IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT MADE JOINT- SAW MAYOR
LY BY PREMIER KING AND PRESIDENT SAW MAYOR ROOSEVELT—DETAILS OF EVACUATION AT OTTAWA

QUEBEC, Aug. 21 (CP) — A joint Canadian-American force has recaptured the Aleutian Island of Kiska, the last segment of North American soil occupied by the Japanese, it was announced today in a statement issued by Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King of Canada and President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States.

A communique issued at the same time by the United States Navy indicated that the island was taken without fighting, the Japanese having slipped away before the landings which started August 15. "There were indications of recent hasty evacuation of the Japanese garrison," the naval communique reported. "Presumably heavy bombardments by our ships and planes that have been carried on for some time and danger to their supply lines by our capture of Attu made enemy positions on Kiska untenable. It is not known how the Japanese got away but it is possible that enemy surface ships were able to reach Kiska under cover of heavy fog that has been prevalent."

The size and make-up of the Canadian force was not made known but President Roosevelt said he was gratified that American troops worked side by side with splendidly trained and equipped Canadians.

Premier King said the Canadian troops were drawn from the Pacific Command and included a large proportion of soldiers who had been called for service under the National Resources Mobilization Act.

Olof Hanson Tells of Visits With Ministers in Regard to Civic Affairs-Flew to Maritimes

Just before leaving Ottawa following adjournment of Parliament, Olof Hanson, M. P. for Skeena, who arrived in Prince Rupert last night, with Mayor W. M. Watts interviewed various ministers concerned in regard to the civic appeal for federal assistance in connection with restoration of local civi public works and facilities. Mr Hanson reports that the ministers gave the mayor and himself a cordial hearing and, as a result, there is, no doubt, a better appreciation on the part of the ministers of the situation existing here.

Also shortly before he left the East Mr. Hanson made a trip to the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland by air with a Parliamentary party which inspected Atlantic defences, Mr. Hanson also having matters to take up in connection with International Red Cross. Points visited included St. John's, Newfoundland, Halifax, Sydney, St.

John N. B. and Moncton.

During the past week or so since his return West, Mr. Hanson has made visits by easy stages to all the communities of his riding between Endako and Terrace and found everybody busy and doing well. Grain and vegetable crops are looking well but the outstanding feature is the development of the lumber cutting industry during the past year owing to the high prices prevailing for lumber. Portable sawmills have sprung up on many of the farms and the farmers and their families are getting ou the lumber as rapidly aas the can. ### Civic Centre Carnival . . .

Prince Rupert's fourth annual Civic Centre Carnival gets under way next Monday evening and continues for the better part of the week. Solely in view of the cause in which it is staged, we commend to the public support of the carnival.

It is not our purpose to discuss the merits or otherwise of the entertainment to be offered. It would appear, however, to be a worthy effort in support of a community undertaking the fruition of which is only deferred by pressing exigencies of war which make it impossible to build at this time.

By lending patronage to the carnival we help to build up the civic centre fund all money in wnich goes meantime into war securities.

The Economic Home Front . . .

The importance of public support of such stabilization measures as price ceilings and wage stabilization was emphasized by Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, in addressing the annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association in Toronto a few days ago. The disastrous results of a lapse into inflation were pic- ing the benefits of whole grain quently, wearers of fur coats tured by Mr. Gordon who urged the people of the cereal. Here are some of them: should have no qualms about country to be as resolute now as they had been in the dark days when war was going against us.

We cannot have an orderly well-planned and efficient war program unless we maintain a stable, reasonable price

"There is too much emphasis placed on the burdens, dislocations and so-called sacrifices of war. The plain fact is that the great majority of Canadians living comfortably at home are better off right now than they ever were before the war. Everybody who wants to work has a job, and earnings are at their all time high. Prices for farm products are higher and the farmer's present cash income will compare favourably with any period in Canadian history. Business profits, restricted though they may be by war taxation, are yet providing reasonable returns. And despite the fact that we are fighting in the greatest war the world has ever known, not a foot of Canadian soil has been taken, and none of the horrors of conquest have been visited on Canadian homes. Why not, therefore, preach a little of the gospel that we are a very fortunate people and that we should count our blessings? Is it realistic to expect Utopia while fighting a war and particularly a war that is referred to as total war?

"There is much loose thinking and loose talking about the hardships and inconveniences of war restrictions or shortages. We cannot afford in wartime to be sentimental and soft-headed.

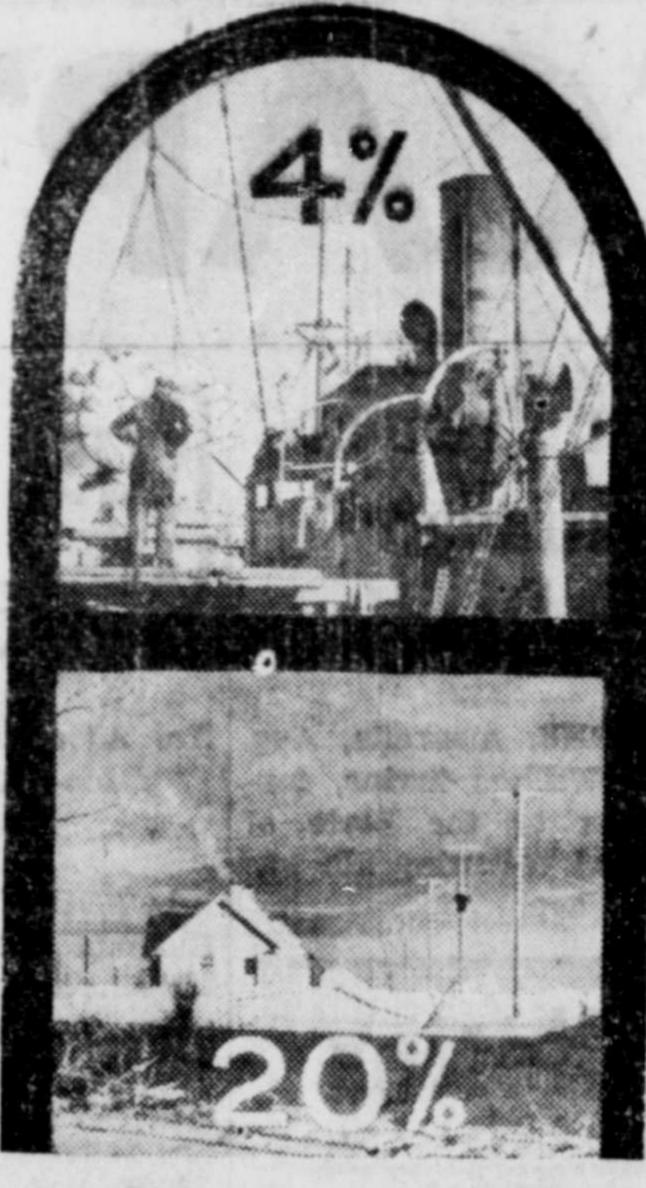

In time of war anyone who expects to escape inconveniences and difficulties in his daily life is expecting to evade his responsibility as a citizen and to make less than his fair contribution to the defence of the state."

A resourceful Chinese refugee, toting his family and all his worldly goods in baskets slung across his shoulders, joins the great stream of refugees pouring into China from Burma to escape the Japanese invasion. "Chien lee, oo mow."

This phrase, often accompanying a Chinese gift, is from a famous Sung Dynasty poet and means: "Like a swan's feather sent for a thousand miles, this small gift bears a great significance."

Canadians who answer the current appeal of the Chinese War Relief Fund, which hopes this month to raise $1,000,000 across Canada for aid to China, might well append this poetic Oriental tag to their contributions.

There is no doubt as to Canadian admiration for the superb and tenacious spirit of our Chinese Allies. Now, through monetary donations, Canadians can tell the people of China: "We are proud of you. We are with you. Fight on! Chien lee, oo mow."

On her recent visit to Canada's capital, lovely little Madame Chiang Kai-shek, her black eyes glowing, said that Canadian sympathy and friendship meant much to her people. That sympathy and friendship can now be expressed in a practical way through contributions to the Chinese War Relief Fund.

Chinese Farm Folk on the March

The Japanese strategy of making forays to coincide with the planting and harvesting seasons and of destroying farmers' homes, tools and livestock, forces many Chinese farm families to take to the road, seeking new homes further inside free China. The Chinese war relief fund helps to provide temporary shelter for the refugees and also aid in their rehabilitation.
