The plants, employing nine thousand workers, closed on Wednesday after the workers took an unauthorized rest period. Meantime at Vancouver the workers, in meeting, demanded the resignation of Bell as director general of aircraft production. Bell has ruled that no rest period is necessary in a eight-hour day with half an hour for luncheon. There is also a ruling against smoking in the Vancouver plants.

New Liquor Rations . . .

Some of our convivial friends may not be very happy at the prospect of the new liquor ration which limits their purchases per month to one small quart of hard spirits, a dozen pints of beer or two quarts of wine. However, in spite of protestations, the powers that be seem to be quite resolute in the determination that less liquor is to be consumed. So we might as well accept it. And all the talk of the necessity of beer notwithstanding, we will, doubtless, be able to get along quite nicely without it.

The change in liquor hours and the removal of the daily sales quota should remove the spectacle of the matutinal line-up, something which it is, no doubt, intended to do.

Poland and Russia . . .

The crisis between Russia and Poland might have serious enough implications for our side and may well prove quite embarrassing. We went to war on Poland's account and now there is the possibility that Poland may not be staying with us unless, of course, the breach between Russia and Poland can be patched up. The hand of our enemy, of course, can be seen in the whole unpleasant business. No matter what the issue of the difficulty may be, the principles for which we fight will still remain. One of these aims is the elimination of international deceit and duplicity which is so evident even in the latest episode.

If C.C.F. Had Been In . . .

The C.C.F. offer themselves to the people of Canada as better fitted than either of the historic parties to give this country capable leadership, says the Winnipeg Free Press.

It is in times of difficulty that leadership is tested. The Free Press has pointed out that if a C.C.F. government had been in office from 1935 to 1940, instead of a Liberal government, there would have been no preparation whatever for war, and when war came this country would have kept out of it.

If Canada had not taken part in the war to the extent of its capacity, the Nazi attack upon Great Britain in 1940 would have succeeded. We have Mr. Churchill's word of this: but this merely confirms something that is obvious. The consequences to Canada and the world would have been beyond calculation.

This is a practical test of the C.C.F. claim to a superiority in wisdom and vision; and it is conclusive in its exposure of the worthlessness of the claim.

FINE DANCE LAST NIGHT

Party by Job's Daughters Was Splendid Affair with Capacity Crowd in Masonic Banquet Hall

The banquet hall of the Masonic Temple was thronged to capacity last evening on the occasion of the first ball of the Order of Job's Daughters. It was such a delightful sight to see such fine wholesome young people enjoying themselves to the utmost. The young ladies in their beautiful flowing gowns and many of the young men in their Sea Cadet Uniforms, together with many others in service uniforms, enhanced the beauty of the occasion.

The dance program commenced after the Grand March, which was led by Miss Margaret Morin, Honored Queen of the Bethel, and Arthur Carrington, followed by the Guardian, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, Associate Guardian George Dawes, Past Master E. J. Smith and Mrs. Smith, and members and their guests.

The hall was very tastefully decorated in the patriotic colors of red, white and blue, with both the Canadian and American flags holding prominent positions. Two red spotlights were used in many popular moonlight waltzes.

Alex Mitchell was a very capable and popular master of ceremonies and never once did he let a dull moment slip in. Mr. Dawes, in his usual efficient manner, was at the door.

Refreshments took place at eleven o'clock in cafeteria style of soft drinks and doughnuts which seemed to meet with everybody's approval. In charge of refreshments were Miss Dorothy Stiles, Mrs. Ernest Hastings, and Miss Alma Dybhavn, all of whom are members of the Guardian Council of the Bethel.

The first dance under the auspices of this young organization of Job's Daughters is one that will be remembered for a long time. Before closing at 1 a.m. the exuberant crowd showed appreciation of Jean DeCarlo's music by giving three rousing cheers.

To conclude the evening's enjoyment members of the Bethel gathered in the centre of the hall to receive an ovation together with the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

EXCITEMENT IS CAUSED

Grass Fire at Smithers Almost Got Out of Control

SMITHERS, April 30—Considerable excitement was aroused here on Monday afternoon when a grass fire, fanned by a sudden increase in the velocity of the wind, tore through some scrub and bushes and got out of hand. Several dwellings were in danger of being burned and the household effects were being removed to a place of safety when, with the aid of the forestry pump, the fire was halted but not before some buildings had been scorched.

The much maligned Smithers canal along the main street went a long way in redeeming itself by giving a plentiful supply of water by which the fire was extinguished. Had it not been for this water supply at least two dwellings would have been destroyed.

A number of fires have been started throughout the valley during the past few days and at night the glow of some of these would indicate that they are of fair proportions.

The drying winds of recent days and the lack of rain has made burning of dry grass and bush a risky business even at this early date.

Winnipeg Rangers won the Canadian junior hockey championship by defeating Oshawa Generals six to three Wednesday night to capture four games to two the best of seven series for the Memorial Cup.

fore closing at 1 a.m. the exuberant crowd showed appreciation of Jean DeCarlo's music by giving three rousing cheers.

To conclude the evening's enjoyment members of the Bethel gathered in the centre of the hall to receive an ovation together with the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

CHEMISTRY HELPS TO WIN THE WAR

Brush Bristles from a Test Tube?

Sounds fantastic—but it is a fact.

Modern chemistry has devised a material that makes better brush bristles. It's called nylon monofilament, and when compared with animal and vegetable brush bristles—it's a tremendous step forward.

Nylon monofilament is extruded from nylon polymer, a plastic produced by chemistry from coal, air and water. Nylon bristles are tough, highly resistant to water, chemicals, cleansers, abrasives; they will not split, fray or become brittle. That's why you'll find these bristles in use on many different types of brushes... brushes to clean the big guns, brushes for shell fuses, the myriad brushes used by modern industry. Chemistry has even developed tapered bristles for paint brushes. These, of course, are not as yet available for civilian use. More than likely, your new toothbrush or hairbrush has nylon bristles.

Of course, war needs have first call on present production of nylon monofilament bristles, but they are certainly "something to look forward to after the war".

Nylon monofilament from the Plastics Division of C-I-L is another example of how Industrial Chemistry is aiding Canada's war effort.

Fliers Can Get Hot Shower and Some of Comforts of Home

By SAM JACKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
AN AIRPORT IN THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST, April 30 — Because you can get a hot shower here, and because there's quite a neat little group of buildings, this airfield has become known as "the country club of the Yukon." Its purpose is a good deal grimmer. Through here go the giant bombers and transport planes of the Alaska wing of the United States Air Transport Command, bound northwest on mysterious missions that the pilots don't talk about.

But every flier and every traveler on the long Alaska road likes to stop here if he can. He doesn't have to unroll his sleeping bag because giant spruce timbers in a hot-air furnace keep the big bunkroom warm all night.

Like a good many installations in the northwest, the airport was built by Canadians with help from the Americans and although Canadian sovereignty is acknowledged the use of the field is largely American.

The first Americans flew in here only last June in a pontoon plane and landed on a lake. They found only a radio shack and a half-completed airport building.

Rapid Construction

The building of the "country club" is another epic of quick construction. Some material was flown in but most of it, during the short northern summer, was landed from steamers on the Alaska coast, then transported by river boats up a lonely river to a trading post, 160 miles north.

From there to an isolated lake, a distance of 75 miles, was the shadow of an old road of gold mining days and this was repaired at an expense of $19,000. On the lake a fleet of barges was constructed from local timber at a cost of about $250,000.

They carried many tons of freight each, and could cross the lake and go up another river to within 25 miles of this new airfield. For that last stretch, a regular road was constructed.

J. D. Smith, resident engineer for the Canadian government, took an artistic pride in his buildings and went far afield to get good-looking logs which were slabbled for the exteriors. Freight brought by the river-lake route today costs $236.20 a ton, from Vancouver.

Lieut. R. W. Love, commanding officer, always has cots and food ready for visitors because of the great uncertainty of the Yukon weather. The rates are 50 cents for a bed and 50 cents a meal—the latter being served in the rough-and-ready style of any new army camp.

MASCOT ON WAY HOME

Canine Survivor of H.M.C.S. Weyburn Returned to Victoria

TORONTO, April 30 — Today "Posh" is on board a Canadian National train speeding to his original master, nine-year-old Joan Golby of Victoria. The black and white Cocker Spaniel, a survivor of H.M.C.S. Weyburn, torpedoed in the Mediterranean recently, was placed in charge of the Canadian National Express here on the last leg of his long journey home where he will arrive Sunday. While travelling alone, the distinguished "sailor" will not be neglected as a plentiful supply of canine delicacies accompanied him and instructions were issued to all express employees enroute that he was to receive special attention during the trip to the coast.

The popular mascot of the corvette which went down with his master, Commander Thomas Golby, standing on the bridge, "Posh" was a real member of the crew. Each day he would make a thorough inspection of the Weyburn following which he would go to the bridge and stand with Commander Golby.

The received his unusual name from Joan, only child of Commander Golby, because of his small size and sweet temper. She didn't like to see him go to sea but knew he was in good hands on the Weyburn. Joan will be one of the happiest girls in the dominion when they meet and she can romp with him once more.

While in Toronto, almost a week, "Posh" was not idle for he has been doing his bit for Canada, together with members of the crew who brought him home, helping to boost the sale of bonds by appearing at Fourth Victory loan rallies.

Gasoline, for the rare civilian customer, costs $2.85 a gallon.

Canadian Barracks

The Canadians have their own barracks and dining hall and eat with considerably more decorum. You sit down at the sound of a bell, talk softly or not at all, and do not smoke at the table.

Among the guests is a radio expert trying to figure out the occasional "blackouts" that occur in the North; a Catholic missionary who came into the wilderness long before he dreamed civilization would catch up with him; Sir Hubert Wilkins, the Arctic explorer, numerous fliers grounded for the time, and several mysterious civilians who revealed their mission only to the commanding officer. They call it the "Yukon country club" but in cross-section it is more like Grand Hotel.

APPEAL TO GIVE MORE MILK HERE

Resolution for Relief of Situation Receives Widespread Support

Forty-eight local organizations have endorsed a resolution initiated by the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association which appeals to the government for the release of a more adequate supply of canned milk in Prince Rupert, particularly for the small children and babies. Strong supporting letters are being forwarded in company with the resolution which is going to Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, Olof Hanson M.P., T. D. Pattullo M.L.A., Hon. John Hart, prime minister of British Columbia, and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The authors of these supporting letters are J. V. Scrivener, local representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Dr. R. J. MacDonald, director of the local public health unit, and A. G. Landels, local manager of W. H. Malkin Co. They agree upon the inadequacy of canned milk supply here and offer suggestions for its augmentation. Mr. Scrivener estimates that 3000 cases monthly are required here.

FUTURE FOR WORLD TRADE

PRETORIA, April 30 (P)—If South African industries are thrown into competition with mass-producing countries they cannot last five minutes, declared Commerce Minister Waterson, adding the Atlantic Charter envisaged that after the war countries would pool ideas and resources, deciding who would manufacture what.

SURE VITAMINS

"If you want to make sure of your vitamins this year, grow them." That is the advice of the authorities in both Canada and the United States this year. That is the reason for the Victory Garden campaign.

Normally Canada imports great quantities of early vegetables from the United States, in addition to huge crops grown here. The result is two fruit stores to a block in most Canadian cities. Those who have been studying the situation say that conditions are likely to be different this year. In the first place Uncle Sam is going to buy up every bunch of vegetables he will be able to get his hands on. These he will dehydrate, pack in tight containers, and send them to his and our troops overseas. There will also be some of this dehydration in Canada.

But that is not the whole story. There is going to be very little tin for canning vegetables this year and that means another abundant source of supply restricted. Finally, the market gardeners are not going to be able to grow as many vegetables as usual because of the shortage of labor. And all these restrictions come at the very time our consumption of vegetables is sharply increasing. The whole thing adds up to the slogan—"Grow your own."

They Will be Fresh

And when one does grow his own vegetables right at the door there is more than the reward of garden freshness. One will get all the vitamins, many more than when we depend on vegetables harvested perhaps two or three days before we buy them. Vitamins, the scientists state, are rather delicate little chaps, they only last a short time. The only sure way of getting them all, along with real freshness, is to have a garden full of them within a few yards of the kitchen, and pop them into the pot or into a salad just a few minutes before they are eaten.

Thinning

One can save oneself a lot of stooping and bother by proper spacing of seeds when sowing. With beans, peas and such seed, from three to five inches apart is about right. With fine seeds like those of carrots, lettuce and such it is difficult to space evenly and thinly but with a little care one can prevent bunching. This care in sowing will be repaid later when the plants start to grow, as much thinning will be saved.

But even with this careful sowing, some thinning is inevitable with beets, onions, parsnips and similar fine seed plants. The object is to give room for early growth. It is not necessary to thin, say, beets and carrots, to more than an inch or so apart. Long before they have reached full maturity a lot of the beets and carrots will have been pulled and used. When the plants are half grown one can start using every other one in the row.

Importance of Cultivation

Killing weeds is only one function of cultivation. In the well-cared for garden where weeds never

GROW YOUR OWN THIS YEAR

Gardening is in full swing on the Pacific coast where many school girls with other members of their families are giving up their spare time to working in Victory gardens. To insure full larders for Canadians next fall and winter the government is backing a gardening campaign. The demand for vegetables this year will be greater than ever and distribution will be difficult because of crowded railway lines. The Dominion Department of Agriculture suggests that vegetables should be grown that have the highest nutritional value.

Round-up of Supplies Sent by Britain and Dominions Makes Impressive Showing

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, April 30 (C)—Remarkable figures showing the extent of the help of Britain and the Empire in supplying Russia with essential requirements were given by an official of the United Kingdom Commercial Corporation, a trading organization backed by the British government.

Non-military supplies placed through the corporation already exceed $225,000,000 in value and represent hundreds of thousands of tons of merchandise of all kinds.

The spokesman explained that within a fortnight of Germany's invasion of Russia the corporation had become purchasing agent for orders placed through this country all over the world.

The list of goods supplied ranges from the smallest of tools to large, mobile, self-appointed electric power generating units to replace those destroyed in areas devastated by the Germans or to supplement existing plants, raw materials from aluminum to zinc, and foodstuffs such as wheat or tea. Vast quantities of rubber and some 26,000 tons of tin have been dispatched, and consignments are still going forward.

Rubber and Tin

"Rubber is now being shipped in thousands of tons from Ceylon," the official said. "Cornwall is providing tin in substantial tonnages, and to meet an urgent request for industrial diamonds for Soviet war factories the corporation sent supplies by air to Moscow."

"The corporation draws on the varied resources of the Empire and other territories of the sterling area to meet Russian requirements. Wool is obtained from Australia, New Zealand, Syria, Iraq and Persia, metals like copper and zinc, ferro-chrome and ferro-silicon from Canada, hospital tents and canvas from Palestine, mohair and tanning materials from Turkey, sisal and coffee from East Africa, and tea and rubber from Ceylon."

India, where the corporation has set up branch offices, is a major source for the supply of large numbers of goods for Russia. Jute, ground-nuts, tea, hides, shellac and tobacco are among the commodities now being supplied from India, together with a variety of manufactures ranging from cotton yarn to fibre hose. One recent order alone was for 11,000,000 gunny sacks, and total runs well in excess of 45,000 tons.

Transport Runs

Goods are shipped to Karachi, and from there are sent by the overland route to the S.S.R. The corporation has been entrusted with the operation of the route between Nokkundi and Zahidan, together with its road connection via Meshed to the Russian east Caspian railway.

The U. K. C. C. is also responsible for the elaborate road haulage system built up in Persia by which Anglo-American aid for Russia is transported from the Persian Gulf to the Caspian Sea. The task assigned to the corporation within a fortnight or so of the outbreak of hostilities on the eastern front, when it was realized that Persia offered a relatively safe highway for supplies to Russia to supplement traffic via the northern ports and Vladivostok.

PROTECTION AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

Many residents of Prince Rupert will have been aware that from time to time cases of diphtheria have occurred in the city during the past eighteen months. At no time has the number of cases warranted the use of the term "epidemic," nor have there been any recent deaths in the city from this disease but a total of 46 persons contracted the disease in 1942, some of them in a moderately severe form.

Since June of 1942 immunization against diphtheria has been made available to all infants, pre-school and school children in the city and to date a total of 438 have received the three doses of diphtheria toxoid which complete this immunization.

However, it has been noticeable that about one-third of the cases have occurred in adults and, accordingly, an effort is now being made to promote immunization of susceptible adults. It happens that a fairly large number of persons are immune to diphtheria by the time they reach adult age and, fortunately, there is a simple test (Schick test) by which it can be determined whether or not an individual is immune. Any adults found to be susceptible to diphtheria by this test should be immunized by means of diphtheria toxoid.

Accordingly, arrangements have been completed to make Schick testing, and subsequent immunization if required, available to all adults in the area, starting the first week in May. Mothers of children attending the infant and pre-school clinics, and any other women who find it convenient, may be tested and immunized at these regular clinics. All other adults will be accommodated at the Prince Rupert Health Unit office (two doors from the Library) on Monday and Friday afternoons from 5 to 6 p.m., and on Saturday mornings from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, starting May 3, 7 and 8 respectively.

All adults are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to ensure personal protection as well as to aid the community in ridding itself of this dangerous disease.

A profession of faith

We have faith in Canada that the courage of the pioneers and the spirit which achieved Confederation and linked a continent with the shining steel of railways have laid strong foundations for national greatness and unity.

We have faith in her present and in the part she is playing to save the world from tyranny... in her young men and women who serve on land and sea and in the air... in her workers who labour for more than wages... in every man and woman and child striving for Victory.

We have faith in her future believing that she is destined to exert an ever-increasing influence in world affairs, and in the shaping of tomorrow, when many will turn to her with new hope.

We have faith in more than the statistics of Canada's bank clearings and her car-loadings, the vastness of her untapped resources, or even the glorious war record of a people numbering less than twelve millions.

We have faith in a land we love, whose soul speaks to us from every free acre of Canadian soil... in the splendour of the Rockies at sunset, the blue mystery of a Laurentian dawn, the quiet of an Ontario woodlot, the far call of prairie horizons, the sound of surf on the Atlantic shore and the wash of the Pacific tides. It speaks to us from churchyards where Canadian dead lie beneath the tribute of English blossoms... from the poppyed fields of France and Flanders... from the winged and sea-faring and mechanized epics of a new war.

We have faith in her people... people, noted and obscure, with whom we daily rub shoulders... and by whose united effort, sacrifice and creative vigour the greater Canada of tomorrow will be built.

We have faith in Canada

Summer is almost here — Well, anyway, spring — because Junior Hostess Christel Braun brought me the first bouquet of the season Wednesday night when she came to the dance. Christel is the little girl who brought me flowers each week all last summer.

Tonight the chiefs and petty officers of H.M.C.S. Chatham are holding a dance at the Empress Hall. Junior hostesses are invited. Y. W. C. A. chaperones for the evening will be Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Keays representing the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary.

For the month of May the Order of the Eastern Star is in charge of arrangements for dance chaperones. I should like to thank the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary for sponsoring the chaperones for April.
