SETTLE ON SALARIES

School Board and Teachers' Federation is Agreed on New Scale

The question of a new schedule of salaries for teachers of city schools was finally settled at last night's meeting of the board of school trustees with agreement between the board and the Prince Rupert Teachers' Federation. The schedule calls for salaries this year totalling $53,998 as compared with $52,647 last year.

Under the new schedule, developed by Trustees J. T. Langridge and Mrs. George Hills, elementary teachers' salaries range from $1100 to $1800, junior high teachers from $1300 to $2250 and senior high teachers from $1400 to $2600. The annual increment is to be $30 and $150 bonus for vice-principals is provided. Teachers at present receiving more than would be their due by the new increment plan will remain as they are until the increment is caught up. Sufficient elasticity is allowed in the new scale to permit of high salaries for specialists etc.

The board agreed that elementary school teachers should not be penalized if they continued in elementary grades after qualifying for high school work.

The new salary schedule it was felt by Trustee Langridge was quite reasonable for Prince Rupert.

New Janitor For School Is Named

J. Clark Appointed as Successor to J. R. Morrison at King Edward School

J. Clark was appointed janitor of King Edward School by the board of school trustees last night in succession to J. R. Morrison, resigned. Steps are being taken to secure a special permit for Mr. Clark who is not a qualified engineer.

It was reported that arrangements had been made to secure a man from the dry dock for duty as furnace fireman at the schools in the event of emergency.

J. E. Unwin was on occasion relieving as janitor at Borden Street School.

The matter of more convenient coal handling facilities at King Edward School and some changes in the heating plant at Booth Memorial School was discussed and was left in the hands of Trustee E. J. Smith to investigate.

Contractors To Receive Notice

Must Remove Shacks and Lumber From School Grounds on Penalty of Being Prosecuted

The board of school trustees decided last night that Wartime Housing contractors should be required to remove old buildings and lumber piles from the grounds of Booth Memorial School and, if it failed to do so, should be prosecuted for trespassing. Wartime Housing will also be required to restore a pathway leading through from the easterly side of Hays Cove Circle at the junction with Sixth Avenue to the school as well as to fill in holes in the grounds caused by traffic of heavy trucks used in connection with construction work.

For some time there has been restlessness over the manner in which the school grounds have been used in connection with the Wartime Housing work.

WATER IS DISCUSSED

Report on Whole Matter Prepared By City Engineer F. N. Good

City Engineer F. N. Good, in a report to the city council on the water shortage situation, ascribes as the cause of the shortage unforeseen accidents on the power supply line making it necessary to use the full capacity of the Shawatlans Lake power house and thus taking water out of the mains which carry water to Acropolis Hill reservoir. The proposed booster pump would remedy the situation providing there were no further demands. The engineer also holds the present water main pipe capacity to be insufficient.

The engineer sums up the water situation as follows:

First, there is no shortage of water in Woodworth Lake.

Second, there is insufficient pipe capacity.

Third, the present city equipment, including the stand-by steam plant, cannot be used to greater efficiency than at present.

Fourth, the only possible improvement is a reduction in the personal consumption of water.

Fifth, the present lay-out means that a power shortage always causes a water shortage.

The city engineer adds to his report that he has good reason to believe that the power demand will decrease inside of two months while there will be an increase in power output.

A suggestion is made that the pumping station at Shawatlans Lake might be put into operation to help fill the Acropolis Hill reservoir until the booster pump is installed. Mayor W. M. Watts explains, however, that this would not be practicable since the shortage of water was caused by the removal of the Shawatlans Lake power station before reaching the pumping plant.

Ald. Elliott, chairman of the utilities committee, reports that objection had been taken by the dry dock management at the suggestion that excessive consumption of water by the dry dock during the cold snap might have made the general shortage more acute.

Ald. Robert McKay, tells of an observer noticing that the general water supply of the city was better when the dry dock water was turned off.

Ald. Elliott suggests that the whole matter of water shortage might be put up to the government which was responsible for it.

REDS ARE ADVANCING

Evacuation of Kharkov is Said to Be Impending

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP)—Capture of Chuguyev, 22 miles south-east of Kharkov, and Volchansk, 36 miles northeast, was announced by the Russians early today and a dispatch to the newspaper Pravda in Moscow said that the Red Army continued its advance westward after taking the two towns. The Russians are now but six to ten miles from Kharkov and are at the gates of Rostov.

The Stockholm correspondent of the London Daily Express today reported that the Germans are evacuating Kharkov and Berlin has declared that the "Russians are increasing pressure considerably with the obvious intention of encircling Kharkov."

Coastal Command Eyes Of The Navy In Bismarck Hunt

Story of Sea-Going Aircraft's Part in Great Naval Battle Told in Air Ministry Publication

By SCOTT YOUNG
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP)—The Coastal Command aircraft ranged far, over the coast of Norway that day stooging along between the fjords. Its pilot couldn't have known that he was the first link in the chain that led to the most spectacular Atlantic naval battle of the war.

Near Bergen, reconnoitering the approaches to that port he saw two warships, one large, riding at anchor. He circled their photographs, looked closer. Then he turned and thundered homeward. He had an idea.

He talked cautiously of it to the station intelligence officer. While they were talking, wet photographs of the reconnaissance were brought in. The intelligence officer looked them over, reached for a phone.

From the phone, from Coastal Command headquarters, came an urgent voice: "Bring those prints to me at once."

The pilot was right. The warships were the German battleship Bismarck and cruiser Prinz Eugen. He was so sure of this discovery that when it was discovered no other aircraft was available to take the prints to headquarters, he took them himself in the plane he had used earlier.

Dash Through the Night

He ran out of fuel at Nottingham, his home town. He left the plane at an airfield and found a friend with an automobile. Through the night, this pilot who had seen Norway that day sped southward deep into England. He delivered his prints at 1 a.m.

Early that same morning the Bismarck and Prinz Eugen were attacked by six Whitleys and six Lockheed-Hudsons of Coastal Command. That is the story given by the Air Ministry's new publication, "Coastal Command," of the beginning of the running battle across the North Atlantic during which the H. M. S. Hood and the Bismarck were sunk. That first attack was on May 22, 1941.

The story of that action alternately appalled and thrilled the entire Allied world. The Bismarck and Eugen, shadowed by Allied aircraft left Norway and headed out into the Atlantic to raid convoys. The British sent a strong naval force after them. They met in battle. The battleship Hood went down. The battle continued, then the Germans escaped. For thirty-one and a half hours their position was unknown.

When the Bismarck was found again (the Eugen had changed course) it was by Coastal Command.

Shadowed From Air
The Catalina was above the Bismarck before the R. A. F. crew sighted her through the haze. The Bismarck sent up heavy fire. One piece of shell passed upwards through the floor between the two pilots. There were only two casualties in that phase of the action, neither of them human—down in the Catalina's galley one of her crew dropped and broke two plates.

From then on, Coastal Command planes shadowed the German battleship. They helped slow her down with constant attacks, were in on the kill when torpedoes from British ships administered the coup de grace on May 26, five days after the Coastal Command pilot brought back the news that the Bismarck and the Eugen were on the loose.

That is just a spectacular example of one of Coastal Command's many duties. The Whitleys, Wellingtons, Liberators, Catalinas and Sunderlands are always on the prowl.

Two days after the Germans marched into Russia Coastal Command took an official British mission to Archangel, cutting crew to carry officials so that a general, an admiral and an air commodore manned the guns during the trip.

During the days of France's fall, Coastal Command took Lord Gort to North Africa to talk with French officials on the possibility of carrying on the fight from there.

FINISHING ESTIMATES

School Expenditures for Coming Year are Tentatively Placed At $107,000

The board of school trustees, at its meeting last night, reached a tentative total of approximately $107,000 on ordinary estimates for the year 1943 as compared with $84,017.88 actual school expenditure in 1941. As the city's financial statement is not yet completed, figures on actual school expenditures for 1942 are not yet available. The board's estimates committee consisting of Trustees C. G. Ham and J. T. Langridge was delegated to continue its work of finally correlating the estimates with a view to having them ready for presentation to the city council next week.

The 1943 estimates contain an item of $10,000 for six extra teachers and a janitor which, it is anticipated, will be required to handle new children resulting from increase in industrial population. However, nothing is being asked yet from the city in the way of extraordinary estimates for a new school building since it is hoped Wartime Housing may assume some responsibility in that regard.

Some of the more important items in the estimates this year are:

Teachers' salaries, $53,998.
Additional teachers' and janitor's salaries, $10,000.
Janitor's salaries, $5,550.
Secretary's salary, $600.
Maintenance and repairs, $10,000.
Interest on bonded indebtedness, $13,423.
Supplies, $10,332.
Superannuation, $3,700.
Medical inspection, $630.

School Inspector At Board Meeting

Mr. Thorsteinsen Present and Gave Advice at Last Night's Session

B. Thorsteinsen, inspector of schools, was present for the first time last night at a meeting of the board of school trustees and took an active part in the proceedings.

Mr. Thorsteinsen congratulated members of the board on election to office and told the board that if he could be of assistance at any time they should feel free to call upon him.

Chairman Jack Deane felt that the board might often be able to secure helpful information and advice from the inspector.

Mrs. H. Perkins has taken over the duties of assistant janitor at Booth Memorial School. Mrs. G. B. Casey had been appointed but she stayed with the work only one day, finding that it was too heavy.

Discloses Plan of Complete Action for Next Nine Months Against Axis—Various Phases of Program Described

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP)—In a war review vibrant with fighting spirit and optimism, Prime Minister Winston Churchill brought back to the British House of Commons today from the Casablanca conference with President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States news of a new offensive campaign for the next nine months, of new unification of command in North Africa and a pledge that Europe would be invaded as soon as the United Nations are ready.

High points of the address to the cheering House were:

1. As the British Eighth Army moves into Tunisia, the North Africa command is unified under the American commander, Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, with General Sir Harold Alexander second in command and with the Mediterranean air forces under British Air Vice-Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder and sea forces under Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham.

2. The Allies are more than holding their own in U-boat warfare with 1,250,000 more tons of shipping available now than six months ago while losses of the past two months were the lowest in over a year with the best rate of U-boat sinkings so far in the war.

3. Prime Minister Churchill will meet again with President Roosevelt in the next nine months. He disclosed that the President had been willing to go as far as Khartoum, Egypt, to bring Premier Joseph Stalin into the January conferences but Stalin was too engaged with Russia's mighty winter drive to leave the country for even a day.

4. British Field Marshal Sir John Dill and American Lieutenant General Henry H. Arnold have conferred at Chungking with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek who expressed satisfaction at plans for giving China additional help.

5. Great Britain has offered to embody into a special treaty her pledge to help carry the war against Japan to unconditional surrender but Roosevelt answered "the word of Britain was quite enough for him."

Mr. Churchill said that a complete plan of action for the next nine months had been arrived at and at the end of that time he and President Roosevelt would meet again. "The days of improvised strategy and delayed action are over," said the Prime Minister.

The Prime Minister indicated that a major battle was impending in Tunisia with 250,000 Axis troops and 500,000 Allied. The Allies held two to one air supremacy.

Mr. Churchill said that a complete plan of action for the next nine months had been arrived at and at the end of that time he and President Roosevelt would meet again. "The days of improvised strategy and delayed action are over," said the Prime Minister.

The board of school trustees, at last night's meeting, took the view that it should assume some measure of responsibility in the matter of finding living accommodation for teachers in view of the present shortage of such accommodation. There had been considerable difficulty in this regard. Accordingly, the board authorized the secretary to advertise in the press for accommodation for two teachers now requiring rooms. The board is also following up the idea of making arrangements with Wartime Housing for the obtaining of a house for the accommodation of teachers although some doubt was expressed as to whether such an arrangement could be effected.

School Inspector B. Thorsteinsen expressed gratification at the stand the board had taken in this matter and hoped that it would prove helpful.

Incinerator Is Proposed

Department of National Defence Would Erect it With City Doing Operating

A proposal from medical health officers of the Department of National Defence that an incinerator be erected for the disposal of garbage is before the city council and has been referred to the utilities committee of the council for report. The proposal is that the Department erect the incinerator and that the city be permitted to operate and use it.

Ald. Robert McKay is somewhat skeptical about the whole undertaking, feeling that operating rather than building is the big thing about an incinerator.

Sticking to It's Guns . . .

The city council, supporting a line of policy it has adopted, is sticking to its guns in the face of demands of the authorities that have entered the scene in connection with war activities here. The most of citizens will commend it for so doing since undoubtedly there have been high-handed goings-on in which the local community rights have suffered. Some of these may have permanent ill effects. Of course, a showdown may ensue, the results of which cannot be forecast. Meantime there are a good many matters which may be clarified and explained to the more or less satisfaction.

Big Post-War Plans . . .

Apparently, Premier John Hart's government has big plans for the post-war development of the province which is all to the good. Of course the provincial government finds itself in the position of being unable to proceed with any undertakings at this time. All it can do is to carry on a minimum of normal services and co-operate with the war effort as far as possible.

It is evident that Northern British Columbia's development figures largely in the government's post-war planning and that, of course, implies much as far as Prince Rupert in its important strategic position is concerned.

Russia's Position . . .

The splendid successes of the Russian Army should not make us forget that the economic situation in unoccupied Russia is extremely serious. The army is getting sufficient supplies and essential foodstuffs and clothing but military supplies precede all other demands to a much greater extent than in England or this country. The food situation for the non-combatant population is especially difficult. Under such conditions, Stalin will be especially insistent on economic aid from the Allied Nations and on post-war settlements that will enable Russia to recover from the terrific war losses.

A further retreat of the German Army in Russia and a further weakening of German military strength will make the problem of the future of post-war Europe, in particular post-war Germany, especially acute. It is not revealing a secret to state that there is no complete agreement among United Nations countries on these post-war problems.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT
The Hostess

Don't forget to send the Little Woman a Valentine boys. A wire or a phone call makes a grand valentine. I have bought one for Breen and Frank—you can get lovely ones at three for a nickel—and I hope they have one for me. I've reminded them several times about it.

A year ago today, so the Y.W.C.A. diary reminds me, the Air Force Women's Club held a dinner at the Commodore to which I was invited. Later we all went to the Capitol Theatre. Not many of them are still in Prince Rupert. At the present moment I can only recall Betty Vivian, Mrs. Muirhead and Mary Summerville.

The Ontario Regiment is holding its weekly dance tonight. I hope the condition of the roads has improved between the time of writing and the time of the dance and that they will not have to cancel the dance. But a cancelled dance is preferable to a car skidding all over a slippery road. However twenty-four hours can make a lot of difference, so decide accordingly!

Last night's "Y" dance at the Empress Hall was the best we have had in a long long time. The hostesses headed my earnest pleadings and all arrived in good time so that everyone had a full two hour's of dancing. The onlookers were orderly and the orchestra was super. One just couldn't help dancing to it. The music was smooth and sweet. Now a word about them—they are a newly organized band calling themselves the Prince Rupert Area Orchestra because the majority of the members are in the area camp. They are going to play for the "Y" each Wednesday and will play engagements upon request. Here are their names and the instruments each plays: Jerry Hutchison, first alto saxophone; Pete Ewan, second tenor saxophone; Capt. D. W. MacGregor, third alto saxophone; Percy Wilcox, fourth tenor saxophone; Stevie Miller, drums; Cliff McAree, piano; Bunny Bentley, trumpet; Jack Tofferay, vocal.

It's nice to know that Bert Fuller of the "Y" cafeteria is now out of the hospital.

Smiles For Today

A traveller called in the office the other day and told Joe Dunkleman: "If Hitler wants more territory, he can have mine."

Paddy Maher: "Now, fellows, let me tell you how to start the day right. When I first get up I take a cold shower and feel merry for hours afterwards."

Bob Stewart: "Tell us more about Mary."

LOCALS

Pupils of Booth Memorial High School were sent home this morning as there was no coal for the furnace. Classes were to be resumed this afternoon following the delivery of coal.

Trustee C. G. Ham reported at last night's meeting of the School board that teachers had complained about not getting their checks on the last day of the month when it fell on Saturday. The board took the view that the first day of the month should be acceptable as pay day for the teachers if that fitted in better with the convenience of the City Hall where the checks are paid.

The board of school trustees, at last night's meeting, agreed that, in view of length of faithful and efficient service, an increase of $10 per month in salary was due Reg. Clarke, janitor of Borden Street School. Mr. Clarke's new salary is, therefore, $145 per month. The salary of the janitor of Booth Memorial School is $160, of King Edward School, $135, and Seal Cove, $50.

The Edmonton Canadian Legion concert party, after spending several days in this area entertaining the forces, left by last evening's train on its return to the Alberta capital. The party consisted of Harold Wright, Chick Clifford and Flight Sergeant J. M. Large and the Misses Avis Johnson, Bobby Englund, Ida Sorensen, Jacqueline Driver, Betty Freeman and Edna Murray.

W. J. Larkworthy of New Hazelton will arrive in the city on tonight's train and proceed tomorrow on a trip to Vancouver.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

The next stag party gathering of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club will be held on February 24 at the home of Arnold Platen.

J. Y. McCarter, well known Vancouver architect, arrived in the city this morning from the south, being here in connection with local War-time Housing projects.

Commodore W. R. Beech, naval officer commanding for the Pacific Coast, is a visitor in the city on official business, having arrived this morning from Victoria.

"What Lies Beyond the Volga?" will be the subject of an address by Raymond Arthur Davies, noted Canadian Author, at the Booth School Auditorium, tonight, Thursday, 8 p.m., admission 50 cents.

W. T. Moodie, general superintendent of Canadian National Railways for British Columbia with headquarters in Vancouver, and C. J. Quantic, superintendent of Motive power, are visitors in the city on official business for a couple of days. They arrived yesterday afternoon by train via Jasper Park.

The board of school trustees was officially advised in a letter from the city clerk, read at last night's board meeting, that the board's recommendations in regard to the new traffic bylaw had been incorporated in that bylaw. When the new bylaw came into operation there would be a weekly patrol in the school areas to check up on the regulations being observed.

Electric light bills for the various schools came in for inspection and questioning at last night's meeting of the board of school trustees. There were some inconsistencies that caught the attention of the board, one of these being the charging of Booth Memorial School at the rate of 8c for light while King Edward was only charged 4c. Further explanation will be sought from the Northern British Columbia Power Co. in electric light, as in other things, Borden Street School seemed to be most economical.

 In the Matter of the "Administration Act" and TAKE NOTICE that by order of His Honor W. E. Fisher, made on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1943, I was appointed Administrator of the estate of August Wilhelm Johnson, deceased, and all parties having claims against the said estate are hereby required to furnish same, properly verified, to me on or about the 23rd day of February, A.  NORMAN A. WATT

 Official Administrator
 Prince Rupert, B. C.

This evening's train, due from the east at 7 o'clock, was reported this morning to be six hours late which should bring it in at 1. a.m.

New recruits for the local reserve unit include A. Eckstein, G. W. Bowe, J. G. Gunn, J. T. Sly, L. R. Nelson, G. W. Watmough and R. Mason.

Miss Bea Rudderham is leaving tomorrow for a trip to Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wrathall will be leaving tomorrow for a trip to Vancouver.

J. J. Little, chairman of the local Civilian Protection Committee (A.R.P.), in answer to a query, advised the local school board, in a letter read at last night's meeting, that dim-out regulations applied to schools similarly to business and residential premises generally, it being required that windows be shielded by dark green blinds and sky lights darkened during the hours of dim-out. The board decided to leave it up to the principals and janitors that the dim-out regulations were complied with.

The school board was advised by the city council in a letter read at last night's board meeting that the question of possible increased school facilities made necessary to handle children arising from new Wartime Housing residences was being taken up by the co-ordinating committee of the council with the Wartime Housing authorities. The board would be advised as to progress being made. School Inspector B. Thorsteinsson, who was present at the meeting, said it was possible he might have some suggestions to make later on the matter.

SMITHERS BONSPIEL

Various Trophies Decided— Prince
 Rupert Rink in Play

SMITHERS, Feb. 11—After several days of intensive curling the annual bonspiel of the Smithers Curling Club came to an end on Monday evening at midnight when the Pete Eby rink, skipped by Clarence Hickenbotham, defeated the Elliott rink in the finals of the competition for the Bulkley Valley Collieries Shield.

Thirteen rinks, including the Prince Rupert rink skipped by J.
 L. McEwen, and the rink from Woodcock, skipped by the redoubtable Billy Little, took part in the contest and there were three competitions, these being for the Imperial Oil Cup and the Bulkley Valley Collieries Shield, while the losers in the first game in these two competitions fought it out in the consolation contest.

The Bob Elliott rink, in which Mrs. K. Latimer made a very able vice-skip, went through to the finals in both the cup and the shield competitions without a loss.

The Wiggs O'Neill rink was the runner-up in the cup finals with the Elliott rink and in the playoffs O'Neill won quite handsly thus taking the Imperial Oil Cup into custody for a year.

The Bulkley Valley Collieries Shield is a new presentation and this is the first year that it has been played for. Elliott and Eby emerged into the finals in this contest and the Eby rink came out winner.

In the consolation competition the T. A. Simpson rink and the rink skipped by Bob Davidson came to grips in the finals and it proved to be one of the most interesting games in the whole series. The play was close all the way through and tied on several occasions but the Simpson rink won by a score of 9 to 8 on the last stone thrown.

The ice was in good condition throughout and a large number of spectators visited the curling rink from time to time during the three days and evenings that the games were in progress.

The regular tournaments for the Hanson Cup and the E. T. Kenney Cup which were suspended during the bonspiel will be resumed immediately.
