Manitoba Regiment, Proud of Record, Has Fine Personnel; Arduous Assault Course Tour

(By BRUCE RICHARDSON)

So pleasant was my visit to the camp of an Ontario Regiment that I invited myself out to spend an afternoon with a battalion from Manitoba. I presented my credentials and, after proper identification had been made, I was turned over to Lieut. Roost, an excellent companion with whom to spend an afternoon. This regiment is very proud of its outstanding history. During the first World War, seventeen battle honors were awarded to the unit and the men are determined that this fine record shall be upheld. Their colonel was in command of a regiment overseas but was returned to Canada to fill his present post. Three of the officers were with the same battalion in the first Great War.

CHURCHILL'S GRIM TALK ABOUT WAR

In Spite of Recent Successes, There Is No Reason to Assume Easy Victory at Hand

SIXTI-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

LONDON, Nov. 30 (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill arose before dawn today and plunged into arduous daily tasks with scarcely a moment to receive felicitations on his sixty-eighth birthday and congratulations on his address last night in which he bluntly advised Italy to get out of the war and coupled his review of good war news with the admonition to expect a "stern and terrible" 1943.

LONDON, Nov. 30 — In a world radio broadcast Sunday Prime Minister Winston Churchill would commit himself to no definite predictions as to the immediate future course of the war although he suggested that Germany's defeat in Europe would come first after which Japan would be concentrated upon. Nothing had happened to justify the assumption that the war would not still be long, bitter and bloody with 1943 a stern and terrible year.

The Prime Minister pointed to the importance of the campaign in North Africa as establishing Allied air strength which was gaining mightily while the German air strength was deteriorating both in quantity and quality. He suggested that the Axis would be driven entirely out of Africa.

The Prime Minister expressed admiration of the fight being made by the Russians with their "prodigious lows" on the eastern front. From the White Sea and the Caucasus, all along the line, the Soviet forces were now on the advance and the Nazis were facing the spectre of another winter. Hitler himself and not the German general staff was responsible for this Russian campaign.

Referring to the plight of Italy, one man and one alone was responsible. He recalled how Britain had done its best to induce Italy to remain neutral. Mr. Churchill gave Italy the choice of getting out of the war now or face a "prolonged and scientific" air bombardment.

Mr. Churchill's warning to the Italian people was pounded home repeatedly today by the British Broadcasting Corporation which preceded the address last night with broadcast appeals to the Italians to make a separate peace. The Prime Minister warned specifically how the war would be carried to Italy, particularly the south from new Mediterranean bases, "in a manner not hitherto dreamed of by its guilty leaders," unless the Italian people "say whether they want this terrible thing to happen to them or not."

Mr. Churchill appealed to all Frenchmen to rise against the common foe.

BATTLE-DRESS ADVERTISING

LONDON, Nov. 30 (CP) — Advertising and propaganda have been since war began a "second front" of the greatest importance, said Sir Harold Mackintosh, recently installed president of the British Advertising Association.

TURIN IS HIT AGAIN

Rome Itself Admits That Heavy Damage Was Done by Concentrated R.A.F. Attacks

LONDON, Nov. 30 — The Royal Air Force Saturday and Sunday night made its seventh and eighth raid in a month on the Italian industrial city of Turin. Rome radio admitted that "great damage" had been done in what London described as "concentrated attacks." Only one British plane failed to return. Many Canadians are understood to have taken part in the raids.

On Saturday there were daylight forays over France and Belgium.

The home-based Royal Air Force bombers which attacked Turin last night for the second night in succession found fires started twenty-four hours earlier still raging in the Italian city, the Air Ministry announced. The attack last night was made in bad weather and the raiding force was small in comparison with strong formations which had previously made the swing across the Alps.

Wholesale evacuations are reported to be taking place from Italian cities in fear of bombings following the recent intensive attacks and the warning yesterday of Prime Minister Winston Churchill that more are to come.

ROAD LINK FOR PEACE

Truck to be Driven From Hines Creek to Fort St. John

HINES CREEK, Nov. 30 — At a well attended and enthusiastic meeting in the Hall discussion ran high on the advisability of sending a truck from Hines Creek to Fort St. John over the Hines Creek and Fort St. John road, which is an important link in any highway scheme to the coast. A committee of five was appointed to organize the truck party, raise the truck fund and see that the truck made the trip from Hines Creek to Fort St. John over the road.

Both the British Columbia and Alberta engineers, namely Mr. Clark of Pouce Coupe and Mr. Johnston of Peace River, have stated that the road is cut out to the boundary, a certain amount of bulldozing done and that with a little local fixing is ready for winter traffic.

As the Alberta government is ready to meet the British Columbia government at the boundary with a standard grade at any time, the meeting discussed the idea of sending a delegation to Victoria to press claims before the B.C. Government to have this piece of work done as an inter-provincial matter.

As this matter has been hanging fire for many years it is strongly urged that it now be brought to a head. It is felt that this part of the country being a part of Canada, its citizens are entitled to the same consideration as other parts of the Dominion.

BUTTER IN AFRICA

CAPE TOWN, Nov. 30 (CP) — South African butter production increased so substantially following recent rains that the 75 percent quota of the last few months has been advanced to 87½ percent.

RED ARMY MOVES ON SWIFTLY

Plunges Westward in Great Encirclement Movement—Enemy Are Overwhelmed

10,000 DIE DAILY

MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (CP) — Soviet shock troops have wrested a new Don River stronghold from the Germans under clearing skies on the Stalingrad front and are pressing westward through a blizzard in a parallel offensive west of Moscow, the Russians said today. The Germans were declared to be dying at the rate of 10,000 daily as Red Army divisions pushed across the snow, utilizing tactics similar to those perfected in the 1941-42 drive.

MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (CP) — In deep snow and bitter cold the Red Army is plowing on westward in the encirclement movement against the Nazis beyond Stalingrad. Many more positions have been lost by the Germans and their casualties are enormous.

Week-end dispatches said that in some places the Red offensive had gained such momentum that fleeing Germans were frustrated in their efforts to burn warplanes which were overwhelmed too swiftly to permit take-offs. Dozens of planes were reported captured at one unidentified airfield as reports pushed to 115,000 the number of Axis soldiers killed or captured in the eleven-day drive with possibly another 150,000 wounded.

While one Russian force had taken Kletskaya, strong point 89 miles northwest of Stalingrad which had been in enemy hands since last August, newspaper Pravda said that another had swung east after an arcing thrust from above Stalin grad and closed the Russian trap about a Nazi force on the west bank of the Don. Reuters military correspondent reported in London that the Russian pincers had closed on the Don below Kalach, railway town forty miles west of Stalingrad thus completing encirclement of a large Nazi force in a pocket south of Stalingrad.

The Smolensk and Voronezh regions are also the scenes of the rising Soviet offensive.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 — Paul Gornall, veteran triple-threat half-back, is known as "The Arm" at Columbia University. Eastern grid enthusiasts tab him as United States' best passer. Sixteen of Columbia's touchdowns have come on his passes.

This Area Expected to Become Major Battlefront—Quiet in Libya Just Now

LONDON, Nov. 30 (CP) — The Allied forces in northwest Africa have taken further points in the advance on Tunis and Bizerte and aerial activity against both these Axis strongholds as well as Tripoli continues with undiminished vigor and effectiveness prior to an expected general assault. The Allied

The crowd included a large number of negroes who were celebrating the football game victory of Holy Cross over Boston.

The panic reached its height when a girl ran into the centre of the floor with her hair and clothes afire.

An emergency door failed to open and many lost their lives as it was stormed in panic with a view to making it out.

A searching investigation of the tragedy is under way and already changes to Boston's fire regulations have been ordered.

Messages offering assistance and sympathy came from as far as the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

HELP NORWAY COMMITTEE

Editor, Daily News:

Having had such wonderful support not only from the Scandinavians but also from other nationalities we feel it is our duty to give you a report of what has been done since the above mentioned organization was formed on March 26, 1942.

First it is important for you to know that this committee consists of representations from three Scandinavian organizations in Prince Rupert. These are Vinland Lodge No. 28 (Sons of Norway), Valhalla Lodge No. 67 and the Varden Singers. Each has a representation of four.

It is the aim of this committee to be of at least a little help in the war effort, namely to do our share in making the stay of the Norwegian forces in Canada as pleasant as possible. We feel we are strengthening their morale by showing them our gratitude for their sacrifices, knowing as we do the sacrifices they have already gone through in order to reach their goal — a training camp in Canada.

To go further into the history of these forces — how they came into being, how they are operated and how everything generally is running so smoothly — we feel we are not competent to do. Suffice it to say that these recruits left their home country, knowing very well their lives were at stake, entered a country strange to them in language and custom, their only motto: "train me, give me weapons, and send me back to Norway — and from these non-stop Berlin."

The old year is about to leave us. A little has been done, but there is yet a lot more to do. Let our New Year's resolution be "Support the Norwegian forces in Canada in every way possible." You can do so by supporting the work of the "Help Norway" committee, either individually or in groups.

Individually your financial support or gifts for future raffles are welcome. In groups you can organize whist or bridge drives or entertainments. You are indirectly helping yourself by supporting organizations doing their share in furthering the war effort.

The Help Norway committee's financial statement will appear in this newspaper the second week of December.

RUDOLPH OLSEN,
Chairman.

Lieut. Richard Lester Cited in Connection With Sinking of U-boat

Lieut. Richard Kingsley Lester of Vancouver, who was stationed at Prince Rupert a couple of years ago and became quite well known here, has been mentioned in dispatches for courage, resolution and devotion to duty while serving on H.M.C.S. Wetaskiwin in action which resulted in the sinking of an enemy U-boat on the Atlantic. The citation of Lieut. Lester is as follows:

"This officer was responsible for training of anti-submarine personnel. His coolness and concentration during the prolonged U-boat hunt, and the efficiency of the team for which this officer was responsible, greatly contributed to success of the action."

Lieut. Lester, before enlistment here in 1939, was an outstanding racing player with North Shore All Blacks, and was educated at West Vancouver High School. He is 24.

Prior to war's outbreak, he was employed by local grain and shipping firms. He was an amateur yachtsman in peace time, sailing with Commander Hal Wade in B.C. waters.

His father, Sgt. A. M. Lester, who is stationed at Little Mountain here, was a major in the last war. His sister Audrey is employed by the Army Ordnance Corps, Vancouver, and plans to join the women's branch of the Canadian Navy soon. Lieut. Lester's brother, Vernon, lives at 960 West Fourth, West Vancouver.

Bruce Richardson of St. Catharines, Ontario, after spending a couple of weeks here with the Daily News, left Saturday night for Vancouver where he may decide to locate.

Announcement

Restrictions placed upon us by the Wartime Prices & Trade Board compel us to announce we shall be unable to put on our "Christmas Special" this year.

This practice of sending a small box of smoked fish, typical of the dominant industry of Prince Rupert, has become increasingly popular and we are very sorry we shall have to disappoint our many customers this year.

After the war, we hope we shall again be able to make this special Christmas offer available to our many friends.

FINE SHOW IS STAGED

Great Performance Staged for Forces by "Tailspins," R.C.A.F. Revue

By DOROTHY GARBUZZ
There was a bumper crop of hearty laughter at the "Y" concert in the Capitol Theatre last night when a clever and versatile troupe of Air Force boys put on the show "Tailspins." It seems hard to believe what Flying Officer Fraser Lister said—that only three weeks and five days ago the revue met for their first rehearsal and that they have only been on the road a week. It would be hard and unfair to pick out any special number for individual praise. Each in its own way was excellent.

Flying Officer Fraser Lister, an adept entertainer himself—talented and witty—got complete cooperation from his boys. His Russian opera bouffe number was a gem and his choice little tit-bit about the lady wheat stalk very funny even though he did crib it from Ronald Frankau, B.B.C.'s bad boy.

The five-piece band called "Swing patrol," with leader Len Moss, that South African musical wizard, launched out into some first class jive and boogie-woogie. Dick Taylor, who plays the electric guitar, spoke his piece in "The Old Man of the Mountain" while Frank Kuse the drummer, stole the spotlight in "The Big Noise from Waneta." With Don McLean at the piano and Stan Kirby doubling on saxophone and clarinet the band really went to town in a smart modern arrangement of Von Suppe's "Light Cavalry Overture."

Archie Davis, whose rich baritone won't soon be forgotten sang the vocal to a beautiful setting of "White Christmas" in which he interpolated "Silent Night, Holy Night." The fact that he also sang reverently and beautifully "The Lord's Prayer" added a note often forgotten by Sunday concert parties—that it is the Lord's Day.

Curley Reynolds, the "Yodelling Ranger" put over some first class cowboy music and looked every inch the roving cowboy. He can do more tricks with his voice than a circus horse.

For concentrated humor and inspired lunacy Al Bestall, whom the troupe laughingly call their comedian, drew more laughs per square inch than Abbot and Costello combined. His talents lie in impersonation and his one man show depicting the debutante entering her bath brought down the house.

The entire company contributed a sidesplitting presentation of the comic song "The Fuehrer's Face" with Fraser Lister as thoroughly bumptious Hitler. Another ensemble number that was right up the service man's alley was the take-off on the burlesque queen's act. The "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" number was a rousing finale which sent the big crowd home humming.

Thanks boys and most certainly do come again, you're the sort of medicine we need to brush off the bush.

The promise that "Tailspins" will come back to the forces in Prince Rupert again some time was a popular announcement. The return visits will certainly be anticipated with much pleasure.

Girls of the Women's Red Cross Corps who acted as usherettes were Honora Silversides, Joan Woodward, Peggy Dodimead, Gertrude Stangbye and Betty Miller.
