an interview with the Canadian Press. "They are bound to do a little damage but it doesn't amount to a hill of beans."

Nevertheless the general thinks he is unpopular with the people of the neighborhood. He says he has plenty of complaints but doesn't pay too much attention to them.

Some of them concern the booming of the tanks' guns and rattling of the machine guns at day and night firing practice from a cliff overlooking an arm of the sea.

"I have got to train men to shoot and to hit something," he said. "I am not going to send them into battle to be cannon fodder."

Army or Industry . . .

Canada, now faced with the very definite possibility of having to defend her own shores from invasion attempt in addition to providing possible further expeditionary forces abroad, most certainly needs to continue concentrating on the building up of her army, the manpower crisis notwithstanding. Nevertheless, arms production, in support of Canada's army and the armies of some of the Allies, is of utmost importance even if possibly secondary consideration, to the Army. There are manpower (and womenpower, too) resources available in greater variety for arms production. Courageous and proper selective allocation and utilization of Canada's manpower would go far to alleviating the present manpower crisis. If each man and each woman were doing his or her proper war job, Canada's army and Canada's arms production would both be on a more efficient basis.

Any of us who may think we are making sacrifices now might not think life was so bad if we only compared our hardships with what the large majority of the people in the world are having to endure these days.

Congratulations Due Student . . .

Commendation is due to Edward Lambe, student of Booth Memorial High School, Prince Rupert, who won at the recent University Entrance examinations a Royal Institution Scholarship valued at $175. Edward ranked second in the whole province of British Columbia, his percentage of 95.4 practically equalling that of the first student who gained a percentage of 96.

This success will, no doubt, be the forerunner of many successes for this talented young student as he continues his educational career. Congratulations are also due to his teachers and to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. D. Lambe.

We hope the Prince Rupert folk who went south and elsewhere for the summer vacation are enjoying the showers.

Possibilities Of Attack . . .

The naval losses of the Japanese at Midway Island and the Aleutian s may quite possibly have delayed the time of enemy attack along the Alaska, British Columbia, Pacific Northwest or California coast but to assume that is no reason to let down our guard against the possibility of something happening. To the contrary, advantage should be taken of any opportunity to further perfect our defences and our organization for dealing with emergency conditions. There is no guarantee that there might not be a sudden hit and run attack of some kind by our crafty and unpredictable enemy at any place or at any time. The possibility of immediate incident may or may not have been somewhat reduced but, nevertheless, the very realistic possibility is still there. As time goes on, it will become more of a probability than a possibility. If we slacken up now we will be the worse prepared to meet the emergency when it does come. "Be Prepared" was never a better motto than it is today.

Of course, it makes it a good deal easier for all of us to do our part if we feel the other fellow is also playing the game.

SPORT CHAT

Why isn't Freddie Mills British and Empire heavyweight boxing champion? That's a question British sport fans have been asking since the Bournemouth Bomber easily lifted the British and Empire light-heavyweight crown from Len Harvey's aging brow. Some contend Harvey's British and Empire heavy titles should automatically have gone to Mills too. However, the British Boxing Board of Control ruled before the match that since Harvey was within the light-heavy weight limit of 175 pounds only that title was at stake.

One fan complained in a letter to a sports writer that "heavyweight is any weight and therefore every time a heavyweight champion enters the ring in a championship bout all his titles are at stake." Harvey's stock slumped badly when Mills sent him crashing through the ropes in their title go and it would be mighty tough to find a Harvey supporter if the two met for the heavy title.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Melvin, pastor of Trinity United Church in Vancouver, who has been here for the past few weeks relieving Rev. J. A. DUE TO WAR CONDITIONS

Canada will now on, have to depend as never before on the output of her mines to fill the ever increasing demands for coal. Much of this will have to be from Alberta mines, but this will be difficult if not impossible if consumers wait, as in the past, for cold weather before taking delivery.

Do your part in helping to avoid a serious situation, by filling your bin NOW and keeping it FULL.

Plaque From Ministry of Aircraft Production to I. O. D. E. Being Shown Here

Being exhibited in show windows of local stores is an interesting plaque of Canadian nickel on English oak which, with suitably inscribed message, conveys the acknowledgment of the British ministry of aircraft production to the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, in Canada for its gifts of funds for aircraft to be used by Britain in the war. The plaque, issued by the ministry is being sent all around Canada for display and is now in Prince Rupert.

The I. O. D. E. has a standing aircraft fund which has already been responsible for providing one bomber and several Spitfire fighters.

Large halibut vessels of the American fleet operating in Area No. 3 are continuing to land heavy catches at Prince Rupert. The landings bulked weightily during the week ending yesterday, totalling 847,000 pounds. All of this was from American bottoms with the exception of a single Canadian catch, the first in three weeks, being a 10,000 pound fare by the North Foreland. With the landings continuing heavy, prices were somewhat lower in trend. The single Canadian boat sold for 16.5c and 14c. The top bid of the week for American fish was 17.5c and 14c received by the Baltic for 20,000 pounds and the low, 15c and 14c which the Celtic and Franklin were paid for catches of 53,000 and 50,000 pounds respectively. The grand total of halibut landings for the 1942 season up to and including yesterday was 11,085,019 pounds as compared with 10,026,900 pounds at a corresponding date last year. The Canadian total to date is 3,368,219 pounds, in comparison with last year's 4,027,100 pounds while the American total is 7,216,800 pounds as against 5,999,900 pounds a year ago.

GESTAPO IN FILM

Humphrey Bogart Heads Cast Of Comedy Drama Coming To Capitol Theatre

An exciting action drama showing how big city gangsters foil a sabotage plot by enemy fifth columnists in New York, "All Through the Night," starring Humphrey Bogart, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the feature offering next Monday and Tuesday.

For the first time since censorship decreed that the screen should glorify no criminal at the expense of police officers, the latter are actually villains in this picture. However, the officers are really members of the Gestapo operating in the United States as secret agents and fifth columnists.

The picture is a mystery comedy with Bogart and Barton Lane as retired mobsters who still retain their henchmen and Peter Lorre, Conrad Veidt, Judith Anderson and others as the enemy agents. Kaaren Verne is the heroine and the cast also includes Jane Darwell, Wally Ford, Jackie Gleason, Frank McHugh and William Demarest.

Dr. Louis F. Smith, who years ago was a member of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station and who was captured in Crete last year while serving with the British Imperial forces, is now a prisoner of war in Germany proper, according to word which has been received in Prince Rupert. Dr. Smith attended the University of Edinburgh after leaving Prince Rupert and graduated in medicine. Shortly after war commenced, he entered the Army and served in the Near East. Writing to friends in Prince Rupert, Dr. Smith intimates that use is being found for his professional services in the Reich. He says that letters and parcels, delivered through the medium of the International Red Cross, are always welcomed by the prisoners of war.

Dr. Neal M. Carter, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, returned to the city yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, having been south in connection with the making of arrangements for the moving of the station from here to Vancouver.

A. W. Shiel, well known Alaskan cannery operator and president of the Pacific American Fisheries, was here last evening on his way to Juneau. He will pay a visit of inspection to the canning plants of his company in Alaska. Mrs. Shiel was going north with him.

The Experts Say . . .

By MARGARET ECKER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Hints for wartime living from folk who ought to know

TIN—The tin from one tube containing sunburn lotion, toothpaste, or shaving cream can be stretched to cover 20 water canteens. . . . Metals Controller G. C. Bateman of Toronto urges Canadians to get all the nylon they want. . . . So it pays to take care of what you have. . . . Launder nylon gently on tropical fronts before they toss away metal tubes. . . . Collapsible metal tubes are about 100 percent tin. . . . Here are some figures: 250 toothpaste tubes supply the tin needed for a Bolingbroke bomber. . . . One tube supplies enough tin for 20 shell cases. . . . The lead (to change the subject) from 20 tubes of artists' colors supplies the solder for a field telephone.

CORSETS—Byrne Hope Sanders—"Mrs. Consumer" for the War-time Prices and Trade Board—says Canadian women can kill two birds with one stone by eating less sugar and sweets. . . . They help conserve sugar supplies and help their figures with resultant reduction in use of corset-steel. . . . When the board cut the usable tonnage of corset steel by 30 percent it supplied an extra 60 tons of high-grade steel for use in airplane motors and war. . . . It takes 240 tons of steel ingots to make 60 tons of the stuff used for corsets.

NEW BROOMS—Don't complain when you find the new broom you buy hasn't got any decorations like velvet bands, wire spirals or colored string stitchings. . . . Furniture Administrator James E. Furguson has banned the mto save materials for the war effort. . . . But he tells us the new brooms will sweep clean.

FRUIT—Marion Harlow of the pensions and health department's nutrition service reminds me that a colorful, appetizing bowl of fruit is an economical and nutritious dessert at this time of year. . . . Fruit is packed with vitamins and helps keep summer kitchens cool because it doesn't take any cooking. . . . And some fruits, at least, cut down on use of sugar. . . . If time is at a premium you'll find it easier to turn some fruit into a bowl than prepare most other dishes.

EGGS—Canada has no egg worries, says Laura Pepper of the consumer service of the department of agriculture, and they make an excellent summer food, light and nourishing at the same time. . . . To keep the whites palatable and tender if you bake eggs, use a low heat—not more than 325 or 350 degrees.

FOOD FOR BRITAIN

The Dominion has agreed to supply Britain with 1,600,000 lbs of sea herring canned during the winter of 1941-42; last year's production was the record high at 1,013,329 cases.
