PACIFIC NAVAL POWER MAY BE RECAST AFTER MIDWAY ISLAND BATTLE

United States Planes Seeking Out Japanese for Further Battle—First Hand Account of Stinging Nipponese Reverse

LIMPING HOMEWARD
The Japanese fleet, which escaped after a terrific pounding in the Midway Island battle, was reported today to be limping westward to the refuge of home waters.

PEARL HARBOR, June 9 (CP)—With the United States now seeming to have wrested the initiative from Japan in the Battle of the Pacific, the naval battle off Midway Island has died down and American scouting planes are fanning out in quest of the battered and fleeing remnants of the enemy fleet which took to flight to nurse its hurts and reflect on its losses and possibly reorganize for another face-saving attack. The face of Admiral Yamamoto, commander of the Japanese combined fleet, must be red for having sent the bulk of his naval power into the destructive trap at Midway Island—a stumble that may have recast the balance of naval power in the Pacific. The powerful Japanese force was evidently under orders to occupy Midway when combined sea and air forces of the United States struck it last week and started running up a score which, at the latest tabulation, added up to the most humiliating defeat in Japanese naval history. At least three Japanese ships were sunk and thirteen or more were damaged as against hits on a United States aircraft carrier and the loss of one American destroyer. This was the tally when it was finally announced that contact with the enemy had been lost. It is emphasized by the United States naval authorities, however, that the enemy fleet was not entirely defeated but had just withdrawn.

PRINCIPLE OF PEACE
Vice-President of United States Voices Some Ideas—Individuals And Not Empires
NEW YORK, June 9.—Vice-President of the United States Henry A. Wallace says that the peace after the war must be a "peace of the common man" and not of "imperialistic intervention." There could be no lasting peace until all peoples could read and write, until every man, woman and child was assured of adequate food and until all people were advanced to a point of education where they were ready and able to play their part individually in democracy.

DOCTORS SCARCE
Serious Shortage of Medical And Dental Care In United States Appears To Be Looming
NEW YORK, June 9.—A severe shortage of medical and dental care looms in the United States on account of the demands of the armed forces upon the professional ranks. Six doctors for every one thousand men in the services is the requirement that is recognized. With five million men under arms the draft which this means upon the profession can be readily seen. Many retired physicians are being called back into practice and new doctors are being rushed through their training.

Ruhr Valley Is Target Once More After Continuous Daylight Raids On Invasion Coast

LONDON, June 9.—The Royal Air Force crossed and recrossed the English Channel many times yesterday to deliver attacks on invasion coast points and turned its attention heavily to the Ruhr Valley of Germany again last night, eighteen British planes failing to return.

The Berlin radio stations was again off the air. The strong force of British and Canadian bombers dropped explosives over hundreds of square miles of Adolf Hitler's domain last night, raiding, in addition to the great industrial Ruhr, Dieppe docks, railways and airdromes in France and Holland. Three hundred Royal Air Force planes took part in the raids. The eighteen planes which failed to return were all bombers.

"Kill That Rat" New War Cry

Another Enemy to Democracy in Great Britain

LONDON, June 9.—The government has declared war on rats as part of the war on the enemies of democracy. At a time when everything possible is being done to combat waste to the benefit of the greater war effort it is estimated that rats do damage of at least $115,000,000 a year in Britain in their gigantic secret banquet in places where the nation's food is stored. An Agriculture Ministry film "Kill That Rat" is being shown all over the country to make people rat conscious.

Music Censored In Netherlands

Nazi Culture Draws the Line at Country's Favorite Pieces

LONDON, June 9.—Music in the Netherlands, on the radio, in the concert room and in the dance hall, is closely censored by the Nazi-controlled Department of People's Enlightenment and Arts. Until Holland was overrun by the Germans, the Netherlands radio stood out among continental stations for its fondness for English and American light music, and even after the Nazis moved in programs were fairly representative.

This has been stopped by regulations ordering programs for all musical performances submitted for approval at least three weeks in advance. Playing of music by English, American, Russian and Polish composers, with the exception of Chopin, is forbidden. Hawaiian tunes and South African songs of Dutch origin are permitted provided they are not arrangements by English or American musicians.

Buenos Aires Sends Note To Berlin Following Attack on Tanker Victoria

BUENOS AIRES, June 9.—The Argentinean government has sent a protest to Berlin over an attack on the tanker Victoria in United States territorial waters by a German submarine. The Victoria did not sink after the attack but managed to reach a United States port in safety.

She was the second Argentinean merchant vessel to be attacked by the Nazis in this war, the first having been a freighter off the coast of Spain in 1940. A protest was made by Argentina at that time but Berlin never answered.

SEBASTAPOL HOLDS FIRM

Nazis Fail to Make Any Real Progress in New Drive—Attack on Murmansk Looms

MOSCOW, June 9.—The new concentrated attack of the Germans by land, sea and air on the Soviet Black Sea naval base and key shipping point of the Black Sea is now in its fifth day and, although the pounding continues, no real progress has been made by the enemy. The Russians have great stores of arms, ammunition, food and supplies and are ready to withstand a siege of indefinite duration.

In the Kallin sector the Russians are reported to have crossed a river and recaptured two towns from the Germans.

In the north further German ships are reported sunk or damaged.

While heavy fighting continues at Sebastopol where repeated Nazi attacks have been repulsed, elsewhere along the Russo-German front the situation is relatively quiet.

There are indications of a renewed Nazi drive on Murmansk, important Arctic supply port of the Soviet, in the making.

MOVING OF CENOTAPH

Legion Meeting Feels That Other Site Might Be Found For Parade and Playing Ground

Before proceeding with regular business the executive of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League last evening heard Major A. S. Parkes, local auxiliary services officer, representing the military authorities, speak on the matter of providing suitable and necessary accommodation for parade and playing activities of the forces in the city. A proposal had been made that the grounds in front of the court house might be taken over. This would mean the removal of the Cenotaph and also the flagpole. Major Parkes recognized that the Cenotaph held a very special place in the hearts and memories of veterans as well as in the memories of those who lost relatives in the last Great War. Should it be necessary to take over the space a guarantee would be given by the military authorities that the Cenotaph would be properly replaced after the war. However, members of the Canadian Legion executive felt that there were other places that might just as readily be made into suitable playgrounds. One location was south of Comox Avenue. Another place was at McClymont Park. This latter place had often been mentioned by the former city commissioner, W. J. Alder as a most likely and fairly central location for a civic playing field. These other prospects will be thoroughly investigated before any decision is made.

There was much routine business disposed of. The plans for the observance of Decoration Day, as arranged by the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, graves committee of the Queen Mary Chapter for Sunday next were approved.

Those in attendance were W. J. Rance who presided, Harry Thrupp, G. W. Abbott, R. C. Bainford, Neil Cameron, S. A. Chieseman, Hugh M. Smith, J. M. Walker, E. Woodward and C. L. Youngman.

CAIRO, June 9.—Following the latest battle in the Libyan Desert, the country around Knight's Bridge was described last night as a vast junk yard of Axis tanks and motorized equipment. General Erwin Rommel's shattered forces are still in flight west of Tobruk. Another Axis attack at Bir Hachem in the south has been driven back by British and Free French forces.

Flying Officer Eddie Smith . . .

Flying Officer Edward Smith, son of Mrs. J. A. Smith, is missing on service overseas with the Royal Canadian Air Force, according to private advices received by the family.

A member of one of the most highly esteemed pioneer families here, Eddie Smith, as he was familiarly known, was another of Prince Rupert's finest young men. The news concerning him is a matter of great anxiety for his many friends who will think especially of the widowed mother at this time. Here at the Daily News office, Eddie was no stranger. We remember him best as a Canadian National Telegraphs staff member—first messenger and later operator. His fine personality endeared him to all.

Eddie was the first Prince Rupert boy to win his wings and he was not slow in making further headway. He was probably the first boy to reach overseas with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

For the present, it can only be hoped that more reassuring word concerning his fate may yet be received.

The trouble about calling off the blackout is that we all get so complacent again.

Late Plantings

The average garden is now planted with the earlier types of vegetables and flowers. This does not mean, however, that it is too late to make a start. As a matter of fact, most authorities state, the average beginner makes a mistake in ceasing planting too soon. If one desires continuous bloom through out the season or a continuing supply of really fresh vegetables, planting should be continued right up to July 1.

This is especially true of vegetables, particularly the semi-tender things like beans, carrots, beets, cabbage, etc. Most vegetables are best when they just reach first maturity, and, if one wants to continue eating the finest carrots, beets, beans, peas, etc., all through the season then planting should be continued at intervals of from two to three weeks right from the time the soil is first ready up to about the first week in July.

With flowers, it is still not too late to plant nasturtiums, gladioli, dahlias, and to set out well started bedding plants of cosmos, zinnias, alyssum, etc. These started plants in both vegetables and flowers will allow one to have blooming flowers or maturing vegetables gardens in a few weeks.

Victory Gardens

There has been a good deal of publicity this year about victory gardens. Many Canadians are planting vegetables for the first time. Quite a lot of this publicity originates in the United States and while the information is highly suitable for the States, it may not be adapted to our more rigorous Canadian conditions. One should be careful in using varieties mentioned. Many of these are not obtainable in Canadian seed stores for the simple reason that these varieties have not been tested and approved by Canadian government authorities.

Garden Enemies

Weeds, insects and disease are the natural enemies of the garden. If countered quickly by continuous cultivation, some quick-acting commercial fertilizer and various sprays and dusts, there will be little trouble. The main thing is to start the counter attack before the enemies get their offensive underway.

It is a simple matter, for instance, to dust potatoes and if done just as soon as the second set of leaves develop, and followed again at intervals of two weeks during the early period of growth, there will be no trouble. The same is true with mildew on roses and other plants, with attacks on aphids, wilt and the various insects that prey on so many of our cultivated plants.

Thorough and early cultivation will soon check weeds and will encourage growth of the things we are trying to grow. If at any time of these first cultivations a little garden fertilizer is added carefully, close to, but not actually touching, the plants, favorable growth will be further encouraged.

General Care

Once the garden, both vegetable and flower, is fully planted late care will be principally cultivation and dusting or spraying as mentioned earlier and thinning and staking. One can hardly over-emphasize the importance of thinning. Those small seeded vegetables like lettuce, carrots and beets, for instance, should never be allowed to grow as they usually germinate. The same is true of flowers whose seeds are so fine that it is impossible to prevent their being planted too close. Carrots, beets, lettuce, etc. should have two to three inches apart in the row, and the first harvest should take out every other plant to give the survivors more room. With flowers, give at least half as much room between the plants as they will finally grow.

WAR...

CANADA'S GREATEST INDUSTRY

Starting from scratch — without factories, without trained personnel, without blue-prints — Canada's scant twelve million people have built a tremendous armament industry.

Guns, tanks, motorized vehicles, planes, ships, small arms, explosives — equipment of every kind — are today in mass production. We have created a navy of 400 ships. We have equipped fighting forces of 450,000 men. We have played the major role in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, one of the greatest schools for fighting airmen the world has ever seen.

Such in broad outline is Canada's proud record. Much more remains to be done. Still greater effort, still greater self-denial must be the solemn pledge of all till victory is won.

This advertisement is published as a contribution to the general knowledge of our country's war effort and as an inspiration through the days ahead. For reasons of security complete figures are not available. The facts presented however, are impressive evidence of the growing might of Canada's war machine.
