ROADS ARE INSPECTED

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, Chairman of Highway Commission, Here Following Tour of Interior

In spite of the tremendous strain on the transportation resources of the central interior, traffic is being remarkably well handled and the best possible use is apparently being made of the facilities available, comments Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the British Columbia Utilities Commission, under the jurisdiction of which come the revenue roads of the province, who is in the city today after a tour over the interior roads. The disturbance to normal traffic is at a minimum considering the extraordinary demands.

The roads Dr. Carrothers found to be in good shape in spite of heavy usage. Weather has been favorable to road maintenance and they are standing up well.

Why Wait To Be Hit? . . .

"Allied Forces are ready for any Jap drive eastward teur football international and in the Aleutian Islands—but it may take the enemy some Queen's Park forward, has been time to get started." Those are the opening words of a awarded the D.S.O. for devotion to where she will be an officer of the British United Press despatch. Continuing the despatch duty in the Royal Navy. it would appear that this sentiment comes from Washington military spokesmen.

Well, why don't we hit them before they are ready? We must, by now, know that the Japanese don't strike! until they are sure they can go ahead. And here we are sitting back waiting until they are ready! Are we never going to wake up to the fact that we won't win this war by sitting still? And our excuses about the whole thing are pathetic in their futility. We hear that the weather Keep advertising! is bad. Good heavens! The Japanese have been having the same weather unless the Emperor of the Land of the Rising Sun has some special pull with that orb and can on your advertising! change it where we can't. We have sunk enemy ships; well, what of it? The Japs are consolidating their positions and all we say is that it will take them some time to get ready.

But that is not all, This raid nto the Aleutians ap-Board of Trade dinner at the pears to be looked upon as a menace to our lines to Rus- Shasta Cafe. sia. So what do we do? What? If we go on talking "Wait and see," we'll let them take island after island ent sizes of shoes. until we are faced with an assault such as we fear. Now! is the time to get the mout; now is the time to act.

We have not to change our way of thinking. We must stop being satisfied to wait until the enemy is ready. Wel must think in terms of offense. We must talk of getting the enemy out of the Aleutians, and everywhere else. We must stop waiting. Have we not got imagination to overcome weather difficulties? It is infinitely more important to get the Japs out of the Aleutians than to argue about the alleged mistakes of Hong Kong. They are passed. But, right under our noses, we are making a worse mistake. Let's stop thinking in terms of the past and think in terms of the present and future. It's time we planned ahead. Look forward! Go forward!

We won't get anywhere sitting around moaning about what has happened. It is time that we made plans for what is going to happen and took drastic steps to see that it will happen as we want it to.

And what does it all add up to? This: We have not got the attack frame of mind. We must get it. We are too ready to wait. As a people we should be yelling our heads off to get the Japs out of the Aleutians instead of squawking about civil liberties and Col. Drew. Our liberties are threatened by a Japanese force in the Aleutian Islands. Well, what are we going to do about it?

You say, "That's American territory. It's not our business." May be so, but the Aleutian Islands are a good sight nearer Canada than the U.S.A. and Canadian troops and good fliers are vitally concerned. And, anyway, this isn't a question of an American war, or a Canadian war, it is a United Nations war and it's just as much our! business as anyone else's what happens.

Are we going to be satisfied to wait until we are attacked or are we going to move heaven, earth, seas and the Japanese until the islands are clear? - Port Hope

Evening Guide.

One trouble with our war effort is not the lack of ideas but the lack of courage to put them into force. It is a tragedy when we know what to do but have not the will or determination to see that it is done.
