 PRINCE RUPERT, BRITISH COLUMBIA

 G. A. HUNTER, MANAGING EDITOR

DAILY EDITION Wednesday, October 6, 1943

The Road Situation . . .

It does not need the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to draw to the attention of the press the truly terrible condition of the streets and roads of Prince Rupert including that important industrial artery to Seal Cove which has been notoriously bad for so long now. In fact, it is not only bad but it is downright dangerous. We shudder to think what might happen along that road, particularly now that the hazardous days of winter driving are nearly upon us.

The press of Prince Rupert has been hammering away at this subject for a long time now. It cannot be suggested that the Daily News has not been agitating persistently on the matter, endeavouring to keep the subject to the fore with a view to obtaining some action from the authorities responsible which in this case appear to be at Ottawa.

Nor has the city council been inactive. The only trouble appears to be that, in many instances, more particularly the Seal Cove road, we have been getting nowhere.

Possibly, it might be of some effect if the public itself would make itself more audible on the subject in support of the civic authorities, the Chamber of Commerce and the press.

AIRMEN VICTORIOUS

three-hit flinging to O'Leary's timely clubbing. Whittaker's stonewall defence at third, and Patterson's sensational bare-handed stab of Nigro's Texas leaguer.

The rest of the Yanks supplemented Nigro's six-hit hurling with good support but their weakness with the willow led to their downfall.

The Flyers didn't waste any time. Whittaker opened the crucial contest by making first on Anderson's muf. Blore then played it smart by laying down a bunt and was safe at first when Manders errored Filson's peg. Whittaker going all the way to third. O'Leary, the next hitter, did the logical thing by squeeze playing Whittaker home. Blore was snuffed out on an attempted theft of third. Bennes followed with a walk but Crymble ended the half by lining to second.

There was no scoring for either side in the second. In the American half, Crymble wiped out all three batters on strike outs.

The Airmen continued their winning ways in the third when they were good for two more runs on a walk, sacrifice and two hits. Anderson, first man up, ambled to first on four straight balls, and took second on Whittaker's clean single in-when Manders errored Filson's with a sacrifice. O'Leary then dented the canteen roof for a double that scored Anderson and Whittaker.

After the Flyers got another in their half of the fifth on O'Leary's one baser, Bennes safely into left field and Crymble's squeeze play, the Yanks hitched up their trousers and started to do a little climbing that was good for two counters. Ofsonka got a free ticket and went all the way to third on Filson's extra base hit along the right field foul line. While Volsky was erasing Randall and Carlson on grounders, Ofsonka and Filson galloped home.

The Yanks made it real close in the seventh—their final attempt to wrest the championship from the Flyers. Ofsonka opened by walking and went all the way to third on a passed ball and Filson's infield out. He then brought the American nearer to victory when he counted while Randall was being rubbed out at first, for the second put-out. Carlson buoyed his teammates' spirits with an infield knock. With two down, and the tying run resting on first, the winning tally in the person of Manders, came in to swing—only to line to Volsky for the final put-out.

This ended a series that was closely and, at times, grudgingly fought from the opening to the closing pitch.

DRAMA IS TINGLING

Capturing the full violence and suspense of a whole town bent on a merciless crime, "The Oxbow Incident," which comes to the Capitol Theatre for today only is a story of two-fisted action that begins, when Henry Fonda and his partner, Henry Morgan, get caught in the swirl of murderous mob fury, seething to a frenzy in the town of Bridger's Wells.

A rancher named Kinkaid has been reported slain. Because suspicion is directed at them, Fonda and Morgan join the posse hunting for the killers—an undertaking which develops into one of the most ruthless man-hunts ever to be pictured on the screen.

The action gains in tension when the posse apprehends three men enmeshed in circumstantial evidence and screams for "lynch" justice on the spot. Although calmer heads intervene, the fate of the three men is decided in a spine-tingling climax.

Featured in important roles are Dana Andrews, Mary Beth Hughes, Anthony Quinn, William Eythe, Henry Morgan and Jane Darwell.

Jim...do you realize how much we're worth in VICTORY BONDS alone?

JIM: We've done our share every loan. So it should be a tidy sum.

MARY: It is, but I wish we had a lot more. There is nothing like preparing for a rainy day, and buying Victory Bonds is one of the best ways to save.

JIM: Well, let's see. We bought a $100 bond the first loan, and found it so easy to pay for on the installment plan that we doubled that for the second and third loans. That's $500 right there!

MARY: Then, the last loan, to help back the attack, we signed up for a $500 bond.

JIM: Well, in the next loan, we'll take another $500 bond : : : and a little bit more. That will give us a nice nest-egg for the future. When peace comes we can start building that home we've got planned. And there'll be plenty of good business opportunities to look into.

MARY: Besides all the things we'll be needing when everything is available again.

JIM: But by gosh, Mary : : : despite the kick we get out of providing for the future, I get my greatest thrill in knowing the money we lend is helping to beat the enemy . . . to bring our troops home quicker . . . and make this a better world for our children to grow up in.

MARY: It all ties together, Jim. By investing everything we can in Victory Bonds, we are being practical as well as patriotic. That's why, with victory on the way, we should save harder than ever before.

CHRIST IS DUE SOON

Evangelist Discusses Second Coming at Meeting Sunday Night.

Answering the question as to what would be the sign of His Coming and the end of the world, Christ told his disciples that there would be signs in the sun and in the moon, and in the stars, and upon the earth distress of nations with perplexity—men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth. Three of these have taken place and the world is now seeing the "distress of nations with perplexity" according to Evangelist Balmer in his lecture at the I.O.O.F. Hall Sunday night.

The evangelist gave specific dates as to when that portion of the prophecy concerning the heavenly bodies was fulfilled.

The famous dark day of history occurred on May 19, 1780, when a remarkable darkness occurred over a large portion of the New World. Interpreters of Biblical prophecy are generally agreed that this dark day was in fulfillment of that portion of Christ's prophecy that such an event would take place before His return, asserted the Evangelist. The moon refused to give out its light on the night following this dark day in spite of the fact that it had become full on the previous night. The particular sign in the stars, as mentioned by the Saviour, occurring on November 13, 1833, when the most wonderful exhibition of shooting stars in the history of the world occurred. These phenomena could not be explained or accounted for by astronomers or historians, said the speaker but God in creating the sun, moon and stars said that they would be for signs as well as to give light. When these things begin to come to pass, said Jesus, "Then look up, for your redemption draweth nigh." Continuing, the speaker said that, although people may not know the day or the hour in which the Lord will return, according to Paul's Epistle to the Thessalonians they may know the time and even the season of this great event. He urged upon the large and attentive audience to give serious consideration to this great prophecy.

A special feature preceding the meeting was the showing of slides depicting the events of creation week to the boys and girls.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT

Monday evening I attended the Open Forum meeting which is having such a success at the "Y." And it is years since I have had such an interesting and stimulating evening. The subject under discussion was the unemployment problem after the war. The chairman, Murray Garnett, guided the conversation so skilfully that each person attending was given an opportunity to express himself and yet he managed to retain the informality so necessary to these open discussions. Each service man is invited to bring a civilian guest. To those service men and women who are already thinking of the time after the war when they will again be civilians, with civilian problems these discussions can be of infinite value in their personal readjustment and Breen and Murray hope to see an increasing number of those interested in attendance.

Myrfin reports that his Amateur night was very successful. There were about ten contestants and the program was followed by an impromptu movie. The prize-winners were Pte. John Eriksson, Gunner Gamon, Gunner McCourt, Gunner McDougal, Pte. Morrie Spence, Pte. Ernie Speed and two navy boys—Wallie and Neil—whose last names Myrfin failed to catch. Congratulations boys—but where were the CWAC's and the WD's. What, no talent? Come on girls, it's all in fun and a girl or two on the program gives variety.

The Highway boys are having a dance this Thursday and Junior Hostesses are cordially invited. They will meet at the "Y."

And don't forget, of course, this is Navy dance week. Their big dance takes place at the Drill Hall on Friday night.

The Service Wives Club will meet tomorrow afternoon, Thursday, in the ladies' lounge at the "Y."

We were sitting around a canteen table at the Hut yesterday, talking about the injustice of things in general when Captain Armitage offered as an illustration in point that it's the Swiss cheese that has the holes and the Limburger that needs the ventilation.

HOW TO MAKE APPLICATION AS A PRIORITY USER AT YOUR LOCAL RATION BOARD

FOR INFANTS UNDER 2 YEARS:

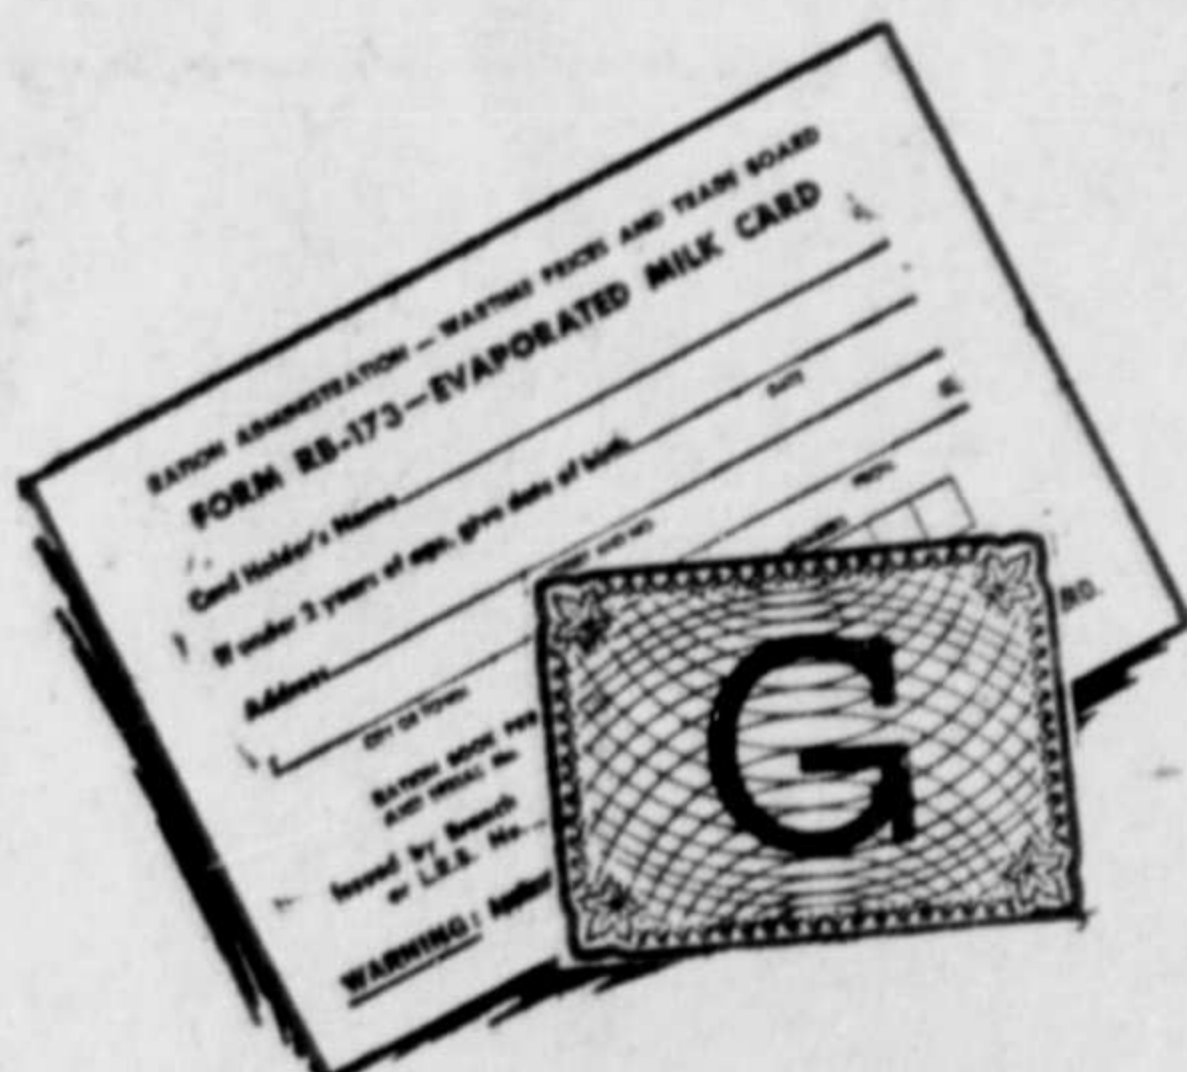

Parents, guardians, or other authorized persons must:—

- Show medical prescription or doctor's formula, or
- Show certificate of need signed by physician, public health nurse, well-baby clinic, or other recognized public health agency, or
- Complete and sign a Consumer's Application Form RB-174.

FOR PERSONS 2 YEARS OR OVER:

No evaporated milk coupons will be issued to this group except on presentation of medical certificate or unless Application Form RB-174 is signed by a practising physician.

APPROVED PRIORITY USERS WILL BE ISSUED SPECIAL "G" COUPON CARDS

Forms are available at Local Ration Board where Coupon Cards will be issued, and all applications must be made.

As priority users will be limited in number, coupons from the regular ration books cannot be used. Special coupons marked "G" will be issued only to approved priority users.

Each card contains a maximum of 16 coupons marked "G". Each coupon is good for the purchase of six 16 ounce cans of evaporated milk—or a total of 96 ounces.

Each coupon card serves for a period of not less than 3 months—and no more than 8 coupons may be used in any one month. Evaporated milk coupons will have no expiry date.

SPECIAL NOTE TO RETAILERS:

As from midnight, October 3rd, all retailers must reserve 25% of their evaporated milk stocks for priority users. During the week of October 4th to 11th they must also reserve an additional 10% to meet sales to consumers who are entitled to Evaporated Milk Coupon Cards but who have not yet had time to obtain them.
