Biggest Battle Since Dunkerque On

British and American Troops Holding Like Rock at Salerno as Reinforcements Move In

German Attacks to Break Allied Foothold Increasing—Terrific Fight Rages Back and Forth Under Naval and Air Thunder.

MONTGOMERY AT SAPRI
LONDON, Sept. 16:—The British Eighth Army tonight reached Sapri, 39 miles from the embattled Fifth Army on the Salerno front in Italy. At the same time, General Clark, commander of the Fifth Army, said that a British and American counter-attack had blunted the wedge which the Germans had driven into the Allied line. Clark announced that "our beachhead is secure and we are here to stay." The force of the Eighth Army would soon be felt. At Washington United States Secretary of War said Allied forces at Salerno were in a "serious position."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 16: (Canadian Press)—British and American troops, engaged in the biggest beachhead battle since Dunkerque, held their Salerno bridgehead like a rock into the eighth straight day while the British Eighth Army raced northward toward Sapri, only thirty-nine airline miles away. The Salerno battle was still at a critical stage, however. German attacks to break the Allied foothold increased.

While the terrific fight raged back and forth under thunder of sixteen-inch guns of British battleships and artillery, of lesser warships, Allied naval might poured a flood of reinforcements into the area.

The Fifth Army, composed equally of British and Americans and now the largest Allied force engaged in a single battle since the war in the Mediterranean started, was supported again yesterday by more than two thousand sorties flown by the powerful northwestern African air force and separate raids by Middle East heavy bombers.

Twice-weekly service of Canadian National Steamships between Prince Rupert and Vancouver is expected to be resumed next month.

WAR'S BIG THRILL—

THIN ICE IN RUSSIA

(Eleventh of a series by AP foreign correspondents on their biggest moments in covering the war.)
By EDDIE GILMORE

MOSCOW—The most exciting moment for me during this war came during a little trip across the freezing Dvina River in Russia's far north.

It was along about dusk when our party piled onto a little wood-fueled boat.

Just when we thought the boat was full, another group of people came on board. The jam was like a New York subway.

Seventy-five feet from shore we hit the first chunk of ice. The overloaded boat boat rocked perilously.

"We're either going to turn over in this icy river or get frozen in," Mr. Gilmore said to Mr. Gilmore.

However, the groaning boat got up steam.

We got stuck again. The wood supply ran low. We backed up and charged the ice. Once more it cracked and gave way.

GRADUATION OF STEWARDESSES

New Class of Eighteen Girls Assigned to T.C.A. Duty
WINNIPEG, Sept. 16:—Passing their examinations with higher marks than any previous class, eighteen registered nurses have just graduated as Trans-Canada Air Lines stewardesses and are now being assigned to duty. They come from various parts of Canada—10 from the west, three from the Maritimes and five from Ontario. At their graduation dinner last night, they presented their teacher, Margaret Dickson, supervisor stewardess, with a bouquet of roses. D. R. MacLaren, supervisor of passenger service, was chairman and the speakers included W. F. English, assistant vice-president of Trans-Canada Air Lines. The course lasted five weeks.

The stewardesses, with their home towns and the hospitals where they took their training, are: D. M. Auffray, Moncton, Hotel Dieu; C. M. Donohue, Kitchener, Waterloo Hospital; C. A. Flood, Saint-John, Regina General; L. M. Downing, Kindersley, Sask., Regina General; E. E. Evans, Margo, Sask., Queen Victoria Hospital, Yorkton; G. V. Foreacre, Moose Jaw; P. M. Chilton, Winnipeg, Misericordia Hospital; A. C. Henderson, Inglewood, Ont., St. Joseph's; H. M. Kean, Calgary, Holy Cross; M. E. McCartney, Toronto, Wellesley; H. M. Nairn, Turtleford, Sask., Toronto General; H. M. Pierce, Burlington, Ont., Toronto General; F. L. Williams, Edmonton, Gald Hospital, Lethbridge; G. M. Williams, Winnipeg General; M. A. Woods, Welsford, N.B., Ottawa Civic Hospital.

H. E. DeWolf, who several years ago was manager of W. H. Malkin Co. here and is now general manager of the Overwrite organization, arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver, being here on business.

Twice-weekly service of Canadian National Steamships between Prince Rupert and Vancouver is expected to be resumed next month.

Liberal Government Swept Back Into Office --- 2 to 1 Margin---No. C.C.F. Elected

CHARLOTTETOWN, Sept. 16: (Canadian Press)—Prince Edward Island voters swept the Liberal government back into office for the third successive time Wednesday, giving the Liberals a house majority of at least two to one over the Progressive Conservative opposition. The Co-operative Commonwealth Party failed to win a seat.

Twenty Liberals elected included Premier Walter Jones. The Progressive Conservatives elected eight men and were leading in close races for another two seats.

In 1939 the Progressive Conservatives won only three seats. Only one cabinet minister was defeated, this being Hon. A. W. Matheson, minister without portfolio.

The election of the Progressive Conservative leader, J. P. MacMillan, was conceded early in the counting.

Handsome Shield Now Ready For Presentation to H.M.C.S. Prince Rupert.
A handsome shield featuring the coat-of-arms of the City of Prince Rupert together with the official motto—"By Rail and Ship, With Net and Pick, We Win Our Wealth"—has been prepared for presentation to the new frigate H.M.C.S. Prince Rupert which has been completed and is shortly to be commissioned in service.

The shield of substantial size has been made of gumwood with bronze mountings including a central painted shield and two scrolls. The shield was fashioned and fabricated at the local dry dock under the direction of C. J. Quandt with engravings by Jack Bulger.

Where the presentation of the local memento, which will undoubtedly be accorded a place of prominence on the new war vessel, will take place is not yet determined. Should the vessel come to Prince Rupert it might be made here.

Check Up On Food Prices

Report on Child Welfare Also Presented at Housewives' League Meeting Last Night
The Housewives' League, at a regular meeting on Tuesday night, heard a report from a delegation which went to interview J. V. Scrivener, local representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, on food prices here including bread, onions and other articles. The delegation was advised that there was a ceiling of four pounds for 25c retail for onions while bread was pegged at 9c an 10c a loaf, the maximum for the basic period in the fall of 1941.

It was also reported to the meeting that Vitamin B1 was now being made by both bakeries in Prince Rupert.

Another committee reported on having met Miss B. W. Snyder, provincial welfare officer, with particular reference to child welfare work. Miss Snyder told of the multifarious social service duties she had to carry on.

The League went on record as favoring the enforcement of the local curfew law.

Mrs. J. R. Blakey, the president of the League, was in the chair. Mrs. W. Creak was elected president in succession to Mrs. H. Stanley, resigned on account of ill-health. Women's suffrage will be discussed at the next meeting.

Crop Situation In Interior Is Good This Fall

The crop situation is looking very favorable in the Bulkley Valley these days as a result of splendid ripening conditions during the past ten days both for grains and vegetables, it is reported by Olof Hanson, M. P. for Skeena, who has arrived in the city from Smithers for a visit of a few days.

The harvest of grains has now commenced with cutting under way. The question of farm help is being met in a measure at least by women and children turning in to assist.

There is a good crop of potatoes and turnips this fall although carrots are not quite so good.

Isles Are Occupied

Lero and Samos Off Turkish Coast Are Taken Over by Allies
ANKARA, Sept. 16 (CP)—A foreign naval source said Wednesday that the Dodecanese island of Lero and the Greek Aegean island of Samos were occupied by Allied forces approximately three days ago. Lero has a seaplane base and Samos an excellent airdrome. Both islands are off Turkey's west coast.

A Stockholm dispatch Wednesday said the British Ninth Army had sailed from Syrian bases. The mystery of the whereabouts of this army suggested that a blow at the Balkans might be imminent.

Election in P. E. I. . . .

The result of the election in Prince Edward Island yesterday presents no surprise. As a matter of fact, it was pretty much as might have been expected. The Liberal government is still in office with a commanding majority.

The Conservative Progressives have, apparently, won eight or ten seats out of a house of thirty, gaining from the sole three they had in the last house. This should be a matter of some satisfaction to the party which is endeavoring to rejuvenate itself.

The C. C. F., which entered the campaign late and was not expected to make much of a showing, failed to elect any of its nine candidates.

While it was interesting, the contest in the little island province failed to provide any new significance of importance in the general political picture of the Dominion.

Housing Committee Resigns . . .

The local advisory committee of Wartime Housing Ltd., consisting of responsible local citizens, has resigned because, it says, it was not consulted on matters which rightfully should have been taken up with it and in connection with which it believes it could have given helpful advice. It is to be supposed that the committee would not have gone to the length of resigning in a body unless it felt that the situation had become intolerable and that it could not function usefully under the circumstances. If, as it suggests, the committee was virtually ignored, it certainly is justified in protesting but it is regrettable that the protest had to be accompanied with the extreme action of asking to be relieved of its duties. A local committee could give valuable advice and it is a pity that such advice should not be accorded full opportunity of presentation and due consideration.

New Military Policy . . .

The reduction of Canada's home defence operational military force by some twenty thousand men, as announced this week by Col. J. L. Ralston, minister of national defence, in a move which involves the disbanding of the seventh and eighth divisions and partial disbandment of the sixth division, is but another indication of the shifting tide of war. It marks a notable change in military policy whereby the high category men of the active forces are to be put into speedy and intensive training for overseas service while the less fit will be eliminated and sent back to civilian occupations where they can be employed to better advantage in the industrial war effort.

The move implies acceptance of the premise that the war will be concluded by offensive action abroad rather than by defensive measures at home. It does not mean that there will be any lessening in the need or demand for first class men for the fighting forces. The war must be over before it will be safe to make any assumption like that.

Local Radio Situation . . .

We had been led to believe that well before this time the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would have finally acquired the local broadcasting station and connected it up directly with the national network. That was the assurance that Ira Dilworth, regional director, gave us last December when he came here and announced that the C.B.C. had "come to Prince Rupert."

The people of Prince Rupert feel they are entitled to the C.B.C. service as the due of the city and district which has long borne exasperating radio reception and continues to do so.

We suppose it was responsibly made when a pledge was given on behalf of the radio commission last December and we may assume the intention is to make it good when circumstances permit.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT

The ladies of the Coast Battery Auxiliary are holding another dance next Monday night in aid of their overseas cigarette fund. In view of this following letter they received in acknowledgment of cigarettes should be of interest. It goes to show that the fags really do get there. It's from Lance Corporal W. D. Blackstock who writes:

"Once again I want to thank you for the cigarettes which I have just received from you and as I've said before these gifts are welcomed at all times.

"A bit about our life here. As you know England is by no means famous for its sunshine. When we do get a bit of sunshine, well, the army steps in and from their point of view, take advantage of it by working the life out of us. However, we're enjoying ourselves and soon we hope to be over there doing our share of it. . . . In closing I want to thank you all again for the wonderful work you are all doing and we soon hope to show you our thanks with a bang!"

Isn't there some axiom about the cobbler's wife always going about in shoes that need mending? Well, I don't just know how it applies here but, for a while before I left, I was busy asking for electric irons for the service girls. And now our own iron has vanished. Too bad, because the service wives got a great deal of use out of it but I suppose someone felt they needed it more than we did.

Two old timers of last year are back with us permanently and both are now stationed out at the Highway camps—Carl Clay and Padre Garbutt. Last summer the three of us used to take in the odd midnight show at the Capitol after the hut was closed. I wonder if we'll get up ambition enough to do it again. I doubt it, transportation problems to the camps being what they are. But it's nice to have them back again.

DRY DOCK IS WINNER

Winning Streak is Extended to Fourteen Games — Defeated Station Complement

Extending their 14-game winning streak into the Service Softball League semi-finals, the Prince Rupert Dry Dock team defeated Station Complement 7 to 2 last night at Acropolis Hill. This was the first fixture in a best-of-three games series and the next tilt is slated for Friday night.

The shipbuilders opened the scoring with a run in the first inning and added two more in the third. They sewed the game up with a four-run burst in the seventh frame.

Siobodan, who pitched for the winners, allowed five hits, while Nigro, the Station Complement moundsman, yielded eleven.

The other two contenders in the semi-finals, Air Force and Americans, are scheduled to play this evening on Gyro Park. Line-ups:
 Dry Docks—Louis C. Simonson 3b, Jenkins ss, Bookler 1b, Siobodan sp, Carrick 2b, Paulins cf, Poltz rf, Wilson lf.
 Station Comp—Aubry ss, Lanaster rf, Nigro p, Anderson 3b, Carlson cf, Filson c, Caddenut 2b, Randall lf, Manders 1b, Umpires, Kinney and Sydney.

Sport Chat

Elaborate precautions against gate-crashers at a British and Empire heavyweight title bout in London this month include special markings for tickets and identification of the holders at the gates. The first tickets ever issued for a British boxing bout—135 years ago—were just as selective. At that time secrecy was imperative because the sport was illegal. The fights were between Tom Chrib and Bob Gregson for the heavyweight title and 1,000 guineas, and between Tom Belcher and Bill Copley for the middleweight crown and 400 guineas. Each ticket of the 400 sold at three guineas each, carried the patron's name and address, followed by this inscription: "Admit bearer to the inner ring on Tuesday, Oct. 27, 1808, within 50 miles of London. This day is called the Feast of St. Crispin." To evade the police, an arena could be erected only during darkness and the night before the contests, Bill Gibbons, expert constructor of make-shift rings, was given the job. He demurred until a special body-guard of 60 men was mustered to protect him from the police and rowdies. For his risk he insisted that every ticket holder admitted to the inner ring pay him an additional 12 shillings. The story is that Lord Byron, the poet, was among the ticket holders but had nothing to substantiate his identity when called upon. Four paid toughs hustled him from the enclosure. Byron retaliated and was giving a good account of himself when "bbans recognized him and intervened.

When the battle for the vacant heavyweight titles come off at the Queensbury Club Sept. 22, the principals, Freddie Mills and Jack London, will face each other in a 14-foot ring—the smallest allowed in professional boxing. Since London will weigh in at somewhere around 217 pounds, Mills 182, and the referee, 170, the more than 550 pounds in the tiny enclosure won't leave much room for strategic withdrawals on the part of either opponent. The 29-year old London, seeking to increase his speed before meeting the young and fast Mills, has engaged special sparring partners and George Ure, clever trainer of Blackpool football club. Ure improved London's timing and speed for his last bout with Al Robinson which he won by a knockout. The triumph gave London the chance of a title bout.

Mrs. Jones and her small son were gazing anxiously at airplanes passing overhead. "It's all right," assured their next door neighbor, Mrs. Smith. "They're ours."
 Next day Mr. Jones was out with the boy when another batch of planes flew over them. "It's all right, Dad," exclaimed the boy. "You needn't worry. They're Mrs. Smith's!"

He was up before the orderly officer, charged with using insulting language to his sergeant. "Please sir," he protested. "I was only answering a question." "What question?" snapped the officer.
 "Well, sir, the sergeant said 'What do you think I am?' And I told him."

Farmer Jones took his pig to town and sold it. With the money he bought a suit, a hat, a pair of shoes. Then he tucked the bundle under the seat of the wagon and said: "Giddap, Dobbin, let's get home and surprise Miranda."

On his way home he stopped at the river, took off his old clothes and threw them in and watched them sink. Then he looked under the seat for his new outfit. It was gone.
 Back on the seat he climbed and said: "Giddap, Dobbin, we'll surprise her anyway."

A young bride and groom arrived at a large hotel for their honeymoon. When bedtime came the bride went to bed and the groom sat by the window gazing out at the moon and the stars. The bride called to him and asked:

 "My mother told me my wedding night would be the most beautiful night of my life," he replied, "and I'm not going to miss a minute of it."

He was dug out of his wrecked car and carried to the doctor's office.
 "I can't do anything for him," said the doctor. "I'm a veterinary surgeon."
 "That's all right," replied the patient. "I was a jackass to think I could do fifty on those legs."

OUR TURN NOW.

A year ago we were wondering what HITLER was going to do. Today he is wondering what WE are going to do next. Yes, the tide is turning but the war is far from won. This is no time to let down, it is time to accelerate our efforts. Young physically fit men and women should be in the Army. Those who are not fit for active duty should, if possible, be in the Reserve — the Rangers — the A.R.P. — Red Cross — Salvage Corps, or the like. Everybody should be in this war, young and old, men and women, in order to assure victory.

The Experts Say - - -

TOMATO SHERBET — With fresh tomatoes at their best, a tomato sherbet makes a delicious entree for a meal or an unusual accompaniment to a crisp vegetable salad, say the home economists in the consumer section of the agriculture department.

To make the sherbet, combine three cups quartered, unpeeled tomatoes, six peppercorns, three cloves, one teaspoon salt, a bit of bay leaf, one tablespoon sugar and a slice of onion. Simmer 10 minutes in a covered saucepan. Strain and add one-half teaspoons lemon juice.

Soak two teaspoons of gelatin in two tablespoons cold water then stir over hot water until dissolved. Add to tomato mixture, pour into refrigerator pan and freeze. Stir and beat the mixture several times while freezing. If the sherbet is being used with salad, the ice cube frame may be greased and placed in the mixture after the last stirring. When fresh tomatoes are no longer available, the sherbet may be made by using two and one-half cups of canned tomato juice.

BLOOD DONORS — For those who make regular deposits in Red Cross blood banks, Marion Harlow of nutrition service comes up with a suggestion for the proper foods to maintain the blood count at the level required of a blood donor.

Donors should eat green vegetables and whole grain cereal daily; three or four eggs a week, and a generous serving of liver, heart or kidney once a week, oftener if possible.

Provided the proper foods are eaten regularly, donors may give blood at three-month intervals without suffering any ill effects, Miss Harlow says.

RATION TIPS — Now that the new No. 3 ration books are in circulation, Byrne Sanders, director of the prices board's consumer branch, has issued the following reminders to the women of Canada.

Ration books should not be loaned to friends. The purchase of rationed goods without stamps encourages "black markets," and it is wrong to ask retailers to sell goods in return for ration stamps which have expired. No one except members of the immediate household concerned should use books for the purchase of rationed articles.

Anyone who finds a ration book should return it to the nearest local ration board at once. Retailers should not accept unused stamps. These should be removed from ration books and destroyed. Finally, says Miss Sanders, no one should attempt to make purchases with loose ration stamps.

SLEEP IN COMFORT — Now that Canadians cannot buy mattresses of the spring-filled type, they are finding that the solid-filled mattresses have much the same resilience, providing the ticking is filled or packed with good quality materials. To get the best wear from a mattress, it should not be rolled or bent, since such treatment affects the even distribution of the filling. Sit on the edge of a mattress and you'll break down its side walls. Failing to turn the mattress at least once a week produces sags and hollows. Covering it with a protective sheet of muslin guards against dust and tears and it can be kept clean and re-fluffed by vacuum cleaning, airing and occasional sunning.
