UNIONISM IS AFLOAT

Cabin Cruiser Takes Organizers to Isolated Logging Camps Along Coast

A 44-foot cabin cruiser is on an 800-mile trip to carry trade union "gospel" to loggers in the wooded wilderness of the British Columbia coast. Property of the International Woodworkers of America, the Laur-Wayne and her sister ship, the Annart, hold a unique place in coastal shipping. They carry neither passengers nor freight.

According to Ernie Dalskog, commander of the present expedition and secretary of the I. W. A., Local 1-71, the ship will return to Vancouver in June. As she stops at ports, harbors, and camps along the way Dalskog will meet union members, discuss loggers' problems and distribute newspapers and magazines.

The Laur-Wayne is a first-rate union organizer. Purchased in 1936 she has travelled a total of 69,000 miles. Several times in out-of-the-way places she has also played the role of hospital ship. Men suffering from sudden illness and accidents, have been carried to cities where they have received treatment.

Both union ships have been offered to the Canadian Navy for use during the war and Navy officials say they will be accepted when needed.

RESERVE ARMY GIVEN WINTER TRAINING

The Regiment de Maisonneuve (2nd Reserve Battalion) took the initiative in winter warfare manoeuvres in the 34th Reserve Brigade Group in Montreal this winter. Here they are pictured building intercommunication huts. Upper left a platoon of men start the first phase of building the huts. Pictured in the background are water carriers whose job it is to make the huts solidly packed with ice and snow. Upper right shows the huts finished and men in them. The purpose of the huts is to house advance scouts or field telephones to relay the enemy's forward positions. Lower left Col. Paul Grenier, Commanding Officer of the 34th Reserve Brigade, second from the right, views plans drawn up by Major Hughes Mitchell, second from the left. Two members of the Regiment de Maisonneuve are seen in the insert looking from their finished hut. Their job finished, a work party is seen in the lower right picture marching back to their base after a strenuous week-end.

KILLED AT SMITHERS

SMITHERS, March 27 (Special to Daily News)—A fatal railway and automobile accident occurred near here last evening when the incoming fast train from Prince Rupert hit the car being driven by Charles Wilson at the western railway crossing near his home at Lake Kathryn about seven thirty o'clock.

Mr. Wilson was travelling to his home from Smithers and did not see or hear the approaching train. He was driving very slowly when seen by the fireman and it was thought he was stopping his car but he rode onto the track right in front of the engine which hit the car squarely in the middle and dragged it about 100 feet. The car was smashed and Mr. Wilson suffered multiple injuries. He was taken on the train and rushed to Smithers. Dr. Greene met the train and rushed the injured man to the hospital but he died just after reaching hospital and before anything could be done for him.

Mr. Wilson has lived at Lake Kathryn for many years, being a farmer and ice cutting contractor for Booth Fisheries there and is well known to many residents of Prince Rupert.

He was a native of the United States where relatives reside but he had no relatives in this country. He was a well known pioneer of this district.

COMPLAINT OVER FOOD

Resolution of Dissatisfaction Passed By Allied Trades Council

The following resolution was passed at a meeting of the Allied Trades Council this week:

"WHEREAS the workers in the Prince Rupert dry dock and shipyard are not being fed properly in the Wartime Housing dining hall or in the Prince Rupert dry dock commissary, the food being nauseating to some as a result of it not being properly cooked or handled sanitarily, and appearing to be the cause of epidemic dysentery, as many as 10 percent of the workers being affected in one day,

"AND WHEREAS men leave the shipyard continually owing to the wretched feeding conditions at Prince Rupert, which is a serious impediment to the war effort, "AND WHEREAS the workers condemned the handling of food by the present contractors for the Wartime Housing dining hall and made representation against the same contractors receiving the contract for the shipyard commissary before the latter contract was awarded,

"AND WHEREAS the unions and labor councils have made repeated representation to the management, without noticeable improvement being effected,

"AND WHEREAS the patience of the men concerned is exhausted and the matter is moving rapidly toward a crisis,

"BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that unless immediate steps are taken to provide competent, clean, and efficient caterers on or before April 8 next, the men will of necessity, eat elsewhere."

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT
The Hostess

I forgot all about the Service Wives Club meeting on Thursday afternoon, and what a grand meeting it was too with eighteen wives and eleven babies at it. In fact they are thinking of electing a secretary from among the kiddies' ranks to keep track of the toys used and the amount of arrowroot biscuits needed when milk is served. This week Mrs. Abrahams, who is one of the most faithful of the members, finally won the raffle which was donated by Mrs. Kimmel. The refreshments were prepared by Mrs. Jurmain and served by Mrs. Girardet. The books for the Margaret Bishop quilt are selling like hot cakes and only a few are left.

On Sunday Captain MacDonald, Army Auxiliary Services officer, is bringing another one of those grand concert party troops from Edmonton. These are the folks who are sponsored by the Canadian Legion at Edmonton and who are doing such notable service by giving their time and efforts on these entertainment tours for the services, free of charge. They give up their jobs for the time being to come on these trips and we all remember the splendid shows they give. Haven't heard who is with them but I hope one of them will be our favorite little Bobby Englund. Remember her and Ida and Chick? What a trio! On Sunday the arrangements are as usual. The afternoon is given over to the Navy until three o'clock when the other services are free to come in. No ticket is needed for the afternoon but tickets are needed for the evening show. These tickets have all been given out to the units and are not given at the "Y." After nine p.m. the theatre is open to those who have no tickets. I hope that is clear. Whatever way you look at it it's all so confusing.

Bob Gibson came back from the Far Flung yesterday with a terrific cold. He says today that it must be better because it couldn't possibly get any worse which is one way of looking at things.

ROMANTIC WAR TALE

Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant in "Once Upon a Honeymoon"

A romantic comedy of the early blitz of Europe, offering a stirring glimpse of love against the background of a world at war. "Once Upon a Honeymoon," bringing Cary Grant and Ginger Rogers together for the first time as co-stars, will be the feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Miss Rogers is cast as an American dancer who marries a German baron on the eve of the Nazi march into Australia and Grant portrays a broadcasting reporter interested in the political game the baron is playing. He follows the newlyweds into Poland which promptly falls, confirming Grant's belief that the baron is Hitler's principal advance agent. The bride realizes that she has made a mistake and, with Grant's help sets about to escape from her titled husband. Their dramatic adventures as they make their way into Holland, then into France, just one jump ahead of the Nazis lead to the exciting conclusion of the story, which reunites the three chief characters in Paris under unusual circumstances.

Boat Building Industry Changed to War Needs—Getting Ready for Halibut Fishing

There was continued activity in the shipyards of British Columbia during the past year but a considerable falling off in normal commercial construction. Supplementing the output of 10,000 ton steel freighters, corvettes and mine sweepers by the steel shipyards on the west coast of Canada, the numerous boatbuilding yards during the past year have been largely employed in government war construction. Important launchings were eleven 78 by 21½ foot seiners built for fishing companies and carrying a subsidy of $165 per ton. Eight other vessels over 40 feet in length were built, being one-third of the number constructed in 1941. Tugboat construction showed an even greater shrinkage, there being only one of the larger class of tugs built. In the non-propelling group there were 31 scows, two car barges and one drilling barge built compared with a total of 29 in 1941. The smaller yards filled the demand for life boats, rafts and other equipment. Construction of pleasure craft almost reached the vanishing point and boat owners will probably have to make the best of their present equipment. One of the problems of the fishing industry was to put to work the 1267 Japanese vessels, and this was successfully accomplished. Sales of diesel marine engines increased from 12,680 h.p. to 14,623—export sales increasing from 1,735 in 1941 to 4,722 h.p. in 1942. Gasoline engine sales showed a reduction—15,563 in 1941 to 13,085 h.p. in 1942. Total of both diesel and gasoline marine engines also showed a decrease from 28,243 to 27,708 h.p. in 1942.

Next week should see general activity in the way of preparation for the opening of the 1943 halibut fishing season, date for which has been fixed as April 15 by the International Fisheries Commission. Still the matter of curtailment is up in the air owing to no basis of agreement having been reached between the various sections of the Pacific fishing fleet. However, this is expected to be taken up at a meeting of boat owners to be held tomorrow night.

WATER

All users of water are urgently requested to reduce the amount consumed to provide some small reserve in case of fire or other emergency. Remedial measures are in hand but the greatest economy in the use of water will still be absolutely essential. Even a saving of one gallon per person per day will help to improve the situation. Your fullest co-operation is earnestly requested.
