The Manpower Program . . .

Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King has announced a far-reaching federal government manpower utilization program. Some may feel that the government has moved further along this line than they had expected. Some will ask, now something is being done about manpower, what about wealth and natural resources—is enough being done regarding them? We do not suggest that the nothing is moving along these lines. Not a few consider that the government has already moved further in the field of mobilization and organization of wealth and natural resources than it has in connection with manpower.

Our own opinion on the manpower program, as announced in detail in The Daily News today and which it is evidently intended to implement immediately, it represents the greatest step so far taken in Canada's mobilization of manpower for all out war—the necessity for which is recognized by all.

Lieut.-Cmdr. J. R. Elfert, who has been located for some time at Victoria in the naval service, returned to Prince Rupert from the south on the Prince Rupert this morning.

ORGANIZING OF SPORTS

Interservices Meeting Last Night—
Meet On July 1 Is Planned

Last night an Interservices sports meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A. headquarters with a representative from each unit in the area. Members of the committee were the guests of Alan Hurst, area secretary for the Y.M.C.A. for British Columbia at dinner. Those present were Major Parkes, area sports officer, Lieut. Elliott, representing Navy, Lieut. Madill, 102nd Battery, Lieut. Kennedy, Second Searchlights, Capt. Broadberry, Edmonton Fusiliers, Lieut. Lanska, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, Lieut. Simes, Anti-Aircraft Battery, Staff Sergeant Robinson, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, Staff Sergeant Moore, Ordnance, Staff Sergeant Purdon, Area Headquarters, Corporal Wilcox, A. A. Shipy of the Y.M.C.A. representing Royal Canadian Air Force, P. H. Lansey, chairman of the Y.M.C.A. advisory board, Alan Hurst, area secretary, and C. F. Leslie, Y.M.C.A. War Services supervisor.

Cliff Leslie was appointed secretary of the meeting and all branches of sports which might be entered into by the forces during the coming season were discussed fully. These included soccer, baseball, softball, volleyball, boxing, cross country running and track and field sports. It was decided that schedules for the different sports should be arranged by the Y.M.C.A. staff in conference with Major Parkes.

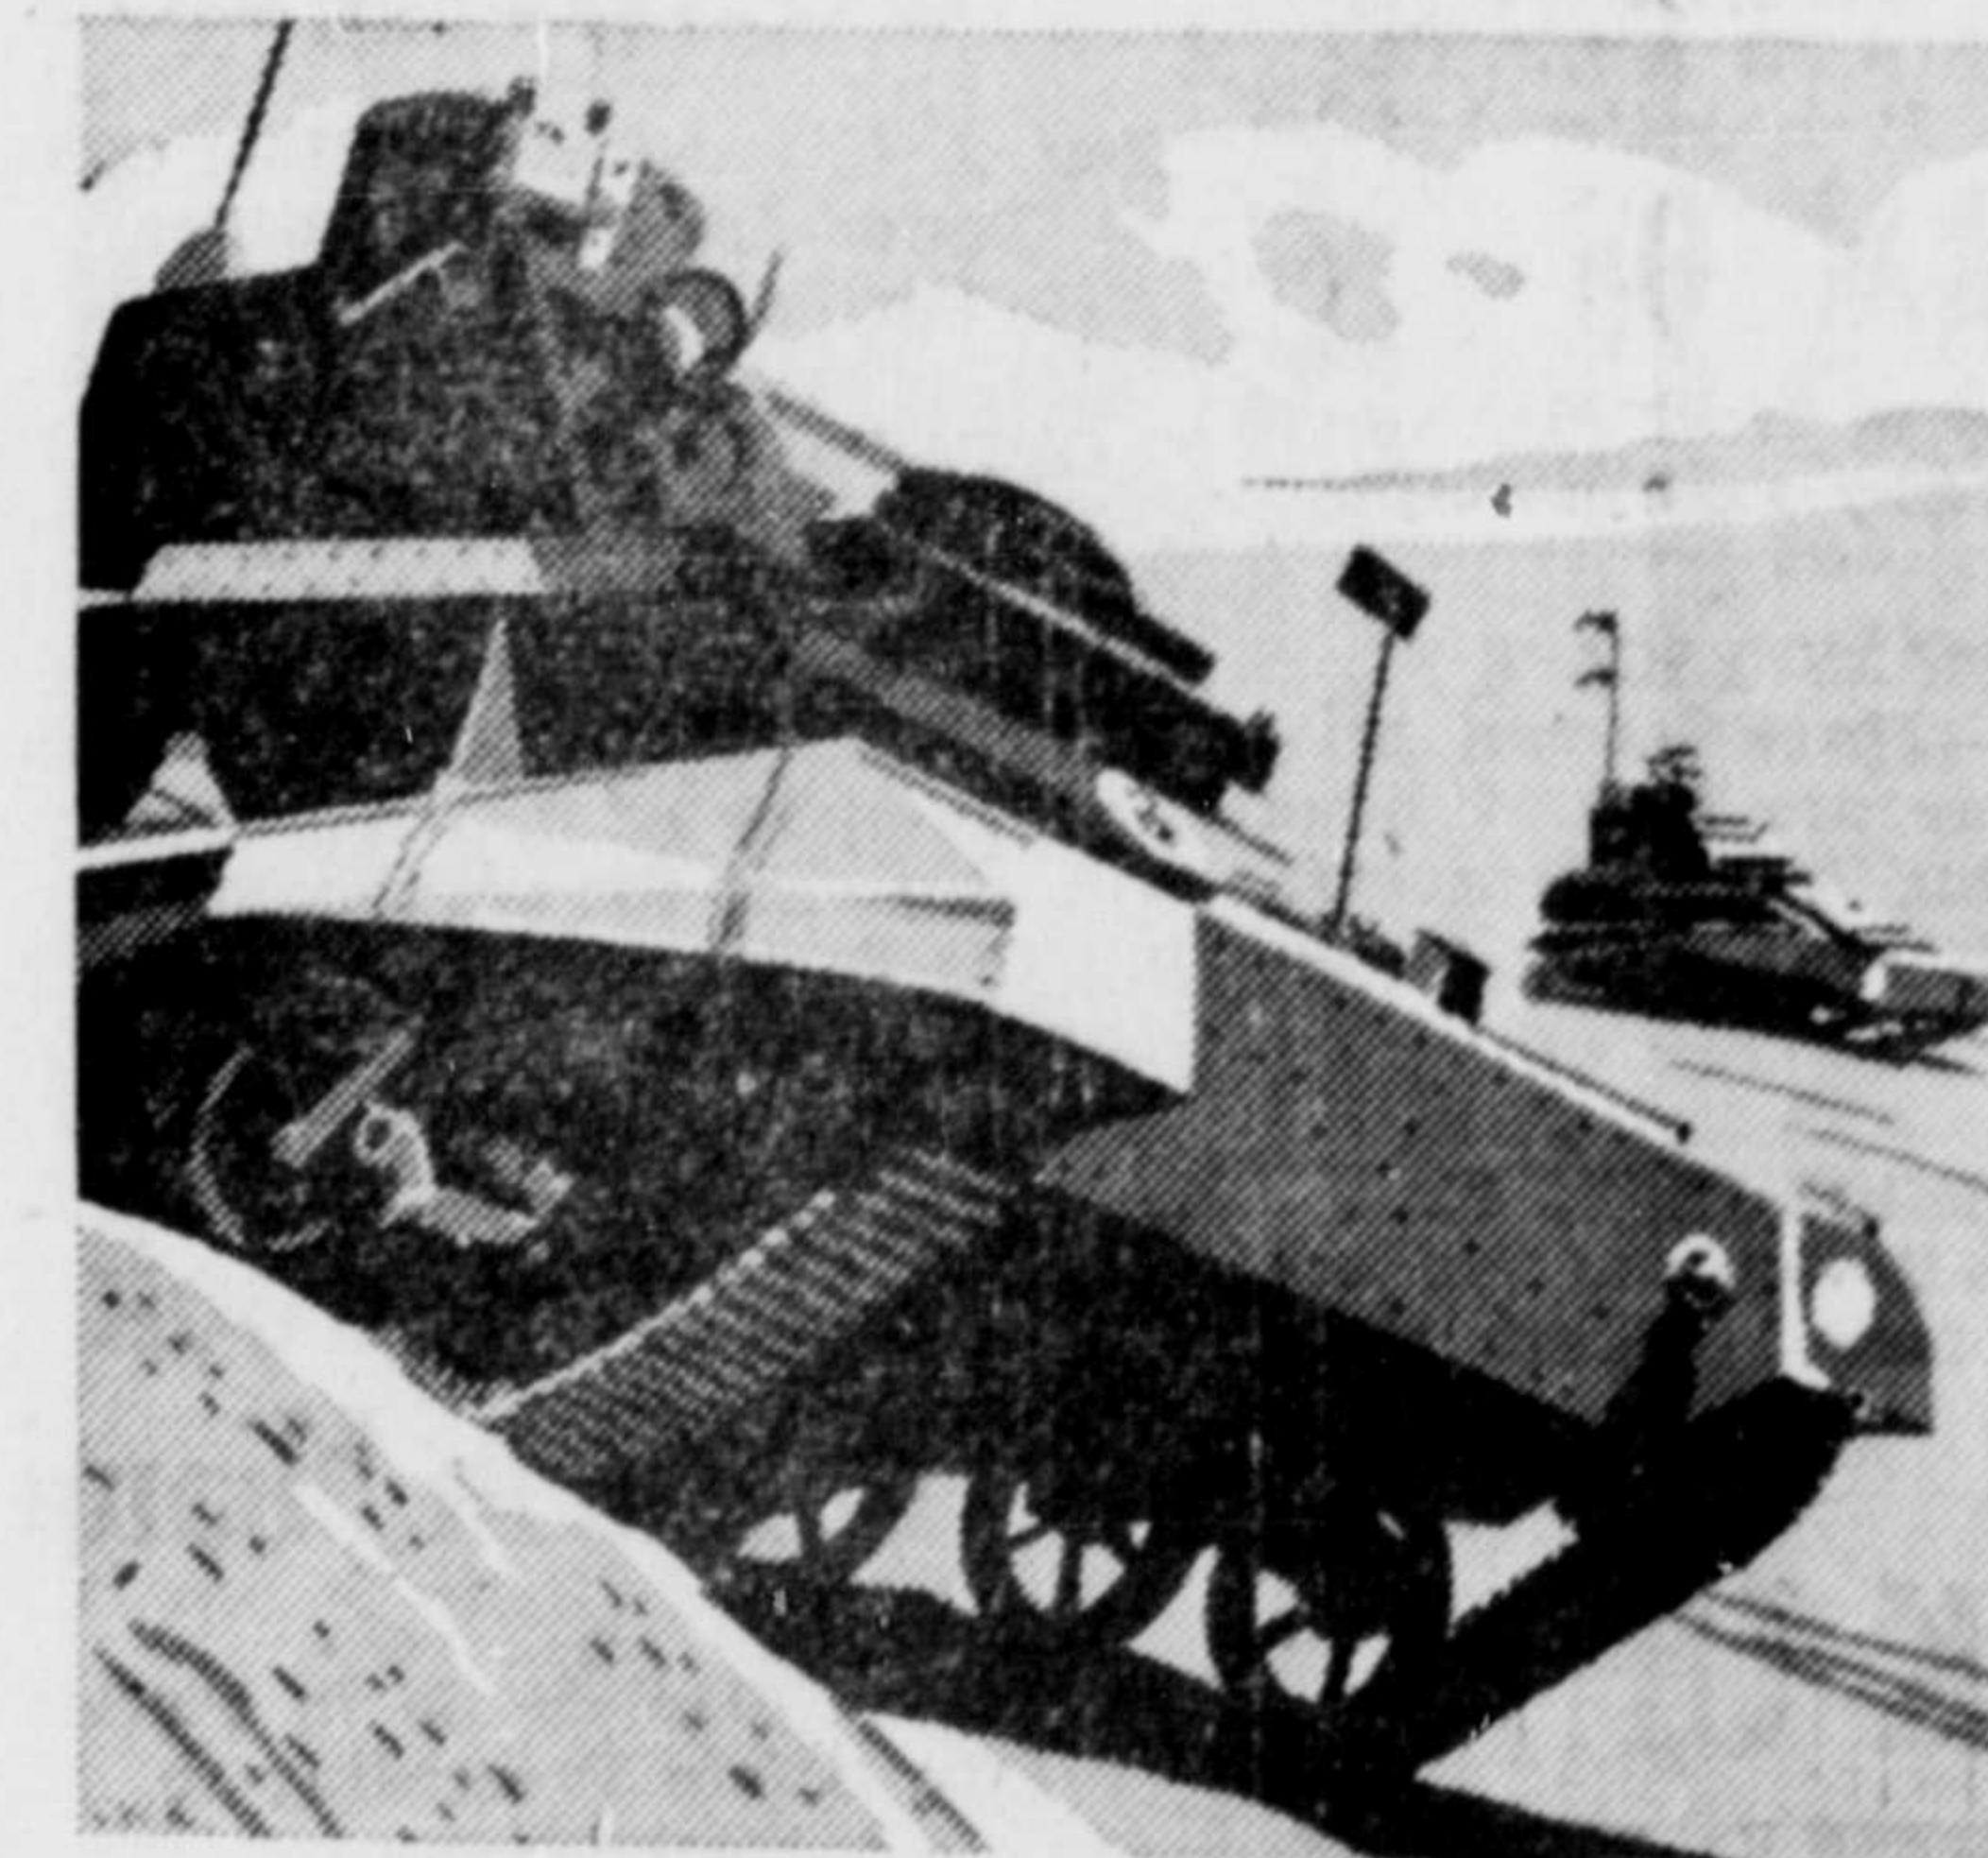

A garrison sports meet was set tentatively for July 1 with the Edmonton Fusiliers putting on a tabloid sports display. The next meeting of this committee is to be held on the first Tuesday in May.

Y.M.C.A.'S TEA

During 1941 Y.M.C.A. tea-cars in England made 5479 trips to serve hot tea and biscuits to Canadian troops on manoeuvres.

With a good-sized list of passengers and heavy freight cargo, C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil MacLean, arrived in port at 10:30 this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 11 o'clock tonight for Ketchikan whence she will return here tomorrow night southbound.

Of what avail is it to hold a commendable record for the purchase of Defence Bonds if Prince Rupert has an unsavory record for the consumption of liquor, for drunkenness resulting in the destruction of minds, bodies, morals, efficiency and in a foundation for a fate like that of Singapore now and bedlam for the future? Are we citizens to go complacently, smugly and blindly on facing the prospect of losing both the war and the peace through the destruction of our physical, mental and moral faculties? Let us arouse ourselves

Thrift BUILDS TANKS

Never before has individual thrift been so vital a factor in our country's history. Every dollar we can save counts in the conduct of this war.

To overwhelm the enemy and hasten a victorious peace the Empire must have a modern, smooth running, hard hitting, fighting machine. But such a machine cannot be built without individual sacrifice—self denial—thrift.

Until this war is won make personal thrift your watchword. Watch your spending. Build up a reserve of fighting dollars out of current earnings. Save for victory.

The ROYAL BANK of Canada

before it is too late and save our children, save our city and our country from this sly fifth columnist—Liquor. Let us act now, unitedly, to destroy this enemy in our midst before he destroys us.

We hereby enlist as fighters against this menace and call on the service clubs, Rotary, Gyro, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, Chambers of Commerce, Women's Canadian Club, Canadian Legion, Parent Teachers Association, other organizations of this city and all loyal citizens to take definite action now against this destructive force. Any citizen, man or woman, who refuses to sacrifice "drink" or profit from "drink" to help win the war and the peace is a traitor to the cause for which our Empire and Allies are fighting. Let us stop "boozing" and attend to the business of winning the war.

Calling all patriots for the front line of defence to destroy our primary fifth columnist in Prince Rupert!

FANCY! THEY'RE Group
Blended!"
That's why SWEET CAPS always taste so good!

They're Group-Blended! It takes 38 classifications of the choicest Virginia tobaccos to give Sweet Caps their finer flavour and extra mildness. These 38 are first blended in small groups. Then these groups are merged—Group-Blended. It's this extra good tobacco, plus this extra care in blending which make every Sweet Cap taste so good.

CAREER OF WOODSWORTH

Started in Winnipeg and Was All Over West.

Young J. S. Woodsworth, who later became a leading Socialist and parliamentarian and is now dead in Vancouver, came west with the family in 1882, attended school at Portage la Prairie and Brandon, and then entered Wesley College, Winnipeg. He played on the senior rugby squad, and in his final year was elected "senior stick." Upon graduating with his arts degree he was awarded the bronze medal in mental and moral sciences. After teaching school for a year he completed his theology course, and served mission fields in Manitoba. In 1893 he entered Victoria College, Toronto, taking his bachelor of divinity degree, and then followed two years post-graduate study at Oxford University.

Returning to Manitoba in 1900, he was assigned mission charges in New Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia. His first appointment of note was that of junior minister of Grace Church, Winnipeg, the most important Methodist congregation in the west at that time. He remained at this post four years, and was then appointed superintendent of All Peoples' Mission in Winnipeg. During six years in this office he studied social problems, particularly immigration, upon which he wrote a book. Believing his views to be out of harmony with the objectives of his denomination, he resigned from the church; but a church committee reported his beliefs were sufficiently in harmony with Methodist standards to render his resignation unnecessary, and his name was retained on the ministerial list.

During his ministerial days in Winnipeg, Mr. Woodsworth was a member of the Children's Aid Society, Associated Charities Committee, Playgrounds Commission, Commission on Technical Education, and the Trades and Labor Council, representing the Ministerial Association on the latter body.

He was instrumental in organizing the "People's Forum," through which all kinds of views on current problems found expression. Six children survive, one Mrs. Grace MacInnis, a member of the British Columbia Legislature.

hoped that the various religious and social agencies might coordinate their activities for sane and sympathetic assimilation of the foreigner.

In 1915 he resigned to become director of the Bureau of Social Research established in Winnipeg under the auspices of the governments of the three prairie provinces, and made a valuable survey of the Ukrainian situation in the west and also reported on the problem of the care of feeble-minded children.

When the bureau was discontinued, he accepted an appointment to serve a Methodist mission field on the Pacific coast in January, 1917. In 1918 he served for three months as secretary of the Alberta Non-Partisan League at Calgary. Returning to the coast, he became a longshoreman in Vancouver and identified himself with the labor movement there.

Editor in Winnipeg.

On a speaking tour through Canada in 1919, he reached Winnipeg when the general strike was in progress. William Ivens, a Methodist minister who had resigned from his church, was then editing "The Western Labor News," the organ of the strikers. With a number of other labor leaders, Mr. Ivens was arrested on charge of sedition and Mr. Woodsworth assumed the editorial chair. Later he, too, was arrested on a charge of inciting the holding of an unlawful assembly. The Crown failed to convict one of the other strike leaders on a similar charge, and the charge against Mr. Woodsworth was withdrawn.

After touring Canada in the interest of the Winnipeg Strike Defense Fund, he returned to British Columbia and ran as a Labor candidate, along with W. R. Trotter and Tom Richardson, in the provincial elections of 1920. He polled a big vote but was defeated.

In 1921 he reappeared in Winnipeg and was nominated as Labor candidate in Winnipeg Centre in the federal elections. He was elected and became chief spokesman of his party in the federal house. In the two succeeding elections he was returned with imposing majorities over his opponents.

In 1924 Mr. Woodsworth married Lucy L. Staples, a graduate of the University of Toronto and an accomplished speaker and writer. Six children survive, one Mrs. Grace MacInnis, a member of the British Columbia Legislature.
