PROBLEMS OF POSTAL JOB HERE

Benefits of Daily Mail Car to Be Felt Soon—Public Co-operation Would Help

The problems connected with giving Prince Rupert a six-day-a-week mail car service instead of the thrice weekly service now in effect are being overcome. Assistant Postmaster R. S. Scherk told a Daily News reporter this morning, and in the near future residents of the city and other towns along the Canadian National Railways line will feel the benefit of the increased service.

The six-day-a-week service will not greatly increase the inflow of mail, it was made clear by Mr. Scherk, for already mail arrives in Prince Rupert every day except Monday but it will expedite the handling of mails, consequently, their delivery.

Under the present set-up mail arrives in Prince Rupert in mail cars on Sunday, Tuesday, and Friday and in baggage cars on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. Mail arriving in mail cars has already received a primary sorting by postal clerks on the cars and so is available for a speedy final sorting by Post Office clerks here.

However, mail that arrives in baggage cars, unaccompanied by railway postal clerks reaches its addressee more slowly because it must receive both its primary and final sorting at the local post office.

Coming mail in baggage cars is delayed in the same way because it must be similarly sorted in the post offices at Vancouver or Edmonton instead of while it is enroute.

"A six day a week mail car service will certainly relieve the situation," Mr. Scherk said, "but it is not all that we require to give the best service. A large part of the confusion and delay in mail delivery is the fault of the public. Vague and improper addressing of mail hampers service greatly and is the responsibility of the people who send letters. It ought to be eliminated."

New Postal Station

Asked to what extent the new postal sub-station B near the Hay's Creek bridge would relieve the downtown post office, Mr. Scherk said that he was unable to say at present, since the new sub-station had been open only since Monday but he thought that, as public awareness of its convenience developed, it would take its full part in the postal set-up.

"Sub-station B is a complete post office in every sense of the word," Mr. Scherk emphasized, "and people who use it should address their mail to it. Mail addressed to sub-station B will be treated in the same

ARE NEAR TO MUNDA

American Ground Troops Only Few Thousand Yards Away Heaviest Air Attack Yet

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTH PACIFIC, July 22 (CP) — American ground troops are within a few thousand yards of Munda air field, a Department of the Navy spokesman announced yesterday. The Japanese, clinging to the key New Georgia Island base, are behind strong defensive positions but the Americans are making satisfactory progress.

Allied bombers have shattered Japanese positions at Bai-roko Harbor above Munda in the heaviest air attack ever made in the southwest Pacific. More than 150 bombers dropped 133 tons of bombs.

In an air battle over New Guinea 19 Japanese planes were shot down yesterday with the possibility of another 11, only two Allied planes being lost.

There were Allied raids from Timor to New Britain.

PRICE OF NEWSPRINT

Ceiling is Raised $4 per Ton Both in Canada and United States

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP) — The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces that, effective next September 1, the ceiling on newsprint in Canada will be raised $4 a ton to conform with an increase of the same amount being put into effect in the United States. The announcement was made jointly at Ottawa and Washington.

Canadians Helped To Take Enna

By ROSS MUNRO (Eye witness story by Canadian Press War Correspondent)

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN SICILY, July 22 (CP) — The Canadians helped to take Enna in an artillery barrage smash of heavy enemy concentrations. The Canadians followed the barrage with an infantry assault at bayonet point.

manner as mail addressed to the downtown office. People in the eastern part of town should find it a great convenience."

WELCOMES CANADIANS IN SICILY TO ALLIED COMMAND

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Commander-in-Chief of Allied Forces in North Africa, is shown greeting Canadian officers on the Island of Sicily. General Eisenhower asks Capt. J. E. Moore, of Vancouver, third from right, to convey his compliments to the Canadian Command and express his gratification that the Canadians have joined the Allied Command in Sicily. ## SURVEYING SERVICES

Local Sewer, Water and Power Situation Receiving Attention of Federal Government Engineers

Federal government engineers are at present in Prince Rupert to make surveys of the sewer, water and power services with a view to possible improvements and extensions.

W. G. McKay, district engineer of the Department of Pensions and National Health, and Capt. J. Baty of the United States Engineering Department are working from the city engineer's office on the sewer and water survey.

W. R. Bonneycastle of the power controller's office of the Department of Munitions and Supply is looking into the power situation, conferring with city and power company officials.

MANX YOUTH CONDITIONS

Wartime conditions on the Isle of Man have resulted in the girls there being "a strapping, well-built, healthy-looking bunch" but the boys, on account of lack of physical instructors, look "miserable, anaemic and undernourished," said Gerald Bridson, member of the island's legislature.

Commitment Is Deferred

Arrangement of Bail and Other Matters Causes Time Lapse Of Eight Days

The preliminary hearing of Mary Martin, charged with attempting to commit an abortion, was brought to a close yesterday afternoon in city police court after evidence had been given by Dr. L. W. Kergin, Dr. C. H. Hankinson, Dr. J. A. MacDonald and Constable S. Ferguson of the city police.

On the application of W. O. Fulton, defence attorney, the magistrate deferred commitment to a higher court for eight days, pending the arrangement of bail for the accused and until the depositions of evidence could be brought before the county court judge.

ENCOUNTER WITH BEAR

David MacKenzie, Smithers Prospector, Had Narrow Escape from Animals

SMITHERS, July 22 — A prospector from Boston, David MacKenzie, had an exciting experience in the hills near the Duthie mine last Friday when returning from a trip down the Copper River. It was a narrow escape from death.

MacKenzie was travelling a short distance ahead of two Indians he had had out on the trip with him and was breaking his way through heavy and wet pea vine in a hurry to get into town for dry clothing when he came face to face with a big black bear that reared up out of the bush about eight feet in front of him. He didn't wait to argue the right of way with the bear but turned around and took to his heels. The bear, apparently, was in need of exercise and promptly took after the prospector and his mate who had apparently also been close at hand but not seen by MacKenzie, joined in the chase. They did not have far to go before they met David Dennis, one of the Indians of the party, and Dennis, not having his rifle loaded and with no time to load it, seeing the predicament of MacKenzie with the bears just one jump behind him, started shouting and brandishing his gun. The bears taking note of the armed reinforcements that had appeared on the scene very discreetly broke off the pursuit and disappeared into the bush.

It was a close call for MacKenzie as it was the opinion of the Indians that he would very quickly have fallen a victim of the animals who were so close to him when the chase ended.

Reserve Camp Being Enjoyed

Members of the local reserve unit at summer camp in the south find their training interesting and instructive and are enjoying the experience greatly, according to a letter received by the wife of one of the officers now at the Victoria Camp. The weather is bright and sunny and ideal for training operations, the letter continues, and everyone in the Prince Rupert contingent is in the pink of condition.

IN BATTLE OF SICILY

Palermo and Trepani Being Evacuated—Germans Stiffen Resistance Before Catania

FURTHER ADVANCES ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 22 (CP) — Canadian and American forces cut deeper into the middle of Sicily Thursday from captured Enna to choke off the island's western half. Front line reports indicated that the Axis was preparing to withdraw from all except the Catania-Messina coastal strip. American forces have captured Castelventrante airport, twenty miles from Sicily's western tip. At Catania, the British Eighth Army still pressed strongly from the south against stubborn German defence. The Canadians and Americans are said to be chasing the enemy northeastward in the general direction of the escape port of Messina. This advance would put them in a position to strike Catania from the rear.

ALGIERS, July 22 — There were unconfirmed reports here late yesterday that Axis forces had already evacuated the important north Sicilian coast cities of Palermo, Trepani and Marsala.

While the American forces are advancing with comparatively little resistance, the British Eighth Army is having a stiff battle with reinforced Nazis in the Catania region. The Canadians are also having more resistance.

The Americans have captured San Stefano on the middle of the north Sicilian coast. On the Italian mainland Castroni has been shelled by the British Navy and Allied planes have bombed Croseto airfield 90 miles north of Rome.

SALMON FISHING

Rivers Inlet Bright Spot for Gill-Netters — Spring Netting Closing

Rivers and Smiths Inlet comprise the bright spot so far in sockeye salmon gillnet fishing in this area. A normal number of about 1100 boats are out and the average for Rivers Inlet is about 50 with 40 for Smiths Inlet. There has been a falling off during the last few days in the catches on the Skeena and Naas, the average for the former being about ten with high of 79 and for the latter 20 average with 115 high boat.

Gillnet fishing for springs in the Skeena River is being closed as from tomorrow evening. The spring netters have not been doing too badly of late.

Pinks are beginning to show up around Langara Island and Dixon Entrance but there are no signs of them as yet on the mainland.

Pinks are beginning to fall off on the trolling grounds and it is a little early for cohoes. The catches are spotty after a few good days for cohoes around Dundas Island.

Rome Claim On Bombing

ROME, July 22 (CP) — An Italian communique claims that British aircraft attempted to machine gun an airdrome in Rome Wednesday and said that casualties from Monday's American raid were 717 killed and 1599 injured.

Pontiff Is Grieved Over Rome's Bombing And Calls For Peace

His Holiness Feels Reception Might Have been Given To Intervention on Behalf of Eternal City

LONDON, July 22 (CP) — The Vatican has broadcast the text of a letter from Pope Pius XII to his Vicar-General for the district of Rome, Francesco Cardinal Marchetti-Salvagiani, deploring Monday's bombing of the Italian capital and calling upon Roman Catholics the world over to pray for speedy peace. The Pope said he felt justified in hoping that papal authority and its impartiality "would have secured us the consolation, among such bitterness, of finding a reception by contending parties for our intervention in favor of Rome. But, alas, this so reasonable hope of ours has been disappointed."

Italian Peace Demand Grows

VICHY, July 22 — Reports received here tell of growing demands among the people of Italy for peace. In many cities—Rome, Venice, Florence, Turin, Milan and Trieste—mass meetings have been held with no attempt on the part of the authorities to interfere with them. Strikes and sabotage are also becoming increasingly general.

RED ARMY MOVES ON

Nazi Counter-Offensive in Defense of Orel is Being Ground Down

MOSCOW, July 22 (CP) — German reinforcements, rushed into the Orel breaches, counter-attacked in desperate efforts to halt the Russian drive Wednesday but were smashed back as the Soviet offensive rolled to within nine miles of the German stronghold.

The Russians report gains of four to nine miles and the capture of ninety villages.

The London radio says that Hitler has ordered Orel, hinge of the entire Nazi southern central defence line, held at any cost.

The Germans, menaced on three sides by the Russians, are faced with the alternative of retreat from Orel or the annihilation of an army of 250,000 men.

Major victories by the Russians in three other areas—south of Izum, near Belgorod and in the south Donets Basin—are also reported today. The enemy lost 77 tanks and 131 planes in the Orel area yesterday.

Well Known Canadian National Steamships Skipper Taking Over New Alaska Work

Capt. Edward Gray, well known Canadian National Steamships skipper, is about to leave his present command to join the American Transport Service in Alaska. His successor as master of the steamer Prince George will be Capt. Douglas Graham, now chief officer of that vessel.

Gyro Conference Reported Upon

Post-war Rehabilitation and International Goodwill Among Matters Taken Up

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at its regular weekly luncheon yesterday, heard a report on the recent international conference at Toronto at which gathering one of the most important resolutions was one advocating the sponsoring of a world federation of international goodwill associations, the question of post-war rehabilitation having also been to the fore.

President W. J. Scott was in the chair at the luncheon and there was a fair attendance of members with one guest in the person of Dr. H. L. Alexander of Vancouver.

A. J. Dominato was welcomed as a new member.

Air Transport Development

LONDON, July 22 (CP) — Secretary for the Dominions Clement Atlee said in an address yesterday that, because of wartime built air fields, Canada could expect the development of rapid air transport to begin shortly after the end of the war.

Freedom of Press . . .

The Atlantic Charter proclaims that we are fighting for the establishment and preservation of the four freedoms—freedom from want, freedom from fear, freedom of worship and freedom of speech. Of these four, freedom of speech is by far the most important; not because it is inherently more important but because it is impossible to conceive of a society in which there is freedom of worship or freedom from want without the right of freedom of speech; and it is obvious that there cannot be freedom from fear if one is afraid to speak his mind. Nor is it possible to have freedom of speech without freedom of the press and I shall dare to say this also, that only by preserving the freedom of the press can we hope to obtain the other free freedoms for which we fight.

Navy's Staggering Task . . .

With the opening of the Battle of Europe, the task of the Royal Navy is staggering. It is a pleasant fact that today, despite casualties, it has more ships than it had when the war began, thanks to the tremendous speed-up of Britain's shipyards, which built 900 warships during the first three-and-a-half years of the war; and these shipyards are working at an increased tempo this year.

The five battleships lost by the Royal Navy during the war have been replaced by mighty 35,000-ton battleships. Though over 80 destroyers have been lost in action more than double this number have been built to replace them. When the war began Britain had six aircraft carriers. After three years of war, only H.M.S. Furious survived; but when the American troops landed in North Africa, there were several Royal Navy carriers present.

The Royal Navy's motto is "Seek out, engage and destroy." By June, 1942, 6,178,681 tons of the 11,000,000 tons of Axis merchant shipping had been destroyed, captured or put out of action by the Royal Navy and the R.A.F. In addition, the Royal Navy had sunk three Axis (German and Italian) battleships, 15 cruisers, 62 destroyers and in conjunction with the Royal Canadian and United States Navies, sunk or damaged 530 submarines. British submarines, alone, have sunk more than 300 enemy supply ships, including many troop ships, and have damaged many more.

The British Merchant Navy has delivered 40,000,000 tons of imports annually during the war, and suffered casualties of 16,000 men in the first three years of war. Losses of merchant ships in Allied convoy protection have been one half of one per cent.

ACTIVITIES OF Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A.

By DOROTHY GARBUTT
The Hostess

The missing Hostess House sign turned up resting on the front steps of the Leeds Apartments. Peggy Pullen told me she saw it there. I had run in next door to see if they had noticed anyone taking it. So now the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps is getting all its nuts, bolts, screws and hammers, chisels and screw drivers out and is putting it on for me for keeps. No reflection on you, Mr. Scadden, neither you nor I ever dreamed it would be taken.

Don't forget about the Highway Camp dance tonight, Thursday. Chaperones and junior hostesses will meet at the "Y" as usual. Tomorrow night is the Ship's Company dance, at the Navy Drill Hall.

I had a letter from Phyllis Hamblin—it is so long and so newsy that I mean to run it in serial form, a piece each day. She went south to join the C.W.A.C.'s about three weeks ago you will remember. Her remarks are a treat: "It's just about time I wrote you, yes? Well, I'm having the grandest time ever! I had a swell trip to Vancouver. There were 10 R.C.A.F. on leave, so who wouldn't have a good time? They were all a lot of fun. Two of them, Norm and Bruce, ask to be remembered to Bob Gibson. They said that he would remember the screwballs from—by those names. The meals were so good and the company was so congenial—it was sure enjoyable. Stayed with my cousin in Vancouver. I'm going to stop using the egotistical 'I'—Dale Carnegie wouldn't like it! And I went up for my medical on Monday. More fun! Everyone was so good to us. . . . Here we stop for today. Dear readers, will Phyllis pass her medical? will she pass her medical but not her mental? that is the burning question, the incendiary interrogative. For the answer see tomorrow's paper.

Sport Chat

A leaping lieutenant led a divisional troops team to the Sansom Trophy, emblem of the track and field championship of a Canadian armored division in Britain. Considered one of the greatest exponents of field events in the Canadian Army overseas, Lieut. J. D. Crashley of Oakville, Ont., won all four jumping events to account for 20 points of a team total of 37. An armored brigade team finished second with 33 points while an artillery unit was third with 16.

Lt. Gen. E. W. Sansom took time out from official duties to present the trophy and a history making feature was music by the massed pipe bands of the infantry brigade. It was the first time that Irish and Scottish pipes have been combined into a massed band in the Canadian army. They were under Pipe Major George Pate of Toronto. Crashley, member of the Governor General's Horse Guards, jumped to victory in the standing broad, running broad, running high, and hop, step and jump. Only other participant to take more than one event was Sgt. C. Bortolussi of Powell River, B.C., an outstanding speedster back home. Attached to the Westminster Regiment, he won the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and was a member of the winning Armored Brigade team in the 440-yard relay. Winning marks in the various events were not announced but other winners included Tpd. J. McDonald of Minnedosa, Man., in the 440-yard run; Bdr. H. M. Goodman of Broadview, Sask., in the 880; Pte. J. E. Clegg of Toronto in the mile and Pte. L. V. Gerrard of Vancouver in the three-mile grind. Pte. J. Koleta of Kenmore, Alta placed first in the shot put. Principal organizers of the meet were Lieut. F. C. Whyte of London, Ont., and Supervisor Billy Naylor of Windsor, Ont.

of Truro, N. S., ended up as joint victors in a pillow fight competition. An event billed as a team tumbling display fell little short of a high-class circus acrobatic act. The team was headed by Sgt. Jack Jackson of Edmonton, and other members included Gnr. Earl Moynihan (1490 Dundas St.) Toronto; Frank Kowal (854 Elgin Ave.) Winnipeg; Art Snuggs, Brandon, Man.; Frank Hennick, Sydney, N.S.; L. Bdr. Harry Ross (56 Osborne St.) Toronto, and Bdr. Charles Clarkson, (718 Dorecourt Rd.) Toronto.

Following the regular monthly meeting of the Women of the Moose last night at which four new members were initiated, a dance and social evening was held, beginning at 9:30 which was attended by the men of the Moose Lodge and their friends and families. In all, about 175 people attended the social gathering. Dancing was to the music of Jean de Carlo's orchestra. At midnight a buffet luncheon was served.

WHO WILL BE QUEEN?

Glamor Girls of Prince Rupert To Enter Civic Centre Contest

Opening interest in connection with Prince Rupert's 1943 Civic Centre Carnival will centre in the inauguration of the campaign which will culminate in the selection of the glamor queen for the year who will hold sway over the carnival with all the honors and formalities attendant to the occasion. Nominations are now being received by the carnival queen committee consisting of Stanley Saville and Maurice Bridges.

During the next few days the services and local organizations will be getting their girl friends into the running, with the promise of support as enthusiastic and energetic as that of last year when the contest was an event of such general interest.

To make the campaign even more attractive this year the prizes are substantially greater than last year.

Two canteens from the Queen's Canadian Club were presented to the Women's Volunteer Services in London by Mrs. Vincent Massey, wife of the Canadian High Commissioner.

Four Italian prisoners of war who escaped from a camp in England when they were recaptured two days later. Their suits had been made from blankets.

G. Ward Price, war correspondent, warned Britain "The Life and Death of Colonel Blimp" would be "disastrously bad propaganda" if shown abroad. He said it was a "gross travesty" of British officers.

More than 1,000 British girls between the ages of 15 and 17 have been recruited by the government to be trained to look after babies whose mothers are on national service in the industrial areas.

There wouldn't be much room for anything else if Bertie Burns, 75 year old first-aid consultant to the Colchester, England, A.R.P. wore all his medals. Burns has 48 Red Cross medals and bars.

FRONT LINE GENERALS

LIEUT.-GENERAL H. D. G. CRERAR

By DOUGLAS AMARON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

A quiet spoken man but no arm-chair strategist or die-in-bed general, Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar has been aching for action for almost four years. When the first Canadians disembarked in Britain in 1939, he was brigadier in command of Canadian Military Headquarters at London. He knew that new Cana-

Army we have to be super in everything we do."
Tireless Soldier
The general, a medium-sized man with a sefious expression but a friendly disposition, is as tireless as he asks his troops to be. He is a popular commander right through the ranks.
One of the "old regulars," he was not always a professional soldier. Born in Hamilton, April 28, 1888, he graduated from the Royal Military College in 1909 and chose to be a civilian engineer with the Ontario Hydro Commission. However, he joined the Canadian non-permanent artillery.

In 1914 he started in the First Great War as a captain in the 11th Battery, C.F.A. At the armistice in 1918 he was a lieutenant-colonel with D.S.O. and M.C. By coincidence his path touched that of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, whom he succeeded as Canadian counter-battery staff officer in 1918.

He joined the permanent force in 1920 and in the succeeding years filled a variety of army appointments, including that of colonel commanding at R.M.C. He came to Britain a month after war began as senior combatant officer at C.M.H.Q. and arranged for the arrival of the 1st Canadian Division.

You feel, from talking with Gen. Crerar and reading his order to the troops, that he places a premium on intelligence, alertness and condition. He works on the theory that no officer or N.C.O. not capable of taking over from the man directly above him is qualified for his present rank.
"Lack of battle experience means we must train all the harder," he explained. "Having lacked practice against the en-

NAZISM HORRORS

Based on an amazing and factual account of the educational perversions in which the German youth of today is being drilled, the motion picture "Hitler's Children" presents a romantic dramatized version of this account at the Capitol Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

Tim Holt, Bonita Granville, Kent Smith, Otto Kruger and H. B. Warner head the cast of this unique offering. Smith plays the head of an American colony school in Berlin and Miss Granville that of his American pupil and later his assistant, with young Holt as a German-American youth imbued with Nazi ideas—ideas, however, which do not keep him from falling in love with the girl.

As Hitler's "Herrenvolk" teachings become more widespread, the girl, because of her German descent, is taken from the school and sent to a labor camp, while Holt, now an officer of the Gestapo, interferes with Smith's efforts to rescue her.

Matters reach a crisis when the girl, unable to endure the barbarity of the Nazi scheme of things any longer, runs away from the camp. The boy, held partly responsible for her actions, is forced to supervise the flogging to which she is sentenced as punishment—but he too rebels at this cruelty, and is himself sentenced to death. How the boy seeks at the last moment to redeem himself and warn his former associates of their folly, provides the powerful climax of this sensational offering.

Remains Are Sent East

The body of James George Perry, an American soldier who was drowned early Monday morning after falling from a wharf while unloading a cargo of lumber, was forwarded last night to Buffalo, N.Y., which is the home of Perry's family.
