THIS WEEK IN OTTAWA

By DILLON O'LEARY
 (British United Press Staff Correspondent)

OTTAWA, Aug. 11 (BUP)—Canada's Parliament has finished its work for the present session and adjourned until next January. It can, however, be recalled in case of an emergency, and approved by the Prime Minister's motion to this effect.

The Hong Kong report debate got away to a noisy start this week with an uproar in the House of Commons on the first day, Monday. The storm blew up when Prime Minister Mackenzie King used the word "mob" in referring to Opposition tactics.

Howard Green, Conservative for Vancouver South, led off the Opposition attack on the debate. Green moved that published portions of the evidence taken in the inquiry were proof of the lack of military officials who were responsible for the expedition.

Green said that certain supplies arrangements had broken down, and that reorganization at defence headquarters was necessary if the people's confidence was not to be impaired.

John Diefenbaker, Conservative for Lake Centre, called for all evidence and documents concerning the Hong Kong inquiry, except those which would give aid to the enemy. He charged the Government with attempting to prevent criticism and keep the facts from becoming known.

The debate brought in all parties, and Defence Minister J. L. Ralston spoke first for the Government in defence of the Hong Kong expedition. Ralston said that, in view of the change of Government in Japan last fall, Canada would have raised a question throughout the world if she had refused to send troops. He declared that such a refusal would have been interpreted as quitting. And he added that Hanson, the Opposition Leader, would have been the first to criticize such a procedure.

Ralston denied that it was a haphazard expedition, and said: "It was Canada's turn to help. Canada, it seemed to us, ought to take some share in garrisoning the Pacific."

While speaking, the minister announced that the quartermaster-general's branch of the army has been completely reorganized. He said it was partly as a result of the Hong Kong expedition but he rejected a recommendation by Howard Green that the defence department be reorganized.

After two days of debate the House voted. It turned down by 130 voted to 34 the Opposition motion calling for a reorganization of the defence department.

Prime Minister King welcomed the vote as one of confidence. "I am happy to know," he said, "that the Government still has the confidence of the House of Commons."

There was no debate on the report of the defence of Canada Regulations Committee, which urged lifting of the official ban on the Communist party. The report had been represented to the House. Justice Minister St. Laurent said that he would be reluctant to recommend any Government action tending to legalize Communism.

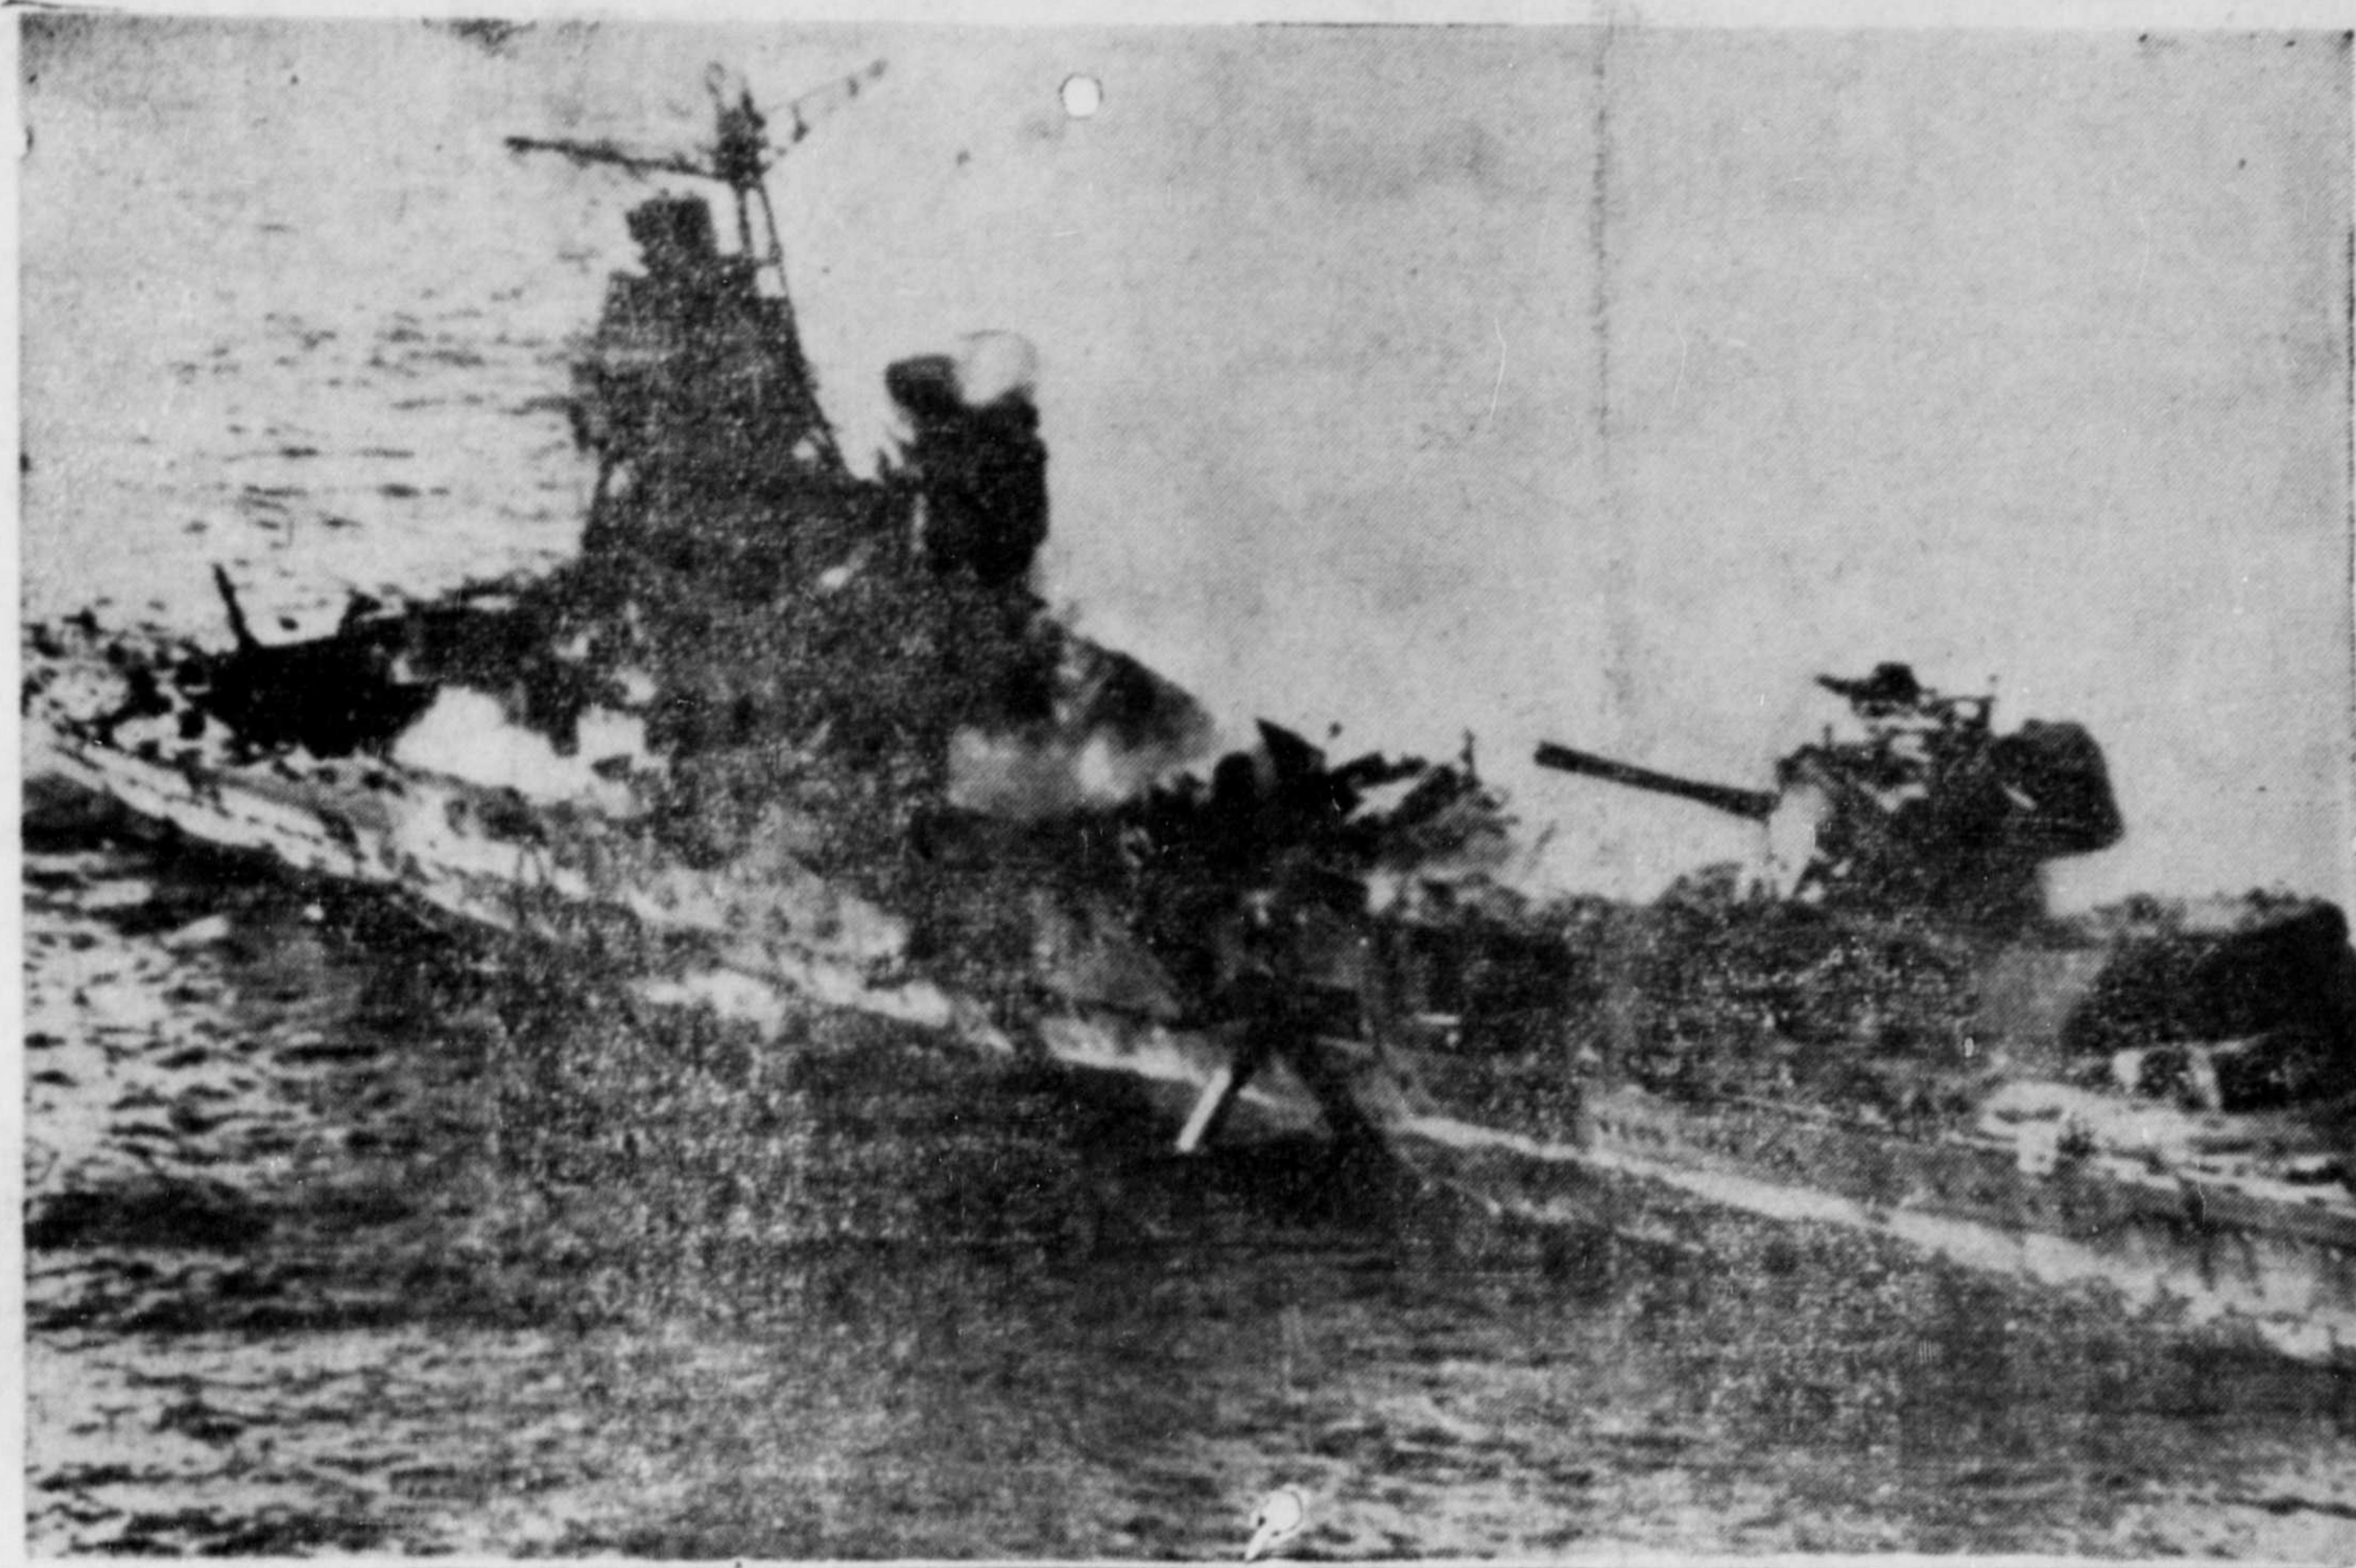

The close of the week and the last few days of the session saw the House of Commons busy with the non-war estimates.

In the Senate the Overseas Conscription Amendment was passed after a debate that cut across party lines. The Senate vote was 42 to nine, with five Liberals and four Conservatives opposing the amendment.

Munitions Minister C. D. Howe had told the British United Press that before the end of the year Canada's factories will be turning out tanks at the rate of 500 a month. Most of these will be the hard-hitting "ram" tanks. Howe said that Canada has the second largest tank arsenal in North America.

He forecast also that by the end of the year Canada will be manufacturing 800 airplanes a month. This will come on top of the industry's switchover from training

BURNING JAP CRUISER WALLOWES AFTER HITS BY AMERICAN BOMBERS

This picture taken at the Battle of Midway Island shows a cruiser that the U.S. navy planes sank. Smoke from the dying side view of a Jap cruiser of the Mogami class after it was bombarded by carrier-based U.S. navy aircraft. This may be one of the monster fills the ozone as it lists to one side. Uncle Sam's forces are taking drastic steps to even the sneak attack by the Japs on Pearl Harbor, and their efforts seem to be bearing fruit.

Labor Shortage Felt In East

SARNIA, Ont., August 11: (BUP)—

Hundreds of men have been drafted from Sarnia and Lambton County during the last few months with the result that business, factories, stores and farmers are facing a shortage of labor, the equal of which has not been experienced since the last war.

Enlistment of men from this district in Canada's armed forces early in the war caused some labor concern but the shortage was not considered acute. Sweeping new drafts recently have changed this situation and employers are faced with a definite lack of men.

YARMOUTH, N.S., August 11: (BUP)—The Yarmouth farming district is faced with the worst labor shortage in Nova Scotia. Large fields of hay remain uncut and crops which went bad could not be replaced, because of the shortage of farm hands.

The prospects for Yarmouth farmers is definitely not bright. In addition to the labor shortage vegetable crops have been hit by disease and harvest this year is expected not to exceed fifty per cent of last year's crops.

At the same time, the Munitions Minister let it be known that the steel situation in Canada is growing difficult. But he added that there has not yet been any slow-down in war production due to shortages of steel. Canada produces two-thirds of her steel needs and imports the other one-third.

LONDON LETTER

By GLANVILLE CAREW
 (British United Press)

LONDON, Aug. 11 (BUP)—There was at one time—a good many years ago it is true—a booklet in secret circulation entitled "How to Evade the English Law." I do not say that it was displayed on the bookstalls, that it carried any publisher's blurb or that it was boosted by the great lending libraries; no doubt its circulation was restricted to choice subscribers who were in need of and likely to benefit by its advice. It was written in German. Perusal of a copy which came into my possession for an hour or two explained to me the phenomenal knowledge displayed by an alien defendant in a civil case of what an R.A.F. man would, I suppose, now describe as evasive action.

I am reminded of that title by reading a statement in a prominent newspaper that there are at present 62,000 male conscientious objectors because it makes me question whether any enterprising person has been inspired to give advice on "How to Evade Military Service." By the way, that number of 62,000 compares with about 16,000 in the last war. In the absence of knowledge of the number of men engaged in either war no comparison can be made to show whether the percentage is higher or not. Ayhow, it looks small among millions.

However, I can to some extent answer my own question. Such advice is being given; not indeed in a foreign tongue to foreigners but in English in England to English men. It is not given in booklets passed furtively from hand to hand nor in whispers behind closed doors nor in any hole and corner way, but openly—and, I suppose, within the law. At any rate the law has not interfered so far.

There are at this moment certain societies—according to common report about twenty—whose aim it is to assist "conchies" to present their objections to doing any military service, in fact in some instances to doing anything at all which is calculated directly or indirectly to assist the war effort, and these societies are able to reinforce their efforts by association into a sort of Central Board for Conscientious Objectors.

Apparently what happens is that anyone, male or female, who has in fact, or who says he has, conscientious objections to assisting war in any way can go to any one of these societies and obtain advice as to how to present his case. He is not cross-examined by his advisers as to the degree of sensitiveness of his conscience, as to the strength of his objections or Patients, Staff Killed in Raid . . .

LONDON—Several patients and staff members of an East Anglian Mental institution were killed last night by a direct hit from a German plane during raids on east and southeast England.

U.S. Report "Holding Our Own" . . .

WASHINGTON—Five words, "we are holding our own" today gave the United States word indicating that American Marines were beating off furious Japanese counter-attacks in the five-day-old battle of the Solomon Islands, 900 miles northeast of Australia, as Allied naval and air forces covered the long range invasion. Australia's Prime Minister Curtin, announcing at least an even break in a struggle that may mark the turning point of the far Pacific conflict, said that Allied gains so far had apparently outweighed their losses. At the same time an Australian government spokesman disclosed that shipments of supplies of "highest possible value" which would "revolutionize offensive operations in the north" had arrived in Australia.

Hankow Feels U.S. Bombs . . .

CHUNGKING—The Chinese government announced that United States bombers dropped bombs and incendiaries on Hankow, Japanese main base, causing much damage. All planes returned safely to their bases.

Nazis Drive Still Unchecked . . .

MOSCOW—Despite continual Russian counter-attacks the new German drive towards Stalingrad progresses steadily. Berlin claimed that Russian resistance in the North Caucasus had completely broken down. Russians admit a German breakthrough at Krasnodor. German progress is expected to be considerably slowed down as Caucasus foothill region is reached providing Russians with terrain more suited to defence.

Japanese Ready For Second Front . . .

CHUNGKING—Sources here state that the Japanese have about 700,000 troops on the Manchukuo border in readiness for a Siberian offensive.

Laval Looks To Hitler Victory . . .

VICHY—Pierre Laval told Frenchmen today that "France's liberation will come with Hitler's victory."

the grounds for them or how long he has held his opinions. Indeed, he may have seen the light only a couple of minutes after he was called upon to register.

The support of a conscientious objector receives in this way is of course only moral support and advice on procedure. He may not be represented before the tribunal in any way. He is told by the society how to register his objection; advised what to say to the tribunal; what to do if he fails to convince that body and what to do if, despite being ordered to serve he still maintains objection.

How many women "conchies" there are has not been stated, as far as I know, nor have many cases been reported in the newspapers—only a very few extreme ones—but probably nine out of every ten of the 62,000 males and the undisclosed figure of females are graduates from one or other of these societies.

We have to admit that in these cases they are honest yet it seems hardly humanly possible to be completely logical and judicious about them.

Riots; Stoppages Plague India In Crucial Hour

Troops Marched in to Reinforce Police — Hindu, Moslem Factional Riots Feared — "Final Struggle" Against British

BOMBAY, Aug. 11 (CP)—Rioting, mill stoppages and police volleys fired into turbulent mobs spread wider over India today amid indications that dreaded communal riots between the Hindus and Moslems might break out to heighten the crisis. The Government took increased measures to restore and keep order and in some areas troops marched in where police strength seemed inadequate. The police said that the slightest spark might touch off rioting between the opposing Hindu and Moslem groups as from all points came reports of demonstrations following a call for a total shutdown of trade. Disidents were promised by their leaders victory in two months in what they called "a final struggle" against British rule.

Arithmetic For Housewives Now

Tea, Coffee Rationing Means New Arithmetic Problem

VANCOUVER, Aug. 11—How is your mathematics? Announcement of coupon rationing of tea and coffee is making housewives settle a lot of problems in Arithmetic this week. They are based on the family's tea and coffee requirements.

According to the regulations laid down by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, each of the coupons marked "A-B-C-D-E" on the ration card are worth either one ounce of tea, or four ounces of coffee.

Because it is difficult to buy these commodities in very small quantities, purchasers are permitted to buy their whole five-week supply at once, if they want to. Retailers, in many instances, will be faced with the problem of selling tea and coffee in smaller amounts than they have been accustomed to do in the past.

Children under twelve years of age are not permitted a ration. This pleases nutritionists and doctors because there is no nourishment in these beverages and their effect as stimulants is not considered for children. It probably does not appeal to the kind of housekeeper, however, who would like to have the children's extra coupons with which to buy her family's supplies.

A family of four, made up of two adults and two children under twelve, can use only two ration cards. This means that the housekeeper has 10 coupons to last the family for five weeks. Each coupon is worth one ounce of tea or four ounces of coffee.

If she wants to buy the family's five-week supply at once and she requires both tea and coffee, she can if she so desires take four coupons and buy one pound of coffee, and another four coupons and buy one-quarter of a pound of tea. This will leave her with two coupons. With them she can either augment her coffee supply by half-a-pound, or her tea supply by two ounces—one-eighth of a pound. This amount will have to last until September 8 when the permanent ration books are issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The above example is, of course, only a suggestion of how a family with two ration cards could apportion their coupons. Naturally it is up to everyone to do as they see fit. Some people would rather buy all tea and no coffee and vice versa. One fact must be faced, however, that one ounce of tea or four ounces of coffee a week per person is not a great deal to get along on. According to government officials the ration is the result of dire necessity. Ships are needed for more important things than tea and coffee. They are required to bring tanks and guns, ammunition and planes to the war fronts. Consumers are being asked to deny themselves in order to win the war.

P.E.I. Bootleggers Caught In Act

R.C.M.P. Co-operate in Enforcing Prohibition

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Aug. 11: (BUP)—Charges under the Prince Edward Island prohibition act will probably be laid against the persons concerned in the seizure of 500 quarts of ale by the island police.

The seizure was made when R.C.M.P. and city police swooped down on a truckman transferring barrels from the C.N.R. station to a warehouse cellar.

In each barrel was 60 quarts of beer packed in straw. The name of the persons to whom it was consigned has not been made public.

Famed Elgar Choir Will Tour East

VANCOUVER, August 11—Starting out on its fourth Canadian tour, Vancouver's famed Elgar Junior Choir, C. E. Findlater, director, left here Monday evening by Canadian National Railways for Jasper National Park, first stop in a tour which will take them to many cities in the Dominion east to Montreal to fulfill some fifty engagements in the interest of war charities. The first concert in the present tour will be given at Jasper Park Lodge on Friday.

Last year the choir travelled as far east as Montreal on a similar tour and was instrumental in raising thousands of dollars for various war efforts. The twenty-five members pay all their own expenses for the entire trip. The only recompense they receive is the satisfaction of having assisted in a great cause.

RABBITS FOR WAR

R.C.A.F. FLIER RESCUED AFTER 14 DAYS ADRIFT

After his Hampden bomber crashed in the North Sea after a raid on the Frisian Islands off the coast of Holland, Pilot Officer Holbrooke Mahn of Denver, Col., a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force spent 14 days in a tiny rubber dinghy before he was rescued. Failure of one engine while the aircraft was flying at about 200 feet brought the plane down and it sank almost immediately. Mahn, with one gunner and the navigator managed to climb out and their dinghy was released successfully. The emergency rations were oil soaked but two quart containers of water were intact. For the first day or so, confidence that they would be rescued buoyed their spirits but by the sixth day the water was gone. Shortly after sundown on the eighth day the navigator who had been delirious died and his two companions slipped the body into the sea. Several times aircraft flew overhead but they did not observe the tiny boat. Then the gunner started to drink seawater and on the tenth day he died. "I was so weak I had trouble getting his body out of the boat," Mahn said later. On the 13th day, a seagull lit on the edge of the boat. Mahn was able to grab it by the legs and ate it raw. On the 14th day Mahn heard the throb of a ship's motor and managed to hail. Soon he was wrapped in warm blankets and, as pictured above, in the first photo to reach Canada since his rescue, is well on the way toward recovery.

McNaughton --- Great General . . .

It is well within the limit of possibility that Canada's own Lt.-Gen. Andy McNaughton will be chosen to lead the coming Allied invasion of Continental Europe. In this strange war, international relationships have to be taken into account. It is a fact that it might be easier to achieve complete harmony if the Allied invasion force were led by a Canadian—rather than by an Englishman or American.

But on merit alone, there is no more scientific soldier in all the world today than our own Andy McNaughton. Unfortunately, the nature of this war to date has been such that few English-speaking generals have got a chance to demonstrate their abilities. General Wavell showed his calibre in the Middle East. It is a foregone conclusion that he will be kept in that arena to deal with the future battle, which also may decide the fate of this generation. But the European theatre calls for a man with scientific imagination. For years past, General McNaughton has given his whole time, and brilliant intellect, to studying ways and means of making and repelling invasions. It is doubtful if there is his equal in the world today in this specialized field. It is certain that he has few, if any, superiors.

Canada can watch the decision in this regard not only with confidence, but pride.

Staff House Dance Held

Opening Dance of Prince Rupert Dry Dock Employees Is Very Successful

The first of a series of dances, held under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Dry Dock Employees Association, drew a crowd of between seven and eight hundred persons Saturday night. Filling a much wanted need for proper recreation for the workers, the affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all in attendance.

Master of ceremonies and the chairman of the convening committee was Lewis Hilder, with Robert Cameron, Charles Toombs, George Howe, B. Skinner, S. Gillis and D. Montesano his able assistants.

Assisting master of ceremonies and caller for square dances was Pte. Adams of Midland Regiment. The Women's Auxiliary committee consisted of Mrs. S. V. Cox, Mrs. Robert Cameron, Mrs. C. Toombs and Mrs. Hilder. Also helping out were Harry Shaw, Jack Davidson and Charles Williams. The Mid-Shield Club opened its doors, and land's nine-piece orchestra, under more than 250,000 servicemen have the direction of Sergeant-Major Mills provided the music. The floor show included tap-dancing by Miss Isabel Connery and Miss Elsa Kraupner and vocal solos by Joe Couture, to which the gathering joined in. Refreshments were served to the entire crowd.

This dance is the first of a series of entertainments and recreations planned by the Employees' Association to aid in providing "off-hour facilities" for the men. This excellent plan is also coupled with the start of a fund which will be augmented from the proceeds of dances, etc. for emergency cases involving the workers or their families.

NOBODY ALONE IN LONDON

LONDON, August 11:—More than 170,000 Canadians—the population of a good-sized city—have been accommodated since the Red Shield Club opened its doors, and more than 250,000 servicemen have made it their rendezvous.

Letter Box

Editor, Daily News: First, Mr. Black, Secretary of the Carpenters' Union, takes his hair down and drops a tear for a couple of high school kids.

He raises his voice in the wilderness twelve years too late. Did not your own press wires carry the news that 20,000 of these boys were turned down as unfit the first year of the war? Because for some eight years previous they had no work, no money and no friends until this war started.

My dear Mr. Black and Mr. Whiting, do you know that laborers and most helpers start in the shipyard at 50 cents per hour, plus the eight cents bonus, that is two cents less per hour than those high school kids received. Also they do not get board at $1.20 per day. The staff house charges $19.50 per month for a room—meals are 30 cents per meal, or 90 cents per day (a 30-day month runs $46.50). While the kids get the same thing for $36 per month—so the shipyard lads are out $10.50 per month.

But on the other hand the most of us are unable to get into the staff house, so we must take pot luck, which means that we pay $5 per week straight for a room in a sub-standard rooming house—(Rent Controller please note) and at least two $5 meal tickets per week; for a 30-day month we pay roughly $22 for a room and $43 for food, a total of $65. $36 from $65 leaves $29 more than we should pay. Perhaps someone else is buying the War Bonds we would like to buy but cannot.

So if Mr. Black and Mr. Whiting will get together with Rent and Price Controllers and do a little home-town cleaning, perhaps we, the workers, can purchase War Bonds in our own right. Then in time, Prince Rupert may be known as a City of Fairness, instead of "Chiseler's Paradise." Thank you. SHIPYARD WORKER.

P.S.—There is no reason for a turnover of 200 men per week if this charging of first class rates for substandard living is cleaned up.

SPORT CHAT

By ALLAN NICKLESON (Canadian Press Staff Writer) Sharp nitcing kept a Canadian squadron's softball team in submission while the bats of a Canadian night-fighter squadron nine hammered out an 11-5 victory in the first of what is expected to be a series of interstation challenge affairs.

Wing Cmdr. Paul Davoud of Kingston, Ont., held down second base for his winning arm, while the losing squadron's commander, Wing Cmdr. D. A. R. Bradshaw of London, Ont., hopped about as base umpire.

For the winners, LAC Jack Diamond of Regina and Sgt. Jim Matches of Park Head, Ont., hurled masterfully and never were in trouble after their mates collected a six-run lead in the opening frame. Matches started the first-inning splurge with a homer.

Racehorses, sold by auction at Stockton, brought "horse meat" prices. Total price paid for eight thoroughbreds was $465. It's a big comedown for the sport of kings but with horse meat at its present controlled price of from 15 to 25 cents a pound, the animals could be profitably slaughtered.

Perhaps these men of the Gospel previously played at, famed Lord's but, according to an Australian airman on leave, New Guinea natives, taught cricket by missionaries, "could give any of the Services' team a hundred start and beat them." The airman said their "bowling and fielding is a revelation" and that they play on camouflaged fields constructed by troops.

And speaking of cricket, an Australian expert's forecast that cricketers there soon would be forced to appear in shorts, instead of the traditional flannels, because of clothing restrictions, brought this reply from Lord's: "There could be no possible objection to the appearance of a player in shorts, even at Lord's, if it was induced by government restrictions."

A statement by a distinguished surgeon, Brig. C. M. Page, in the British Medical Journal, which said that "knee-joint troubles cause a good deal of short and long-term disability in the Army," and that "this source of wastage will continue so long as troops play football," brought this reply in a London newspaper's sports column:

"Admittedly football is inseparable from knee injuries, but army sports chiefs who are in a position to know told me the proportion is absolutely negligible. Mostly they occur in inter-unit matches. Soldiers must have some amenities. They play football, they box, with a certain amount of disability risk. But the 'wastage' is more than compensated for by the benefits in health and mental fitness."

WAR GREAT EMPLOYER

LONDON, August 11: — Unemployment is practically non-existent in Britain, the labor ministry has revealed. Not more than 5,000 employable persons in Britain are unemployed.

GOOD OLD SKATE.

LONDON, August 11: — Britain's oldest destroyer, H. M. S. Skate, is still going strong. The warship, built in 1917, is the only three-funnelled destroyer in the Royal Navy.

NAZIS CONFIDENT

STOCKHOLM, August 11: — Copies of the Frankfurter Zeitung received here said British leaflets dropped on German-occupied territory are encouraging the population to rebel and added that "Germany is strong enough to maintain order by all necessary methods."

Send Your Copy Early

Local news contributions should be in the Daily News office by 10 a.m. on the day following the event—preferably the night before, a letterbox in the door being there to receive copy. Local news not in by 10 a.m. runs the risk of not being published. We prefer to have news contributions typewritten neatly and double spaced, if possible. However, legible writing will do.

TORPEDO GOD-FATHERS

A BRITISH PORT, Aug. 11 — There were torpedoes all around when the three-month-old daughter of Lieut. Peter S. W. Roberts, one of Britain's youngest V.C.'s, was christened aboard a submarine in the forward torpedo compartment with the ship's bell, inverted, as a baptismal font.

ATHLETES AT WAR...

By MIKE GREENSTEIN
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 TORONTO, August 11: — Jack Galbraith, former Ottawa baseball star who did a stretch with the Oswego Club of the Canadian-American loop three years ago, made an impressive debut with the Montreal Royal Canadian Air Force baseball team a short while ago.

Up at bat for the first time in the local Intermediate Baseball League at Atwater Park, he asked "Has anyone ever hit the building on St. Catharines Street?" As if to provide a partial reply to his own question, Galbraith proceeded to blast the ball onto the aforementioned thoroughfare for a homer.

Another football-playing Toronto school teacher has joined the army. Jack Casson, one-time lineman of the University of Toronto football team, who has been teaching the rudiments of rugby to aspiring high school athletes ever since his graduation, has been commissioned in the Canadian Army.

Jud Snell, 24-year old right wing ace of Ottawa Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers, Allan Cup winners, started his hockey career with the University of Manitoba Juniors in 1936. He enlisted in Brandon, Manitoba.

Maritime boxing fans will remember Sgt.-Major Frank (Marshall) Taylor, formerly of Moncton and Halifax and once Maritime welterweight boxing champion. Taylor added to an active ring career quite a spell of boxing promoting, instructing and managing. Another Maritime well-known in ring centres, is Gordon Wendell, who is with the R.C.A.F. at Moncton. As Kid Hart he was Maritime featherweight and lightweight champion.

Mel Wilson, 25-year old snap of the champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers, has enlisted as an ordinary seaman with the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve. A star of the national champions of 1939 and 1941, Wilson was a master at handling lateral passes. He scored a touchdown in last year's final against Ottawa Rough Riders which the Bombers won 18-16.

Gene Homer-Dixon, at present with a British Columbia Regiment, recently spent a furlough in Vancouver where he was noted as a tennis player with the Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Lou Somers, now a pilot officer overseas with the R.C.A.F., is remembered by Toronto Varsity football fans as one of the fastest little halfbacks and forward pass receivers in the pre-war intercollegiate football days. Cam Gray, who played on the half-line with Lou, now holds a commission with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

HAS HOPES AT 69

LONDON, August 11: — Sir John Laurie, bachelor Lord Mayor of London, still hopes to get married. His grandfather, who lived to 100, was married late in life, says Sir John. J

NATIONAL WAR LABOUR BOARD
GENERAL ORDER
 The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has found that the cost of living index number for July 2, 1942, of 117.9 (adjusted index 117) has risen by 2.4 points over the index for October 1, 1941, of 115.5 (adjusted index 114.6).
 Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of Section 34 (1) of the Wartime Wages Control Order P.C. 5963, and subject to the general provisions of the Order, the National War Labour Board orders that employers subject to the Order who are paying a cost of living bonus shall adjust the amount of such bonus payment, and employers who are not paying a cost of living bonus shall commence the payment of such a bonus, both effective from the first payroll period beginning on or after August 15, 1942, as follows:
 (a) If payment of a cost of living bonus is being made pursuant to the provisions of Order in Council P.C. 8253 (now superseded by P.C. 5963):
 (i) For employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (a) of P.C. 5963 applies, the bonus shall be increased by the amount of sixty (60c) cents per week.
 (ii) For employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (b) of P.C. 5963 applies, the percentage of their weekly wage rates, paid to them as a cost of living bonus, shall be increased by 2.4 points;
 (b) If no cost of living bonus is being paid, the payment of such a bonus shall be commenced:
 (i) For employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (a) of P.C. 5963 applies, in the amount of sixty (60c) cents per week.
 (ii) For employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (b) of P.C. 5963 applies, in the amount of 2.4% of their weekly wage rates;
 (c) In no case shall the amount of a cost of living bonus adjusted as stated exceed a maximum of $4.25 per week to employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (a) of P.C. 5963 applies, and of 17% of their weekly wage rates to employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (b) of P.C. 5963 applies;
 (d) (1) (i) For employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (a) of P.C. 5963 applies now being paid a cost of living bonus, not pursuant to the provisions of P.C. 8253, established prior to the effective date of that Order, in an amount exceeding $4.25 per week, the amount of the bonus shall remain unchanged.
 (ii) For such employees now being paid a cost of living bonus of less than $4.25 per week, the amount of the bonus shall be increased up to sixty (60c) cents per week, but in no case to exceed a total weekly bonus of $4.25;
 (2) (i) For employees to whom Section 48 (iii) (b) of P.C. 5963 applies, now being paid a cost of living bonus, not pursuant to the provisions of P.C. 8253, established prior to the effective date of that Order, in an amount exceeding 17% of their weekly wage rates, the amount of the bonus shall remain unchanged;
 (ii) For such employees now being paid a cost of living bonus of less than 17% of their weekly wage rates, the bonus shall be increased up to 2.4 points, but in no case to exceed a total weekly bonus of 17% of their weekly wage rates;
 (e) The adjustment or payment of a cost of living bonus calculated as ordered shall be to the nearest cent of any fractional figure;
 (f) Employers in the construction industry shall adjust the amount of any cost of living bonus required by paragraph (a) of this order only for employees in respect of whom no special bonus arrangement has been made with the approval of a War Labour Board, pursuant to the provision of the Order for the conduct of the National Joint Conference Board of the Construction Industry.

 Chairman, National War Labour Board.

With War On Tramps Few
 Conflict Has Taken Hoboes Off British Highways and Roads
 GLASGOW, August 11: — If nothing else, the war has taken the tramps off the highways and by-ways of Britain. Just how many have been called to the forces or pressed into war industry no statistics can ever show but an Anglo-Scots Walking Tours meeting here noted the absence this year of the mobile army of foot which used to haunt the British countryside.
 Facts available show that those men who still are wanderers favor the Welsh hills and the warmer south of England. For generations tramps have left their chalk marks on the walls of country houses. A circle and a cross meant "Food here," a ragged line. "Beware of the dog." Now a new symbol has been seen—the swastika with a line through it. The first person to notice this on his gate post was reported to be a mean farmer, famous locally for reporting all unshaven shirkers to the police.
