VIOLATIONS IN RUPERT

Convictions for Price Ceiling and Rental Regulations

Breaches of price ceilings and rentals regulations at Prince Rupert led to convictions by Magistrate W. D. Vance.

Burns and Company Limited and McMeekin's Brokerage were fined $15 each on two counts for selling eggs above the ceiling.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board, represented by T. W. Brown, charged that the firms accused had sold grade A large eggs for 55 cents and 57 cents a dozen whereas the maximum price under the ceiling was 54 cents.

In the rentals case Sam Lee, also known as Tom Lee, was fined a total of $30 on three charges of increasing rents above those fixed by the rentals committee on the application of Lee himself.

The magistrate ordered the landlord to refund the overcharges.

W. Fulton handled the case for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

MOONSHINE IS SCARCE

It's Contraband Molasses That East Coast Revenue Men are After These Days

HALIFAX, April 3 (CP)—Time was when this frost-bitten inlet of the Atlantic was a waterfront tough, tossed its rum down raw and reached for another. Its streets were ever filled with seamen—shanghaied from a thousand ports—while rum-runners and bootleggers feasted on qual-on-toast with champagne.

It's gun-toting 'revenooers' could smell 'alkie' at 1,000 paces as they probed for caches on the beaches or deep in the timber. Now seamen, doubly toughened through a wartime hardening process, still pace the streets (their beer is rationed) and port G-men are still active. But they no longer hunt the rum-runner.

With the same cunning that wrecked the liquor traffic they now bear down on—they blush to admit it—the molasses trade. When the first consignment of molasses to reach this port in many months arrived recently, waterfront sleuths immediately went into action. They struck their heads into the kegs, O.K'd every one, and then did some fancy bookkeeping. Every gallon of the sticky goo was accounted for. The revenooers knew where it went and what it was to be used for.

For Moonshiners

True, although it's wartime and even junior has to take a reef in his diaper, the G-men weren't checking up on how thick the "lally" was being spread on bread. They had another motive in view.

Since the going got tough and liquor rationed to a bare subsistence level, old-time moonshiners have appeared around here. But without molasses to color and sweeten the brew, they are helpless as dodos. And that is the way government snoopers are planning to keep them.

Max Bentley Best Player

TORONTO, April 3 (CP)—Max Bentley of the Chicago Black Hawks has been voted the best National Hockey League player of the past season in general effectiveness and sportsmanship. He made 26 goals and 44 assists and received only one minor penalty. O'Connor of the Montreal Canadiens received second choice.

Without mentioning specific locations in the Allied advance beyond Sedjenane, forty miles west of Bizerte, the communiqué said that British patrols successfully engaged Axis forces and inflicted casualties.

BABY IS INJURED

Infant Hovers Between Life and Death at Prince Rupert General Hospital.

Frank Bruce Albrecht, four-and-a-half month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Albrecht, Ambrose Avenue, lies hovering between life and death in the Prince Rupert General Hospital with a fractured skull sustained yesterday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock in an unfortunate incident outside the waterfront store of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative.

The baby had been left outside the entrance of the store in its carriage while the mother was shopping inside the store. A Co-operative delivery truck, driven by Loren Charles Brown, evidently backed up and the top of the carriage was jammed between the bumper and the store wall.

Immediately the child and the mother were taken in the truck to the hospital.

The broken little carriage with its blood-stained clothing was removed to city police headquarters.

fifteen miles of White Russia, war maps published in the official press disclosed today. The great offensive swept the Nazis to the west as much as 435 miles and freed 185,328 square miles of Soviet territory, the Russians announced in a special communique.

HERE FOR 50 YEARS

Stewart Norrie, Former Inspector of Fisheries Passed Away This Morning

Stewart Norrie, well known pioneer citizen of Prince Rupert and trustee of half a century's standing who was inspector of fisheries here for many years prior to his retirement some time ago, passed away this morning in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He had resided at the Westholme Rooms. Many old friends will regret to learn of his passing.

Mr. Norrie was born in Liverpool of Scottish parentage eighty years ago. He came to the Skeena River from Victoria in 1894 to join the staff of old Aberdeen Cannery. It was in 1908 that he came to Prince Rupert to take up residence, removing his headquarters as inspector in the protective branch of the fisheries service from that port to this. At one time he was also identified with the Post Office staff here. He was a property owner.

Mr. Norrie was unmarried.

HUNT NETS NO WOLVES

Ranger Troopers in Fraser Valley Have Lots of Fun But No Kill

HANEY, April 3 (CP)—They may be sharp-shooting, hard-bitten soldiers but on a wolf hunt the score of the 61st Co. Pacific Coast Rangers was zero.

For weeks this Fraser Valley district has been ravaged by a pack of vicious animals which have killed arm stock and pet dogs and scared children. They are described as wild dogs by some, by others as wolves. Sheep, hogs and countless chickens have been killed and eaten.

From morning until sunset 50 Rangers pushed through the thick woods as methodically as though they were tracking Japanese snipers. Organized from residents in the district, they conducted their hunt in storybook Indian tiger hunt fashion.

Several Rangers were spaced off at 100 yards on two parallel highways a half-mile apart. At a given signal one line entered the bush and headed towards the opposite group. Yelling, shouting, whistling, they made sufficient noise to send the hunted pack bursting ahead and into the arms of the waiting Rangers.

Orders were to shoot each dog on sight—but the phantom pack still roams its plundering way. The score? One dog sighted, shot at—and missed.

Good News! . . .

There was good news recently from overseas for Canadians who have been buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates so enthusiastically during the past two years.

The Commander of the Canadian Army, Lieut.-General A. G. L. McNaughton, declared: "For many months now there has been an ever-rising flood (of munitions) to carry forward our purpose against the enemy." He listed the munitions flood to include warships, transport aircraft, guns and many other weapons of war and praised the constant and intense endeavor in this country to develop new and better weapons which would bring an advantage to the Dominion troops over the enemy.

The distinguished head of Canada's army injects a new spirit of enthusiasm into the hearts of Canadian people at the approach of the Fourth Victory Loan when he confirms the fact that our bond purchases of yesterday have been turned into hard materials of warfare to beat the enemy.

On the heels of this statement from the Canadian general we heard from Cairo, where a military observer declared that Canadian tools had played a major part in whipping the Afrika Korps.

"I did not observe a single workshop which did not contain one important tool stamped 'made in Canada'", he said.

Above all else our act in purchasing bonds is a blow that the Germans will surely feel!

Guard Your Gasoline Ration Book

KEEP IT ON YOUR PERSON DO NOT LEAVE IT IN YOUR CAR

NOW that you have your 1943-1944 gasoline ration book, it is up to you to keep it at all times in a safe place. If it is lost, burned, or stolen, you will be deprived of coupons which will not be replaced. In this regard, the policy of the Oil Controller is as follows:

- If, through negligence, you lose your gasoline ration book before October 1, 1943, you may be allowed no more, and perhaps less, than half the coupons to which you would be entitled if you were making an original application.
- If, through negligence, you lose your ration book on or after October 1, 1943, you may be allowed no more, and perhaps less, than 25 per cent of the coupons to which you would be entitled if you were making an original application.

The new gasoline rationing system, effective on April 1, will be strictly enforced. Under its provisions, the motorist, as well as the service station attendant, is held responsible if any infractions occur. It is contrary to the orders of the Oil Controller:

- 1 To purchase gasoline with 1942-1943 coupons.
- 2 To purchase gasoline unless you have the correct category sticker affixed to your windshield.
- 3 To detach coupons from your own book. (The removal of the coupons is the duty of the attendant.)
- 4 To have in your possession a gasoline ration coupon not attached to, and forming a part of, a gasoline ration book.
- 5 To have in your possession a gasoline ration book other than the book issued in respect of a vehicle you own, or in respect of a vehicle driven by you with the full consent of the real owner.
- 6 To alter, deface, obliterate, or mutilate any gasoline ration book or coupon.

If you sell your motor vehicle, remember that before making delivery you must remove the windshield sticker or stickers. Remember also that after the sale is completed, you must mail to the nearest Regional Oil Control Office in your province the gasoline ration book or books issued for the vehicle.

NO "SORE-HEADS" NO SORE THROATS

Survey Shows Gallant Women of Britain Take Aspirin to Give Quick Relief

The thousands of British women working in war plants are determined not to let sore throats, fevers, and colds get them "down." Production must keep up . . . and government survey showed how British women are counting on aspirin, to help them carry on.

Aspirin was named as one of the three leading drug items British women want for health and morale. This is easy to understand . . . generations have proved that aspirin is one of the safest, most dependable analgesics known.

An Aspirin gargle for sore throat relieves pain and rawness almost at once. Aspirin taken with water relieves the headache of colds . . . muscular aches and distress. Aspirin sets less than 1¢ a tablet in the economy bottle . . . so always keep handy for quick relief.

Made in Canada, "Aspirin" is the trademark of The Bayer Company, Limited. If you don't see the Bayer cross on each tablet, it isn't Aspirin.

Donald Campbell and Gordon Brown, for drunkenness, were fined $25, with option of 30 days imprisonment, in city court yesterday.

Stout wooden minesweepers for the Royal Navy are being built by scores of small shipyards along the Atlantic Coast. Photo shows one nearing completion on Bay of Fundy.

These are the kind of wooden ships which it is suggested might be as readily built here at Prince Rupert as well as on the Atlantic coast. Some of them might be adaptable to fishing and other commercial uses after the war. By the sea, along the shores of the Bay of Fundy, where once were built the finest sailing ships in the world, where thousands of skilled shipwrights made the name of New Brunswick famous in every port, the hills again re-echo to the sound of axe and mallet and once more in the chip-littered yards the great skeletons of the ships, mightily ribbed and thewed, take shape under the hands of men who seem in some magic way to have inherited the art of their fathers. Quiet towns have seen the revival of an industry that never quite perished, that never could perish as long as men go down to the sea. Always there were schooners or fishing boats or dories being built; always there were some men to hand down to the youngsters the secrets of a trade that is old as man, old as the waters around the earth. Since speed is the watchword now and there must be no delays of any kind, the entire yards are made into huge goatshops large enough to have two vessels building at one time, roofed over and walled in. Besides mine-sweepers there are building refuelling barges for the Air Force, ugly-looking, but strong and rugged the vessels are built complete from keelson to masthead, even the cabin furniture, lockers, companionways, chairs and tables, are made in the carpenter shop. New Brunswick people hope for great things from the new shipyards not only now in the days of war but in that brighter day when the lovely wood need no longer have its beauty marred by the ugly gray paint—the battleship gray—but when other ships will come, white and shining and glistening in the bright sun of peace.

Things are still very much up in the air as far as the opening of the halibut fishing season is concerned. Fishing will commence April 15, the date declared by the International Fisheries Commission, but no decision has yet been reached in regard to curtailment and marketing regulation arrangements. The possibility of the halibut price being pegged is being discussed and this is further complicating things. The price of 16c and 15c as a ceiling for payment to the boats at Seattle is being mentioned. It is thought that a flat ceiling for the whole coast would have the effect of glutting the port of Prince Rupert, particularly should there be no curtailment regulations. The present plan for the Prince Rupert fleet is to have vessels with names starting on letters from M to Z leave on April 15 with those whose names start from A to L going out five days later. The Prince Rupert halibutters are pretty generally engaged in preparing for the fishing season now including a number of vessels which have been engaged for the past couple of months in dogfishing and mud shark liver fishing for reduction purposes.

The oil extraction plant of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative this week shipped its second tank car of dogfish and mud shark liver oil in two weeks to the United States.

Vancouver fishing interests—or more correctly a section of same—are still agitating against the appointment of G. W. Nickerson of Prince Rupert as a member of the International Fisheries Commission. They claim that Prince Rupert has lost its supremacy as the leading halibut port on the British Columbia coast to Vancouver. Evidently Vancouver does not wish to admit that, despite the removal of some of the halibut boats from here to Vancouver for winter residence, Prince Rupert continues to be the principal halibut landing port by long odds. This is the seasonal headquarters for the Canadian fleet in as large a measure as ever.
